VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

Above the purr of the screws came the angry voice of the inventor in the engine room abusing the Roc's second engineer for some remark derogatory to helicopters. Already he was quite wild enough, Virginia thought.

"Why don't we try his machine?" she asked. "Must we go out over the gulf? Isn't the bay big enough?"

"Mr. Shayne wants to pick up a specialist at the fort," replied Silberberg, "the man who wrote up the Chinese war aerostats. He's here on some aeronautical business for the army."

The Roc circled to the west to avoid the inhibited passage over the batteries and stood east along the beach. Wizner abandoned his quarrel and came forward to make the test. He set the helicopter on the deck, where it stood unsteadily on its slender bamboo legs, its painter hanging over the rail, its top crowned by the screw wings, slanted a little outboard for the launching.

"Easy enough," answered Wizner tartly.

"Maybe we'd better make a descent for you," suggested Silberberg. "It may be one of these terrestrial helicopters."

"I'll ask when I want you to go down," replied Wizner, glaring. "You will see whether it's a ground machine or not. May I take down a section of that rail?"

"Certainly," answered Mr. Shayne. "But don't let the helicopter topple off. It might fall on a fisherman. What are you doing, Virginia?"

The girl had stepped forward as if to take a seat in the little cane car of the helicopter.

"Let me sit in it," said she. "I want to imagine how you feel when you get out into space."

"I wish you would," said Wizner. "It will hold her still. It's perfectly safe."

"Which is the clutch lever?" she asked.

"This," said the inventor, pointing. "I'm going to the engine room. When I come back I'll show you how it works."

Mr. Shayne went aft with Wizner in animated conversation, leaving Virginia in the throbbing car. The rail had been removed, and a little push would have been quite sufficient to shove the girl and the machine overboard into the empty air. The thrill of the vibration, the sense of risk or the intense gaze of Silberberg made her face flush. He had never seen her so charming. She laid her hand on the clutch lever.

"I could move this lever a little," said she, "and fly away. I feel as if I should fly!"

"I shall not let you," said he. "I shall hold you!"

"Mr. Silberberg!"

The rebuke was evoked by his putting his arm about her. One white, jeweled hand was slipped behind her, the other laid on her arm, the oily perfumed curls stooping until the red lips approached hers. Perfectly aware of what she was doing, but quite reckless of consequences, Virginia pushed the lever, threw in the clutch—and the wings started. The pull of the vivified mechanism drawing him out to death made Silberberg's very fingers tingle with terror, and he let go girl and car and leaped backward. Under the lift of the wings the car dragged to the edge, slipped off with a grating sound and swung there in midair, the painter dangling almost within reach 300 fathoms in the air, supported only by the spinning helices driven by an engine that one man only knew how to manage, and he as far removed from it potentially as if he had been in Mars!

The girl's hand trembled so that she could not hold to anything, no matter how she tried. At last—it was over in a moment—more by accident than design, she moved something. With appalling velocity the thing shot upward; the aeronat fell away toward the earth; the fisherman's house far beneath was whisked down to the littleness of a toy. The air struck her face, blowing downward more and more chill. Overhead the screws hummed implacably, the only sound she heard.

She studied the machinery, trying to apply her picked up knowledge of engines. Here was the thing with which to stop it, she felt sure of that, but to stop it suddenly was mere suicide, a swift fall to death.

Geneva, March 23.—The first attempt to use the aeroplane for smuggling will likely result in the death of an Italian aviator named Smergolio. He is in Geneva Hospital to-day with both legs and his collarbone broken, and suffering from exposure to the cold.

Smergolio came to grief on Tuesday while flying over Mount Cenis, with a cargo of dutiable goods, which he was attempting to bring in from Italy. His machine fell and was wrecked. Terribly injured Smergolio lay all night in the snow, and was found yesterday by custom officers nearly dead from cold.

Montreal Man's Attentions Refused in Vain

Montreal, March 22—With a love unwavering though repeatedly rebuffed and rejected, Jacob Ratner, a linotype operator, who died suddenly this morning, left insurance aggregating $3,000, to a girl who had repeatedly declined to accept his attentions. One policy is for $1,000, while another not yet located but known to be in the girl's favor, is for $5,000.

For several days just prior to his death after being turned down by the girl, Miss Epstein, Ratner had followed her about the streets armed with a gun, and one occasion she had been forced to seek protection from him.

CALLED HER "FUTURE WIFE"

Ratner lived at 142 De Montigny street, with a sister of the girl, who he mentions in his insurance policy as his "future wife." This morning according to the evidence given by the sister, she and her husband, were awakened by groans and stifled cries coming from Ratner's room. The man had not been well for several days although he had promised his employers that he would be at work this morning. There were a number of remedies in the room prescribed by Dr. Wiseman on recent occasions he had attended Ratner, and these were applied but without result, and the man died.

RETURNED GOLD WATCH

Before Coroner McMahon the girl this morning swore that she had not spoken to Ratner since the first of this month. About the first of March on her birthday, Ratner sent the girl a gold watch which she states she immediately returned to him. Her repeated refusals to his proposals, the girl believes, determined Ratner to shoot her when a favorable opportunity arose. Only last night the girl said she had been followed by Ratner and when coming past the corner of Bleury and St. Catharine streets, maintains she appealed to a constable on the corner for protection against the man. She told this morning that she asked the constable if she could have a man arrested for following her with a gun in his possession. Just after she had passed on, she affirms that Ratner went to the constable and asked what she had told him.

the price of lands in the vicinity of the Indian reserve to prove that the Indians had received full value for their property.

In reply to a question by Capt. Tom Wallace (Centre York) the House of Commons was informed yesterday that the expenditure on the Newmarket Canal for the past fiscal year had been $135,892.81, making a total expenditure to date of $459,832.76. The Government expects that the canal will be completed in 1913, and the entire cost will be in the neighbourhood of $1,100,000. This excess over the preliminary estimate of $328,000 is occasioned by a change in the plans, to provide for cement works instead of wood, which had originally been intended.

MORE HOLIDAYS IN RURAL SCHOOLS

Toronto, March 23—Several amendments to the Public and High School Acts were passed by the Legislature yesterday.

One of these makes a uniform school term for rural as well as town and city schools, giving the former the last two weeks of August as additional holidays. In future all schools will open on Sept. 1.

The difficulty which some districts have been under after the larger portion had been annexed to a town or city, and it was found to necessitate a heavy burden, to maintain a school probably suggested a change by which the city and country boards may erect and maintain a school for the joint use of the country section and a portion of the city. The Minister of Education must agree to this.

Absence of High School teachers may be excused on account of "acute inflammatory condition of the teeth and gums," as well as a physician's certificate of illness.

A new examination may be added to the High school course. At present pupils who have taken a couple of years' work and move into another school have no certificate as to the work they have done.

The Minister was authorized to establish "an examination for entrance to the Middle School," to be called the "Senior High School Entrance," while the present one will be called the "junior."

Boards in unorganized districts are allowed to appoint truant officers.

The Minister of Education was given authority to determine from time to time the number of inspectors to be appointed by a municipal board in any city or separated town.

In unorganized districts the exemptions from school taxes no longer will apply to non-residents and married people without children.

How a Local Young Man Made Money

There are many people in and around the City of Peterborough who have money, looking for investment, who prefer a safe investment, such as bonds or low rate of interest, to investing in mortgages or other securities which require special judgment in selecting, and constant and careful watching to avoid loss. To such we would commend the following result to their careful consideration—

A young man of the City of Peterborough had his life insured sixteen years ago last January for Ten Thousand Dollars ON A SINGLE PAYMENT 15-YEAR ENDOWMENT PLAN. The premium paid was $6,460.00. On the 31st of January, 1910, the company paid him $12,116.00 in cash, after giving him fifteen years of free insurance. What do you think of that as an investment!

Are bonds or municipal debentures, or even the best mortgages, to be compared with it, when you consider that the risk of the life was carried during the 15 years! And remember, the security is as safe as any debenture or mortgage, and there was no trouble or expense entailed of any kind after the initial investment.

The above result was obtained from the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, under policy No. 47340, W.H.B.

WEDDING BELLS

DOWNER—LITTLE.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. Wm. Little, Stewart street, yesterday afternoon, when his daughter, Mabel E., was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. George W. Downer, of Frobisher, Sask., formerly of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Pogue.

Mr. and Mrs. Downer left, amid showers of confetti, on the 4.38 C.P.R. train for their new home in Frobisher, Sask.

DIED

HUFF—At Peterborough, March 23rd 1911, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Edward Huff, 480 Gilmour street.

TO START IN JUNE

The Intention of Independent Tire Co.

The representative of the Independent Tire Co., with the City Council, went over the amended clauses of the agreement to-day, and following their approval to each of the clauses, the by-law was given its readings by the Council.

Mr. Hastings stated that it was the intention of the company to start work on the factory by June 1 of this year, and to have the work completed this year.

Commissioner Duggan explained that the Citizens' Committee, which has organized to get out the vote on April 25, will have a committee with a chairman in each ward, and that all voters would be canvassed.

It will take a total of 1,600 votes to carry the by-law, as three-fifths of the total number of qualified voters is required by law.

CHARGED WITH THEFT OF WATCH

From Hunter St. Residence — Magistrate Orders Death of Dog

A young man named Harry Bennett, who boarded with Mrs. Kate Reid, on Hunter street, is accused by her of stealing a watch from her last night. The watch and a small sum of money were found in his possession when he was arrested last night.

At police court this morning he pleaded guilty and elected to be tried summarily by the magistrate.

R. E. Wood, who prosecuted, asked for a remand of a week.

DOG TO BE SHOT.

James B. James was charged with harboring a vicious dog, or rather, two of them. They held up W. H. Pretty yesterday for about ten minutes on Kirke street, and he complained to the police.

The owner appeared this morning to plead for the good character of the canines. However, as they had attacked Detective Newhall last spring, and were found to be a nuisance and a danger, his Worship ordered the more vicious one to be shot forthwith.

SUMMER VAUDEVILLE

License Granted Peterborough Amusement Co. to Put on Show Under Canvas

J. H. Burnham, solicitor for the Peterborough Amusement Co., which wishes to put on a high-class vaudeville bill, under canvas during the coming summer months, asked the council at last night's meeting, to set a license fee, so that the company could go ahead with the proposition.

The company will be connected with a circuit, by which the highest class artists on the vaudeville stage will be seen here.

Mr. Burnham stated that the character of the show would be as good as that of Shea's Theatre, Toronto. The tent to be provided would give accommodation for one thousand people. No moving pictures would be given.

The fees, according to by-law for theatres is $50, and for moving picture shows alone, $40. A license for an entertainment otherwise than in a theatre is $20 per week.

Such a proposition as that of the Amusement Company is not provided for in the by-law.

Ald. Morgan suggested $50 as a fee.

Ald. Anderson held that the whole question of picture show and vaudeville licenses should be considered. He thought them too low. In Port Hope the license for a moving picture house was $60. Ald. Anderson opined that the by-law should be amended to fix the fees, including the one for the Amusement Co.

Ald. Anderson and Ald. Butler moved that the matter be referred to the Finance Committee.

Ald. Morgan moved that the fee be set at $50 for this year, and that if the other licenses were raised the one for the Amusement Company be increased proportionately.

Mr. Burnham asked for prompt action as the company wished to sign the contract, and added that his clients would be willing to pay a fee of $75.

On motion of Ald. Methera and Ald. Kerneghan, the license was granted for six months at $75.

Soft drinks will be sold, and this necessitates another license, which will cost $5.

The location of the tent may be on the property to the south of the customs house.

STREET CAR HIT MILK DELIVERY

Milk took a drop this morning when a milk vender attempted to stop a street car with his cart.

As No. 10 was going west a driver of a milk-waggon attempted to cross the track at Aylmer street, and before the rear wheels were clear, they were hit by the car. Both forces immediately called a halt, and when the damages were looked into, it was found that a couple of cans of milk had been spilled on the road, and a window in the vestibule of the car broken.

PART OF FIRST FINGER SEVERED

Workman at Punch Press Met With Painful Accident

Harry Noyes, Sherbrooke street, has been working in the punch-press department of the C.G.E. met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon. While operating one of the large machines he had part of the first finger of his left hand severed. Dr. Young, Benefit Society surgeon, was called and had the sufferer removed to Nicholls Hospital in the Dan Spence ambulance where another piece of the finger had to be amputated. He returned to his home to-day, but will be unable to work for some time yet.

Mr. Noyes is a nephew of "Charlie" Noyes, the popular Charlotte street gateman.

MEETING AT THE COUNCIL CHAMBER

For Citizens to Discuss Tuberculosis Situation To-night at Eight O'clock

The attention of the citizens is called to the meeting to be held in the city council chamber to-night at eight o'clock, when a further discussion on the tuberculosis situation in the city will take place.

The committee appointed at the last meeting will report and it is hoped that considerable headway will be made in the interests of the association as a result of to-night's meeting.

Street Cars Stopped

Those going to work at an early hour this morning, probably uttered imprecations against the uncertainty of electricity.

The street car service was at a standstill from 6 to 7 o'clock, as the power was off. The cars started again however about the time the factories were beginning operations.

SIXTY HANDS NINETY DAYS AFTER STARTING OPERATIONS

When Full Amount of City Loan Will be Paid---Independent Tire Co. to Pay 4½ Per Cent. Interest---To Have $150,000 in Stock Paid up After Sixty Days---Vote on April 25.

The Independent Tire Co. agree: To erect a factory building 260 by 50, and of three storeys.

To have $150,000 of subscribed stock paid up sixty days after commencing operations.

To pay interest on the $40,000 loan from the city at the rate of 4 1-2 per cent.

To have a working staff of sixty hands, ninety days after commencing operations, and forty hands after thirty days of operations.

The city council and H. H. Hastings, the representative of the Independent Tire Company, came together last night, and the result of the meeting in brief form is given above.

The object of the meeting was to get some definite understanding with the company regarding the number of hands to be employed in their factory when the second half of the $40,000 was paid over by the city. At the last meeting, when the agreement was discussed by the members of the council, Mayor Morrow brought this matter up, and it was decided to defer further action on the by-law until this point was cleared up by the company. It was the first shot fired by His Worship the Mayor at Mr. Hastings last night, and in reply that gentleman stated that the company was not going to employ any more hands than could be used at the commencement of operations. He pointed out that the machinery would be all new and would therefore necessitate some time to put it in proper running order. Then there would also have to be a proper selection of employees. This would take time. The future prospects of the company were sufficient to warrant the employment of three or four hundred men, he held.

"We don't want to be held down too much at first," said Mr. Hastings. He further explained that a building of three storeys and 260x50 would be erected. The reason he gave for the company's request for the full amount of the $40,000 being paid over by the city one month after operations were commenced, was that the machinery had to be paid for in that time, and the money was to be used for that purpose. Besides this amount the company would have to pay out about $80,000 for the erection of the building.

Mayor Morrow and Mr. Hastings discussed the matter of the number of hands to be employed, and the latter agreed to the suggestion of the Mayor, that $10,000 of the second $20,000 be paid the company one month after commencing operations when forty hands would be employed, and the remaining $10,000 sixty days after, when sixty hands would be employed.

"Can you say that you will have $150,000 of stock paid up sixty days after beginning operations?" asked His Worship.

Mr. Hastings answered that the company would guarantee to have this done.

Ald. Morgan took a hand in the discussion and stated that the people were talking to him about the interest proposition.

"I've found the same experience" said Ald. Brown.

Mr. Hastings answered that the people should know that the company would bring twenty-five or thirty families to Peterborough. This, he felt should offset the difference in the interest. It can be explained here that the company was to pay 3 per cent. while the cost to the city of the loan was 4 1-2 per cent.

Mr. Hastings asked if the city would give the company a free site, if the 4 1-2 per cent. was paid for the loan. This didn't appeal to Ald. Morgan or Brown, who held that another kick would be forthcoming from the people.

Then Mr. Hastings stated that the company would pay the full amount of interest, and the council adjourned to meet to-day again at twelve o'clock, when the by-law with the changes would come before the meeting again to have everything closed up.

TO VOTE APRIL 25.

Previous to this meeting, one held in the council chamber by a number of prominent business men of the city, who as a citizens' committee, discussed the matter of organization for a campaign to arrange for the bringing out of the vote on the by-law.

D. W. Dumble, K.C., briefly made this explanation on being asked to speak to the council, and stated that the committee was in doubt as to the date for the voting. Saturday had been suggested, and, while this would be satisfactory to workmen, the business men might not like it.

Opinions were expressed and it was decided that the date be Tuesday, April 25. This will allow of sufficient time for preparations and give the preceding Monday as a day for final arrangements. The polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

RECEPTION TO CHOIR.

Walter Stocker, who has arranged for the appearance here of the Sheffield Choir, Monday, April 3, waited upon the council and suggested that something be done by the city in the way of a welcome to the visitors. He pointed out that the choir was to be entertained at other places. He didn't ask the council to spend any money.

Mr. Stocker felt that a reception committee should meet them, and an address of welcome be read, with the mayor and other officials taking part.

On motion of Ald. Metheral and Ald. Duncan the matter was left in the hands of the Reception Committee of the Council, with power to act.

THEY WERE COMING THIS WAY BUT--

Mother Got Busy and Board Bill Jumpers Were Caught

Kingston Standard.

A serio-comedy was enacted at the Grand Trunk station recently in which a mother publicly chastised her son, a young man of about 22 years of age.

The son and a cousin had been boarding with the irate parent all winter without paying any board. They had decided to leave for Peterborough without the knowledge of the landlady, and in order to pack up their belongings, had sent her to a party. She returned, however, before train time, and seeing the young men's room in disorder, suspected what was up, and hurried to the railway station. Here she found her son and generously trounced him. His companion seeing something coming his way skipped out and started to "longboot it" down the tracks. He was captured by P.C.'s Filson and McCarey and brought back to the station.

The mother then explained the situation to the police, and between them the young men scraped up $20, which was a small portion of their board bill. They were then allowed to depart.

A MYSTERY OF GREAT INTEREST

"The Shadow of the Cross" is a Wonderful Luminous Picture

The Shadow of the Cross, the famous painting which is luminous and irrifescent in absolute darkness, with the shadow of a cross showing behing the figure of Christ, was exhibited at private view of clergymen and newspaper men and other at the Y.M.C.A at noon The painting contains a secret of either a luminous pigment, or some luminous treatment of the canvas.

The lecturer explains that the pigment has been analysed and tested, and that nothing to indicate any material other than is used in ordinary oil paints can be found. The back of the famous picture is plain, revealing nothing. The mystery of the picture which has been exhibited for thirteen years seem to be unexplainable. The artist says he can't tell. The idea of anything supernatural is discarded but the fact remains that it is a most remarkable scientific mystery.

ADDRESS TO W.A.A. ON FURNITURE

Mr. F. H. Dobbin Deals With Interesting Subject

Mr. F. H. Dobbin's delightful talk on "The Art of Furniture Making," was given yesterday afternoon to a small, but most appreciative audience. In an easy conversational manner Mr. Dobbin conveyed a great deal of interesting detail, concerning the treatments of various woods, both in past and present times, and dwelt upon the impress of national characteristics and conditions upon the furniture of different periods. The speaker's undoubted knowledge of his subject, and his pleasing way of presenting it, made the afternoon a most interesting one, and those who faced the elements and went to the armories felt amply repaid.

REFERS TO CASE OF PETERBOROUGH

In the following editorial of the Toronto Globe to-day, reference is made to Peterborough license conditions:—

It is much to be regretted that while the Ontario Government has been giving to the cause of temperance with one hand during the closing session it has been taking away with the other. The adoption of the initiative and referendum with regard to license reduction is certainly a concession to the cause of temperance. On a petition of ten per cent. of the electors it is obligatory on a municipal Council to submit a license reduction by-law to popular vote. If it is carried the council must put the by-law through, that the will of the people may be carried out by the established machinery. This certainly provides a new and effective scope for temperance work. In the eleventh-hour rush that characterizes the passing of important legislation there may be serious blunders. It may be possible to confuse the vote by a multiplicity of petitions. If the prohibition workers circulate a serious petition they may be intercepted by an obstructive petition from their opponents asking for a reduction that would be of no material consequence; in fact, the Council may have a multitude of petitions, and a vote on a merely obstructive petition would tie up all such efforts for three years.

With a combination of haste and incompetence blundering is inevitable, and legislation need not be expected to carry out the purpose intended. But the deliberate taking away of the power of municipal Councils to assume the initiative and make reductions without the burden of a popular campaign must be discussed from a different standpoint. The cutting off of forty licenses in Toronto and six in Hamilton resulted from initiative by the municipal Councils and a popular vote. In Brantford the City Council, without a vote of the electors, reduced the number of tavern licenses from sixteen to nine, and the number of shop licenses from five to four. The power to effect such changes is now taken from the Councils. In Peterborough the Council cut off seven tavern licenses and one shop license, leaving thirteen taverns and three shops. In Woodstock, where there were seven taverns and two shops, there were two tavern licenses cut off by the Council. There have been eighteen licenses cut off by the Councils of these three cities, and the results have been so beneficial that it is hard to understand the Government's policy of depriving municipal Councils of power to continue the good work. The adoption of the initiative and referendum did not in any way necessitate the taking away of authority which the municipal Councils have wisely exercised and which has produced excellent results. The scope for activity which has been closed will seriously interfere with an important line of practical work in the cause of temperance.

CURLING ICES IN GOOD SHAPE

For Parting Shots at the Tee—Presentation of Prizes

Those who desire to have one final whirl at curling this year, should attend the proceedings which are to be held at the Charlotte street curling rink this evening. Good ice has developed the last couple of days, and there will be curling this afternoon and evening. As noted yesterday, there will be a grand supper, and afterwards the presentation of curling prizes. A real hearty time is anticipated, which should prove a fitting wind-up to one of the most successful curling seasons in the history of the club.

THE RING

Chicago, March 23—That Joe Choynski may meet Kid McKoy before Jack O'Brien's Philadelphia club became known here to-day when it was announced that the Chicago boxer had written to Philadelphia Jack stating the terms under which he would meet the former champion.

New York, March 23—Packy McFarland of Chicago and Tommy Murphy of this city have been matched to box ten rounds here some time within the next three weeks. The date tentatively set is April 7.

FAMOUS ATHLETES USE ZAM-BUK

Famous Athletes use zam-Buk

Mr. Sim Vaughan, trainer of the Hamilton Tigers Football Team, and admittedly one of Canada's finest trainers, says of Zam-Buk; "In my estimation it is the finest healing balm obtainable, and no athletic institution, or no athlete, should be without it. I say this after fifteen years experience as a trainer of athletes, and after experimenting with nearly all known embrocations."

The above opinion is shared by such well-known athletes as Sherring, of Hamilton; Longboat, the All Blacks, of New Zealand, and all the leading football organizations of England. For sprains, cuts, abrasions, stiffness, rheumatism, and as an all round embrocation and balm, Zam-Buk is unequalled. All druggists and stores at 50c. box.

Abe Attell and Johnny Coulon are matched to go 25 rounds in New Orleans on April 9. They are to weigh 116 pounds at the ringside.

Bob Wallace insists the way to catch Cobb is to throw the ball home when he hits it, have the catcher throw to third and relay it around, in the hope of catching him coming.

Wolgast and Owen Moran are to battle in San Francisco July 4th for the lightweight championship. Wolgast is also due to meet Frankie Burns in 'Frisco the last week in May.

Paul A. Sorg's horse show string, said to have cost over $200,000, and which includes the champion road four and the champion racing team of trotters, will be sold at auction next day in New York.

The Ottawa Hockey Club has turned into the N.H.A. their reserve list naming the players they intend to hold for next season. These are Lesueur, Lake, Shore, Darragh, Walsh, Kerr, Ridpath, Stuart and Currie.

The National Rowing Association of the United States will hold its regatta on Saratoga Lake on July 28 and 29. Canadian crews will therefore be unable to compete as the Canadian championships are not decided until August 4 and 5. The Ottawas will not be able therefore to defend the title of National Eight Oared Champions, which they carried off at Washington last year.

JOHNSON'S HEAD LIKE TEXAS STEER

X Ray Examination Shows it of Great Thickness

San Francisco, March 22.—Jack Johnson visited the Gorman Hospital today to see his young brother, Charlie, who is being treated for threatened loss of sight. While experts were taking X-ray pictures of Charlie they suggested that champion Jack sit down and have an X-ray made of his head to determine the thickness of his skull. Johnson accepted, and the result showed that it required five and a half minutes for the rays to penetrate, thus proving that the champion has a skull ranging from one-half to three-fourths of an inch thick, which is more massive than the skull of a Texas steer. The rays penetrate an ordinary human head in from five to fifteen seconds. This proves that Johnson might be hit over the head with an axe, as a steer in a stock yard, and it would not seriously affect him.

This result of the X-ray picture amazed all the medical experts at the Gorman Hospital, as well as several men present who have made a study of athletics. All declared that Johnson's skull surpassed any in thickness which they had ever seen, and proved that he could not be knocked out by a blow on the head, even by so powerful a man as Jeffries, in his prime.

NEGRO READY ANY TIME

Chicago, Ill., March 22.—Jack Johnson is on the point of saying good-bye to America for several years. Instead of passing his time on the coast at his automobile and other pleasures to the exclusion of his "life work," it appears that the champion has been slyly preparing himself for battle.

A letter received from San Francisco brings out the fact that Jack is ready to step into the ring at a week's notice. He has slipped away from his friends every day and taken long hikes on the road. He has also been sparring in a private gymnasium, unknown except to a chosen few. He is said to be every way as good as when he fought Jim Jeffries on that fatal day at Reno.

This change of action on Jack's part was brought about by several communications received from England. Jack learned that McIntosh was mapping out a long schedule for him in his London and Paris rings. Included in the list are battles with several of the best heavyweights left in the division, starting with lesser known fights and culminating in a world's championship event. This last go will probably bring Al Kaufman up as his opponent.

The amount of money which McIntosh suggests is so large that it has caused Jack to forget there is such a place as the United States. Moreover, Johnson realizes he stands more chance for enthusiastic backing abroad than he does in this country, as the race feeling does not exist there.

This report from the coast, following so closely on the news that Hugh McIntosh is on the point of sailing for America to try and induce Johnson to go abroad with him, shows that Johnson has taken the affair seriously, because he is not the man to work for weeks and weeks unless there is something tangible in sight. From all indications Jack will not fight in the United States again for some time, and fans here will not see him in his battles for the title unless they go abroad.

In fact, Johnson has little chance of picking up much easy money unless he does make a move of this kind. The opportunity of staging big battles are so hard that few promoters care to take the risk. And the Yankee enthusiasts do not like to see a champion stack up against second-raters the way they do in the old country. The six and ten-round battles have no lure for Johnson, so everything looks like a journey back with McIntosh in the near future.

SPRING LINERS

"Wild Bill" Donovan is to follow in the footsteps of Jennings as manager of the Detroit club when the sorrel thatched one decides to retire.

Rube Marquard is showing great form in the Giants' ante-season games He really may pitch some winning games this year. Doyle, Devlin, Merkle, and Schiel have been hitting best for the New York bunch in the exhibition games, while Beals Becker's all-round playing has been so good he may land a regular outfield berth with McGraw's team.

"Lefty" Russell has developed a sore arm in the spring training trip with the Athletics.

Bobby Keefe, the Montreal pitcher, is making good with Cincinnati, and according to Jack Ryder of the Cincinnati Enquirer, is sure to be retained.

Pitcher "King" Brockett will be given another trial with the Highlanders.

It is said that Hugh Duffy has chosen Tex Jones to play first base for the White Sox.

Manager McGraw will not allow Christy Mathewson to pitch any of the exhibition games this spring.

Mayor Gaynor of New York will toss out the first ball when the Giants open the season at the Polo grounds on April 12th.

Connie Mack has secured three of the St. Mary's, California, college boys. They are Lynch, left fielder; Wallace third baseman; and Fitzsimmons, shortstop.

Manager Dooin would trade Pitcher Earl Moore to Chicago Cubs for Brown, Hofman and Kling. The Philadelphia manager regards Moore very highly so it would seem. It is doubtful if manager Chance would ever consider such a proposition.

Judge Girouard Dead.

Ottawa, March 23.—Mr. Justice Girouard, Senior Judge of Canada's Supreme Court, died here yesterday morning from injuries received over a week ago in a runaway accident. His death was not unexpected, as he had been very low for two or three days. The funeral will take place on Friday morning, when the remains will be taken to Montreal for interment in Cote des Neiges Cemetery.

When the Supreme Court opened yesterday morning Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, chief justice, on behalf of his colleagues, and himself, announced to the court the death of Justice Girouard. The high appreciation in which the deceased jurist was held was voiced by the chief justice, while Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., of Toronto, lately a judge of the Supreme Court, made a brief reply on behalf of the Bar. According to precedent the court did not adjourn, but will do so on the day of the funeral.

The sum of $468,000 is to be spent in school buildings in Calgary this year.

SCHOOLS IN THE WEST ARE AHEAD

Says Mr. McCuaig Who Visited City Recently

Free Press—J. McCuaig, superintendent of the public schools of Edmonton, is in Winnipeg on his way home after a trip of inspection and investigation into the question of what is being done to encourage industrial and technical training in secondary school work.

Mr. McCuaig spent some time in New York among the technical training and industrial schools there, and also visited the secondary schools in Toronto and other places east, finally visiting some of the Winnipeg public schools in company with Superintendent McIntyre. The Edmonton board felt that the tendency of the high schools is to go in for too much academic work and to neglect the commercial and industrial side of training which appeals so much to the needs of the west, and results in the pupils leving the public schools losing much of what they have gained in this direction in the public schools. This trip was therefore undertaken by Superintendent McCuaig to enable him to furnish a report to his board on how these matters were dealt with elsewhere.

"I feel satisfied," said Mr. McCuaig "that cities like Edmonton and Winnipeg are providing as good a class of educational service, as any in the places I have visited, or better taking into account the schools equipment, free air space, and the vigorous body of teachers. On the whole the western cities and towns are ahead on these matters. The Winnipeg schools are particularly modern and up-to-date both for pupils and teachers. I shall make a report on my return of the observations I have made."

In the honoring of ex-Provost Calder at Kirkintilloch it was mentioned that he was the last representative of the handloom weavers, who were once a power in the town.

A total of 367 householders in Hamilton appealed against the burgh assessment for the current year as compared with 337 last year. In 327 instances the parties were relieved.

Scheme of Moderate Reform.

London, March 23.—Lord Selborne made a notable speech in Glasgow Tuesday night on the reform of the House of Lords, in which he outlined the plans of the Unionist party for making the Upper Chamber a more effective assembly and one which will represent more adequately the feeling of the electorate.

He strongly advocated a scheme for moderate reform, coupled with a conference between the two Houses in the event of a disagreement and the referendum as a reserve for occasions.

The Advantage of This Modern Plan of cumulative buying has never been illustrated more remarkably than in this Piano Club and the circumstances which have led up to it. Briefly they are as follows:

Messrs. Gourlay, Winter & Leeming, a firm of the highest reputation, with whom we are proud to be associated, found over a year ago that to meet the steadily increasing demand for their Pianos a new factory of enlarged capacity was required.

A new factory was therefore built, which in its equipment is one of the finest Piano Manufacturing Plants on the American Continent. In November last, a larger staff of expert piano workmen having been engaged, work was commenced looking to an output of nearly double the previous capacity. During the usually quiet winter months the factory has been running full time, and in some departments overtime, and as a result the larger output is now a daily fact. Though the makers have a market provided for every Piano they can turn out as soon as the Spring season opens, the interval of a few weeks between now and then gave us our opportunity

WE OFFERED A CONTRACT FOR FIFTY PIANOS FOR IMMEDIATE DELIVERY, RECEIVING IN RETURN SPECIAL PURCHASING ADVANTAGES THAT MAKE THIS CLUB OFFER POSSIBLE

A Word About the Pianos

We want to impress it upon the minds of every resident of Peterborough County that these fifty pianos are from the regular stock of the Gourlay, Winter & Leeming factory. They are not, as is sometimes the case, made for special sale of very ordinary material by some unknown maker. They are manufactured throughout of first class materials by the highest skilled labor, in a factory that in its equipment and standards of work, has no superior anywhere. The manufacturers themselves bear a reputation as a firm of the highest integrity who have never yet made a piano of even doubtful quality, and we do not believe they could be induced to do so.

The pianos are what are known as the Style X McMillan Piano, manufactured by Gourlay, Winter & Leeming. The cases are made in handsomely figured walnut and mahogany, are all double veneered throughout and beautifully finished.

DESCRIPTION — $7\frac{1}{3}$ octaves; copper-wound overstrung bass; full composite metal frame with maple bushed tuning pins; fine quality spruce sound-board; compound quartered rock maple tuning pin block; double repeating action; three pedals, third pedal sustaining; dulcephone or muffler stop under key board; ivory keys and ebony sharps; full length music desk; Boston double fall board; continuous hinges on top and fall board; carvidg on panels hand work, not stucco or machine carving.

DIMENSIONS — Height, 4 feet 8 inches; depth, 2 feet 3 inches; width, 5 feet 2 inches; weight (boxed) 850 pounds.

This Piano Club offers to its Members Advantages and Privileges not otherwise obtainable. Read them carefully:

First — Members secure a Fine Upright Piano which regularly sells at $375 for $300 -- actual saving of $75.

Second — Members pay $10 deposit upon joining the club; the piano is delivered at once, and the balance may be paid in weekly instalments of $1.50 each without interest or extras of any kind.

Third — We agree to tune the Piano whenever required without charge until the time of payment has elapsed — a saving to club members of what is usually an expense.

Fourth — We have made arrangements to insure every club piano delivered in the county of Peterborough against loss by fire until it is fully paid for. Should a piano be injured or destroyed by fire during the time of payment, we agree to replace it by a new piano of similar style and make — another item of expense and worry saved.

Fifth — In some cases another plan of payment may be more convenient than that outlined in Clause 2. We have, therefore, prepared four other plans for the option of members, from which it will be seen that the faster you pay the less it will cost. The options are as follows:

Plan B — A deposit of $10 and monthly payments of $6 until paid, without interest. Price $300.
Plan C — A deposit of $25 and monthly payments of $8 until paid, without interest. Price $288.
Plan D — A deposit of $50 and monthly payments of $10 until paid, without interest. Price $280.
Plan E — Payment of cash in full within 30 days. Price $265.

MR. BURNHAM AND THE GLOBE

The following is self-explanatory:

To the Editor of the Globe: Allow me to thank you for your fair and candid presentation of the case for reciprocity in response to my "wrestling with the problem," as you put it. We have reduced the issue to a reasonable compass, and if you will allow me I would like to ask you a further question. You say that "the sweeping away of tariff and other interim obstacles would give the farmer more for his produce and the consumer more for his money. In that way reciprocity is to show its efficacy. But the pact mentions nothing but the tariff, which, therefore, is alone arguable. Reciprocity as now before the people (pardon me, I should say Parliament) is the old question of protection and free trade all over again, so far as it goes. It is that and only that. If the United States and Canada were only one nation then there would be as little excuse for tariffs between them as between the various States of the Union or the various Provinces of Canada. When, then, have we a tariff between Canada and the United States? Simply to prevent that very union, and in order to develop ourselves as a distinct Canadian nation without hindrance from outside. If we want union with the United States, then as in the case of England, Scotland and Ireland, we ought to have free trade. Inversely, therefore, if we wish to preserve an independent exsitence, we must adopt means to "protect ourselves." In a word, we must protect ourselves in all branches of activity, not so that we shan't trade, but so that we shall trade nationally or imperially rather than internationally, and, if you so like to call it, naturally. In that word "naturally" lies the whole strength of your position, it seems to me.

But when we come to examine it we find that the "natural" method of doing things is for those who need no protection or for those who, like the Arabs, prefer freedom to scientific organization. It did very well for England, who swallowed Scotland, Ireland, India, South Africa, etc., etc., and it will serve the same purpose for the United States in relation to Canada. But it will ever remain, I submit, a self-evident proposition that if Mary's lamb is to grow to sheephood it must guard its growth against all allurements. It is for that reason that we say that if we are to develop into a Canadian nation, either within or without the Empire, we must take measures to promote that object. We must above all consider ourselves so that we may develop in every part. If there were no other country in the world today, in five years we would be a marvel of prosperity and activity. International trade therefore in Canada's case is no necessity, and is likely to prove in this instance a grave danger.

J. H. BURNHAM.

Peterborough, March 22nd.

There is no good end to be served by following up this discussion. If there were no other country in the world we would no doubt get along without cotton, cloth and anthracite coal and tea and coffee and tropical fruits, and an amazing number of other things we now import. But we would be less and not more prosperous than we are to-day.—Ed. Globe.

WIFE AND FAMILY TO BE ADMITTED

Local Russian Will Once More Enjoy Connubial Bliss

The difficulty experienced in bringing out immigrants from Russia to Canada has been strikingly brought to the notice of the local immigration officer.

A local industrious Russian junk dealer, who has been doing business here for the past year, has succeeded so well financially that he now desires the companionship of his wife and family of six children who are at present living in Russia.

He can pay their passage money, but does not, however, feel in a position to put up the necessary money qualifications demanded by the government. The local officer took the matter up with the immigration authorities, explaining the circumstances concerning the case, and asking them to arrange to have the family admitted without paying the money.

The officer to-day received a letter from the authorities complying with the favor asked, asking him, however, to have the Russian append his signature to a form in use for such occasions.

As soon as the papers are signed the family will be allowed to enter the country. They will be compelled to pass a medical examination at the port of landing.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

To The Editor of The Review:

Sir—Please allow me to give your many Christian readers a very interesting item from "Northfield Echoes" showing the kind of work that is being done to-day for the church and the world by a certain brand of so-called "scholars."

"The Church of Iceland is troubled by "liberal" intrigues. Harold Nielson, professor in the theological seminary in Reykivik, in making a new translation of the Bible arbiterarily threw out the doctrine of the Virgin birth of Christ, by substituting the word "Fru" (married woman for "Jomfru" (Virgin.) As a result the whole edition has been suppressed, and largely attended meetings have been held to protest against the underhanded "interpolation." All honor to the Christians of Ireland. This is one of the doctrines of Christinity that Ingersoll so blasphemously railed against. When one reads the teaching and hears the preaching of some of our modern critics, one cannot help exclaiming "Oh shades of Voltaire and Paine, Ye ghosts of Bradlaugh and Ingersoll, have ye come back from the abyss to torment us?"

If the people of Iceland had just reason to rise in indignation over the cutting of one word from their Bible what are the people of Canada going to do, when whole books such as Genesis and Isaiah are so mutilated that if we believe the critics, we cannot believe one word in these books! When whole books, such as Daniel, Esther and Jonah are destroyed entirely for these books of the sacred canon are labelled "Religious Romance," or imaginary tales by these false apostles. The time is near when public indignation meetings will be held all over Canada to protest against these destroyers of the Faith. Already public men are becoming alarmed for the welfare of the children, and like heroes for the Faith are protesting both by private and public utterances against these false teachers.

The Rev. R. R. French, writing against this higher criticism in the Montreal Witness says: "Beware men, how ye handle the Word of God. Ye are making a plague a thousand times worse than the black death. Already it is among our people."

Yours,

JNO. CARLISLE.

Immigration Traffic

Montreal Witness—It required no fewer than twenty-two special trains during the past week to bring the immigrants from the ports in the Maritime Provinces into this city. Between seven and eight thousand foreigners and Old Country people have passed through Montreal on their way westward already, and as yet the tourist season proper has not satrted. Never before has there been such a great movement to the West, and last week the C.P.R. alone transported about 7,000 immigrants from St. John to this city. Upon arrival here the better class secured their passage westward on the regular trains but even at that many special trains had to be had to carry the remainder. The largest train loads of immigrants arrived here during Saturday, when no fewer than 3,000 came to Montreal. If the immigration continues at the rate it has commenced, about 200,000 would be added to Canada's population.

Barmaid Famine

South Australia is suffering from a barmaid famine. Two years ago bar maids were abolished in that state by act of parliament. No more could be legally engaged, but those already employed could remain on condition that they registered themselves. There are now only 400 of them left, and the competition for their services is such that their wages have jumped from 25 shillings to £3 a week. RECIPROCITY BILL PLACED ON RETIRED LIST AT OTTAWA

House Has Other Matters Which Receive the Preference — First Duty of Parliament to Vote Supply Says Sir Wilfrid.

Ottawa, March 24.—The Government evidently intends devoting some days to voting supply to the exclusion of the discussion on reciprocity.

Mr. F. D. Monk (Jacques Cartier) yesterday asked the question: "When will the House resume the reciprocity discussion; has it been shelved for good? Sir Wilfrid replied: "My hon. friend knows that we are approaching the end of the fiscal year, and the passing of supply is urgent," and added, "the first duty of Parliament is to vote supply and then we will take up other matters."

Regarding the declaration of London, which makes wheat a contraband of war, Sir Wilfrid said: "The provisions of the declaration have been taken into consideration, but the Government has made no representations in reference to it to the Imperial Government. As the whole subject deals with questions of international law, the Government of Canada, not being a sovereign power, did not consider itself justified to make any official representations on such matters, but the question may be discussed informally with the Imperial Government at the next Imperial conference."

Oliver J. Wilcox (North Essex) said he had received a letter from one of his negro constituents, asking if it was true that discrimination was being used by the Immigration Department against intending immigrants on account of their color, and if it was true that a colored man who had passed his examination had been refused by the Marine Department, and transferred to the Department of Agriculture. He was also informed that a colored gentleman had been removed from the census branch on account of his color, and sent to the experimental farm.

Mr. Oliver said there was a strong sentiment in the country against the admission of negroes into Canada. Referring to the exclusion of some negroes in an immigration party, the Minister remarked that they had been treated exactly as other immigrants.

Mr. Fisher declared that there was no foundation for the story that a colored man had passed an examination for the census branch and had been refused. As regards the colored man who had been refused by the Marine Department, his information was that he was unsuitable, and had been sent to the experimental farm.

M. Y. McLean (S. Huron) drew the attention of the Minister of Labor to the fact that injunction proceedings had been taken in Montreal to prevent the board named under the Anti-Combines Act, to proceed with its enquiry into the operations of the United Shoe Machinery Co.

Hon. Mackenzie King said the chairman of the board had advised him of the injunction proceedings, and that counsel had been named to oppose the motion for a writ of injunction.

The Premier informed Mr. Sharpe that before commencing to pay bounties on iron and steel there was no valuation by the Government of the physical assets of the companies. Inspectors were employed to check the products on which bounties were paid. The attention of the Government had not been called to the alleged fact that these companies in receipt of bounties had at any time refused to sell their products to Canadian consumers.

In committee of supply a discussion occurred regarding the possibility of the quarantine relations governing the entry of live stock into Canada being affected by the terms of the reciprocity agreement. The debate was based on a vote of $50,000 required to cover the expenditure for the current fiscal year, under the head of health of animals.

When Mr. Blain introduced the question the Minister said that the quarantine regulations had nothing whatever to do with the trade arrangements. The quarantine regulations would remain in force, and the increased trade in cattle which might arise as a result of the agreement would make no difference.

The House spent the evening in consideration of the supplementary estimates. A number of items were passed, involving a large sum.

The balance will probably be passed Friday.

Negro's Home Dynamited.

Muskogee, Okla., March 24.—The home of Zeb MacKay, a negro of Taft, Oklahoma, was blown up with dynamite on Wednesday night, and two children, aged 10 and 14, were killed. The house was burned. Taft is exclusively a negro town.

A GIFT TO THE QUEEN

On the occasion of the coronation of the Queen it is proposed that the Maries of Canada shall unite with their namesakes throughout the British Empire in offering a gift to Her Majesty.

The Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire have been asked to collect for the gift in Ontario. Contributions will be received from five cents to five dollars, and may be given only by those who bear the name of Mary, May, Maria, Marian or Marie. A list of contributors will be forwarded but not the amount given by each.

The choice of the gift will be left entirely to the Queen. It is hoped that the Maries of Canada will appreciate the opportunity of showing their affectionate loyalty to Queen Mary.

The list must be closed by April 20th. As the time is so short, it would greatly help the committee if all who are interested will send in contributions, with names in full, as early as possible.

The secretary of the movement is Miss Plummer, Sylvan Towers, Toronto.

Subscriptions and contributions will be received at the Review Office, and forwarded promptly, with names and addresses of donors, to the secretary.

MET DEATH IN THEATRE FIRE

Six Fatalities and Serious Injuries Amongst Audience.

Special to The Review.

Little France, March 24.—In a fire which started in a moving picture theatre here, six people were burned to death. Many others who were in the theatre at the time were severely injured.

Flew With Eleven Passengers.

Douai, France, March 24.—Aviator Louis Broguet made a record performance yesterday when he carried 11 passengers in his monoplane a distance of two miles.

The flight was made at a height varying from 50 to 75 feet. The total weight of the 12 persons was 1,315 pounds, and the combined weight of the machine and its occupants was 2,062 pounds.

The best previous performance of the kind was made by M. le Martin, who on Feb. 2, took up seven passengers on a five-minute trip.

New York State Bank Fails.

Oneonta, N.Y., March 24.—The First National Bank of this city closed its doors yesterday.

The bank has about $800,000 resources and the deposits are about $500,000, with an equal amount of loans and discounts.

Controlling interest in the bank changed about a year ago, and there has been a gradual withdrawal of deposits and an increase in loans and discounts.

A Narrow Escape.

Aylmer, March 24.—Will Orton, a young man employed by the Aylmer Pump & Scale Co., had a narrow escape from death or serious injury. While oiling a shaft his coat became caught, throwing him from his feet. The clothes were all stripped from his body, and he was badly bruised and cut, but no bones are broken.

SONS SHOT IN SIGHT OF PARENTS

Mexican Revolutionists Executed by Mexican Soldiers.

Special to The Review.

Douglas, Arizona, March 24.—Two young sons of General Tamamtes, the Mexican revolutionist, who were captured with their father, were shot by government troops in the sight of both parents. The father was then shot to death.

More Ottawa Amenities.

Ottawa, March 24.—The lie was passed in the private bills committee yesterday over the bill respecting the Ontario & Minnesota Power Co. E. W. Backus of Minneapolis, the head of the company, protested against the bill compelling the company to keep half its power for Fort Frances and referring to the agreement between the company and the Ontario Government, and said he had shown it to Mr. Conmee.

The latter replied, "You are a complete liar." There was an uproar and finally Mr. Conmee apologized to the committee. The preamble of the bill finally passed by 23 to 10.

Four Americans Executed.

San Antonio, Texas, March 24—John Hamilton Dignowitty and three other Americans have been shot to death, under orders of a Mexican court martial, for participation in the insurrection, according to a despatch received yesterday by members of the Dignowitty family.

"Ham" Dignowitty was thirty years of age and was engaged in the cattle and mining business in the State of Chihuahua.

Three Accidents on I.C.R.

St. John, N.B., March 24.—Three minor accidents are reported on the Intercolonial Railway.

On the Nova Scotia section, a baggage car jumped the rails and blocked the line. Near Dorchester, N.B., yesterday morning the express from St. John struck the rear of a special freight, small damage resulting. The Maritime Express is reported off the track at Dalhousie Junction.

REFUSE OFFER OF LAURIER

Premier Roblin Introduces a Resolution Which Is Seconded by the Acting Head of the Opposition, Rejecting the Proposal to Give Prairie Province a Cash Payment Instead of Her Proper Share of Lands.

Winnipeg, March 24.—By a unanimous vote yesterday afternoon the Legislature accepted the resolution introduced by Premier Roblin, which is in effect a refusal of the offer of the Dominion Government for a settlement of the Manitoba boundary question by an annual cash payment in lieu of the public domain of $200,000, rising to $300,000. The resolution sets forth that Manitoba will be satisfied with nothing less than equal treatment with the other provinces. Either the public domain, or financial considerations equal to those of Alberta and Saskatchewan. In the absence of Mr. Morris, leader of the Opposition, the resolution was accepted on his behalf by Mr. Winkler. The galleries were crowded to their utmost capacity by an eager throng, and Premier Roblin has seldom been heard to better advantage.

The Premier prefaced his speech by saying he believed he had the full sympathy of every member of that Legislature, as well as every good citizen of Manitoba.

After reviewing the united efforts to secure boundary extension on satisfactory terms, dwelling particularly on negotiations his Government had opened at the time the autonomy bills were under consideration, Premier Roblin pointed out that the cause of the province had always been presented from two standpoints—either the public domain or financial considerations equal to those of Alberta and Saskatchewan. The negotiations with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, each by Messrs. Rogers and Campbell and himself, had resulted in nothing to the point, until finally the Government made the offer now under consideration, namely, $200,000 as a minimum and $300,000 as a maximum basis on population, in lieu of the public domain of the territory to be added.

"Now," he continued, "I have only to make that statement in order to shock the public conscience of this province, if not the Dominion, to say that the Province of Manitoba, with all her energy and her enterprise in establishing the bona-fides of Western Canada, should thus be handicapped and crippled for all time to come, is, in my opinion, simply an outrage. I believe there is not a single individual citizen of Manitoba who does not agree with me that the offer is simply an insult, whether intended or not, to this province"

Mr. Roblin went on to compare the terms offered to Manitoba and those Saskatchewan enjoys, claiming that the latter has two dollars for every one of the former. "Who is there," he exclaimed, "among us that could be so base, so wanting in self-respect, so untrue to his adopted or native province, that would not resent the imputation that any one citizen of this province is not as good and worth as much to the Dominion as any citizen of Saskatchewan?"

Hibernians After Y.M.C.A.

Ottawa, March 24.—On Sunday last, during the progress of the Hibernian parade here, it is alleged by some of the local Irishmen that young fellows stationed in the windows of the Y.M.C.A. building sang "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly?" and other songs to which the objection has been made by the Hibernians.

Yesterday the county board of the Hibernians came out with the direct charge that Y.M.C.A. members were responsible, and demanding an investigation and formal apology. The Y.M.C.A. has promised to hold an enquiry.

Would Get Married.

Kingston, March 24.—Local Chinamen are rejoicing over the fact that legislation is on to remove the head tax of $500 on bringing their wives into Canada. Some have stated that they would get married if the tax is removed, and are awaiting the result of the proposed measure with great interest There are no Chinese women in this city.

A Change of Policy.

Winnipeg, March 24.—A change of policy to the effect that the Government did not intend to build or buy any more elevators other than those now under way, was the announcement made by the Provincial Treasurer at the conclusion of the discussion on supplementary estimates in the Legislature yesterday.

Year For Assault and Robbery.

Toronto, March 24.—Fred. Pitchefer was sent to the Central Prison for a year from police court yesterday morning upon a conviction for assaulting and robbing James Johnston. He admitted the assault, but denied the robbery. He has a record.

STEAMER BRUCE DRIVEN ASHORE

Three Persons Are Reported to Have Been Drowned.

Special to The Review.

Sydney, N.S, March 24.—The steamer, Bruce, of Newfoundland, from Port Aux, Basques, and bound for Louisburg, is ashore at Port Nova, near Scatterie, with one hundred and twenty passengers on board. It is reported that three have been drowned.

MORE TROOPS ARE CALLED

United States Strengthing Force Along Mexican Border.

San Antonio, Texas, March 24.—With the new demand for six or seven thousand recruits, the issuance of an order by Gen. Carter, making provisions for a sudden move should it be required, and a statement by Dr. C. F. Caricristi of the Mexican Revolutionary Junta, that "the U. S. will intervene in Mexico unless there is a definite show of tranquility by May 1," the recently diminished war cloud loomed larger to-day.

Dr. Caricristi felt sure enough of his facts to embody them in a report to Francisco I. Madero, the revolutionary leader, who at the last report was within 30 miles of the City of Chihuahua. Dr Caricristi urged the insurrecto chief to achieve a decisive victory at all costs before May 1, for he wrote, "President Taft will not wait longer than that for a quiet to be restored, business resumed and traffic over the railroads to be secure."

Most of Dr. Caricristi's investigating was done at Washington, although he visited El Paso and Laredo before coming to San Antonio. He said yesterday:

"Of course, a complete federal triumph in Chihuahua, the restoration of communications and other business likewise would avoid intervention. I know absolutely that President Taft is determined that order shall be restored, and quickly, by one side or the other in Mexico, with the alternative of intervention.

"In my report to Senor Madero, I pointed out the necessity of capturing and holding the State of Chihuahua. If this can be accomplished, I am convinced that the revolutionists will be recognized as belligerents by the U. S. and other Governments.

"Neither side wants intervention, and I believe firmly that federals and revolutionists would make common cause against an invader.

"It is a fact that 75 per cent. of the credit in Mexico is in the hands of the Americans and Europeans.

"Just how much influence has been exerted in Mexico by certain great interests, I can't say. I can swear that the revolution in Mexico started within its own borders, of its own force, for I helped to start it. But it gives food for thought to know that one interest which has millions invested, has always been on the friendliest terms with Diaz, and has received many concessions from him. Another interest with more money and an eye on a certain great natural resource of the country has been antagonized at court by the former. The interest of the latter in a change of administration seems obvious."

Washington, March 24.—Apportioned among the states and territories, according to their militia strength, 200 National Guard officers will be sent by the War Department to San Antonio, Texas, and 200 to San Diego, Cal., on April 5, for two weeks' instruction service with the mobilized regulars. The Department expects to send a total of 1,000 militia officers to the manoeuvres at federal expense.

STRANGE DISEASE CAUSING DEATH

From Five to Ten Persons Dying Each Day.

Special to The Review.

Havana, Cuba, March 24.—A strange plague has broken out in Pinar Province, one hundred miles from here, and the death rate is from five to ten persons daily.

WAR SECRETARY HALDANE CREATED VISCOUNT BY KING

With the Title of Viscount Haldane He Is to Strengthen the Liberal Party In the Lords — Two Other Changes Take Place — Mr. Lloyd-George's Rumored Retirement Now Receives Authoritative Denial.

London, March 24.—King George yesterday created War Secretary Haldane a viscount. The elevation of the Secretary to the peerage has been anticipated as a move intended to strengthen the Government in the House of Lords.

Viscount Haldane has had a brilliant scholastic and public career. He was born at Cloander, N.S., in 1856. He attended Edinburgh Academy and Edinburgh University, where he was graduated M.A. with first-class honors in philosophy. He was Gifford lecturer at St. Andrew's University 1902-04, and subsequently became rector of Edinburgh University.

Lord Haldane has had a distinguished career at the Bar. He became a barrister in 1879, and was appointed a queen's counsel in 1890.

Fame has also attended his literary works, which include a number of standard philosophical volumes.

Equally successful has been the new peer's experience in the sphere of politics. He has represented Haddingtonshire in Parliament in the Liberal interests from 1885, and has filled the office of Secretary of War since 1905.

J. B. D. Seeley, Parliamentary Secretary of the Colonial Office, has been appointed Under Secretary for War, and Lord Lucas, Parliamentary Secretary of the War Office, has been made Under Secretary of the Colonies. This exchange of offices is consequent on the elevation of Secretary Haldane, which would place both representatives of the War Office in the House of Lords, it being customary to have a representative of the chief Government Departments in each House.

The rumor that David Lloyd-George would retire as Chancellor of the Exchequer, is now officially denied. Secretary Haldane's promotion is merely intended to relieve Lord Morley of the heavy task of leadership in the House of Lords during the Earl or Crewe's absence.

THE ONTARIO LIBRARY ASS'N

ROOF CAVED IN AT BIG FIRE

Three Men Killed and Four Fatally Injured

Special to The Review.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 24.—Three men were killed, four were fatally injured, and eleven are reported to be missing, as the result of a fire at the Middleton Manufacturing Company's factory. The roof of the building caved in while a dozen men were on top of it.

SANG THE WRONG TUNE

From the Calgary Herald.

In a local theatre last night the visiting actors in a tropical song dared to express approbation of the reciprocity treaty, and to hint at what is usually regarded in the United States as its inevitable result, namely, annexation. The entire audience rose in protest and the singers were compelled to quickly change their tune.

The incident is interesting for two reasons. First, it shows how reciprocity is regarded in the United States. The song that evoked a protest in Calgary would probably have produced cheers in Chicago. Reciprocity in the American view is the first long step towards the annexation of Canada, and the placing of the Stars and Stripes over the entire continent of North America.

Secondly, the incident shows that notwithstanding manufactured resolutions inspired from Ottawa the sentiment of this city, for instance, is strongly against the present reciprocity treaty. Calgary people, like all other Canadians, are prepared to welcome trade expansion along safe lines, but they are not prepared to trust their commercial future to the mercies of American combines.

UNION LABEL

MODERN GOODNESS

The peers, prelates and school masters of the old land, have started an agitation against the circulation and especially the publication of novels which have a debashing or demoralizing tendency. A few weeks ago a Toronto magistrate decided that the Decameron, Burton's Arabian Nights, and Balzac's Droll Stories were obscene literature, and therefore he prohibited their sale.

Is this an evidence of the growing goodness of man? The world long since rejected literature of the stamp of Wycherly's plays, which were merely excuses for parading licentiousness, but which at the same time, were the outcropping of the style and habits of the day. Some of Shakespeare's immortal works, notably, Lucrece, might be classed in the same category, but while admiring the strength, the masterfulness of the presentation, the theme does not appeal to modern life and thought. That the world to-day is much more strict in its ideas as to what constitutes morality, must be admitted. It is a more refined world than the writings of our ancestors, and the great minds of the ages, indicate their contemporary life to have been. It is also a more artificial world, a world which loves to cloak its foibles under a mantle of seeming virtue. Human nature is, we believe, on a considerably higher plane than it once was. More is given to charity, more missionary work is done. There is a growing strength of opinion against the necessity of war, a growing dislike to the use of liquor, a growing respect for the man or woman whose character is above reproach.

Human nature must remain as it is constituted, and while breath lasts, men and women will have a struggle to keep from falling from grace. The movement towards the elimination of obscene literature, or merely debasing literature, would have been laughed at one hundred years ago. To-day it is assuming formidable proportions. We in Canada are extremely fortunate in having a standard of life which is as high as can be found on the globe. Canada is much more moral, much broader, with greater liberty of individual action and speech than other nations that may be classed in the modernist class.

A PEA-NUT BUSINESS

The Trade Record of New York contains the report of a speech made by J. P. Wood, of Philadelphia, at a gathering of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, and what Mr. Wood, whoever he may be, has to say is really edifying. These opinions from across the line are very interesting because they tend to show the drift of opinion among the better informed people. What the lesser informed people think is probably much more violent than the ideas of the better posted people. Here is Mr. Woods' idea of the situation between Canada and the United States:

"The first duty of any American whether he is the humblest or the one in the highest exalted office, is to his country and the United States. (Applause.) His first duty must be to his country and Canada second. We are a great country. We ought to be familiar with great affairs.

"I look upon reciprocity as a peanut business to what we ought to expect. I consider people who are talking favorably about reciprocity as narrow minded and small. We ought to rise to something greater than that. We ought to say to Canada, 'Look at your self, you are only seven millions. In the last ten years we have grown ten millions, 50 per cent. more than what you are from the foundation, from the discovery of your country, 50 per cent. greater in ten years. We are increasing at the rate of over a million a year in immigration alone, to say nothing about the natural increase of population. You can say to her that when she is willing to enjoy the prosperity that this country has, and put up the same protection that we put up there is no question about reciprocity, the barriers will fall down naturally. Fix your foreign policy like men, we may say, and instead of having seven millions as a result of four or five hundred years, you will get through in ten. We will open up America with its ninety millions against your seven if you will put the protection against the foreigner that we do."

UNITED STATES VIEWS

The comments of the United States newspapers, the great journals whose word is an authority not to be lightly disputed, are of great interest to Canadians in relation to the question of reciprocity.

Their comments are apt to be a great deal more enlightening to Canadians than the plausibly constructed arguments of the Canadian government supporters, who will endeavor to justify by logic anything the government may attempt, however illogical, impractical or injurious it may be to the country. This is the curse of politics.

The Cleveland Leader says;

"It is well timed to strengthen the American hold upon the rich fruits of the progress of the Dominion."

The Canadians have fought for half a century to build their way up to prosperity. They have spent hundreds of millions attaining that end. The Americans now propose to step in and share the fruits of that prosperity "to strengthen their hold on the fruits of our progress."

The Boston Herald welcomes the pact because it is designed to make of Canada a merely pastural and agricultural country and a vast market for United States manufactures. Of course Sir Wilfrid has assured the manufacturers that they will not be hurt. As a great business man, who admits on the floor of the house that he would make a mess of a business deal, he knows that reciprocity is not designed to be the wedge for the free admission of American manufactures. The Herald says;

"As her forest lands are cleared, her prairies brought under the plow and her mines opened, she will need machinery, and quantities of it.

The more cheaply she can buy it, the more quickly she will move on the way to prosperity; and the lower the duty, the more cheaply she can buy from the United States manufacturer.

Such an arrangement will benefit Canada more than the presence of a few industries owing their existence to a high protective tariff, and using the protection to levy toll on every enterprise aiming to develop in a legitimate way the resources of the country.

The benefit to United States manufacturers is obvious."

The New York Times adopts a different view. It deals with the conservation of the country's natural resources. It rejoices because Canada has offered hers to the United States, to relieve the great pressure on their own. Read this carefully:

"Reciprocity is the beginning of a policy that will powerfully protect the natural resources of our own country, to the conservation of which the nation has devoted years of study and is preparing to expend many millions of dollars.

Our growth has been so rapid that we have only lately begun to understand its effects. A score of years ago we still looked upon these resources as practically boundless and their exploitation as the sure means of incalculable prosperity.

Within ten years we, as a nation have come to know that their limits are quite within comprehension and that our constantly and swiftly advancing demands are outgrowing the certain supply.

The agreement with Canada offers us free access to resources comparable to our own before our tremendous growth encroached upon them.

To refuse this would be as crass an act of folly as for the commander of a besieged garrison to decline convoys of provisions."

And our imperial relations will not be affected, of course. The Times must surely be wrong in imagining that the diversion of our commerce will prevent closer trade relations with Britain. How easy to have perfect free trade with Britain, if we do all our business with the United States. And nobody "would be hurt," either.

The Times says;

"The agreement opens the channels of commerce northward and southward and practically puts an end to the policy of the British Tories, which aims at blocking those channels and directing the currents of trade eastward across the ocean to the special gain of England.

Incidentally, our acceptance of the agreement would also destroy the hope of the British Tories to establish a tariff wall about the markets of England, with the avowed purpose of reducing American trade.

EDITORIAL NOTES

In addition to the typhoid fever, the scarlet fever, Ottawa now has a case of smallpox, thirteen people being quarantined in an apartment house, Ottawa seems to be a victim of various sorts of plagues.

Canada's trade for the eleven months of the fiscal year shows an increase of $78,000,000 over the trade for the corresponding period last year. Why should we monkey with the wheels of the prosperity clock, and put the whole mechanism out of order?

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

She was growing calmer now. It would surely slow down of itself, she reasoned, and if it did not—well, she had escaped from Silberberg anyhow.

And then the north wind struck. The puff smote her cheek. The helicopter yielded to it and swept southward like a feather before a fan. She was blowing out to sea. She reached out to stop the engine, but the vision passed through her mind of falling—falling like the stick of a rocket, being dashed to pieces on the earth.

Then a voice seemed to speak in her ear from the chill solitude, senseless words, as of one stammering, like the phantasms of voices heard in the delirium of fever, finally growing distinct and repeating over and over a command. "Retard the spark!" it said. "Retard the spark!"

The Roc was far below and to the north now. The gulf breakers foamed nearer and nearer and still rang in her ears the ghostly command, "Retard the spark!" She tried to remember about engines, but this one was so different! Aimlessly she put her hand out, touched a little sliding thing and paused. She moved the sliding thing and thought the buzz of the helices less strenuous. The roar of the breakers swelled in her ears like the crescendo of some tremendous, uprushing music, and she realized that she was falling in a great parabola that might carry her into the sea or might dash her upon the driftwood and wreckage of the beach.

Suddenly the machine careened, and she thought she had struck, to be dashed broken on the ground, lost. She had not seen Theodore Carson on that highest dune, but he had grasped the painter as it dragged over him, and it was he who had thrown the flying machine from its level swoop, even as it jerked him down the dune, with Captain Harrod clinging to his legs, dragging them almost to the water's edge. The car swung horribly, and finally, spilled from it by its careening, there fell out of it a mass of red hat, crimson scarf, pique and silken fallals. The helicopter tore loose and fled out to sea before the gale.

THERE FELL OUT OF THE CAR A MASS OF RED HAT AND CRIMSON SCARF.

CHAPTER II.

A HOSPITABLE BANDIT.

THEODORE CARSON stared for a moment in amazement at the prostrate girl, then took her tenderly in his arms, carrying her toward the hidden cabin. At the steepest spot Captain Harrod overtook him. But the young man paid no heed to offers of aid, wading steadily on to the door, which the captain unlocked and opened, standing aside for Carson and his interesting burden. Theodore took her into the large single room and laid her softly on a clean looking bed.

"She is dead!" said Theodore in a hushed voice.

"Is her heart beatin'?" the captain inquired.

"I don't know!" cried Carson.

Carson laid his ear lightly to the white blouse. Some fluttering he seemed to feel, but he could not be certain. Harrod brought water in a watering pot, which he seemed to have planned to use as upon a lily or rose.

"Do it beat?" he asked.

"I can't tell," said Carson, "nor whether it's my pulse or hers that beats. Oh, I wish—what do they generally do, captain?"

"They's some paht o' they frock that always has to be unrove, ain't they?" inquired the captain anxiously.

"Captain," said Carson, the perspiration standing on his brow, "I'm going out on the gallery for air. You do what has to be done, captain—or she may die!"

"Put some watah on huh face, suh," said the captain, in judicious avoidance of extreme measures. "Ah don't reckon this hyah's a case fo' vi'lent o' oncouse'vative remedies. I'll oncork that ha'tsho'n bottle!"

Carson pressed a wet towel to the girl's face. The captain held a bottle labeled "ammonia" to her nostrils. She gasped, drew a quivering sigh and opened her eyes. The older man was looking at her in a fatherly way, and the young one was sponging her forehead, his face near hers. She sat up suddenly.

"You have had a fall, madam," said Carson, "and are shaken up a little. But you are safe and among friends."

"Oh, thank you," she said, in a tone of the most correct formality. "It's ever so kind of you, sir. I—I—I— Oh, I thought I was lost! I thought I— Oh! Oh! Oh! Oh! O-o-o-h!"

Suddenly, from the polite commonplaces of speech, she broke into hysterical screaming. Captain Harrod poured a stiff glass of red liquid from a bottle, diluted it and took it to the shuddering girl, who looked pathetically up into his face for a moment, swallowed it obediently and coughed as if strangled by it.

"And now," said Mr. Carson, "we will leave you, if you will excuse us. Please feel at ease. You are quite safe, and the cabin is yours. We are in all ways at yo' service. The captain here is my friend, and we belong to a race that sees a sister in every helpless lady. I think you will desire to sleep, and I hope you may awake refreshed; after which we shall place ourselves mo' definitely under your command."

She looked at him questioningly. The softness of his voice, his little inconsistent lapses into dialect as he uttered the old fashioned chivalric sentiments, won her trust.

LEG BROKEN IN MISHAP TO STAGE

News From Lakehurst—Lumber Camps Breaking Up

Special to The Review.

Lakehurst, March 21—Mr. Stevens of Peterborough occupied the pulpit of Knox church last Sunday morning.

As the lumber camps to the north of us have suspended operations for another season, those of our young men who were engaged therein have returned to farm life once more.

Fred Esson met with a serious accident while coming from Kelly's lumber camp a week ago Wednesday night. The stage on which he was riding upset and his leg was broken; however, he is doing as well as can be expected and we hope soon to see him entirely recovered.

We are pleased to learn that Miss May McConnell of Omemee has returned to the home of her uncle, Mr. W. Weir, we hope that her sojourn with us may be a lengthy one.

Miss Beatrice Clarkson spent Sunday afternoon as the guest of Miss Nellie Smith.

Messrs. B. and J. Atkinson intend leaving for the far West about the end of this month. The best wishes of their many friends go with them to their new field of labor.

The Telephone Co., held a meeting at Lakehurst last Saturday night. The enterprise is certainly progressing as measurements are now being taken to ascertain the number of poles required.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. J. Coons were the guests of Miss Mary Weir last Saturday afternoon.

Misses Clara Adams and Vera Flynn were the guests of Miss Crissie Shearer Saturday night.

CLYDESDALE

Special to The Review.

Clydesdale, March 24.—The last snow and sleet have made the roads very sloppy for which many of the young people are sorry.

Misses Marion McPherson and Edra Trotter, who have been visiting friends in Warsaw, Lakefield and Peterborough returned home Saturday.

Miss McPherson leaves shortly for Munil o, where she has secured the position of teacher.

We are sorry to hear of the loss Mr. Stephen had by fire on Thursday last. His house caught on fire and while he lost no time in endeavoring to extinguish the blaze his efforts were in vain. He then tried to remove the contents but succeeded only in getting out the separator and machine. His generous friends are helping him in every way they can.

A box social in aid of the R. C. church was held in the school house on Friday night. The program consisted of recitations, dialogues, speeches and instrumental music.

Miss Berlin, of Coe Hill, was the vocal soloist and Dr. Brown, an orator was also greatly appreciated. The local talent was also present.

John O'Brien occupied the chair and much credit is due to the Coe Hill talent and others connected with the program for their efforts in making the concert such a successful event. The boxes were auctioned by F. J. Bulfied. The Clydesdale auctioneer, John O'Brien ably assisted the auctioneer. The proceeds amounted to $109.15.

Willie Johnston has purchased a farm from Mr. Joe Trotter, jr., and is intending to purchase a team of horses in the near future.

Penny Banks

Oshawa Board of Education has authorized the establishment of a Penny Bank in connection with the public schools. The weekly deposits and withdrawals between the school children of Toronto and the Penny Bank reach large sums weekly. For February there were 24 schools participating. 220 new accounts were opened, there were 7,969 deposits amounting to $2,157.27 and the withdrawals were $752.98. Toronto school children have now over $100,000 to their credit, and the work is steadily growing in favor.

Women have been nominated for mayor and police magistrate of Hunnewell, Kansas, as a protest against the present "wide open" management,

NORWOOD NEWS

Special Correspondence.

Norwood, March 21.—A very successful social was given in the Presbyterian church Monday evening, under the auspices of the girls of Mrs. J. Weir's Sunday school class.

Mr. T. Pace, of Cordova, was in town on Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Pauline Weir spent the week-end in Peterborough.

Miss Florence Foster, of Peterborough, was the guest of her parents here over Sunday.

Miss Shirley Morrison visited Havelock on Saturday and Sunday.

Stanley Weir and Mr. David Brooks, of E. P. Cuffe's store, were in Havelock on Monday in the interests of the firm.

Geo. Duffield returned from Toronto on Friday night.

A. Anderson, of Peterborough, was in town on Sunday.

Some people in this vicinity have already tapped their maple trees, and the sap is running very well. Sugar bush owners are anticipating a good sap season, as there has been very little fine warm weather so far this month, and there is abundance of snow in the woods which keeps the frost in the ground.

The Finlay Company is getting in large supplies of sawn lumber, and there is some talk of them branching out in some new industry to be run in connection with their already large business.

Mr. H. G. Macfarlane, assistant High school teacher, has been very ill for the past two weeks.

WEDDING.

Miss Sylvia Jane Livingstone was united in matrimony to Mr. J. W. Killingbeck at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Livingstone, Queen street, Norwood, on Saturday afternoon last, March 18, by the Rev. B. W. Tucker, pastor of the Methodist church. The marriage was performed in the presence of a few of the immediate friends of the contracting parties. The happy young couple left on a short honeymoon on the afternoon C.P.R. express on Sunday.

ENTERTAINMENT.

The Methodist Sunday school entertainment, consisting of choruses, drills, dialogues, recitations and solos, held last Friday evening in the town hall, was a decided success. The different numbers on the program were rendered in such a manner as to call forth the hearty applause of the large audience. Those who took part, as well as those who had the training of the different pieces, deserve great credit for the very pleasing way in which the programme was rendered.

The program was as follow—

Opening number—Orchestra.

Chorus—"Where the Sugar Maple Grows," Scholars.

Scarf drill—Twelve Girls.

Solo—Miss Una A. Duffield.

Frog drill—Twenty Boys.

Recitation—Miss Florence Foster.

Duet—Ruby Young and Alethea Duffield.

Dialogue—Saturday Night's Dream.

Solo—Russell Scriver.

Selection—Orchestra.

Chorus—Patriotic—Scholars.

Recitation—Elsie Laing.

Solo—Miss Roxie Andrews.

Recitation—Miss Florence Foster.

Duet—Misses U. Duffield and R. Andrews.

Dialogue—Farmer Hanks Wants a Divorce—Miss S. Searight, Messrs. W Puffer and K. Waters.

Chorus—The Boys' Band.

Drill—"Good Night."

God Save the King.

PURCHASED STORE

Mr. Geo. E. Mills has purchased from Mr. R. Stewart his store premises, lately occupied as a drug store, situated on Peterborough street, next door to Mr. J. W. Rork's hardware store. Mr. Mills got possession this week and intends having the premises remodelled and arranged for an up-to-date boot and shoe store. Mr. Mills has been conducting his business in Miss Williams' store, next to Mr. E. P. Cuffe's store. He expects to have his new store ready for occupation early in April. We understand the property changed hands at $825.

Dr. Stewart has moved into his new fire-proof store on the opposite side of the street.

GET THE HABIT AND SHOP EARLY

Don't Put Off Your Purchases for the Rush Hours

Local merchants, and particularly those doing business on George street are complaining again about the practice of shopers, waiting till late in the afternoon, to make their purchases.

This causes a rush in the late afternoon; the customers crowd into the stores and the clerks are called upon to face the situation, which demands that half a dozen or more bargain hunters be served at one time.

Apparently the number of "early birds," has a minority and why is it? The prospective purchaser suffers although in a different way than the merchant and his clerks.

The minutes are fleeting and she has to make hurry up choice, of the goods which she wishes to purchase. The clerk cannot give his best attention and the oft repeated saying is 'well I'll take that—I have to hurry home.

Late purchases mean late hours for the men and boys on the delivery rigs. The distance is just as long with a pound of tea as with a yard of calico and then there is a chance of the customer not getting her goods at all, for the driver of the delivery arriving at the house may find that the "heavy purchase" had dropped through a crack and was for evermore lost.

Get the habit and shop early.

PETERBOROUGH

How a Local Young Man Made Money

There are many people in and around the City of Peterborough who have money, looking for investment, who prefer a safe investment, such as bonds or low rate of interest, to investing in mortgages or other securities which require special judgment in selecting, and constant and careful watching to avoid loss. To such we would commend the following result to their careful consideration—

A young man of the City of Peterborough had his life insured sixteen years ago last January for Ten Thousand Dollars ON A SINGLE PAYMENT 15-YEAR ENDOWMENT PLAN. The premium paid was $6,460.00. On the 31st of January, 1910, the company paid him $12,116.00 in cash, after giving him fifteen years of free insurance. What do you think of that as an investment?

Are bonds or municipal debentures, or even the best mortgages, to be compared with it, when you consider that the risk of the life was carried during the 15 years? And remember, the security is as safe as any debenture or mortgage, and there was no trouble or expense entailed of any kind after the initial investment.

The above result was obtained from the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, under policy No. 47340, W.H.B.

SAMPLE LETTERS OF IMMIGRANTS

How Prospective New Comers to this Country Write to Local Headquarters

It is interesting to read some of the numerous letters daily received by the local immigration officer, nearly all of which are of the same purport. Some indicate little education on the part of the writers, while others read smoothly and clearly.

Any person who knows of a position suitable for the writers of the letters might communicate with the immigration officer.

To Mr. Hewson.

Dear Sir,—Having read of farm laborers being wanted, I am now taking this opportunity of writing to let you know that I would like to go on a farm, but I am a married man with two little children and a wife to support; also, I have not had any experience, but am willing to learn, and if any gentleman wishes a married couple, and he has no objection to children, will be quite willing to go on a farm; also at the same time I wish to tell you that wife is good cook, also she is a good domestic servant, but I am an unexperienced laborer, but wife is a experienced servant, so if any gentleman is wanting help, I shall be very pleased to help them, and as I am not at home until after six of an evening I shall be pleased to see anyone then, or they can write to the address I am forwarding with this letter.

To Mr. Hewson.

Sir.—Besides sending you my address I wish to state that I am Mrs. L———'s son-in-law, who spoke to you about two weeks ago about being out of work, so if I can get a chance of calling and see you I will do so. This is my address for all letters for me, etc., etc.

LODGE MEMBERS GOING TO WEST

Duke of Manchester L.O.L. No. 50 Held Interesting Meeting

The regular meeting of L.O.L. No. 50 was held last night with a large attendance of members. Bro. Barrie, W.M. was in the chair, and several applications were received. One member joined by certificate. The lodge said good by to two more of its members, who are leaving for the Golden West. This makes a total of about twenty-five who have gone west since the lodge was organized three years ago. However, the lodge has a membership which is a credit to any lodge and Society and prospects look bright for more members to take place of those that have gone away. Bro. Spence was elected to the office of Chaplain, for the balance of the year, and will no doubt do credit to himself.

Bro. E. A. Reid gave a very interesting and complete report of Grand Lodge meeting at Smith Falls, which was received with great applause.

FROM A PAGE OF THE PAST

The following, which is a clipping from the Port Arthur News of January 6th, 1911, has been handed in for publication—

There died last month in Peterborough the oldest resident, in the person of James Stevenson, ex-M.P. He had lived in Peterborough since 1843. He was a Conservative in politics, and a personal friend of the late Sir John A. Macdonald. He represented West Peterborough in the Dominion Parliament for two terms, from 1887 and 1896, defeating Hon. George A. Cox in his first election.

During this contest of twenty-three years ago the feeling ran high on each side, for, although Peterborough was strongly Conservative, George A. Cox was a popular citizen. A Peterborough man was recalling the fight, during a recent conversation with political friends and remarked:

"I remember well the Sunday before the election. Both Mr. Cox and Mr. Stevenson were, if my memory serves me well, members of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church. They were entrusted with the dignified duty of taking up the collection. On the Sunday before the final contest they were far more observed than the minister himself, who found it difficult to preach a gospel of peace to a congregation intensely interested in a political fight.

"As they approached the altar with their silver-filled plates, the candidates came face to face and regarded each other with defiance. This was too much for the congregation and audible smiles greeted the return of each politician to the seclusion of his pew."

NO. 7 COMPANY HOLDS A SMOKER

Lieut. Col. T.D.R. Hemming D.O. C. No. 3 Was a Guest

The officers of No. 7 Co. entertained the men at a "smoker" in the recreation rooms at the armories last night. Quite a number turned out, also some recruits who are joining the company. Nearly all the regularly enrolled men have signified their intenton of coming back this season, and it promises to be the banner company of the 57th regiment.

The guests played euchre the greater part of the evening, after which refreshments were derved.

Lieut.-Col. T. D. R. Hemming, D.O.C. No. 3, who is visiting the Peterborough garrison, honored the party with his presence for a while during the evening in company with some of the local staff.

Mr. Arthur Fuller supplied the music during the evening, also singing some of the latest song hits, such as the "Yama Yama Man."

The evening broke up with the singing of the National Anthem.

A NEW PRODUCTION "THE ROSARY"

The following is the story of "The Rosary," which comes to the Grand next Wednesday, March 29th.

Their household is a happy one, but into it creeps a note of menace. No one hears it at first save Father Kelly, a priest, the former tutor of Bruce. Quietly he goes to work with his sharpened sense to find the person who is causing the adverse influence in the household. Almost on the verge of discovering the cause, calamity descends upon the Wilton house. Bruce's fortune is swept away, and in such a manner that he believes his wife the cause of his ruin.

Husband and wife are separated, the home is destroyed and yet the cause of all this disaster is unknown.

Farther Kelly with a faith that moves mountains, goes on quietly, sereneiy and confidently with but one purpose in view, the happiness of those he loves.

He solves the mystery and lets the white light of truth into the minds that have been darkened by evil.

More than this, he finds the one who has caused all the misery and restores the home.

"The Rosary" is probably the most successful play of the year, it having recently closed a three months' run in Boston. It also enjoyed successful runs in New York and Chicago.

Further individual subscriptions have been coming in of late, and so general generous has been public support that the closing of the subscription list has now come within measureable distance. The total amount will evidently be fully raised long before the arrival of the bells.

MR. BURNHAM'S REPLY

A Strong Answer to the Globe and its Evasion of the Reciprocity Argument.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—The editor of the Globe replies to my second letter in one part only. The Globe alleges that the violation and home development of Canada as in a case supposed, would deprive her of cotton, hard coal, tropical fruits, etc, and that therefore she would be less prosperous than if she secured these products rather than devoted the money paid for them or the energy expended in securing them to the development of her own country in other respects. This is doubtful. But whether it is doubtful or not the Globe carefully omits any allegation that Canada would be less prosperous with regard to cattle, horses, grain, flour, pork, bacon, meat, furniture, wool and woollen goods and the hundred and one things that really alone justify a reciprocity pact and are supposed to be benefitted by it. The Globe practically, therefore, admits that home development in all these points is not dependent in Canada's case on international trade with the United States. Surely this gives the whole case for reciprocity away and justifies the opposition of those who are in favor of developing our own resources by our own industry and by our own people in our own country. It may be true that in some cases proximity to the U.S. would inure to the greater profit of some producers but not if Canada is to regard own unity and nationhood as if paramount importance, and especially in this the case when the U. S. with whom the pact is to be made is so eminently the preponderating power that the slightest sign of division and discussion on our part will give her a leverage that will end our fiscal independence altogether. If every pact of Canada is to seek where it can for the best market then goodbye to Canada as a nation. She will become a congeries of hobo provinces and tramp trades. No self-respecting people in the whole world ever contemplated such national suicide nor will Canada especially when as the Globe is compelled to admit there is no necessity for it nor extra profit in it. Let us be true to ourselves. We are an energetic people with a country that contains all we want or can want or need. Let us be true to our destiny and develop it as a brotherly and united people glorying in our freedom and devoted to the interests of the great British Empire.

PETERBOROUGH HEALTH ASSOCIATION

Despite a rather slim attendance at the tuberculosis meeting called for the City Council chamber last evening at 8 o'clock, it was decided to deal with the report of the committee appointed at the first meeting to nominate the officers and transact other business.

W. H. Moore, K.C., acted as chairman, and the report of the committee was read by J. W. Bennett. It suggested as the name of the organization the Peterborough Health Association, and also that it be incorporated The meeting adopted both, and also the list of officers as follows—

Hon. President yet to be named.
President—W. H. Moore, K.C.
Vice-Presidents—Rev. Father McColl, Dr. Burnham and T. F. Matthews.
Secretary—Dr. G. Stewart Cameron.
Treasurer—E. C. Macleod.
Executive—Dr. McPherson, Medical Health Officer; Dr. McNulty, chairman of Board of Health; Dr. Neil, R. C. Braund, J. W. Bennett, E. A. Peck, Dr. Morrison, Mayor Morrow, two representatives of the Ministerial Association, and the other officers.

The executive was authorized to proceed with the matter of incorporation, and prepare a by-law of rules and regulations.

The object of the association is not only to fight tuberculosis, but to take an active part to promote the general health of the city.

The agreement of the association, amongst other things, calls for—

1. The employment of district nurses.
2. The adoption of such methods as will aid in the eradication of tuberculosis and other diseases.
3. To disseminate information relative to household and public sanitation for the preservation of health.

UNFORTUNATE PLIGHT OF NEWCOMER AND HIS FAMILY

Promising Prospects of Immigrant Darkened by Misfortune.

The circumstances surrounding the rather pitiable condition of James Davis, the young emigrant who, while on his way to Peterborough to take a position secured for him by the immigration officer, sustained a very severe fracture of his left arm, is well calculated to arouse sincere feelings of sympathy and regret among right-minded citizens.

As briefly related before, Davis, with his wife and children, missed train connections at Belleville, owing to wrong information supplied them by train officials at Montreal, and would have been in very undesirable circumstances there had it not been for the kindness and generosity of a former Peterborough boy, Mr. Mowry, who discovered them at the Belleville depot in a very forlorn state, with little money and no place of abode. Mr. Mowry while in conversation with Mr. Davis, learned of his condition, and asked him to accompany him to his home. On the way Davis, unfortunately, fell and received the painful and severe break to his arm, just above the wrist. His wife, who was still at the depot, knew nothing of his mishap for some time. Mr. Mowry started a subscription and raised sufficient money to send him to the Belleville hospital, where his arm was attended to, and later sent him on to Peterborough. Here, unfortunately, he missed connections with Mr. Howson, who had a position awaiting him.

Since then Davis, with his wife and family, have been staying at the Protestant Home. He came to Canada with the brightest and most hopeful expectations. In the old land he was employed by an invalid gentleman, on a large estate, and came to Canada highly recommended.

Mr. Finch Miller to-day received a letter from the former employer, which spoke in the most flattering terms of Davis, one sentence of which read "Davis is no fool."

Davis is now in an almost destitute condition, so far as monetary conditions are concerned. He will be unable to work for over a month yet, and he has already been under the care of a doctor for about four weeks. He feels his condition keenly, and is worrying over the condition which his unfortunate mishap has placed his wife and family in.

The story of how he came to be in the employ of his invalid benefactor in England; how he aided him once, and so earned the lasting regard of the employer who incurred all the expenses necessary in sending him over to this country to make a home for himself, make a most interesting story.

FOURTH SERMON SUNDAY NIGHT

Rev. W.C. Riddiford to Continue With Special Series

Owing to the unexpected coming of Professor Gilmour, of McMaster University, Toronto, to Park St. Baptist church next Sunday, in the interests of Christian education, Rev. W. C. Riddiford was compelled to postpone the fourth sermon in the series he has been giving every Sunday evening, and which have proven so profitable and interesting to all who have had the pleasure of hearing them.

Next Sunday Mr. Riddiford will deliver the fourth in the series, "Why Baptists do not Believe in the Pope and Priesthood of the Roman Catholic Church."

No offence will be given to any who attend, only free scriptural reasons given why Baptists cannot accept some of the teachings of Rome.

These messages are given solely in the interest of religious instruction for all who care to come. You are welcome.

PRESENTATION OF PRIZES TO THE VICTORIOUS CURLERS

Big Night for the Local Knights of the Stane at the Curling Rink

Sociability and the best of feeling reigned among the members of the Peterborough Curling Club last night, when a specially large number met at the curling rink and enjoyed a final game of the popular winter pastime.

Immediately after all present adjourned to the reception room at the rink, where oysters and other refreshments were served.

The enthusiasm, however, increased when the president of the club commenced the presentation of the various prizes won by the curlers during the successful season passed.

After opening the affair by the hearty singing of the National Anthem, R. M. Waddell called on Mayor Morrow to present to the winner of the Grand Challenge Cup that trophy.

Mr. G. H. Giroux, the skip of the rink which won this handsome prize, replied on behalf of his rink. "He was exceedingly delighted," he remarked, "to have with his rink had the pleasure of winning the Cup." He also showed the club a well mounted photo of the winners of the cup, which he presented to the Curling Club on their behalf.

J. A. Cameron, donator of the "Sailor Boy" prize, was unable to be present to make the presentation of that trophy to the winners of the schedule games, Mr. T. Brightman and his worthy rink, and his place was taken by Ross Cameron, who congratulated the skip and his rink on their well deserved win. Mr. Brightman replied in a witty manner and took occasion to thank the members of his rink for their regular attendance and faithful work.

Prize in primary games, presented to Skip Medd, by Rev. G. W. Henderson, replied to by Mr. Wainwright on behalf of Mr. Medd.

Prize for the winner of the consolation games, presented to Skip Fitzgerald by P. Lang; replied to by Mr Moore on behalf of Mr. Fitzgerald, who was absent.

Second prize in the Consolation won by Skip Stevenson and presented by P. Connal. Mr. Harstone replied.

Mr. Brightman moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. White, Mr. Gollop and Mr. Waddell for the gift of a splendid box of cigars by these gentlemen. The vote was seconded by Mr. Webb.

Mayor Morrow also moved a sincere vote of thanks to the energetic and efficient secretary and president of the club. These gentlemen, he said, were always active and seeking to strengthen the efficiency of it. The motion was ably seconded by Dr. Cameron in a few suitable remarks.

The evening concluded by the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

LINEUP OF THE ALL CANADIANS

The All Star Team With Which Heffernan is to Play

Toronto Globe.—The "All-Canadian All-star" hockey team to play in Cleveland to-night and Saturday is a thoroughly representative one. To-night they play the regular Cleveland team and on Saturday hook up with the Western University seven. The Canadian team will line-up as follows; Goal, McArthur, T.A.A.C.; point, Heffernan, Peterborough; cover, Davidson, Kingston; rover, McLean, T.R.C.; centre, McCreath, T.A.A.C.; right wing, Sargent, Montreal A.A.; left wing, Williams, Oshawa.

SPRING LINERS

Cy Young will receive his initial tryout of the season next Tuesday, when he will pitch five innings for the Red Colts against Clark Griffith's veterans.

Cincinnati is aflame with baseball enthusiasm. Demands for tickets on the opening day, when the Reds meet Pittsburg are so numerous that an additional grand stand seating 2,500 persons has been erecte.

THE RING

Just once in all his career did Ad Wolgast, champion lightweight of the world, back out of a fight arranged for him. And, in justice to the "Michigan Wildcat," it must be admitted that his refusal to go on with the mill was because his friends had played a joke on him. One of these friends, a New York man, tells the story like this.—

Ad was loafing about the metropolis not long ago. The fight game was slow at that particular time. Ad hadn't had a bout for several weeks.

Then came an acquaintance with a tale of a native of the countryside near Newburgh, up the Hudson, who was spreading consternation among his fellows by his boasts of prowess as a fighter. He had never been whipped and had put many an aspiring rural and suburban resident out for the count.

"Just come up to-morrow and put him away," pleaded the acquaintance. "He's altogether too chesty and should be taken down a peg."

Ad pondered and then agreed to what he thought would be a fine day's outing in the country. He made the mistake of not asking in what class the Newburgh man fought.

A party made the trip to Newburgh in an auto. On arrival there they learned that "Blank, the fighter" lived two miles north and a mile west, in a big red house. The directions were followed and the big red house came in sight.

Across the road, in an open field, a giant of a man was plowing. So powerfully built and well muscled was he, according to the story teller, that he was not using horses at all, like any of the other farmers in the countryside would have plowed. He was pushing the implement through the soil before him, using himself as motive power.

"Does Blank, a fighter, live near here?" queried Wolgast, drawing himself to his full 5 feet 4 3-4 inches, and gazing up at the giant.

"Right over there," grunted the big man, withdrawing the plow from the furrow and holding it out at arm's length as a pointer. Ad nearly fell over backward at this slight exhibition of strength.

"Do you know him well?" the Michigan fighter asked.

"Yes. Why?" from the plower.

"Why, I hear that he considers himself some fighter, and I'm Ad Wolgast, up here to have a mill with him."

The tall giant carefully set the plow down on the ground again, looked Ad over carefully, and began to roll up sleeves that left exposed an arm like the hind leg of an elephant.

But Ad and his party of laughing friends were hitting a Vanderbilt cup race clip down the road, the "Wildcat" nearly paralyzed with astonishment.

THE MARKS CO. POPULAR AS EVER

Big House Last Night—Special Potato Contest

The Tom. Marks Company is as popular as ever. The big audience at the Grand last night was evidence that the welcome which the public has for these entertainers of the stage has not waned in warmth. The play last night was a "Fool and His Money." It was well put on, being a farce of a very amusing nature. Between the acts, specialties were put on by the company, and by Ball & Simmons, child wonders. The audience was quite appreciative and applauded frequently.

To-night the Company will present "Wanted a Husband, or The Marriage of Kitty," and will give a matinee to-morrow at 10 cents.

The Saturday night presentation will be the great comedy, "Casey's Troubles."

The potato contest to-morrow afternoon will be of great interest. The first prize of one dollar goes to the boy or girl bringing the biggest murphy, and the collection will be given to the charitable homes of the city. Last year two barrels of potatoes were secured in this way, making it a very profitable thing for the charitable institutions.

ASSISTANT FOR LIBRARIAN; SALARY OF CARETAKER $400

Contract Awarded for Lighting of Public Library.

At a special meeting of the Peterborough Public Library Board, held on Wednesday, there were present Messrs. E. H. D. Hall (chairman), Mayor Morrow, T. F. Matthews, D. Walker, J. Corkery, H. Ritchie, A. Mowat, H. R. H. Kenner, Dr. McNulty.

A letter was read from the city clerk, with reference to the model of "Mercury charmed with his own invention."

Moved by Mr. Walker, seconded by Dr. McNulty, that the communication from the city clerk be received and that the matter be referred to the Property Committee.—Carried.

The chairman brought up the question of providing extra assistance to the librarian, and after some discussion it was moved by Mayor Morrow, seconded by Mr. Matthews, that Miss Rose be engaged to assist in the library for one month at $25.00.—Carried.

Mr. Matthews presented the report of the Property Committee, which was adopted on motion of Mr. Matthews, seconded by Mr. Ritchie.

Mr. Morrow presented the report of the Finance Committee, which on motion was adopted.

Mr. Walker, chairman of the Library Committee, reported verbally that books to the value of $97.60 had been received and placed on the shelves, and that books to the value of the value of $300 had been ordered.

The following was the report of the Property Committee—

Your Property Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows—

1. The application of the janitor for an increase of salary was considered, and we recommend that he be paid at the rate of $400 per year, beginning March 1, 1911.

2. We recommend that the contract for the removal of ashes, etc., be given to H. Edmonson, carter, at 40 cents per load, and that the janitor keep an account of the loads, and certify to the account.

3. We recommend that the chairman of the Board be authorized to sign a contract with the Otonabee Power Company for lighting the library for a term of five years at $132 per year net, payable monthly for the basement and main floor, and the upper floor to be supplied by meter.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The Finance Committee reported and recommended the paying of a number of accounts.

NEW PHASE OF MARRIAGE LAW

Marriage Between Two Catholics Annulled in Montreal

Montreal, March 24.—According to a judgment rendered this morning by Mr. Justice Laurendeau, Miss Marie Emma Clouston, who thought she was the legal wife of Mr. Eugene Hebert, is still unmarried, and the husband is still an unmarried man.

In 1908, Eugene Hebert and Marie Emma Clouston, who were both over twenty-one years of age, were married by Rev. W. Timberlake, a Protestant minister, and a marriage certificate was delivered.

Both parties to the marriage were Catholics, and after a while the husband discovered that he was not legally married, according to the regulations of his church, as endorsed by the law of the country. Therefore he entered a suit for annulment of marriage before the authorities of his church, and won. Immediately after he made application before the civil courts for confirmation of the canonical decision and judgment was rendered this morning. In his judgment Mr. Justice Laurendeau says that owing to the existing law, two Catholics can be married only by ministers of their own church, and before the parish priest of one of the two contracting parties. The marriage of the present parties, therefore, who were both known as Catholics when their supposed marriage took place, was illegal, and, therefore, he confirmed the religious annulment of the marriage.

DEMONSTRATION AT COBOURG

Ten Thousand Orangemen Expected for Celebration on July 12th

Cobourg Sentinel-Star;—From an issue of the Cobourg Star of 1861, we notice that over 10,000 Orangemen attended a big demonstration held here on July 12th of that year. From present appearances over that number will attend the demonstration here on July 12th this year—fifty years after. Among the bands that will be here are the Sylvester Band of Lindsay, 57th Regimental Band of Peterborough, Oshawa, Port Perry, Port Hope, Welcome, Belleville, Millbrook and several others, besides numerous fife and drum bands. It is altogether likely that prizes will be given at Victoria Park and the line of march will be from the town hall down King street to D'Arcy street, to University avenue, along University avenue to William street, down William to King and along King street to the park. The local committees are working hard to make it the most successful ever held in the district.

Y.W.C.A. NOTES

We regret to announce that a telegram was received this morning from Miss A. C. Macdonald stating that owing to physical exhaustion she has been obliged to cancel all engagements. We trust that later we may be able to again announce Miss Macdonald's coming. In the meantime the Sunday afternoon and Tuesday meetings are cancelled.

Next week Friday we are to enjoy a stereopticon lecture on "Labrador." We trust a large number will hear Dr. Marsh.

GOTHAM POLICE ARE SLEEPING

Magistrate Charges That Administration of Affairs is Worse

New York, March 22.—In a statement to the public, which he issued tonight, Magistrate Joseph E. Corrigan holds Mayor Gaynor responsible for a disorganized condition of the police force and responsible for the prevalence of vice and crime in this city. The magistrate said that he had written the statement after much thought and deliberation.

"The prevention and detection of crime is in the hands of the police," says the statement, "and Gaynor rules the force. He has curtailed the power of the commissioner, attempting to exercise it himself, and by so doing he has demoralized the force and made easy the way of the transgressor.

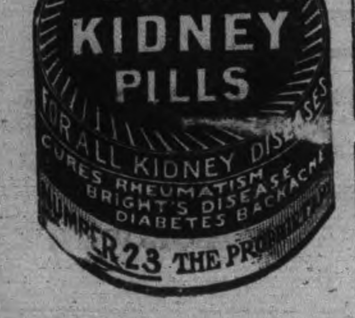
"For eight years I have been directly concerned with the administration of criminal law in this city. I have made a long and careful investigation and here is what I have found;

"The town is by far more open than it was under Devery; there is not the slightest attempt made to enforce the excise laws; there has never been a time when the more serious offences connected with the social evil flourished with such impunity; gambling houses and pool rooms have increased and now run without molestation, save for a few spectacular raids and the visit of the collector; graft is as rampant and as profitable as it ever was.

"The town is infested with sturdy beggars and panhandlers, who walk the streets almost unmolested, and take by force, when they can, what is denied to their pleadings; criminals from all over the country have come to New York in droves and ply their vocations here in safety; the more serious crimes, such as murders, shootings, stabbings, gang feuds, highway robberies, burglaries, assaults, and larcenies from the person, grow in number, undetected and unpunished."

He avers that "the police force is demoralized and terrified," and that any one may prove this by asking any policeman.

"We have had fifteen months of government by epistle," he concludes, and this is the result. The remedy is obvious, simple and drastic. It lies in the hands of the citizens."



REFERENCE TO CANON DAVIDSON

His Work at St. Cyprians During Mission Appreciated

The last number of St. Cyprian's Parochial Magazine, Toronto, in referring to the Parochial Mission, says:—

"The greatest appreciation of all is due, and is deeply felt, of Canon Davidson's labors amongst us in the recent mission. Nothing could be plainer than the fact that the right man was found in him for the work here. His intense earnestness and energy, which he so freely poured into the work, without regard to himself, combined with his keen perception of the needs of the case, made under God the mission a real success amongst us. It has awakened a new interest in St. Cyprian's in the locality; it has brought home to us all the truth with new force; it has infused a warmth of feeling amongst us which was sorely needed, and it has given us a new vision of what the work of a Christian congregation should be.

For all this, and for the fact that Canon Davidson freely gave us ten days of precious time out of his own absorbing work in Peterborough, we express our most grateful appreciation."

In the same number is announced that "the simple, attractive evangelistic services of the recent mission will be carried on every Wednesday evening throughout Lent," in an effort to deepen and extend the interest evidently aroused. The first of these was attended by a large congregation.

GERMAN FEMALES IN THE MAJORITY

Census Returns Gives the Kaiser 64,903,423 Subjects

Berlin, March 24. The official figures of Germany's quinquennial census, taken on December 1, 1910, are now available. The kaiser numbers 644,903,423 subjects, an increase of 4,261,934 since 1905. The percentage of growth amounts to 7.03.

Females continue to predominate in Germany, there being, roundly, about 850,000 more of them than males.

[illegible] Lubeck, Bremen, and Hamburg registered the greatest increases in population among the federal units of the empire with growths, respectively, of 10, 13, and 16 per cent.

Prussia increased 7 1-2 and Saxony and Baden 6 1-2 per cent. The other kingdoms and grand duchies showed lower rates of growth.

THE FARMER'S BANK AFFAIR

Ottawa, March 21.—Two entire days out of the past week were devoted to the affairs of the defunct Farmers' Bank. This institution operated only in the Province of Ontario, but its history is of interest to all the people of Canada. It was authorized to do business by the Treasury Board of Canada on November 30th, 1896. It was finally closed in November, 1910. Although it actually operated less than four years, the bank managed to loot confiding people to the extent of $2,000,000. The shareholders—nearly all of them innocent and deceived—will lose not only the money they paid for stock but will be called upon to pay an assessment of 100 per cent. Even this contribution will not greatly aid the depositors, who bid fair to lose all their savings.

The Bank Act is designated to promote safe and conservative banking throughout the Dominion. The banks are given many privileges and franchises of great value, and the Bankers' Association has many powers, as a rule only confided to officials of the Government. The chartered banks are indeed given a monopoly in this country. People generally are aware of this as a matter of fact, but few realize how true it is as a matter of law. The matter was brought to the attention of the House in the debate on the Farmers' Bank by Mr. Donnelly (S. Bruce), who quoted Section 158 of the Bank Act, which reads as follows—

"Every person assuming or using the title of bank, banking company, banking house, banking association, or banking institution, without being authorized so to do by this Act or some other Act in force in that behalf is guilty of an offence against this Act."

It is therefore evident that the Government should carefully supervise the banks to see that they are properly conducted, and that the savings of the people are not dissipated. Certainly great care should be taken in the matter of licensing a new bank. The Bank Act itself attempts to provide a number of safe-guards—

First—A bank cannot do business until it receives a certificate from the Treasury Board, which board is to consist of the Finance Minister and five other Ministers of the Crown.

Second—The Treasury Board is not permitted to issue such certificate unless and until it is satisfied by sworn evidence that $500,000 of stock has been subscribed and $250,000 has been paid in on account of the same by the subscribers to the stock.

That the Farmers' Bank was granted a certificate improvidently is not denied. It is now admitted that $500,000 of stock had not been subscribed, and that $250,000 had not been paid in by the shareholders. Some $211,000 had been collected on stock subscriptions by the provisional directors, but $41,000 of this had been appropriated to various purposes, so that only $170,000 remained. In order to get the additional $80,000 to make up for the $250,000 required the provincial directors discounted notes given to them for stock. All these facts are now admitted by all, and it is likewise admitted that the discounting of the notes and the raising of the $80,000 thereby was illegal and improper. The only excuse offered by the Government is that Hon. Mr. Fielding, Minister of Finance, was deceived and hood-winked by Walter R. Travers, general manager of the Farmers' Bank, now a convict in the Kingston Penitentiary.

Mr. Fielding is one of those fortunate men who do not talk much, and therefore can get along for years without being found out. The Liberal newspapers have cultivated an impression that he is a remarkable financier and the most honest man on the face of the earth. The recent revelations in respect to the Farmers' Bank compell his friends to choose between two painful alternatives, viz., either Mr. Fielding is not strong enough mentally for his position, or some extraneous and improper influences were brought to bear on him when he granted a certificate to the Farmers' Bank.

It appears that in 1905 the charter was granted to the Farmers' Bank of Canada. This charter was renewed in 1906. Beattie Nesbitt, at that time a popular politician, but not seriously considered as a business man, and Walter R. Travers, who was out of employment and reduced in circumstances, were busy in getting farmers to subscribe to the stock of the new bank. In order to sell the stock and keep themselves floated they used up in various ways some $40,000 thus realized, and in November, 1906, stood in a perilous position. They had on hand $170,000 in cash, but required $80,000 more in order to make the deposit with the Receiver-General required by law. They begun illegally discounting the notes of subscribers to stock, and thus got entangled in several law-suits. In these law-suits the dissatisfied stockholders charged them with frauds of various kinds, including the discounting of notes. They managed in some way to return the money to these dissatisfied stockholders and to have the suits withdrawn, but their position was made worse. Mr. Leighton McCarthy, then a Liberal member of Parliament, wrote to Mr. Fielding, Minister of Finance, and told him plainly what these men were doing, and cautioned him against issuing the certificate for the bank to do business. Nesbitt and Travers were at the end of their resources, and could never have collected $80,000 more in cash from stockholders. Indeed they had to have the certificate at once or throw up their hands and submit to civil and criminal prosecutions. To make the situation more desperate they were exposed in various ways: By law-suits; by publications in the newspapers; by the letter of Mr. McCarthy to the Finance Minister, and by verbal warnings given to the Minister by Mr. David Henderson, M.P., Mr. E. B. Osler, M.P., and other gentlemen of high standing in the public life of Canada.

By hypnotic or other influences Travers induced Mr. Fielding to take his unsupported statement against the tremendous mass of evidence and to issue the certificates which enabled the Farmers' Bank to start on its career of ruin. Travers had hardly gotten out of town when a positive statement from the Bankers' Association reached Mr. Fielding to the effect that a part of the $250,000 had been borrowed from a Trust Company by discounting notes. Finance Minister, however, made no effort to recall the certificate or to stop payment upon the cheque for $243,000, which, as Registrar-General, he had just issued to Travers. It is also admitted that before the bank had been long in operation the Finance Department knew of gross irregularities in its conduct and management. Nothing was done to stop these, and all the circumstances in this case point to such incompetence on the part of Mr. Fielding as to make his resignation a necessity in the public interests.

Higher Criticism

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Dr. Torrey addressing a meeting of ministerial brethren at Sudney regarding his position on the Higher Criticism said; The three great leaders of the Higher Criticism were infidels, and I don't care to get my knowledge of theology from such a source. Brethren, in the first place there is nothing new in these alleged discoveries. In spite of all their talk about the "new views" there is scarcely anything in their theories that is not contained in Tom Paine's scurrilous "Age of Reason." Indeed Professor Osgood, who is a Hebrew scholar, stood on the floor of the Baptist congress at Detroit, Michigan, to speak on Higher Criticism. Before discussing the question, he said; "I would like to read what I conceive to be the few positions that are taken up by the destructive critics." He went to work and read off these positions one after the other. "Now gentlemen," he said, to the supporters of the Higher Criticism. Is that a fair statement of the position? "Yes," they said, "Well gentlemen," he replied, "I have been reading verbatim from Tom Paine's Age of Reason." The above is wholesome reading for your many readers, that is why I pass it on.

Yours,
JOHN CARLISLE.

AN ATTRACTIVE BAIT TO GET CANADA UNDER THEIR THUMB

Why the United States Wants Reciprocity — A Strong Warning From an Americanised Cananadian in New England

A letter comes from a Canadian, who, after achieving considerable distinction in Canada, went to New England a few years ago, where he has been as successful as he was in this own country.

While in Canada he was an active and aggressive Liberal, and there is no reason to think that he experienced any change of view until Mr. Fielding announced the reciprocity agreement with Washington. He now writes:

"What in the world are Canadians thinking about in effecting terms of reciprocity with this country? It is certain to work disastrously for Canada. It makes my blood boil to hear the things said about it here. 'Annex Canada' spells what is in the minds of these people. Of course that is in any event unlikely, perhaps impossible but, without a doubt trouble is sure to eventuate—probably, with our changing Government—generally bad war, sooner or later.

"Does Canada want the curse of monopolies such as we have here? They now seek new fields and larger territory. They have 'cornered' everything in sight here. Prices will not be lower, neither here nor in Canada.

WILL EXACT HIGHER PRICES

"In a little while Canadians will have the cheerful duty of paying half as much again as they are now paying for their products. Who are back to this move? The trusts. Why? Because of those wholesome laws enacted in recent years concerning the exportation of raw products.

"The exploitation of Canadian trade by these trusts is the end sought Canada's wisdom is to keep out the trusts. The old war cry, 'What we have we hold,' should resound from Sydney to Victoria before it is too late before Canada's self-respect is lost, her heritage bartered

"I suppose Fielding is supporting the old Nova Scotia theory that their trade naturally is with the United States. This view is so sectional that it is likely to destroy the integrity of Confederation. You do well to fight the movement. If it passes, it will mean the downfall of the Laurier Administration, unless you are now in the same condition as we are and the money interests control. It seems to me to be a most serious situation. The old order in Canada is at an end, and the new order of greed dominates and controls issues. Where are your national leaders? You have none. Patriotism has ceased to be a virtue. The 'tie that binds' is for convenience only—for gain and advancement. Can you wonder that our astute politicians, knowing the power of such influences, dare to assert, 'Make the bait attractive enough and Canada will bite at annexation'? Without a doubt, this will be the ultimate result. For you Canadians it is now or never Resist at once.

When maladies have grown inveterate.'"

OBITUARY

Death of Mrs. Edgecumbe

In the death last evening about nine o'clock of Ellen Lewis, wife of James Edgecumbe, of 687 Water street, this city lost a resident who was widely known and held in high esteem by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. The deceased was a daughter of the late David Lewis, of Belfast, Ireland, where she was born in 1874, When she was about two years old the father passed away and Mrs. Lewis and family came to Canada, residing in the eastern Provinces for a number of years.

After moving to Streetsville, Ont., the mother married again and the family went with her to a new home in Simcoe County, near Barrie. The late Mrs. Edgecumbe and her sister afterwards went to Streetsville to weave in the large woollen mills at that place and when the mills closed she went to Cobourg and met her now bereaved husband, whom she married on December 24th, 1874. The minister who performed the ceremony here was Rev. Mr. Hooper, pastor of the old Bible Denominational church, which was situated where now stands the Murray street Baptist church.

Moving with her husband to Cobourg they resided there about thirteen years and then returned to Peterborough.

Mrs. Edgcumbe, while of a quiet disposition, was always ready with benevolence or sympathy and won many friends.

She was a strong believer in the Methodist doctrine and was a member of the George street Methodist church in which she always evidenced a deep interest.

Those left to mourn her loss are her husband, two daughters, Mrs. James Dawson, Nanton, Alberta, and Miss Ethel Ellen, residing at home; four sisters Mrs. Harry Cole, Simcoe County; Mrs Wm. Long, Peterborough; Mrs. Jane Gallon, Sedgwick, Alberta; and Mrs. Wm. Elliott, Barrie, Ont., also three brothers, James, of Barrie; John, of Simcoe County, and Daniel of this city.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, 687 Water street, at three o'clock Monday afternoon proceeding to Little Lake cemetery for interment, Rev. Isaac Couch will officiate.

TARIFF FIGHT IN THE NEW CONGRESS WILL BE BITTER

Democrats Are Determined to do More Than Pass Reciprocity—The Outlook is Uncertain

New York, March 25.—The Washington correspondent of The Tribune writes: Plans for arranging for a "working agreement," acceptable to both the Senate and the House, by which a definite program may be made out for the forthcoming session of Congress, have been brought to a halt, for the present at least, by the uncompromising attitude of the House Democrats, who are apparently averse to any understanding which will put a check on their legislative activities. One suggestion, attributed to Senator Crane, which coincides substantially with the ideas of President Taft, has been flatly rejected by them. This was to act on the reciprocity agreement and either leave tariff revision until the regular session beginning next December, or take up only such schedules as the tariff board may have reported on. There is now little hope for anything like an understanding between the two Houses. The Democratic representatives, to all appearances, have resolved to make campaign material, now that they have the opportunity, without regard to the fate in the Senate of such measures as they may pass.

The majority membership of the ways and means committee may go as far as it likes in revising the tariff, but that does not mean that the Senate is going to do likewise. Democratic Senators admit that it is impossible to predict what will happen when the House measures are sent over to them. They, too, have not been consulted by their party colleagues on the ways and means committee, and there is no one among them who is able at the present time to give assurance of what action may be taken. Not the least of the Democrats who have not been consulted is Champ Clark, the Speaker designate, who arrived yesterday prepared to remain until the close of the session. While the Democrats have been selecting their membership for the new committees he has been out in Missouri, and he admits that he has had only three letters in three weeks and does not know what has been happening or what is likely to happen. He is inclined to the belief that a working agreement would be a good thing provided one could be found that would work.

Bold Diamond Robber.

Chicago, March 25.—More than $2,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry was stolen in a bold robbery in the loop district early yesterday. A thief with the use of a glass cutter and a piece of bent wire "fished" thirteen diamond rings and other valuables out of the show window of Le Bolt & Co., jewelers, in the Palmer House, after he had cut a section out of the glass.

AGAIN IN TROUBLE

HARRY K. THAW.

Matteawan, N.Y., March 24.—Harry K. Thaw was to-day transferred from his old ward in Matteawan State Hospital to a ward where his associates will be imbeciles, paresis victims, and men whose mentality is of a low order.

His transfer has greatly displeased his mother. It is charged that Thaw was transferred because of his recent exposures regarding the care of patients in Matteawan.

RECIPROCITY ENDORSED

(Toronto Saturday Night.)

The considerable section of the community which favors the reciprocity pact and which has no doubt been distressed by the antagonism which the Taft-Fielding treaty has aroused in many quarters, has reason to rejoice over an incident which has escaped the attention of Eastern newspapers. From a Calgary source one learns that the inmates of Ponoka Insane Asylum, near Strathcona, Alberta, have in conclave assembled passed a resolution in favor of the treaty. Surely this will cheer the drooping spirits of the reciprocity advocates. It gives the lie to the assertion that Shakespeare makes through the lips of Rosalind: "The poet, the lunatic and the lover are all compact and of one mind." Leaving the lovers out of the matter, it would appear that the poets and lunatics are divided on this question. As has been pointed out in these columns in the past, the poets, almost to a man, are against the pact, and have not hesitated to indulge in a generous expenditure of ink and midnight oil to prove it. Now it would appear that the lunatics are equally emphatic in favor of reciprocity! Such divisions appear to be inevitable in times of great national excitement.

PASSENGERS HAD A NARROW ESCAPE FROM WATERY GRAVE

Details of the Wreck of the Steamer Bruce—Hit Rock When Going Full Speed—Three Drown.

Halifax, March 25.—The Reid Newfoundland steamer Bruce, which for fourteen years had been running between North Sydney and Port au Basque, Newfoundland, was lost yesterday morning at Point Nova, eight miles from Louisburg. She had 128 passengers and a crew of twenty-seven. Two of the passengers were drowned, and the steamer is a total loss.

The drowned are Thomas Shea, aged 26, a native of Bay of Islands, one of the forty fishermen who were on board bound for Vancouver. The other man was James Pike of Carbonear, Newfoundland. Shea was assisting in the launching of the boats, and as the beat was being shoved over the side he lost his balance and fell into the sea, which was so heavy that it was impossible to do anything to save him. Pike was drowned about fifteen minutes later. As he was about to step into the boat a heavy sea carried him overboard, and he was not seen again.

The Bruce left Port au Basque at 11 o'clock Thursday morning, carrying a passenger list of 128, which, including the crew, would make the number on board about 155. She encountered a very great quantity of heavy drift ice after leaving and had great difficulty in making headway until about noon, when the ice cleared and she made good time.

The steamer in making for Louisburg took the inside course at Scatterie, which was unusual and arrived off Port Nova, which is eight miles from Louisburg, during the night. When she struck the rock it was about four o'clock in the morning and about dawn, Captain Drake was on the bridge, and had but a few hours before relieved First Officer Taylor. The passengers were all asleep and had barely time to get to the deck with what clothes they could throw on in the hurry, and rush out on deck. Even as they got out of their berths the water was coming into the vessel and it was up to their ankles while they were trying to get to the deck.

The steamer was going at almost full speed when she struck the rock, which is probably about one mile and a half from the shore. Her speed carried her forward to within two hundred yards of the shore, upon which the breakers could be seen rising ten or fifteen feet high.

The scene on the deck for some minutes after the steamer struck was a most thrilling one, according to the story told by one of the survivors who arrived here last evening. There were about twelve passengers, several of whom had babies in arms. The cries of the women and children, mingled with the prayers and hoarse cries of some of the male passengers, rendered the first moments of the wreck the most trying ever passed for those aboard.

The boats were at once launched, and despite that they were leaking badly, the passengers were rowed ashore in safety, the women and children being taken first and then the men. The captain and first officer remained on the steamer, which was settling rapidly. The boats were in a very unseaworthy condition, according to one of the passengers, and they had to continuously bail. It took about half an hour to reach the shore from the wrecked steamer, owing to a long detour which had to be made to clear the rocks. It was 8 o'clock before the last boatload was brought to the shore.

Many of the passengers suffered greatly from the cold after reaching the deck and getting ashore, one of whom, A. A. Crawford of Boston, a well-known lumber merchant, had his feet frozen, while others suffered similarly.

After getting ashore, where there were only a few fishing huts to accommodate them, a huge fire was made, which served to help the half-perished survivors. About half an hour later, a large number of teams arrived and those who wished to drive to Louisburg, did so. The others were taken off by the Dominion Coal Co.'s steamer Louisburg and the tug D. H. Thomas.

REPUDIATED

Clinton, Ont., March 24.—John Middleton, in a letter to the press, declares that an interview credited to him in the Toronto Globe, favoring reciprocity, is entirely without foundation. He declares no person interviewed him, and that he is opposed to the agreement.

WAR TALK IS NOW HEARD

Russia and China May be the Scrappers.

London Fears the Outbreak of Hostilities.

London, March 25.—Private cables received by London business houses from representatives in the Far East yesterday were disquieting. They assert that it is expected that Russia will soon declare war against China.

The rate at Lloyd's to cover risks on the outbreak of hostilities within four weeks jumped yesterday afternoon from five to ten guineas per cent.

St. Petersburg, March 25.—Russia is on the point of addressing to China an ultimatum fixing a date for entire satisfaction of her demands.

The Chinese replies to Russia's successive notes dealing with the demands of Russia in Mongolia have been described by the Chinese Government as conciliatory, but the text in each case has been unsatisfactory to Russia, because it has evaded the points at issue.

The last Chinese note received by the Russian Government consents to the establishment of a consul at Kobdo, whereas Russia actually demanded its location at Sharasumo, to which place the Chinese transferred the administrative seat of the district. The Chinese reply also attempts to limit Russia's rights to trade to articles of foreign origin, whereas the treaty specifies that Russia's right in this respect extends to merchandise of any origin and coming from any country.

This reply in effect also denies the right of the Russians to trade in tea, which is one of Russia's most important contentions. It also proposes to place Russian tradesmen on equal conditions with the natives. This would subject Russians to taxes and imposts not contemplated by the treaty.

The Novoe Vremya in a leading article which betrayed their irritation of the Government, accuses the Chinese of mockery and demands that an ultimatum with a fixed term for its satisfaction be sent to China.

Stolypin Will Stay.

St. Petersburg, March 25.—Premier Stolypin, who last Monday sent in his resignation, has agreed to remain in office and the Cabinet crisis therefore is at an end.

An imperial decree issued yesterday suspends M. Trepoff and M. Dernovo, members of the Council of Empire, from all sittings of the council until January, 1912. M. Stolypin had insisted on the removal of these reactionary opponents of his policy as the price for his retaining office, and it is understood that it was the negotiations of this point that led to a prolongation of the Cabinet crisis.

A Quadruple Entente?

Washington, March 25—Negotiations for the quadruple entente, to include the United States, England, Japan and France, to put an end to war between nations, has progressed so far that the agreement has already been put into written form. It was learned yesterday that a draft of the proposed abolition of war treaty is already in the hands of the British Foreign Office and Baron Uchida, the Japanese ambassador, while Ambassador Robert Bacon is taking a copy to France. The original draft remains in the keeping of President Taft.

SESSION NOW ONLY HISTORY

Prorogation of the Ontario House Yesterday.

Toronto, March 25.—Prorogation proved picturesque at the Parliament Buildings yesterday afternoon. Sunshine sparkled on the military uniforms and favored the attendance of the fair sex. The Speaker's gallery was almost as thronged by lady visitors as on suffrage bill day, and the other galleries were well occupied by spectators.

On the floor of the chamber a number of ladies prominent in the social life of the province were in the seats belonging to the Cabinet Ministers, who gracefully sat in the second row.

The House met at 2.30. After prayers Hon. J. J. Foy broke the usual monotony by directing the attention of the Lieutenant-Governor by securing the adoption of an amendment to the Life Insurance Act, to make it clear that the payment of the value of a policy to the executors of an estate absolved the insurance company from claims from the heirs. This renders it unnecessary in the future for such money to be paid into court by insurance companies.

The booming of the first gun of a vice-regal salute of fifteen at three o'clock announced the arrival of his honor. This was the signal for the sergeant-at-arms to remove the mace and to stand at attention at the right of the throne, holding the mace upright upon the floor.

GRAHAM ON THE RECIPROCITY BILL

Meeting at Stratford to Offset Opposition.

Stratford, March 25.—Eight hundred people listened attentively, but with mild enthusiasm, to addresses in favor of reciprocity here last night. The speakers were Hon. G. P. Graham, F. L. Fowke, M.P., Oshawa; Dr. J. P. Rankin, M.P. for North Perth, declared himself definitely as in favor of reciprocity as a proposition which will benefit the farmer, and through his prosperity all classes in Canada.

F. Wellington Hay of Listowel spoke very briefly along similar lines, urging that it was a national and not a political issue.

Mr. Fowke contended that Canada's prosperity has dated from the introduction of the Liberal finance policy of 1897. He challenged anyone to show one single instance in which any industry or class in Canada would be injured by the reciprocity pact, and declared that the opposition came only from a few monopolists in the big cities, who are using the Conservative party as its attorneys at Ottawa.

Hon. Geo. P. Graham said the idea of the past was "trade and get rich, just a little business matter between two countries, with benefits to both. To my Conservative friends I would say this—the present agreement is practically what Sir John A. Macdonald proposed in his national policy. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he would never ask Washington for better trade relations, and he never has. Washington has asked him."

Mr. Graham, speaking of the effect on transportation, said: "The railways of Canada, deep down in their hearts, are not afraid of the pact." He instanced the record price of Canadian Pacific Railway stock, and the immense sums to be spent on railways in the west this year.

Increased population, he urged, must mean a large demand for manufactures, and hence the manufacturers will be benefited by reciprocity. Quality counts, and will preserve the identity and high price of Canadian cheese and bacon in the American market. He decried the favored nations objection and the loyalty cry as ridiculous and ungrounded, as well as cowardly. Canada must not be content to "let well enough alone."

COST OF WATCH AND EXECUTION

At the County Jail in Henderson Case Was $211,45

The cost of the death watch which was kept over Robert Henderson, and his execution at the county jail yard is shown in the annual statement of expenditure of the county council for the year 1910, to have been $211.45. The day watch cost $57.75, and the night watch $126.00. The balance of $27.70 was the expenses of the execution, which amount does not include the fee for the hangman, which is paid by the government.

Captain Dead: Ship Lost.

Honolulu, March 25.—With her captain dead and mourned by his widow in the cabin, a scanty supply of food on board, and without a correct reckoning of her position, the American barkentine James Johnson was sighted flying signals of distress 100 miles off this port by the steamer Persia, which arrived yesterday from Hong Kong.

A boat from the Persia was sent to board the almost helpless vessel, the officers of which reported that Captain Carl Jensen died of heart failure on Jan. 13, that the ship's bearings had been lost, and that the stock of provisions was almost exhausted.

After the barkentine's larder had been replenished by the Persia, and her first mate informed of the latitude, the acting commander decided to proceed to Honolulu unaided.

The James Johnson has on board a cargo of coal from Newcastle, N.S.W., consigned to San Francisco. She is owned by the Charles Nelson Co. of that city, and carried a crew of about 25 men.

STREET CARS NOT MOVING IN ITALY

Jubilee Celebration Throughout Kingdom Will be Affected.

Special to the Review.

Rome, Italy, March 25.—The success of the big jubilee which opens on Monday is threatened as the result of a strike of the street car men, which extends all over the Kingdom. Great preparations have been made for the occasion. The strike has been anticipated and the men insist on their claims being granted.

Will Keep It Dark.

Montreal, March 25.—In order to encourage municipalities throughout the province to report cases of smallpox within their confines, the Board of Health has agreed that in future no information will be given to the public of new victims.

Dr. Lachapelle, president of the Board, yesterday said that it had been found difficult to get municipalities to inform the authorities of new cases largely through dread of unfavorable publicity.

He added that the disease is of epidemic proportions on the north shore of the St Lawrence, below the Saguenay, and on the south side below Rimouski. He said, however, that while there are cases in the vicinity of Montreal, there is no cause for alarm, particularly where the precaution of vaccination has been taken.

At Douai, France, M. Breget, in a monoplane, carried a weight of 1,262 pounds at a speed of 62 miles an hour and at a height of about 65 feet.

Big Lumber Fire.

Monroe, Ia., March 25.—Fire originating in the saw filers' room Thursday night destroyed the large saw mills and plant of the Tremont Lumber Co. at Eros. Several hundred cars of lumber, loaded and in dry kilns, were burned. The loss is $500,000, partly covered by insurance.

New Viscount's Title.

London, March 25.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—War Secretary Haldane in becoming a peer takes the title of Viscount Haldane of Croan, his Scottish estate.

DEMOCRATS PROMISE TO ADD OTHER TARIFF LEGISLATION

Coming Congress Will Have Ticklish Job—Prophets at Sea

Washington, March 25.—Champ Clark says: "During all my sixteen years' experience in Congress I never knew a time when it was so hard to guess what was going to happen as it is now to guess what the Sixty-Second Congress will do in the extra session which President Taft has called for April 4.

"It is a peculiar situation. With a Democratic majority of sixty-seven in the House, a Senate that is Republican only by eight, and devilish near Democratic when you consider the fifteen or twenty insurgents, and with a Republican President who has said half a dozen times that part of the tariff at least should be reduced, It seems pretty well understood that the Democrats will pass other tariff legislation than the Canadian reciprocity bill and that they will adopt the schedule by schedule plan."

IT WAS LOOTED

New York, March 25.—Evidence showing that the Carnegie Trust Company was looted of $200,000 through notes made out in the names of dead men and fictitious persons is to be presented to the grand jury today. Additional indictments will likely follow.

WORLD WIDE WIRES RECEIVED

Air Messages From Three Nations Received.

Special to The Review.

San Francisco, March 25.—All wireless records were broken last night, when an apparatus carried high in the air by kites, caught messages from England, Cuba, Panama and Japan.

DIAZ CABINET HAS RESIGNED

President Has Deferred Action in the New Move.

Mexico City, March 25.—The Diaz Cabinet resigned in a body at a special meeting of that Board yesterday. The President deferred action upon the resignations.

The reason given for the action in an official announcement is the belief that it will contribute towards the reestablishment of peace and facilitate the reforms which are in contemplation.

Enrique C. Creel, Minister of Foreign Relations, presented the resignations on behalf of all the Ministers. Gen. Diaz thanked the retiring members for their efficient and patriotic co-operation in the past, and announced that he would postpone his acceptance or rejection until later.

The resignations included that of Ramon Corral as Minister of the Department of Gobernacion, corresponding to the Department of the Interior in the United States, but not as vice-president.

THIRTY-NINE LIVES LOST BY CAPSIZING OF STEAMER

Was Driven on the Rocks During Storm—Had Party of Laborers Aboard.

Special to the Review.

Vancouver, B.C., March 25.—Thirty-nine lives were lost in the wreck of the steamer Sechelt, which occurred off Beacher Head near Victoria, in one of the fiercest storms on record. The little steamer after putting up a gallant fight against the terrific winds and mountainous waves, was driven on the rocks, where she was finally capsized and the greater part of her human freight sent to a watery grave. Besides her crew of four, the steamer was carrying a party of thirty-five laborers, who were bound for the construction camp of the Canadian Northern Railway at Peddlar Bay.

Six Burned to Death.

Lille, France, March 25.—Six persons were burned to death yesterday in a fire which destroyed a motion picture theatre. There were many women among the spectators. Panic followed the outbreak of fire and in the rush for exist many were knocked down and trampled.

Fatally Injured.

Sault Ste. Marie, March 25.—H. Milton, 40 years of age, of North Bay, and employed at the C.P.R. round house, was fatally injured yesterday morning at 9.15 and taken to the general hospital, where he will die. Milton was walking up the track to the round house and was struck by the transfer engine. His leg was severed and he sustained other injuries of a serious nature. Milton has a family at North Bay.

BOATS GO DOWN IN ENGLISH CHANNEL

Collision Caused Accident—Crew and Passengers Saved.

Special to The Review.

London, March 25.—The British steamer Irisbrook, and a French vessel went to the bottom as the result of a collision in the English Channel. The crews and passengers on both were saved.

More Local Option.

Kingston, March 25.—At a temperance convention here it was decided to institute a campaign for local option in Kingston and the three townships in Frontenac, which are yet under liquor license law. The vote will be taken at the municipal elections in 1912.

LIVER LAZINESS

Those Who Lack Energy and are Unsuccessful Should Read This Closely.

"I am only thirty years old, yet for almost two years I have felt more like seventy-five. I have found it difficult to sleep at night and in the morning feel so depressed and heavy that effort was difficult. My hands were always clammy and perspiration on slight effort would break out all over me. It was not unnatural that I should begin to brood over the chance that I should soon be unfit to do my work, and this dread made my sleepless nights perfect misery. After repeated trials of medicine and mixtures Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me the first gleam of hope. From the very first I could see they were different in action from other pills. They didn't gripe and acted as naturally as if nature and not the pills were cleansing my clogged up system. My spirits rose, I felt much better, the sluggish action of the system gave way to normal activity. Dizziness and headaches ceased, appetite, good color, and ambition to work returned and have remained. I am like a new man and I thank Dr. Hamilton's Pills for it all."

This was the experience of J. E. Parkhurst, a well-known grocery dealer in Jefferson. Follow his advice, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills for your stomach, kidneys, and liver, and you'll enjoy long life and robust good health. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, in yellow boxes, 25c per box, from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

REAL HUMOR

The Toronto Globe's editorial efforts to be sprightly and brightly humorous, put one in mind of that old story of Hon. Edward Blake. Hon. Edward hadn't the slightest sense of humor, wouldn't feel a red-hot pun if it were rolled down his back. But he greatly desired to be a little funny, and he asked a wit how to do it. The wit said:

"Now, Mr. Blake, supposing it is going to snow in a day or two. When a friend comes along and says something about it, you just reply, 'Oh, it snow matter.'"

Hon. Edward laughed heartily. That was good. When, a couple of days later, it snowed, a friend remarked about it to Mr. Blake. Here, then, was his chance, thought Mr. Blake. He would do as his friend advised, and get a reputation for wit. "Oh," replied he joyously, "it's quite immaterial, quite immaterial."

BI-LINGUAL SCHOOLS

Bi-Lingual Schools—Editorial

The declaration of Sir James Whitney on the subject of bi-lingual schools will do much to relieve apprehension on the part of the public mind in Ontario, and it again demonstrates that Sir James Whitney has the courage and force behind him to resolutely tackle vexatious matters, in so far as the statutes of the province will provide.

In dealing in the Legislature with the resolution submitted by Howard Ferguson, M.L.A. for Grenville, on the subject of the dual language system in the Ontario public schools, Sir James was very explicit in declaring that the statutes do not provide for bi-lingualism. He was not prepared to admit that in some cases the use of another language might not facilitate instruction, where the children do not possess the advantage of a knowledge of English, and he was not prepared to admit that no language but the English should in every case be the only language of communication. He held that it was with a the province of the Department of Education to deal with such special cases, and he promised definitely that if the report now under preparation by Dr. Merchant warranted it, the Department would take steps to stop the use of any language but the English where it was shown that the use of English was practicable.

The law of Ontario provides for only one language in the schools, and if the trustees of some of the rural schools have been exceeding their rights, they must be controlled. Sir James Whitney comes from the eastern part of Canada, and is quite familiar with the situation in some of the counties where language abuses in schools are alleged, and one may rely on his assertion that whatever is shown to be not in accordance with the law, will be righted.

This is the resolution that was passed. Note that the Department of Education is responsible for the use of the French or any other language in the place of the English tongue. The resolution is—

"That the English language shall be the language of instruction and communication of the pupils of the public and separate schools of the Province of Ontario, except where in the opinion of the Department of Education, it is found impracticable because the pupil does not understand English."

UNANIMOUS REFUSAL

When Hon. Robert Rogers stated in Montreal a few days ago that Manitoba would go solidly against the Laurier Government, in spite of reciprocity, he knew what he was talking about. Those who have been in Manitoba know the violent dislike entertained by the people of the "postage stamp" province towards the Laurier Government, and which is apparently reciprocated by the Premier.

The boundary dispute has been the cause of the antipathy that has been so marked. The people of Manitoba have been most unjustly, and unjustifiably treated by the Laurier Government, first in a refusal to add to the territory of the provinces, and then, when this was found a boomerang, a refusal to give to the province either a subsidy equal to that received by Saskatchewan or Alberta, or the Crown lands like Ontario has.

The fight which the Roblin Government has waged on behalf of the province has been a strong one. It has absolutely refused, and in that refusal has been emphatically endorsed by the people of the province, to accept any compromise, any settlement of the question that does not give Manitoba the justice she is entitled to. The latest effort at a conclusion has been just as abortive as before; in fact, Liberals and Conservatives alike in the province are unanimous in their declaration of the insincerity of Laurier, and of the entire inadequacy of his proposed concessions.

The Manitoba people want the control of the public lands, in the proposed addition. They object to any more exploitation of the lands from Ottawa, the grafts and steals which have caused scandal after scandal. The great feature of the present situation is that a few days ago the Liberal whip in the Manitoba House seconded a resolution refusing the terms of the offered compromise, and the thirteen members of the Liberal Opposition voted with the Government, making the protest unanimous. This is an indication of the great dissatisfaction existing, not only in Manitoba, but in the Grit-ruled provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta—which are asking for better terms—with the financial relations of the provinces with the Ottawa administration.

AS THE RIPE FRUIT ETC.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier once upon a time made a memorable speech—one more memorable than many others. He was then advocating the policy which he consistently adopted in 1891 in propering unrestricted reciprocity with the United States, or in other words commercial union. In this speech he announced himself a separatist—and to-day his whole tendency is of a separatist nature, though the undoubtedly strong imperial temper of the peole bids him hide it.

Here is an extract which Sir Wilfrid has never retracted, nor attempted to palliate in this country of loyal and faithful adherents of the British crown.

"I hold out to my fellow countrymen the idea of independence, but whenever the day comes, it must come by the consent of both countries and we shall continue to keep the good feeling and good will of the motherland. If we are true to our record we will exhibit to the world the unique and unprecedented example of a nation achieving its independence by slow degrees and as naturally as severing the ripe fruit from the parent tree. Is there a true Canadian anywhere who would not hail with joy the day when we would be deprived of the services of British diplomacy?"

"He paralyzes the efforts of Chamberlain. He has rendered abortive the Intercolonial Conference of 1892 designed to submit Canada to heavy military contributions to the Empire. He has not only taken the head off a powerful English general, but has furthermore chased him from the country. He claims for Canada all even to the point of menacing the colonial tie. He has placed our militia under the command of a Canadian. He removes him from the will of the English parliament. He leaves to the position of Canada's parliament the question of our soldiers fighting outside our country. He claims for Canada the right of concluding her own treaties."

EDITORIAL NOTES

North Monaghan is going to have a rural mail delivery. What about other parts of the country?

Laurier would like to crawl out of the hole into which reciprocity has put him. Perhaps he can get the $200,000,000 Transcontinental railway to pull him out.

To Subscriber.—The Review is unable to find the speech on the Farmers' Bank commission, where a member said he had no sympathy with the depositors because they ought to have their money in the Post-offices in the Hansard copies received.

The greatest turnover in the west in years is the revolt of the Liberals in Manitoba against the Ottawa administration. In joining the Roblin forces the Liberals evidently figure that there is no use in clinging to the sinking ship—even Roblin and Rogers are better than that.

The mixed marriage question is occupying a prominent place in the discussions of the big newspapers. It would be indeed deplorable if the question should lead to sectarian strife in Canada. If the supremacy of the state is endangered, it must be shown that the civil law is in every way superior to ecclesiastical canons, as this is the only method by which the kindling of fierce religious quarrels can be avoided.

An Ottawa theatre is criticised by the Free Press of that city for "handing to patrons programs that had been previously used and kicked around the floor." "It is so disgusting," says the Free Press, "that one cannot understand why any self-respecting theatre manager should permit it to continue."

Peterborough may well congratulate itself on the way the comfort of patrons of the local theatre is attended to.

The Ottawa Free Press which used the phrase, "Not worth a tinker's dam," in one of its editorials, was accused of using profane language, whereupon the Free Press gets back at its accuser by giving the following account of the origin of the phrase;

"The origin of the phrase, 'Not worth a tinker's dam,' is interesting. In the old days the tinkers used to travel from place to place in England mending pots and pans and doing odd jobs. The primitive method of the tinker in mending a tin vessel was to gather a handful of mud from the roadside, and with it make a sort of wall around the offending hole in the pot. When the mud became hardened, molten metal was poured on the wall dammed its flow and confined it to the portion requiring the patch. At the completion of the operation, the mud wall was broken off and thrown away. It was absolutely useless, but in this way came the expression—a forceful one even in these days when its origin is very little known—"Not worth a tinker's dam."

HEAVY WORK IN A WESTERN QUARRY

There is a lesson for Workmen in the story told by John McMullen, of Robinson's Camp, Alberta.

Robinson's Camp, The Gap, Alta., March 24 (Special)—Men who work hard and make heavy lifts have learned that the back is the first part of the body to call for help, and John McMullen, who works in the quarry here has proved to his own satisfaction and that of his fellow workmen that it is really the kidneys that require relief. "Last summer," says Mr. McMullen, "I had some heavy work in the quarry here, which was hard on my back.

"My head also ached and I got so that I was always tired and nervous, and was often dizzy. I sent for two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and they fixed me up."

The Kidneys are the first organs to feel heavy wear and tear on the body. If you cure them when they first call for help and will be well. If you neglect them Rheumatism, Bright's Disease, Gravel or Diabetes will be the result. Dodd's Kidney Pills always give the help they need. They always cure.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"Ah'd lie down, ma'am," suggested the captain, "ontil that med'cine gits a chance to wuk. Goodby, ma'am."

Virginia lay back and closed her eyes, but the potion brought no drowsiness. Her face grew hot, and she knew her eyes would shine if she opened them with a brilliancy quite fascinating to the young man with the little black mustache. The fact that she thought of this startled her. Was she growing flighty with fever? Why this abnormal hilarity of spirits, in the exaltation of which all anxiety departed?

She rose and walked out unsteadily upon the veranda and saw Mr. Carson and the captain sitting idly just beyond earshot of the cabin. They came to her respectfully.

"I came out to thank you, sir," said Virginia flightily, "for your heroic behavior—heroic, romantic, mediaeval behavior!"

"I beg of you not to mention it, madam," urged Mr. Carson, with infinite solicitude. "But may I not insist upon your allowing me to escort you back to your room?"

The girl assented, and she was soon asleep.

Theodore made broth of one quail, peeped in to see if his guest were awake, served the broth to the captain and made more. The sun wore to the west, the last quail was cooked, the captain was providently gorged with alternate courses of bird and broth, when Virginia, very stately and very reserved, opened the door and walked out upon the gallery. Carson shrank back into the kitchen and shoved the captain into the breach.

"How do you do, ma'am?" he inquired solicitously. "Ah sho' hope yo' bette' aftah yo' sleep."

"Much better, thank you," she replied.

"We have some pahtridge broth, ma'am," he went on, "with rice, and a baked yam, and a planked green trout from the lake back hyah, and some coffee. Sit down, ma'am, and Ah'll subve it."

The little table was spread on the gallery, its top made of the head of a derelict cask, its legs of barnacled sections of a boom. Virginia's head ached in dreadful similitude to the traditional feeling of the morning after, but the coffee fragrance was pleasant.

"You are too good," said she, accepting the chair. "I shall be glad to eat a little. Where is your—your friend?"

"He's som'eres about," replied the captain. "Ah really don't know, ma'am. Won't you please take yo' coffee?"

The coffee was black and strong. The broth was a temptation, and she sipped with increasing appetite. Buttered yam and planked trout brought the meal to a triumphant end. Yet where was she, and how should she depart? Where was the Roc? Who were these men? The guns, the brass instruments that looked as if they pertained to navigation, the big windowless shed, all suggested things nautical, bold and nefarious. The kindness and courtesy of the rough looking fellows reassured her as to her personal safety. Yet if they were smugglers or freebooters how could they safely return her to the civilization of coast guards and constables? It was deliciously romantic—but how creepy!

She turned to Captain Harrod with an expression so agitated that he was somewhat startled.

"I wish you would say to the lieutenant," said she, "that I must see him at once if possible."

The fisherman analyzed this speech for perhaps a minute in absolute silence, then he said, "Yes, ma'am," and instantly produced Carson, who, so far as Virginia could judge, had been within the captain's sight when she had been assured that his whereabouts were unknown.

"You are," said the young man, avoiding any reference to her recovery, "doubtless wondering where your companions may be and thinking it strange that they have not returned?"

"It is strange," said she. "Something must have happened to the engines."

"No," said Theodore, "not that. They all but blew out to sea. They simply had to fight their way off toward Pensacola, where they must have made harbor. It was almost half a gale."

"And so—they went—and left me?"

Insurance Fraud Miscarries.

San Francisco, March 25.—Dr. L. C. Chisholm, a physician of this city, was arrested here yesterday in connection with the death of J. D. Powell, an aged man whose body was found in a tent near Fort Ross, Sonora County, several weeks ago. Powell had been shot. The arrest was the result of an investigation by Sheriff Smith of Sonora County.

A card found near the tent contained the name and address of a San Francisco woman, whose identity is being withheld by the police. Sheriff Smith interviewed this woman, and says she told him Chisholm had declared that if she would pose as a widow, he would produce a corpse and collect a large sum of life insurance.

Stabbed In the Nose.

Providence, R.I., March 24.—The crusade against long hatpins gained a strong supporter yesterday in Representative J. B. Leclerc of Woonsocket, who, after being wounded by one of the so-called "dangerous weapons," announced that he would introduce a bill in the Legislature limiting the length of this feminine accessory. While riding to the State House yesterday, Representative Leclerc was stabbed in the nose by a long hatpin protruding from the new spring headgear of a woman passenger. The steel prong sank deep into the legislator's nose and blood flowed freely.

A BOOK FOR MOTHERS

Every mother is naturally anxious for information that will enable her to keep the little ones in good health. The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. have issued a little book which contains a great deal of information on the care of babies and young children that every mother ought to know. The book will be sent free to any mother who will send her name and address, with the name of this newspaper, to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Pierced Turtles' Flippers.

New York, March 24.—On charges of cruelty to turtles, in that it is alleged they transported them on their backs and pierced their flippers, Cleveland Downs, captain of the steamship Saratoga, of the Ward Line, and Walter T. Smith, a New York terrapin dealer, were arraigned before a magistrate yesterday and paroled for further hearing. The complainant is Thomas F. Freel, superintendent of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The complaint recites that 65 turtles were mistreated, while the defence contends the methods are the only practical means of shipping them.

Hit Neighbor With Club.

Carman, Man., March 24.—Chief Horson on Wednesday went out to Daniel and arrested Frank Moffatt for assaulting his neighbor, Paul Worrill, who had crossed his farm while looking for lost stock. Worrill said Moffatt knocked him down with a club. Dr. McGavin, who has charge of Worrill, considers his condition serious, owing to blows inflicted upon the skull. Moffatt is held in Carman lockup, awaiting the result of Worrill's injuries.

Mayor After Magistrate.

New York, March 24.—Mayor Gaynor took issue yesterday with the "statement to the citizens of New York," issued Wednesday night by Magistrate Corrigan, who wrote that under an intimidated police, the town is infested with beggars, thieves, gamblers and immorality.

The mayor characterized the statement as "seditious" and suggested that he may be forced to bring about his removal from the bench.

Two Assassinations In Three Days.

Cincinnati, March 24.—The second assassination within three days in connection with the striking of white firemen on the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway, occurred yesterday, at Helenwood, Tenn. C. B. Street, a fireman strikebreaker, was shot from ambush. Street's home address was given to the company as New York City.

Up-to-Date Parade.

Paris, March 24.—While an unusually brilliant mi-carame procession was traversing the street yesterday with the queens showering the onlookers with flowers, a monoplane, piloted by M. Vedrine, and the new dirigible Torres, built for the Spanish Government, executed evolutions above the boulevards.

The airmen in turn, pelted the queens with violets. All Paris participated in the spectacle, which was favored with a bright summer-like day. A bevy of girls from Prague was a new feature of the parade, the drags of which were particularly beautiful and picturesque.

Quebec Railway Dividend.

Montreal, March 24.—The long-looked for dividend on Quebec Railway was declared yesterday. The dividend is 1 per cent., payable April 15 to shareholders of March 31. It is not quite clear as whether the stock is to go on a 2, 3 or 4 per cent. basis.

Jail Breaker Arrested.

Montreal, March 24.—Mike O'Rourke, known by many aliases, who broke jail at Sherbrooke while awaiting trial in connection with Danville $15,000 bank robbery, was arrested here on Wednesday night.

How It Affects Them.

Providence, R.I., March 25.—Because of possible action by Congress upon schedule K. of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, it was announced by officials of the Greystone Woolen Mills yesterday, the wool sorters at that plant will not work on Saturday. The reduction in time will affect about sixty of the fifteen hundred operatives. The mill officials also announced that should the tariff be revised, unfavorably, the mills and probably many others, will run on short time or close.

Tore Up the Track.

Welland, March 25.—Yesterday Rowland Tanner, a well-known citizen of Fonthill, was arrested charged with tearing up a portion of a Niagara, St. Catharines & Toronto Electric Railway spur, running to a gravel pit. The track runs over a portion of his farm. Tanner claims the road has no right there, and had considerable litigation over it. He was remanded for eight days, bail being refused.

Met Horrible Fate.

Elizabeth, N.J., March 25.—His body covered by quicksand to a depth of several inches, which prevented discovery by searchers for the last 16 days, the body of John Donnell, 67 years old, was found accidentally. Indications are that he died in great agony while held a prisoner by the sand.

Many Canadian Creditors.

Boston, March 25.—A receiver was appointed yesterday for Delong, Seaman & Co., one of the oldest commission firms of the city, dealing in Maine and Canadian products. The liabilities are $118,000, principally in this city and Halifax, N.S.

RHEUMATISM AND COMMON SENSE

Father Morriscy's No. 7 Eliminates the Uric Acid.

Many treatments will relieve the aches and pains of rheumatism, but there is only one way to cure that dread disease. The common sense method is to remove the cause, and the effects will soon disappear.

Rheumatism is caused, as is well known, by the failure of the kidneys to perform their intended work of filtering the uric acid out of the blood and eliminating it from the body through the bladder. When the kidneys go on strike, the uric acid is carried to the joints and tissues, where it causes stiffening of the muscles, and the excruciating pains of rheumatism.

Father Morriscy, the learned priest-physician, after much research devised a prescription which would act directly on the kidneys, and by toning them up to vigorous action, cause them to clear the system of the uric acid. This remedy, known as No. 7, has been used successfully in thousands of cases.

Father Morriscy's Liniment will bring relief from the effects of rheumatism, while his No. 7 Tablets will get to work on the cause and in due time cure the disease.

Why suffer from this painful and troublesome affliction, when by using the common sense methods originated by Father Morriscy and successfully followed for years, it is possible to aid Nature to restore you to health?

If you are not yourself rheumatic, you doubtless know of some one who is, and who would be glad to learn of a treatment which has such a consistent record of cures. It is easy to take and sure to benefit and ultimately cure rheumatism. 50c. a box, at your dealer's, or from Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Ltd. 99

Frank Mitchell, a young man well known in Strathroy, was sentenced to three years in Kingston penitentiary yesterday for highway robbery. Last summer Mitchell robbed William Welch, who is partially paralyzed.

A Martyr to Science.

New York, March 25.—Dr. Raymond W. Brown, house doctor of the Hudson Street Hospital, it was learned yesterday, died of spinal meningitis Thursday within 24 hours of the appearance of the first symptom of the disease. His is the second death within a few days past of a physician who is believed to have contracted the dread disease through contact with the cases of infected Greek immigrants. Dr. Brown's death, following closely that of Dr. Edward F. Ashley, the bacteriologist on Swinburne Island, under similar conditions. Physicians could not remember a case of meningitis in which death had followed so quickly the appearance of the disease. Dr. Brown was 25 years old, and was a graduate of the University of Penna in the class of 1909.

How a Local Young Man Made Money

There are many people in and around the City of Peterborough who have money, looking for investment, who prefer a safe investment, such as bonds or low rate of interest, to investing in mortgages or other securities which require special judgment in selecting, and constant and careful watching to avoid loss. To such we would commend the following result to their careful consideration—

A young man of the City of Peterborough had his life insured sixteen years ago last January for Ten Thousand Dollars ON A SINGLE PAYMENT 15-YEAR ENDOWMENT PLAN. The premium paid was $6,460.00. On the 31st of January, 1910, the company paid him $12,116.00 in cash, after giving him fifteen years of free insurance. What do you think of that as an investment?

Are bonds or municipal debentures, or even the best mortgages, to be compared with it, when you consider that the risk of the life was carried during the 15 years? And remember, the security is as safe as any debenture or mortgage, and there was no trouble or expense entailed of any kind after the initial investment.

The above result was obtained from the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, under policy No. 47340, W.H.B.

MAPLE SYRUP ON THE MARKET

Sold at $1.50 per Gallon—Eggs Down to 18 Cents

Maple syrup made its debut on the market this morning, and the price of $1.50 a gallon did not seem to hinder its sale in the least. Only one man as far as was noticed, had the delicious liquid for sale and he was the centre of attraction for a good many people.

Eggs are now 18c. a dozen. A few weeks ago they touched 30 and 35 cts. One farmer said the indications were that they would drop to a lower price.

A noticeable feature to-day was the absence of chickens. A few inferior looking birds were offered at the extravagant price of $1.50 per pair.

Butter still remains high. There was plenty of it, selling at 28c.

The outer market was very well stocked and the attendance was exceptionally large. Meat sold about the same. A fine array of hay was very prominent, about nine or ten loads drawn up alongside each other and the owners were endeavoring to obtain $13 and $14 for the same.

Potatoes were fairly plentiful.

Eggs—18c. doz.
Butter—28c.
Potatoes—90c. bag.
Pork—11 and 12c.
Beef—9 and 10c.
Chickens—$1.50 per pair.
Maple syrup—$1.50 a gallon.

THE MARKET TOLL AT $915

A. Comstock Gets the Dan Spence Ambulance Again at $200

At a meeting of the Property Committee last evening the tender of James Girven for the market tolls was accepted at $915. The year commences April 1st. Other tenders were W. H. McDonald, $900, and Wm. Fisher, the present market clerk, for $880.

Tenders for the Dan Spence ambulance were also dealt with, the contract being given to A. Comstock at $200. D. Belleghem sent in a tender of $400.

The contract in connection with the city's dumping grounds was renewed. The chairman was authorized to handle the matter of telephone service with the Bell Telephone Co. for the Isolation Hospital.

A letter from the Electric Installation Co. re wiring of the city building was received.

LADIES' AID HELD AT HOME

Home of Mrs. Stanger the Scene of Very Enjoyable Affair

A successful "At Home" was held yesterday afternoon and evening at the residence of Mrs. J. Stanger, 311 Stewart street, by the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Andrew's church. A delightful musical program and a large attendance contributed largely to its success. It was held from 3 o'clock to 5.30 in the afternoon, and from 7 till 10 p.m. The musical artists who contributed the program were Mrs. G. Bruce Hughes, Miss Ethel Winslow, Miss F. Corcoran, Miss Ruth Dawson, Miss Geraldine King, Miss Kerr, W. F. Skitch and Miss Minnie Moore.

Dainty refreshments were served on both occasions. These "At Homes" are being held at the residences of different members of the society, and are mainly for the purpose of increasing the membership and getting the members on closer terms of acquaintance.

Amongst the musical numbers special mention is due the solo by Miss Minnie Moore, who sang very sweetly and effectively. The occasion was Miss Moore's first appearance as a vocalist.

John Tucker Dead

John Oke Tucker passed away on Monday at his home, 65 Henry street, Toronto, in his 83rd year, after a lingering illness, due to a general breaking up. Mr. Tucker was born in Cornwall, Eng., and came to this country when a young man, settling in Port Hope. Twenty-six years ago he went to Toronto and lived there ever since. He was known through his remedy for all ailments (Tucker's Sovereign Balm) with which he travelled through the country.

Semi-ready

"Now We Are Enthusiastic"

What we promised has come to pass. The new styles help not only to distinguish between Semi-ready tailoring and ready-made clothing, but to emphasize the larger service in the real meaning of Semi-ready tailoring—tailoring, mind you, not ready-made.

We want to show you.

We want to show more than we desire to sell, for it is future business we are thinking of.

To offer you such service as will bring you again and yet again.

To show you the styles worn in New York, in Toronto, Montreal, and in all the creative centres of fashion.

Your buying now is not what we want. It is your interest, and the helpful impressions which may come from your frank expressions—which I shall prize most.

Now we are enthusiastic. The shipments of new garments which have just arrived force unstinted praise, and we have spent a brief lifetime in their study.

And the new Semi-ready Tailoring will win your enthusiasm.

Do not for one moment feel that this is a store of embarrassing insistence. We assist you to a finding of what will suit you and please you.

MISS CHOATE TO GO TO WINNIPEG

Will Take Part in Earl Grey Competition in April

Peterboro is to have a representative at the Earl Grey competition in Winnipeg which is to be held in that city during the week of April 24. Miss Julia Choate, the talented violinist who won honor for herself and this city at the competition in Toronto, last year, when she was awarded the silver medal, will take part in the competition, and on the evening of April 7, is giving a concert in the Conservatory of Music Hall, when she will play, amongst other numbers, "Legende" by Wieniawski, it being the work Miss Choate has undertaken as her contribution in the competition at Winnipeg.

"Legende" is a beautiful number and calls for a most careful rendition. At the concert here, Miss Beatrice Wellington of Toronto, reader and local talent will assist.

"Juvenile Crime"

The W.C.T.U. will meet for the first time in the room over the public library, which the board has kindly granted for their use, on Friday, 31st inst. at 3 o'clock p.m. Sheriff Hall will give an address on "Juvenile Crime." Mrs. A. Parker will conduct the devotional half hour. All ladies interested in the work are cordially welcome.

REALIZED OVER $35 ON BAZAAR

The handkerchief bazaar and social under the auspices of the Mission Band of Charlotte Street Methodist Church last evening was crowned with success. Over $35 clear was realized and more has yet to be received. There was a most satisfactory attendance and each of the three tables, for the sale of candy, handkerchiefs and fancy goods, were largely patronized. The tables were presided over by the young girls of the society, who are deserving of great commendation for their efforts in arranging the bazaar.

AT LAST, A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

"Fruit-a-tives Cured Me" Says Mrs. Baxter.

"I was a helpless cripple from Rheumatism for nearly a year. All down the right side, the pain was dreadful and I could not move for the agony. I was treated by two physicians without help.

I saw "Fruit-a-tives" advertised in "The Telegram" and decided to try them. After I had taken one box, I was much better.

When I had taken three boxes, I could use my arm and the pain was almost gone.

After taking five boxes, I was entirely well again. The cure of my case by "Fruit-a-tives" was indeed splendid because all the doctors failed to even relieve me. "Fruit-a-tives" cured me.

MRS. LIZZIE BAXTER.

4 HOME PLACE, TORONTO, Dec. 15, '09.

In hundreds of other cases, "Fruit-a-tives" has given exactly the same satisfactory results because "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest blood purifying medicine in the world. "Fruit-a-tives" the famous fruit medicine regulates kidneys, liver, bowels and skin, and prevents the accumulation of uric acid, which is the prime cause of Rheumatism.

"Fruit-a-tives" will positively cure every case of Rheumatism, when taken according to directions. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

MISS NEWMAN'S RECITAL

Delightful to her friends and the attendance in general, and a high tribute to her skill and ability as a musician, was the piano recital given at the Conservatory of Music Hall last evening by Miss Lora Newman, of the Conservatory faculty. Miss Newman is a pupil of the distinguished Leschetizky, Vienna, and succeeds Mr. H. M. Field, now of Dresden, Germany. The finished performance of the difficult numbers on the program won the unstinted approval of her audience, and Miss Newman's success in this city is assured. Miss Newman has a charming presence, and last evening wore a beautifully simple gown of pink crepe de chene, with crystal and sable, which suited the petite young artist to perfection. During the evening she was presented with a bouquet of American beauty roses, as a gift from her pupils.

She was assisted by Mrs. Ryerson Ritchie, whose artistic soprano voice was heard with great pleasure, and an encore was given after her second number, Miss Hazel Dean, of the Conservatory faculty presiding at the piano as accompaniste.

The patronesses were Mrs. P. Campbell, Mrs. T. F. Matthews, Mrs. R. W. Travers, Mrs. J. E. L. Goodwill, Mrs. W. H. Hill and Mrs. R. Neill.

The program was—

Sonata Pathetique...... Beethoven
Arabesque...... Leschetizky
Two Larks...... Leschetizky
Etude, Op. 25, No. 1...... Chopin
Nocturne, Op. 62, No. 2...... Chopin
Etude, Op. 25, No. 9...... Chopin

Doll's Waltz...... Poldini
Rhapsody, No. VIII...... Liszt

The proceeds were for the Children's Aid Society.

THUNDERER ON RECIPROCITY

The "Times," London.

That the Canadian people are profoundly moved and divided by the Reciprocity Agreement with the United States is abundantly proved by the interestnig debate now proceeding in the Canadian Parliament, and perhaps even more by the keen discussion that the agreement has called forth through the Dominion. It is not becoming in outsiders to pronounce dogmatically upon questions which sharply divide Canadian opinion. Canadian are the best judges of their own affairs, and what they ultimately think best for themselves we, together with the rest of the world, can only accept as a fact to be recognized and dealt with. Outsiders are, however, permitted to note that, to put the matter at the lowest, the business opinion of Canada does not appear to be such as to warrant any excessive eagerness on the part of the Government to pass what is above all things a commercial and industrial measure. Further consideration might perhaps bring about a change in public opinion, but in the meantime there is a decided lack of that general appreciation of the benefits of Reciprocity which Sir Wilfrid Laurier doubtless expected to secure. That in the United States Reciprocity is generally welcomed does not of itself prove that Reciprocity would not be good for Canada; still, it is hardly to be supposed that American men of business are altruistic enough to pay much attention to the Canadian aspect of a transaction which they clearly think very advantageous for themselves. It is not altogether significance that a brisk demand for premises for branch American businesses in Toronto has died out since Reciprocity was mooted. That seems to indicate an expectation that the Canadian market will be supplied with the products of American instead of Canadian labor. A resolution expressing unbated loyalty to the Empire, which was moved from the Opposition side was promptly adopted by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, while his Postmaster-General in an eloquent speech declared, more especially on behalf of the French-Canadians, that they would never consent to the alteration of their political status and allegiance implied in political union with the United States. Whatever may be the decision of Canada, it will not be ascribed in this country to any motive or consideration incompatible with the loyal sentiments to which eloquent expression has been given by both sides during the Ottawa debate. Canada has given many proofs of her devotion to the Empire; not least among them has been the introduction of Imperial Preference, to which Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues were the first to give practical effect. Unanimity of sentiment does not, however, after the fact that economic causes are capable are capable of profoundly modifying the most sincere sentiments, or abate the anxiety wtih which loyal subjects of the Crown must regard a new economic departure.

LITERARY TREAT AT THE LYCEUM

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick Gave Lecture on Macbeth

Another literary treat was given at St. Alphonsus Lyceum last night, when Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Ennismore, always a welcome visitor, delighted the large attendance with a lecture on Macbeth, in which he dealt with the four acts. The Ladies' Literary Society has provided many enjoyable and educative programs to date, and that of last evening was one that was highly appreciated.

Vocal and instrumental numbers were also given, and the evening came to a close all too soon.

OBITUARY

The Late Mr. Kemp

There passed away at two o'clock this afternoon, a highly esteemed resident of this city city, in the person of Thomas Kemp, at the residence of his son, Thomas Kemp, 56 Hilliard street. Death was practically due to his advanced age. Surviving him are a family of six sons and one daughter, namely, Harry, of Greenville, R.I.; George, of Lawrence, Mass.; Samuel, William, John and Thomas, of the city, and Mrs. Flannery, of Peterborough.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed at time of going to press.

Provisional census returns estimate the population of Austria at 28,567,898 an increase of 2,417,190 in ten years.

HELP FOR ONE IN HARD LUCK

Englishman's Sympathy for a Countryman is Practical

A reader, signing himself "An Englishman," sends to the Review a two-dollar bill for Mr. Davis, the unfortunate immigrant, whose broken arm has kept him from supporting his family as he would like to. The writer says—

"Enclosed please find $2 for Mr. Davis, the Englishman who broke his arm. I think this is a case where many can help one, and it is a very deserving case, so I think the Englishmen in Peterborough had better buck up and help. Hoping Mr. Davis will soon be well and about."

The Review has forwarded the $2 to Mr. Davis, and will take care of any other subscriptions toward this worthy object coming in.

Cincinnati, March 25.—Imprisonment in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kas., for three years and fines aggregating $1,000, was the sentence imposed yesterday upon W. P. Harrison, wealthy head of a mail order concern, in the U. S. District Court here yesterday. Harrison was found guilty upon all seven counts of two indictments, alleging that he advertised and sold through the mails a vacuum carpet cleaner and a washing machine, neither of which would do the work required of it.

The trial lasted more than four weeks and cost the Government thousands of dollars to bring witnesses here from all parts of the country.

GOLD MEDAL WON BY J. McNICHOLL

Captured Prize in Window Trimming Competition

Mr. James McNicholl, the clever young window dresser, of Richard Hall & Sons, is to be congratulated on having added more laurels to his already enviable reputation in his chosen line of occupation. He received to-day a communication from the Dry Goods Review, Toronto, informing him that he was successful in winning the greatest number of points in their window competition during the past year and congratulating him upon his success in window trimming.

The medal offered for the competition i sa very handsome one, a cut of which will be published in the Dry Goods Review.

Mr. McNicholl has won many prizes in window trimming and his success is attributable to his conscientious efforts to excel in that art.

ENTERTAINED BY THE ONWARDS

Pleasant Affair in Lecture Room of George St. Church

An evening of unusual interest and pleasure was spent last night in the lecture room of the George street Methodist church, when the Onward Young Ladies' Bible Class, with their teacher, Mrs. Jas. Stubbs, entertained Mr. Thornton's Young Ladies' Class and Mr. Robertson's class of young men.

A unique and interesting program was given by the members of the class. Mr. Geo. Robertson and Mr. J. Thornton gave a very able talk on Reciprocity.

Another feature of the program was a guessing contest, the winner being Miss Dales, of the Normal school.

The singing by Misses McKee, Chasty and Mrs. McCall was much enjoyed as well as a recitation by Miss Verna Merjill. Mr. S. R. Armstrong made a very acceptable chairman.

After refreshments were served the evening was brought to a close by singing the Doxology and prayer by Rev. Mr. Couch.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

Miss A. C. The Y.W.C.A. Board meeting is called for Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock

DRUG BUSINESS WILL BE MOVED

Store Lately Operated by J. D Tully, Occupying Former Adam Hall Quarters

Mr. Moncur, who took over the drug business of Mr. J. D. Tully, will move his stock and fixings, etc., into their handsome new quarters, lately vacated by Adam Hall on George street, which have been suitably altered.

The proprietor, Mr. Moncur, expects to have completed moving operations by Wednesday, and will then be open for business. The formal occupancy, however, will likely take place about April 14th.

The new store will be commodious and thoroughly equipped with everything pertaining to an up-to-date drug business. The rear of the store, the dimensions of which are 100x20 1-2, will be partitioned off, providing a private truss room, an innovation which will be greatly appreciated. A first-class prescription department will be operated in conjunction with the usual business. The same staff now in the employ of Mr. Moncur will be retained, and nothing will be omitted which will enable him to cater to first-class trade.

The exterior of the new quarters are very strikingly painted and arouses much favorable comment. A large illuminated sign will be placed outside advertising the business.

Y.M.C.A. CLOSING EXHIBITION IN GYMNASIUM WAS A SUCCESS

Boys Acquitted Themselves Well—Presentation of Prizes—Physical Director's Excellent Work.

The closing exercises given in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium last evening were witnessed by a very large and highly pleased audience, and the alert, snappy manner in which the youngsters performed, going through the various drills and manoeuvres without a hitch, was one of the most commendable features of the exhibition.

The varied program did not permit of any monotony and kept the spectators interested the entire evening.

The first thing on the program was a most realistic camp fire scene. Four artificial fires were each surrounded by a group of fellows, and in the darkened room the fires presented a most entrancing and real appearance.

Mr. Clarke on the banjo and a quartet supplied the music for this realistic scene, and the applause at the conclusion spoke well for the effectiveness of the performance.

The exhibition of parallel bar work by the junior leaders, was neatly and creditably done. The boys are a fine husky lot and their well developed physiques show the result of their training.

The presentation of the prizes won last summer and fall, and the other indoor event prizes was performed by Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., during which he congratulated the boys and their energetic physical director on the result of their efforts.

The work of the intermediate leaders on the German horse was also deserving of high praise.

Excellent music was supplied by the Salvation Army silver band for all the marching events and the dumbbell drill. Knox church quartet pleased everybody by a humorous selection.

Altogether the exhibition compared most favorably with any put on in past years, and the splendid manner in which the boys acquitted themselves speaks well for the careful and efficient training of the physical instructor, Mr. J. J. Thompson.

Camp Scene.
Song—George Clarke.
German Horse and Spring Board—Business Boys.
Exhibition Parallel Bars—Junior Leaders.
Exhibition—Members of Wrestling Club.
Selection—Knox church Quartet.
Dumbbell Drill—Junior Class.
German Horse—Intermediate Leaders.
Games.
Tumbling—Junior Boys.
Elephant Jump—Collegiate Class.
God Save the King.

Lindsay Lady Golfers

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Golf Club was held in the library rooms on Thursday afternoon, when the following officers were elected for the year:

President—Mrs. (Judge) McMillan.
Vice-President—Mrs. B. J. Gough.
Treasurer—Mrs. G. H. M. Baker.
Secretary—Mrs. A. B. McIntyre.
Captain—Miss E. Neelands.

The tea committee was appointed as follows: Mrs. Hagerman, Mrs. O'Connor, Mrs. P. Kennedy, and Miss E. Flavelle—Lindsay Warder.

The Hat and the Guarantee

The arguments that might be advanced, as to the superior quality of the Buckley Hat, are all summed up in the broad, conditionless, all-embracing Buckley guarantee.

For it will be readily seen that no hat manufacturer could afford to attach to his product such a guarantee as this, unless he had fullest confidence in the wearing qualities of his hats.

If you have yet to learn the "why" of Buckley popularity, you'll be doing yourself a good turn in asking your hatter to let you get acquainted with Buckley comfort, Buckley durability, and Buckley style.

Ask him to show you the many new shapes; and when you've selected the one you like, see that the Buckley guarantee slip appears under the leather sweat-band.

Then you'll have the satisfaction of knowing that—fair weather or foul, easy wear or wrecking travel—that hat has no excuse to offer you—it must last you four full months—if it doesn't, you get a new one free of cost from the hat store at which you purchased the first one.

Even accident doesn't invalidate the guarantee, for there's a clause in it that says:

"We also agree to exchange this hat, if same is damaged by accident during the said four months."

The Buckley is UNION MADE—and sells for $2.50.

CHURCH FOOTBALL LEAGUE WANTED

Young Men at All Saints are Ready With a Team

On Wednesday at a lively meeting of the young men of All Saints' church a football club was organized. It was decided to try and form a Church Football League, and a committee was appointed to see the different church football clubs. The following officers were elected:—

Honorary President—Mr. Edgar.
Honorary Vice-President—Mr. Howden.
President—Rev. H. R. Trumpour.
Vice-President—S. B. Blayden.
Manager—Mr. W. Willis, 185 Bethune street.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. T. B. Moffatt, 139 Rubidge street.
Committee—Messrs. Abbott, Greenwood and Downs.

The club decided that, if a church league could not be formed, that they would enter a team in the Midland League. Mr. Moffatt, the secretary, will be pleased to hear from other church clubs in regard to forming the church league. All those wishing to join the club can do so by sending their names to the manager or secretary. Entrance fee $1.00.

ATHLETICS

Billie Breen has returned to the city after a search for some high class talent to take part in a big athletic program which he hopes to put on here. Billie has the signatures of some of the good ones, and fuller explanations will be made shortly.

THE TURF

Flying Fox, whose death is reported from France, was one of the most noted horses of all time, and his reputation does not rest on the fact that he sold for the highest recorded price ever paid for a horse, $187,500. He was foaled in 1896, and was bred and raced by the Duke of Westminster. His career on the turf included the winning of the triple crown, the Two Thousand, Derby and St. Leger of 1899. In all he ran eleven races, and won all but two. These were in his two-year old form, when he was second to St. Gris, and again to Caiman. After the death of his owner he was sold at auction at the price named to M. Edmond Blanc, the French breeder. Flying Fox proved a bargain even at those enormous figures. His stud fee was $3,000, and for each of his two sons, Jardy and Val d'Or, Argentine breeders paid almost as much as Flying Fox cost. When racing he won nearly $200,000. His son, Adam, was bought by American breeders for $15,000, but on account of the legislative interference with the turf in the States he was last year returned to France. The only Flying Fox stallion now in North America is the horse Red Fox, owned by Messrs. Dyment, of Barrie.

VARICOSE VEINS CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SADIE MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes, and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost if the eye brows are thin and scanty; and the lashes are short and lifeless. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. A two weeks' treatment will bring beauty to your eyes that you have never before possessed. By mail, prepaid, in opal boxes, on receipt of price, fifty cents. B. V. MARK ST. CHOIR ENTERTAINED

The members of the Mark Street choir and a few of their friends were entertained last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Fowler, 165 Hunter Street.

A most delightful evening was enjoyed by all, the only marring feature was the regretable absence of the esteemed choir leader, Mr. J. H. Callander, who was detained by the indisposition of Mrs. Callander.

Games and music featured the entertainment of the fleeting hours, with the usual tempting refreshments; and before dispersing, the guests united in giving a most hearty expression of appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Fowler for their generous hospitality.

Alex. Hollander, New York customs broker, was yesterday sentenced to 15 months in prison for forgery in connection with customs frauds aggregating $500,000. He was arrested in Naples last July.

PHYSICIANS

Failed to Cure Rheumatism

Miss Flora Chapman Vividly Describes Her Sufferings and Ultimate Cure With "Nerviline."

"After being an enthusiastic user of Nerviline for years, I feel it my duty to tell you personally what your wonderful preparation has done for me.

"I suffered torture from rheumatism and heart trouble, tried scores of so-called remedies, consulted for weeks and months with Toronto's most eminent physicians, but derived only slight benefit.

"A friend insisted on my using Nerviline, and to my surprise a vigorous rubbing of this powerful liniment eased the pains and reduced the stiffness in my joints. I continued to use Nerviline and was permanently cured. I am now perfectly well, and for three years have had no rheumatism at all. I know many families where no other medicine but Nerviline is kept—it is so useful in minor ailments like earache, toothache, neuralgia, coughs, colds, lumbago, and sciatica. I call Nerviline my "Life Guard," and urge all to try its merit."

Guild of Goodfellowship

The St. John's Guild of Good Fellowship will meet as usual to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Princess theatre, when the Rev. Chas. Carpenter will continue his series of addresses on "Life Partnerships" or "Marriage Problems of To-day."

A large attendance is looked for, and all men will receive a hearty welcome. In the Princess theatre, from 3 to 4 o'clock.

St. John's Y.P.A.

The St. John's Young People's Association will held their fortnightly meeting on Monday evening, when a debate will be held, the subject being "Resolved, that the cause of Christian missions, although assisted by modern enlightenment and travel facilities, is not progressing as in the days of old." The leaders will be Messrs. G. A. Hamon and Chas. Coleman, and they will be opposed by Messrs. Wm. Common and A. N. Other.

This promises to be an interesting evening, and no doubt a large number will endeavor to be present.

USING PURGATIVES INJURES HEALTH

What You Need in Spring is a Blood Building Tonic

A spring medicine is an actual necessity to most people. Nature demands it as an aid in carrying off the impurities that have accumulated in the blood during the long winter months of indoor life. Unfortunately thousands of people who recognize the necessity for a spring medicine do not know what is best to take and dose themselves with harsh, griping purgatvies.

This is a serious mistake. Ask any doctor and he will tell you that the use of purgative medicines weakens the system, but does not cure disease. In the spring the system needs building up—purgatives cannot do this—they weaken you still more. The blood should be made rich, red, pure, and only a tonic medicine can do this. The best blood building, nerve restoring tonic medical science has yet discovered is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose of this medicine actually makes new, rich blood. This new blood strengthens every organ, every nerve, and every part of the body. This is why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure headaches and backache, rheumatism and neuralgia, banish pimples and eruptions, and give a glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. Men, women and growing boys and girls who take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills eat well, sleep well, and feel bright, active and strong. If you need a medicine this spring—and most likely you do—try this great reviving tonic, and feel the new life, new health and new strength it will put into you.

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

30 YEARS IN STEEL CAGE

Strange Story From Chicago of Insane Man

Chicago, March 22.—Geo. Odette, for 30 years bereft of reason and cared for in a steel cage in the garret of his mother's house near Waukegan, until the mother died last week, will be snared with ropes this afternoon and taken to an insane asylum.

The fomality of a test of his sanity was gone through to-day by an examining board which sat in the garret while Odette shrieked at them and rattled the bars of his cage.

The commitment to the asylum was made necessary by the death of Odette's mother at the age of 90.

A shock from a galvanic battery at a county fair in Waukegan robbed young Odette of his reason and he was sent to an asylum. When Mrs. Odette learned that her son refused food and was dying of starvation, she obtained his release on a promise to guard him.

STAYED WITH HIM.

As he was violent and none dared approach him, she had a steel cage built in the garret of her home. The mother remained night and day outside the cage. Finally the aged woman died and no one could care for the maniac.

The test to-day was made at the request of Ambrose Odette, a brother of the insane man. The prisoner was nude during the hearing. His beard, blood-stained and matted, hung nearly to his knees and his face and body bore marks of frequent struggles against the bars of his cell.

MILLBROOK FIRE

Most of those disturbed in their business by the fire are getting settled. Mr. John Steele will be in the large and better shop formerly occupied by Mr. Nattress, better known as the Archer shop. Mr. Lang will open in his own building lately occupied by Mr. Boyler, barber, as soon as he can get it fitted up. Mr. Boyler has moved his barber shop and pool room to W. W. Gillott's west warerooms, which will make splendid quarters. Miss Winslow, milliner, whose stock was much damaged by smoke and water and removal is a heavy loser, but expects to have her rooms running again very soon.—Millbrook Reporter.

DISTRESSING HEADACHES

Headaches are largely the result of disordered kidneys.

Mrs. Hall, 84 Flora street, St. Thomas, Ont., says: "I suffered for years with headaches of a most distressing nature. They would come on me suddenly, and would last for days at a time. These were usually accompanied by spells of dizziness that would leave me unable to attend to any house duties. My back was weak and caused me much suffering through the night. I had doctored for years, but all to no avail. Nothing benefited me and my condition was gradually becoming worse. I learned of Booth's Kidney Pills. One box gave me a complete and lasting cure. I have not had a headache or dizzy spell since, and I feel like a new person."

Booth's Kidney Pills

Booth's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists, 50 cents box, under a guarantee to refund your money if they fail to relieve any disease having its origin in the kidneys or bladder. Postpaid from the R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont. Sold and guaranteed by Wm. Madill

HORSES HAD TO WEAR SNOWSHOES

Cariboo Road Scene of Curious Spectacle

Victoria, B.C., March 22.—The fantastic spectacle of horses on snowshoes has within the past few weeks been witnessed on the historic Cariboo Road, according to reports just to hand from Barkerville.

The meteorological report for the district with headquarters at the old Cariboo capital shows that thirteen feet of snow has fallen since Christmas last. Continuous winds have kept the road from Barkerville to Quesnel choked almost the entire winter, the exceptionally heavy snowfalls greatly handicapping transportation.

The stage leaving Quesnel for Barkerville last week experienced continuous adventures, only penetrating as far as the Thirteen-Mile House during the first day and evening. On the day following the driver managed to get it through to Cottonwood, arriving two days later at Beaver Pass.

Finally, the mail reached Barkerville on the Monday, the horses for the latter part of the journey being equipped with snowshoes.

MONTREAL REAL ESTATE MAN

All Crippled Up With Rheumatism
GIN PILLS Gave Prompt Relief

One of the leading real estate operators in Canada's largest city is Samuel Longmore Esq, of The Longmore Realty Co. Mr. Longmore makes a specialty of investments and has charge of many estates, investing the funds in a careful and conservative manner. Occupying such a position of trust, it is natural that he should weigh his words when making any statement for publication. The letter below shows what Mr. Longmore thinks of the famous GIN PILLS.

55 UNIVERSITY STREET, MONTREAL, P.Q.

"Just a word of praise for GIN PILLS. About fifteen months ago, I could not walk across my room, suffering severely with Rheumatism. I took GIN PILLS and became quite well. Two months ago, I had Rheumatic Pains with Neuralgia and Diarrhoea. I resorted to GIN PILLS again for one week and became quite well. Last week, I suffered again with Neuralgia, Three GIN PILLS cured me. They are really good." SAMUEL LONGMORE.

You see, GIN PILLS do give quick relief—do save you pain and suffering—do cure Rheumatism, Neuralgia and all troubles due to weak, strained, over-worked kidneys and Irritated Bladder. If you are subject to Rheumatism—and suffer with it more or less every winter—take GIN PILLS right now. Start in and use them regularly and you will never have the slightest touch of your old enemy. GIN PILLS are sold on a positive guarantee of money back if they fail to give relief. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50.

If you have any difficulty in getting GIN PILLS, write us enclosing 50c. for one box or $2.50 for six boxes and we will supply you promptly. Sample box free if you write us, mentioning this paper.

Fierce Fire at Colon.

Colon, Panama, March 24.—A fierce fire raged yesterday in 13th, 14th, Bolivar and D streets. More than 30 houses were destroyed, and the local fire brigade and fire forces from the canal zone found great difficulty in checking the flames. As a last resort dynamite was used to blow up several buildings, as the flames were creeping close to the canal zone houses.

American Girl's Suicide.

WIFE CAME FROM SCOTLAND AND FOUND ERRING HUSBAND

He Had Been Arrested on Charge of Non-support—Another Charge for Bigamy

Toronto, March 24—After travelling several thousand miles in search of her husband, Mrs. Arthur H. Heaverman of Scotland on Wednesday located him at 150 Manning avenue, and immediately had him placed under arrest on a charge on non-support. When the case was called yesterday in the Police Court Heaverman pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by a jury, the preliminary investigation being enlarged for a week. He was admitted to bail in one surety of $1,000.

His liberty was only of short duration, however, as he was last night re-arrested on a charge of bigamy, the charge being preferred by his first wife.

It appears that when Heaverman and his wife separated in Scotland, seven years ago, he brought with him to Toronto his daughter, who is attending the Manning Avenue School. Mrs. Heaverman, wife No. 1 learned that the child was at school and went there to see her. When the little girl was brought before her mother and asked how she would like to go back to Scotland she disclosed the information that she had a mother in Toronto, but they could not get along together very well.

"But I am your mother" exclaimed Mrs. Heaverman.

"Is that so?" answered the child in a feeble voice. "Why, I am living with my father and mother."

"Will you take me to see your mother?" asked Mrs. Heaverman.

The child escorted her to the home on Manning avenue, where Mrs. Heaverman discovered that on May 27 of last year her husband had gone through a form of marriage with Miss Martha A. Blackman.

Mrs. Heaverman, wife No. 1, immediately communicated with Staff-Inspector Kennedy of the Morality Department. Detectives Sockett and Twigg called at the house on Manning avenue, and after procuring the marriage certificate from Mrs. Heaverman No. 2 placed Heaverman under arrest.

To the detectives Heaverman admitted that he was married to Miss Blackman. He said that he and his former wife had a disagreement over some matters about a year after their marriage, and not being able to live together harmoniously they separated. He and his daughter came to Canada, and since then he had not heard from his wife. Consequently he felt justified in again taking unto himself a wife.

Mrs. Heaverman No. 1 told the police that a short time ago she learned that her husband and daughter were living in Winnipeg. She immediately crossed the ocean and went to Winnipeg, but upon reaching there she discovered that Heaverman had removed to Toronto.

Gaynor Now Free.

Atlanta, Ga., March 25.—John F. Gaynor, who, with B. D. Greene, served terms in the federeal prison here for participation in the Savannah harbor improvement frauds, was allowed to take the pauper's oath late yesterday afternoon and was released from custody. This procedure clears him of the necessity of paying the $575,000 fine imposed in addition to the prison sentence. Greene was released under similar procedure on Wednesday.

Strike Declared Off.

Washington, March 25.—Representatives of the conductors, firemen and locomotive engineers on the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway, who have been striking because negro firemen are alleged to have been given preferred runs on the road, reached a tentative basis of settlement with the railway through the national mediation board yesterday.

RECIPROCITY AND HORSES

How the Pact Will Affect This Farmer's Business

The view expressed by Hon. Nelson Monteith, that reciprocity will operate to the direct injury of the farmers of Ontario in the sale of their horses, is borne out in a letter from R. F. Williams of St. Paul, representing one of the largest horse-dealing firms in the United States, Barrett & Zimmerman. Mr. Williams writes in The St. Paul Farmer, an agricultural journal as follows:

"To The Farmer: In compliance with your request, we are glad to state our view of the proposed reciprocity treaty with Canada, from the standpoint of horse raisers, breeders and dealers.

"Minnesota and adjoining states are rapidly forging to the front as horse raising states. The high price horses during recent years has caused every farmer in our Northwest to buy brood mares and plan to raise a few market horses, thinking the great demand, caused by the settling up of new lands in the West, would continue. The lands available to homestead entry are about settled up, and the demand for horses with which to open up new lands is on the decrease; moreover, the automobile is taking the place of horses in our large cities.

"With a rapidly decreasing horse demand at home and a great increase in the number of colts foaled annually, the American horse raiser will soon have a large surplus of horses; and if we do not have a market for them, horses will take a decided drop in value in the very near future. It is evident that the only logical market the American horse raiser can hope for is Western Canada.

"No country in the world needs so many horses as Western Canada. With the duty off, THOUSANDS OF CARLOADS OF AMERICAN HORSES WILL BE SHIPPED ACROSS THE LINE IN THE NEXT FEW YEARS, and practically double our local markets and give an outlet for all the surplus horses our farmers raise, at stable and profitable values.

"This arrangement will be as beneficial to Western Canada as to our states, as the present duty makes horses so high by the time they cross the line that we cannot sell them, or the Canadian farmer afford to buy them. The only parties who will oppose the removal of the duty will be the horse raiser of the Eastern Canadian provinces.

LIBRARY NOTES

One of the chief difficulties connected with the working of the library lies in the fact that those who make use of it are so apt to lose sight of the extreme trouble caused by the laying down of volumes in the first accessible place they find on the shelves. Owing to this the present state of the shelves renders it practically impossible to lay one's hands on a book where by rights it should be found. The public are asked once more to take due note of this in order to render it easier, both for themselves and others to obtain such volumes as they are in quest of.

Another matter which should be borne in mind is that a considerable amount of annoyance would be saved readers if they made it a rule to bring their returned books to the desk before going to the shelves to search for a fresh allotment.

It is also in the highest degree advisable that everyone should take his ticket with him, and not leave it in the charge of the librarian or his assistants till they return with their newly acquired volumes. On a busy evening such a course is apt to cause considerable annoyance, not only the waiting public, but also to the officials and the owner of the ticket. The board is in the highest degree anxious that the public should be pleased, and it would conduce very much towards such a desirable result if those who have been pursuing the course above mentioned would desist from doing so in the future.

A very gratifying feature of library work in Peterborough lies in the fact that three well attended and enthusiastic reading circles in this city are making extensive use of the public library in their researches. One of these circles is engaged in the study of the ancient epics of Europe, and the earlier German novelists; another in a survey of the history of Spain, whilst the third, which is composed of a group of the younger ladies, is busying itself with the lives and works of certain famous poets. The T.A.S. also has a very large and very successful literary institute in connection with its organization, and although at the present time it draws very largely on its own well selected stock of reading matter, nothing would give the Library Board greater pleasure than to see its members making all the use possible of the public shelves in furtherance of their work.

Next winter, it is to be hoped that even a younger set than those who have already entered upon the work of studying special branches in literature will come to the front and that we shall see boys, as well as girls, supplementing their college debates with evenings devoted to some special course in reading. The library, it must be remembered, is for all, high and low, rich and poor, and that no matter how badly equipped for such a task, people may fancy themselves they are entitled to ask for and obtain all the help needed, that comes within the possibility of the library can offer them.

Coughs, Colds Bronchitis

If there is an ailment in the throat or chest, it is surely essential that the remedy be conveyed direct to the affected part. It's because the healing vapor of Catarrhozone is breathed into the sore, irritated throat and bronchial tubes, because its balsamic fumes kill the germs and destroy the cause of the trouble. These are the reasons why Catarrhozone never yet failed to cure a genuine case of Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, or Throat Trouble.

The wonderfully soothing vapor of Catarrhozone instantly reaches the furthest recesses of the lungs, produces a healing, curative effect that is impossible with a tablet or liquid, which goes merely to the stomach, and fails entirely to help the throat or lungs.

To permanently cure your winter ills, your coughs, sneezing, and Catarrh, by all means use a tried and proven remedy like Catarrhozone. But beware of the substitutor and imitator. Look for Catarrhozone only. 50c and $1, at all dealers. 10

Cornwall House of Refuge.

Cornwall, March 25.—The House of Refuge committee of the counties council has accepted the plans of A. L. Weeks of Ottawa, subject to certain modifications arranged for by the committee. The estimated cost is within the $40,000 fixed by the counties council. The building will be largely modelled on the lines of the Belleville House of Refuge, with some changes suggested by the officials of that institution, which their experience has shown them would be an improvement. It has been practically decided to build on concrete blocks, but tenders will be called for both brick and concrete. The building will be made thoroughly fireproof.

Stop All Fight Films.

Montreal, March 25.—Morality Inspector O'Keefe declared yesterday that having unearthed a bylaw which prohibits the exhibition of prizefight pictures of any nature whatever he will at once take steps to put the ordinance in force throughout the city.

The Children's Aid Society, the inspector said, was responsible for the stopping of the exhibition of the Jeffries-Johnson fight films shown at the Theatre Royal this week, but other pictures were shown in their place which evidently did not come under the terms of the bylaw. These, however, Inspector O'Keefe says he will stop, too.

Member of Canadian Contingent Dead

Brockville, March 25.—The death occurred here yesterday of Henry Winford, aged 32 years. Shortly before the close of the Boer war, he was a member of the last contingent sailing from Canada, and upon arriving at Cape Town, found that hostilities had ceased. Winford was at one time an active athlete and a member of the Old Bohemian war canoe crew that won Canadian and international honors. For four years he was a member of the Royal Canadian Regiment, and was stationed at Stanley Barracks, Toronto, and Wolseley Barracks, London.

"Bar and Bottle Bill."

Boston, March 24.—Efforts to repeal the so-called "bar and bottle" bill passed last year, which prohibits, after May 1 next, the sale of liquor in bottles over the bar, failed in the House yesterday, after a spirited debate. The vote was 103 in favor of repeal to 131 opposed.

Optical Institute Creed

We believe in the glasses we are supplying that in quality, style and accuracy, they are unsurpassed. We believe that honest glasses can be supplied to honest people by honest methods. We believe in working, not waiting, laughing not weeping, in boasting not knocking and the pleasure of the practice of optometry. We believe we are getting the optical practice that we are after, and that there is plenty to get for men who are ready. We believe in to-day, and the work we are doing, in to-morrow and the work we hope to do, and in the rewards of both. We believe in courtesy, in kindness, in generosity, in good cheer, and in honest competition. We believe this in an order for a pair of glasses ready for every man who is ready to take it. We believe we are ready—right now, and we are taking it.

FORD AUTOMOBILES

Do not buy a FORD because you can buy it for less money than nearly any other car, but buy it because 30,000 satisfied owners of Model T Fords have proved that it is the car to buy in order to get REAL VALUE for your money.

Henry Ford is building 37,500 automobiles this year, and it is for this reason that you can buy a Model T Touring Car fully equipped for $975.00 and a Runabout for $875.00, as anyone knows that a very large output can be marketed at a much smaller profit per car than a small output. Furthermore, as has been already stated Mr. Ford has actual CASH enough to carry on his business and pay spot cash for every particle of stock he requires. Hence it is that in buying a FORD you pay no penalty of price beyond value.

Not only is it easy to buy but it is equally so to maintain. You save enough in maintenance to pay the interest on the whole investment. Then again if you should decide to dispose of your car, you can get twenty buyers for a Ford to one for any other make of car.

Demand proves satisfaction, and judging from the demand for FORD cars you can make no mistake in deciding to take one of the 37,500.

It's no experiment. It is simply this: that on account of building so many THOUSAND cars, the FORD CO. has this Model T as near perfection as it is possible to get it.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY LIVES ARE LOST IN NEW YORK FIRE

Operatives in Burning Factory Jumped From Eighth Storey---Many Cannot be Recognized at Morgues.

Special to The Review.

New York, March 27.—One hundred and forty-five bodies have been recovered at the scene of the big factory fire. One hundred and one had been identified up to noon to-day. Various investigations to discover the identity of the remainder are under way to-day.

New York, March 27.—One hundred and fifty persons—nine-tenths of them Jewish and Italian girls from the east side—were crushed to death on the pavements or smothered in smoke or shrivelled crisp in a factory fire on Saturday afternoon in the worst disaster New York has known since the steamship General Slocum was burned to the water's edge off North Brother Island in 1904.

One hundred and forty-one bodies had been recovered from the ruins at midnight Saturday, and seven of the fatally injured had died in hospitals. Two more were found yesterday.

Mothers, fathers and other relatives, literally mad with grief, stormed the police lines at the morgue all Saturday night and yesterday shrieking, sobbing and in some cases fighting with the officers in their frenzy. Hysterical women fell writhing in the streets and had to be carried away in the already over-burdened ambulances. Among the bodies are more than 50 burned beyond all semblance of human form, and they will perhaps have to share a common grave as unknown dead.

The regular morgue was far too small to accommodate the dead, and the so-called Charities Pier bore the bulk of the charred burden. The bodies were ranged in long lines down both sides of the pier, each in a brown stained wooden coffin, such as the city [illegible]

Nearly all, if not all, the victims were employed by the Triangle Waist Co. on the eighth, ninth and tenth floors of a ten-storey loft building at 23 Washington place, on the western fringe of the downtown wholesale clothing, fur and millinery district. The partners of the firm, Isaac Harris and Max Blanck, escaped unscathed from the office on the tenth floor, carrying with them over an adjoining roof Blanck's two young daughters and a governess. There was only one light outside fire escape on the building.

How the fire started will perhaps never be known. A corner on the eighth floor was its point of origin, and the three upper floors only were swept. On the ninth floor 50 bodies were found; 63 or more were crushed to death by jumping, and more than 30 clogged the elevator shafts. The loss to property will not exceed $60,000.

Pedestrians going home through Washington place to Washington square at 4.50 were startled by the whiz of something rushing through the air before them; there was a horrible thud on the pavement and a body flattened on the flags. Wayfarers on the opposite side of the street shaded their eyes against the setting sun and saw the windows of the three upper floors of the building black with girls crowding to the sills. The only fire escape was in a small courtyard of the building.

"Don't jump, don't jump," yelled the crowd. But the girls had no choice. The pressure of the maddened hundreds behind them and the urging of their own fears were too strong. They began to rain on the sidewalk like peas from a hot skillet.

TO MAKE DEAD HEART BEAT

Philadelphia, Pa., March 27.—Dr Edward Anthony Spitzke, professor of anatomy at Jefferson Medical College, and famed as a heart and brain specialist, in an address at the auditorium of the Philadelphia electrical building, declared that, aside from its commercial value electricity has great value to mankind.

He described how he had obtained the heart of Antonio Pacito, the murderer, recently hanged at Moyamensing, three minutes after he had been cut down, and by the application of electricity he discovered that he could obtain a regular heart beat, and that there was sufficient life left to ring an electric bell.

PRIZE SHOULD GO TO McCURDY

Canadian Airman Protests the Award of Aero Club.

New York, March 27.—J. A. D. McCurdy, the Canadian aviator, has entered a formal protest with the Aero Club against awarding the $3,000 City of Havana prize to Rene Barrier, the French aviator. It is alleged that McCurdy completed the flight from Camp Columbia, Havana, to and around Morro Castle, and return on Feb. 6, in 16 minutes, 51 1-2 seconds, and as the conditions of the prize called for the fastest flight between Jan. 25 and March 1, the prize should go to Mr. McCurdy.

After McCurdy had left Cuba the time for making the flight was extended to April 1. Of this change, it is alleged that McCurdy was not notified, and further, that the donors of the prize had no right to extend the time. Barrier on Thursday made the flight in 15 minutes 1 3-5 seconds.

State Senator Broderick, of Illinois, was acquitted by a jury of bribery in connection with the election of U.S. Senator Lorimer.

BAD WEATHER ON THE ATLANTIC

Storms are on the Move and May Continue.

New York, March 27.—European steamships arriving here report experiencing much rough sea and heavy squalls, but during the greater part of the westward passage no strong and protracted gales were encountered.

It is quite probable that weather conditions on the transatlantic route will continue unsettled for several weeks, and occasional gales of short duration but much intensity are to be expected on voyages from the English Channel to New York.

Storms moving from the American coast to the Newfoundland Banks after the March equinox are not usually so severe as those of winter, but the winds in the northwest quadrant of the storm frequently attain great force.

As spring advances, however, there is a gradual decrease of storminess throughout the route from New York to Europe.

EMMANUEL OPENS THE CELEBRATION

Fiftieth Anniversary of Freedom Causes Rejoicing at Rome.

Special to the Review.

Rome, March 27.—The Italian national exposition to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the country's freedom was opened by King Victor Emmanuel to-day, in the presence of great crowds, which were wildly enthusiastic.

THE WEATHER

Quite a contrast is the weather of to-day to that prevailing on March 27, 1909, when a heavy snow storm was in progress, and the sweeper of the street railway was busy keeping the tracks clear. The city snow ploughs too, had a busy session, and the farmers were rejoicing at the splendid sleighing for market day, it being Saturday.

March 26, 1910, one year ago yesterday, was Easter Saturday, and fine, clear weather prevailed. The streets were so dry that the watering carts were called out for duty.

By way of a change, the rain came down to-day and the thunder rolled. The question is, what will the weather be to-morrow.

Came From Kingston.

Kingston, March 27.—Chas. Thompson, found frozen to death at Port Arthur, is believed to belong to Portsmouth, a suburb of Kingston. He had a letter in his pocket addressed to Charles Thompson, Portsmouth. He was 50 years of age, employed as a sailor, and left here a year ago. His wife is living in Portsmouth.

Provisional Schools.

Ottawa, March 27.—Militia orders announce the establishment of a provisional school of instruction for infantry, to be held at St. Catharines, for a period not to exceed six weeks, commencing on or about April 3. Certificates will be limited to ranks not higher than subaltern.

SUICIDE OF AGED WOMAN

Boys Found Body in a Stream While Hunting Muskrats.

Ingersoll, March 27.—Boys hunting muskrats found the body of Miss Johnanet Huntbach in a stream a short distance from the outskirts of the town Saturday evening. The body apparently had been in the water since Monday last, which was the last time so far as known that she was seen alive. Coroner Neff gave it as his opinion that it was a clear case of suicide and deemed an inquest unnecessary. Miss Huntbach, whose home was in Norwich, was 75 years old.

Menace to the Ocean.

New York, March 27.—The first iceberg on the Great Banks this season was reported yesterday by the French liner La Savoie, in from Havre. "Last Thursday the ship skirted an ice floe estimated to be 60 miles long. A few hours later, a detached berg 350 feet long was seen drifting southward.

From now on, transatlantic skippers will keep a close watch ahead.

JAPAN CHECKMATED BY RECENT MOVE OF STATES

Mobilization of Troops Planned to Influence Mexican Government.

London, March 27.—The real reason why President Taft sent the American troops to the Mexican frontier is the subject of much conjecture and open comment among the diplomatic and financial interests here.

It is openly asserted that the expedition to the Rio Grande was planned by President Taft to influence the Mexican Government against the consummation of the treaty with Japan, which would have given the island empire unusual advantages in Mexican territory.

It is asserted that had the treaty been signed it would have replaced a similar secret agreement and given to the Mikado a coaling station on the Pacific, with full right of fortification.

In diplomatic circles it is understood that the negotiations between Mexico and Japan were made known to President Taft and that he took drastic means of notifying Mexico of his protest.

It is understood that the action of the President resulted in breaking off the negotiations between Mexico and Japan.

Claims Estate of $45,000.

Kingston, March 27.—On Saturday, J. W. Curry, K.C., of Toronto, was here conducting an examination into the case of Albert Cottonden of Toronto, against Mrs. Joseph George, Kingston. Joseph George died in this city last summer, and the plaintiff is recognized as an illegitimate son of his. He claims he is entitled to the estate of George, valued at about $45,000. At the time of George's death his will could not be found, and the body was exhumed, it being the belief that it was placed in the coffin, but it was not found. Mrs. George was recently granted letters of administration.

SHE IS DYING

Mrs. Theresa Schenk Accused of Murder, Starves.

Chicago, March 27.—Mrs. Therese Schenk, of Hamilton, Ont., a woman who is held for the murder of her husband, is reported to be dying. She has not eaten anything since the tragedy, and is very low.

C.P.R. LOSES VIADUCT CASE

Toronto, March 27.—"Appeal dismissed after three days' argument. Original order stands. Reasons to be given later.—Dewart."

The above cable from London was received by Corporation Counsel Drayton shortly after one o'clock on Saturday afternoon, and was the cause of great rejoicing among civic representatives and officials. It means that the viaduct for which the city has been fighting for years must now be built, and that the death-traps on the Esplanade and other points east and west where the railways enter are to be eliminated and a new Union Station built on the site which was secured by the companies shortly after the great fire. This site is bounded on the north by Front street, on the west by York street, on the south by Esplanade street, and on the east by the Dominion Government customs buildings.

Mr. H. H. Dewart, K.C., who at some inconvenience to himself took the case in hand, is to be congratulated on the splendid legal victory he so materially helped to win for the city. Sir Edward Carson, K.C., the eminent Irishman who, besides being a distinguished lawyer, held office in the Cabinet of Hon. A. J. Balfour, was senior counsel.

The momentous decision of the Privy Council will have far-reaching effects outside of Toronto. It will probably be the last appeal from the decision of the Dominion Railway Board, and will enable that body to proceed with the consideration and decision on some similar cases which it is understood have been held somewhat in abeyance pending this decision.

NEGRO WAS HUNG TO TREE

Booker Washington Argument Led to Murder and Lynching.

Special to the Review.

[illegible] negro, who shot a white man in an argument over Booker Washington, was lynched here to-day. He was arrested by officers after the shooting and on the way to the county jail was taken from the officers by a mob and hung to a tree.

Killed by Trolley.

Toronto, March 27.—Dr. Charles M. Stewart, 142 Carlton street, eye, ear and nose specialist, was killed by a southbound Newmarket car on the Metropolitan line at 5.30 Saturday afternoon. He was out horseback riding and his mount shied at something, throwing him in front of the car, just south of Christ's Church.

His head and face were terribly mangled, and it was considerable time before he could be positively identified. The body was removed to W. M. Ketchel's undertaking establishment at the corner of Yonge and Price streets, and there Dr. George Graham, Avenue road, and Dr. Porter of Huron street, identified the remains. There may be no inquest.

Unearths Treasure Trove.

London, March 27.—Treasure trove to the value of $1,250,000 is reported from Jersey, where it was uncovered by Athelstan Riley while he was pulling down the ruins of an old manor house built in the 13th century, with the object of using the stone to enlarge his present manor.

The discovery includes ancient urns filled with spade guineas coined during the reign of King George III., and bearing the British arms on a spade-shaped shield.

One urn bears the monogram of Emperor Vespasian, the Roman, who flourished in the first century.

FIELDING FAILS TO CONVINCE AT RECIPROCITY MASS MEETING

MEDAL FROM KING GEORGE

Ottawa, March 27.—His Majesty the King has been graciously pleased to award the Edward medal of the second class to Albert H. Adcock, for risking his life to save a little girl from being run over by a train.

On the morning of August 25, 1909, at St. John, N.B., a train from Montreal was entering the train shed, when a little girl about five years old, ran across the track in front of the engine.

The engine driver applied his brakes, but could not stop the train in time, and the child would have been killed had not Adcock, with great quickness and presence of mind, jumped at once to the centre of the track, seized the child and swung her clear of the track.

The engine brushed Adcock's coat as he saved the child, showing how narrow was his own escape.

MAY HAVE BEEN BURNED AT SEA

Glare of Flames Were Seen Through Heavy Mist.

Eureka, Cal., March 27.—A vessel thought to have been a steam schooner bound north, is believed to have burned at sea Friday night, four miles off Table Bluff, south of here.

The name of the vessel or the fate of its crew could not be learned early this morning.

A dense fog made it impossible to discern anything but the misty outlines of the vessel, as it was lit up by the glare of the flames.

No sign of the vessel could be found by the tug Relief, which searched for hours on Saturday around where the flames were seen.

The beach in the vicinity also has been searched, but no flotsam has been found.

New Lutheran Church.

New Hamburg, March 27.—The new Trinity Lutheran Church, costing about $15,000, which is built upon the site of the old church, was opened here yesterday. The dedication ceremonies at the three services held were attended by overflowing audiences. Special trains were run from both Stratford and Berlin, bringing over 500 people. The local choir was assisted by choirs from Stratford, Waterloo and Berlin.

Shot Fired Through Window.

Edmonton, Alta., March 27.—William Lennox, a wealthy American rancher of the Buffalo district, was assassinated by an unknown man, who fired through a window of his house Friday.

Montreal, March 27.—The demonstration on Saturday evening was a sore disappointment to the supporters of reciprocity as at least one-half of the audience was hostile to the Minister of Finance. Questions were hurled at the speakers thick and fast and finally Mr. Fielding lost his temper and threatened all sorts of things if the manufacturers dared to oppose the Ministry unreasonably. The speeches were good, and that of the Finance Minister excellent from his standpoint, but they left Montreal yesterday quite convinced that the speeches had absolutely failed to convert the Montreal business men to the advocacy of reciprocity with the United States. Montreal is still solid against the Fielding-Paterson agreement, and not one convert was made at the demonstration Saturday evening.

Mr. Fielding was given a warm reception. He opened by replying to Mr. Thomas C. Casgrain's attack on him at Mr. Sifton's meeting. Mr. Casgrain, he said, made statements which were without a shadow of foundation when he declared that Mr. Fielding, Finance Minister, was an advocate of annexation to the United States.

"If he had known the Province of Nova Scotia better he would have known that no man under the suspicion of disloyalty could ever have been permitted to occupy a position of prominence in that province. Nova Scotia is loyal and always was loyal. Even under strong provocation she never forgot that constitutional agitation is the proper course for people who have a complaint. She was loyal when many in Canada were disloyal. (Cries of "No.") She was loyal when young patriots were burning down the Parliamentary buildings — she was loyal when the Tories in Montreal were signing the only annexation manifesto that was ever signed. Nova Scotia was loyal when the Tories of Montreal were pelting the King with rotten eggs.

"I challenge any man to show that I have ever spoken or written any word in favor of the annexation of this country with the United States. It is a pure fabrication, without the ghost of a shade of foundation. (Applause.)

Montreal's interest was to preserve its prosperity as the commercial capital of a prosperous and contented people, and if the effect of this measure would be to fill the western prairies with a prosperous and contented people, that would be the surest way of supplying customers for the merchants and manufacturers of Montreal. Then there has been some outcry amongst the British Columbia fruit growers, but he believed that was passing away. The lumber men were alarmed, too, but their alarm has passed away. Mr. Fielding declared that Saskatchewan was almost unanimous for reciprocity, as was shown when Mr. Haultain, the Opposition leader in the Legislature, joined in the resolution of approval. "You have had anti-reciprocity resolutions from the Ontario Legislature, but that's not surprising. They would almost vote there for a resolution to hang Laurier.

"Then in Manitoba, where political feeling ran high he believed that a great mass of the farmers were in favor of reciprocity and would show it when the time came."

A voice: "Why don't you give them a chance to vote?"

Hon. Mr. Fielding: "Oh, they will get that chance a great deal sooner than they want it." (Loud cheers.)

One of the first cries against reciprocity was that the Government had no mandate for doing this thing. Those who had been in politics for long were used to that sort of thing.

Mr. Fielding quoted Sir William Van Horne's letter, that for fifty years there had been a mandate from the Canadian people in favor of reciprocity. Sir William said this was true in the sixties and seventies, but it had not been true since.

The statement was greeted with cheers from some of the audience.

"I am glad," cried Mr. Fielding, "that there are some to cheer that statement, because I will hold them responsible for the words."

In face of Sir William's statement that in 1880 no one advocated reciprocity, Mr. Fielding read a paragraph from the statutes of Canada with a standing offer of reciprocity in various natural products. This was ten years after Sir William Van Horne said the mandate had ceased. In 1886, the statutes were revised and this standing reciprocity offer was crystallized into pre-eminent law — yet Sir William said no one wanted reciprocity.

In the last speech Sir John Macdonald put into the mouth of a Governor-General, he declared his Government was doing all it could to secure reciprocity. (Applause.) In 1894

TO ASK FOR APPROPRIATION OF $800,000 FOR WATER POWER

Large Scheme Calls for Purchase of Power for the City

The question of power for Peterboro which has, within the past few years, particularly been largely discussed, is being brought to the front again and the Review is informed that a proposition is on foot, whereby the City Council will be asked to appropriate $800,000 to be used in purchasing water power for Peterboro.

Prominent and influential citizens are in the committee which has the scheme under discussion, and it is understood, the matter will be brought before the Council with a view of impressing upon the members the importance of the project.

Peterboro undoubtedly is in need of all the water power that can be secured. The manner in which past propositions have been dealt with, has been questioned, on the sides, and another effort to secure for the city what would be an important asset is the subject of the latest enterprise.

Hon. Adam Beck Overcome.

London, March 27.—Hon. Adam Beck was overcome while assisting the firemen to extinguish a serious fire at the cigar box factory on Albert street last night. The chairman of the Hydro-Electric Commission was with the two firemen holding a hose when suddenly the three of them dropped to the ground. They recovered sufficiently to crawl out. The fire started in the dry kiln and caused a loss of $8,000. The loss of the dry kiln will cripple the plant for some time.

Chest Inflammation

Suffered From a Heavy Cold, Pleuritic Pains in Side—Constant Coughing.

"Anyone that goes through all that I suffered last winter will appreciate the value of a remedy that cures like Nerviline cured me." These are the opening words of the solemn declaration of E. P. Von Hayden, the well-known violinist of Middleton. "My work kept me out late at night, and playing in cold drafty places brought on a severe cold that settled on my chest. I had a harsh racking cough and severe pains darted through my sides and settled in my shoulders. I used different liniments, but none broke up my cold till I used Nerviline. I rubbed it on my neck, chest and shoulders, morning and night, and all the pain disappeared. Realizing that such a heavy cold had run down my system, I took Ferrozone at meals, and was completely built up and strengthened. Since using Nerviline I have no more colds or pleurisy, and enjoy perfect health."

Nerviline CURES CHEST COLDS

It's because Nerviline contains the purest and most healing essences and medicinal principles, because it has the power of sinking through the pores to the kernel of the pain—these are the reasons why it breaks up colds, cures lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia, sciatica, and rheumatism. Refuse any substitute your dealer may suggest—insist on Nerviline only. Large bottles, 50c, trial size 25c. Sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

GREY AND IMPERIALISM

The close of Earl Grey's tenure of office of Governor-General of Canada is being marked with a series of rash and ill-timed attacks on the representative of the British Crown, for what is alleged to be undue imperialism. John S. Ewart, he who complained loudly that Sir Allen Aylesworth had stolen the credit for the preparation of The Hague case from him, has attacked Earl Grey in a most unnecessary and unbecoming manner for having sought to advance the imperial relations of Canada and the Motherland.

In this Mr. Ewart has taken a Bourassaic stand that is certainly not creditable to himself as a British Canadian. It is the privilege of Henri Bourassa, as a British subject, enjoying the right of free speech and action under the Union Jack, to attack even the Governor-General for being pro-imperialist. But one discounts what Henri Bourassa has to say on the subject, knowing the man's racial peculiarities. Why Mr. Ewart should complain of Earl Grey's actions we cannot reasonably conceive.

Earl Grey has filled his post with dignity and credit. He is one of the warmest advocates of Canadian interests that Canada has, and we may be sure that whatever he may do on his return to the old country Canada will receive the benefit of his strenuous advertising and commendation.

Earl Grey has handled his position with tact and graciousness. He has neither asserted himself in public more than is proper, nor used his post to further any policy or foster any sentiment that is not strictly in keeping with Canadian sentiment. Naturally, as the representative of the British Crown, Earl Grey would like to see the relations of Canada with Britain as close as possible. In that he is of the same mind as the great majority of the Canadian people. Anything that he may do constitutionally, and within proper bounds for the furtherance of the imperial tie will be warmly commended by Canadians, in spite of the growls of such sticklers for "autonomy" as Bourassa and Ewart. Canada's autonomy is nowise in danger. As a great self-governing nation, Canada can separate herself from the Motherland, or cement that tie in indissoluble bonds of love and loyalty. This latter course is the practically unanimous course advocated by all Canadians—for the Bourassas and the Ewarts are but specks on the ocean—and Earl Grey, in using any judiciously directed efforts toward the strengthening of the imperial bond, is doing his duty by Canada as well as by Britain.

Canada has had too much of this Bourassa spirit during the Laurier regime. Not long ago Sir Wilfrid Laurier found it necessary to give an address in Montreal—this was after the Drummond-Arthabaskaville election—in which he emphasized the necessity of carefully defending Canadian autonomy, just as if Britain were making any effort to invade Canadian rights. He pawed the air for a while over making sure that Canadians were assured all their rights, this speech being for habitant consumption.

Sir Wilfrid has been guilty on many occasions of expressing sentiment indicative of a desire to pose, not as a cementer of imperial relations, but as sponsor of a separatist idea. Earl Grey's regime has seen more real progress toward imperialism of to-day than the term of any previous Governor-General, and if the Duke of Connaught can aid in further uniting the old land and the new, Canadians will not object. As for Ewart and Bourassa—bah!

THE REASON WHY

The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald has great expectations as to the benefits the Knox-Fielding pact will bring to the United States.

In his view, it should make Canada a source of raw material supply for the industries of the United States, it should give the United States the Canadian market for manufactured goods, and it should put Britain out of the competition for trade in this the eldest of her daughter States.

The following are the Washington correspondent's own words as published in the Record-Herald of the 10th inst.:

"Reciprocity with Canada ought to double our exports to that country within the next five years and run them up to $500,000,000 within the next ten years.

Canada is not a manufacturing country, and needs almost everything that is produced in our factories, while on the other hand we need the timber and agricultural products.

The farmers of the United States should not be frightened about a fall in values, because the price of wheat, corn and other staples is fixed in London or Liverpool and depends upon the law of supply and demand rather than upon local influences. If the world's crops are small, prices will be high; if they are large, they will be low, and that is all there is of it. The result is based upon averages.

On the other hand, however, we ought to supply the Canadians with most of the manufactured merchandise they are now getting from England, and it might be done if the tariff concessions promised by the reciprocity treaty are made."

A TWO-PART FARCE

Nothing could be more farcical than the two-people vaudeville 'turn' which Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Fielding are giving on the Ottawa stage to-day. Sir Richard is pushing through the Senate a bill which professes to provide for the careful inspection of Canadian grain and to protect 'Manitoba hard' against all danger of being 'mixed' with inferior grades. Mr. Fielding, at the same time, is driving through the House of Commons a set of resolutions whose chief recommendation in his eyes is that they will send Canadian grain where it cannot be inspected by Canadian officials and where it is frankly purchased for the express purpose of 'mixing' it with inferior grades.

The 'man who would be king' and 'the man who was'—i.e., the man who wanted to be Finance Minister and the man who captured the 'plum'—should do better 'team work' than this. One labors to build up, what the other plots to pull down. One proposes to throw a shield over the Canadian grain grower, and the other attempts to entice him into the enemy's country, where he will suffer regularly and systematically the very evils from which he has asked Government rescue. We are to appoint and pay an army of Government inspectors to watch his grain; we are to go as far as to nationalize when necessary the elevators in which his grain is stored; we are to establish a grain commission to guard him at every point; we are especially to make it a very great crime to mix his grain and so rob it of its distinctive qualities. And then we are to deliberately invite him to send his grain where all these things will happen to it every day in the regular course of business, and he will have no redress whatever.

If this is good 'team work,' then the purpose must be—not to protect the farmer—but to fool him with a pretence of protection which will not protect, or with the promise of a market which will not bring profit.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The music which the Sheffield Choir is carrying weighs a quarter of a ton. There must be something Wagnerian about it.

A monoplane weighing a ton has made a flight of two miles in France. It will soon be possible for President Taft to go up in the air.

It will take more than the reciprocity bait to entice the Manitoba people into forgetting that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the man who has repeatedly given the province a lemon.

The members of the Manitoba Legislature will draw indemnity of $1,500, for about five or six weeks labor. Time costs money in the western province. The members of the Legislature are each making about $12,000 a year if the indemnity is simply for the loss of time and loss by detention from business, as it is supposed to be.

There are over 8,000 claims in the Porcupine district. Some have gold—are proven mines. Many will be as bare of the yellow metal as an elephant's hide is of fur. Yet that does not prevent the incorporation of companies captialised at two or three million dollars to exploit the public on the supposition that the claims contain gold. The public will be well advised to remember Cobalt, and go slowly and carefully into the purchase of Porcupine stocks. "Wildcatting" has already started. It is good policy to let someone else get bitten.

Senator Beall, of Illinois, believes that a substantial reward is the very best way of defeating the race suiciders. He has introduced a bill into the legislature which provides for the payment of $100 to every mother of every child born within two years of marriage, and for every addtiional child born within two years of the preceding one. Twins get a premium of $200 and triplets $300. In addition bachelors over 35 are taxed $10 a year, the amount to go toward the payment of premiums. Generous aid to the head of a family, like this, ought to banish the fear of there being too many little mouths to provide for.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"It shows the sort of man Silberberg is," she cried hotly. "And now perhaps you will be so good as to help me to some conveyance to Mobile?"

"I have a boat on the lake," said Carson, "half a mile inland. There is a channel to Palmetto Beach. The boat and crew are at your service."

"I should prefer to walk, if you please," said she.

"Unless you have a day or two to spend in the journey I should not recommend the attempt."

"I know some people," said she, "at the Yupon Hedge inn at Palmetto Beach. Can you"—

"If we go at once," he replied, "you may be there for dinner."

"I am ready," said she, rising. "Let us go, please, immediately."

Captain Harrod led the way easterly alongshore to a spot where the shrub grew well down toward the beaten beach. They walked back between clumps of dark green rosemary, over a low place in the dunes, down to the dry, hard bottom of a former pool. They emerged upon a little irregular hillock and looked forth upon a strange tarn of inky water, its black waves crested with foam, like white plumes on funeral crape. The shores of this sinister lake were densely wooded by sullen ranks of pines and cypresses. Virginia gasped at sight of the somber mere. It seemed such an eery spot in which to be cast away with these strange men who lived behind closed doors and walked the sands as to leave no footprints!

"Haul out the launch, captain."

Why was the trim, speedy looking launch so completely hidden in the tall cane? The puldoos puddling in the reeds made sounds like prowling accomplices.

Miss Suarez swept haughtily to her place in the boat. Carson, with his eye steadfastly fixed on his engine, quickly shoved off.

"Evenin' to yeh," said the captain, still with one foot in the water, like a heron.

"Good evening," responded the young man.

Virginia said nothing. Carson, stealing a look at her, saw the flush dying out upon her face and a smile taking its place—a dimpling, spasmodic smile, accompanied by little quick dilations of the nostrils, as if Miss Suarez was desirous of indulging in a laugh, but saw no citable reason for so doing. She waved her handkerchief at the captain.

"Do you see," said Carson, pointing to the receding shore, "that the little hill at the landing is just a mass of shells?"

"Why, so it is, I believe," she exclaimed. "How came so many there?"

"It's a prehistoric kitchen midden," said this most extraordinary young pirate. "So many people lived there that they literally made a hill of the shells of the mollusks they ate."

Mentally her speech was, "How odd that this young outcast should know about archaeology, or is it paleontology?"

It was easy to study him because he looked so religiously away from her. He was rather interesting.

He threw over the tiller to round into a little reedy cove, but instead of running ashore he entered a narrow creek, which he followed through such amazing tortuosities that the sun, low in the west, was now on the right, now on the left, sometimes astern and again dead ahead.

Their talk was verging upon the personal and therefore to be discouraged. How keenly observing he must be to detect in her cosmopolitan English the old home accent! She had supposed herself to be quite rid of it. She was quite recovered from her alarm and looked bewitching as they emerged from the narrows and shot out into the lagoon, the blue waves of which had subsided into round rolling short swells.

"Goodby," cried Virginia, looking back into the enchanted marsh. "Goodby! This is the world again!"

Carson was looking the other way with less persistence now. There was something mysterious in the charm of this girl's manner. Her goodby to the narrows seemed a subtle rapprochement to him. They were in the world, and therefore, figuratively, she let him come closer.

The lights of the hotels and villas along the north shore swept by them in a panorama of fairy illuminations.

"We have been very impersonal," said he. "May I introduce myself? My name is"—

"Oh, please don't!" she exclaimed. "Forgive me, but I'd rather not know."

"It is mo' interesting," said he, with a slow smile, "not to know. I shall always think of you as"—

"As the girl from Mars," she suggested. "I came tumbling down to you in a heap out of the sky."

"Isn't there an asteroid named Psyche?" he inquired. "I'm going to assume that there is and name you after that."

"A purely telescopic star"—

"Because of its distance only, Psyche."

The boat quietly passed out across the woven threads of light that webbed the water from a thousand points about Strong's bayou and gently came to at the dock of the Yupon Hedge inn. The promenades were crowded with people in evening clothes and waiters with trays. It was a gay scene, and Carson felt the pull of it as they stepped ashore.

"Can I do anything mo' for you?" he asked.

"No, no; you must go now! But thank you a thousand times," said she.

"Psyche," said he fervently, "I shall never escape from the toils you have lured me into. Never!"

He carried her hands to his lips, kissed them passionately and leaped into the boat. Virginia watched him an agony as he darted away like a frightened tarpon, not toward his cabin in the dunes, but out through the entrance of the bayou and off across the bay toward Point Clear. One more mystery to ponder over.

CHAPTER III.

CARSON'S LANDING.

It has always been a point of genealogical dispute as to whether or not Theodore Carson's father was of kin to the founder of the old Carson place up Fish river.

General Carson in his lean years used to sell turpentine to his namesake at the dingy ship chandlery on the wharf near the Eslava street oyster dock. On these commercial occasions the general, when mellowed by juleps, with his foot on the brass rail and his elbows on the bar, used to call the ship chandler "cousin." At other times, however, he made no bones of his opinion that the Mobile Carsonses were dashed common people and branded as impudent any fool claim of kinship between the humble tradesman and the Carsonses of Marengo county. Theodore was a little bitter sometimes as he recalled the phantoms, the pursuit of which had ruined two successive owners of the estate—the general's breeding maggot and his father's curious pride in a mere name—whereupon he gave chase to a phantom of his own, with what success we shall see, and followed what his friends called a rainbow with such true Carson enthusiasm that when he left Virginia Suarez on the dock at Strong's bayou, on that sandy, deliciously dreamy, southern shore of Mobile bay, he steered through the night for a house very nearly dismantled, on an estate growing up to persimmon thickets, dewberry beds and palmetto slashes, the very title to which was about to pass to his creditors. His ignis fatuus was in the cabin among the gulf beach dunes, but neither that nor the precarious state of his fortunes could account for his alternate joy and gloom as he fared north in the night. The sky maiden was the thing that really mattered.

He wondered whether her people knew of the chance by which he and Captain Harrod had rescued the fair castaway. Probably they believed her lost. The helicopter had scarcely paused when she struck the dune, but had shot out over the gulf like a flying gull. They must mourn the girl as lost, and he had the girl's name to discover.

The Roc came coasting back in the same tardy dawn that lamped that young somnambulist to his home. Mr. Silberberg lighted and smoked countless cigarettes. Mr. Shayne nervously walked the deck and debated the question of letting Mrs. Shayne know of her niece's tragic death at once or of waiting for a personal interview. For the Roc had had no word of either the helicopter or the girl, and they saw no gleam of hope for her. She was a dependent and something of a problem for Mrs. Shayne. Any ordinary circumstance that would have separated the aunt and niece would not have been mourned inconsolably by either of them. In fact, Mrs. Shayne had expressed to her husband some wonder as to what Silberberg saw in the girl. But to lose her like this, with all the unpleasant publicity of the terrible affair!

"Marie will never get over it," said Shayne. "What the devil ails that fellow aft?"

The fellow aft was Wizner, inventor of the lost helicopter, discoursing to the crew in pure assorted maledictions, which he heaped on all concerned in the loss of his machine.

The light found them far down toward the lagoon, flying high for safety in the darkness. The long, straight beach lay white, cold looking and solitary in the pure light, which touched the great gas holder to silver while the earth and sea were still in gloom. Away south in the offing were two steamers, and from the wireless overhead could be heard the discharges by which the operator was making a last despairing effort to obtain news of the lost girl.

The buzzer from the engine room was sprung with a sharp rattle. Mr. Shayne went to the speaking tube.

"We all think, sir," said the engineer, "that we've about reached the place where the young lady went out to sea."

THIRTEEN DROWNED.

S. S. Sechelt Founders on British Columbia Coast.

Victoria, B.C., March 27.—With 29 passengers and crew on board, the steamer Sechelt, a small shelter-deck steamer operated between Victoria and Sooke by the British Columbia Shipping Co. is lost.

The latest information is that thirteen lives were lost. Five whites and eight foreign laborers.

The Sechelt left Friday afternoon with about 35 passengers, mostly laborers, bound to the Canadian Northern Railroad construction camp at Peddar Bay, and a crew of four men with Captain H. B. James, manager of the company, in charge.

Saturday morning a boy arrived at Esquimalt in a gasoline launch from William Head quarantine station, with news that the steamer had capsized. All that the boy knew was that the Sechelt had capsized, and he believed all were drowned. He had been sent to get assistance.

The tug William Joliffe was sent out as soon as the news were received and wireless messages were sent to the Australian liner Mona, which left for the Antipodes early Saturday morning, notifying Capt. Morrise of the disaster.

The steamer seemingly made the call at William Head and proceeded to Peddar Bay, when she encountered the strong southwest squalls which prevailed about 4.30 p.m.

She was then off Beachy Head, a wooded cliff forming the western entrance at Beachy Bay.

The Sechelt was 32 feet in length, with a gross register of 73 tons.

Dr. E. Mabel Henderson, one of the best known lady doctors in Hamilton, was found dead of heart failure in her bed yesterday morning. She had been ailing a year.

Postmaster Thomas E. Hay died at Listowel last night, aged 71 years. He has been ill for about a year and last fall underwent an operation in a Toronto hospital. He was Liberal in politics.

Gordon Milne, the two-year-old Hamilton boy, who was frightfully burned Saturday night at his parents' home, when he pulled a lamp off the table, causing it to explode, died at the hospital yesterday morning.

After a two weeks' diligent search the body of Kenneth South, of Brampton, was found. The young man was working on the mill dam at Meadowvale with Henry Brown, the owner of the mill. The ice gave way, both losing their lives.

The Megantic, which arrived in Halifax on Saturday, made a new record in wireless telegraphy, sending a message Friday night to Poldhu, Cornwall, when the ship was 2,500 miles distant from that station. An answer was received from Liverpool Saturday morning.

Powder Merger.

Montreal, March 25.—Official confirmation was yesterday given to the proposed consolidation of the interests of the Standard Explosives, the Hamilton Powder, and the Ontario Powder companies.

William McMaster, the president of the new corporation, which is to be known as Canadian Explosives, Limited, declared yesterday that the capitalization of the concern will be $3,750,000, and that the head office will be in Montreal, the Standard Explosives having moved over from their old quarters in the Board of Trade building to those formally occupied by the Hamilton Powder Co. in the Canadian Pacific Telegraph Co.'s building. F. H. Langford of Montreal is treasurer of the company, and H. B. Brainard is secretary.

Steam Barge Burned.

Brockville, March 27.—The steam barge Cataract, owned by the Cataract Ice Co., Niagara Falls, Ont., was practically destroyed by fire yesterday morning in Tunnel Bay. The loss will be between $4,000 and $5,000. Four of the crew had been at work for weeks fitting her out for the season, and the blaze is supposed to have originated from a small stove which became overheated. When the alarm was turned in, the after portion of the craft was ablaze and the whole upper works, including the engine and boiler room, were badly gutted before the efforts of the brigade triumphed. The hull above the water line from amidships to the stern was charred, and it will be necessary to dock her for repairs.

Three Killed In Wreck.

Winnipeg, March 27.—A train of empty passenger coaches eastbound to Toronto, on the C.P.R., met head-on Saturday with an immigrant train of stock and effects en route to Winnipeg, near Schreiber, east of Fort Willian. Both of the trains were badly wrecked. The wreckage caught fire. Three persons—S. T. Kimball, brakeman; Berges, fireman, and an unknown passenger — are reported to have been killed. All the injured were taken to Port Arthur. They were: Harry Pullen, engineer; Mac. Christy, fireman; Ambrose Kelly, engineer.

Just Like Ontario.

Winnipeg, March 25.—With the minimum of publicity, the closing hours of both the Manitoba and Saskatchewan Legislatures have been characterized by a salary grab of $500 for each legislator. Manitoba led the way and the press was supposed to say little about it. Next day came the report of a one-hundred dollar boost for the Saskatchewan legislators, but on investigation it appears to be five hundred. They will all now draw about $1,500 for five or six weeks' arduous labor.

How a Local Young Man Made Money

There are many people in and around the City of Peterborough who have money, looking for investment, who prefer a safe investment, such as bonds or low rate of interest, to investing in mortgages or other securities which require special judgment in selecting, and constant and careful watching to avoid loss. To such we would commend the following result to their careful consideration—

A young man of the City of Peterborough had his life insured sixteen years ago last January for Ten Thousand Dollars ON A SINGLE PAYMENT 15-YEAR ENDOWMENT PLAN. The premium paid was $6,460.00. On the 31st of January, 1910, the company paid him $12,116.00 in cash, after giving him fifteen years of free insurance. What do you think of that as an investment?

Are bonds or municipal debentures, or even the best mortgages, to be compared with it, when you consider that the risk of the life was carried during the 15 years? And remember, the security is as safe as any debenture or mortgage, and there was no trouble or expense entailed of any kind after the initial investment.

The above result was obtained from the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, under policy No. 47340, W.H.B.

Would Life be Worth Living

IF YOUR SIGHT WAS GONE?

I come to you with a few words about eye-sight. I have been helping people SEE BETTER for many years, and I am sure many have held me in grateful remembrance for it. I have fitted thousands in this city of Peterborough and surrounding country, who are comfortably wearing the glasses that I fitted them with. I meet them every day wherever I go. I want to help more; I want to help you. You need help for your eyes if you don't see well, or if you have eye-strain. I make no charge for examination. If you come to me you can come with the full assurance that you will be told whether glasses are needed or not. We are not in business simply to SELL GLASSES. The retention of your patronage and of your commendation are far more valuable to us. Our qualifications for eye-sight testing are of the highest standard, and our method of testing is most up-to-date. Our instruments include the Retinoscope, Ophthalometer and "Phoroptometer," this last instrument being the only one of its kind in Peterborough.

BOY SCOUTS ARE TO CORRESPOND

Organization of 22 Nations to Write Each Other

A plan is being worked out by which the Boy Scouts of 22 different nations will correspond with one another. This scheme, originated by Sir General Robert Baden-Powell, has in mind the aim of promoting friendships among the boys of different countries and thus creating in the boys and therefore in the citizens of the future, "the entente cordiale." Arrangements are now being made so that the Boy Scouts of America will send postal cards or letters to fellow scouts in England, Germany France, India, Australia and various other countries and that correspondence will be encouraged among the boys of different nations.

The idea is to have this exchange of correspondence on days that are of national importance. For instance, General Baden-Powell is arranging correspondence between the boys of England and of other countries, especially for St. George's Day, April 23, for St. George is the patron Saint of the Boy Scouts of England. He is anxious that the boys of England should get letters from the youngsters of other nations on that day and that they in turn should answer them. The American idea is to have the boys of other countries write to the Boy Scouts of America on July 4. The leaders of the Boy Scout movement hope to do much in this way toward promoting international peace.

Sir General Robert Baden-Powell in writing about the scheme says: "My idea is that Boy Scouts belonging to places, the name of which commences with the same initial letter or the names of which are similar, might correspond with one another. With this aim in view I am anxious to obtain a list of places in various countries to which the Scouts in Great Britain could write."

CHOIR REGRET THEIR DEPARTURE

Mr. and Mrs. Renwick Have Been Twelve Years at Port Hope Church

Mr. J. H. Renwick of Port Hope, who has accepted the position of organist at George Street Methodist Church, was with Mrs. Renwick, honored by the members of the Port Hope Methodist church choir, at a recent social evening at their home.

Each received a handsome present and the following address was read:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Renwick— In view of your early departure from Port Hope, the members of the choir of the Methodist church gathered here through your kindness and hospitality to-night, desiring to express to you both their deep sense of regret at your prospective removal from the town. For twelve years you have occupied a warm place in the hearts and lives of the members of your choir and it was with much sorrow the news of your going from Port Hope to Peterboro was received by us all.

You, Mr. Renwick, as organist and choir master have not only shown during all these years your pronounced ability as an organist and musician, but by your energy, courtesy and tact have succeeded in not only keeping together but steadily improving the musical portion of our church service. To regulate and control as well as at all times to evoke the enthusiasm and earnestness of a voluntary choir, is indeed no mean task, but in this you have been eminently successful, and leave the choir an efficient and faithful organization of church workers in their own department.

You, Mrs. Renwick, as choir leader, have been an inspiration to all of us and possess not only our admiration for your talents as a vocalist, but our loving affection and warmest friendship. Ever regular in your attendance at our practices, always interested in the progress of the choir, and a personal friend of each member your leaving us is a cause of deep regret and sincere sorrow. In conclusion we ask you to accept the accompanying gifts from the choir as a mark of our esteem and regard, and whilst deeply lamenting the separation, we trust that in your new home you will both be as successful as here, and find as many warm friends as you leave behind in Port Hope.

We remain, yours very sincerely.
Signed on behalf of the Port Hope Methodist Church Choir.

CHURCH'S COLD WATER Alabastine

WHEN you decorate your walls with Alabastine you'll agree that the soft, velvety Alabastine tints outclass wall paper and oil paint in beauty and effectiveness. Their beauty is permanent, too. Alabastine colors will not fade—will not rub off. Alabastine is a dry powder made from Alabaster rock. It mixes easily with cold water and forms a rock cement which hardens on the wall, and can be recoated without removing the old coats. Alabastine is the most durable, economical and sanitary wall coating in the world to-day. It is indorsed by leading authorities on interior decoration. 21 tints and white. Anyone can easily apply it.

SPECIAL SERMONS IN CITY CHURCHES

Large Congregations Attended Seavices of Unusual Interest

The special services announced in the city churches for yesterday were attended by large congregations and ewre of decided interest. At St. James' Methodist church the second anniversary of the church opening was observed, with Rev. H. M. Manning, the first pastor, taking the pulpit both morning and evening. At the session of the Sunday school, a sermon, "Bringing in the Sheaves," was particularly interesting and the attendance was very large. The congregational tea and rally will be held tonight.

At George street and Charlotte street Methodist churches, the pulpits were occupied by Rev. Dr. Graham, of Toronto, and Dr. Long, of Brampton, both preachers giving strong sermons. Special music was given by the choir at each church.

Rev. Mr. Ruhl, late of Thibet, China, gave missionary discourses at Bethany Tabernacle. At Park street Baptist church Rev. W. C. Riddiford continued his series of special sermons at the evening service and Rev. H. R. Trumpour spoke on the life of the Apostle St. Thomas, Holy Communion also being observed.

Rev. H. C. Coon commenced a series of sermons on ethical questions and Rev. Dr. Langfeldt during his evening sermon strongly condemned the much discussed higher criticism of to-day.

SEE "THE ROSARY" WEDNESDAY NIGHT

If you are looking for a unique, but most pleasing change, be sure and see "The Rosary" which appears at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday evening next.

Many of us have always believed that a play dealing with the tremendous power of our human thoughts was really needed upon the stage. Men and women arise in the morning and go about their work heedless of the fact that it is their own attitude of mind that brings them success or failure. That is what is shown in "The Rosary."

"The Rosary" proved the sensation of the season in Boston, where it has just completed a three months' run.

HAD A FANCY FOR RUNNING

Strange Case of an Englishman Will be Examined

A very strange case is Henry Wright, who appeared at police court this morning. He is an Englishman who came here from London, England, five years ago, and is at times mentally unbalanced. When these periods of temporary insanity control him he delights in chasing and racing with trains. Lakefield also possesses for him a peculiar fascination, as he often tries to race the Lakefield train, but has never succeeded so far. He also believes that he is being treated by Christian Science, and complains of pains in his head.

In a railway accident in the Old Country when he was a boy of fifteen he injured his back, and since then he has been subject to these periods of unrest and a desire to surpass or outrun some person. He said he felt as if he wanted to tear about here and there.

Money is scarce with him and he has no friends in this country. He was examined by a doctor recently and a further investigation into his condition will be made this afternoon.

FAST DRIVING SHOULD CEASE

Sunday Evening Practices on George Street Need a Remedy.

Race-track time was again in evidence last night when two youths with a livery outfit collided with another turnout, with the result that the latter was damaged and the occupants thrown out on to the road. At the police court this morning the offenders claimed that their horse was uncontrollable at the time. Such may have been the case. On the other hand the incident may have been in keeping with hundreds of others which occur on George street of a Sunday evening. Young fellows hire liveries and drive on this street in a manner which is both unlawful and of danger to pedestrians and vehicles in which the occupants are more peaceably inclined.

HIGHER CRITICISM STRONGLY CONDEMNED BY DR. LANGFELDT

Word of God is Inspired and Infallible—Its Veracity Should Not be Questioned.

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt preached an excellent sermon at St. Luke's church last night, in which he spoke against higher criticism in no uncertain way. The reverend gentleman said he detested the world's higher critic. What right had men to criticize? Why were the so-called scholars telling us that portions of the work of God could not be accepted as prophetic? The speaker referred to several verses of the scripture which had been questioned by the higher critics as the veracity of the statements made. He pointed out that the statements were of the language of man, and this would account for any slight leaning away from the actualities, without impairing the truth.

"Is it pride, or is it a desire to make statements which would be talked about?" asked the preacher. "Are the higher critics seeking notoriety? Is the phraseology used by the higher critics given by them to make an appearance of great learning?"

"It becomes criminal," he said, "when one in the garb of a minister, having sworn allegiance to God and His word, would spread abroad amongst his hearers his own doubts. One of the favorite methods of Satan in his attack upon the word is under pretense of much reverence, to seek to introduce that which is fatal to a full belief of the Bible, namely, that some portions of the word of God are fallible and parts only infallible. By what right is it that anyone claims the liberty thus to deal with the word of God? and if, for instance, a minister would choose to enter upon this destructive and uncertain path himself, by what right is he at liberty to torture the flock which he should lead unto the truth and to build up and edify by leading the tender conscience unto such an investigation?"

The text for the discourse was taken from St. Peter I., 1 chapter 23 verse: "The word of God which liveth and abideth forever," and the subject, "Is the word of God infallible and inspired?"

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt said that the word of God was infallible, and amidst all the many changes it abideth forever. It was most important that God's children should have perfect confidence in it, and hold fast. If the veracity of the word was taken away, the foundation of life went also, and the instrument through which the spirit worked was disparaged. We should not let the satanic influences brought to bear upon us cast any doubt. We should examine our own hearts and find the answer. Everyone had the right to reason on the question as to what should be taken and rejected. The word of God was written so that everyone could read. It is, as it stands, the inspired and infallible word of God, and there was no such thing as dictation. The Holy Spirit did not dictate. God comes as a comforter, and leads in all the little matters of life. It was not those who felt the power of the Great Comforter who criticized. It was the arrogant, the self sufficient. We might not be able to reconcile everything but in due time the word would be vindicated. It had made the world better, had shown the fatherhood of God, and the brotherhood of man. Let us hold fast and believe firmly in it and all the satanic influences would be of no avail.

DANCING AND THE THEATRE CONDEMNED BY REV. C. H. COON

"Questionable Amusements" Dealt With in Rational Manner—Public Dances Thoroughly Bad—Cards are Gamblers Tools.

> "My heart bleeds for the men and women of Peterboro, who will gather in the parlors of their homes and play cards to the small wee hours of the morning."

Rev. C. H. Coon, pastor of Marck St. Methodist church discussed the question of amusements last evening, and their relation to the Methodist church.

After reading the foot note of the church, which had been in force up till the last general conference, which refers to dancing, card-playing, theater going, and the other questionable amusements, he read the note that has been substituted in its place, leaving it to the enlightened Christian conscience to decide what amusements are proper.

The sermon last evening is the first of a series on subjects ethical in nature, which will be delivered by the pastor on Sunday evenings.

"In dealing with the matter of questionable amusements said Mr. Coon," I urge young people not to indulge in any that are not compatible with Christian character.

"The attitude of people towards amusements has a great deal to do with their religious development. There is no question but what the human mind is so constituted that it demands diversion from the daily routine of life. It is a healthy sign. There are some things that appear to be necessary to the full orbed well developed life. One of the most important is work. If we do not diligently busy our hands and our brains in some useful way we become mere parasites on society.

"Legitimate diversion is essential. Certain Puritanical people will ever deny this fact however. There are times and circumstances which demand a change of atmosphere and rest will not be sufficient.

"There is a difference between recreation and amusement. The real difficulty arises when we are confronted with those diversions which are hurtful and those that are harmless, and when we attempt to select."

"The new paragraph to the rules of the Methodist Church represents the attitude of the leaders of Methodism towards the question of amusements. The church claims the right of guiding the judgment of her people, in the matter of amusements and the Methodist church is not a Puritanical one.

"Each one of us by our lives and actions are preaching to the world around us. Some may be preaching a meagre, scrappy gospel, and we are judged by our attitude towards the amusement question."

In regard to theatre going, Mr. Coon said: "We are against it. Some plays may be elevating, but it must be admitted that such performances are exceptional. It is a bad institution. The tendency of theatrical performances is to cater to the tastes and demands of the community, and the general taste is that which goes beyond the bounds of propriety.

"It caters to the abnormal appetites of regular theatre goers. In regard to religious plays, there may be some that help, but there is nearly always much in them that is not at all helpful.

"Many people go without proper discrimination, and they learn to like the bad as well as the good in plays.

"In connection with card playing," "cards are nothing more than gamblers' tools," said the pastor. "They are the inheritance of a non intellectual age. They are introduced by idleness, and have always been the instruments of the black leg and the gambler.

"There will never be any Methodists in this or any other country, as long as they are a card playing people."

"Many a mother has allowed the card game in her home and in later years has wept bitterly because of what the social game has meant to her son.

"Card playing cannot lead to the glory of God, and it is a terrible waste of time.

"My heart bleeds for the men and women of Peterboro," said the speaker, "who will gather in parlors of their homes, and play cards until the small wee hours of the morning, and in secret chambers until the glinting of the morning light."

The public dance the pastor considered to be thoroughly bad, he could see no harm however in the quiet dance in the parlors of respectable homes.

He read some reasons given by a certain young lady, why she considered the public dance to be objectionable. First, it leads one into late hours and crowded rooms, secondly, it leads one into pernicious company. It leads into an intimacy with the other sex that is wrong in many respects. There are many shameless attitudes taken in the public dance which would not be tolerated in the private home.

Mr. Coon's sermon was one of great scope and he dealt with it is a most comprehensive manner.

OCCUPANTS OF BUGGY THROWN OUT ON STREET

Case of Reckless Driving Which Might Have Been Serious

On a charge of reckless driving last night, two young fellows appeared before the magistrate this morning. As result of their speeding they had a rear end collision with a buggy in which were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Howden, both of whom were thrown out onto the road. Some damage was also sustained by the collision to Mr. Howden's buggy.

The case was adjourned for a week, during which the amount of the cost of repairs will be ascertained, and which the boys agreed to pay.

These two young fellows rented a rather spirited horse from a local livery for a pleasure drive, so one of them stated. In front of J. J. Turner & Sons' store, they said, they heard a rig rapidly coming up behind them. They crossed over to their right side of the street, and when the horse behind came up the horse the boys were driving stepped out, not caring to be passed. Before they could pull up they had run into Mr. Howden's buggy, the wheels of the two rigs interlocking and throwing Mr. Howden and his wife into the road.

Mr. Howden brought the two of them to the police station last night. The owner of the livery horse was present and gave evidence as to the horse rented to the two young fellows.

The magistrate, before settling the matter, stated that in his estimation the boys were apparently incompetent to drive, and would be more adapted to driving cows.

OBITUARY

The Late Mrs. Patterson

Mrs. Patterson, who resided with her son at 383 Downie street, died last night about four o'clock at an advanced age.

The funeral takes place to-morrow morning. The deceased will likely be interred at Burleigh cemetery.

Death of Mrs. Coulter

Many citizens will learn with deep regret of the death of Mrs. Coulter, wife of Mr. Robert Coulter, of this city, which sad event took place at the residence of her son, Mr. Wm. McCormack, 266 Crawford street, Toronto, where she had been for some weeks. The late Mrs. Coulter passed away on Saturday. The funeral was held at Toronto to-day.

The Late Jennie Arnott

Jennie, Amelia, Sophia Arnott, at the tender age of two years and five months passed away Sunday afternoon about 2.30 at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. William T. Arnott, township of Otonabee, Lot 25, concession 25, near Downers Corners.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 to Little Lake cemetery. Rev. H. R. Trumpour will officiate.

The Late Mrs. Cavanagh

Mrs. Richard Cavanagh, a life-long resident of Otonabee died last evening, about five o'clock at the residence of her son, William Cavanagh, Otonabee. She had attained to an honorable old age, and during her life her numerous estimable qualities won for her the highest respect of the whole community.

Her husband pre-deceased her about five years ago. A family of two sons and three daughters survive her, to whom the deepest sympathy of their many friends is sincerely extended.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday morning at nine o'clock from the residence of her son, to St. Joseph's Church and thence to St. Joseph's cemetery, Douro.

Tourist Cars to Western Canada

There is no more comfortable way to travel to the West than in a Canadian Pacific tourist sleeping car. These cars run from Toronto to Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver daily at 10.10 p.m. Berths are fully equipped with bedding, every travelling convenience is afforded and an attentive porter is in charge. The extra cost is very small and tourist cars are attached to each Homeseekers' special train from Toronto. Early application to local C.P.R. agent should be made for berths. 2d

Medical Men of San Francisco Discuss the Question of Whether it Makes Him Invulnerable

San Francisco, Cal., March 27.—Whether the abnormally thick skull of champion "Jack" Johnson is a protection to him in the arena was a question much discussed by physicians today.

Here are some of the opinions of the leading medical men of this city:

Dr. E. S. Howard—"If "Jack" Johnson has a skull with an average thickness you couldn't knock him out with a sledgehammer. I have examined thousands of heads, however, and never a man who came up to that. Of course, he may have this abnormal thickness in places where it would be of little protection to him. The chin, of course, is the most vulnerable point, the unconsciousness being caused by driving the lower jaw back under the sides of the lobes of the brain. But if he has a skull like that, I repeat that he is invulnerable.

Dr. Henry Harris—The thickness of skull, if generally, would probably serve as a protection against a blow delivered to the point of the chin or to the back of the head. We find fractures more common with small children than in grown people. Concussion, I would say offhand, would be guarded against by an unusually thick skull.

Dr. T. W. B. Leland—Generally speaking the skull of a negro is thicker than that of a white man. It is quite possible, therefore, that it would serve as a protection.

Dr. B. F. Alden—As the chin is the most vulnerable point the thickness of the skull might not be a protection in a boxing match. I have made a study of Johnson and I am of the opinion that because of the muscles about the chin it would be necessary to land a harder blow on his chin to produce unconsciousness than on the ordinary man.

Dr. John Gallwey—It seems to me that the thickness of the skull would protect the head against a blow except in the case of a blow of sufficient force to produce a fracture. At the same time the jarring of the skull contents would be the same as in the case of a man with a normal skull, and that would have an effect in producing unconsciousness.

Dr. W. B. Coffey—The thickness of the skull might not make any difference. The skull might be thick and at the same time brittle. It might also be abnormally thick in places. Under such conditions the skull might be more liable to damage a blow. A very think skull, of course, would be more subject to the effect of violence.

THE TOE HOLD OF THE MAT

(By Tommy Clark.)

Why all this fuss over the toe hold in wrestling? Critics in many cities and some wrestlers, among them Dr. Roller, are asking the powers that be to abolish it. Roller says the toe lock compares with the strangle hold, and thinks that no wrestler should be permitted to use it. If they are to abolish it why not shut out the back hammer, crotch and flying mare holds too?

There was good reason for the abolishing of the strangle hold, but small excuse for having the toe hold retired. The former hold, when properly executed, meant unconsciousness and death for the man it was used on. The trouble with the toe hold is that very few know how to execute it, and there are different ways of putting it on.

No wrestler has ever perfected it to the degree that Gotch has used it, and possibly its application at best requires a physical makeup peculiar to the champion. In expert hands the toe hold is all right. Used inexpertly it is all wrong, but not more so than the back hammer would be employed similarly.

The expert applying the toe hold does it in order to force his adversary to turn his shoulders to the canvas. If he merely applies such a hold, leaving no opportunity for the opponent to get his shoulders to the mat, he should, of course, be disqualified for brutality by a competent referee.

"The Japanese," says he, "when they besiege a foe, always leave him one opening for retreat to his disadvantage. So in using the toe hold in wrestling I always leave my opponent an opening to turn over on his back. Were I to sit astride a man, use the toe hold and block his efforts to get his shoulders to the canvas I should expect and merit disqualification. Any hold in wrestling which does not give the attacked athlete a chance to lost like a man is brutality."

To use the toe hold Gotch gets behind his man, uses his own legs to entangle and imprison the other fellow and, grasping the foot by the ankle and toe, twists the ankle until his opponent succumbs.

This hold causes the most intense pain imaginable. It seems to stretch every ligament of the legs and back. When properly executed the victim imagines that he is some kind of stringed instrument and that some one is tightening up the keys to see how much strain the strings will stand.

Met Gotch the other day. The champion thinks that he could not get the "Russian Lion" into the ring with him again with the assistance of a truck horse. Gotch says that Hack did not come to this country with the intention of meeting him, but just to gather in some of the change that Jack Curley told him was lying loose around in different parts of this country.

"It may not be known, but it is nevertheless true, that it was Dr. Roller who furnished Jack Curley with the money to bring Hack to this country," says Gotch. "And the doctor met the 'Russian Lion' nine times on the latter's tour.

"When Curley went abroad with Roller as the latter's manager last July, it was a well known fact that he was flat broke, and that the doctor had to pay his way over. The pair did not clean up a fortune. In fact, the trip was a failure, Roller being injured in his first bout with Gama, the East Indian. Curley guaranteed Hack $20,000 for a six weeks' tour."

The Russian, being a good business man, must have had some good assurance of receiving the money before he come to America. But who furnished it?

SPORT TALK

No more extraordinary scene can well be imagined than that witnessed at Homerton, England, during the Cuptie struggle between Woolwich Arsenal and Clapton Orient, when, on the dense fog, which had for some time threatened, completely enveloping the players, spectators lighted hundreds of papers and all other inflammable material at hand, and thus entirely encircled the ground with a girdle of flame.

Some years ago a game of football was played by moonlight. This unusual exhibition, says Tit-Bits, took place between the Racing Club of France and a team from Guy's Hospital, at the Parc les Princes, Auteuil, and, by reason of the ground having been required all the afternoon for the decision of some bicycle races, was not commenced until the day was already closing in. Indeed, before half time the moon had risen, and although the players tried manfully to continue playing by its light, they had a length to bring the game to a premature conclusion.

The "Gaslight Match" played at the Oval in 1889, affords an instance of the summer game being played by artificial light. The game was between those old rivals, Surrey and Yorkshire, and the former, after having been set 166 runs to win, lost seven wickets with only 107 runs placed to their credit. The remaining batsmen, however, played up so carefully and pluckily that, when the time for drawing stumps arrived, only twenty-six runs more were required, and there were still two wickets to fall.

It was now agreed by the rival captains to extend the play for an extra half hour, so the batsmen remained at the wickets. By this time, however, it had become so dark that not only were lamps lighted in the pavilion, but all around the ground lights began to twinkle. "I'm bothered if I can see the ball," remarked Beaumont, one of Surrey's batsmen, to Thoms, the veteran umpire; to which the latter answered, "If you can't see 'em you'd better feel for 'em." The end came at length a few minutes before seven, when Surrey were declared winners by the narrow margin of two wickets.

In the summer of 1832 a single wicket match was announced to be played in the neighborhood of Winchester between a baker named Perks and Sam Crivens, a tailor, and a cricketer of some local celebrity, for a prize of £10 given by a publican conditionally on the game taking place on a piece of ground attached to his house, and at any hour he might choose to name. Seven was the time ultimately fixed upon, by which hour a goodly number of spectators from the neighborhood had congregated in the field of the inn.

Extreme caution was displayed by both players; the £10 was not to be risked by any rash venture. At eight Perks, who had gone in first, was still batting, and it was not till half an hour later that his stumps were shattered and his rival took his stand at the wicket. So dark, however, had it become that artificial light had to be requisitioned, and a number of men with torches in their hands were stationed about the field. Handicapped though he thus was, Crivens managed to defy the attack, and batted so carefully and with such skill that he made the winning hit almost as the village clock struck ten.

SPRING LINERS

One curve ball, in which the "spitter" plays no part, is one of the things for which Russell Ford, the star pitcher of the New York Yankees, is working hard to get.

To jump from an awkward farmer's boy last July into a recruit for the Philadelphia world's champions is some stunt. But that has been pulled by Henry A. Tate, the Texas twirler, who hits the beam at 6 feet 2 inches, and weighs 206 pounds.

Statistics show that few of the baseball players who have been sold for big money have lived up to expectations, while the cases are numerous where youngsters purchased at a mere trifle, have come to the front, and now cannot be purchased for any figure.

The year 1912 will witness the retirement of Eddie Plank, of the Athletics, from baseball. At the close of the season, two years hence, the great southpaw, who has been a bulwark of strength for the Athletics, will go back to the farm and the simple life.

There is every indication that the team which will represent Washington in the coming American League campaign will be made up of the same players who finished the season of 1910. It is as good as settled that not one of the several young players who were taken south to be tried out will gain a regular position.

"I am going to be a big league pitcher more years than Cy Young or anybody else," says George Mullin, of the Tigers. "I don't care if the old boy hangs on thirty years. I will pitch thirty-one, and beat him. After nine years of service as a big leaguer I feel as well as ever I did."

FOOTBALL

All those who are interested in the organization of a church football league are requested to meet at the parlors of the Park street church to-morrow night. Four teams have signified their intention of entering the league, Knox church, All Saints', Park street Baptist and St. James. The organization of a city league will take place later.

All the officers and those wishing to become members of All Saints' Church Football Club, please attend meeting on Tuesday evening at 8.15 in the Chapel hall. A good attendance is asked for.

Park street Baptist church are willing to enter a football team in the Church League. Two more church teams are needed to make up the Church Football League.

A special meeting is called for to-morrow evening at the Park Street Church to get business well on hand for the coming season.

Will all members of the Athletic Club and all who are interested in association football, kindly be present.

Peterborough Bowling and shooting

The prize winners in the different events at the Peterborough bowling alleys and shooting gallery last week were;—F. Smithson, who won the gold cuff links at ten pins. At five pins, B. Dent won the silk tie. In the professional contest at the shooting gallery S. Brown won the box of cigars.

V. Boskill won the gold stick pin in the amateur contest.

Good prizes will be offered next week as usual.

THE RING

In honor of the sunny province of Canada, Tommy Burns, former heavyweight champion, is to christen his baby girl, "Alberta."

The erstwhile champion has brought the little baby to that city, and everybody is taking an interest in the child.

Burns looked over a heavyweight novice, Luck McCarthy, and said he was a good boxer, in Tommy's diplomatic way. McCarthy may have the makings of a champion, but he is green yet, and Jake Fullerton, the local middleweight, can handle him readily.

Turnkey Resigns

SOUR RISINGS FROM STOMACH

Those Who Experience Fullness and Pain After Meals, Stomach Disorders, and Indigestion, Should Read Below.

"When I was working around the farm last winter I had an attack of inflammation," writes Mr. E. P. Dawkins, of Port Richmond. "I was weak for a long time, but well enough to work until spring. But something went wrong with my bowels, for I had to use salts or physic all the time. My stomach kept sour, and always after eating there was pain and fulness, and all the symptoms of intestinal indigestion. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Instead of hurting, like other pills, they acted very mildly, and seemed to heal the bowels. I did not require large doses to get results with Dr. Hamilton's Pills and feel so glad that I have found a mild yet certain remedy. To-day I am well—no pain, no sour stomach, a good appetite, able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the best pills, and my letter, I am sure, proves it."

THE GROWING OF BANANAS

Requires Twelve Months for Stock to Mature

The soil in which the banana is planted should be a sandy loam, and when plowed and harrowed the ground should be measured in squares of three meters (1 meter—39.37 inches) which gives about 400 plants to the acre. While the field is being prepared the seed bulbs should be set out in the shade to germinate, requiring only a thin layer of earth to cover them.

When the sprouts reach the height of one foot they may be transplanted. When the land is marked into squares a hole three feet square and three feet deep is made, the plant being placed in the centre. The reason the bulb is planted at this depth is because of the accumulation of leaves and debris, which forms a fertilizer and also retains the moisture.

The land now being set with bananas may be planted with corn, beans or garavanzos, thus reducing the cost of clearing and cultivation the first year. It requires twelve months for a stock to mature and produce a bunch of fruit from the [illegible] growth of the first stock there will come several shoots, the largest one being allowed to stand while the others are taken up and replanted.

The stock left will attain sufficient growth to produce one bunch of bananas in four months or three bunches from one plant, or 1,200 bunches an acre a year. Planters in the State of Tabasco receive 20 cents gold a bunch at the plantation, and as the cost of production is $50 an acre, very satisfactory profits are realized.

There is a demand for hogs all over Mexico, which brings $40 to $45 each in American currency. On a banana plantation hogs could be fed on small and broken bunches of bananas at a cost not to exceed $5 each, to which may be added $5 for other expenses, which leaves a profit of $30 to $35, and 25 per cent. can be added if the hog is slaughtered and rendered into lard and the meat sold.—Consular and Trade Reports.

BUSINESS BEFORE OTONABEE COUNCIL

Plan of Summer Resort for H.P. Kennedy Approved of

On March 20, 1911, Otonabee council met pursuant to adjournment. Mr. Galbraith on behalf of H. P. Kennedy, presented a plan of 186 lots laid out for a summer resort on lot 26 and part of lot 25, concession 14, Otonabee, and asking the council for an approval of the plan. On motion the plan was approved, and the reeve and clerk authorized to sign the plan.

A communication was received from Mr. Stewart resigning the office of deputy reeve. On motion it was accepted and the clerk was instructed to convey to Mr. Stewart that the council deeply regret his severence with them, and offer to him their heartfelt sympathy in his severe illness, and express to him their appreciation of the harmony and good-fellowship that always prevailed between himself and his fellow members during his five years in the council, for his earnest activity to his public duties, the able manner in which he expended the money appropriated for the roads in his ward.

The clerk was instructed to ask for tenders for shingling the hall, also tenders for operating the grader, and making cement tile.

The following accounts were passed: Curtis Bros., tile, $24.60; Dr. Harrison, medicine and attendance on J. A. Trotter, $30.06; Mrs. Redpath, five weeks' board of J. A. Trotter, wife and family, $12.00; G. T. Gall, account, $3.80; scarlet fever placards and telephoning, 85 cents; Robert Ord, cedar, $10.00; Stillman Bros., account, $2.77; Thos. Cavanagh, dog tax, refunded, $1.00; John [illegible], gravel, $3.92; J. H. Fletcher, cutting wood for J. A. Trotter, $9.25.

Council adjourned to 17th April.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY LIVES

four alarms were rung in within 10 minutes before the engines could respond, before the nets could be stretched or the ladders raised, five girls had fallen from the eighth and nineth floors so heavily that they broke through the glass and iron roofs of the sub-cellars, and crashed through the very streets into the vaults below. In an hour the fire was out; in half an hour it had done its worst; probably the death list was full in twenty minutes.

The building stands on a corner with exposure on two sides, but the only fire escape was interior, opening on a light and air shaft. In all there were seven exits—the single fire escape, two freight elevators in front, and two passenger elevators in front, and two stairways. All of them proved almost useless, and practically all who escaped either climbed to the roof and scrambled thence to the roof of the adjoining building or fled in the first rush for safety before the crush and the smoke got too thick.

The building stands to-day with shell intact and barely scarred, rather only smudged; the partitions of architectural tiling between floor and floor are sound, and it is impossible for one who did not see it to imagine how the flames in so short space could have wrought such havoc. Seven hundred hands, 500 of them women, were employed by the shirt waist company. They sat in rows at their whirring machines, the tables of most piled with flimsy cloth, the floors littered with lint, the air itself full of flying inflammable dust. The first rush of flame was almost an explosion. Operators died in their chairs, their lungs seared by inhaling flame. Others were crowded into the elevator shafts after the cars had made their last trip. Still others were pushed off the inadequate fire escape.

In such a horrible stream did the bodies overflow from the windows that the fire nets, stretched by the first companies to arrive, were soon forged beyond capacity. Twelve bodies weighted one net to the bursting point, but the bodies kept on raining to the pavement, through meshes that could no longer support them.

When the first breath of flame curled over the edge of a pile of shirting on the eighth floor, five minutes before quitting time, hundreds were in line before the cashier's window. In the office buildings across Washington place scores of men detained beyond office hours, worked at their desks. One of them saw a girl rush to a window and throw up the sash. Behind her danced a seething curtain of yellow flame. She climbed to the sill, stood in black outline against the light, hesitating, then, with a last touch of futile thrift, slipped her chatelaine bag over her wrist and jumped. Her body went whirling downward through the oven wire glass of a canopy to the flagging below. Her sisters who followed flamed through the air like dockets. Their path could be followed, but hardly heard. It was 85 feet from the eighth floor to the ground, about 95 feet from the ninth floor, 115 feet from the cornice of the roof and upward rush of heat and the crackle of the flames drowned their cries.

A thirteen-year-old girl hung for three minutes by her finger tips to the sill of a tenth floor window. A tongue of flame licked at her fingers and she dropped into a lifenet. Two women fell into the net at almost the same moment. The strands parted and two were added to the death list. A girl threw her pocketbook, then her hat, then her furs from a tenth floor window. A moment later her body came whirling after them to death. At a nineth floor window a man and a women appeared. The man embraced the woman and kissed her. Then he hurled her to the street and jumped. Both were killed. Five girls smashed a pane of glass, dropped in a struggling tangle and were crushed into a shapeless mass.

A girl on the eighth floor leaped for a fireman's ladder, which reached only to the sixth floor. She missed, struck the edge of a lifenet and was picked up with her back broken. From one window a girl of about 13 years, a woman, a man and two women with their arms about one another threw themselves to the ground in rapid succession. The little girl was whirled to the hospital in an automobile. She screamed as the driver and a policeman lifted her into the hallway. A surgeon came out, took one look at her face and touched his hand to her wrist.

"She is dead," he said.

One girl jumped into a horse blanket held by firemen and policemen. The blanket ripped like cheese cloth, and her body was mangled almost beyond recognition. Another dropped into a tarpaulin, held by three men. Her weight tore it from their grasp and she struck the street, breaking almost every bone in her body. Almost at the same moment a man somersaulted down upon the shoulder of a policeman holding the tarpaulin. He glanced off, struck the sidewalk and was picked up dead.

Four Horses Drowned.

Port Elgin, March 25.—Four valuable horses were drowned yesterday in Mill Creek, near this place. A team belonging to P. Cummings, hauling a load of logs, broke through the ice and the same fate befell a team owned by Dr. Parks, who drove on to pull the other horses out. Parks had sold his team for $550, a delivery to be made to-day.

Died of Blood Poisoning.

Galt, March 25.—John Nichols of Hespeler died at the Galt Hospital yesterday of blood poisoning. A week ago he had his hand cut while at work, but did not consider it serious enough to call in a doctor. Blood poisoning set in and resulted fatally.

British Cattle Markets.

LIVERPOOL, March 25.—John Rogers & Co., Liverpool, cable to-day that trade in Birkenhead for cattle was firm at prices last quoted, which were, for both States and Canadian steers, from 12 3-4c to 13 1-4c per lb. Sheep showed a slight advance for wethers and yearlings and quotations for unclipped sheep may be given as follows: Wethers 14 1-2c, yearlings 15c and lambs 17c per lb.

PETERBOROUGH FARMERS AND RAISING OF ALFALFA CROPS

A goodly number of farmers in Peterborough county have found out from several years' experience with alfalfa that it is a most valuable crop. Several of these alfalfa growers when discussing this crop stated their views in a decided manner in favor of alfalfa.

Mr. Alex. McGregor, of Central Smith, has six acres of alfalfa. He has taken crops from it for two years. He states that he will sow six acres more this spring, and wishes he had more alfalfa now. "It is one of the best feeds I ever had," he said. "I would not care if I never had any grain for my cows if I had alfalfa, corn ensilage, and a few roots."

Mr. Sam Stenson, also of Smith, has had a few acres of alfalfa for several years. He finds it to be great stuff for feed.

Mr. Sam Stinson, also of Smith, has ship, has seven acres of alfalfa. Last year he had the best crop of alfalfa in the district. He fed the bulk of of it to his sheep during the past winter, and is greatly in favor of alfalfa.

SHOULD HAVE STARTED EARLIER

J. K. Moore & Son of Smith township, started with three acres of alfalfa. The next year they put in four acres, and last year they had 11 acres seeded to this crop. They intend sowing 10 acres more of their farm to alfalfa this spring. Mr. C. E. Moore, said: "We have been kicking ourselves that we did not start to grow alfalfa long ago. It is a great feed, and is good for horses, too. It will clean their legs out as good as a ball."

Mr. Sam Deyell, of Otonabee, has had three and a half acres of alfalfa now for two years. His son, Bert, informed us that they like it fine, and are going to put in four acres more this spring. "Our horses like it, too," he said. "In fact, a driver that we have would scarcely eat other hay at all after she had once been fed on alfalfa.

Mr. Sandy Matchett, of Otonabee, Master of the Subordinate Grange in that section, has four acres of alfalfa, which he states is doing well. He is greatly in favor of the crop, and says that he intends sowing five or six acres more this spring.

ANIMALS CRAZY FOR ALFALFA

Mr. J. H. Sanderson, four miles out of Peterborough, has six acres of alfalfa. He sowed it with barley two years ago. He says that everything on the farm is crazy for it, and his cows greatly increased in milk flow when fed alfalfa. His pigs also eat it readily, while the results of mixing finely cut alfalfa hay in the regular mash he feeds his hens is seen in the increased size of the egg basket required in which to gather the eggs.

Mr. George A. Gillespe, seed merchant, Peterborough, says that he has sold more alfalfa seed already this spring than he sold all of last year. The local farmers, he says, are much alive to the merits of alfalfa, and there is a great enquiry for seed.

Mr. George Webber, a well known farmer to the west of the city, has a large acreage of alfalfa, and has grown it successfully for several years.

WISHES HE HAD 20 YEARS.

Mr. John Lancaster, of Westwood, has five acres of alfalfa. He says while he was in our office last week, that he was well satisfied with his alfalfa, that he wished he had 20 acres of it since all kinds of stock around the farm ate it with a relish. Last summer, when the pasture was poor, Mr. Lancaster began feeding his cows alfalfa hay, and was surprised at the great increase it caused in the milk flow. He had experimented in feeding alfalfa to his pigs, and is satisfied that the economic production of Pork in Canada, as it is in the western states, will be obtained through the extension of alfalfa growing.

REQUIRES INOCULATION.

Two years ago Mr. Lancaster sowed three acres of alfalfa on corn stubble land with a light seeding of alfalfa. He used the nitro-culture as supplied by the O.A.C. at Guelph, and obtained a good crop of barley and also a splendid stand of alfalfa. Last summer he cut his alfalfa twice, and then as his pasture was poor he pastured the third crop. Last year he sowed two acres more in the same way as his first seeding and on equally good land, but without inoculating it with nitro-culture. The result was that the field was very uneven and pateny.

Mr. D. K. Cameron, also of Westwood, has three acres of alfalfa. He also used the nitro-culture as obtained from Guelph, and he sowed his agfalfa with a light crop of spring wheat.

A CONTRAST IN MEN

(Canadian Century.)

Almost every newspaper in Canada published in the same issue Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speech on reciprocity and the letter of Sir William Van Horne on the same subject. These two are probably the most remarkable men living in Canada at the present time. Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a man of magnificent personality. Distinguished in appearance, charming in manners, eloquent in speech, no one comes near him without feeling the magic of his presence. Canadians in general have a very kindly feeling for Sir Wilfrid, and even his political opponents deal gently with him, usually blaming his colleagues in the Government for anything that goes wrong. He never gets the hard knocks that Sir John Macdonald used to get from political opponents in spite of his popularity and personal magnetism. Probably no other living politician in the whole world has so great a personal influence as Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Sir Wilfrid has often said that he knows nothing about business, and his speeches are always weakest when he deals with any business question. Turn from this charming personality, who knows nothing about business, to the Man of Business, the Man of Energy, Sir William Van Horne, who built a railway across the continent in less than half the time that it is taking to build the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. While the railway was being built he was organizing the most perfect railway administration America having a wonderful faculty of choosing the right kind of men to carry out his plans. Then came the work of developing business for a railway which for the greater part of its length ran through a country without people. The greatest advertising system ever planned was inaugurated and Canada became known to the whole world. Capitalists were induced to visit Canada. They were taken through the country by Canadian Pacific officials, and as a result millions of dollars were invested in developing Canada's resources. In the United States as well as in the British Isles and the continent of Europe a systematic campaign of advertising Canada was carried on. Few Canadians realize to what an extent the present prosperity of Canada and the great influx of immigrants is due to the persistent advertising of the country by the Canadian Pacific Railway during the last thirty years. No one is better entitled to be called one of the makers of Canada than Sir William Van Horne. He is no longer at the head of the Canadian Pacific Railway, having a most worthy successor in Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, but he is still interested in everything that affects the railway and the country at large. No wonder that he said he felt "sick and ashamed" when he thought all this work of nation building might be largely undone as the result of the trip of two members of the Laurier Government to Washington.

when the Conservatives made their last tariff act, they put into it an offer, not so broad as the previous one, but of very much the same kind.

Then the Liberal party in their convention of 1893 declared reciprocity as part of their platform.

As to the cry of "let well enough alone," Mr. Fielding said that this was another compliment to the Liberal party.

"What a contrast that is with their statements after we brought in our tariff policy in 1897."

HELPING THE CLOVER SEEDING

During every season since 1905, the Bacteriological Laboratory of the Ontario Agricultural College has sent out to farmers and others, cultures of bacteria for inoculating seed of alfalfa and other clovers in order to aid in insuring a better catch of the seeding. The bacteria sent are of the kind which live in the small nodules or "knots" which are naturally formed on the roots of clovers, and which may usually be readily seen when a clover or alfalfa plant is dug up and the earth carefully broken away from the roots so as not to break off the nodules. It is the business of these bacteria to draw upon the great supply of nitrogen in the air (about four-fifths of the air is nitrogen gas), and transfer it to the growing plant is able to get its supply of this most valuable fertilizing element, nitrogen, from the air, instead of having to depend upon what is in the soil. This explains the fact which every farmer knows, that clovers and other closely related crops are such good soil enrichers. When these crops are plowed under, the extra amount of nitrogen which has been stored up in them becomes available for succeeding crops.

It is absolutely essential that the nitrogen accumulating bacteria be present in order that the storing of nitrogen in the clover plant be accomplished. If a clover or alfalfa crop has been successfully grown as shown by thrifty, vigorous growth and the presence of plenty of nodules on the roots it indicates what the necessary bacteria are already present in the soil, and ready to penetrate the roots as soon as germination of the seed occurs. In the case of a new, or unsuccessful seeding however, it is probable that the bacteria are not present, and they should be supplied by some method of inoculation. Experience has shown that the most satisfactory method of inoculation is to apply the bacteria directly to the seed before sowing. This is the method to be followed with the cultures sent out by the College of Guelph.

Last year there were 3,375 of these bacteria cultures sent to 1,881 farmers, and of 771 who returned reports, two-thirds stated that the inoculation of the seed had aided in securing a better crop.

During the present season, the College will send cultures for the inoculation of the following kinds of seeds, Alfalfa, red or mammoth clover, alsike clover, white clover, crimson clover, vetches, peas, beans, sweet peas. Each kind of seed requires a different culture. The cultures are sent by mail with full instructions for their use. There is only one size package prepared, that being sufficient to treat sixty pounds of seed. There is a nominal charge of 25c for each package of culture to cover cost of material and postage.

Applications should state the kind and amount of seed to be treated, and should be addressed with enclosed postal notes, stamps, or money order, to S. F. Edwards, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Canada.

SAYS WOMEN ARE SPONGES

University Professor Berates them as Useless

They Are Social Parisites and Non-Producers

Philadelphia, March 27.—In an address to the Plastic Club Professor Scott Nearing, of the University of Pennsylvania, gave a caustic summing up of the problem of "votes for women." He declared that women "are social parasites, and until they cease to be so there is no use attempting to consider them in a serious light."

The meeting in which his address was made was attended by many women, a large part of whom were advocates of equal suffrage.

"Back in the beginning of the world women were slaves," the speaker continued. "Then, finally, came a state of co-operative labor, with the cook stove and the loom. But now, women have become social parasites. I hope the next stage will be better, but that is up to you women, who are chamoring so earnestly for votes. As it is now, man is the producer; woman the non-producer.

"Man bears the burden; woman, or rather women like you, get the fun. Why, the whole conception of the women of the middle and upper classes is to sponge on the men. Unless you become producers, the economic necessity for your existence will depart, and you will cease to exist. Nature will find a way.

"What are you going to do with the boundless leisure you have now and the added leisure that may come with votes?

"You must either continue to use it for selfish ends, as you do now, or turn your attention to some useful trade. Why, from 30 to 60 per cent of your time is taken up in personal adornment, fixing your hair, etc.

Professor Nearing said, that in his opinion the women of this country could run the United States just as the women of Rome had ruined that empire by failing in their duty and not producing enough Roman captains for the legions.

RECOGNIZED IN A PHOTOGRAPH

Wealthy Lady Found Daughter After Forty Years

San Bernardino, Cal., March 27. — Mrs. Sadie Brownell, a wealthy resident of Redlands, Cal., one day recently recognized a photograph of a two-year old infant as one of her daughters, who was stolen from her nearly forty years ago. The child had been kidnapped from her, she said, two weeks after the portrait was taken in Dakota territory. From that time she had never been able to find a trace of her daughter.

Recently the daughter, now Mrs. Alfred Hagerty of Cleveland, Ohio, learned for the first time that her mother was not dead as she had supposed. She at once began advertising throughout the country. A friend of Mrs. Brownell saw one of the advertisements a few days ago and notified Chief of Police Shay, who brought about the identification.

Mrs. Hagerty telegraphed that she would start for California at once.

BENSFORT

Special to the Review.

Bensfort, March March 25.—A presentation was held on Monday evening, the 13th inst., at the home of Mr. Wm. King, Gore's Landing, when their daughters, Misses Clara and Etta, were presented with a manicure set and ladies' companion, on behalf of the Methodist church here, in which the young ladies took an active part being members of the choir. A sleigh load of our young people went over the lake and a most pleasant time is reported.

Mr. Everett Woods' sawing bee was well attended last Wednesday, especially at night, when color was lent to the scene by the attendance of ladies. Tripping the light fantastic was indulged in. All denominations were present and a very enjoyable time was spent after the labors of the day.

Mrs. Robert Nurse and children who have been visiting friends in this section for the past few months, have returned to their western home in Saskatchewan.

Mr. Bert Byers, who has been visiting in Pontypool and elsewhere, has returned home, bringing with him a valuable driver.

Trouble has been experienced through the telephone systems in operation here. On two separate lines one man by taking down his receiver claims to have heard another man on the other line speak. This is a mysterious happening. Wind is said to be the cause of the trouble, and while in some instances the change is agreeable, yet in other respects it is not so, as a person under the present system cannot always talk to whom they ought to.

It is with regret we learn of the serious illness of Mr. Wm. Dawson, of Peterborough, who was a respected resident of this vicinity for a number of years.

Mr. David Huggins had the misfortune to get his hand badly used up in the straw cutter a few days ago, but not seriously.

GHOSTS WERE AFTER MONEY

Experience of a Peasant Woman in Hungary

Vienna, March 27.—A poor peasant woman living in the lonely village of Wagsellye, in Hungary, was notified by the post office in the neighboring town that a sum of $1,800 was lying there for her, which had been sent by her husband from America. The postal authorities told her to bring witnesses to her identity when she came to claim the money.

The woman went to the mayor of her commune, who gave her a certificate. It was, however, too late to fetch the money on that day. During the night two horrible apparitions appeared to the woman in her lonely cottage. These "ghosts" said that they were the devil and his brother death, and that she must give the money that she had fetched from the post-office that morning to the devil, as otherwise he would give her over to his brother death. The devil said that her husband had stolen it in America, and that thus it belonged to him.

The woman, who was terribly frightened, said that she had not yet got the money. The "ghosts," it is alleged, compelled her to swear that she would deliver it to them next day and departed. The peasant woman went to the post-office and asked for the money. The postmaster said that he wanted witnesses, and she replied that she could not pay them to attend, as the money belonged to the devil in any case. She then related the incident of the night before.

The postmaster gave her the money and let her go home, but acquainted [...] They watched the hut that night and arrested the "ghosts," who, it is alleged, turned out to be the mayor of the commune, and a relation, who had, when the police appeared, already taken possession of the money.

GEN. BOOTH AWAITS COMING OF BLINDNESS IN RESIGNATION

He is Learning to Use Sense of Touch While Yet a Little Sight Remains—A Sad Ending.

London, March 27.—With unshaken courage such as the leader of an army should display, General Booth has been preparing, calmly and methodically, for the blindness which, it is feared, must overtake him, unless the wonderful operation to be performed in the autumn is successful.

General Booth has lost the sight of one eye, owing, it is believed, to a speck of dust blown into it during one of his many motor car tours. The other is so enfeebled that he can hardly see. He can write, using his fingers as a guide, but he cannot see what he has written.

In the autumn surgeons will attempt the delicate task of clearing away the obscurer lenses of the remaining eye. If that is accomplished General Booth will return once again to the "war," which he is now watching from the rear of the fighting line.

But if it is not, General Booth will be blind.

So every day this brave old man of 82 has had both his eyes bandaged around, and thus he has walked about his home, familiarizing himself with the feel of objects which one day he may be unable to see.

He still received his despatches from the "front" and discussed the direction of the Salvation Army with commissioners, whose voices he could hear, but whose faces he could not see.

If darkness falls completely, the brave old general is determined that it shall find him fighting still. If he cannot see with his eyes, he will see with his fingers.

GET-RICH-QUICK SHELDON IS CAPTURED BY PITTSBURG MEN

Much Wanted Broker Arrested by Pinks and Will Return to Canada Without Extradition Proceedings

Pittsburg, Pa., March 27.—After being sought by the police all over Canada and the United States, C. D. Sheldon, alias C. D. Washburn, a broker, wanted in Monreal for false pretences, was arrested here early this afternoon by a Pinkerton detective on a downtown street. Taken to the Central Police Station, Sheldon, according to the police, admitted his identity and waived extradition. Preparations were made at once for taking him back to Montreal.

On being escorted to the police station, Sheldon was examined by Police Superintendent Thomas A. McQuaide, and Police Detective Captain William Elmore, and then all the detectives in the Pittsburg Bureau gazed at Sheldon's features.

The man was collected and calm, but thoroughly realized the seriousness of his situation.

Following his stated admission that he is the man for whom the police of the country have been seeking, Captain Elmore entered an information against Sheldon, charging him with being a fugitive from justice. He was then placed in a cell to await transportation to the Dominion.

Pittsburg detectives have been carrying a description of Sheldon in their pockets since last fall, in the hope that they would make his arrest and participate in the large rewards, it was understood were offered for his capture.

NEW YORK OFFICIALS WILL PROBE INTO THE FIRE HORROR

Effort Will be Made to Affix the Blame.

Tenement Owners Will be Hauled Into Court to Give Evidence.

New York, March 28.—The fixing of the blame for the loss of 141 lives in the Washington square fire of Saturday drew to a focus yesterday the energies of the district attorney's staff, the fire marshal, the coroner, the state labor department and Borough President McAneny of Manhattan. Dozens of investigators collected every scrap of available information Grand jurymen turned personal probers, and an additional grand jury, in a formal resolution presented to the Court of General Sessions, offered their aid to the district attorney and declared that some one should be prosecuted for the disaster.

What the probers found — evidence that doors at exits swung inward, the crumpled fire escape in the air shaft, the one fire escape blocked by iron shutters when opened, an empty water tank on the roof, and the practice prevalent among cutters of lighting cigarettes a few minutes before quitting time—all this, and what is yet to be ferreted out, will be placed speedily before the grand jury for action, District Attorney Whitman announced.

The tenement house department summoned owners of half a dozen faulty structures to the Police Court as a preliminary step to a far-reaching investigation of tenements. One man was held for violating the law, and other cases, it was announced, will be pressed to-morrow. Fire Marshal Beers summoned the proprietors of the Triangle Waist Co., and several employes, to testify at a public investigation, largely to enquire into the truth of reports that doors leading to the fire escapes were blocked.

London Old Boys' Re-union.

London, Ont., March 28—At a meeting of citizens last night, it was decided to hold an old boys' re-union during the week of Aug. 7. This is the first one in three years, and it is confidently expected that former residents from all parts of Canada and the United States will attend. Officers were elected as follows: President, Col. Harry Abbott; first vice-president, Dr. F. L. Wood; second vice-president, George Belton; third vice-president, ex-Mayor Stevely; secretary, J. O. Weldon; treasurer, James Bell.

Bankers to Stay In Prison.

Washington, D.C., March 28.—From sources close to the President it was learned yesterday that the pardon appeals of the two convicted bankers, Charles W. Morse, of New York, and John R. Walsh, of Chicago, undoubtedly will be denied. It is stated that the Attorney-General's recommendation in both cases is adverse.

Struck With Sledge Hammer.

Kingston, March 28.—Ernest Heep, aged 20, had a miraculous escape from death when he was struck on the head with sledge-hammer in the hands of a fellow-workman at the locomotive works. The accident was purely accidental. He is in the Hotel Dieu with a terrible scalp wound, but the doctors say he will recover.

FERRER CASE IS DEBATED

Discussion in Cortes on Execution of Reformer.

Madrid, March 28.—The debate on the trial of Prof. Ferrer, the founder of the modern school at Barcelona, who was executed in October, 1909, opened in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday and attracted unusual attention. The proposal to discuss this trial was made by the Republicans and accepted by the Government many months ago. The Republican press declares that the revival of the Ferrer case means the end politically of Senor Maura, who was Premier at the time, and his colleagues.

Deputy Soriano opened the debate and asserted that none of the facts charged against Ferrer constituted the crime of rebellion, according to the military law. The Government was advised to that effect, he said, by the local military authorities. Ferrer's trial and execution were directly due to political causes, for which the Conservative Government and party were answerable.

He pointed out that the court-martial before which Prof. Ferrer was tried had only four hours in which to examine the papers in the case, which took up the 1,200 pages of printed matter. This alone would give some idea of what the trial was worth.

ALBERTA DRAWS THE COLOR LINE

Bitter Objection to Coming of Negro Colony.

Edmonton, Alta., March 28.—The arrival of the colored immigrants from Oklahoma, together with their conspicuousness on the streets the past two days, has stirred up bitter feeling. Dr. Ely Synge has written a strong letter to the papers, protesting against the admission of negroes into the provinces.

Premier Sifton stated that there was nothing in the provincial statutes to keep the negroes out. The board of trade is committed to a policy rigidly against immigration of the negro.

The negroes leave to-day for Athabasca Landing, in which vicinity they will take up their future homes.

BIG STORM IN PHILADELPHIA

Buildings Destroyed and Trains Held Up.

Roofs of Houses Torn off, and Wild Time Prevails.

Philadelphia, March 28.—A severe electrical storm accompanied by a high wind, which at times blew with cyclonic force, swept over the northern section of this city shortly after six o'clock last night, leaving destruction and death in its wake.

Buildings were demolished, houses unroofed, and the New York division of the Pennsylvania Railway was placed out of commission temporarily by the demolition of its tower at Holmesburg, cutting off all telegraphic communication. New York trains are being routed via the Trenton cut-off, which branch of the Pennsylvania Co. was not in the path of the high winds.

Tacony, the section where the greatest damage occurred, was completely cut off from the rest of the city. Telegraph, telephone and trolley wires were blown to the ground, and it was hours before the details of the catastrophe reached the central section of street, also lost its roof, as did the pear. The police station at Tacony was demolished. The evening squad of policemen were preparing to leave for their beats when the roof of the building was blown off and every window broken by a sudden burst of wind. At the Tacony station of the Pennsylvania Railway an unidentified man was killed when a portion of the structure was blown away. Many houses in this section were unroofed or completely demolished.

In the manufacturing section of Kensington in the northwest, toward Tacony, several factories were destroyed, trolley wires were blown down and roofs of houses hurled to the centre of the streets. A corner section of the three-storey brick factory of John Blood & Bros., manufacturers of woollens, at Trenton and Allegheny avenues, more than 100 feet in width, was torn away, wrecking much valuable machinery. Three hundred and fifty men who were employed here, it is said, will be out of work for at least two weeks. The factory of the Enterprise Cooperage Co., nearby, was struck by lightning, but the flames were extinguished before much damage had been done.

In the fashionable section of Germantown, the storm also caused havoc. The cupola of St. Michael's Church, at High and Boyton streets, was blown off. Jones Hall, at Germantown avenue and Sharpnack the city, where the storm did not apfactory of the American Metal Co., at Herman street and Germantown avenue. Telegraph and telephone communication was also destroyed, but up to a late hour no lives had been reported lost in this section.

So completely was the Pennsylvania Railroad's line to New York tied up that no trains were sent over the New York division from this city and no tickets to Philadelphia were obtainable at the New York end of the line.

Local Option Campaign.

Brockville, March 28.—Advocates and supporters of temperance reform from nearly every municipality in Leeds County met here yesterday and organized the Leeds County Alliance, associated with the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance. The president is Judge Reynolds of Brockville. The object is to initiate a strong and active campaign for local option in the municipalities which are at present under license, and it is not unlikely that a fight will be on in Brockville between the temperance and liquor forces at not a distant date.

Students' Union for Queen's.

Kingston, March 28.—A large union building will be erected in the fall by Queen's students. It will be built on Union street, between Arch street and the skating rink, and will cost $75,000. At present $20,000 has been subscribed, and the balance will be subscribed by the authorities, the students and their friends. The building will include a dining hall, Y.M.C.A. quarters, bowling alley, billiard rooms and reading-room.

R. L. Borden Asks Pertinent Question in the House About it — Shipping Act Amended.

Ottawa, March 28.—Good progress was made with routine business in the House of Commons yesterday, and if the same pace is maintained all week the decks will be clear by Monday next for a resumption of the reciprocity debate or such other business as the Government may want to despatch.

An important bill to amend the Canada Shipping Act was introduced by the Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

The expected wrangle over the giving of "La Banque du Canada" to the new financial institution, which Rudolphe Forget (Charlevoix) is promoting, was prevented by the insertion of the word "international."

Late in the evening the House went into committee of supply on the Speaker's estimates, which cover the expenses of Parliament, and the members became jovial. George Taylor (Leeds) was inquisitive regarding points of minor economy, and objected to a vote of $350 for engrossing an address to the Governor-General last session. He thought the work should have been done in the Printing Bureau, and gave it as his opinion that "it would be thrown in the waste paper basket any way."

When the House met, Hon. L. P. Brodeur introduced a bill to amend the Canadian Shipping Act. The important feature of the bill is that it makes the hiring of pilots compulsory. The Minister explained at some length that the proposed legislation was based on the recommendations of such bodies as the Dominion Marine Association of Ontario, the shipping interests of Montreal, the pilots and some important private companies. The bill provides that all vessels with a draught of over ten feet will be obliged to take on pilots in the St. Lawrence. If the owners do not desire to take on pilots, the masters and mates in charge of such vessels must pass the necessary examinations.

Mr. Brodeur explained further that the bill would make provisions for all possible means being taken to provide for the safety of the St. Lawrence route. He believed that when the provisions of the bill became generally known it would do much to do away with the discrimination which existed in the matter of insurance against the St. Lawrence and in favor of American ports.

Another proposed change is in reference to the time during which an enquiry into a wreck may be inaugurated. Under the law as it stands today an enquiry must be commenced with a month. The limit has now been extended to one year, at the instance of the imperial authorities.

Another departure from the present practice is that vessels with the certificates of the British Board of Trade or other responsible British and foreign bodies may, with the consent of the governor-in-council, be relieved from the necessity of boiler inspection on this side of the Atlantic.

The bill will also give the Government larger powers in respect of the regulation of the channels of the St. Lawrence.

R. L. Borden brought up a pertinent question regarding certain naval manoeuvres which it is proposed to hold in Lake Michigan during the coming summer. He read a forecast of the program from an American newspaper, which included a cruiser from the navy proper. The leader of the Opposition asked if the Government had consented to the passage of such a vessel through the canals.

Sir Wilfrid replied that the agreement of 1817 provided for one war vessel carrying one 18-pounder gun should be allowed on Lake Ontario and two on the Upper Lakes. He was not prepared to say if the manoeuvres mentioned would come within the purview of the treaty. The matter was engaging the attention of the Government, and if necessary representations will be made to Washington. If he remembered rightly the United States had made application to be allowed to pass a cruiser through the canals, but he thought that the application had been declined. Another application had been made to take one training ship down and substitute another.

When the bill to incorporate La Banque Du Canada was reached, Mr. Fielding announced that by agreement with the promoters the name

ANNUAL MEETING OF C. G. E. CO.

Toronto, March 27.—The annual meeting of the Canadian General Electric Co. was held to-day, when a statement was issued showing that the gross profits for the past year have exceeded those of the previous year by nearly fifty per cent. After reserving $188,087 for depreciation and paying $76,820 as interest there remains $646,300. Deducting from this dividends on preferred and common stock at the rate of 7 per cent., amounting to $494,624, the sum of $151,675 has been added to profit and loss account. The sum added to the balance at the credit of that account at the end of the previous year makes the present balance $311,243, which with the reserve fund of $1,669,531 makes a total surplus of $1,980,675.

To Celebrate Coronation.

Toronto, March 28.—Discussion of plans for two celebrations will occupy considerable of the time of the legislation and reception committee of the council this afternoon.

It is proposed to have a celebration on a large scale on the day of the coronation. It will in all probability take the form of an historical pageant and, while details have not yet been discussed, it is expected to excel anything of a like nature before attempted in the city.

Plans for the celebration of the Hydro-Electric power in the city will also be talked over. Regarding this it is expected that the announcement of the date will be made shortly.

Toronto, March 28.—Five-year-old Arthur Ewing was the chief witness in his father's suit against the Toronto Railway yesterday, despite the fact that he said not a word. He exhibited a wooden leg, the result of injuries received when the wheel of a street car passed over his foot on Nov. 14, 1908.

The prosecution claimed that the car could have stopped in time, but as the motorman is dead and the conductor unknown, Counsel McCarthy, for the street railway, could bring no evidence to controvert the claim. The jury awarded Richard Ewing, the father, $500, and the youngster $2,000.

REV. DR. SYMONDS REQUEST FOR SKIN CAUSED A SENSATION

The Montreal Herald says in reference To Rev. Dr. Symonds' request to his Montreal congregation for 100 square inches of human skin to save the life of a burned man:

A request for one hundred inches of human skin made by Rev. Dr. Symonds before his sermon at Christ Church Cathedral last evening at first rather startled the members of Montreal's most fashionable congregation.

An extraordinary operation, on a scale absolutely without precedent in this city or in any part of Canada is to be performed by one of Montreal's most distinguished surgeons at the General Hospital on Saturday morning next, and if successful it will be one of the greatest scientific triumphs that modern surgery has achieved.

The case has aroused an exceptional interest in the medical and surgical profession and at McGill University, and this is not surprising for the task is to be essayed is nothing less than to provide a man with a new skin for the whole of the lower part of the body.

ASKED FOR VOLUNTEERS

Rev. Dr. Symonds before ascending the pulpit to preach his student sermon on the subject of Elizabeth Fry and prison reform last evening asked for volunteers to give a portion of their own skin in order to save the life of a fellow human being.

Dr. Symonds said he quite recognized the unusual character of the request and admitted it was of a nature seldom made in a Christian church, but it was made in a truly Christian spirit. What was asked for was that thirty persons should offer themselves to the surgeon to give a piece of their skin measuring one inch by three to provide one hundred square inches of new skin for the patient—a man who was terribly burned by falling upon a stove and whose life could only be saved by this means.

OFFERS RECEIVED

Dr. Symonds intimated that already several volunteers had come forward and offered to undergo the ordeal required and make the sacrifice in the service of science and saving of human life.

The congregation was evidently deeply impressed by the touching and unique appeal and at the close of the service quite a number of young men announced their willingness to play the part of the operation that had been described. A few more volunteers are still necessary.

The matter is being taken up by an association which is specially interested in surgical work of this character and whose members hope by the assistance they may be able to render to do much in a new and most interesting form of life saving.

How Arbitration Works Out.

London, March 28.—The Daily Graphic draws the attention of those loudly acclaiming the Taft-Grey scheme for the abolition of war to the statement that China has no alternative but to accept Russia's present ultimatum.

Both China and Russia signed The Hague Convention for a pacific settlement of international disputes, and The Graphic contends that as the questions at issue are essentially judicial questions relating to the interpretation of treaties, there is no excuse even for contemplating the employment of force.

Latest advices from Pekin are that the Chinese Foreign Office has assured the Russian Minister that the ultimatum that China acquiesce in the conditions put forward as to the treaty of 1881 will be complied with before the time limit expires on Tuesday.

MONTREAL MILITIA SORE OVER THE CHANGE IN RIFLES

Montreal, March 28.—The local military pot is boiling, in fact it is red hot. And the cause of it is the order issued from Ottawa that all Lee-Enfield rifles be returned to stores, and that the regiments be armed with the Ross rifle, mark 2 (the short Ross).

The local miltia men are sore, from C. O. to recruit, claiming that the change means that shooting will be seriously interfered with, if not made impossible, except for those who purchase their own rifles. The mark 2 Ross rifles, which are supposedly the arm of the militia, and the territorial rifles from Britain are both allowed on the ranges, the shots claim that a militiaman who does not wish or cannot afford to pay $45 for one of these cannot compete with those who can, and rifle competitions are out of the question for the ordinary militiaman.

No action has been taken yet, though the commanding officers have talked of having a meeting to protest against the change.

Perished In the Flames.

Aurora, Mo., March 28.—Dr. D. E. Morris, and his four children were burned to death early yesterday in a fire that destroyed the Morris home. Morris threw a mattress out of the window and lowered his wife and seven-year-old daughter to safety and went to get the other children. He never returned.

"George," she said softly, "I know you have been having a hard time with your business lately, and I am going to help you to economize. I am not going to get a new hat this Easter. Last year's one is almost as good as new, and I don't see why I should go and spend forty dollars on another. So I have just fixed the old one over myself. Of course I had to alter it a bit and trim it over again for fear Mrs. Brown would say I couldn't afford to buy a new hat. I got a couple of new feathers down at Soakem's. They were marked fifteen dollars each, and I beat them down till I got the two for twenty-nine dollars. Wasn't I clever? Then I bought three dollars worth of new ribbon, and two dollars' and a half's worth of tulle, and just the sweetest buckle you ever saw for a dollar and ninety-eight cents, and two dollars and seventy-five cents worth of artificial fruit and flowers, and fixed it up so nobody would know it was the same hat. Wasn't it nice of me to save like that, dear?"

"But, my dear girl," said George, "you have spent more than forty dollars on fixings I don't see where the economy comes in."

"Men are brutes," she whimpered. "They never appreciate the sacrifices a woman makes. I'll never try to economize again."

CURE THAT COLD

This is Quickly and Pleasantly Accomplished If You Use

Catarrhozone

Catarrhozone will relieve colds almost instantly and in a few hours will cure completely. If it is old-standing asthma or bronchitis its quick and curative results will astonish you.

Catarrhozone is little drops of healing medicine carried by air to the sore and diseased parts. You breathe them through the Catarrhozone Inhaler and they spread throughout all the air passages.

It is sense as well as healing, because Catarrhozone is a germ killer, a healer and restorer of weak tissues, because it is so prompt and certain in its results, better than any other remedy for diseases of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes, and it is neither alcohol, morphia or cocaine—all dangerous.

Tens of thousands have used Catarrhozone without reporting a single case of failure to cure diseases of the throat and lungs and nasal passages.

Price 25c., 50c., and $1.00 at all druggists or by mail, post paid, from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

UNION LABEL

LICENSE REDUCTION

The new legislation by the Ontario Government, with reference to the provision whereby a petition of ten per cent. of the electors for a reduction in the number of licenses, is a mandate for the submission of the reduction question to the people, and taking out of the hands of the city councils the power to reduce the number of licenses without such expression from the people, seems to offer a loophole that may prove objectionable.

A petition circulated by the temperance people may demand a sweeping reduction of half of the licenses in the municipality. Many people might be willing to vote for a reduction of some, but not be ready to "go the whole hog" in company with the extremists, of whom there will always be a few. Yet, if the extremists present a petition for sweeping duction, it might get defeated, whereas, a vote for a moderate reduction would carry. In the matter of petitions, it would leave the petitions on the question in the hands of extremists, or obstructionists, as these are usually the people who move in the matter. The only guarantee that a demand for a reduction would be reasonable would be the prospect of the defeat of a measure beyond the limits of public desire. But to be forced to choose between voting for no reduction and a reduction, the extent of which one does not approve, would put the moderate voter into a difficult hole. And we believe the public generally would adopt the moderate, fair-minded attitude.

BI-LINGUAL SCHOOLS

Premier Whitney says that English is the language of the Public schools, and that it shall be the language of instruction and communication in all cases except where it is in the opinion of the Department of Education, impracticable, by reason of the pupils not knowing or understanding English.

Of course, with this the law, it follows that if the pupils do not understand English, they must be instructed in their own language, because no instruction can be given except in a language that they understand. But there is this feature about it; that if they are always taught in their own language, because they understand no other, they certainly will grow into manhood and womanhood without the advantage of an understanding of English.

It seems to us that the only rational, reasonable way out of the difficulty is to provide for the teaching of English to the pupil—for a certain period each day—who do not understand it. If the instruction must be in French, let the English language be also taught, and used as much as possible.

If this practice is started in the lower grades, there will be no necessity for the use of any language but the English in the higher,—in any case—and in this we have the true purpose of an educational system accomplished, which is the turning out of the school product equipped with a knowledge of English in every case, and the promotion of the welfare of the pupils.

Coming into the school at a tender age, the children are a raw material. Let the educational system be so devised, in the language case, that while they may go into the school knowing only the French or other non-national language, they come out as well equipped in knowledge of the country's mother tongue as the British-born children.

As there are no bi-lingual schools in the province, properly speaking, it is to be hoped that the teaching of French in cases where English is "impracticable," will be permitted only as a means towards instruction in English, and the substitution of the latter as soon as it becomes "practicable."

ARBITRATION AND CANADA

The London, England, Times refers to the fear expressed in some quarters that British opposition to the Canadian reciprocity agreement would offend Uncle Sam, and militate against the consummation of the arbitration treaty that is proposed, saying that such fears are weak and foolish. The Times says:

"One particularly weak and foolish suggestion is being made. We are being told that to conciliate the U. S. A. we must say nothing at all against reciprocity; on the contrary, we must persuade Canada that reciprocity is good because it paves the way to the arbitration treaty.

In the words of Aunt Samanthy, "what foolishness there do be in this world, to be sure." The reciprocity business has nothing to do with the arbitration treaty, being a trade arrangement between Canada and the United States as compared with a humanitarian and benevolent arrangement between the U. S. and the Empire. If the United States desires to enter into this arbitration treaty, being a movement the good of which will be universal in its influence and application, she will do so for its own sake and the question of reciprocity with Canada—a purely continental affair—has nothing whatever to do with it.

Considerable has been said by Canadian and English newspapers about the necessity of consenting to reciprocity because it would further cement American-Anglo relations. This principle, logically applied and followed out, would mean that to cede Canada to the United States ought to tie the United States so closely to the British empire (what was left) that it would be bound by the steel hooks of eternal gratitude. And what about Canadians?

Britain, however, hasn't the most remote intention of using Canada as a bait to further any of her schemes. The solidarity of the empire depends on the maintenance of that attitude. Britain would doubtless let the arbitration go by default rather than sacrifice Canada's good. She has learned the lesson of the past.

The reciprocity business is a purely Canadian affair. It is being engineered by Canadians, and Canada must take the responsibility. If it turns out well, so far, so good. If ill, those Canadians will soon have reason to know it. There should not be any connection whatever between the two matters of discussion, because if the desire of the United States for a permanent peace treaty is based only on the hope of getting a few trade concessions, there is no permanency or sincerity to the arbitration proposal at all, and the sooner Britain knows it the better for all.

A BRITISH OPINION

The London Morning Post says:—We still hope that there may be some independent Englishmen in the Cabinet who will have the frankness to realize the mistakes of the past and the courage to admit and act upon this recognition. If only they will come forward at the last moment, all true Imperialists will be only too glad to lend them ungrudging support. There is no time to lose if the cause of Imperial union is to be saved. Canada may yet resist the bait held out before her, but, as the message from Sir Percy Fitzpatrick shows, the feeling is growing in other Dominions that the offer to the Mother Country cannot be held out indefinitely. The sands have nearly run out. Only a united and inspiring effort can save the position throughout the Empire.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, March 27.—Wheat to-day dropped beneath any previous low level touched this year. Sufficient reason was found in the general rains, liberal receipts, large world's shipments and slow cash demand. Closing figures showed steady at ⅛c to ⅝c net decline. Latest prices for corn were ⅛c to ½c up, oats a shade down to ⅛c to ¼c up, and provisions 2½c off to 12½c to 15c advance.

Liverpool closed ⅛d to ¼d higher on wheat, and ⅛d higher on corn. Antwerp unchanged, and Berlin wheat ⅛c higher.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, March 27.—In spite of the weakness at American and Canadian centres in wheat and the heavy world's shipments, cables were stronger and bids for Manitoba grades showed an advance of 1½d to 3d, but even with this and the decline in Winnipeg they were ½c per bushel under cost. The local trade in oats is very quiet, and the feeling is easier. The demand for flour continues to be of a hand-to-mouth character. Millfeed is fairly active and firm. Eggs active and steady; all cold storage stock cleaned up. Potatoes in good demand at 85c to 90c per bag in car lots.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 38½c, car lots, ex-store; extra No. 1 feed, 38c; No. 3 C.W., 37½c; No. 2 local white, 36½c; No. 3 local white, 35½c; No. 4 local white, 34½c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, March 27.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 1805 cattle, 299 hogs, 6991 sheep and lambs, 24 calves and 22 horses.

Exporters.

There were 623 steers, all told, bought for export, at an all-round average of $5.80 per cwt.

Butchers.

Prime picked lots sold from $5.85 to $6; good loads, $5.60 to $5.85; medium, $5.25 to $5.50; common, $5 to $5.25; cows, $3 to $5.15; bulls, $4 to $5.

Milkers and Springers.

Fred Rowntree bought nine, all on sale at $35 to $55 each.

Veal Calves.

Prices ranged from $4 to $8 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

[illegible] $4.25 to $4.50 for rams. Lambs, at $7 to $7.40 and one very choice lot sold at $7.50 per cwt.

Hogs.

Selects, fed and watered, at the market were quoted 10c lower, or $6.90, and $6.60 f.o.b., cars at country points. Hogs over 220 lbs., 50c per cwt. less than these prices.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, March 27.—At the Montreal Stock Yards west end market the receipts of live stock for the week ending March 25 were 2325 cattle, 1600 sheep and lambs, 2000 hogs and 1500 calves, while the supply for sale this morning consisted of 975 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 1200 hogs and 200 calves. There was no important change in the condition of the market for cattle since this day week. The offerings were lower, but, as the average quality of the stock was good, and the demand was better on account of butchers being pretty well cleaned out of stock, prices were well maintained and a fairly active trade was done. A few carloads of choice steers sold at 6c and 6¼c per pound, while in a jobbing way the butchers paid 6½c for this class of stock, and 6c to 6¼c for good, 5½c to 5¾c for fairly good, 5c to 5¼c for fair, and 4½c to 4¾c for common. Choice bulls brought 5½c, while the lower grades brought from that down to 4½c per pound.

An easier feeling prevailed in the market for hogs, owing to increased receipts, but there was no actual change in prices to note. The demand was good from packers, as some of them were short of stock, and in consequence an active trade was done, with sales of selected lots at $7.40 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars.

The tone of the market for sheep and lambs was firm under a steady demand for small lots for local consumption, and sales of the former were made at 5c to 5¼c, and the latter at 6½c per pound. A few spring lambs are coming forward, which meet with a ready sale at prices ranging from $5 to $8 each. Calves were plentiful and sold at from $2 to $8 each, as to size and quality.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"Mr. Silberberg thinks so, too," replied Shayne. "But I think it was west of here."

"There's a man on the beach, sir," said the engineer. "Shall we speak him?"

"Do," replied Shayne. "He may know something."

The Roc circled about like an alighting swan, all the time descending. The man seated himself on a log to await her libration. Mr. Shayne spoke. Had he seen anything of a flying machine which went out to sea yesterday?

"Did you see the young lady?" asked Shayne.

"Yes, suh."

"Was she still clinging to the helicopter when you last saw her?"

"No, suh. She wasn't clingin' to nothing—with the han' to'ds me—when Ah lost sight on huh, suh."

"Let down the lift," commanded Mr. Shayne. "I'm going down."

The three men, Shayne, Silberberg and Wizner, gathered about the fisherman on the beach.

"Do you think," queried Silberberg, "that there is the slightest chance for her to—to be saved, my good man?"

"Ah'm slow spoke, an' it would take a half houah to tell all Ah knows, gen'ly speakin'. But if it's jist about the young lady, she tumbled out on the sand in fair shape, an' if she's made good weathah she's about bo'din' the boat f'r Mobile. We was raght proud to hev huh as ou' guest."

"There!" shouted Wizner triumphantly. "Didn't I tell you that machine would stand grief? Struck the ground"—

"Keep out of this," commanded Mr. Shayne. "Was she hurt seriously?"

"But, I say, Mr. Shayne," protested Wizner, "don't you see that with my machine you've got the business coopered? Put your money on the helicopters and you'll"—

"Ah you Mr. Shayne?" inquired the captain.

"Yes, yes," replied Shayne. "What have you done with her?"

"A gentleman Ah'm employed by," replied the captain, "has done carried huh ove' to the inn. Axin' yo' pahdon, ah you the Mr. Shayne that's called the prince o' the powers of the aiah?"

"I reckon I am," replied Mr. Shayne irritably. "But tell us of the rescue of this dear girl. Tell us!"

While Silberberg and Shayne listened Wizner began scouting up and down the beach. At once they signaled the Palmetto Beach wireless station, and in a moment the news came in that Miss Suarez had sent messages to Mrs. Shayne that morning and had taken an early boat for Mobile. Mr. Shayne grasped the hand of Mr. Silberberg, who sat on a log, burying his face in his handkerchief.

"I know how you feel, old fellow," said Shayne. "And I want to say to you, my good man, I can't repay you, you know, but so far as money can go I hope you will ask, or, rather, accept"—

"Ah couldn't accept anything, suh," said the captain. "Thank'ee kindly. But maght Ah ask whar you all's goin' now?"

"Straight to Mobile," replied Shayne.

"Ah unde'stand," went on the captain, "that you ah int'rested in all sohts of flyin' craft."

"Well," answered Mr. Shayne, laughing, "got a machine that solves the problem? Most every one has."

"No, suh, but a friend o' mine raght on yo' way Ah'd pow'ful well like to hev you stop by an' see. He's got something. It's Mr. Theodo', my employah."

"The gentleman who took my niece to the beach?"

"Yes, suh."

"We are in a hurry," urged Mr. Shayne. "We are about starting for Chicago. Won't any other time do?"

"It's raght on yo' way, suh," persisted the captain, "an' it's all the favo' Ah'll ask of you all. Ah leave it to you, suh, of co'se, but"—

"Will you go and pilot us to the place?"

"Ah cain't ve'y well leave hyah, suh," replied the captain, "but if yo' pilot knows these piny woods as well as he orto do, suh"—

"Come and tell him the place," said Shayne incisively. "We'll go. But I tell you, my friend, your man might have spent a lot of car fare reaching Finley Shayne!"

"Ah reckon that's so, suh," replied the captain, stepping into the lift. "He's been a-stud'in' ve'y heavy about the mattah, suh, fo' a long tahm."

The discovery of the methanose mixture, with ten times the explosive force of gasoline, had made ascensional and depressive screws an efficient adjunct of the aeronaut with its barely buoyant gas bag and, with the improved propellers which followed, made the old fashioned "dirigible" a fairly dependable craft in ordinary weather. It was along this line rather than by way of the heavier than air aeronefs that development had marched, to the enormous enrichment of Finley Shayne, who controlled the Keewatin methanose marshes.

Theodore Carson often thought of Shayne. Carson's barren estate lay under the lane between Pensacola and Mobile, and above this ran the sparser drift from Atlantic and Appalachian forest points to the Mississippi sound resorts. He knew the type of every airship. Most of these huge objects dropping like swifts into the chimney of the aerial harbor at Mobile were Shayne's Condors, of which the Roc was the type, modeled after the early creations of Count Zeppelin. The smaller, quicker, low flying ones without the gas holders were the still unsuccessful aeronefs of the Wright and Farman types. The scene was varied by an occasional orthopter with flapping wings or by helicopters. The problem of life was in these various vessels, and he studied them wistfully, so wistfully that the Roc's wild honk sounded thrice before he heard it. He stepped out upon the Bermuda grass, saw a retractile telephone spinning down from the great silver fish balanced in the calm sky, caught it and put it to his ear.

"Oh, Aunt Chloe!" cried he, running in for his hat and coat. "Here's some one above the house asking for me, and who do you suppose it is?"

"Mout be the angel Gab'el," replied Chloe, "f'm whah he is an' de way he blow dat ho'n, but Ah reckon it's jes' some triflin' sky hooter. Who is dey?"

"The greatest luck you ever heard of," cried Theodore. "Where's that new parachute? Never mind, I've found it."

Mr. Theodore ran out, stepped into the lift and was whisked up to the Roc's polished deck with his new parachute over his shoulder.

CHAPTER IV.

A LEAP INTO SPACE.

MR. SHAYNE met Carson with something less than the steely coldness with which he was wont to freeze the vitals of the man representing an undeveloped business opportunity.

"I am under great obligations to you, Mr. Theodore," said he, "for your service to my niece. To be entirely frank, I should not have appropriated the time to call on any business account."

Mr. Carson felt repelled. He traced the "Mr. Theodore" to Captain Harrod's mode of referring to him.

"I am sorry," said he, "that you have gone even an inch out of your way on account of any fancied obligations. I prefer the basis of business."

"By Jove," said a voice at his elbow, "you ought to be able to meet him on that basis, Shayne."

"But," went on Silberberg, "it seems to me, old chap, we'd vastly better put the whole thing on a basis of breakfast first. Send this good man aft and let's fall to."

Carson wheeled round and stared Silberberg in the face curiously, with the impersonal disfavor of one studying the picture of some noxious thing, like a Gila monster or a feast of vultures.

"Thank you," said Theodore. "I have breakfasted, and in good company."

"By glory, my man," shouted Silberberg, "if you say another word"—

Carson turned upon him, and Silberberg sank into a seat. Carson walked back to the engine room, saying that he would look the craft over and see Mr. Shayne after breakfast.

Silberberg conceived himself vastly insulted by this fellow they had picked up and gave his host rather a bad half hour.

"We owe it to him to allow him to be a little nasty," said Shayne. "Think what he did for Virginia, you know, Silberberg."

"By Jove," cried Silberberg, "I would rather she had—er—that is, I would not allow any service even to her to atone for such an insult. I don't allow any one to— He must leave the Roc, Shayne, or I will."

"But his machine may be worth while," urged Shayne, using what he judged would be a valid argument with his guest. "An idea is an idea, Max, and this art of flying needs improvement."

"No idea," insisted Max, "is worth that much. Suit yourself, Mr. Shayne, but as for me"—

Silberberg waved his hand, closing the debate. As they rose they detected Wizner standing behind them, hat in hand, as if awaiting a word with them, or eavesdropping, as the case might have been.

"Well," said Shayne rather angrily.

"I just wanted to say," replied Wizner, "that I know what this young fellow's proposition is. And if you don't find him reasonable to deal with come to me. I've seen his model. It ain't protected, of course, and I can build one like it in a few weeks—with money enough. I'll learn him to butt in and take a customer from me!"

"When inventors fall out," began Shayne.

"Most sensible thing you've said," replied Shayne.

Carson waited in glum silence until the second descent of the lift, refusing to occupy it along with Silberberg. Shayne urged him to stay aboard for the night trip to Chicago.

"The weather north," said Shayne, "is the mildest known for March. We can discuss your project, Mr. Theodore, over our highballs going up. Come with us."

There has been 2,000 suicides in St. Petersburg in five years.

Mormon Treasurer Dead.

Salt Lake, Utah, March 28.—James Jack, treasurer of Utah for twenty years, and treasurer of the Mormon Church for more than fifty years, died at his home here yesterday. He was 62 years old.

Jack crossed the plains with an ox team in the early sixties. Shortly after reaching Salt Lake City he was appointed by Brigham Young, as treasurer of the church. He served in this office under all Mr. Young's successors.

Honor for Grenfell.

New York, March 28.—The council of the Royal Geographical Society of England has awarded to Dr Wilfred T. Grenfell, the misisonary and explorer, the Murchison Bequest for the current year in recognition of his many years' work in Labrador, which has added to the world's geographical knowledge. Announcement of the award was made here yesterday.

Private Banker's Death.

New York, March 28.—When business opened at the private bank of Julius De Brovsky yesterday, the first customer could get no answer to her questions from the banker, who sat leaning over a table, seemingly buried in thought. In his abdomen was a bullet wound. Investigation showed $1,000 missing from his safe.

MEN AND WOMEN CURED DAILY

BY "FRUIT-A-TIVES", THE GREAT FRUIT MEDICINE

Few people realize the enormous amount of good which "Fruit-a-tives" has done and is doing to-day. "Fruit-a-tives" is curing hundreds of sufferers from Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Chronic Headaches—hundreds of others who were almost frantic with Stomach Trouble, Indigestion and Biliousness—still others with Kidney and Bladder Irritation — many with apparently "hopeless" cases of Constipation, Nervousness and Skin Diseases.

"Fruit-a-tives" will do the same for you if you give it a trial.

U. S. WARSHIPS ON THE GREAT

had been changed to La Banque Internationale Du Canada. He moved that the clause be amended accordingly, which was done, and the bill was given a third reading.

James Conmee (Thunder Bay and Rainy River) had his annual assault-at-arms with the Commons yesterday afternoon in a revival of the dispute over the power situation at Fort Frances, when his bill to amend legislation of two years ago came up in committee. The bill is ostensibly to bring the works of the Ontario & Minneapolis Power Co. under the jurisdiction of the Minister of Public Works.

A. C. Boyce (West Algoma) opposed the bill because it was an invasion of provincial and contractual rights.

W. S. Middlebro (North Grey) said a protest had been received from the Provincial Government. The interests of the municipality had been safeguarded by an agreement with the province, acting as trustee for Fort Frances, in June last, and that agreement was beyond the jurisdiction of the Federal Parliament.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier then took a hand in the discussion. He thought the legislation was necessary. A precedent to the construction of works of any kind was the rights of navigation. The dam must be passed upon by the Minister of Public Works. He was no enemy of provincial rights, but rather had sought to maintain them.

The bill passed the House.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Italy is celebrating the jubilee of national unity.

The situation in the Far East remains unchanged.

The Galt, Hespeler & Berlin Railway is using Hydro Electric power.

A deputation of residents of Georgian Bay towns went to Ottawa to ask Government aid for a new railway.

Relatives of the late J. G. Howard, who donated High Park to the city of Toronto, have appealed for help from the city.

Late yesterday afternoon the grand jury brought in a true bill against John Youngs in connection with the Oxford graft cases.

Two hundred tons of ammunition shipped to Kingston caused much alarm among residents in the vicinity of the railway yards.

Word was received in this city of the death in New York of Miss Winnifrid Scatcherd. Miss Scatcherd's writings were known all over the United States under the pen name of Beatrice Fairfax.

There are counterfeit bills of the Bank of Montreal of the denomination of five dollars somewhere in circulation to the amount of about $5,000. Notice to this effect was sent out on Monday by the bank.

The will of Wm. Schwensen, who was a manufacturing milliner in New York, and which disposes of a large estate, provides for a weekly payment of $15 during her life to the widow and an "annual Christmas present of $100" to her. The will was filed yesterday.

Miss Margaret Kelly will be made acting director of the U.S. Mint at Philadelphia.

Peace Sunday In States.

Philadelphia, March 28.—Dr. W. H. Roberts, state clerk of the Presbyterian Church, and chairman of the executive commission of the federal council of the churches of Christ in America, yesterday sent out a request that sermons be preached in all churches in the federation next Sunday, upon the subject of "Arbitration as a Substitute for War."

Dr. Roberts in his request says that the churches of all England have forwarded a cablegram asking the churches of America to unite with them in the present movement next Sunday, from all pulpits on the subject of arbitration between England and the United States, now pending.

C. P. R. Promotions.

Toronto, March 28.—The Toronto offices of the C. P. R. announce the following changes and transfers among their division superintendents:

J. K. McNeillie, superintendent of the Toronto terminals in 1907, and who has been superintendent of division 2 for the last two years, goes to Farnham, district 1 of the east division, including all lines from Megantic and Newport to Montreal, and branch lines.

A. L. Smith, an old Toronto boy, formerly of district 3, Ontario division, now in charge of district 1, east division, to which Mr. McNeillie goes, will be transferred to division 3, from which Mr. Hodge goes to London.

All these superintendents are bright and progressive young men, and these changes are in accordance with the C. P. R. 's policy of giving to their employes the widest possible experience in railway matters.

A Popular Candidate.

Cobourg, March 28.—The election of W. F. Kerr, crown attorney, as a bencher of the Law Society of Upper Canada, is being heartily urged by the Bar of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham, his nomination paper having been very largely signed.

Four Inches of Snow.

Wallaceburg, March 28.—One of the most severe snow storms of the season raged here last night. After a bright afternoon the mercury began to fall about four o'clock, and at eleven four inches of snow were on the ground.

Alabama Tornado Kills Three.

Monroeville, Ala., March 28.—Three persons were killed near here Sunday night by flying timbers from buildings that were blown from their foundations by a tornado.

PETERBOROUGH

How a Local Young Man Made Money

There are many people in and around the City of Peterborough who have money, looking for investment, who prefer a safe investment, such as bonds or low rate of interest, to investing in mortgages or other securities which require special judgment in selecting, and constant and careful watching to avoid loss. To such we would commend the following result to their careful consideration—

A young man of the City of Peterborough had his life insured sixteen years ago last January for Ten Thousand Dollars ON A SINGLE PAYMENT 15-YEAR ENDOWMENT PLAN. The premium paid was $6,460.00. On the 31st of January, 1910, the company paid him $12,116.00 in cash, after giving him fifteen years of free insurance. What do you think of that as an investment?

Are bonds or municipal debentures, or even the best mortgages, to be compared with it, when you consider that the risk of the life was carried during the 15 years? And remember, the security is as safe as any debenture or mortgage, and there was no trouble or expense entailed of any kind after the initial investment.

The above result was obtained from the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, under policy No. 47340, W.H.B.

Would Life be Worth Living
IF YOUR SIGHT WAS GONE?

I come to you with a few words about eye-sight. I have been helping people SEE BETTER for many years, and I am sure many have held me in grateful remembrance for it. I have fitted thousands in this city of Peterborough and surrounding country, who are comfortably wearing the glasses that I fitted them with. I meet them every day wherever I go. I want to help more; I want to help you. You need help for your eyes if you don't see well, or if you have eye-strain. I make no charge for examination. If you come to me you can come with the full assurance that you will be told whether glasses are needed or not. We are not in business simply to SELL GLASSES. The retention of your patronage and of your commendation are far more valuable to us. Our qualifications for eye-sight testing are of the highest standard, and our method of testing is most up-to-date. Our instruments include the Retinoscope, Ophthalometer and "Phoroptometer," this last instrument being the only one of its kind in Peterborough.

ADDRESS ON IAN McLARENS HEROES

By Dr. McCulloch Before Knox Young Peoples' Guild

Knox Church Young People's Guild listened to a rare and inspiring literary treat last evening, when Dr. McCulloch gave an address on "Ian McLaren's Heroes," treating particularly of Geordie Howe, "the lad o' parts," Lachlan Campbell, the sterling Scotch man, whose heart was in the right place, and "Dr. McLure," whose 'family was the whole Glen.'" A most hearty vote of thanks was tendered Dr. McCulloch at the conclusion of his address and many eulogistic remarks were made regarding the pleasure and profit derived.

Dr. McCulloch repeats his address before the Brotherhood this evening and it is hoped there will be a large turnout.

Judging from the number present last night at the Guild, the "red and blue" campaign is meeting the favor and enthusiasm of the young people of the church. This is a campaign for two hundred members, and it closes on April 21st, with a grand contest between the "reds" and "blues" as to which can give the better entertainment.

Next Monday the Guild meets at 8 o'clock, and the subject is a missionary one.

SHORT MEETING OF THE WATER COMMISSION

Harry Evans Received Water Rate Reduction—Accounts Passed

At the meeting of the Water Commissioners yesterday afternoon there were present Messrs. T. F. Matthews (chairman), W. Henderson, W. H. Hill and W. H. Moore, K.C.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and received.

Several accounts were passed, including one of $200 from C. A. J. Duranceau. The full amount of his account was $269.57, the balance of which will be paid later.

Mr. Harry Evans waited upon the commissioners with reference to waterworks on Patterson street. His father lately deceased, by mistake signed for both water service for both house and lawn, thinking he had contracted for lawn service only. Mr. Evans considered it unfair to be paying for water which they never used.

The commissioners decided to withdraw the extra charge, commencing 1st of April.

COMPANY SIX IS IN LINE AGAIN

Jolly Affair at Armouries—Many Enrolments and Bright Prospects

The members of No. 6 Company, 57th Regiment had a rousing social time at the armories last night. The attendance of the members was extremely encouraging to genial Captain McLean and the other officers, and the enthusiasm displayed was but another indication of the popularity that this company enjoys and maintains. A record number of enrolments—something like twenty-four altogether—were added to the strength of the company last night.

The earlier part of the evening was whiled away with euchre and other games, after which bounteous refreshments were served by Hoopers.

An impromptu program of musical and instrumental numbers revealed the fact that some high-class musical talent exists in the company. Roy Fuller, at the piano, ably tapped the keys in a masterly manner. Pte. Sheldon Huffman sang in splendid voice and Roy Fuller also contributed a vocal number, accompanying himself. Pte. J. Harstone gave a piano instrumental. Several complimentary short speeches were made by officers of the regiment who dropped in, all of which contained many nice praiseworthy remarks about the popular captain of No. 6.

After the hearty singing of the National Anthem the boys dispersed, voting the evening a splendid success.

The regiment will hold its first drill next Tuesday night, drill nights having been changed to Tuesday instead of Monday this year.

LICENSE REDUCTION

Electors May Petition Councils Asking for Reduction

In future the question of license reduction is to be taken out of the hands of municipal councils and left with the electors. Ten per cent. of the electors may petition the council any time before the first of November, asking for a reduction of a certain number of the licenses. The question than must be voted on at the next municipal election, and submitted to a fifty per cent. vote. The submission of the question is compulsory, and if the by-law is carried by the electors, the council is compelled to give it its third reading so that it shall become law. After such a question has been decided upon by the electors, it cannot again be submitted to the people for three years.

WILLIAM FAVERSHAM COMING; FAMOUS ACTOR HAS GREAT PLAY

Peterborough Favored by a Visit From the Hero of Herod and the Squaw man—Coming Wednesday, April 5—One Performance.

It is not often that theatre-goers in the smaller cities have the opportunity of seeing such famous and popular actors as William Faversham and his wife, Julie Opp. This season Peterborough has been rather favored above most cities in the number of first-class attractions that have been provided, but none of them has been more welcome than the visit of Mr. Faversham next Wednesday evening, April 5th.

The new play "The Faun," in which Mr. Faversham makes his appearance has proved to be one of the most important novelties of the season and has been a tremendous success in New York.

In this drama Mr. Faversham impersonates a faun, the same being the god of the shepherd. This particular faun happens to wander out of the woods and fields—his natural element—into London. He is discovered by a certain Lord Stonbury enjoying a bath in a huge vase in the garden of his house. He is first thought to be a tramp, or some other obnoxious person. Lord Stonbury is very soon made right in this matter, with the result that he provides the faun with an ulster for his nakedness and brings him into the house. The two enter into an agreement, with the result that the faun is dressed up as a human being and makes his debut into society. It may be easily imagined that the dramatist has been able to evolve from so propitious a beginning a play of very considerable novelty, interest and charm. The faun in question has lived close to nature and knows nothing whatever of the conventions of life. During his existence he has communed with the animal kingdom only. With the persons with whom he is thrown he is considered an oddity of nature, nevertheless he is able to bring about very many surprising changes in their modes of life. In short he leads these people away from the conventions of existence back to nature. This new play offers Mr. Faversham a role vastly different from anything that he has impersonated up to date. It will be a striking antithesis to his impersonation of Herod and other roles that he has been seen in in recent times. Besides very many admirable players who appeared with him last year many new and important additions have been made to his company.

WANDERERS GOT POOR RECEPTION

Vag and Disorderlies Refused the Freedom of the City

Three seedy dejected looking individuals whom the Magistrate dubbed floaters, adorned the prisoner's box at the police court this morning. One named Arthur Cooper, was charged with vagrancy.

"Where are you going?" asked His Worship. "I don't know" was his reply.

"How long will it take you to get out of town?" 'Not ten minutes' was the wanderer's reply. He went.

The other two men were drunk and disorderly last night and were arrested while fighting. Both said that Lindsay was their destination and that they had only stopped off here for a day.

The other had no finances, but he was going to Lindsay nevertheless. The Magistrate advised him to walk.

DUMMER FARMER ASSAULTED AND ROBBED ON SIMCOE ST.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Police Found Money Hidden in Clothes of the Prisoner

Alfred Meakins is again in trouble. At police court this morning he was charged with assaulting and robbing with violence last night, Wesley Westcott, a farmer from Dummer, who came to the city yesterday with $21. There were many witnesses, and the accused was committed for trial at the next assizes. He didn't plead or elect as to how he wished to be tried. R. E. Wood prosecuted and G. N. Gordon defended the prisoner.

Westcott was the first to take the witness box. His story of the affair was as follows—

HAD BEEN DRINKING.

"I came to Peterborough yesterday morning on business on my way to Toronto. Last night at ten o'clock I had something like $21 on my person in my vest pocket, three five-dollar bills and the rest in ones. I had a couple of drinks in a hotel, but was not drunk. After leaving I went to another hotel, on Simcoe street, before going to the American hotel to spend the night. Passing an alleyway on Simcoe street, some person came out and struck me on the head with his fist, and followed me up, striking me another blow which felled me to the ground. I said to him 'What did you do that for; I have no money.' While lying on the ground I felt my assailant take the money out of my vest pocket."

"Do you always carry your money so carelessly?" asked his Worship.

"Yes."

"Well, you must be a green-horn," was the magisterial remark.

"How many hotels were you at during the day and evening?" was the query.

"Three."

"Did you treat at them all?"

"Yes," was the reply.

"P. C. Meagher then came along and took me to the police station," continued Wescott.

"I suppose your friends whom you treated thought you were just arrived from Cobalt," joked his Worship.

OFFICER HEARD CRY.

P.C. Meagher gave his story of the affray. He was on duty last night about twenty minutes to eleven, on Simcoe street. While walking west near the Y. W. C. A. he thought he heard the sound of a blow behind him, and on looking around saw two men on the ground in front of the house of Mr. Stevenson, scuffling. He heard one man cry out "I have no money." P.C. Meagher commenced to go in their direction and both separated, and the officer took after the younger man, who had appeared to be the aggressor. He overtook him as he was walking off with his hands in his pockets, and searched him then and there, but found nothing. He then took him to the police station, where Sergeant Adams and himself (Meagher) again searched him, but discovered nothing.

He then asked two men to fetch the other man, who had apparently been assaulted, to the station, which they did.

FOUND THREE BILLS.

At daylight this morning P.C. Meagher and Sergeant Adams went over the route which they had travelled last night in bringing the prisoner to the station, and found three one-dollar bills lying on the road on Simcoe street, between Water and George.

MONEY HIDDEN IN CLOTHES.

The prisoner was thoroughly examined this morning at nine o'clock, and in his underclothing was found one five-dollar bill and five ones, wrapped in the folds of his undershirt and drawers. Detective Newhall assisted by P.C. Meharry, conducted the search.

The prisoner suggested that perhaps the former had placed the money in his clothes, which statement, however, he quickly retracted when the chief took a step in his direction.

Meakins has faced the magistrate to answer for offences on other occasions.

"THE ROSARY"

One of the Season's Successess—A Play That Appeals

A new play to be produced in this city at the Grand Opera House, next Wednesday evening, March 29, is Rowland and Clifford's beautiful production "The Rosary," from the pen off Edward E. Rose. The play deals with the conditions in the American houses of the present day. In some homes the cause has only just begun, while in others misery and sorrow are always at the door. "The Rosary," has just completed a three month's run in Boston.

PASTOR IN FAVOR OF MANLY ART

Athletic Minister of Toronto an Advocate of Boxing

Toronto Star—Rev. J. D. Morrow, the athletic pastor of the partially constructed Dale Church, better known as the "Athletes' Church," is an advocate of boxing. He says: "People say boxing doesn't develop the best side of a man's nature, but it does. It helps him to control his temper, to think of the other man's feelings, to build up his character, and to get rid of his surplus energy. And remember, if a young fellow doesn't work off that extra bit of energy in a sane, honest way, he will do it by undesirable means to the detriment of his morality and his manhood. It is so; I know it."

"Reverend Jay Dee," as the athletes call him, can "go some" himself. He bumps into some pretty rough customers in his work, and he won't stand any nonsense. If he thinks that a whaling is what a man deserves and that it is coming to him, he hasn't the slightest bit of hesitancy in handing it to him. As he says: "If a man goes to jail he is where I can't reach him. If he goes to the hospital I can talk sense to him."

Rev. Mr. Morrow's methods and ideas sometimes shock the more staid ministers and leaders of his church, but he is the idol of the boys around town, and is a wonderful factor in the uplifting of a class that ordinary churches and pastors do not, or cannot reach.

THE RING

There was only one Ruby Robert Fitzsimmons. Only one gawky freckled fighter, who, at the age of 35, won a world's championship and for five years successfully defended it. Ruby Rob set a record that will probably stand for all time in the archives of fistiana.

Fitz was the Mme. Bernhardt of fightdom. Age did not leave any defects upon him and he was fighting great battles when other men were past the meridian of their years. The freckled "kangaroo" established a goal that fighters of the present day will never be able to touch.

There are few old gammers in the ring to-day. The rust arms of antiquity have evidently been consigned to their proper place—the just man's back yard. Age cuts small figure with the exponents of the manly art of pummeling. Youth is king, and a man's proficiency is not gauged by his years because all of the children of the good of fisticuffs are pretty equitably matched in this regard.

In the hit and get away game of to-day a man past 30 is rated as being on the decline of his powers. He is looked upon in ring circles the same as an octogenarian. Such a man has not a chance of ever ascending to a title, although one does hold one now—Jack Johnson. But Jack is an exception.

Only five fighters who are now making their living by sticking gloves into an opponent's features are over 30. They are Jack Johnson, Cyclone Johnny Thompson, Mike and Jack (Twin) Sullivan and Jim Flynn. Only two are 30—Jem Driscoll and Rudolph Unholtz.

Of those past the acknowledged period of decadence, Cyclone Johnny Thompson is the oldest. Sycamore, Ill., was the first training quarters of the cyclonic one 35 years ago. Thompson is the oldest fighter of the present time. However, he didn't start as early as some of his competitors, and has only been in active conflict nine years.

Queer angle connected with the Cyclone's history. A lightweight and welterweight until 35, he turns into a light heavyweight then registered at 161 pounds.

The two antiquated bald-headed twins, Mike and Jack (Twin) Sullivan rank next in order in the list. Jack has been stopping cross-counters and moving his hands in faultless rhythm for nearly 13 years. Mike is the junior twin of the ring sport. He only took up the game in earnest in 1901 when the fame of his brother began to permeate his being.

Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman is 32 years of age. The fight game has known him for nine years. Flynn is the last of millers over the one score and ten.

Following are the ages of the other oldest ring celebrities of to-day, showing positively that youth is dominant: Owen Moran, 27; Tommy Murphy, 26; Harry Lewis, 25; Willie Lewis, 27; Abe Attell, 27; Tony Caponi, 29; Hugo Kelly, 28; Fighting Dick Nelson, 30; Jack Redmond, 27; Batt ing Nelson, 29; Jem Driscoll, 30; Rudolph Unholz, 30; and Frank Mantell, 24.

THE AUTOMBILE

The public in general has no doubt thought that the commercail vehicle or motor truck is an invention of recent years owing to the fact that the auto first made its appearance in sufficient numbers to attract attention about ten years ago, says an American writer. Such, however, is not the case. The first thoughts were along the transportation problem, not for pleasure but for commercial purposes. The first practical ideas were worked out in 1860 by Sir Isaac Newton, who invented a toy horseless carriage, which embodied all the essential features of a steam auto, and later on in 1698 Dennis Papin originated what was Papin's carriage, which, although a model, contained a reciprocating steam engine.

In England and France several were constructed during the eighteenth century, and in the United States, Oliver Evans suggested the idea of steam road wagons to the Lancaster Turnpike Company, of Maryland, but it was not until the nineteenth century that any really important results in road cars were obtained. In 1827 Walter Hancock, an Englishman patented what was then a remarkable boiler, and succeeded in applying to a three-wheeled vehicle called the automaton. In this a vertical engine was placed in the middle of the car and the drive consisted of a chain wheel with a chain driver extending back to the rear axle. It ran between Stratford, Paddington and Islington and carried over 12,000 passengers during this period. In 1833, in London, twenty carriages were built and six companies were formed to operate steam coach lines.

These early attempts exhibit many meritorious devices, including water tube boilers, air-cooled condensers and shaft and gear drives to the axles, but by 1836 all continued effort in the development of the motor commercial vehicle had practically ceased and was never resumed to any great extent until fifty years later.

The period of modern development began about 1894, when with the advent of the explosive gasoline motor real economical results began to be obtained.

The commercial car problem may be summed up as follows: To construct a car which will deliver the most ton miles for a dollar, and Mr. McFarren also defines a commercial motor car by stating that "it is a car engaged in the transportation of passengers or merchandise in order to make a direct profit on the operation or as a factor in profit-making to which the transportation is auxiliary."

In other words the successful motor truck should be to make money with, or to save money by, and as it is a direct factor in the production or non-production of dividend, it is easily seen that it is one of the most essential and beneficial of all recent inventions. That the industry is one of the greatest benefits to the business world and that it has reached mammoth proportions is not now disputed.

BASKETBALL

In the city league basketball games at the Y.M.C.A. last night, the Ponies defeated the Pirates 29—26, and the Fairies won out with the Giants by a 26—13 score. The teams were:—

—Ponies—

Flowers (Captain), Wallis, English, Shore, Turner.

—Pirates—

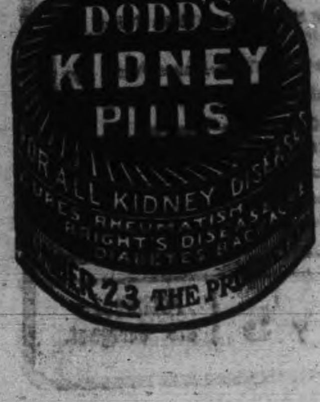
—Giants—

Loomis (Captain), Cressman, Dowing, Tait, Sisson.

—Fairies—

Canniff (Captain), Elliott, Hall, Fleming, Turner.



SEVEN TEAMS FOR ROLLER HOCKEY

Seven teams signified their intention of entering the Roller Rink Hockey League this season, at a meeting held last evening at the rink. They are C.G.E. Tool Room, C.G.E. Machine Shop, Grady's, Lock Works, Millionaires, Quick-Lunch and the Pillpounders.

The meeting adjourned to meet on Friday night, when election of officers will take place and a schedule arranged. Arrangements have been made with the rink management, and games will likely be held on either Monday or Wednesday nights.

Next Tuesday the much-tooted harem skirt will be seen at the rink, worn by Madame Summart, a French roller skate expert, who will demonstrate the advantages this skirt possesses for convenience in roller skating over the ordinary skirt.

KEENE NEWS

Special Correspondence.

John Hore is preparing to go to the west. He intends to take several horses with him, as it is his intention to work his farm himself this summer.

A heavy rain and thunder storm passed over here on Monday last, but no damage is as yet heard of.

The fall wheat in and around this vicinity looks green and healthy, and promises to be a good crop.

Robert Shearer is now fully equipped for farming, as he had the good fortune to secure a helpmate for life on Friday last. We tender him the usual congratulations.

It is with sorrow that we chronicle the demise of Andrew Shearer, who expired on Saturday last at the advanced age of 77 years. The deceased was much respected by his neighbors and all who knew him. We sympathize with his wife and family in their bereavement.

Several of our farmers are engaged in making maple syrup, but report it a very poor year for sap.

POETIC EFFORTS ON CORONATION

All England Composing Odes With Reference to Coming Event

The author of "Mother, Pin a Rose on Me" must look out for his aurels in this, the coronation year of King George V., for all England, like Silas Wegg, is dropping into poetry, or whatever passes for it among the charitably inclined.

Dressmakers, clerks, commercial travellers, actresses, sailors, street cleaners and office boys are breaking out into verse, and music publishers and magazines are being deluged with so-called coronation odes, but, so far as heard from, the laurels of Sir Alfred Austin are absolutely safe.

Nothing can give you a clearer line on the character of the verse that is being offered than the foregoing statement. One of the odes, written by an office boy, who has evidently been in touch with the genus American, begins—

"Great George our King, You're the real thing."

And a clerk at Harrod's begins his offering with a majestic sweep, thus—

"Mighty Monarch of a wave swept realm,
We pray that you may hold the helm."

Which after all is not half bad when you consider that the fifth George is a sailor King.

Patriotism is usually a good thing, but when it finds relief in verse it becomes painful. A reader for one of the leading magazine houses says—

"We have been overwhelmed by poets and would-be poets, mostly the latter. Hundreds of the efforts are so laughable that I really am glad that I haven't chapped lips. One versifier in Houndsditch has a peculiar idea of what a coronation celebration is, for in his contribution he describes it as an "orge," thus finding a word that rhymes with George. On the other hand, I have passed upon some high class coronation odes and songs which will be read and heard by the public in the near future."

So you will see that being King has its disadvantages, as fully a million verse makers in England are bombarding His Majesty, with Scotland, Wales, the Overseas Dominions and, last but by no means least, Ireland still to be heard from. In fact, the ode making habit has become so general that instead of putting a nickel in the slot it is only necessary to buy a whiskey and soda for a loyal Briton—same price—to hear him declaim his coronation ode.

Mrs. Mary Ward was evicted from a New York apartment house because she kept 34 cats.

JEROME AS AN ORATOR

NOTED HUMORIST IS AN ARDENT LIBERAL CAMPAIGNER.

He Started as a Clerk and Then Tackled School Teaching and Later Acting and Journalism Before He Appeared as a Full Fledged Writer of Humorous Books—He Has Written Several Successful Plays.

In common with a great many other literary men in England Jerome K. Jerome, the dramatist and humorist, is an enthusiastic Liberal, and when elections are on he is to be found stumping the country in behalf of the Liberal cause.

In spite of his gift of humor Mr. Jerome takes politics very seriously and is upon occasion an impassioned orator as this portrait shows.

JEROME K. JEROME.

"Jerome-kay-jerum" as the high-brows insist that his name should be pronounced, is nearing fifty-two years of age, and in his lifetime has been clerk, schoolmaster, actor, journalist, editor, and is now chiefly occupied with the drama. His first noted book was a funny skit on the unreality of the popular drama called Stageland. He then wrote Idle Thoughts of an Idle Fellow, which is read wherever English is spoken. In addition to these he has written numerous stories and travel sketches and a notable group of plays. He was formerly editor of The Idler with Robert Barr.

The Salvation Army In England.

There are some interesting figures in the annual report of the Salvation Army in Great Britain, which was recently issued. It was prepared by Rider Haggard, the novelist and social worker, who says that nothing impressed him more than the women engaged in the work. He says that a study of the female officers of the Salvation Army is calculated to convert the observer not only to a belief in the right of women to exercise the suffrage, but also to that of their fitness to rule among, or even over men. The figures of the Darkest England scheme work show that from the beginning 70,448 have been received into factories; temporary or permanent employment has been found for 269,663; 9,256 ex-criminals have been received into homes, of whom 9,052 were assisted, restored to friends, sent to situations, etc.; 14,103 lost persons were found; 48,096 women and girls were received into rescue homes, of whom 40,514 were sent to situations or restored to friends; and 115,145 sick people were visited and nursed.

Court Sermons.

The recognized time for a preacher to occupy the pulpit when preaching before the late King Edward VII. was ten minutes. King George, however, has never quite approved of these very short sermons, and it has been intimated to the chaplains in ordinary attached to the Royal Household, from whom the preacher for the morning service at Buckingham Palace is usually selected, that their sermons may be lengthier than they were customarily in the late reign. An intimation of this sort amounts practically to a command. When the King is at Buckingham Palace on Sunday, the preacher for the morning service is selected by His Majesty; the selection is usually made on Friday, and the chaplain who has been chosen is notified of the fact by the Sub-Dean.

According to Apollodorus, the invention of the saw came about in the following way: Talus, so the account goes, having found the jawbone of a huge snake, used it to cut through a piece of wood and, finding that it worked so well, formed an instrument of iron similar to it. The first sawmill concerning which we have any clear knowledge was erected on the island of Madeira somewhere about the year 1400. A few years later one was built at Breslau. There were no sawmills in England prior to 1663. In that year one was built there by a Dutchman, but he was forced to abandon it. Sawmills were erected near London about 1770.

His Own Critic.

Son—But accidents are liable to happen, father, in the best regulated families.

Father (angrily)—That may be, sir, but I would have you to understand that mine is not one of the best regulated families.

Wed at Fifteen.

A girl who was unsuccessful in an application to the Long Melford, England, Bench for a separation from her husband stated that she married a little over two years ago, when she was fifteen years old.

No Criminal Cases.

London, March 28.—When Sir Glenholme Falconbridge opened the spring assizes at the Court House yesterday afternoon he dismissed the grand jury. The Chief Justice pointed out that there were no criminal cases on the calendar and that the public buildings had been inspected in January, as well as last fall, so that it was hardly necessary to make another tour of these.

In his introductory remarks the judge congratulated the County of Middlesex on the condition of affairs which resulted in an absence of criminal cases for the court docket.

There are but three jury cases to be tried. All are of small importance.

Want Bank Manager Released.

Brockville, March 28.—A petition largely signed throughout the town and district will be forwarded to the Minister of Justice praying for the release on parole of Robert Cughan, ex-manager of the Farmers' Bank at Athens, who is serving three years in the Kingston Penitentiary.

McGibbon Gets Cedar Rapids.

Montreal, March 28.—D. Lorne McGibbon has obtained control of Cedar Rapids, which is capable of generating 150,000 horse-power. It is said that six millions will be spent in development. The price paid has not been given out.

Vain Hunt for Dope.

St. Catharines, Ont., March 28.—The St. Catharines' police received a tip from Toronto that in one of the Chinese laundries here large quantities of opium were stored. All were visited, but nothing found.

Hamilton Woman's Suicide.

Binghampton, N.Y., March 28.—Marie D. Hugo, of Hamilton, Ont., was cut to pieces beneath a train here yesterday, circumstances indicating suicide. She had lived here two years as "Sadie Sylvie."

A Moving Sermon.

"I once had a parishioner who was a miser," said an English clergyman. "For this man's benefit I preached one Sunday a strong sermon on the necessity of charity, of philanthropy—a sermon on the duty and the joy of giving. The miser, at whom I gazed often, seemed impressed.

"Next day I met him on the street.

"'Well, John,' I said, 'what do you think of yesterday's sermon?'

"'It moved me deeply, sir,' he answered. 'It brought home to me so strongly the necessity of giving alms that honestly, sir, I've a great mind to turn beggar.'"

A Boomerang.

"A farmer I met today just banged me there with his carpetbag," replied the other.

"It must have been a pretty hard carpetbag."

"Yes; it had a gold brick in it that I sold him yesterday." — Catholic Standard and Times.

Anyhow, They're Gone.

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Erie, Pa.—"I suffered for five years from female troubles and at last was almost helpless. I went to three doctors and they did me no good, so my sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken only two bottles I could see a big change, so I took six bottles and I am now strong and well again. I don't know how to express my thanks for the good it has done me and I hope all suffering women will give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It was worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. ENDLICH, R. F. D. No. 7, Erie, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

MISS McCARTHY'S ART EXHIBITION

Many Gems of Art Shown — Clever Efforts of Teacher and Pupils

The exceptional artistic talent and ability of Miss Mamie McCarthy, the clever local teacher of painting and drawing is revealed by a visit to the exhibit parlors of her residence at 172 Brock street. Beautiful and richly-toned paintings, in both oil and water colors, are suspended around the studio. Many of these represent realistic and most impressive landscape scenes, and the perfect blending of color and shade in many of them reveals the fact that Miss McCarthy has been endowed with true artistic vision.

The efforts of several of her pupils are also exhibited in a most attractive manner, and nearly all of them are real gems of art and beauty.

A splendid array of hand-painted ornamental chinaware is a noticeable and charming feature of the exhibit Mr Harold LaPlante has done full justice to the excellent and painstaking tuition of his instructor, Miss McCarthy, and quite a number of the articles of chinaware were painted by him. A tray and a large plaque are deserving of special praise. A lovely painting to represent "Spring" is delicately and exquisitely interpreted.

Take two Miss McCarthy's art

Sketches in watercolors and charcoal are shown by several of her brightest pupils, namely; Mrs. Fred McGrath, Nora Coughlin, Blythe Buller, Miss Mann, James Weir and Mrs. Archie Laing.

UNDERWRITERS HELD BANQUET

Following Business Meeting at Which Officers Were Elected

The Life Underwriters of Central Ontario passed another milestone in the evening of the 24th of March, when they held their annual meeting and banquet. The business meeting was held at 7 p.m. in the spacious parlor of the Toronto Savings and Loan Co. The gathering was one of the best in the history of the association, and, although the membership had past the half-century mark, many new names were added. In the centre of the table stood the beautiful trophy which the local association had won from the Dominion Association for having the largest percentage of increase in membership in the Dominion of Canada. All eyes were centred upon the silverware as President Moore, in glowing terms, recounted the strenuous fight all had to win the prize.

The officers for the ensuing year are—

President—J. I. Allin, Peterborough.

Vice-Presidents—T. Mark, Peterborough; W. J. Robertson, Port Hope; A. E. Miller, Uxbridge; B. L. McLean, Lindsay.

Secretary-Treasurer — Geo. Southwell, Peterborough.

At 8.30 a grand procession was formed, headed by the new president, Mr. Allin, who was closely followed by Mr. E. J. Reid, carrying the silver trophy (the mace of the association). Down George street the procession filed and across to Hooper's palm gardens doubly attracted by the inspiring music of the Halpany orchestra and the delicious perfumes from the beautifully arranged tables, which they found awaiting them.

Addresses were afterwards given by Wm. McBride, M.A., of Winnipeg, president of the Dominion Association, and Ald. J. O. McCarthy, of Toronto.

REGRETTED DEATH AT FLEETWOOD

Mrs. Edward Sutton Died at Age of 81 Years

Special to The Review.

Fleetwood, March 28—It is our painful duty to have to record the death of Mrs. Edward Sutton, who had La Grippe for a few days. She passed peacefully away on Friday, March 17 at 12 o'clock, aged 81 years. The late Mrs. Sutton was born in Monaghan, Ireland, and along with her father, six brothers and 3 sisters migrated to Canada and settled in South Monaghan. All her sisters are dead and only one brother, Mr. Joseph Clarke of South Monaghan survives. Her maiden name was Anna Maria Clarke. She married the late Edward Sutton in Cavan on the 11th day of June, 1856. Her husband died thirteen years ago with pneumonia. The late Mrs Sutton leaves to mourn her loss, one son, Albert of Manvers Township, Mrs. Daniel Jones, Mrs. John McKinley, Mrs. Arthur Graham, all of Manvers Township. One daughter, Caroline, died when four years old, and Mrs. Wm. H. Lee died about six years ago. The funeral took place from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Graham, on Sunday, the 19th at 2 p.m. A funeral sermon was preached in the house by Rev. Mr. Patterson of Lifford. He took for the text as chosen by Mrs Sutton, II Timothy, IV chapter and VII verse, I have fought a good fight; I have finished my course; I have kept the Faith. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Joseph Staples, James Galloway, Daniel Jones William Coulter, William H. Lee and John Shea. Beautiful basket bouquets were placed by Miss Maria Jones of Peterboro, and Miss Herb Wager. The funeral which was a very large one proceeded to St. Mary's Church burying grounds, where the burial services were conducted by the Rev. J. A. Poston of Bethany, assisted by Rev. Mr. Patterson of Lifford. Among the friends from a distance were Messrs. James and Fred. Clarke, Cavan, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Earle of Ida; Miss Maria Jones of Peterborough; and Mrs. Herb. Wager of Powles Corners Fenelon. The late Mrs. Sutton always led a Christian life, and her Bible was her favorite companion.

AN IRISH QUESTION

To The Editor of The Review,

Sir — The following case of "No Protestant need apply" may be of interest to your readers. It is taken from World-Wide.—

Mr. William O'Brien, the leader of the independant Nationalists, in a letter to the "Times," makes overtures looking to reconciliation wiht Mr. John Redmond, chairman of the Irish Parliamentary party. Mr. O'Brien says that he desires to record his deep gratification at the conciliatory speeches which Mr. Redmond made on St. Patrick's Day, and proceeds to offer the suggestion that they might reunite the two Irish parties by dissolving the connection between the United Irish League and the Board of Erin. This has reference to Mr. Redmond's assurances to the Protestant minority. Mr. O'Brien invites the leader of the Nationalists to put his assurances into practice by separating the two bodies, because the first rule of the Board of Erin, whose officers are in the majority on the governing board of the United Irish League, is that no Protestant can become a member."

Yours, etc.,

RUNNING 10 HOURS BEHIND TIME TRAIN WAS WRECKED

Mr. and Mrs. James Dawson Were in Coaches which Left the Track

Mr. and Mrs. James Dawson of Nanton, Alberta, who arrived in the city yesterday, having been first called here, owing to the illness of the late Mrs. James Edgecumbe, the mother of Mrs. Dawson, were in the railway wreck which occurred at an early hour Sunday morning, about half way between Nissanabie and White River, on the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and which was brought about by a broken rail, after the engine and several cars had passed in safety. The rail tilted in a manner that caught the last two cars and they were thrown a distance of about twenty feet and but a short distance from the river.

Some of the passengers on the train including Mr and Mrs. Dawson, received injuries of a minor nature, but the circumstances were such that all considered themselves fortunate at not being seriously injured. The train was running ten hours behind time having been held back at Schreiber, where a head on collision occurred in which three were killed, but the speed was according to regular time, the crew having been notified at Schreiber to this effect.

The majority of the passengers were sleeping at the time and when the two rear coaches left the track and turned over on their side, the bedding in the berths went with the passengers, in such a manner that while they were considerably jolted, no further injury was sustained.

Transfer was effected to the cars on the track and the passengers were taken on after very little delay. Speaking of the conduct of the train crew and particularly that of Conductor McEwen, Mr. Dawson states that the conductor was most careful and obliging in looking after his charges. The general expression of the passengers was that they had never travelled with a more capable official. He did everything in his power and he, with the other members of the train crew were held blameless in the discussion among the passengers on the cause of the accident.

On board the train, were four other people bound for different parts of Ontario having been called from the West, by messages telling of serious sickness and in one case death.

PRISONER IN LINDSAY JAIL TRIED TO HANG HIMSELF

Made a Rope Out of the Bed-clothes, But Finally Lost His Nerve

Lindsay Warder—Five or six days ago a young man from Sonya by the name of George Willis, whose mind is slightly unbalanced, was brought to Lindsay and temporarily lodged in the county jail. He was to be removed to the institution at Mimico this week. It was not thought necessary to place a watch over the young man until yesterday, when it was learned that he had attempted to end his life while in his cell.

It appears that when Turnkey Mort. Andrus visited the cell Sunday morning he noticed that the young fellow looked rather peculiar, and on making a closer examination he noticed several red marks about the neck, and also that Willis' head was slightly swollen. Willis said that he had fallen and bumped his head. Turnkey Andrus questioned the man, who at first denied having attempted to take his life, but on making a search of the cell the turnkey found that the young fellow had torn a strip off the bed quilt. This he found secreted in the bed clothing.

Willis afterwards admitted frankly that he had endeavored to end his life, and told the turnkey how he went about it. Like two other unfortunates, who committed suicide in the local jail some time ago, he tied one end of the quilt rope to the bar at the top of the cell door and the other securely around his neck. He then swung out and hung suspended with his feet almost touching the floor. However, he had not tied his hands together, so that after dangling in misery and agony for a short while, the young fellow stated to Mr. Andrus that his nerve failed him, and not being able to endure the suspense any longer, and feeling himself being slowly strangled to death, he lost his nerve, and pulling himself up again, he untied the knot around his neck and toppled over on his cot weak and helpless. He had just let himself down in time, as it is thought a few more seconds would have ended his life.

To Turnkey Andrus the unfortunate young fellow stated that he might as well be dead, and that he wished to die for the sins he had committed. He was very melancholy, and it was thought wise to place a watch over him so that until he is removed a day and night watch will be on guard.

The young man is in good health, and talks very sensibly. He fully realized what he was doing, and was determined to do away with himself, but death by strangulation was too slow. For several days Willis would only eat whenever he took the notion.

MAN SENTENCED HERE CAUGHT AGAIN AFTER LEAVING PEN

William Gullett Gets Into Trouble at Kingston

Kingston, March 28.—The police department is not pleased with the way the penitentiary authorities are allowing some released convicts to remain around here. One of these freed prisoners, James Gullett, who should have been sent to Peterborough, the place at which he was sentenced, was allowed to remain here, with the result that he got drunk and was arrested. The city is not so eager for population as to desire bad ex-convicts. It can take care of its own, but has no desire for outside criminals as citizens. The rule of the police department is that a released convict should be placed aboard a train, by a guard, and given a ticket to the place at which he was sentenced to prison. The rule is generally carried out, but several cases have occurred here where it has not. The chief of police will see that Gullett is shipped to his proper destination.

At the penitentiary it is learned that Gullett was allowed to remain here in connection with some business a local lawyer was transacting for him, but he has exceeded his stay. He has been twice in the penitentiary.

DEMOCRAT LEADER OUT FOR FREE TRADE WITH CANADA

Oscar Underwood Wants Unrestricted Reciprocity, if Canada is Willing—Manufactures Included.

New York, March 27.—The New York World prints an extended interview with Congressman Oscar W. Underwood, chairman of the new Ways and Means Committee of Congress, who will have most to say about the new tariff laws. In regard to trade relations with Canada, Mr. Underwood says:

"There is no doubt that the reciprocity agreement with Canada will be passed by the House at an early date after the House reassembles in April. As far as it goes, the Democrats have already approved the reciprocity agreement in caucus. The Canadian agreement only covers a small portion of the scope of the tariff revision, though, which we will endeavor to put on the statute books.

"Personally I am in favor of adding a clause to the Reciprocity agreement, authorizing the President, by executive act, to reduce the tariff duties of this country, whether included in the Canadian agreement or not, whenever Canada is ready to remove corresponding duties on the same articles. In short, I advocate putting articles on the free list whenever Canada is willing to put them on her free list. This would not interfere with the present pending pact between this country and Canada, but it would be an invitation on the part of our Government for Canada to unite with us in ultimate free trade.

"I am not a free-trader, so far as the world at large is concerned, but I believe, on the contrary in a tariff for revenue only. But as between this country and Canada, I should welcome absolute free trade if the Canadian Government is willing to grant free trade to our products entering Canada."

It is understood here and in Washington that Mr. Underwood will not rest content with adding a "free trade" rider to the present reciprocity agreement, but that he will begin an active campaign to bring about the complete destruction of the tariff wall between the States and Canada.

ACTUAL FIGURES NOT ATTAINABLE

Says Commissioner Duggan of the Water Power Scheme

Regarding the item in yesterday's issue of the Review dealing with a water power proposition for the city, Commissioner Duggan takes exception to the amount of $800,000 being reported, and states that the actual figures are not yet attainable. The scheme is, he says, in a state of preparation.

ST. JAMES' METHODIST CHURCH ENJOYING MUCH PROGRESS

Extracts From Reports at Annual Congregational Tea and Rally

The congregation and the estimable pastor of St. James' Methodist church continued in the anniversary rejoicings last evening, when the annual tea and rally were held. The occasion was one of enjoyment and interest. The attendance was large. The first part of the program, and a very important one, that of partaking of the many good things, on the well-laden tables, and prepared as only ladies can provide, was voted by all a big success, and everyone was happy and contented when the second part of the program was called by the pastor, who was chairman of the evening.

St. James Methodist church has made remarkable progress since its inception, and much of this is due to the splendid efforts of the first pastor, Rev. H. M. Manning, who has been a welcome visitor during the anniversary services. It was a small beginning, but it is doubtful if any other sister church in the city made the same progress in its early days. Around the present leader and pastor, Rev. J. G. Brown, has been gathered a band of willing and self-sacrificing workers, each one striving to promote the interests of the church, that it may fulfill its mission of Bringing in the Sheaves.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Particularly noteworthy has been the progress of the Sunday school. A. A. Prest, the superintendent, reported a growth in the membership for the past year of about one hundred. The average attendance of one year ago was 122, while for the year just closed the figures are 220. The average in offerings jumped from $2.40 to $5.50, and the total membership, which includes scholars, teachers and officers and the cradle roll is 415, the latter department numbering 46. Fifty scholars have taken the stand for the Master and have joined the church.

LADIES' AID.

The Ladies' Aid Society, for which too much praise cannot be given, has a membership of 29. The ladies have held their meetings during the winter months at the homes of the members, and have promoted a social and harmonious spirit that is most pleasing, and is also a part of the foundation on which they are doing such a good work. During the year a great loss was experienced in the death of the president, Mrs. Robinson. Mrs. Wilson reported last night receipts for eleven months of $327.52, and an expenditure of $257.24, leaving a balance on the right side of $70.28. This does not include considerable talent money, which has to be returned.

On the platform with the chairman were Rev. G. W. Henderson, Rev. C. H. Coon and Rev. H. M. Manning, all of whom gave short addresses, in which they congratulated the congregation and pastor on their achievements of the past, and wished them continued success for the future. Other numbers on the program, besides the reports, were:—

Opening Prayer—Rev. G. W. Henderson.
Instrumental duet—Aileen and Mendil Braund.
Vocal Solo—Mrs. Greenslade.
Selection—Ladies' Quartet.
Vocal Solo—Mr. Stanley Pollard.
Vocal Duet—Mrs. Renill and Mrs. Greenslade.
Chorus—Sunday school scholars.
Cello selection—Mr. J. M. Greene.
Anthem—The Choir.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

The president of the Epworth League, Mr. James Goodwin, reported a flourishing condition in the affairs of the society, it having started off with a membership of eighteen. Literary, social and missionary meetings have been held, and a mission study class organized under the leadership of Mr. W. McLaren. The donations for the past year were $1.95, the consecration collections $8.93, and the proceeds from two socials and one concert, $19.40, making a total of $30.28. The expenditures were $23.12, and the balance on hand now is $7.16.

Mr. B. F. Ackerman reported that $1,150 had been raised for the church debt.

THANK OFFERING.

CHARITY BOARD HELD SESSION

Accounts Passed and Deportation Cases Discussed

The Charity Board met last night with the following members present: Mr. H. Rush (chairman), Rev. Father McColl, Messrs. Cochrane, McLelland, Miller, White, McIntyre and Yelland.

The minutes of the meeting for February 27th were read and confirmed.

The following statement of orders given was read:—

The relief officer reported that he had given wood to James Ewing and Mrs. Wilkins, groceries to A. Garland and A. Nash, and groceries and coal to A. Ashcroft.

Moved by Mr. Cochrane and seconded by Mr. McClelland, that a recommendation be made to the Immigration Department to have Ashcroft and family deported to England. The motion was carried.

The Board adjourned, to meet Monday night, April 24th, at 7.45.

WHO'S COMING AND GOING

J. J. Turner was in Port Hope yesterday.

Miss Maud Power of Bowmanville, who has been attending Normal School here, returned home to-day.

Messrs. Arthur Weart and Walter Fitzgerald spent Sunday and Monday in Port Hope and Oshawa.

Miss Carrie Reesor of Markham has arrived in the city for the Madrigal Club concert, this evening, and is the guest of Mrs. Rupert Gliddon.

STILL ROOM FOR GREATER EFFORTS

Y.P.A. of St. John's Debate on the Missionary Problem

The St. John's Young People's Association held a debate in the Guild room last night which proved a huge success. In spite of the inclement weather a large number was present and they certainly spent a most enjoyable evening. The subject was one of great interest, namely, "Resolved, that the cause of Christian missions, although assisted by modern enlightenment and travel facilities, is not progressing as in the days of old."

The leaders, Messrs. G. A. Hamon and Chas. Coleman, put up a good fight, and brought forth some strong arguments to support their contention, whilst the opposers, Messrs. W. G. Common and S. Jay, left no stone unturned to win the verdict for themselves.

A spirited debate ensued, after which the vote was taken, and it was found that the resolution was lost. At the same time all agreed that however much was being done it was by no means all that could and ought to be done, if only everybody would take their proper share.

Altogether, it was one of the most helpful evenings that the Y.P.A. has spent for the season, and sent every one away with much good food for serious thought and reflection. It should have a real influence upon their attitude towards the missionary cause, and bear practical fruit in the future.

NORTH WARD TO BE ORGANIZED

Committee to see to Vote on Rubber By-law

The North Ward Citizens' Committee will please please met at Mrs. Lee's shop, corner of George and Smith streets on Thursday night, 30th inst., at 7.30 p.m. to arrange for getting out the entire vote on 25th April.

The following is the initial committee (volunteer helpers welcome);—D. W. Dumble, Frank Dobbin, V. Eastwood, Jas. Kendry, J. J. Hartley, W. H. Hill, G. J. Thompson, H. C. Stabler, G. Walter Green, Alderman Kerneghan, Alderman Graham.

LOCAL ITEMS

Those who heard the Sunday school scholars at St. James' Methodist church sing "More More About Jesus" during the entertainment last night must have been very much impressed with the enthusiasm with which the youngsters gave the selection.

The final rehearsal of the Madrigal Club for the concert to be given to-night in the Conservatory Hall, was held last evening, all members being present, and displaying a finish in their work, that means much for the success of the affair.

The members of No. 8 company and prospective recruits are asked to be on hand at the Armouries to-night.

LOOK OUT FOR BOGUS FIVE SPOT

Counterfeit Blurred and Badly Printed May Come This Wap

Merchants of this city should be on the alert for bogus $5 bills of the Bank of Montreal which are just at present afloat in Toronto. The Telegram says: One of the clumsiest counterfeits that reached a financial institution was placed in the hands of the officials of the Bank of Montreal on Wednesday, when a five-dollar bill of the issue of 1891 was cut through.

The bill was passed by some rogue on a local dealer who took the bill to the bank in payment for $1.50 worth of goods and gave the purchaser $3.50 of real money in change.

The bill was detected when it reached the bank, with the merchant's deposit, and was sent at once to the Bank of Montreal, which placed the matter in the hands of private detectives.

The counterfeit is blurred, and is badly printed in ink that is many shades darker than the "real money." The paper is glazed, and is much thicker than the regular bank note, and is evidently the work of some novice in the business, who photographed the bill on to stone, and printed it with poor ink on a bad press. That it is a deliberate counterfeit is evidenced by the fact that the numbers are printed in red, requiring the bill to be run through the press twice.

HANDSOME BOOKLET

Issued by C.P.R. Regarding The Empress Service on the Atlantic

One of the most handsome and elaborate booklets that has been issued by the C.P.R. for some time, is that referring to the service of the steamers of that line to Great Britain for the coronation. To those who are planning to make the trip this summer a glance at the inner pages of the booklet should convince them that the only way to travel over the Atlantic is on the Empresses.

The cover of the booklet is of rich brown card heavily embossed with a design and the words "The Coronation of George V." and the Canadian coat of arms in gold and scarlet.

There are some beautiful halftone cuts of the King and Queen and of famous historic spots to be visited in England. The Empress of Ireland is shown and photos of the decks, music room, smoking rooms, dining salon and cabins, all looking most comfortable and inviting.

If you have not arranged which route you will travel by, be sure and consult Mr. W. McIlroy, city ticket agent, of the Canadian Pacific.

OBITUARY

Death of Wm. Lang

Mr. James T. C. Lang received the sad news this morning, of the death at the homestead, South Monaghan, of his brother, William Lang, who was well-known and highly respected in the community in which he was born and had lived all his life. He had also made many friends in this city, being a regular visitor. His age was 51 years.

The late Mr. Lang passed away last night after a short illness, his demise being due to a serious attack of pneumonia. He had been of a retiring disposition and had possessed the happy faculty of making and keeping friends.

His last visit to this city was one week ago Saturday.

Surviving are a widow, two sons and one daughter, all residing at the homestead. The sons are Robert and Earlson and the daughter, Miss Viola. The brothers are Messrs. Robert, of Alameda and James T. C., of this city. One sister, Mrs. Martha Perrin resides at Baillieboro.

The funeral will take place from the homestead, Lot 2, Concession 4, South Monaghan, Thursday afternoon to the Little Lake cemetery. Service at the house at one o'clock.

The Late Mrs. Stone

Mrs. John Stone, an old resident of the township of Burleigh, passed away on Saturday, March 26th, 1911, at the home of her daughters on Downie street, Peterborough. Mrs. Stone was in her seventh-fourth year, she had resided in Burleigh for fifty-five years and is survived by one brother, Wm. Matthews, of Peterborough, two sons, Robert Stone and W. G. Stone, both of Burleigh, four daughters, Mrs. Sam Bryson, of Dummer; Mrs. Wm. Patterson, of Peterborough; Mrs. Fred Bolton, of Burleigh, and Miss Elizabeth Stone, of Harvey.

The deceased was taken to Burleigh for interment. The funeral will take place from the residence of her son, Mr. Robt. Stone.

MOTHER OF MRS. W. J. REED IS DEAD

Passed Away in Belleville—Died at Grand Old Age

Mrs. W. J. Reid, superintendent of the Young Women's Christian Association, was called away two weeks ago to the bedside of her aged mother, in Belleville. On Saturday evening Mrs. Alfred Maybee, an old resident of Belleville, and later of Warkworth, passed to her rest and reward at the age of eighty-six. She is survived by one son, living in California, and three daughters, Mrs. Geo. Thompson, of Belleville; Mrs. Bentley, of Toronto, and Mrs. Reid, of the Y.W.C.A.

The funeral took place yesterday from the home of her daughter in Belleville, to the family burial lot in Warkworth cemetery.

LAID TO REST

The remains of the late Mrs. James Edgecumbe were laid to rest at the Little Lake cemetery yesterday afternoon, the obsequies being attended by a large number of sorrowing friends and acquaintances. The services at the house and grave were very impressive, Rev. Isaac Couch, pastor of George street Methodist church, officiating. The favorite hymn of the late Mrs. Edgecumbe, "Sweet Bye Bye," and "Let the Lower Lights be Burning," were sung during the service at the house, and their significance referred to by Rev. Mr. Couch. Many beautiful floral tributes, mutely evidencing the high esteem in which the deceased had been held, were received. The pallbearers were Messrs. John A. Cameron, H. C. Stabler, R. J. Chowen, and two brothers, James Lewis and J. H. Doherty, of Barrie. Among the mourners from a distance were one sister, Mrs. Cole, of Barrie; Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, of Cobourg, and Mrs. James Dawson, of Nanton, Alberta.

Knox Church Notices

The Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip will meet to-night in the Brotherhood rooms at 8 p.m. Dr. J. M. McCulloch will give his talk on "Some Heroes of Ian McLaren," that was so much enjoyed by the large number that attended the Young People's Guild last evening. Ladies will be welcomed to-night.

Optical Institute Creed

We believe in the glasses we are supplying that in quality, style and accuracy, they are unsurpassed. We believe that honest glasses can be supplied to honest people by honest methods. We believe in working, not waiting, laughing not weeping, in boosting not knocking and the pleasure of the practice of optometry. We believe we are getting the optical practice that we are after, and that there is plenty to get for men who are ready. We believe in to-day, and the work we are doing, in tomorrow and the work we hope to do, and in the rewards of both. We believe in courtesy, in kindness, in generosity, in good cheer, and in honest competition. We believe this in an order for a pair of glasses ready for every man who is ready to take it. We believe we are ready—right now, and we are taking it.

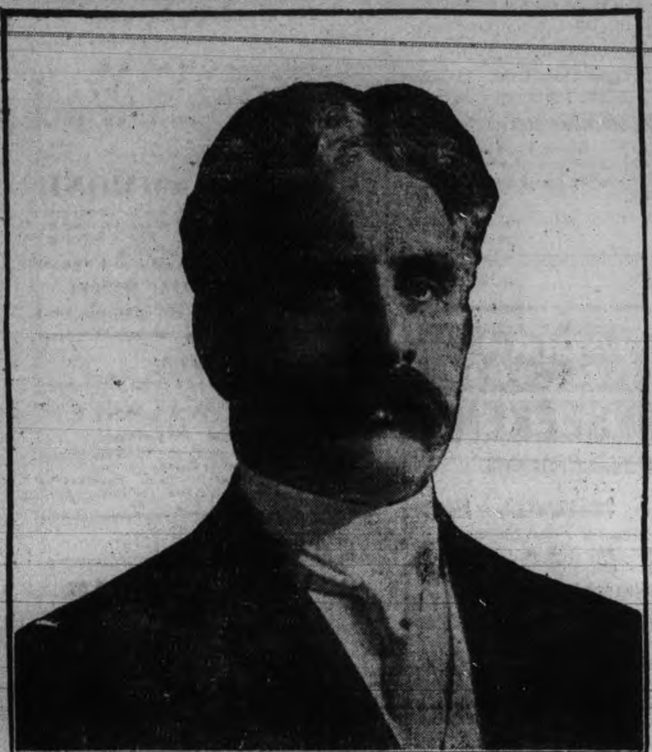
VIVE LE BORDEN



Leader Stays by the Ship.

Special to the Review.

Ottawa, March 29.—Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Conservative party, will continue to act in that capacity. For some days there has been a possibility that he might relinquish the task. There has been a crisis impending. Mr. Borden was seen this morning, and it was found that no resignation had been handed in to the party by the Opposition leader, nor could it be discovered that there would be any resignation. The impression was conveyed that Mr. Borden and his leading men would fight the malcontents to a finish. This, it is said, can only mean that the parties who have been endeavoring to make the situation so uncomfortable for him that he would have to resign, must go under. A round robin has been passed and signed by all the Conservative members now in the city, except five or six, asking him to continue.

ANOTHER BIG LOSS

Libraries and Priceless Records Lost in Fire at Albany

Special to the Review.

Albany, N.Y., March 29.—Fire swept the twenty-six million dollar New York State capitol building early this morning, and three wings of the building, containing the state libraries and many priceless records, were destroyed. The estimated damage is from six to ten millions. Nightwatchman Abbot cannot be found and it is believed that he perished in the fire. The building was still burning at a late hour this morning, but the firemen were in control of the situation.

Lake Navigation Open.

Colchester, Ont., March 29.—Navigation can now be considered open. The City of Detroit passed down on her first trip to Cleveland on Monday afternoon. No ice is in sight here. The Colchester reef light was displayed Monday night for the first time this season.

Smallpox at Ottawa.

Ottawa, March 29.—A third child was yesterday taken from the Protestant Orphans' Home here, suffering from smallpox. There are now nine patients at the smallpox hospital.

$15,000 DAMAGE ON $4000 STOCK

Sensations Promised From Investigation Into Guelph Fire

Guelph, March 29.—Coroner Dr. McLean has received a requisition from the Toronto manager of the London & Lancashire Fire Insurance Co., for an investigation into the fire which occurred in the local store of the Bowles Syndicate, on the early morning of Dec. 20. The firm claims that $15,000 damage was done, while the Canadian Underwriters' Association declare that they had no more than $4,000 stock on the premises at the time of the fire.

H. B. Corry of Toronto, adjuster for the Underwriters' Association, obtained the services, as private detective, of H. D. Merryweather, high constable of Wellington County, and the present requisition is a result of several weeks' investigation by him. Signed statements by Merryweather, in the hands of the authorities, are of a startling nature, and sensations are promised for the inquest, which will open on Tuesday, April 4.

Laurier to Visit Ireland.

London, March 29.—The Manchester Guardian says Premiers Laurier, Botha, Fisher and Ward will visit Ireland during the summer, and receive civic receptions.

An Irish correspondent says Ald. Farrell, Lord Mayor of Dublin, has issued letters to citizens inviting their hearty co-operation in welcoming the four Dominion Premiers. He is sure they will sink all class and political distinctions. He is also inviting the Mayors of Belfast and Cork to assist in the welcome.

JURY ACQUITTED MAN WHO SAID HE STOLE FOR CHURCH

French Canadian Catholic Jury Gave Verdict of Not Guilty.

Montreal, March 29.—That the Catholic Church is superior to the criminal law of Canada, when the jury is a French-Canadian Catholic jury, is the effect of the verdict in the Lemieux case yesterday.

A. J. Lemieux was charged with highway robbery of money and papers from L. Larose last autumn. He admitted taking the papers, but said he had returned the money, and pleaded that he was acting in the interests of the Catholic Church, as Larose was a Freemason, and secretary of the now famous Emancipation Lodge.

It was to secure lists of names of members and other papers of the lodge that the theft was committed.

His brother and two others who were with him, also acknowledged holding up Larose, but they too pleaded the return of the money and the interest of the church.

Judge Lavergne, in his charge to the jury, declared that no extraneous considerations as to the motives which prompted the prisoner in his alleged act should have any bearing upon the case.

"You must not preach the gospel with a pistol," he said.

The jury, after half an hour, returned a disagreement, but were locked up, and yesterday morning they gave the verdict of not guilty.

THOUSAND MEN ASKED TO ENLIST

To Storm Jail and Release American Citizens

Special to The Review.

El Paso, Texas, March 29.—Placards calling for the enlistment of a thousand men to storm the jail at Juarez, Mexico, for the purpose of releasing the two United States citizens, Converse and Blatt, have been distributed about the city.

Dr. Harrison A. Lyding, a twenty-three-year-old Chicago interne, caught scarlet fever while endeavoring to save the life of a woman patient and is dead.

HUNG HIMSELF IN DOOR-WAY

Montreal, March 28.—Tired of life because he was in poor health, and had been separated for a couple of years from his wife and five children, William Ford, 47 years of age, hanged himself, yesterday in the doorway of his home at 135 Lusignan street. Ford has been living alone in the house with Charles Reeves, who found him hanging in the doorway late last night. When he did not turn up for supper last night, Reeves and Mrs. Moore went to the house in Lusignan street, thinking that he might have become suddenly ill. When the outside door was opened, Reeves was startled to see Ford's body hanging from the transom of the outside door, with a rope around his neck. His face was towards the street door, so that Reeves looked into the face of the suicide as soon as he opened the outside door leading from the street.

BORDEN AFTER LAURIER FOR DELAY IN MANITOBA TROUBLE

The short discussion on the subject was introduced by W. D. Staples (Macdonald), who asked the Prime Minister if he had any communication from the Manitoba Government regarding the proposition made by the Federal Government as to the extension of the boundaries of the province. Mr. Staples remarked that when Sir Wilfrid Laurier was in the west last year he stated that if Premier Roblin would go to Ottawa the boundary question could be settled in ten minutes.

Mr. Roblin had come to Ottawa, and instead of a satisfactory proposition there had been submitted such a proposal that both the Government and Opposition of Manitoba had rejected. What they wanted in Manitoba was equality.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that so far he had received no communication from the Manitoba Government. When it arrived he would be in a position to discuss it. It was quite true, he said, that he had stated that if Premier Roblin came to Ottawa they could settle the matter in ten minutes.

"I am sorry," said the Premier, "that in making that statement I presumed too much on Mr. Roblin." He insisted that Mr. Roblin was simply uniting two things which were quite separate, (1) the extension of the boundaries and what terms should be given to the province in lieu of the lands; (2) another readjustment of the subsidies paid generally to Manitoba, as well as to the other provinces.

Mr. Borden said the Prime Minister was not doing justice to Mr. Roblin. The latter had come twice to Ottawa without getting any suggestion or answer, and even after going back to Manitoba, he had waited two months before an answer was made. Therefore, in saying that he was relying too much on Mr. Roblin's moderation, or something of the kind, the Premier was not doing justice to Mr. Roblin.

The Opposition leader explained the position of Manitoba. The province was entitled to be put in the position of the two provinces to the west, or in the position of the provinces to the east. In the one case, it would be entitled to administer its public domain and to compensation for the public domain that had been disposed of by the Federal Government in the past. Mr. Borden concluded by saying that the position of the province could not be attacked logically.

Hon. George P. Graham introduced a bill to legalize the creation of funds on the Intercolonial Railway to provide for renewal of equipment, rail renewals and fire protection. The bill was of a technical nature.

Hon. Sydney Fisher introduced a resolution and a bill to amend the Seed Control Act, by adding to the list of noxious weeds, some not already named in the act, to include flax in the list of grains, and to provide for the grading of other seeds.

W. D. Staples (Macdonald) said this was an annual occurrence of the Minister of Agriculture. The Minister was on the wrong track. The only way to get clean seed was to establish seed grain farms. Mr. Staples claimed that grass seed purchased in Ottawa carrying the guarantee of the Department was "chocked full of Canadian thistles and sow thistles."

Melbourne, March 29.—The Bible tercentenary was celebrated in the Commonwealth yesterday. On Saturday, at Preston, a church capable of holding five hundred people, was built in fourteen hours, by voluntary labor.

PEACE TO COME WITHIN A MONTH

Trouble in Mexico to End is the Latest Prediction

San Antonio, Texas, March 29.—Senor Madero, father of the insurrectionist leader, arrived here yesterday and predicted that peace would reign within a month.

Diplomatic exchanges had proceeded sufficiently to make it safe to state that the office of vice-president, at present occupied by Senor Corral, whom he called obnoxious, has been abolished. This would leave the functions of the office of vice-president for the new Foreign Minister, De La Barra.

Senor Madero said that Diaz will save his face by remaining in office for four or six months and then resigning. He will plead the weariness of his many years.

It will then fall to De La Barra to become de facto president, and to call an election. The administration party, it is said, will choose Limantour, the Minister of Finance, as its candidate for the Presidency.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW.

CONSERVATIVE PARTY TO BE REINFORCED BY WESTERNERS

Guess by Toronto Paper at Borden's Cabinet Material—Political Gossip of Interest.

The Toronto News publishes the following article in political matters It is not regarded as specially significant: "This is the time of year for deposing Mr. Borden as leader of the Conservative party and putting someone else in his place. The Movement (capital M, please) occurs quite regularly every spring. It flourishes brightly in the Government press for a season and dies away.

It was up last year, and it doubtless will be up next year, if the election has not taken place by that time. It is, in short, a hardy annual of politics.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, as he looks across the floor at the man who sits in the seat he once occupied, and who, before long, will sit in the chair which he now adorns has acute memories, of precisely the same sort of thing. He had, in his day of opposition, the recurring pleasure of hearing in the Ministerial press of that day, that his followers were rebelling against him.

SIR RICHARD'S LONE HAND

He had rather more on his hands than rumors in the press. What about Sir Richard Cartwright's lone hand game in 1891? What about Mr. John Charlton's famous letter of the early nineties, which expressed utter despondency as to the future so long as Laurier was the leader? Yes—Wilfrid Laurier must remember that hardy annual, the displacing of the leader of the Opposition; but he was not displaced. He won his battle—and perhaps his recollection of certain events, had the effect, let us say, on Mr. Charlton-s long and weary candidacy for the Senate.

SOME OF THE "SUCCESSORS."

Mr. Borden's hardy annual has three or four variants. He is to be deposed and the Conservative party is to get in his place:

1. Mr. Roblin.
2. Mr. McBride.
3. Mr. Rogers.

And of late we have added—

4. Mr. Sifton.

We may deal with the last name first. To believe that Mr. Sifton is about to walk across the floor and take charge of the Conservative party one or two qualities are necessary. One is a complete detachment from real politics, another is a general ignorance of the fact; a third is a genial readiness to believe anything. By the way, Mr. Sifton gave an interview on the subject last night. It did not take long. It was as follows: "Silly."

ANCHORED TO MANITOBA

As for Mr. Roblin the facts are that he is anchored to Manitoba. He is nearing 60, he has worked very hard and he is very comfortable as the political ruler of the Province in which his lot has been cast for many years. With Mr. Rogers and Mr. McBride we come to certain interesting considerations, apart from the great Deposition story which has done duty these many years, there are one or two special developments.

The West is growing very rapidly and is increasing in importance. Mr. Borden's temper always has been ready to recognize the present value and future greatness of the West, and he already has antagonized certain interests by his sympathetic attitude towards the western point of view. The Laurier cabinet's geographical distribution is as follows:

The Maritime Provinces, 3 ministers.
Ontario and Quebec, 10 ministers.
The West, 2 ministers.

BISHOP DUMOULIN, WELL KNOWN PRELATE, IS DEAD

Hamilton, March 29.—Right Rev. John Philip DuMoulin, M.A., D.C.L., Bishop of Niagara, passed away about 1 a.m. yesterday at the See House. He had been in failing health recently, but only a few days ago was able to go out walking. He was 78 years of age.

Born in Dublin in 1836, Dr. DuMoulin came to Canada through the influence of Dr. Cronyn, the first Bishop of Huron, and was admitted to the deaconate in 1862, being ordained priest in the following year.

His first curacy was under the late Archdeacon Brough, rector of St. John's, London Township, from where he went to Galt, and later to Trinity Church, Montreal, as assistant to Rev. Dr. Bancroft. He also served as assistant to Rev. Canon Ellegood at St. James the Apostle in the same city.

His first rectory was that of St. Thomas' Church, Hamilton, where he went in 1871. Four years later he was chosen first rector of St. Martin's Church, Montreal, where he remained till called to the rectorship of St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, in 1882, with the rank of canon.

It was in the mother church of the capital of Ontario where he made for himself a name as one of the most forceful preachers of Canada.

Dr. DuMoulin was elected Bishop of Algoma in 1872, on the organization of that diocese, but declined the post.

His call to the bishopric of Niagara came in May, 1896, and he was consecrated to the office in St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, by the late Archbishop Lewis on June 24.

He married in 1863 Frances, daughter of Ven. Archdeacon Brough. His son, Rev. Frank DuMoulin, is dean of the cathedral at Cleveland, Ohio.

No new cases of typhoid fever have developed in Ottawa since Saturday.

TAFT'S MESSAGE TO U.S. CONGRESS

At Extra Session Next Tuesday Will Deal With Reciprocity

Washington, March 29.—President Taft's message to the extra session of Congress next Tuesday will be exceptionally brief He has decided to deal only with the reciprocity agreement with Canada.

Later the President may send another message to the extra session, urging the enactment of a law making the Tariff Board a permanent institution.

The President has been assured by the temporary board that it will be ready with a detailed and comprehensive report on the textile schedules by Dec. 1 next, and that the chemical schedule may also be ready.

NO COLORED WOMEN

Ithaca, N.Y., March 29.—A petition signed by more than 200 girls, comprising a majority of the total number of female students in Cornell versity, was forwarded to President Schurman to-day, protesting against the admission of colored women to the Sage College dormitory.

RUSSIA ACCEPTS

The Reply of China on Ultimatum Recently Issued

Special to The Review.

Pekin, China, March 29.—The Russian Government has accepted the reply from China on the ultimatum issued by the Czar. This puts an end to any possibility of further friction between the two empires.

EX-COUNTY COUNCILLOR IS GUILTY OF OFFERING BRIBE

Woodstock, Ont., March 29.—John Youngs, ex-county councillor of Oxford, was last night found guilty on the charge of having offered R. E. Butler a bribe for the latter's influence in securing Youngs' appointment as a governor of the county jail at Woodstock. The jury added a recommendation to mercy. Messrs. Makins, for the accused, and Crown Attorney Ball and Crown Prosecutor G. T. Blackstock, conferred, and the crown anounced its consent to sentence being suspended.

His lordship concurred, and sentence was deferred, on Youngs' giving his recognizance for $1,000 to appear when called upon, and on his paying the costs of the prosecution, which will be about $200.

The case was reached at the assizes late yesterday afternoon, it reached the jury at 7.15 o'clock last evening. James G. Wallace, barrister, told of Youngs having come to see him in 1908, a few months before Mr. Cameron resigned.

Youngs, he said, asked his influence in favor of his application for the position, when Mr. Wallace referred him to Mr. Butler, who controlled the patronage. Mr. Youngs had told him that he did not expect to get the position for nothing. John Lindsay, of East Zorra, met Youngs on Dundas street during the last year Mr. Cameron was at the jail, and Youngs said he was going to see Mr. Whitney and Mr. Hanna about the job, and Mr. Cameron had said that he would resign if Youngs was guaranteed the position.

Youngs asked Lindsay to see Butler about the matter.

D. M. Perry swore that Youngs had told him that he (Youngs) was going to get the position, and that he had $1,000 to say that he would land it. Under cross-examination Perry said that Youngs may have meant in the way of a wager, but the witness had not taken it that way.

R. E. Butler, told of Youngs having come to see him in his private office about the job, and Mr. Butler had told him that he proposed to recommend Charles Wilson for the job, and that he would not do anything until Mr. Cameron stepped out. Then Youngs told him that there was a thousand dollars in it if he (Butler) would support him for the position. This Butler indignantly refused to do, stating that Youngs had not enough money to buy him.

Youngs went into the box on his own behalf and denied in toto the stories of both Wallace and Butler. He denied having asked Butler for anything but his influence. No money had been mentioned by him to anyone whom he had asked for the job.

TRYING TO LURE GIRLS

Rev. Dr. Shearer Warns Toronto Against White Slavers

Special to the Review.

Toronto, March 29.—Rev. Dr. Shearer is issuing a warning to the working girls of this city, in which he states that Toronto is being made a recruiting point for women agents of parties operating in the white slave traffic. The plan adopted by these women is to visit the shops and endeavor to form a friendship with the girls, and then attempt to lure them to different parts of the United States.

TORONTO HOTEL RATES TO GO UP

When New Law Comes Into Force in May

Toronto, March 29.—"We will raise the rates on the first of May, when the new law goes into effect."

This was the announcement made last night by W. C. Martin, secretary of the Hotel Men's Association of Toronto. The decision was finally made at a meeting of the association in the afternoon. They have not yet drawn up their schedule of increase, but it will include practically all goods sold over the bars in Toronto, with the possible exception of champagne, and will be extended also into the dining-rooms and rooms of the hotels.

"Inasmuch as the Government has decided to take the major portion of our profits, the public must necessarily be expected to make up that which is taken from the hotel man," continued Mr. Martin.

"FEEBLE STOMACH"

Causes Digestive Weakness and Poisons the Entire System.

"No one can have suffered more than I did with stomach trouble," writes Phil. E. Pascalar, well known at St. Andrews Corners. "My doctor told me my indigestion and sleeplessness were due to poisons in the blood. Certainly my condition was desperate, and it seemed from the despondent feelings that swept over me that I would lose my reason. I happened to read about Dr. Hamilton's Pills and bought five boxes from the druggist. Such body-cleansing pills I never used; they were mild and yet quite strong enough to drive all the humors out of the blood. My stomach gained strength rapidly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I improved so much that in eight weeks I could eat and digest all ordinary food. Depression and weariness passed away and I am, thanks to Dr. Hamilton's Pills, enjoying robust good health."

No remedy for biliousness, indigestion, headache, sick stomach, or constipation that compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Refuse substitutes. Sold in 25c. boxes. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills Cure Stomach Troubles

The Daily Review

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 29, 1911.

SIR JAMES IS FRANK

Sir James Whitney's comment on Mr. Fielding's speech hits out straight from the shoulder at the Finance Minister, a man who from his very training believes that trade with the United States is better than inter-provincial trade. Sir James does not mince matters when he says; — "I should say that Mr. Fielding was angry, and if he gets angry again, perhaps he will say more as to his real feeling. I remember several years ago talking with a gentleman from the Maritime Provinces, who was neither a political nor personal enemy and bore no ill-will to Mr. Fielding, and he remarked that 'Fielding is just where he was 35 years ago. He hates confederation. From his boyhood he and those from whom he took his inspiration kept their eye on the New England States. They could see nothing else, and to-day Fielding can't get beyond the problem of how to get a bag of potatoes and a hake of fish into the Boston market. This is his limit.' Now whether this gentleman was right or not I don't pretend to say. Mr. Fielding says something about Ontario. His treatment of Ontario leaves beyond doubt his feeling towards our province."

THE BORDEN STORY

The wish is most certainly father to the thought in the case of the newspapers, which give credence to the rumour that R. L. Borden will give up the leadership of the Conservative party. The continuance of his services to the party probably means some sacrifice to Mr. Borden—the political leader who does not give generously of his time and energy to the detriment of his private affairs, may be said to never exist—but there is only one Robert L. Borden, and there most certainly is no ground for believing that he would give up his post on the eve of a big Dominion campaign, and in view of the tour of the west which has been mapped out. The chances of the Conservative party ousting the Liberals at Ottawa have not been brighter for years than they are to-day. The Conservative party at Ottawa is stronger in debating power, in talent, energy, and virility than it has been for years, and the decline of the Laurier administration will repeat the story of the decline of the old Roman empire, with this exception; that Rome declined through the corruption and vice within her gates, while the Laurier government declines, with the graft and corruption existent, but accelerated by the sharp, constant knocking of the Conservative opposition at the gates.

This retirement business is the annual spring rumor, inspired by the Liberal party to discredit the process of strengthening the Conservative party which is contemplated. It has long been regarded as probable that Hon. Robert Rogers would enter the Dominion arena as one of Mr. Borden's lieutenants and the transference of the great organizing ability of Hon Richard McBride has made him a very desirable prospective recruit indeed to the Dominion forces. That these gentlemen would have places in a Borden cabinet is quite within the realm of possibilities, some say probabilities. The story of Mr. Borden's prospective retirement, and of trouble within the ranks, may be set down as a Liberal yarn to explain away the great strengthening of the opposition forces in prospect.

Every leader has his troubles. Mr. Borden has had his, but he is not the man to abandon the fruits of a victory already nearly won, after ten years of uphill fighting.

MIXED MARRIAGES

In all this discussion over the mixed marriage law of the Roman Catholic Church, the Ne Temere decree, as it is called, there is more superheated language being used than cool judgment and strict justice would seem to call for.

The Roman Catholic Church has a perfect right, as will be admitted by all fair-minded and thinking pepole, to make her own rules in regard to the marriage of one of her members, or both members, if the contracting parties are both Roman Catholics. The Roman Catholic Church refuses to recognize divorce, holding that marriage is sacred. It will not allow a member of the church to re-marry if divorced, while the divorced husband or wife is alive, holding that to be bigamy, although in the eyes of the civil law—such divorce having been properly obtained—that person has a perfect legal right to re-marry.

The Roman Catholic Church has a right to cast out any of its members who offend against the rules of the Church; that is not a state affair. The Church has a right by law and by precept, to make such rules guiding the marriage of its people as it sees fit, just as other churches may prescribe rules to guide their members. But the only penalty for violation can be exclusion from the Church.

The point on which there may be conflict is whether marriage is a civil contract, as well as sacramental. The law of Ontario has given the right of performing the marriage ceremony to all ordained ministers of whatever church or denomination, and a marriage ceremony by any one of them is binding under the law. Any church or denomination may internally regard such a ceremony as binding or not, but if there be desertion or separation, or if another marriage be performed under the cover of the rules of a church by one already married outside its pale, the civil law will soon make known what the power in the matter is. The Roman Catholic Church has a right to regard the children of a marriage contracted by one of its members outside of the Church as illegitimate, if it pleases, but that does not make them so, and if such treatment is displeasing to the member of the Church, all he or she has to do is to step down and out of it, knowing that the civil contract is superior to any ecclesiastical promulgation.

The issue is plain, in Ontario at least. No church or denomination, be it Roman Catholic or Methodist or Presbyterian, Jewish or Plymouth Brethren, has any legal status whatever in declaring a ceremony performed according to the statutes, is not binding, and a contract which cannot be enforced under the law. The necessity of having a supreme civil power to officially set the seal of legality on a marriage ceremony, no matter by whom performed or contracted, is apparent, because if each church were invested with the power of legalizing or of nullifying marriages, according to its peculiar tenets, there would be endless trouble and uncertainty. The safety of the home, the permanency of the marriage institution, depend, not on what a church says, but upon the state's approval, because the civil law is and necessarily must continue in all cases to be the final and indisputable authority.

ILLINOIS OR ONTARIO

The Chicago Journal sizes up the benefits of reciprocity for the State of Illinois. If the Canadians across the border are willing that Illinois should reap the benefits the journal mentions as likely to follow the agreement, instead of getting these benefits themselves, well, they certainly ought to vote for reciprocity. The Journal says:—

Under the operations of the proposed Canadian Reciprocity Agreement great benefit will accrue to manufacturers in Illinois.

This state produces millions of dollars worth of canned goods each year. Under the proposed agreement Canada will make a radical reduction in duties on these goods. Illinois' annual production of pickles and sauces amounts to about $4,000,000 a year. Canadian duties on these products will be reduced materially.

Remission of Canadian duties on meat and meat products will open the northern markets for the benefit of Illinois packers.

The reduction of 25 per cent. in Canadian duties on cereal products should result in significant increase in sales by Illinois producers.

Illinois makes carriages and wagons to the value of something like $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 a year. Canadian import duties on these articles will be reduced materially.

This state is a leader in the production of farm machinery and agricultural implements. During 1910 Canada imported from this country implements for farmers to the value of $4,321,000 and farm machinery amounting to $2,876,000. Canada will make heavy reductions in duties on all these articles.

Automobiles and automobile parts to the value of about $5,600,000 were imported into Canada in 1910. The reciprocity agreement will make a large reduction in the Canadian tariff on these articles.

Illinois takes leading rank in manufacture of clocks and watches. Canada will reduce tariff on timepieces.

Other manufactures in which this state leads—including confectionery, wire, brass, vitrified brick and plate glass—are to be included in the list of reductions.

Illinois is interested most vitally in favor of the agreement.

EDITORIAL NOTES

To pass that rubber by-law the citizens committee will proceed to do some great stretching.

March seems to be determined to end its days among the lions. The only lamb-like feature of the afafir seems to be our resignation.

The arrest of Sheldon, the Montreal get quick rich broker, seems to point to the fact that there is still hope that our own Beattie Nesbitt may some day come into his own.

It is quite possible that the coronation splash will make reciprocity look like a ten-cent side show, as compared with the big circus tent, for a while, at least.

Uncle Joe Cannon is going to fight the reciprocity agreement on the floor of the new House of Representatives. As a private member, Uncle Joe's influence won't be of the autocratic kind, however.

The big fire disaster in New York; the loss of the steamer Bruce; the capsizing of the steamer Seschelt, with thirty-nine drowned; the loss of the Yongola, with one hundred and thirty-eight drowned, make a very sad record of calamities in the last few days.

The Cedar Rapids water power twenty miles from Montreal and capable of developing 150,000 h.p. has been gobbled up by a Montreal financier named D. Lorne McGibbon. The water powers of the country are rapidly passing into the hands of the "interests." Can't we have some reciprocity to help us out?

The Forget bank will not be named the Banque du Canada. It will be the "Banque Internationale du Canada" That is quite harmless. The International Bank of Canada has a very euphonious title and no one will be deceived into imagining that it is anything but an ordinary chartered bank.

Hon. Mr. Fielding says that if the manufacturers keep on trying to preserve the policy of moderate protection for Canada, they will antagonize the West, and will suffer. The people of Eastern Canada who work hard for their living in industrial concerns, of course, will be delighted to sacrifice their livelihood to put a few more dollars per year into the pockets of the get-rich-quick westerners.

Dr. Taff, psychologist of the Polytechnic Institute at Worcester, Mass., says that the next discovery will be that of an apparatus for photographing the thoughts of a human mind, and developing them on plates. To prevent such a calamity, we will have to take to Esperanto, or some other method of concealing our thoughts. Perhaps the use of Toronto Globe English would suit the occasion Lese Majeste!

WHY DO CHILDREN LIKE ZAM-BUK?

A Chat With Mothers

"Whenever my children have any sore places, cuts, or skin troubles they ask for Zam-Buk. They can always depend upon it doing what is needed."

So says Mrs. A. Aloe, of 170 Chatham street, Montreal.

A missionary, writing from the West Coast of Africa, says: "One boy who was treated for a bad case of ulcer, came back recently and said, 'I like best that green medicine.' The 'green medicine' was Zam-Buk."

Children like Zam-Buk because, as soon as applied to a burn, a cut, or a sore, it stops the pain and then gradually, but surely, it heals. As soon as the pain of a wound or sore is relieved a child can go on with its play and leave Zam-Buk to finish off the healing.

Mothers might look a little more deeply into the action of Zam-Buk. First, it is highly antiseptic. As soon as applied it stops all danger of festering, blood-poisoning and inflammation. Second, it is soothing. It cools the wound or sore; allays the irritation; stops the pain and smarting. Then, thirdly, it stimulates the cells beneath the injured part, to healthy action, and causes the speedy creation of new, healthy tissue.

Just try Zam-Buk for cuts, burns, or cold sores, or eczema, ulcers, rashes, bad leg, piles, varicose ulcers, or any inflamed or diseased condition of the skin. Its effect will highly satisfy you. All druggists and stores 50c. box, or free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful imitations and cheap, worthless substitutes.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

Very well, said Mr. Theodore, he would go, with many thanks.

He wondered about the niece and Silberberg, but he asked no questions. He strode directly to the lift and went aboard the Roc. It was late in the afternoon when they took on two ladies—Psyche and Mrs. Shayne. The ladies vanished into the cabin with Silberberg.

"What do you think of the weather?" asked Shayne of Carson.

"The low has reached Omaha," replied Carson, "and has deepened rapidly. We ought to get into stiff south winds soon, increasing all the way."

"Let 'em increase," rejoined Shayne. "We'll make port quicker. If it should be northerly weather, now"—

"We'd have to moor?" queried Carson.

"Naturally."

"What I'm going to talk to you about," said Carson, "is a machine that could make Chicago against the fiercest gale quicker than this flying palace can do it tonight."

"Oh, yes," lightly replied Shayne. "I've had 'em offered me that would do it in an hour—in the inventor's mind."

The earth was a concave cup with the setting sun a flaming wick on its rim. To the north was a huge black accumulation of clouds which seemed swelling with startling rapidity, but the weatherwise aviators knew it to be their own headlong flight which brought the clouds nearer with such speed, giving them the swift upheaval which mimicked the approach of a storm. The silence was absolute save for the muffled exhaust of the engines and the purr of the driving screw astern, for the Roc kept pace with the blast, and the light breeze that swept her decks was from prow eastwardly to stern as she edged up into the great cyclonic whirl and outfooted the wind.

Carson walked aft. Looking rather concerned, the engineer was turning his ear downward, listening to the sullen roar that now droned up from the ground.

"A deuce of a wind," said he to Carson. "Hear it howl, and not a leaf stirring up here."

"Yes," assented Carson, listening. "It is blowing. But what of it?"

"Oh, nothing," replied the engineer, looking at the manometer, "only—did you ever try to bring one of these gas bags to in a gale, not to mention nursing her into the boss' Chicago garage? Hey?"

"No," answered Carson. "It must be difficult."

The young man wanted his serious talk with Shayne. So far they had spoken nothing but generalities, and he felt frustrated, held off, played with as a skillful fencer plays with a novice. And he had had no talk with Psyche. This made him irritable.

Miss Suarez stood by the rail looking off into the blackness, her hair heavy with a mist now just becoming perceptible. Mrs. Shayne from the cabin door looked forth at the young woman with distinct displeasure, for Virginia had just said a very naughty thing to Mr. Silberberg in a golf discussion which had unaccountably aroused her temper. And up walked young Carson to make things worse.

Virginia, taking him for Silberberg, turned on him a face hot with anger, stood looking at him a moment. Then all the displeasure faded away, and something quite irreconcilable with it took its place. Because she held out both hands and looked so divine Carson took them and held them close.

"My robber!" she whispered. "Are you a stowaway? Are you escaping?"

"Psyche! Psyche!" he gushed. "Oh, I'm glad! And you are well"—

Mrs. Shayne called Virginia. "Please come in," said she. "It's wet out there."

Mr. Carson gave Virginia his arm, and she swept into the cabin.

"Uncle Finley," said she, "I don't know how he happens to be aboard, but this is—this is my"—

"We know," said Mr. Shayne. "We picked up your deliverer down in the woods, Virginia."

"Oh!" said she. "Then I"—

"You were the only one, it seems, in ignorance of Mr. Theodore's presence. We have some business to talk over. What's up, Willett?"

Willett, the pilot, appeared at the door with a salute. "We seem to be breaking records," said Willett. "The distance gauge shows St. Louis nearest, with low variation for headway. Indianapolis is weak, right around a hundred and fifty miles, and we're getting indistinct registry that's either Nashville or Chicago, depending on whether it falls off or increases."

"I want to see you a minute," growled Silberberg and drew Shayne out upon the deck.

Willett went back to his work; Mrs. Shayne bowed grandly to the empty air which her gaze indicated as occupying Carson's position; Virginia, begging his pardon with her eyes, excused herself and followed her aunt, and Carson was alone.

Silberberg was making it unpleasant for Shayne again. This fellow, he said, has been taking liberties with Miss Suarez, and he (Silberberg) would not stand it.

"I tell you, Shayne," he urged hotly, "he must be put off! He must be paid and put off. If he isn't"—

"If he isn't," smiled Shayne, "it wouldn't be a serious matter, would it, Max?"

"Yes," spluttered Silberberg. "He insulted me! I tell you, it's all over between Federated Metals and Aerostatic Power if I'm forced to take things like this."

Shayne laughed heartily, but he heeded. Mr. Shayne saw real danger of a breach to which no obligation to Carson could have forced him and grasped Silberberg's hand warmly.

"Max, old man," said he, "you're quite right. We can't go down in this wind to let him land, but we can send him aft."

Theodore was examining his parachute as the pair entered the cabin.

"I have decided," said Shayne, "that your aeronef doesn't interest me."

"Very well," replied Theodore. "You are the sole judge of that, of course."

"And you may consider the negotiations off," went on Shayne.

"I adopted that theory some time ago," replied Carson.

"I think I ought to pay you for your time," said he, "and your service to my niece. Please take these and be good enough to go aft with the crew."

If Silberberg had not seen fit to indulge in a sardonic laugh at this exigency the explosion would not have occurred, but that sneering chuckle acted as a detonator for Carson's temper. He struck Shayne's extended hand, scattering the bills over the floor. Shayne stood with flaring nostrils and white with rage.

"Don't notice the fellow, Shayne," said Silberberg. "He wants to keep his hold on the girl and"—

The speech was cut short by a blow from Carson's flat hand delivered with lightning quickness and with stinging force. As calmly as though bidding Silberberg good morning Carson spoke to him.

"Be careful how you speak of her," said he, "or I'll throw you over the side. Mr. Shayne, permit me to say that you are a cur. I shall leave this craft at once!"

He started to go on deck, but as if reconsidering he turned and rapped on the door through which Virginia had disappeared. The girl opened it and looked breathlessly into Theodore's face.

"I am about to leave the Roc," said he. "I could not leave without bidding you goodby."

"Going?" said she. "Have we descended?"

"Keep away from that man!" screamed Silberberg. "He struck me, and he knocked your uncle's money all over the ship!"

Carson stood aside for her, and they went out upon the mile high deck. She halted, aghast to note that they were still high among the clouds of the storm, plowing on through a wild waste of tossing vapor, while the hoarse growl from the earth was so distant as to admonish her of the giddy height from the ground. Beyond the illumination of the lights it was absolutely dark.

"You must be going aft?" said she interrogatively. "I'll go with you."

No Harm From Preference.

London, March 29.—A. W. Wright, Toronto, speaking at Kensington, said he was convinced that in no way would the people of Britain suffer by giving a preference to the dominions which would immensely assist in the unification of the Empire. Sir Geo. Doughty followed by saying that no greater disaster could occur to this country than the completion of the Canada-United States treaty.

Col. Seely has accepted the chairmanship of the committee of entertainment for the Dominion Premiers during the conference and coronation. Other members are the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Lucas, Sir H. Verney, Sir W. F. Hely Hutchinson, T. C. Macnaghten.

Sheldon Busy In Pittsburg.

Montreal, March 29.—Chief McCaskill will go to Pittsburg to-day with warrants and papers for the extradition of C. D. Sheldon, charged with theft and false pretences, one of $10,000, the other of $25,000.

Owing to a warrant also taken out in Pittsburg, it is not thought that he will be brought to Montreal for some time. He had his game already started in Pittsburg, advertising in all the country papers there.

Hamilton will buy 55 horses and inaugurate a scavenger system.

McConnell Not Guilty.

Toronto, March 29.—At 3.30 p.m. the jury in the sessions returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Thomas McConnell of Toronto, charged with obtaining money by false pretences.

The case arose over a dispute between Mrs. Mollie Rottenberg and Mr. McConnell over the proposed sale of a house. The price quoted to her was raised, she alleged, by McConnell, and when she wanted back $100 she had paid as a deposit on account, McConnell told her that was impossible, as his lawyer had the money.

After his arrest McConnell paid the $100 to Crown Attorney Corley. Judge Denton has made an order of restitution for that amount in favor of the plaintiff, Mrs. Rottenberg.

New Line of Railway.

Montreal, March 29.—M. J. O'Brien of Renfrew, who built the Halifax & Southwestern Railway, and who is now building 600 miles in northern Quebec for the Grand Trunk Pacific, signed a contract yesterday for the building of the first section of the Quebec & Saguenay Railway, from just below Ste. Anne de Beaupre to Murray Bay, a distance of 56 miles, and later on this road will be extended to the mouth of the Saguenay. Rodolphe Forget, M.P., is president, and Senator Casgrain is vice-president of the road, which is to be completed by September, 1912.

May Buy Out Railway.

Ottawa, March 29.—At the meeting next Thursday night of the factory sites committee of the Greater Ottawa Association, N. Cauchon, the chairman, will introduce for discussion a most important question—that of the franchise of the Ottawa Electric Railway. He will urge the advisability of the city now either extending the life of the franchise held by the company or buying it out. The franchise of the Ottawa Electric Railway expires in 1920, twelve years hence.

Peculiar Insurance Action.

Kingston, March 29.—An action to recover $2,500 insurance has been entered by Mrs. Mary Youlden, whose husband died some time ago. The action is against the London Guarantee & Accident Co. Plaintiff claims that death was caused by an accident, but while admitting this, the defendants claim the injury was sustained before the policy was issued, and said injury was aggravated.

Arbitration With France.

London, March 29—The Government was asked in the House of Commons yesterday if the Governments of the United States and France were negotiating a treaty of arbitration, and if the Foreign Secretary would approach the French Government with similar proposals.

Sir Edward Grey said he had no information.

Trying For a Record.

Paris, March 29.—Aviator Kedrine, competing for the Aero Club's cup for the best flight from Paris to Pau, by way of Bordeaux, left this city at si xo'clock yesterday morning, and descended at Pitries, having made 150 miles in three hours, ten minutes. He came down to make minor repairs, and proceeded to-day in an endeavor to break the record of Capt. Bellenger, who occupied about ten hours in the total flight of a little less than 500 miles.

BRONCHITIS COMPLETELY CURED.

St. Jean, P.Q., Jan. 5th, 1910.

Father Morriscy Med. Co. Ltd.,

I can gratefully testify in favor of Father Morriscy's Remedy for Bronchial trouble. I had suffered for some time from Bronchitis, and could get nothing to give me ease, until I tried Father Morriscy's Prescription (No. 10). To my great surprise, after I had taken this remedy I commenced to grow better, and soon after I was completely cured.

Mde. GEORGE DESMARAIS.

Everybody knows that many common roots, barks and herbs contain Nature's own provision for the relief of coughs and colds. It remained for Father Morriscy, with his wonderful medical skill, to combine extracts from these in such a way as to make the most effective cure for all forms of throat and lung troubles.

His prescription, known as "Father Morriscy's No. 10" or "Lung Tonic", stops a cough by curing the inflamed condition of throat or lungs which causes it. It goes a step further, too, and earns its name of "Lung Tonic" by strengthening the weakened parts.

Mrs. Goff, 153 York street, Hamilton, and her five-year-old daughter were run down by an express wagon driven by Fred. Berg, while crossing King street at the Gore extension, about supper time. Their injuries were severe, but not serious.

A delegation waited upon Hon. Geo. P. Graham yesterday to ask for a subsidy for a railway line through Kincardine, Owen Sound, Meaford, Thornbury, Collingwood and Orillia. Mr. Graham promised that if further railway subsidies were considered this year, this would be amongst the first dealt with.

A Valuable Water Power.

Montreal, March 29.—The great water power at Cedar Rapids was sold to Mr. D. L. McGibbon at a very large price yesterday. Cedar Rapids are 27 miles from Montreal, and will generate 150,000 horse-power. The property has long been looked upon as extremely valuable in Montreal's power field. Mr. McGibbon stated that prominent power experts in Canada would devote their time to the project.

Crimean Veteran Dead.

Brockville, March 29.—The death is reported from Mallorytown of Nicholas Wolflie, a native of Switzerland, and a veteran of the Crimean War. At the close of the war he came to Canada and lived in this section ever since, following the occupation of farmer. He was unmarried, and had no relatives in this country.

Privy Council Cases.

CONCERNING INSURANCE

To the Editor of Saturday Night.

Dear Sir,—We have placed a lot of our insurance with companies in the United States and Europe, on a contract guaranteed by a Montreal brokerage company. Some Canadian agents and inspectors say this is no good. What is your opinion?

Manufacturer.

It is quite impossible for us to give an opinion of the insurance without a list of the companies. The guarantee, as you probably know, is practically valueless; in fact, it is a question if it is not illegal, being a class of fire insurance conducted without a license. The "guaranteed contract" is only one of the thousand fakes being offered the insuring public, whose ignorance and gullibility in insurance is almost equalled by the same in regards to mining. Anything in the bargain line goes.

Contracts of insurance made with companies not licensed are not enforceable in Ontario. The public here have nothing regarding these companies but the word of the interested broker, who receives his commission on the premiums placed through him. The expense of collection in foreign countries and the delay which resulted in making collections under some policies issued by these foreign insurers are such as would result in ruin to a large manufacturer. In one case, where the loss occurred nearly a year ago, it has been found impossible to get even a reply, and the amount being small, it will not pay to sue.

In the insurance business, as in every other business, if you deal with reliable, established houses, you get what you pay for.

The object of Saturday Night in this department will be to advise, so that you shall get insurance worth one hundred cents on the dollar. There is no other insurance that eventually insures

Would Life be Worth Living
IF YOUR SIGHT WAS GONE?

I come to you with a few words about eye-sight. I have been helping people SEE BETTER for many years, and I am sure many have held me in grateful remembrance for it. I have fitted thousands in this city of Peterborough and surrounding country, who are comfortably wearing the glasses that I fitted them with. I meet them every day wherever I go. I want to help more; I want to help you. You need help for your eyes if you don't see well, or if you have eye-strain. I make no charge for examination. If you come to me you can come with the full assurance that you will be told whether glasses are needed or not. We are not in business simply to SELL GLASSES. The retention of your patronage and of your commendation are far more valuable to us. Our qualifications for eye-sight testing are of the highest standard, and our method of testing is most up-to-date. Our instruments include the Retinoscope, Ophthalmometer and "Phoroptometer," this last instrument being the only one of its kind in Peterborough.

YOUTHS USED BAD LANGUAGE

Five Appeared in Police Court—Fine of $10 in Liquor Case

Five boys who reside in the South End of the city, lined up in police court to-day, on the complaint of Mrs. Parks, who keeps a grocery store at the corner of Rubidge and Townsend who said that the boys used very offensive language around her store. Particularly so was the case on March 23rd, at noon, when as the Parks family were assembled at dinner with the window open, a perfect volley of oaths emanating from the boys brought to police court to-day, assailed their ears.

"The smallest boy of the quintet was the most accomplished at the practice," said Mrs. Parks, "and he appeared to the leader." When asked why he did it, by the Magistrate, he replied that he guessed it was a habit.

The whole five were allowed to go, on their promises to do better in future.

"I am very glad you laid information about this case," remarked the Magistrate to the Chief," and as far as I am concerned I will assist you to stamp it out."

FINE OF $10

Michael Murphy who was remanded a week ago to give him a chance to sober up after being drunk, was fined ten dollars this morning. In the witness box he swore that he did not know where he received the liquor that started him off, although the Chief of Police had positive evidence as to where he had obtained it. The Magistrate regretted the necessity of imposing the fine, "as it only took the bread out of the mouths of his family," he said, but he was unable to establish a precedent. Murphy was given twenty days to secure the money.

SHEPHARD MADE HIT AT SUDBURY

Minstrel Show Was a Big Success — Presentation to Mrs. Shephard

Sudbury Star.—Holly Shepard and his reputation as a producer of minstrel shows, has another mark to his credit in the beautiful productions of Thursday and Friday evenings. Mr. Shepard gives great credit to the talent of Sudbury, but after all is said and done, it was Holly, and his talented wife who made them good.

The performance on Thursday evening was graced by the largest and most representative audience which has ever patronized the local play house. The door was a record at 50 cents, 75 cents and $1 prices, Friday evening's performance was also very liberally patronized.

It can now be quite properly said that no braggart claims were made as to the quality of the performance at any time during its three weeks' of preparation. It made good. It was clean, smart and dashy throughout and sufficiently finished in every detail to say it was polished.

On the final curtain Friday evening members of the company presented Mrs. Shepard with a token of their appreciation in a pin, set with pearls, which they asked her to accept as a remembrance of the Sudbury Baseball Minstrels, 1911.

Rug Season is Here---It is Spring

COMMENCING TO-MORROW FOUR DAYS' SALE ENDING MONDAY

THE time when the home is turned inside out and when it is turned back and settled down again it looks, not like the dusty winter-soiled abode, but a brand new, fresh, clean home. There was a time, and not many years ago, when the rug was in the present aeroplane stage, something to look forward to, more of an experiment than an actuality, a luxury more than a practical every day floor covering. To-day the rug cannot be replaced; it is the popular covering for the lowly cottage or the grandest mansion; more economical, sanitary and convenient than the old time tacked down carpet which was a dust trap and harbor for all kinds of germs and vermin.

This season we have prepared liberally for the biggest spring trade we have ever had. We have all the latest Imported and Canadian made goods—the one-piece Scotch Axminster, Imported Wiltons, Velvets, Brussels and the cheaper grades, such as Tapestries, Wools, Balmorals and Unions—rugs for every room in the home.

The Wilton Rugs which are of local make are prettier than ever—very new parlor rugs in self green centre with illuminated borders, pretty medallions in greens and fawns, rich floral effects on green and fawn grounds. In dining room rugs we are showing a great variety of oriental designs, Indian and Persian panels. These make very useful rugs and are highly recommended.

Our showing of Imported Velvet Rugs is very comprehensive—pretty and pleasing effects in delicate shades of greens and browns, suitable for any room in the modern home.

THE Brussels Rug is as ever, a fair favorite—a wearer and of very fine appearance, all sizes and qualities in pretty chintz designs in green and fawn, self green with floral sprays, good orientals in reds, fawns and greens, also handsome Persian panel effects.

THERE is a great demand for Wool and Union Squares for bedrooms, etc. We have five qualities in a big selection of patterns and colorings in each line. The New Wool Rug, the "Gorovan," is a superb floor covering; comes in pretty shadings and warranted to wear well.

We have Tapestry Rugs by the hundreds. They are moderate in price, durable and come in beautiful shadings and patterns, in all sizes from 2½x3 yards to 4x4½ yards. The Seamless Tapestry Rug is the rug of the future; has no seams, being woven all in one piece, which means better appearance and no protruding seams to get worn thread-bare very quickly. We are stocking these rugs in very large quantities and in all the new shades and designs.

Below we quote a few prices which will made interesting reading for the housewife this spring. These prices are only good for four days—Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and ending Monday, April the third.

SEAMLESS AXMINSTER RUGS in the season's best patterns and shadings, well made and finished. Four Days' Sale—

Size 3x3½ yards On sale for $16.75 | Size 3x4 yards On sale for $19.75

GOOD QUALITY BRUSSELS RUGS—The most serviceable rug made, the easiest to sweep of all pile rugs, and come in beautiful color and pile effects.

Size 2½x3 yards Reg. $12.50 for $9.51 | Size 3x3 yards Reg. $16.50 for $12.51
Size 3x3½ yards Reg. $18.50 for $14.51 | Size 3x4 yards Reg. $22.00 for $17.51

Size 3x3½ yards Reg. $33.00 for $25.75 | Size 3x4 yards Reg. $40 for $28.50
Size 3¾x4 yards, regular $45.00 for $32.00

REVERSIBLE SMYRNA RUGS—One side as nice as the other, deep heavy fibre pile in very nice Oriental effects—splendid Arch and Room Rugs.

Size 9 ft. x 9 ft. Reg. $10.50 for $6.55 | Size 4 ft. x 7 ft. Reg. $5.50 for $2.95

Size 2¼x3 yards Reg. $7.50 for $4.75 | Size 3x3 yards Reg. $9.00 for $5.95
Size 3x3½ yards Reg. $11.00 for $7.59 | Size 3x4 yards Reg. $12.50 for $8.95
Size 3½x4 yards, regular $14.00, for $11.25

MODERATE PRICED WALL PAPERS, BUT GOOD IDEAS

We have the finest stock of Canadian and American made papers that we have yet shown. Our ideas are in advance of former years and our prices are very modest. Let us figure on your wall papering job this spring. Come and see our grand exhibit.

Have You an Odd Sized Room to Carpet?

Rugs as you know are made in standard sizes only and when an odd sized room is to carpeted it is necessary to have the rug made to order. This is easily accomplished by us. We have a very fine range of piece goods with or without borders to match. In fact our stock is too large for the amount of space we wish to devote to this part of the stock and as a result, it must be lowered at once to make room. The price-cutting will be tremendous as you will see by the following. As an extra inducement we will hand sew all carpets free of charge, also supply you with the best paper carpet lining free, except in the case of union and hemp carpets.

LESS FREIGHT THROUGH HERE

New G.T.R. Route Between Reaboro and Port Hope

Plans for a new G.T.R. route between Reaboro and Port Hope have been filed at the Registry office at Lindsay. The object is to overcome present difficulties caused by grades. The proposed route is to leave the old Midland line at Reaboro run south west to Cavan station, then turning southeast will join the Midland line at Summit. Two bridges will be built in the neighborhood of Bethany. This will mean that much of the heavy freight traffic through the local station, will be transferred to the new line.

PERJURY NOW CHARGED IN INNIS-HAVELOCK ACTION

Witness for Defendants to Appear Before County Magistrate, Friday

High Constable Cochrane was in Havelock yesterday in connection with a charge laid by Mrs. Maud Innis against Frederick Bennett. Both parties reside at Havelock.

The charge is that Bennett, at the city of Peterborough, on the 26th October last, did commit perjury in his evidence in the case of Innis against the corporation of Havelock.

Mr. Cochrane served the defendant with a summons to appear at one o'clock on Friday before Magistrate Edmison.

The reeve of Havelock ordered six subpoenas this morning for witnesses to be called by the defence.

This case, it will be remembered, aroused an unusual amount of interest at the time. Mrs. Innis and her husband took action against the corporation of Havelock and asked for damages of $5,000, Mrs. Innis having met with an accident while walking on the sidewalk. The action was dismissed and the judgment sustained at divisional court in Toronto, following an appeal.

MADRIGAL CLUB CONCERT

The high-class concert given last evening in the Conservatory Music all under the auspices of the Conservatory Madrigal Club, and orchestra assisted by Miss Carrie Reesor, was a distinct success and it was a well satisfied and delighted audience that left the hall at its conclusion.

The program was one of a very superior order and included numbers classical in nature, patriotic selections and stirring marches.

Every number denoted the efficient and careful musical training through which the performers had passed. The Madrigal Club last evening displayed a capability and balance which were always noticeable. They sang in a manner most pleasing and several of their selections were given with rare feeling and expression.

"The Lullaby" was perhaps the most delicately and delightfully rendered number of the evening, although Verdi's "The River Floweth Strong," was almost as beautiful.

The Conservatory orchestra also drew deserving applause. This organization is capable of producing rare harmony and in several extremely difficult selections was given an opportunity to display their talent and skill.

The opening selection "The March of the Priests," from Athalie by Mendelssohn, was splendidly performed and was greeted with lavish applause.

By special request Miss Reesor and Mr. W. McIlroy gave a vocal duet in which their voices blended in a remarkably pleasant manner and they were the recipients of warm plaudits. Miss Reesor also excelled herself last night in her rendering of "The Rosary." This popular singer was given a most flattering and cordial reception, and she was a decided favorite in each of her numbers. The rich tones of her medium range notes were well displayed in the "Rosary" and the wide scope of her voice in the charming little ballad, "Welcome Pretty Primrose" by Pinsuti.

Mr. McIlroy, who has won a warm place for himself in the hearts of local music lovers was also at his best last night and sang "The Village Blacksmith," and as an encore, "O Canada," a stirring number which was heartily applauded.

The concert altogether was one of a distinctly high order and the performers and members are deserving of the highest praise.

To Mr. Rupert Gliddon, to whose energetic efforts a large amount of the success of the affair may be attributed, is due congratulations.

The following was the program:—

"March of the Priests," from "Athalie," Mendelssohn, Conservatory Orchestra.

Chorus, "Scots Wha Hae," the Madrigal Club.

Selection on Scotch Melodies, Otto Langy; Conservatory Orchestra.

Piano solo, "Sonata Op. 2, No. 3," Beethoven; Miss McGill.

"Lullaby" Corbin; The Madrigal Club.

Song, "The Village Blacksmith," Mr. McIlroy.

Patrol, "American," Conservatory Orchestra.

Duet by request, Miss Reesor and Wm. McIlroy; Nevin.

Chorus, "The River Floweth Strong" The Madrigal Club.

Grand selection "Il Trovatore," Verdi; Conservatory Orchestra.

Soprano solo, "Rosary," Miss Reesor

STRONGLY AGAINST RECIPROCITY

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—I have been reading in the columns of your valuable paper a good deal against reciprocity.

I would like, as an interested party to air my sentiment.

I think from past experience the Canadians had better keep the Yankees at arm's length, it is all right to be on friendly terms with them, but to let them do business for us, (which they want to do) is certainly giving them too much rope, surely we Canadians are capable of looking after our own interests.

Let us keep to our countries where in our interests are and where they will be respected, not giving away to the Yankees what we have fought and worked so hard to gain, giving them the meat while we will only have the bones.

Let the sons of Britain fight this question of reciprocity to a finish as the men of Ulster are determined to fight Home Rule in Ireland.

I would suggest that the Orangemen of Peterborough County communicate with the Supreme Grand Lodge to issue a proclamation to all primary lodges under their jurisdiction to vote against reciprocity.

CHARLES TIGHE,
Farmer,
Dummer.

GAVE LECTURE AT BRIGHTON

Members of Local Centre of Astronomical Society Well Received

Rev. Dr. Marsh, T. A. S. Hay and H. O. Fiske have returned from Brighton, where they attendd a special meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, which was held in the Presbyterian church, Monday evening. The chairman for the evening was T. A. S. Hay, and he was introduced to the gathering, which was between two and three hundred in number, by the pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. McCleod, who is a member of the local centre.

Rev. Dr. Marsh gave an illustrated lecture on the subject of an "Introduction to the Study of Astronomy," the lantern by which the views were shown being operated by H. O. Fiske.

The visitors were given a cordial reception by the citizens of Brighton and at the close of the lecture a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to them.

TO SUPPLY SKIN FOR THE INJURED

Montreal to Have Society With This Object in View

A unique society is in an embryo state in Montreal at the present time. Its object is the most humane one of supplying the limited and poorly-supplied demand for human skin, to replace that lost by men, women and children, in accidents of various kinds.

The man to whose credit the formation of this club or society is due, is Mr. Henry Latter, of Latter Bros., at 18 Hospital street. Eight years ago Mr. Latter was one of twenty Y.M.C.A. Varsity students in Toronto, who each gave several square inches of skin, to be grafted on the back of a boy who was scalded in his attempt to make a steam whistle. The operation was very successful and the boy recovered his health. Mr. Latter came to Montreal some years ago and has been realizing the need for some established source from which skin for such operations could be obtained.

Up till now, nurses, attendants, and the patients themselves have had to supply the demand for this commodity, which is not a thing that can be bought and sold.

Finally, Mr. Latter wrote to two of the local hospitals and explained his idea, which was to solicit volunteers who would be ready at any time to relinquish a small portion of the topmost epidermis for the benefit of suffering humanity.

On last Saturday Mr. Latter received a letter from the authorities at the General Hospital, asking him to make good his offer and supply 100 square inches of healthy skin, to be grafted on the body of a man who fell on a red-hot stove some weeks ago and has since lain in a serious condition in the hospital.

It is a strange coincidence that this man himself, had given parts of his own skin at various times to be used in like operations. Mr. Latter set about to procure the necessary volunteers. He already had a small list of men who were ready, and through his own efforts and those of Rev. Dr. Symonds, whom he had interested in the case, the thirty-five men required will likely be obtained. Dr. Symonds appealed to his congregation at the evening service on Sunday for volunteers. Dr. Symonds has at present a list of seventeen men, from 17 to 35 years old, including a Laval student, who are ready and willing to do what is possible to save the man's life.

The operation will in all probability be performed on Saturday next or Sunday, if the patient can be prepared for it by that time. About three square inches will be taken from the left arm or hip of each of the volunteers and grafted on the injured part of the patient. Those who thus give their skin will suffer no especial pain or inconvenience.

This one case will likely be the means of firmly establishing, with the help of Mr. Latter, a society which will be the first of its kind in the world. The hospitals will then have at their command a source from which any quantity of good healthy skin can be obtained at short notice.

TO TAKE PLACE OF REGULAR CHOIR

Members of Sheffield Choir to Sing at Murray Street Church

At the evening service of Murray St. Baptist church next Sunday evening, twenty-four members of the visiting Sheffield Choir will take the place of the regular church choir, and supply the music for the service.

FIRST MONORAIL SYSTEM TO OPEN

Berlin, Germany, March 27.—The New York Times correspondent learns that the world's first monorail system for the transport of passengers and freight will open for traffic in Germany this summer.

The line which is being constructed by August Scherl, the Berlin newspaper magnate, will be some twelve miles in length and will run between Bad Homburg in the Taunus Mountains and Frankfort on Main. The Scherl system is a combination of a German invention with the patents of the English inventor Louis Brennan.

Scherl sent a sample of the monorail car to the United States last year. His engineers are sufficiently satisfied with the practicability of the system to throw the Bad Homburg Frankfort line open to public traffic, although it is intended, of course, only as an experimental road.

BILLIE BREEN ANNOUNCES HIS ATHLETIC PROGRAM

Boxing Bouts at The Grand with Hilliard Lang on the Top of the Bill.

The athletic program for this city, of which a short notice was given recently, is now announced by Billie Breen to take place at the Grand Opera House on the evening of Friday, April 7th, when the headliner will be a boxing bout between Hilliard Lang, of Toronto, and Joe Lannon, of Syracuse. Lang is regarded as the best welterweight in this part of the country, and since his jump into professional ranks has made good. Lannon is a mitt artist with an attractive reputation and will be an opponent to make Lang put up his prettiest exhibition. Manager Breen has also matched G. Moore, of Montreal, the 125 lb. Canadian champion, and the best boy of his weight in Canada, and Tommy Sturon, late of England, and now of Toronto. Sturon took championship honors at the competitions in Toronto last fall. Two other meetings for the occasion will bring Fred Courptore, amateur ligutweight champion, and Ted Picton together, and Jack Wilton, of Hamilton, and Jim Peters, of Toronto. The latter two will shape up at 115 lbs. All arrangements are concluded, and it looks like an A.1 program for the Grand on the date announced.

BASEBALL

Fred Toney, the giant youngster of the Cubs' twirling staff, will be a wonder the coming season if half of the reports about his ability are true. There is always some youngster pitcher that develops into the sensation of the season and, according to the opinion of some of the best posted critics, the young Kentuckian is in line for that honor the coming season. King Cole proved the star of last summer's crop of new twirlers, and the elongated slab artist was entitled to the big headlines. If Chance can get another youngster as successful from the start off as Cole he will indeed be a lucky manager.

"I think Ty Cobb a wonderful baseball player, a player with a large amount of baseball brains, but Willie Keeler was king of them all," says "Kid" Elberfield.

"He is just as great a player to-day as he ever was, too. Of course, the years have slowed him up just that fraction of a second necessary to get him at first base, but he hits the ball just as well, and is just as resourceful as ever.

"Keeler was fast on his feet and lightning fast at the bat. He could outguess the average pitcher or fielder. His bunt was a beauty to see, for he could make the shift in the twinkling of an eye. No ball feazed him. If he was over the outside corner he'd shove it on a line over the infielders' heads.

"When it came to inside ball, Keeler was the master of them all. In all the time that we played together he never once missed a sign. If he didn't see it he'd let me know and I'd flash it back to him. He played ball with his head every minute he was on the field.

"Yes, Ty Cobb is a marvel, the best player in the big leagues to-day, but Willie Keeler was king of them all."

APPEAL WENT AGAINST JOHNSON

Colored Champion Ordered Back to Jail Again

San Francisco, March 28.—Meek as a lamb led to slaughter, Jack Johnson, the heavyweight pugilist of the world, was carted off to the county jail to-day, to remain 25 days for repeated infractions of the automobile speed laws.

In the Supreme Court Judge Morgan denied Johnson's appeal. When Johnson heard Judge Morgan's decision he pulled from his pocket a contract with Eckerman and Harris, calling for a week's engagement at the Princess Theatre, for which he was to receive $1,750. He wrote across the back of the contract the word "cancelled," and handed the document to Eckerman, who was in court.

Johnson's attorney filed an appeal to the Supreme Court.

THE MAT

Toronto, March 29.—Zybysko, the giant Polish wrestler, won last night's match from John Lemm after almost an hour of the hardest kind of wresting at the Lyric Theatre, before a crowd of 1,200 fans. The match was to have been for the best two out of three falls, but, as he had a cut in his back and was badly used up at the end of the first bout, Lemm refused to go on. Zybysko weighed 235 and Lemm put up a game fight and was only thrown after 57 minutes and 40 seconds' wrestling. Zybysko threw him with a crotch and waist scissors hold.

In the preliminary bout Sam Baines, of Knoxville, Tenn., threw Hughes, of the Kelso School, twice in 10.17, and 24.45. Moving pictures of the Gotch-Hackenschmidt bout were shown as a curtain raiser. Lou Marsh refereed the bouts.

TENNIS

The annual meeting of the Tennis Club of the Y. M. C. A. is called for Thursday evening at eight o'clock, when the election of officers will take place and other matters relative to the work of the season discussed.

All ticket holders and those intending to be at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Lawn Tennis Association will please note that this will be held at Messrs. Coleman Bros.' on April 4th, at 8 p.m. sharp. The sale of tickets is limited to 65. The success of tennis in this city for the coming season depends on the attendance of this dinner.

Custody of the Child.

Montreal, March 29.—As a result of the judicial decree last week annulling the marriage of two Catholics because a Protestant minister performed the ceremony a difficulty has arisen as to the custody of a child of the parted couple, who neither of them, in court, opposed the decree. Two children were born to the couple but one died.

There was no mention of the responsibility of the father as regards the child in the judgment handed down. That was left evidently to the separated parties to settle between themselves.

Speaking with reference to the matter, L. J. Lefebvre, attorney for Mrs. Hebert, declared that his client was anxious to retain the custody of her daughter, while the husband also wished to be the guardian of the child.

Mr. Lefebvre understood that there was to be some settlement made by Mr. Hebert on his wife, but the nature of this he would not say. The lawyer said he did not think that the parties would seek to be re-married by a priest of the Catholic Church.

Levee Investigation.

Toronto, March 29.—Ten public school principals told Judge Winchester yesterday that they had been solicited either by Chairman Levee of the Board of Education, or his agent, to buy stock in the Slocum Medicine Co., of which Mr. Levee is president and general manager. Five of them did subscribe to some shares and five refused, they said they had done so quite voluntarily, the majority of them going down to the office of the Slocum Medicine Co.

Inspector E. W. Bruce, also told of having subscribed to some shares at Mr. Levee's suggestion, but he said he was not urged, and had been a personal friend of Mr. Levee for a number of years.

Rear-End Collision.

Brantford, March 29.—Damage estimated at $20,000 was done and one fireman was injured in a rear-end collision on the Grand Trunk near the Pearl street subway, in this city, yesterday morning.

A special one-coach passenger train, with Conductor Ball in charge, and an engine attached, in charge of Engineer W. A. Hennessy and Fireman J. H. Singler, both of London, crashed into a freight which was standing on the tracks, being made up for Buffalo by Conductor McDonald.

TOURING IN INDIA.

You Literally Take Up Your Bed Wherever You Go.

You are supposed to carry your own bedding with you just as you carry your own toothbrush. In the trains—and there are very long train journeys by slow trains in India—in the guest houses of the native princes, in camp, of course, always, and in the hotels and inns your own bedding is a necessity. Indeed, you can scarcely carry too much in India if you wish to be comfortable. All sorts of clothing from fur coats to the thinnest linen, all sorts of hats from a cap to a pith helmet, a spirit lamp, a folding table and chair, a small amount of tinned or bottled food and a supply of mineral water for the train, a large supply of linen and under-clothing, for one changes often, and the laundry work is done by beating on flat stones. The changes of temperature from noon till midnight are startling. One must give up cold baths and take to tepid or hot water and be careful indeed what and how much one eats and drinks—no alcohol before sunset, and very little then, and the plainest and most nourishing food.

In this land, as large almost as the whole of Europe, there are only a few large cities where one can buy any of the luxuries or comforts of life outside the obvious, and what you need you must carry with you. On a large scale you do what the native does—you carry your household gods and goods about with you.

How differently "pick up your bed and walk" sounds in your ears when you see a whole population of hundreds of millions actually carrying their beds with them whenever they move. Why should one take heed as to what one shall eat or drink or wear when a handful of rice, a thimbleful of water and a loin cloth suffice? The group of servants in front of their master's door at the hotel or the hundreds of families I have seen traveling by train, by bullock cart or even on foot have squeezed and sifted life's necessities down to the vanishing point.—Price Collier in Scribner's.

Goldsmith, M.D.

The lovable character of the author of "The Vicar of Wakefield" shines through and irradiates a brief story which Richard Ashe King has incorporated in his biography of Goldsmith.

Goldsmith, who set up as a physician on the Bankside, Southwark, anticipated modern therapeutics in recognizing that every sick man is a special case, demanding special treatment.

He was once called to a poor patient who plainly stood in greater need of food than of physic. The tender-hearted doctor put all the money he had in his pocket into a pill box and wrote on the label:

"To be taken as occasion requires."

"The Whitecoats."

When the first Duke of Newcastle set about raising a regiment for the king in the civil war his men were known as "Whitecoats." The reason of the nickname is told in a letter from the duchess, which is printed in the life of the duke:

"My lord, being resolved to give them new liveries and there not being red cloth enough to be had, took up so much of white as would serve to clothe them, desiring withal their patience until he got it dyed, but they, impatient of stay, requested my lord that he would be pleased to let them have it undyed as it was, promising they themselves would dye it in the enemies' blood. Which request my lord granted them, and from that time they were called "Whitecoats."

Keep Your Coat Collar Clean.

Often the collar of a coat begins to look shabby when the coat itself is still quite fresh, and it is wonderful what a difference a thorough cleaning will make.

First of all take a piece of clean rag, dip it in spirits of turpentine and rub the collar thoroughly with it. Leave it for ten minutes, and then rub it again with the turpentine and scrape it carefully to remove any loose dirt.

Next sponge it with a little alcohol or chloroform and keep wiping it until it is almost dry. Hang it up in an airy place for an hour or two, and you will be delighted with the result.

How to Make Paper Stick.

In papering a room which has hitherto been whitewashed it is not easy to make the paper adhere satisfactorily. The experiment should be made of forming the paste with skimmilk instead of water. The milk must, however, be carefully skimmed so that every drop of cream has been removed, the whey of separated milk being the best for the purpose. The paste must be scalded well and should on no account be too thick.

How to Make Scallops.

There is an important point in regard to making scallops. That is, after the scallop is made and cut out go all over it again with a tiny buttonhole stitch. This prevents fraying and gives body and finish to the scallop.

An Unusual Blend.

Mrs. Dorkins sniffed the air.

"John," she said, "that smells like a new kind of tobacco."

"You smell forty different kinds of tobacco, Maria," explained Mr. Dorkins. "I burnt a hole in my smoking jacket just now."

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, March 28.—There was some demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat, but, as bids were 2d lower, no business was worked. The enquiry from European sources for oats is good, but exporters in some cases claim that they cannot be bought in the west and laid down here afloat, May, within one cent per bushel of the prices bid. Round lots sold on spot to-day at 36⅝c for No. 2 Canadian western, afloat, May, and it is reported that 1,500,000 bushels have been sold for export from here this summer. The local trade is quiet. The demand from foreign buyers for spring wheat flour was fair, and sales of several round lots were made, but the local trade continues quiet. Eggs are active and steady. Supplies of potatoes are becoming scarce, and the market is strong at 90c per bag in car lots.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 38½c, car lots, ex-store; extra No. 1 feed, 38c; No. 3 C.W., 37½c; No. 2 local white, 36½c; No. 3 local white, 35½c; No. 4 local white, 34½c.

Butchers.

Prime quality butchers sold at $5.80 to $6; loads of good, $5.60 to $5.80; medium, $5.30 to $5.55; common, $5 to $5.25; cows, $3 to $5; bulls, $4 to $5.

Milkers and Springers.

There are few of the top quality cows being offered these days, the bulk being common to medium, that are coming forward. Prices ranged at from $40 to $60.

Veal Calves.

Receipts of veal calves were liberal and prices easier for the bulk of offerings. There was, as usual, a wide range—from $4 to $8 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

The sheep and lamb market was strong at Monday's quotations. Wesley Dunn, who bought the bulk, quoted prices as follows: Ewes, $4.50 to $5; rams, $4 to $4.50; yearling lambs, $7 to $7.50; spring lambs, $4 to $8 each.

Hogs.

The railways reported 1265 hogs from all sources. Mr. Harris quoted and was paying the following prices, and no more; that is, selects, fed and watered at the market, $6.90, and $6.60 to drovers for hogs f.o.b. cars at country points. Thick fat hogs, over 220 lbs., were being culled at 50c per cwt. less than the above quotations.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, March 28.—Cattle—Receipts, none here; market steady; prime steers, $6.60 to $6.90; butcher grades, $3.50 to $6.

$100,000,000 Increase of Capital.

Philadelphia, March 29.—More than 60 per cent. of the stock of the Pennsylvania Railway Co. was voted at the election yesterday in favor of increasing the capital stock from $500,000,000 to $600,000,000. Only $40,000,000 of the first $100,000,000 increase will be authorized for the present.

60th Ballot Without Result.

Albany, N.Y., March 29.—The 60th joint ballot for U. S. Senator to succeed Senator Depew, yesterday showed no substantial departure from the vote of Monday night's caucus so far as the ninety Democrats who entered the caucus were concerned.

Gone to Church For Century.

Muskegon, Mich., March 29.—The possessor of good health and retaining almost unimpaired faculties, Mrs. Marie Esther Sturgeon has just celebrated her 104th birthday here.

It is said she has attended church regularly for 100 years.

Liverpool's Fears.

Liverpool, March 29.—The keenest disappointment is felt here at the Cunard's Canadian fleet sailing ex Southampton. Apprehensions are that the experiment may lead to the bulk of the Cunard-New York service going the same way.

Black Hand Outrage.

Chicago, March 29.—A Black Hand bomb early yesterday wrecked the front of the saloon of Sotto Santo, within a stone's throw of the 22nd street police station. The perpetrators escaped. Santo and his family escaped injury. The explosion followed close on the heels of the finding of the body of an unidentified Sicilian in a prairie at 90th and Yates avenue.

SHOOTING PAINS IN SIDE, ARMS, BACK

Prove the Presence of Rheumatic Virus, Which Is Cured Quickest by Nerviline—Rub It In.

Pains in the muscles, in the sides, the back, the neck, or the chest—they always carry with them great discomfort. If the inflammation is severe the pain will be intense. If allowed to continue they are dangerous. Nothing so quickly cures local inflammation and drives away pain as Nerviline. Nerviline does this because it penetrates so deeply. Nerviline is not only powerful, but soothing. By relieving congestion it cures pain. It does this always. It cannot fail because it is a true antidote for pain. You can scarcely find anybody that will not tell you wonderful things about the pain-curing power of Nerviline. Remember, that there is not an ache or pain that Nerviline will not cure immediately. Nerviline is an anchor of health in every household.

Refuse anything that may be offered you instead of Nerviline, which is guaranteed for rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, and all muscular aches and pains.

BIBLE USED TO AID A SWINDLE

Ghoulish Use in Scheme Revealed in New York

New York, March 27.—Never has the Holy Bible been put to a more profane use than in a ghoulish swindling scheme in connection with which several arrests have been made in this city.

Just as dinner was being served Thursday night in the home of S. S. Howland, the horseman, president of the Washington Jockey Club, and brother-in-law of August Belmont, at No. 43 East Forty-ninth street, Postal Inspector John N. Parsons called and had the butler call out of the dining-room, Bertie Kalenberg, the "second man." He charged Kalenberg with perpetrating this latest confidence trick.

Relatives of persons recently dead were imposed upon to settle for purchases that they were led to believe had been made by the relatives shortly before their death. These debts were all for Bibles, according to the postal authorities.

The scheme was to follow the death notices in the newspapers and then send a letter addressed to the dead person, which, of course, would come into the hands of relatives and be read. The form of the letter would be something like this—

> Dear Sir (or Madam)—The $9 sent in payment on account for the Bible you ordered has been received and credited to you. On receipt of $8 additional the special edition Bible will be forwarded to you. CARL SCHMIDT.

The nature of the purchase in connection with a person who had just died made payments by relatives come in promptly and unquestioned.

Kalenberg, the second man of the Howland household, is accused of being "Schmidt." Two other men and two women are also alleged to have been in the scheme. One woman, Annie Osenstein, was arrested in Brooklyn.

LAKEHURST NEWS

Young Men Leave to Try Conclusions With the West

Special Correspondence

Lakehurst, March 27—Albert Guthrie who spent last winter in Smith, is renewing old acquaintances here just now.

Miss Crissie Shearer Miss C. Adams and Mr. Glen Allen spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. Smith.

A. G. Shearer is doing a rushing business in his store at Lakehurst. Customers come all the way from Smith as often as three times a week, to take advantage of his excellent bargains.

Miss Edna Shearer and Mr. B. Atkinson attended church in Bobcaygeon Sunday morning.

W. Smith spent most of last week assessing the people of North Harvey.

Miss Ethel Minnot was the guest of Mrs. J. McGuire last Thursday afternoon.

Miss F. Esson and Mrs. W. Shearer were the guests of Mrs. H. Coons last Tuesday afternoon

There were rather small congregations at both churches on Sunday, owing no doubt to the plastic condition of the roads.

Messrs. Bert and Jack Atkinson left on Monday afternoon for Outlook, Saskatchewan, where we hope they may meet with every success.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes, and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost if the eye brows are thin and scanty; and the lashes are short and lifeless. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. A two weeks' treatment will bring beauty to your eyes that you have never before possessed. By mail, prepaid, in opal boxes, on receipt of price, fifty cents. B. V. WONDERFUL CURE IN BONAVENTURE

Dodd's Kidney Pills Again Cause a Sensation

They cured Dame Aubin Bonne, who for fifteen years, had endured the tortures of Diabetes — Interview with Dame Bonne.

Musselyville, Bonaventure Co., Que., March 28.—(Special.)—"I suffered all than any person could endure." These are the words of Dame Aubin Bonne of this place, in telling of her wonderful cure from Diabetes, which held her in its grasp for fifteen years. She declares that Dodd's Kidney Pills and nothing else must get the credit for her cure.

"I had pains in my head and back and stiffness of the joints," Dame Bonne continues. "I lost my appetite and suffered from Heart Disease and had difficulty in breathing. Doctors attended me but they could do me no good.

"After fifteen years of constant suffering I was persuaded to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I used fifteen boxes and now I can do my own work. Do you wonder that I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills?"

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Dame Bonne because all her ailments were of or from the Kidneys. If you have Kidney Disease in any form don't wait fifteen years for someone to persuade you. Use Dodd's Kidney Pills and be cured.

No Mother to Guide Her.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 29.—Because a melodrama, which she had just witnessed and in which the heroine lacked the guidance of mother love, portrayed almost exactly her own life, Elizabeth Cook, 21 years old, of Clearwater, Mich., known here as Mrs. Richard Muir, committed suicide early yesterday.

When she returned home from the theatre she was greatly depressed and said to Muir, "I never knew what it was to be without a mother until now. Good-bye," and grasping a bottle of carbolic acid, she drained it before Muir could stop her.

Nat Goodwin's Finish.

New York, March 29.—An interlocutory decree of divorce in favor of Edna Goodrich, the actress, from Nat C. Goodwin, the comedian, was signed yesterday. She may marry again, but he can't during her lifetime.

Blenheim, Ont., March 29.—Amos McKenzie, aged 45, was drowned while attempting to cross the bar at Rondeau on Monday night in a small boat.

Former President Indicted.

New York, March 29.—Joseph B. Reichmann, former president of the now defunct Carnegie Trust Co., was indicted by the grand jury late yesterday, charged with having knowingly concurred in making a false statement last fall as to the condition of the institution. The Northern Bank is one of the string of banks which failed after exposure of the high financiering schemes of Joseph G. Robin.

The indictment yesterday is the [illegible] Carnegie Trust Co. Other indictments are expected, and more than a hundred witnesses will be heard.

W. J. Osborne, a Detroit Street Railway "spotter," said to be from Toronto, pleaded guilty to stealing $200 in diamonds from a Battle Creek hotel.

LOGAN GROVE DOOMED.

Old Camping Ground of Kansas Indians to Be a Cornfield.

Logan grove, for years the camping ground of tribes of Kansas Indians and a place of historical interest, will soon be a cornfield. This grove is ninety-nine acres in extent and is a mile and a half south of Junction City.

The grove is on the bank of the Smoky Hill river and was a favorite camping ground for Indians from the north and south parts of the state. They would come for powwows and would often leave their families in camp there while they went out on buffalo hunts. Many Indian relics are still to be found there.

In 1855 a soldier from Captain Henderson's company, then stationed at Fort Riley, went out to the site of the grove and built a small cabin. The next year Captain Henderson bought the ground and cabin, later homesteading the entire grove. For many years he had a sawmill there, and many of the houses in Junction City are constructed of lumber from Logan grove.

The cabin, which is still standing, was the first schoolhouse in Geary county. The place was then named Logan grove by Captain Henderson, who was a great admirer of General Logan, who was then stationed at Fort Riley. Mrs. Logan presented to Captain Henderson a large flag, which still flies on legal holidays from a flagstaff near the grove.

A few years before he died Captain Henderson erected a granite monument to the explorer Coronado, who followed the Smoky Hill river and camped at the grove, which was then the site of an Indian village, Quivera. It was the original intention to keep the grove in its present beautiful condition, but the high values of bottom land have made it too expensive to maintain in that condition. Robert Henderson, a son of the captain and the present owner of the land, will have it cleared.—Junction City Cor. Kansas City Star.

HADES COLD OR HOT?

One Pastor Locates It In the Moon, Another In the Sun.

Two Washington pastors hold widely differing opinions as to the location of hades. The Rev. Zed Copp, pastor of Bethany chapel, has boosted the sphere of eternal torment from the bottom of creation all the way up to the sun. The Rev. Dr. Baker of the Theosophical society puts it in the moon.

Dr. Baker's discovery is brand new. He let it out to his parishioners the other night. He told them that after a thorough and painstaking investigation he had become firmly convinced that all other theories concerning the real location of the future address of transgressors were false and that in reality the man in the moon is his satanic majesty.

There are many little dogs in the moon, according to Dr. Baker. They are there to torment vivisectors. As the breath leaves the body of the vivisected animal his soul is rushed through space until he finds himself in the moon, where he patiently awaits the coming of his murderer, and thereafter through all eternity he amuses himself by tormenting the late learned M. D.

Dr. Baker did not say whether the presence of dogs in the moon had anything to do with the aversion cats have to the beautiful orb.—New York World.

Carnegie's Millions.

Andrew Carnegie has succeeded not only in making himself the second richest man in the world, but also in enriching several of his fellow countrymen, says the London Chronicle. When the "star spangled Scot" retired from business his fortune was estimated at £75,000,000 ($375,000,000), and he had made about £50,000,000 ($200,000,000) for his friends and partners, a large proportion of whom are of Scottish birth. These include George Lauder, his cousin, who now lives in retirement at Pittsburg with at least £4,000,000 ($20,000,000) to soothe his declining years. Thomas Morrison, also a cousin, and Alexander Peacock, another son of Dunfermline, likewise amassed huge fortunes at Pittsburg.

A Blazing Fire.

On a cold, frosty night every one likes to see a blazing fire, but this generally means heavy coal bills. A good plan is to place a quantity of chalk at the back of each grate, in equal proportion to the coals. This throws out a terrific heat and lasts quite a long time. It always pays in the end to buy good coal, for not only does it make a clearer fire, but it leaves fewer ashes. A handful of common salt thrown into the fire occasionally makes a cheerful blaze and lessens the consumption of coal.

Vegetarian Boots and Shoes.

An enterprising manufacturer has discovered a process whereby a passable imitation of leather may be manufactured from a vegetable product. The novelty owes its introduction to London vegetarians, who protest at the number of animals killed annually to keep humanity in boots. The imitation leather is being used for the manufacture of boots, shoes, Bible covers and a hundred other articles usually found in the art leather department.—Jewish Chronicle.

From the Barber's Standpoint.

An applicant for citizenship went with a citizen before Judge Chatfield in the United States district court in Brooklyn the other day. "Are you sure this man will make a good American?" asked the court of the witness. The witness was sure. "Why?" asked the court. "Because," answered the witness, "I have shaved him for ten years."

PETERBOROUGH FARMERS REAP GOOD RESULTS FROM ALFALFA

Stories of What County Men Have Done and Are Doing With This Splendid Crop—Great Increases

Geo. Webber, a farmer a few miles west of Peterborough, fattened his cattle this past winter without giving them any chop whatever. He fed them roots and alfalfa hay. Last year Mr. Webber and his sons had 15 acres of their farm seeded to alfalfa, which they cut for the first season. Mr. Harry Webber, while conversing with an editor of Farm and Dairy last week made the statement that their alfalfa was the most valuable crop they grew last year, and as a result of the splendid returns they secured several of their neighbors will seed their land to alfalfa this spring.

Mr. Gordon Mann and his brother Joe, of Bridgenorth, have had a most interesting and valuable experience with alfalfa, and they, each of them, are seeding out a large acreage to alfalfa this spring. Mr. Gordon Mann already has seven acres seeded, and he now has $40 worth of alfalfa seed on hand to sow this spring. Mr. Joe Mann, on his father's farm, seeded four acres to alfalfa last year. He has already purchased $45 worth of seed, too, which he will seed this spring. While in the office of Farm and Dairy on Saturday last, Mr. Gordon Mann stated that last year he was feeding his cows two gallons of bran each per day. As soon as his alfalfa hay was cut he commenced feeding it and dropped the expensive bran altogether—the cows immediately increased in their milk flow.

J. K. Moore and son, the well known, progressive farmers of Smith township, have grown alfalfa for the last few years, and are highly in favor of it. Last year they had 11 acres; this year they are seeding 10 more to alfalfa. They state that many years ago, when they were taking Hoard's Dairyman, a Wisconsin farm paper, they read much about alfalfa, which is doing so much for the farmers of that State. They were skeptical then as to the merits of alfalfa, but now they are regretting their folly in not sooner growing alfalfa, and they are rapidly seeking to make up for lost time, as is shown by the large acreage they will soon have seeded to this great and truly wonderful crop. Mr. Moore says, "Why should we farmers continue to buy bran and other expensive protein feeds when we can just as well grow protein-rich feed (alfalfa) on our farms at home."

Other leading farmers of the county of Peterborough have grown alfalfa for one or more years, and as yet not one has been found who has grown it according to the most approved practice, but is highly in favor of alfalfa. Among these farmers we might mention as having been successful with alfalfa, Mr. Sandy Natchell and Mr. Sam Deyell, of Otonabee; Mr. Alex. McGregor, Mr. Sam Stenson, Mr. Jas. Young and Mr. J. H. Sanderson, of Smith; and Mr. John Lancaster and D. K. Cameron, of Westwood. We know that there are many others growing alfalfa, of whom we have not heard.

Scores of Peterborough county farmers are talking of putting in some alfalfa this coming spring. Mr. G. A. Bretben, of Norwood, who last year won the distinction of having the best dairy farm in Peterborough county, as decided by the Special Good Farms Competition, is seeding 10 acres to alfalfa this spring.

All that is being said about alfalfa seems almost too good to be true. Our farmers would probably take to alfalfa more readily did it appear to have but half the advantages claimed for it. There is no getting away from the facts, however, as they have been presented. Every farmer who has grown it and has been interviewed about his alfalfa is very enthusiastic about it, and claims that alfalfa is the most valuable crop.

The latest information in regard to alfalfa to come to hand is that contained in a report of the Maryland Experiment Station where pigs were fed experimentally on rations, one of which included alfalfa. In these experiments valuing alfalfa hay at $28 per ton—the same as the meals that were fed—the alfalfa effected a saving of $1.96 per cwt. of live pork produced.

In view of these facts farmers of Ontario, and particularly of Peterborough county, cannot too soon start in to grow alfalfa and grow it extensively. The Special Alfalfa Competition for Peterborough county farmers as has been arranged for by Farm and Dairy will prove of much benefit to any who are contemplating growing alfalfa since instruction on just how to grow this crop is offered free.

French Hair Dressers are Clever

Scientists in France have given much study to the care of the hair, and nowhere in the world do men, women and even children have such luxuriant hair.

It was Dr. Sangerbund, of Paris, who discovered that falling hair, faded hair and dandruff was caused by germs, and it was a Frenchman that first gave to the world a hair tonic that would destroy the germs.

Since the introduction of Parisian Sage into Canada, the people have learned that dandruff can be quickly abolished, that falling hair or thin hair is unnecessary, and that everybody can have an abundant head of vigorous hair full of life and beauty.

It is because Parisian Sage works such wonders that the sale all over Canada is phenomenal. W. Madill guarantees it to eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks, or money back.

Parisian Sage costs 50 cents a large bottle at W. Madill's and druggists everywhere. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package. Mail orders filled, charges prepaid by Giroux Manufacturing Co., Fort Erie, Ont., on receipt of price.

HOCKEYIST BROKE HIS COLLAR BONE

Accident to Player at Chemong Indian Village—Other News

Special Correspondence.

Oshkigmong, March 29.—James W. Taylor met with a painful misfortune while practicing hockey. In some way he lost his balance while skating with the puck, and fell on the ice, with the result that he broke his collar-bone. We hope for his speedy recovery.

Ice harvesting is now on in full swing. The ice is from 24 to 28 inches thick.

The tea and concert held in the Chemong town hall on the 9th inst., under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, was marked with success. The Aldervi le brass band was present and added greatly to the enlivenment of the occasion. The Chemong orchestra was also present and rendered a number of selections. The program all through was excellent.

The Lakefield sevens paid a visit to Chemong last Thursday and played friendly games of hockey with the junior and senior teams of that place.

Our boys had a hockey match with the Buckhorn seven at Lakefield rink on Wednesday of last week, the game resulting in favor of Buckhorn by the score of 4 to 3.

Gilbert Williams, of Rama, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Chas. Taylor, jr.

Hiram Taylor and Jack Irons, who have been with the Algoma lumber camp since last, are in town.

The Chemong hockey team had a friendly game with the Lakefield seven last Monday night at the Lakefield rink. The score was 7—10 in favor of Lakefield.

The Lord Mayor of London has called a public meeting at the Guidhall.

FARMERS HAVE THE SPRING FEVER

Are Anxious to Get to Work in the Fields—Norwood News

Special to The Review.

Norwood, March 28, 1911.—The roads in this vicinity are at the present time in a very bad shape. The recent rain and snow storms have drawn the frost to a considerable depth, and the wheels sink deeply into the mud, thus making very disagreeable driving.

The farmers are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the real spring weather so that they may be able to get in the fields at an early date. Up to the present time the fall wheat and clover appear to have come through in a particularly healthy condition. Farmers have been heard to remark that they have seldom seen them look better at this season of the year.

J. R. McKelvie left again this week for the West with a car load of fine farm horses purchased from the farmers in this vicinity. This is the second car load that Mr. McKelvie has taken west this spring.

I. N. Ackerman has almost completed the building of a handsome gasoline launch for his own use on Stony Lake. The shell of the launch, which was built exclusively by Mr. Ackerman, goes to prove that our esteemed townsman is a mechanic of no mean proportions. The craft will be fitted out with all up-to-date conveniences, and is finished in fancy woods throughout, comprising birdseye maple, walnut, mahogany and red cedar. Mr. Ackerman is justly proud of results of his skill as a boat carpenter. The craft is of a very pleasing model, displaying the lines that bespeak both steadiness as well as speed. The launch will be ready for the lake at the opening of the holiday season.

OBITUARY.

On March 22nd death claimed another resident of this community in the person of Mr. Robert McNiely, of Lot 16, in the 9th concession of Asphodel. Mr. McNiely, who was a comparatively young man, being only fifty-three years of age, had always appeared to enjoy excellent health, but his closest friends were aware that for the past three years he had been suffering from an affection of the heart, which suddenly snapped the cord of life on the above named date. The funeral on Monday of this week was largely attended. The interment took place at 2.30 p.m. to the Norwood cemetery.

Mr. John McNiely, of Norwood, is a brother of the deceased.

The late Mr. McNiely was a member of Norwood Lodge, I.O.O.F.

SQUARE DEAL FOR WEST

Unquestionably, Mr. Borden when he comes to power will adopt a very different distribution. Unquestionably, he will give the West a far larger proportion of ministers. He will choose too, men of greater force. The plain facts are that the Western representation in the Cabinet is slight in force as well as in numbers, for Mr. Templeman is an absolutely negligible quantity—his standing in the Cabinet being about what that of the Senate is in our scheme of government—and Mr. Oliver, while an assiduous departmental officer does not command the full allegiance of his prairie Liberals and carries the general weight. There will be none of that sort of thing with Mr. Borden.

TWO COMING CABINET MINISTERS

In plain terms, we may look forward to seeing Mr. McBride and Mr. Rogers as ministers in the Borden Cabinet. We may look forward to seeing them Mr. Borden's lieutenants. More than that—well-informed persons here look forward to seeing these two men here before the position, to fight the big battalions of the Liberal Government from Mr. Speaker's left, and to do it side by side with Mr. Borden, owing allegiance to him as their leader. When will this be? Such arrangements take time; and possibly when a party is in Opposition and there is an Administration which greatly dreads the advent of these men to parliamentary life Ottawa would take care to delay the bye-elections which would admit them to the Commons Chamber. It can be asserted with confidence that the advent of these two men to Ottawa would be heartily welcomed there by Conservatives in Parliament.

UNWELCOME TO GOVERNMENT

Such an accession of strength to the Conservative party naturally is extremely unwelcome to the Government. It is necessary if possible to discourage it; at all events to discount it. And so it appears that the Liberals, having got an inkling of the impending developments, are seeking to give them a malicious twist by representing them to be movements against the leader whom they are designed to strengthen.

LIBERALS IN A PANIC

This does not completely state the situation. The Liberal party is in a desperate panic. The reciprocity stroke has failed; it shows no sign of sweeping the country. Instead it has brought disaster and the promise of yet further disaster when once the ballots begin to fall. In the uprising of popular sentiment Mr. Borden's stock has gone up. He is not a spectacular person. Neither is he a purely party man, intent on nothing but playing the party game.

It is safe to say that he has devoted a good deal of his time to thinking out what he should do if he were premier, instead of like a thick and thin party politician devoting every moment of his time to thinking how to attain that position. It will be a well-equipped Premier that the country will obtain when his hour comes. In the panic of the Liberals it becomes necessary to disparage Mr. Borden, to do something to lessen the increasing regard in which the people hold him. This is the weapon. Even yet the position is not completely stated. Mention already has been made of Mr. Borden's tendency to look for inspiration to Ontario and the West. The Halifax platform was a proof of this, and though Mr. Borden did not win the election on it, its strength was such that the Government has stolen half its planks. He has shown a readiness to take the public point of view, rather than the big financiers' point of view. There are big financiers who do not like this. They do not like the Ontario point of view, or the western point of view. They accordingly look askance at the man who favors them.

MEMBERS OF TORONTO SCHOOL BOARD ACCUSED OF GRAFT

Coal Dealers Tender Much Lower Than That of the One Accepted.

Toronto, March 30.—A new sensation was sprung in the Levee investigation yesterday afternoon, which may call for special consideration by the Board of Education, to see if the scope of the enquiry shall be broadened to take in the conduct of ex-Trustee W. H. Smith, in conjunction with Chairman Levee, in connection with allegations that they were acting as agents for the Connell Coal Co. while the school contracts for coal were being considered.

Alf. Rogers of the Elias Rogers Coal Co. was the witness who made the charges in this matter. He told of having tendered on hard coal, and although his figure was from 25 to 35 cents per ton lower than the Connell, the latter was awarded the contract. He had been unable to get his bids accepted for the past five years, and to ascertain why it was he had engaged a private detective named McNamara of Chicago, to ferret things out.

The investigation, so far as the solicitations of the Slocum Medicine Co. amongst teachers are concerned, concluded at 6.15 last night; but Judge Winchester announced that he would not make his report until the Board of Education shall have had an opportunity to decide what it intended to do with regard to the coal case.

J. R. L. Starr, counsel for Mr. Levee, interposed that it should be treated as a separate matter; but his honor declared that it should come up in the present case if the Board of Education deemed it worth investigating.

Thirty-five witnesses were examined yesterday, including Inspectors Chapman and Hughes, Secretary Wilkinson and Supt. Bishop of the Board of Education.

THE PASSING OF A GREAT ARTIST

Late Sir Caspar Clarke a Leading Authority.

London, March 30.—Sir Caspar Purdon Clarke, formerly director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City, died yesterday at his residence in Earlscourt.

Sir Caspar Clarke, Kt. (1902), C.I.E., C.V.O., chevalier of the French Legion of Honor, LL.D. (McGill), was born in London in 1846, and was one of the leading authorities on art in the world, with an experience in many parts of it. In 1869 he was superintendent of art reproduction in Italy; in 1874 he directed the building of the British Legation in Teheran; in 1876 he collected art objects for the South Kensington Museum in Greece, Turkey and Smyrna; was architect of the Indian section of the Paris Exposition of 1872; in 1879 collected art objects in Spain, Italy and Germany; organized the colonial and Indian Exhibition of 1885; was director of the South Kensington Museum in 1896; was royal commissioner to the Paris and St. Louis world's fairs; was the architect of a number of prominent English buildings; in 1892 was appointed by the Austrian Government as editor of a work on oriental carpets, and in 1905 became director of the Metropolitan Museum, retiring last year on a pension.

MONSTER FUNERAL PLANNED FOR NEW YORK FIRE VICTIMS

Sympathizers to Number of 150,000 Will be Asked to Take Part.

New York, March 30—Arrangements for a funeral demonstration in which 150,000 sympathizers will be asked to join; identification of four more bodies, leaving but sixteen now unnamed; the swelling of the relief fund to nearly $50,000, and the effort of the district attorney's office and the fire marshal to fix the blame, were activities which followed Saturday's fire horror yesterday.

It is proposed to draw the bodies of most of the 143 victims through the streets by a chorus of 70 singers from the Jewish Choiristers' Union, followed by the 600 surviving employes of the Triangle Waist Co., and as many sympathizing workers as can be induced to join.

The United Cloak Makers' Union has asked that all of its 70,000 members march in the procession, and, according to the plan made to the police yesterday, a line of 150,000 can easily be formed if the authorities will permit it. It is suggested that the procession pass from the morgue by the Washington place building, where the fire occurred. Jewish victims will be interred in Mount Sinai Cemetery; the few Italians and others elsewhere.

Twenty-five survivors told their stories of the catastrophe yesterday in the district attorney's office, and others appeared before Fire Marshal W. L. Beers.

Irving Smith, shipping clerk, testified that when the alarm of fire was given, he ran to one of the standpipes on the eighth floor, unwound the hose and opened the valve. No water flowed. Not only was there no water in the standpipes, but the hose was rotten.

The factory girls who testified were unanimous in their statements that the exit doors were not locked, but opened inward.

"THE MILL"

London, March 30.—Unless the unforseen happens, Rembrandt's great picture, "The Mill," will soon be in America. Only $30,000 has been promised toward the $475,000 required to purchase it. The option given to the nation expires on Friday.

TRIED TO GET BROTHER ACROSS

Deportation and Fine of $50 Against Two Foreigners.

Niagara Falls, Ont., March 30.—Magistrate Fraser yesterday fined Frank Krewanics and Gregory Melynk $50 each for smuggling the latter's brother, Joseph, into Canada by making false representations to the immigration officials. They paid their fines and were deported last night. When the foreigners crossed the upper bridge late Tuesday, Gregory Frank, who could speak English, explained that they were going to Fallsview to visit friends. Joseph could not speak English.

Tuesday night, when two English-speaking Hungarians returned to the bridge without the other member of the party, the immigration officials were told that Joseph was drunk with his Fallsview friends and could not return to the American side. The pair were detained, and a search instituted. The missing man was found in Victoria Park Station of the Michigan Central with a ticket to Toronto.

Calls It Confiscatory.

St. Louis, Mo., March 30.—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday upheld the temporary injunction granted against the corporation commission of Oklahoma by U. S. Circuit Court Judge Hook nearly a year ago, enjoining Oklahoma from enforcing the two-cent passenger fare law and reduction in freight rates.

The court holds the law to be confiscatory and holds that that section of the Oklahoma constitution establishing the corporation commission is invalid under the constitution of the United States.

Kingston Still Ice Bound.

Kingston, March 30.—The ice is still quite firm and weather cold. Stages are still running to Wolfe Island and Cape Vincent.

The sloop Pilot, in commission for over thirty years, sprung a leak while in the slip owing to ice jam and may be abandoned.

MONTREAL PAPER TO PAY REWARD

To Pittsburg Officers Who Made the Arrest of Sheldon

Special to The Review.

Pittsburg, March 30.—Representatives of the Montreal Star, who are here with Detective McCaskill, who came to take charge of Sheldon, state that their paper will pay the local officers the $10,000 offered for the capture and arrest of the fugutive.

CORONATION PRICES

London, March 30.—From information furnished by the directors of the Royal Opera, Covent Garden, it appears that the prices to be charged for the coronation gala performance range from 100 guineas ($525) for grand tier boxes to one guinea for a single seat in the gallery.

GAVE BIRTH TO CHILD IN SHACK

Mother Was Without Food or Care for Sixty Hours

Special to the Review.

Welland, March 30.—After giving birth to a child and being alone without food or care for sixty hours, a Roumanian woman was found in an old shack at Port Colborne. The building was without doors or windows. The mother and child have been placed in an institution where they will be properly cared for, and both are doing well.

Liners Out of Work.

Antwerp, March 30.—The diversion of European emigration from the U. S. to Canada is said to be seriously affecting the Atlantic steamship lines. The Red Star yesterday gives up to the America-Canada line two of the best special emigrant steamers afloat, the Gothland and the Samland. These vessels heretofore in the Antwerp-New York service, are now to be operated from Rotterdam to Canadian ports.

There are now 1,500 emigrants bound for Canada held up here by a lack of transportation facilities. There is a proportionate decrease in the emigration to the United States.

MAY BE AN EPILEPTIC

Camorrist Case May Hinge on Witness's Health

Viterbo, March 30.—The entire sitting in the trial of the Camorrists was occupied yesterday in the further examination of Zennaro Abbatemaggio, whose testimony was constantly interrupted by the prisoners in the cage. The president of the court, Signor Bianci, interrogated the witness at great length during the afternoon concerning contradictions in his statements, made at different times. To the question of the president as to whether he suffered epilepsy, Abbatemaggio replied in the negative.

"Then I did it purposely to be sent home from the army," said the witness.

The lawyers for the defence jumped to their feet, shouting:

"Then you deceived the military, and you are now trying to deceive the judicial authorities."

During the questioning of Abbatemaggio by the president, the prisoners were radiant in the belief that the severity with which the president selected disputed points for explanation was a good omen in their behalf. Giuseppi Salvi, who is one of those charged with being directly responsible for the murder of Cuoccolo and his wife, kissed his hand to the president, while Erricone, the Camorrist leader, exclaimed: "The cylinder of the phonograph is exhausted."

Under Threats of Death.

Chicago, March 30.—Chicago Italians, under threats of death, have contributed $100,000 or more, it is believed, for the defence of the Camorrists on trial in Viterbo.

LORIMER CASE TO BE REOPENED

New Investigation to Deal With Member of U.S. Senate.

Washington, March 30.—When the Senate of the United States, a short time before the close of the last session, voted to allow Wm. Lorimer to retain his seat, it did not speak the final word on this important question. That a new investigation of the Lorimer case will be started in the Senate soon after special session begins on April 4, is not at all unlikely.

The story told by Edward Hines, a lobbyist for the lumber industries, at the investigation on Tuesday in Springfield, Ill., that he had gone to Chicago at the behest of President Taft and Senators Aldrich and Penrose, to secure Lorimer's election, will be the basis of the new enquiry. A witness, who is said to have had his valise packed ready to go to Canada for months back, will probably be called in the proposed investigation, which will be pushed by the Democrats and insurgents.

NINE DIVORCE BILLS AT OTTAWA

Eight Are From Ontario and all Pass Committee.

Special to the Review.

Ottawa, March 30.—Nine divorce applications, eight of which are from persons in Ontario, will be put through by the Committee on Private Bills to-day.

Hotelman Sues Iceman.

Ottawa, March 30.—Wilfred Gratton, hotelkeeper of Tetreauville, has entered action in the Hull Superior Court, through his attorney, T. P. Foran, K.C., against Jos. Lafrance, ice merchant of that place, for damages amounting to $5,000.

Gratton, who was the only hotelkeeper at Tetreauville during the past year, was refused a renewal of his license by the Hull City Council owing, he alleges, to a petition gotten up by Lafrance, asking the council not to grant any license to Gratton for "this year at least." He charges that Lafrance represented to the people that he sold liquor on forbidden days, and during prohibited hours, and that he encouraged the defendant's son to become intoxicated.

Suit Against Bankrupt.

London, March 30.—The King's Bench Division application has been made to Justice Lawrence on behalf of the Petroleum Oil Trust to obtain the transfer of 45,000 shares in the new Canada Company and recover £5,000 from the trustees of the Charing Cross Bank, the proprietor of which has gone bankrupt.

The chairman for the trustees of the bankrupt bank agree that the plaintiff is entitled to prove for £3,350, the sum the bankrupt received after deducting moneys he spent in obtaining the charter, and to the transfer of 45,000 shares to the liquidator of the plaintiff company.

YOUNG CHILD UPSET A LAMP

Fire Started and House and Contents Were Destroyed.

Special to the Review.

Galt, March 30.—The two-year-old child of Herbert Rowley, of this place, upset an oil lamp, and a fire which started destroyed the home. None of the contents of the house was saved.

EXPERIMENTAL FARMS AS OBJECT LESSONS TO FARMERS

Nationalist Member Asks for One in Each County—More Attention Should be Paid to Promotion of Agricultural Interests.

Ottawa, March 30.—Drummond-Arthabaska had its innings in the House yesterday. Arthur Gilbert, Nationalist, introduced an amendment to the motion to go into supply, calling upon the Government to spend 10 per cent. of the annual revenue in the interests of agriculture. The discussion for the most part was in French.

The motion was finally lost on division, and the House went into committee on supply on the Intercolonial estimates.

Hon. Mr. Graham explained that an additional $300,000 would be required this year on account of the payroll, owing to certain salary increases, following an adjustment all around. About $360,000 was required for betterments to the system, exclusive of certain amounts to be set aside for renewing rails and equipment, a bill to legalize which is now before Parliament. There was some discussion over the inertia of the traffic department. John Stanfield (Colchester), remarked that the Intercolonial officials were not as enterprising in going after tonnage as the officials of other railways. Col. Sam Hughes thought the hardest work the traffic officials did was to draw their salaries.

Mr. Gilbert introduced the discussion on agricultural topics by moving in amendment to the motion to go into supply a resolution calling upon the Government to spend one-tenth of its annual revenue upon the development of the country agriculturally. He said he would like to see a model farm established in every county, where the farmers could receive practical instruction from competent teachers. Up-to-date methods in connection with the dairy interests of the country, he said, would more than double its value to the country.

Mr. Gilbert suggested that the Dominion Government should give aid to farmers' co-operative societies on a basis of $5 per member. He pointed out that since Confederation was accomplished in 1867, $14,464,000 has been spent on agriculture, as compared with $607,776,900 on railway subsidies, $83,193,389 on the militia, and $17,000,000 on iron and steel bounties.

Dr. Edwards (Frontenac) and Dr. Reid (Grenville) supported the motion with brief speeches in English. Both complained that the Government was not spending enough money on the agricultural development of the country.

R. Lanctot (La Prairie-Napierville) said he could not agree to the proposal to limit the amount to be expended on agriculture to any particular amount.

He said that the millions spent on railways, on the development of the St. Lawrence waterway, and for similar projects had really been spent in the interests of the farming community.

Andrew Broder (Dundas) said that the resolution was too local to control the situation. No man, he said, was stealing as much from mother earth as the farmer. But the farmer didn't need to be put to bed at night and wakened in the morning and carried about. The farmer wanted help and instructions.

J. E. Armstrong (East Lambton) supported the resolution. He dwelt upon the necessity of the Government taking steps to have the British cattle embargo removed. He was interrupted several times by E. W. Nesbitt (N. Oxford), who declared that the farmers of Canada did not want the embargo removed. Finally, the interruptions being so frequent, the Speaker called Mr. Nesbitt to order.

Hon. Sydney Fisher quoted Hansard to show that in 1899 he had made a proposal to the House to put an experimental station in every county. The Opposition had fought the proposal so vigorously that the Government was compelled to withdraw the vote from the estimates.

Haughton Lennox (N. Simcoe) asked if the vote had ever been renewed, and the Minister said that it had not. Mr. Fisher added that the expenditure should be based on the needs of the service, and declared that the principle set forth in the motion was vicious. In the estimates for the fiscal year which will open on April 1, an increased vote had been included. The Opposition was crying for more money, but he did not notice any eagerness on their part to pass the estimates, especially the agricultural estimates.

During the discussion in the Senate yesterday on Senator Dandurand's motion to curtail the length of speeches reported in Hansard, Senator Lougheed declared that Hansard was a monument to the vanity of speakers.

Senator Roche of Halifax made an attack on the press. Reporters of the press, he said, were not men of the highest influence, but were chosen rather for the smallness of the salaries they would accept. The attitude of the press on public discussions was indicated by the fact that Ottawa papers would dismiss a debate with a brief report and give a page to an account of a hockey game. Electors were entitled to know the sentiment of their representatives, and they could not get them accurately, except from Hansard. In many cases the press were anxious to pervert the remarks of public men, and therefore their remarks should be officially recorded, and not left to be garbled by penny-a-liners of the press.

Robertson Arnold, of Suffolk, Va., who had been blind for many years from bee stings was burned to death in bed as the result of dropping his pipe while dozing.

A FAITHFUL WORSHIPPER

Muskegon, Mich., March 30.—The possessor of good health and retaining almost unimpaired faculties, Mrs. Marie Esther Sturgeon has just celebrated her 104th birthday here.

It is said she has attended church regularly for 100 years.

PRELATE'S BODY TO LIE IN STATE

Universal Regret at Death of Bishop DuMoulin.

Hamilton, March 30.—The standing committee of the synod met yesterday afternoon to make arrangements for the funeral of Bishop DuMoulin. Arrangements will be made to have the body lie in state at Christ Church Cathedral for two days.

Messages of condolence poured in yesterday from all over Canada and the States, and from across the seas.

The dead bishop and Bishop Dowling, head of the Catholic diocese of Hamilton, were warm friends, and Bishop Dowling expressed keen regret at the news of Dr. DuMoulin's demise.

Rumors of War.

St. Petersburg, March 30.—A rumor was current last night that the Chinese had surrounded and were attacking Blagovieshichensk, capital of the Amur Province, on the Amur River, in Asiatic Russia. The rumor is without confirmation.

Blagovieshtchensk is situated close to Manchuria. It is cholera infected, and some trouble has arisen between the Russians and Chinese over the epidemic and quarantine measures. This town was unsuccessfully attacked by the Chinese in 1900, during the Boxer trouble.

Chatham, March 30.—A rise of ten feet of the water in the Thames river has taken place during the past twenty-four hours, and the water still continues to rise.

FARMERS IN THE WEST ARE HAPPY

General Rains Are Reported From Alberta—Seeding to Start.

Special to The Review.

Winnipeg, March 30.—General rains are reported throughout Alberta and farmers in all parts of the west are jubilant over the prospects of a great crop. Seeding will commence in many localities next week.

THE BOND OF UNION

Position of Bible as Peace Promoter Referred to at Tercentenary

London, March 30.—At a great meeting of churchmen and statesmen in Albert Hall last evening to celebrate the tercentenary of the revision of the English translation of the Bible by a commission which completed the so-called King James version in 1611, Premier Asquith and Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador, who were the principal speakers, seized the opportunity to eulogize the arbitration movement.

Suffragettes interfered with the proceedings, and when the Prime Minister began, they unfurled banners bearing the inscription: "Votes for Women." The banners were torn up after a free fight.

In his address Mr. Asquith said:

"The English Bible belongs not only to the subjects of King George, but to the whole English-speaking world. One of the truths which has been slowly realized, and which now I firmly believe is rooted in the faith of Christian men and women on both sides of the Atlantic, is that war between English-speaking people would be not only a crime against civilization, but an unforgivable breach of the few commandments which are enshrined in the New Testament, on which both nations have been bred.

"There surely could not be a more worthy, a more appropriate, a more splendid monument to this tercentenary year than that it should witness the sealing of a solemn pact between us which would put an end, once for all, to the hideous and unthinkable possibilities of fratricidal strife."

Speaking of how the Bible furnished the strongest and most indestructible bond for the present practical unity in the aims and aspirations of the English-speaking family, Ambassador Reid said:

"While that community of aims and aspirations endures, starting as it does from our common possession and use of this book, and supported by the same language, the same common law, the same Parliamentary institutions, the same civil rights and largely the same blood, it is the greatest single guarantee for the peace of the world."

STRIKE CANNOT BE AVERTED

Eight Thousand Miners Leave Their Work To-morrow.

Special to The Review.

Lethbridge, March 30.—There is now no hope of the big strike in the coal mines being averted, and eight thousand men will go out to-morrow.

Killed by Train Robbers.

Middlesboro, N.C., March 30.—An assassin's bullet caused the death at a hospital yesterday of Green Rose, employed in the secret service of the Louisville & Nashville Railway. Rose was fired on from ambush at Baxter Station last Saturday night.

The murder is believed to have been committed by persons robbing the railroad.

"WEST IS NOT IN FAVOR OF RECIPROCITY" SAYS THIS MAN

Traveler Over West Finds Considerable Opposition, But it Doesn't Come Out in the Newspapers.

Montreal, March 29—In conversation with most if not all, of the large business interests, both manufacturers, mills and jobbers, in the Western Provinces through to the Pacific Coast with whom I am in close touch, I do not remember hearing one statement made in favor of reciprocity," declared Mr. Henry Perry, an old established business man in this city.

"Even in conversation with some of the large lumber interests they will tell you quietly that it means a very great deal of the lumber both in log and in the rough state being taken over to the United States and the manufacture being done there, which certainly means a great loss of labor that could be employed in our country," he continued.

Regarding fruit, Mr. Berry remembers on many occasions, discussing the question, and the instance he cited was only one of many which occurred at Grand Forks, B.C. The fruit farms there cost in many instances a good price and the men who own them naturally shudder at what the outcome is going to be, knowing very well that the American market is of very little value to them for their fruit, and that they have to go to Canada and the British market every time.

In Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, Mr. Berry said if one will only place themselves in close touch with the conditions there, which he knows, they will discover that the whole of this reciprocity movement is political and has been got up by American interests, who are in close touch with the farmers and dealing with them right along. They have a very easy way of reaching the farmer with machinery, etc. "Of course one must not overlook the fact that the American railways are already on our boundary lines awaiting Canadian business, and it would not take them long to go into any of this territory."

"No matter what a politician may be, Liberal or Conservative, when it comes to a matter which concerns Canada and the Empire, I think party politics should be set aside. I agree with gentlemen such as the Hon. Clifford Sifton, who has a mind and conscience of his own for the welfare of Canada and the Empire. I could certainly say more.

"One other matter which would be of large consequences to a factory in a town not far from Montreal, which employs over 700 hands, and which was built only a few years ago, the Manager told me that if there was reciprocity between the United States and Canada, they would certainly close up their institution very quickly and would manufacture everything in the United States.

London, March 30.—Unless the unforseen happens, Rembrandt's great picture, "The Mill," will soon be in America. Only $30,000 has been promised toward the $475,000 required to purchase it. The option given to the nation expires on Friday.

TRIED TO GET BROTHER ACROSS

Deportation and Fine of $50 Against Two Foreigners.

Niagara Falls, Ont., March 30.—Magistrate Fraser yesterday fined Frank Krewanics and Gregory Melynk $50 each for smuggling the latter's brother, Joseph, into Canada by making false representations to the immigration officials. They paid their fines and were deported last night. When the foreigners crossed the upper bridge late Tuesday, Gregory Frank, who could speak English, explained that they were going to Fallsview to visit friends. Joseph could not speak English.

Tuesday night, when two English-speaking Hungarians returned to the bridge without the other member of the party, the immigration officials were told that Joseph was drunk with his Fallsview friends and could not return to the American side. The pair were detained, and a search instituted. The missing man was found in Victoria Park Station of the Michigan Central with a ticket to Toronto.

Calls It Confiscatory.

St. Louis, Mo., March 30.—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday upheld the temporary injunction granted against the corporation commission of Oklahoma by U. S. Circuit Court Judge Hook nearly a year ago, enjoining Oklahoma from enforcing the two-cent passenger fare law and reduction in freight rates.

The court holds the law to be confiscatory and holds that that section of the Oklahoma constitution establishing the corporation commission is invalid under the constitution of the United States.

Kingston Still Ice Bound.

Kingston, March 30.—The ice is still quite firm and weather cold. Stages are still running to Wolfe Island and Cape Vincent.

The sloop Pilot, in commission for over thirty years, sprung a leak while in the slip owing to ice jam and may be abandoned.

MONTREAL PAPER TO PAY REWARD

To Pittsburg Officers Who Made the Arrest of Sheldon

Special to The Review.

Pittsburg, March 30.—Representatives of the Montreal Star, who are here with Detective McCaskill, who came to take charge of Sheldon, state that their paper will pay the local officers the $10,000 offered for the capture and arrest of the fugitive.

MAY BE AN EPILEPTIC

Camorrist Case May Hinge on Witness's Health

Viterbo, March 30.—The entire sitting in the trial of the Camorrists was occupied yesterday in the further examination of Zennaro Abbatemaggio, whose testimony was constantly interrupted by the prisoners in the cage. The president of the court, Signor Bianci, interrogated the witness at great length during the afternoon concerning contradictions in his statements, made at different times. To the question of the president as to whether he suffered epilepsy, Abbatemaggio replied in the negative.

"Then I did it purposely to be sent home from the army," said the witness.

The lawyers for the defence jumped to their feet, shouting:

"Then you deceived the military, and you are now trying to deceive the judicial authorities."

During the questioning of Abbatemaggio by the president, the prisoners were radiant in the belief that the severity with which the president selected disputed points for explanation was a good omen in their behalf. Giuseppi Salvi, who is one of those charged with being directly responsible for the murder of Cuoccolo and his wife, kissed his hand to the president, while Erricone, the Camorrist leader, exclaimed: "The cylinder of the phonograph is exhausted."

Under Threats of Death.

Chicago, March 30.—Chicago Italians, under threats of death, have contributed $100,000 or more, it is believed, for the defence of the Camorrists on trial in Viterbo.

LORIMER CASE TO BE REOPENED

Washington, March 30.—When the Senate of the United States, a short time before the close of the last session, voted to allow Wm. Lorimer to retain his seat, it did not speak the final word on this important question. That a new investigation of the Lorimer case will be started in the Senate soon after special session begins on April 4, is not at all unlikely.

The story told by Edward Hines, a lobbyist for the lumber industries, at the investigation on Tuesday in Springfield, Ill., that he had gone to Chicago at the behest of President Taft and Senators Aldrich and Penrose, to secure Lorimer's election, will be the basis of the new enquiry. A witness, who is said to have had his valise packed ready to go to Canada for months back, will probably be called in the proposed investigation, which will be pushed by the Democrats and insurgents.

NINE DIVORCE BILLS AT OTTAWA

Eight Are From Ontario and all Pass Committee.

Special to the Review.

Ottawa, March 30.—Nine divorce applications, eight of which are from persons in Ontario, will be put through by the Committee on Private Bills to-day.

Hotelman Sues Iceman.

Ottawa, March 30.—Wilfred Gratton, hotelkeeper of Tetreauville, has entered action in the Hull Superior Court, through his attorney, T. P. Foran, K.C., against Jos. Lafrance, ice merchant of that place, for damages amounting to $5,000.

Gratton, who was the only hotelkeeper at Tetreauville during the past year, was refused a renewal of his license by the Hull City Council owing, he alleges, to a petition gotten up by Lafrance, asking the council not to grant any license to Gratton for "this year at least." He charges that Lafrance represented to the people that he sold liquor on forbidden days, and during prohibited hours, and that he encouraged the defendant's son to become intoxicated.

Suit Against Bankrupt.

London, March 30.—The King's Bench Division application has been made to Justice Lawrence on behalf of the Petroleum Oil Trust to obtain the transfer of 45,000 shares in the new Canada Company and recover £5,000 from the trustees of the Charing Cross Bank, the proprietor of which has gone bankrupt.

The chairman for the trustees of the bankrupt bank agree that the plaintiff is entitled to prove for £3,350, the sum the bankrupt received after deducting moneys he spent in obtaining the charter, and to the transfer of 45,000 shares to the liquidator of the plaintiff company.

YOUNG CHILD UPSET A LAMP

Fire Started and House and Contents Were Destroyed.

Special to the Review.

Galt, March 30.—The two-year-old child of Herbert Rowley, of this place, upset an oil lamp, and a fire which started destroyed the home. None of the contents of the house was saved.

MONSTER FUNERAL PLANNED FOR NEW YORK FIRE VICTIMS

Sympathizers to Number of 150,000 Will be Asked to Take Part.

New York, March 30—Arrangements for a funeral demonstration in which 150,000 sympathizers will be asked to join; identification of four more bodies, leaving but sixteen now unnamed; the swelling of the relief fund to nearly $50,000, and the effort of the district attorney's office and the fire marshal to fix the blame, were activities which followed Saturday's fire horror yesterday.

It is proposed to draw the bodies of most of the 143 victims through the streets by a chorus of 70 singers from the Jewish Choiristers' Union, followed by the 600 surviving employes of the Triangle Waist Co., and as many sympathizing workers as can be induced to join.

The United Cloak Makers' Union has asked that all of its 70,000 members march in the procession, and, according to the plan made to the police yesterday, a line of 150,000 can easily be formed if the authorities will permit it. It is suggested that the procession pass from the morgue by the Washington place building, where the fire occurred. Jewish victims will be interred in Mount Sinai Cemetery; the few Italians and others elsewhere.

Twenty-five survivors told their stories of the catastrophe yesterday in the district attorney's office, and others appeared before Fire Marshal W. L. Beers.

Irving Smith, shipping clerk, testified that when the alarm of fire was given, he ran to one of the standpipes on the eighth floor, unwound the hose and opened the valve. No water flowed. Not only was there no water in the standpipes, but the hose was rotten.

The factory girls who testified were unanimous in their statements that the exit doors were not locked, but opened inward.

CORONATION PRICES

London, March 30.—From information furnished by the directors of the Royal Opera, Covent Garden, it appears that the prices to be charged for the coronation gala performance range from 100 guineas ($525) for grand tier boxes, to one guinea for a single seat in the gallery.

GAVE BIRTH TO CHILD IN SHACK

Mother Was Without Food or Care for Sixty Hours

Special to the Review.

Welland, March 30.—After giving birth to a child and being alone without food or care for sixty hours, a Roumanian woman was found in an old shack at Port Colborne. The building was without doors or windows. The mother and child have been placed in an institution where they will be properly cared for, and both are doing well.

Liners Out of Work.

Antwerp, March 30.—The diversion of European emigration from the U. S. to Canada is said to be seriously affecting the Atlantic steamship lines. The Red Star yesterday gives up to the America-Canada line two of the best special emigrant steamers afloat, the Gothland and the Samland. These vessels heretofore in the Antwerp-New York service, are now to be operated from Rotterdam to Canadian ports.

There are now 1,500 emigrants bound for Canada held up here by a lack of transportation facilities. There is a proportionate decrease in the emigration to the United States.

EXPERIMENTAL FARMS AS OBJECT LESSONS TO FARMERS

Nationalist Member Asks for One in Each County—More Attention Should be Paid to Promotion of Agricultural Interests.

Ottawa, March 30.—Drummond-Arthabaska had its innings in the House yesterday. Arthur Gilbert, Nationalist, introduced an amendment to the motion to go into supply, calling upon the Government to spend 10 per cent. of the annual revenue in the interests of agriculture. The discussion for the most part was in French.

The motion was finally lost on division, and the House went into committee on supply on the Intercolonial estimates.

Hon. Mr. Graham explained that an additional $300,000 would be required this year on account of the payroll, owing to certain salary increases, following an adjustment all around. About $360,000 was required for betterments to the system, exclusive of certain amounts to be set aside for renewing rails and equipment, a bill to legalize which is now before Parliament. There was some discussion over the inertia of the traffic department. John Stanfield (Colchester), remarked that the Intercolonial officials were not as enterprising in going after tonnage as the officials of other railways. Col. Sam Hughes thought the hardest work the traffic officials did was to draw their salaries.

Mr. Gilbert introduced the discussion on agricultural topics by moving in amendment to the motion to go into supply a resolution calling upon the Government to spend one-tenth of its annual revenue upon the development of the country agriculturally. He said he would like to see a model farm established in every county, where the farmers could receive practical instruction from competent teachers. Up-to-date methods in connection with the dairy interests of the country, he said, would more than double its value to the country.

Mr. Gilbert suggested that the Dominion Government should give aid to farmers' co-operative societies on a basis of $5 per member. He pointed out that since Confederation was accomplished in 1867, $14,464,000 has been spent on agriculture, as compared with $607,776,000 on railway subsidies, $83,193,389 on the militia, and $17,000,000 on iron and steel bounties.

Dr. Edwards (Frontenac) and Dr. Reid (Grenville) supported the motion with brief speeches in English. Both complained that the Government was not spending enough money on the agricultural development of the country.

R. Lanctot (La Prairie-Napierville) said he could not agree to the proposal to limit the amount to be expended on agriculture to any particular amount.

He said that the millions spent on railways, on the development of the St. Lawrence waterway, and for similar projects had really been spent in the interests of the farming community.

Andrew Broder (Dundas) said that the resolution was too local to control the situation. No man, he said, was stealing as much from mother earth as the farmer. But the farmer didn't need to be put to bed at night and wakened in the morning and carried about. The farmer wanted help and instructions.

J. E. Armstrong (East Lambton) supported the resolution. He dwelt upon the necessity of the Government taking steps to have the British cattle embargo removed. He was interrupted several times by E. W. Nesbitt (N. Oxford), who declared that the farmers of Canada did not want the embargo removed. Finally, the interruptions being so frequent, the Speaker called Mr. Nesbitt to order.

Hon. Sydney Fisher quoted Hansard to show that in 1899 he had made a proposal to the House to put an experimental station in every county. The Opposition had fought the proposal so vigorously that the Government was compelled to withdraw the vote from the estimates.

Haughton Lennox (N. Simcoe) asked if the vote had ever been renewed, and the Minister said that it had not. Mr. Fisher added that the expenditure should be based on the needs of the service, and declared that the principle set forth in the motion was vicious. In the estimates for the fiscal year which will open on April 1, an increased vote had been included. The Opposition was crying for more money, but he did not notice any eagerness on their part to pass the estimates, especially the agricultural estimates.

During the discussion in the Senate yesterday on Senator Dandurand's motion to curtail the length of speeches reported in Hansard. Senator Lougheed declared that Hansard was a monument to the vanity of speakers.

Senator Roche of Halifax made an attack on the press. Reporters of the press, he said, were not men of the highest influence, but were chosen rather for the smallness of the salaries they would accept. The attitude of the press on public discussions was indicated by the fact that Ottawa papers would dismiss a debate with a brief report and give a page to an account of a hockey game. Electors were entitled to know the sentiment of their representatives, and they could not get them accurately, except from Hansard. In many cases the press were anxious to pervert the remarks of public men, and therefore their remarks should be officially recorded, and not left to be garbled by penny-a-liners of the press.

Robertson Arnold, of Suffolk, Va., who had been blind for many years from bee stings was burned to death in bed as the result of dropping his pipe while dozing.

A FAITHFUL WORSHIPPER

Muskegon, Mich., March 30.—The possessor of good health and retaining almost unimpaired faculties, Mrs. Marie Esther Sturgeon has just celebrated her 104th birthday here.

It is said she has attended church regularly for 100 years.

PRELATE'S BODY TO LIE IN STATE

Universal Regret at Death of Bishop DuMoulin.

Hamilton, March 30.—The standing committee of the synod met yesterday afternoon to make arrangements for the funeral of Bishop DuMoulin. Arrangements will be made to have the body lie in state at Christ Church Cathedral for two days.

Messages of condolence poured in yesterday from all over Canada and the States, and from across the seas.

The dead bishop and Bishop Dowling, head of the Catholic diocese of Hamilton, were warm friends, and Bishop Dowling expressed keen regret at the news of Dr. DuMoulin's demise.

Rumors of War.

St. Petersburg, March 30.—A rumor was current last night that the Chinese had surrounded and were attacking Blagovieshichensk, capital of the Amur Province, on the Amur River, in Asiatic Russia. The rumor is without confirmation.

Blagovieshtchensk is situated close to Manchuria. It is cholera infected, and some trouble has arisen between the Russians and Chinese over the epidemic and quarantine measures. This town was unsuccessfully attacked by the Chinese in 1900, during the Boxer trouble.

WATER IN THAMES RAPIDLY RISING

Special to The Review.

Chatham, March 30.—A rise of ten feet of the water in the Thames river has taken place during the past twenty-four hours, and the water still continues to rise.

FARMERS IN THE WEST ARE HAPPY

General Rains Are Reported From Alberta—Seeding to Start.

Special to The Review.

Winnipeg, March 30.—General rains are reported throughout Alberta and farmers in all parts of the west are jubilant over the prospects of a great crop. Seeding will commence in many localities next week.

THE BOND OF UNION

Position of Bible as Peace Promoter Referred to at Tercentenary

London, March 30.—At a great meeting of churchmen and statesmen in Albert Hall last evening to celebrate the tercentenary of the revision of the English translation of the Bible by a commission which completed the so-called King James version in 1611, Premier Asquith and Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador, who were the principal speakers, seized the opportunity to eulogize the arbitration movement.

Suffragettes interfered with the proceedings, and when the Prime Minister began, they unfurled banners bearing the inscription: "Votes for Women." The banners were torn up after a free fight.

In his address Mr. Asquith said:

"The English Bible belongs not only to the subjects of King George, but to the whole English-speaking world. One of the truths which has been slowly realized, and which now I firmly believe is rooted in the faith of Christian men and women on both sides of the Atlantic, is that war between English-speaking people would be not only a crime against civilization, but an unforgivable breach of the few commandments which are enshrined in the New Testament, on which both nations have been bred.

"There surely could not be a more worthy, a more appropriate, a more splendid monument to this tercentenary year than that it should witness the sealing of a solemn pact between us which would put an end, once for all, to the hideous and unthinkable possibilities of fratricidal strife."

Speaking of how the Bible furnished the strongest and most indestructible bond for the present practical unity in the aims and aspirations of the English-speaking family, Ambassador Reid said:

"While that community of aims and aspirations endures, starting as it does from our common possession and use of this book, and supported by the same language, the same common law, the same Parliamentary institutions, the same civil rights and largely the same blood, it is the greatest single guarantee for the peace of the world."

STRIKE CANNOT BE AVERTED

Eight Thousand Miners Leave Their Work To-morrow.

Special to The Review.

Lethbridge, March 30.—There is now no hope of the big strike in the coal mines being averted, and eight thousand men will go out to-morrow.

Killed by Train Robbers.

Middlesboro, N.C., March 30.—An assassin's bullet caused the death at a hospital yesterday of Green Rose, employed in the secret service of the Louisville & Nashville Railway. Rose was fired on from ambush at Baxter Station last Saturday night.

The murder is believed to have been committed by persons robbing the railroad.

"WEST IS NOT IN FAVOR OF RECIPROCITY" SAYS THIS MAN

Traveler Over West Finds Considerable Opposition, But it Doesn't Come Out in the Newspapers.

Montreal, March 29—In conversation with most if not all, of the large business interests, both manufacturers, mills and jobbers, in the Western Provinces through to the Pacific Coast with whom I am in close touch, I do not remember hearing one statement made in favor of reciprocity," declared Mr Henry Perry, an old established business man in this city.

"Even in conversation with some of the large lumber interests they will tell you quietly that it means a very great deal of the lumber both in log and in the rough state being taken over to the United States and the manufacture being done there, which certainly means a great loss of labor that could be employed in our country," he continued.

Regarding fruit, Mr. Berry remembers on many occasions, discussing the question, and the instance he cited was only one of many which occurred at Grand Forks, B.C. The fruit farms there cost in many instances a good price and the men who own them naturally shudder at what the outcome is going to be, knowing very well that the American market is of very little value to them for their fruit, and that they have to go to Canada and the British market every time.

In Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, Mr. Berry said if one will only place themselves in close touch with the conditions there, which he knows, they will discover that the whole of this reciprocity movement is political and has been got up by American interests, who are in close touch with the farmers and dealing with them right along. They have a very easy way of reaching the farmer with machinery, etc. "Of course one must not overlook the fact that the American railways are already on our boundary lines awaiting Canadian business, and it would not take them long to go into any of this territory."

"No matter what a politician may be, Liberal or Conservative, when it comes to a matter which concerns Canada and the Empire, I think party politics should be set aside. I agree with gentlemen such as the Hon. Clifford Sifton, who has a mind and conscience of his own for the welfare of Canada and the Empire, I could certainly say more.

"One other matter which would be of large consequences to a factory in a town not far from Montreal, which employs over 700 hands, and which was built only a few years ago, the Manager told me that if there was reciprocity between the United States and Canada, they would certainly close up their institution very quickly and would manufacture everything in the United States.

The Daily Review

THURSDAY, MARCH 30, 1911.

POPULAR GOVERNMENT

Lord Balfour of Burleigh has introduced into the British House of Lords a measure which proposes that when the lords reject a bill, it shall be referred to the people as a referendum. And if passed by them it shall be regarded as a mandate for passage.

This is not a good constitutional practice. The referendum has been occasionally resorted to by political parties wishing to avoid the responsibility of important measures, or when in doubt, or in danger of a break in the ranks, but as a recognized usage, it would not be popular.

To provide the House of Lords with the option of forcing any measure except money bills to be put to the people, would probably be putting a Liberal government almost continuously on trial, as few measures passed by a government such as the Asquith ministry would pass the old House of Lords. It would be a procession of referendums, and stability of government would disappear. The day of popular government has come: the dawn of the day when the classes find their encampments being invaded by the masses, when the fence of privilege is being trampled down. But British thought and practice is not yet ready for a continuous referendum, and its violation of the principles of responsibile government.

The House of Lords is an old institution, and an exceedingly powerful. But although the peers may struggle for their good old Toryism, they must continue to fight a losing battle, for the whole trend of modern thought and action is against them. Sooner or later they will be deprived of their constitutional power, as a class, and the reins of government will be really vested in the elective senate of the people.

The same change is coming with regard to the Canadian Senate, although this body is not at all offensive. As a matter of fact, it is so mild and lady-like that no one pays much attention to what the senate thinks or does, and the dear old has-beens are beginning to feel the prick of the public disregard. Reform of the senate is coming. It may not be changed while Sir Wilfrid Laurier lives, although he has expressed a desire to see it reformed; but the germ is developing. The senate is supposed to be the cooling-off place for the warmed-up legislation that gets through the commons, but of late years, it has proven of so little use that it might as well be non-existent.

The Canadian Senate will, before the present generation passes the way of all flesh, be elective, we venture to predict, and will directly represent the will of the people, independent of the Commons. Both appointee and elective systems have their uses and abuses, but the popular trend of political organizations is to make all executive action on behalf of a nation directly sensitive and accountable to the public will and mind. This is no socialistic theory. It is the ripening of the spirit of the brotherhood of man, which recognizes that the good of the many is paramount, and not the welfare of the few; and that possession of wealth does not ethically entitle any man to deprive his brethren of the highest benefit and greatest opportunity their talents and labor afford.

POLITICAL SCHISMS

The history of every political party is the history of a host marching under the aegis of a few great principles, and a multitude of great traditions; but lacking in perfect unanimity. As long as day follows night, will there be differences of opinion among men. This is true in any gathering, political, social, or religious, but never more so than in the case of a great political party, made up of people with perhaps a common aim, but very diverse ideas as to the means of achieving the desired object.

Every political leader has his troubles trying to reconcile the warring factions and interests that follow his banner. He must, to be a great leader, be able to produce harmony out of discord, to smooth the wrinkles from the surface of his body politic, to weld foreign influences into a solid whole. Sir John Macdonald had this gift to a remarkable degree, and the way which he held his party together, though it was split by violent schisms a dozen times, was a tremendously strong tribute to his generalship. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has had the same experience. While in opposition, the malcontents in his party put the leader into desperate difficulties many times, and only accession to office saved the day. Sir Richard Cartwright and John Charlton were the chief of these, and it is safe to say that Leader Laurier remembered these gentlemen and their kindly efforts to oust him, for many a long day.

R. L. Borden has passed through the same experience in the last few weeks. Under most peculiarly trying circumstances, he has held the party straight and strong to its course. He has not pleased everyone—that cannot be expected. The only method he has of obtaining obedience from his parliamentary followers is the general willingness to stay with them. It is truly a case of the majority directing the fortunes of the party. When the Conservative party is strongly behind R. L. Borden, they are indeed bold dissentients who would break from the ranks, and openly rebel.

Some of the Montreal financial interests seem to have been dissatisfied with the way Mr. Borden was leading. They have money and would use it, but they would also like the privilege of dictating the course of the Conservative party. That is an impossible proposition, because Montreal is neither all of Canada, nor the Conservative party, and when Mr. Borden and his lieutenants decide on a course likely to receive the approval of the people of the country at large, they will most certainly get the hearty support, of the people.

The Conservative party to-day wants a policy and a leadership, not for the classes, but for the masses, and in maintaining the grand traditions of the great party of Sir John Macdonald and in seeking the welfare of the country at large, R. L. Borden is exercising sound judgment and foresight. That he has the hearty sympathy and support of the party at large, from Cape Breton to Victoria, there can be no doubt.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The teachers and principals of the Toronto Public schools who bought stock in a certain medicine company ought to be cured of the habit.

The Examiner says that the Ontario Legislature is an irresponsible body. How sadly times have changed since the days of the Ross Government, when Hon. J. R. Stratton was a member, to be sure!

Those Montreal people who are willing to lose some of their skin in the hope of saving the life of an unfortunate burned man are worthy of praise. Many people don't mind being "skinned" by people like Sheldon, but they don't like to part with the real epidermis.

The hot debate on the mixed marriage business should certainly be productive of much good in this respect: It will rouse the people to a sense of the inadvisability of mixed marriage, under any conditions. Anyone going into such a marriage, knowing the risks of unhappiness that are involved, should be prepared to accept whatever consequences there are without complaining.

The editor of the Montreal Witness declares that if the paper is to keep going the readers must get more subscribers. He has lost $20,000 or $30,000 annually for some time, and he says there must be a limit. The most reasonable course to be pursued in the matter, and the only one likely to produce a permanent result, is some life and energy injected into the management. The Witness is a model newspaper, perhaps, from an ethical standpoint, but people do not read it for the live, energetic news of the day. And no newspaper will survive unless it is on the jump in these days of competition. If the management were to reverse the news policy of the paper—let the editorial columns be what they may—it would doubtless observe a change in the circulation. Appealing to people on grounds of loyalty will not last a newspaper long. It must deliver the goods.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, March 29.—Snow or rain, as if made to order for the new crops, broke the price of wheat to-day to a new low record for the season—the third smash of the kind this week. The close was within ⅛c of the bottom figures reached, and a net loss of ⅜c to 1½c. In sharp contrast, barley, which has been a scarce article of late, went to a new high level here, $1.14 a bushel. Final sales left corn ⅛c to ⅝c down; oats, off ⅛c to ¼c, and provisions with 15c to 47½c decline.

Liverpool closed ½d to 1d lower on wheat, and ¼d to ⅜d lower on corn. Antwerp, unchanged, and Berlin wheat ⅝c lower.

There is a steady demand from foreign buyers for spring wheat flour, but owing to the low prices offered millers in most cases are refusing to sell. Demand for bran and shorts is good. A fair trade is passing in hams and bacon, but other lines are quiet. Eggs are active and steady. Potatoes strong and in good demand at 90c per bag in car lots.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 38½c, car lots, ex-store; extra No. 1 feed, 38c; No. 3 C.W., 37½c; No. 2 local white, 36½c; No. 3 local white, 37½c; No. 4 local white, 34½c.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $5.60; seconds, $5.10; winter wheat patent, $4.50; strong bakers', $4.90; straight rollers, $4 to $4.25; in bags, $1.75 to $1.85.

Rolled oats—Per barrel, $3.90; bag of 90 lbs., $1.95.

Feed barley—Car lots, ex-store, 49c to 50c.

Corn—American, No. 3 yellow, 56c to 56½c.

Millfeed—Bran, Ontario, $22 to $23; Manitoba, $21 to $23; middlings, Ontario, $24 to $25; shorts, Manitoba, $23 to $25; moullie, $25 to $30.

Eggs—Fresh, 20c to 23c.

Cheese—Westerns, 12¼c to 12½c; easterns, 11½c to 12c.

Butter—Choicest, 26c to 27c; seconds, 24½c to 25½c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, March 29.—The railways reported 63 carloads of live stock at the City Yards, consisting of 931 cattle, 1396 hogs, 263 sheep and lambs and 239 calves.

Butchers.

Prime quality butchers sold at $5.80 to $6; loads of good, $5.60 to $5.80; medium, $5.30 to $5.55; common, $5 to $5.25; cows, $3 to $5; bulls, $4 to $5.

Milkers and Springers.

There are few of the top quality cows being offered these days, the bulk being common to medium, that are coming forward. Prices ranged at from $40 to $60.

Veal Calves.

Receipts of veal calves were liberal, and prices easier for the bulk of offerings. There was, as usual, a wide range—from $4 to $8 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts fairly liberal—263. Wesley Dunn reported prices as follows: Sheep, ewes, $4.75 to $5.25; rams, $4 to $4.50; yearling lambs, $6.50 to $7.25 per cwt. It will be seen that lambs were not quoted as high as on Tuesday, which may be accounted for by the heavy weights of lambs offered.

Hogs.

Prices for hogs remained steady at $6.90 for selects, fed and watered at the market, and $6.60 for hogs f.o.b. cars at country points. Heavy hogs 50c per cwt. less than above prices.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Mar. 29.—At the Canadian Pacific live stock market this morning the offerings of live stock were 425 cattle, 50 sheep and lambs, 710 hogs and 1600 calves. Owing to the continued limited demand for cattle and the slow trade an easier feeling prevailed in the market, and prices were ⅛c per pound lower than on Monday, and even at this reduction sellers found it impossible to make a clearance of their holdings. Steers sold at from 5½c to 6⅛c, cows at from 3¼c to 5½c, and bulls at from 4c to 5c per pound.

The supply of sheep and lambs was small, and trade in consequence was quiet, with no change in prices to note. Sheep sold at 4⅜c to 5c per pound, and lambs at from $5 to $7 each. The demand for calves was fairly good, of which supplies were large, and prices ruled low at from $2 to $6 each, as to size and quality. The tone of the market for hogs was firmer under a good demand, and sales of selected lots were made at $7.50 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars.

At the Montreal Stock Yards west end market the offerings were 300 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 300 hogs and 400 calves. The only change in the market was the firmer feeling in hogs on account of the limited supply and good demand for the same, and sales of selected lots were made at $7.50 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars. The market for cattle was easier and the prices realized were the same as those quoted above.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

BUFFALO, March 29.—Cattle—Receipts, 50 head; trade fair and steady; prime steers, $6.60 to $6.80; butcher grades, $3.50 to $6.50.

Calves—Receipts, 450 head; market active, 25c higher; cull to choice, $5.50 to $8.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 4200 head; market active, higher; choice lambs, $6.75 to $7; cull to fair, $5 to $6.50; yearlings, $5.50 to $6; sheep, $3 to $5.40.

Hogs—Receipts, 2550 head; trade fair and easier; yorkers, $7.30 to $7.40; pigs, $7.55 to $7.60; mixed, $7.10 to $7.25; heavy, $6.90 to $7; rough, $6 to $6.25; stags, $4.75 to $5.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Mrach 29.—Beeves—Receipts, 2500. Steers, slow, steady; bulls and cows, steady; steers, $5 to $6.75; bulls, $4 to $5.65; cows, $2 to $4.90.

Calves—Receipts, 1600 medium grades, 25c to 50c lower; veals, $6 to $8.50; culls, $5.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"No," said he. "I shall never see you again, but I shall never forget you. Goodby, Psyche! Goodby!"

That instantaneous leave taking the trembling girl never forgot. Pressing her hands, he started forward as if to clasp her in his arms. He turned from the embrace already half begun, stepped upon the rail and dropped off into that black abyss of night and tempest. Like a stone he fell, lost in the mists.

The parachute, so far as she could see, had not opened in the least when he vanished, and with pallid face she stood there peering over into the unpeopled space, her soul filled with horrible visions.

CHAPTER V.

THE FALL THAT FOLLOWED PRIDE.

SUDDENLY Theodore burst from the floor of the cloud like a meteorite and saw a long procession of white and violet lights speeding past and away into the distance, the arc lights of a town set into apparent flight by the speed of his headlong career before the wind. Far off in the glare of a locomotive firebox he could see a devilish black fireman, weirdly stoking.

The town fled away. The roar of the wind rose about him. He was whipped stingingly by the branches of a tall tree; then a lower one bowed him through its dense top. He laid hold of a slim birch, and, as it bent like a fishing rod under his weight, he let go the sheets of his parachute, the wind spilled from the silken leach, and he tumbled heavily into a mattress-like bridal wreath bush, over an asphalted walk, and, eased down by the shrubbery, he rose unhurt, so far as he could feel, to find himself by a rustic seat near a dry fountain. On his left he could make out a long building three or four stories high.

A high wall running back from each end of this structure seemed to him to bound the garden, for a garden he guessed it to be. Back in some crepuscular jungle he heard the throaty bellow of a great dog.

Following the wall, he found it integral with that of the house. It was blank and high and insurmountable. He reconnoitered the rear wall to a brick barn into which it was built. He returned to the long house and stole across to one side, where he found a door through the wall, tight shut and impregnable.

Calling up his scattered courage, he went with some steadiness up to a long veranda. A shrill whistle sounding from the top of the porch instantly commanded his attention. Theodore saw a man on the roof just in the act of swinging himself down over the eave.

"Get under here, old sport," said the voice, "and give a liberty loving classmate a leg down."

Theodore reached up and steadied a somewhat bony leg and was about to let his burden down when the liberty loving one collapsed in all his members and came down by the run.

Carson started forward to raise the demoralized fugitive to his feet. But he was already up and seemed to be bowing and kissing his hand to an imaginary audience.

"My celebrated Avernus act," said he. "Special gravitation expert to the crowned heads! But, hist! Let me greet thee! An ye be noble, salute my cheek; an ye be slob, receive my contemptuous thanks! Hey, old sport?"

Carson stood mute, alone with a possible lunatic and a very probable dog in a walled garden into which he had dropped from the night sky.

"From your caput cometh a rattle like a muted castanet," went on the strange personage, "and anon like a battery of telegraph sounders. Stay! Is it possible that it emanates from the clattering of your teeth? Caitiff, you are scairt—or in an ague that would reduce a foundry rattler to matchwood! Art cold, fair youth?"

"A little," replied Carson. "I am lightly dressed."

"Then come, come away, tra-la-la, with me, to a realm of balmy air and breezes of Ceylon. To heel, and if thy heavy hoof but scrape the gravel to betray our flight thou diest, and all thy wad is gobbled by the privy coffer of the emporium. To heel!"

With a swift darting movement the stranger turned and, followed obediently by Carson, went across to a building which Theodore guessed to be a greenhouse. His guide opened the door and stood back with elaborate courtesy that Carson might precede him. Entering, Theodore found himself among beds of flowers which filled the house.

"It is too dark," said his guide, rejoining him, "to make the exchange of cards more than an empty and invisible formality. Yet I would fain know more of you than the bright and snappy technique of your tooth chattering."

"I don't understand," answered Carson. "I came here by accident."

"Quite so," interposed his interlocutor. "Let's sit down by the American Beauty bed—there. If we might strike a match, now. I estimate that half us lush logged derelicts go ashore here in a state, to coin a word, of orey eyed wooziness. I may say that I came myself by accident and without meaning to do so—or otherwise. I must have a smoke!" Then came the scratch of the match, and Theodore scrutinized the face by the flare of the match as with nervous, unsteady movements the stranger lighted the weed.

He was a medium sized person, with deep set eyes flickering from their caverns with a blurred sharpness. His face was sallow and colorless, with hollows in the cheeks. His nose was irregularly notched in profile, like the stub of something else broken off his face.

"My name is Carson," said Theodore, "and I am from the south, from Alabama. I"—

"Craighead is mine," rejoined the other. "I am from here and elsewhere. There are twenty places where I might vote were there any question under the sun worth voting on. I think I may venture to give you, sir, as my permanent residence, until further notice only, the Rat Mort, Paris."

"I"—began Carson.

"The Rat Mort," interposed Craighead. "One deep midnight in the dear, dread past beyond recall I was ejected from the Rat Mort because my conduct was not up to the theretofore undisclosed standards of the place—from the Rat Mort—actually trun out, to coin an expression! Doth it not open glimpses of a depravity hitherto fabulous? And when I have been graduated from this emporium I shall return, pride in my port—meaning nothing vinous—defiance in mine eyes, and I shall sit down in the Rat Mort and behave myself for long, long periods of time, for ages.

"I AM FROM HERE AND ELSEWHERE."

Morning came. Two or three men came past the greenhouse, went round it and walked away again, as if making some sort of search. They came back after a time and entered. One was a tall, athletic, ruddy complexioned, youngish man, who seemed to be the leader of the trio. They gazed at the sleeping Carson and Craighead as if taking stock dispassionately of returned estrays in the form of dogs or horses.

"Well, Mr. Craighead," said the tall one in accents distinctly British, "I'm no end sorry to find you out of bounds again, sir!"

Instantly wide awake, Craighead assumed an attitude of jocular familiarity.

"It agonizes me to have given you a moment's pain, Dennis," said he, "but believe me I should have been howling like a banshee had I stayed longer in the storm center of Mr. Waddy's pneumatic slumbering."

From his evident irritation at the mention of his "pneumatic slumbering" Carson guessed that the shorter of Dennis' companions was Mr. Waddy. He was blocky and strong in build and bearded with gray excrescenses that grew forward and upward from all points, as if eyebrows, whiskers and mustache had been trained through a knothole for a long time and then suddenly cropped off and left standing.

He was puffing audibly. This labored breathing coupled with his appearance of having dressed hurriedly gave him the general effect of one who has leaped suddenly from bed and chased something at high speed. He had on a topcoat over shirt and trousers. On one foot was an arctic overshoe, on the other a Wellington boot.

"Mr. Craighead," said he, as if carefully choosing terms of scathing rebuke, "I've seen all kinds, and you do—beat—the—Dutch!"

"Thank you," said Mr. Craighead, bowing. "Pardon me, Dennis, have you not met my friend, Mr. Carson, from Alabama? A new arrival. A periodical, I believe. Mr. Carson, Mr. Dennis O'Grady. Mr. O'Grady is the official dispenser of dope"—

"Tonic, Mr. Craighead, if I may correct you, sir!" said Mr. O'Grady.

"Of course, Dennis," protested Craighead, "I meant tonic! And is this Mr. Carson's jag boss? I hope his slumbers are less sonorous than Mr. Waddy's, Mr. Carson. I"—

"Attendant," suggested Mr. O'Grady softly. "Mr. Evans is the attendant of Mr. Wylie. No doubt an error on Mr. Craighead's part, Mr. Wylie, but we understand perfectly that you are the Mr. Wylie who arrived very ill last night, sir, and who departed before we could give him the examination and the formal admission. Mr. Evans will attend upon you, Mr. Wylie, and we hope, sir, to have you feeling much better in a few days, sir!"

"You are greatly mistaken!" exclaimed Theodore. "I don't belong here at all!"

"Quite right, sir!" responded Mr. O'Grady heartily. "Quite right! I am glad that you are already able to see, sir, that you belong with Mr. Evans in room 34, sir."

"But I am not Mr. Wylie," interposed Carson.

"Pardon me," softly suggested Mr. O'Grady, "but I find you here, Mr. Wylie, where none but inmates can come."

"I dropped into this garden from an aeronat," reiterated Theodore.

"And swallowed your parachute?" interpolated O'Grady.

"No!" cried Carson, producing it from under the bench. "Here it is."

"I COULD NOT LIVE"

WITHOUT "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Writes The Treasurer Of Caledonia Township

FENAGHVALE, ONT., Jan. 29th, 1910.

For thirty-five years (and I am now a man over seventy) I have been a terrible sufferer from Constipation.

No matter what remedy or physician I employed, the result was always the same—impossible to get a cure.

About two years ago, I read the testimonial of Hon. John Costigan regarding "Fruit-a-tives" and I decided to give this fruit medicine a trial. I have used "Fruit-a-tives" ever since. They are the first and only medicine that suited my case. If it were not for "Fruit-a-tives", I am satisfied that I could not live." JAMES PROUDFOOT.

The liver controls the bowels by giving up enough bile to make the bowels move. The only possible way to cure constipation is to make the liver active and healthy and thus store up sufficient bile to move the bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives" acts directly on the liver—ensures an abundance of bile—and causes the bowels to move regularly and naturally. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Prosperous Immigrants.

Winnipeg, March 30.—The vanguard of the 1911 army of United States settlers reached Winnipeg at 1.30 o'clock yesterday morning. There was a solid trainload of effects, comprising 41 carloads and two colonist sleepers attached to the train, which contained the members of twenty-five families. Every man in the party is a skilled farmer, and all have come north prepared to go right on the land, which was purchased last year. They are equipped with everything that experience has shown is necessary to make a start on virgin prairie. In addition to machinery and household effects there were a large number of horses and cattle. Some of the farmers had als brought along gas tractors, which will be put right to work on ground breaking. The actual worth of these farmers is estimated at $100,000.

Children Got Out Safely.

New York, March 30.—The value of the fire drill was demonstrated yesterday afternoon when fire was discovered in Public School No. 3 in the Bronx. Although smoke was drifting through the building and the odor of burning wood and paper permeated the halls and classrooms, 2,900 children responded to the fire drill signal and in perfect order marched from the building, as they do several times each week. In two minutes all were on the street, watching the firemen. The blaze did only trifling damage.

Sky-Scraper For Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, March 30.—Peter Lyall & Sons, on behalf of an English syndicate, have asked for a building permit for a 16-storey building to cost one million dollars on Main street between Notre Dame avenue and Water street, the site being 150 feet on Main, with 200 feet depth to a lane. Bylaws restrict the buildings to 120 feet, and as the proposed structure will be 200 feet high there may be some difficulty.

She Loved Him.

This was after the quarrel. "I can never forgive you," he cried. "Last night you said I was a lobster."

"But you know," she replied, and her tone was conciliatory—"you know how dearly I love lobsters."

Abuse.

Abuse is not so dangerous when there is no vehicle of wit or delicacy, no subtle conveyance. The difference between coarse and refined abuse is as the difference between being bruised by a club and wounded by a poisoned arrow.—Johnson.

Doesn't Feed Them.

Slimm—Our landlady says she likes to see her boarders have good appetites. Smart—Well, some women are naturally cruel.—Boston Transcript.

Hon. Mackenzie King has telegraphed to the Miners' leaders in Alberta and British Columbia, urging them not to strike before trying for a settlement through a Conciliation Board.

"Death by accidental drowning" was the verdict at the inquest into the death of William Green, the builder who was found lying face downward in a few inches of water in a creek in Toronto on March 22.

Fire-swept, smoke-strewn and water-drenched, New York State's magnificent $27,000,000 capitol at Albany was partially wrecked by flames which did damage estimated at between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000 before the flames were declared under control.

At midnight a vote was taken in the Nova Scotia Legislature on a resolution favoring the reciprocity agreement negotiated by Messrs. Fielding and Paterson at Washington and commending them for their efforts on behalf of that measure, and passed.

Jack Johnson Sentenced Again.

San Francisco, Cal., March 30.—Ordered into the Police Court yesterday, Puglist Jack Johnson was again sentenced to serve twenty-five days in the county jail by Acting Police Judge Treadwell, so as to forestall any question of the legality of the original sentence, from which Johnson appealed.

An additional charge of automobile speeding will be heard April 4.

Mysterious Suicide.

Fort Mansfield, R.I., March 30.—Sergt. George Charest, non-commissioned officer in charge of this port, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself. The reason is a mystery to the men at the post. A board of enquiry has been appointed and an investigation will be made. Charest was about 32 years old, and gave Holyoke, Mass., as his residence when he enlisted.

South Talks Annexation.

Montreal, March 30.—That the southern States are talking the annexation of Canada, and not reciprocity, is the word that Ald. James Robinson brings back from a two months' visit.

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Lindsay, Ont.—"I think it is no more than right for me to thank Mrs. Pinkham for what her kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I wrote to her some time ago I was a very sick woman, suffering from female troubles. I had inflammation of the female organs, and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend this medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and think they are fine."—Mrs. FRANK EMSLEY, Lindsay, Ontario.

We cannot understand why women will take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, without first trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration.

CONCERNING INSURANCE

To the Editor of Saturday Night.

Dear Sir,—We have placed a lot of our insurance with companies in the United States and Europe, on a contract guaranteed by a Montreal brokerage company. Some Canadian agents and inspectors say this is no good. What is your opinion?

Manufacturer.

It is quite impossible for us to give an opinion of the insurance without a list of the companies. The guarantee, as you probably know, is practically valueless; in fact, it is a question if it is not illegal, being a class of fire insurance conducted without a license. The "guaranteed contract" is only one of the thousand fakes being offered the insuring public, whose ignorance and gullibility in insurance is almost equalled by the same in regards to mining. Anything in the bargain line goes.

Contracts of insurance made with companies not licensed are not enforceable in Ontario. The public here have nothing regarding these companies but the word of the interested broker, who receives his commission on the premiums placed through him. The expense of collection in foreign countries and the delay which resulted in making collections under some policies issued by these foreign insurers are such as would result in ruin to a large manufacturer. In one case, where the loss occurred nearly a year ago, it has been found impossible to get even a reply, and the amount being small, it will not pay to sue.

In the insurance business, as in every other business, if you deal with reliable, established houses, you get what you pay for.

The object of Saturday Night in this department will be to advise, so that you shall get insurance worth one hundred cents on the dollar. There is no other insurance that eventually insures

ARE YOU ONE OF THE GEORGES

Subscription Lists are Being Placed Around the City

All citizens interested in the subscription movement for King George at the Coronation, have an opportunity of contributing now, as subscription blanks are being placed at convenient places in all the wards of the city, at least in nearly alll of them, and those that have not will be placed in a very short time.

In the centre ward at the following places subscriptions will be received:—Y.M.C.A. and all the banks.

The places in the other wards will be announced later. It is expected that Peterborough citizens will respond with their usual liberality to loyal, patriotic appeals of this nature.

THE SHEFFIELD CHOIR IS GREAT

Finest Body of Singers That Has Yet Crossed the Water

The Sheffield Choir Dr. Harris has brought with him on his British Empire tour is a finer body even than that which toured Canada under his direction two years ago. It is capable of even finer effects. Its balance is impeccable. The sopranos are of wonderful purity of tone, always full, never thinning, even on the highest notes, never losing pitch, even in the most involved, intricate, and trying passages; the contralto have a limpid tone of unusual beauty; the tenors are real tenors—not baritones forcing their limited registers; and the basses possess a rich sonority without in any measure overweighting the volume of the whole.—Montreal Star.

THE MISS JULIA CHOATE CONCERT

Citizens Are Asked to Give Their Patronage

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I would like to draw the attention of the citizens of Peterborough, through the medium of your valuable paper, to the concert which will take place on Friday, April 7th, in the Conservatory of Music Hall, by Miss Julia Choate, the talented and brilliant violiniste of this city, assisted by Miss Beatrice M. Wellington, reader, of Toronto. A strictly first-class program is being arranged, and a genuine treat is in store for all lovers of good music. Miss Choate will represent the city of Peterborough in the violin contest at the Earl Grey Dramatic and Musical Competition at Winnipeg in April, and the proceeds of above mentioned concert on April 7th will go towards defraying expenses of Miss Choate and accompanist. It will be remembered that at the Earl Grey competition last year in Toronto Miss Choate took second place in the violin competition, with a large number of entries to compete with. Peterborough will be ably represented at Winnipeg by Miss Choate, and we hope to have first honors this year for the Electric City.

I therefore bespeak a most liberal patronage for the concert on April 7th.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for space, I remain

Yours faithfully,
W. G. MORROW,
Mayor.

Peterborough, March 30, 1911.

Coronation Program

Mayor Morrow has received one of the coronation programs, giving details and outlines of the coronation ceremony to be performed on June 22, at Westminster Abbey, from W. McIlroy, local agent of the C.P.R. The program contains pictures of the king and queen, and much valuable information about the ceremony of crowning. It is gotten up by the C.P.R. Atlantic steamships service, and is a very neat and attractive program.

LOVE, COURTSHIP AND MARRIAGE

Special Sermons in April in Park St. Church

The subjects for discussion at the Park St. Baptist church on Sunday evenings during April will be of vital interest to all concerned. Next Sunday evening the subject will be "Why Baptists do not Believe in the Baptismal Teachings and Traditions of Rome." The other subjects for the balance of the month will be every Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, as follows—

April 9.—"Love."
April 16.—"Courtship."
April 23.—"Marriage."
April 30.—Special addresses by Senor Ray, a Bolivian citizen, who was adopted by the savages of Paraguay, Mr. Ray is the author of that famous book of travel "Through Five Republics on Horseback." Rev. G. W. Ray had the royal honor, F.R.G.S., conferred upon him by the London society. As government explorer, he has trodden where no other man has, and Mount Ray, in the heart of Brazil, 2,300 miles from the coast, is named after him by a grateful Government.

Senor Ray will preach at Park St. Baptist church, morning and evening, and at 3 p.m. on Sunday he will address an open missionary meeting to which everybody is invited.

On Monday evening, by special request, Mr. Ray will give a high-class missionary entertainment, illustrated with beautiful stereoptican views. Mr. Ray carries a large trunk full of curios, and is one of the best lecturers on the continent. This is his first visit to Peterborough, although several attempts have been made to bring him.

OBITUARY

The Late Bryan Corcoran

Bryan Corcoran, aged eighty-five, and almost a life-long resident of Peterborough, died last night, after a brief illness. A large family is left to mourn his death.

Deceased will be buried from the residence of his son, John Corcoran, at 1 Crescent street to-morrow morning at nine o'clock. The funeral will proceed first to the Church of the Sacred Heart, and thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

WHO'S COMING AND GOING

Mabelle McGrath, of Lakefield, was the guest of friends in the city this week.

The many friends of Mr. Geo. Hall will be pleased to hear he has returned to his home from the Nicholls hospital.

Mr. Wesley Dartnell has been the guest of friends in Bobcaygeon for a few days this week. He leaves on Monday for Calgary, Alberta, where he will reside in future.

Dr. Neal will resume his practice next Monday. He is at present in Montreal and will visit the Tuberculosis Sanitarium at St. Agathe before returning.

W. C. Currier, who has been at the Picton branch of the Metropolitan Bank during 1910, has been appointed manager of the branch of the bank at Port Elgin, and has taken up his duties. Mrs. Currier, who has been visiting at home, leaves to-morrow to join Mr. Currier in their new location.

WHAT'S ON TO-NIGHT

Joint Meeting at Knox Church.

No. 8 Company Meeting.

Y. M. C. A. Tennis Club annual meeting.

An Acknowledgement

The family of the late Mrs. Jas. Edgecumbe wish to express their sincere thanks for the many beautiful floral tributes sent, and for the many evidences of sympathy extended to them in their recent bereavement.

Papers Made Out

The deportation papers have been made out in the case which was recommended at the last meeting of the Charity Board, and the man and his family will shortly leave Peterborough forever.

A Heavy Sale

A large number of ticket seekers for the Sheffield Choir plan was on hand this morning at the Grand Opera House, when the plan opened at nine o'clock.

There are still a few good seats left and those desiring such should act quickly.

Choir Cannot Sing

In reference to an item which appeared in the Review last night, and which stated that members of the Sheffield choir would sing at Murray Street Baptist Church, Sunday evening, the local promoters have received the following telegram—

Member of Sheffield Choir and soloists cannot sing anywhere except at our concerts. No truth in any report to the contrary.

DR. CHARLES HARRISS

To the Relief of James Davis

Subscriptions for the relief of James Davis, who has encountered such hard luck since his arrival from the Old Country, still continue to come in. The subscriptions are not confined to Englishmen alone, as in the case of the sympathizing fellow countryman who first contributed.

His arm is healing fast, and it will only be a matter of a few weeks before he will be in a position to work. Subscriptions may be left at the store of Mr. Finch Miller on Water street.

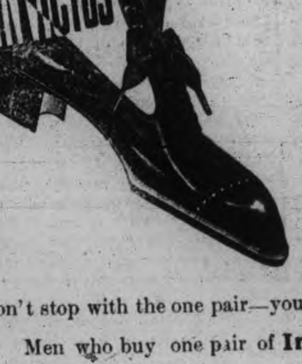
Why it Will Pay You to Buy Invictus Shoes



You'll know the difference between good and bad leather only after you've worn it.

It's then that the inferior leather shows its defects, both in looks and wearing qualities.

When you buy a pair of shoes you are at the mercy of the maker.

If he puts inferior leather into them he's going to lose your future trade.

But if he uses good, high grade, selected leather, it means that your purchases won't stop with the one pair—you'll become a permanent buyer.

Men who buy one pair of Invictus Shoes keep on using them from year to year.

Because Invictus Shoes are made of the best selected leathers, by skilled workmen, on modern machinery, over stylish, up-to-date lasts.

They're made with the object of giving the maximum of wear, style and comfort that any shoes can give.

PRELIMINARY WORK STARTED FOR NEW MURRAY ST. CHURCH

Is to be of Stone and Will Cost Between $40,000 and $50,000—Two Contracts Awarded

Preliminary operations, in connection with the erection of the new church on Murray street, for the congregation of Murray street Baptist church were commenced this morning, and a number of men are engaged in tearing down the buildings at present on the property. They are the Yelland house and carriage and blacksmith shop, and smaller structures. The new church will be of stone, and the estimated cost is between $40,000 and $50,000. The present church will be disposed of.

The contract for the carpenter work has been taken by McIntyre Bros., and that for the stonework by Reese and Hawkin. The contracts for other work have not been decided. The edifice will, it is expected, be ready for occupation in the early part of next year. Work will be proceeded with according to weather conditions.

It is interesting to note that a pioneer building had to give way to the present church when it was erected, and now others must be removed to allow of the congregation continuing on its onward march.

THREE MONTHS' TERM IN JAIL FOR THEFT OF WATCH

Time Piece Was Found on Him at Time of Arrest at Temperance House

Harry Bennett, who appeared at police court a week ago, charged with stealing a watch from Mrs. Kate Reid, of the Temperance House on Hunter street east, and was remanded until to-day, faced an amended charge this morning, that of stealing five dollars in addition to the gold watch and chain.

He pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing the watch only. His Worship imposed a sentence of three months in the common jail.

Mrs. Kate Reid, of the Temperance House, was the first to give evidence. She stated that the prisoner boarded with her, but was unable to pay his board, his room mate agreeing to go good for the amount of it.

The evening on which Bennett was arrested she missed a gold watch and chain, and five dollars, which were in a dresser in the hotel. P.C. McHarry and Sergeant Adams came over and arrested Bennett, and found the watch and 40 cents in his possession.

Harry Barton, his room mate, said that he knew Bennett in Toronto, where he had boarded with him. Bennett worked with a farmer for four days, for which he received $2 and a pair of shoes. He is an American and says his home is in Ohio.

By Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mahood of Otonabee—Gift From the Family

On Tuesday evening, March 28th, a very interesting event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mahood, it being the 50th anniversary of their wedding. All their children and grandchildren who could possibly do so were present, and also the groomsman of 50 years ago, Mr. Robt. Mahood, of Otonabee. A very enjoyable evening was spent. After all the guests had arrived Mr. and Mrs. Mahood were called forward and a beautiful address read, after which the family presented them with two beautiful chairs. Although taken by surprise, Mr. Mahood made a very suitable reply, thanking the family for their kindness. All adjourned to the dining room, where they sat down to a sumptuous supper, after which the evening was spent in music, singing and pleasant conversation in the drawing room.

Mr. Mahood was able to relate many different tales, telling his family of the many changes in the present time to that of 50 years ago. Congratulations were received from many friends by Mr. and Mrs. Mahood.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahood—

Dear Parents,—We, your children and friends, have met this day to show in some way our appreciation of the love and care manifested to us during the years we have been together. We have always found you true and faithful, ever willing to help us when our efforts were for the good. Words cannot express our thanks, and we trust that God will spare you to us for years to come. We ask you to accept these chairs as a slight token of our kind regards,

Signed on behalf of Family.

CHURCH SOCCER LEAGUE MEETING

Called for the Y.M.C.A. Saturday Night for Organization

There will be a meeting in the Y.M.C.A. parlours on Saturday night, April 1st, at 7.30, to organize a church soccer league. Already St. James, Park street Baptist, Knox, Coldsprings, Murray street Baptist and All Saints' have signified their intentions of entering such a league, and the prospect for a successful season look very bright. Every club wishing to join this league is asked to send three delegates. A beautiful cup is being offered to the league for competition.

PROMPT ACTION HAS BEEN TAKEN

With Two Cases of Smallpox Found in the City

There are two cases of smallpox in the city, but prompt action and the necessary precautions have been taken and there appears to be no cause for alarm.

One patient is a traveller, who came from Norwood, and the other a Roman Catholic clergyman, from North Bay.

Dr. McPherson, Medical Health Officer, has the cases in hand, and reported to that effect at a special meeting of the Board of Health held yesterday afternoon.

CHARGED WITH THEFT OF CHOP

Two Youths Appeared But One is Missing—Case Enlarged

Three youths who have had previous experiences with his Worship, were charged this morning with having stolen fifty bags of chop from the Quaker Oats Company. Only two of the accused were present, and it is thought that the third youth has left the city.

They were remanded for a week, and allowed out without bail, after giving their promise to appear in a week's time.

HE INSISTED ON HIGHER WAGES

Immigrant Felt He Was Worth More Than Others

Some of the immigrants who come to Canada, before commencing work for their employer are very insistent and emphatic about the amount of wages they are to receive. An amusing and typical conversation was carried on to-day between an earnest, determined immigrant and a prospective employer.

The stranger considered the sum which he was to be paid far too small for a good man, as he styled himself, which sum was then much larger than is paid the majority of farm workers.

The amount which he considered he was worth was away above the standard wage, but he held out stoutly for it. He would not even consent to have the difference split as suggested by the employer and the emigration officer.

It is not known whether he obtained the price he held out for or not.

WENT TO JAIL

Man Out of Local Hospital in Trouble at Belleville

The Belleville Ontario has the following to say of William Harrison, who figured in a police court case:—

This gentleman was rather soberminded and somber this morning. Hee had just got out of a hospital in Peterborough, whither he had gone after being struck with an axe, he said. But alas! he had appeared here and spent 15 days in jail last August. He pleaded guilty.

"Five dollars and costs or fifteen days."

"I'll have to take the 15 days," said the drunk.

"I expected you would," said the court.

THEATRICAL

"The Rosary"

The beautiful story of "The Rosary" was well staged and presented at the Grand Opera House last evening, before a large audience, which heartily approved of the work of the cast, and particularly that of J. J. Smartwood, as Reverend Brian Kelly and Virginia Elwood in her dual part as Vera Wilton and Alice Marsh, on whose efforts much of the success of the presentation depends.

The characters of Bruce Wilton, the husband of Vera, and Kenward Wright, an old lover, and who brings about a barrier between husband and wife were ably portrayed, and the suspicions and distrust which arise, breaking up the happy home, are finally overcome by the influence of the saintly Father Kelly.

The scene outside the chapel when the denunciation of Kenward Wright is made by the priest, and which also sees misunderstanding cleared up, was very effective.

CREWS READY FOR BIG RACE

Between Oxford and Cambridge This Saturday

London, March 29—The work of the Oxford and Cambridge crews during their final week's training has confirmed the good opinion formed of their merits. Cambridge's trial from Putney to Mortlake in 19 minutes 50 seconds was a distinctly good performance, as it is always smart work to row the full course in less than twenty minutes. In this case it was particularly so, since it was the first time that Cambridge attempted to do the journey at top speed.

Arbuthnot, the stroke, was content with a low rate of pulling during the greater part of the course, and seldom set more than twenty-eight to the minute. Towards the end he gradually "picked up" and in the last minute put in full forty-four stroke. The crew responded finely to this effort, and the boat moved extremely well at the finish. Some of the river side experts thought that had Cambridge waited another twenty minutes they would have had more of the tide. It is thus possible that the conditions were not as ideal as some critics asserted.

Although the work of the Oxonians has so far consisted of strong paddling, the crew gives all the evidences of enormous power and considerable pace. Both crews have now changed their coaches, Willis the captain, giving up the light blues to Dr. Etherington Smith, and Mr. Gold taking over Oxford's work from Mr. Barker for both journeys.

The methods of the new coaches, doubtless because of the fact that the material they have to work on is completely different in each case, were curiously contrasted in many ways. They seemed to agree that long stretches of paddling were best for their crews, but apart from that, all resemblance vanished. Mr. Gold in order to prepare for quickening later, steadied his crew down, with Dr. Etherington Smith, on the other hand has whipped his up.

Neither crew is being subjected to any new fads in the way of diet, as has been the case in other years.

COMMITTEES FOR THE GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB

Members are Enthusiastic and Good Season is Anticipated

The annual meeting of the players of the Peterboro Golf and Country Club, was held in the Bank of Montreal chambers last-night, when captains were elected and committees appointed for the ensuing year.

Captains—G. C. Wainwright, Mrs. Coulthard.

Greens Committee—W. H. Denham, S. Ray, G. C. Wainwright.

House Committee—Mrs. Travers, Miss Pearce, S. T. Medd.

Tennis and Boating—S. E. M. Henderson, H. D. Burnet, F. D. Kerr.

Men's Handicapping Com.—H. C. Hill, T. D. Mulholland, G. C. Wainwright.

Ladies' Handicapping Com. — Mrs. Gardiner, Mrs. Aylmer, Mrs. Coulthard.

The members show great enthusiasm in the prospects for a season's good golf over their splendid course. The captain has hopes of securing a professional, whose services will be of great value to the club. Work on the tennis courts and greens will be proceeded with as soon as possible. Increased locker accomodation is assured as from present indications there will be many new members.

PLANS FOR THE BOXING BOUTS

Reserve Seat Plan Opens Next Tuesday at the Grand

Frank Carroll, Canada's clever lightweight champion, who manages and will bring Tommy Sturch and Fred Crompton to Peterborough on April 7th, may appear in the near future, in a bout for the lightweight championship here. Carroll says Sturch and Crompton will be in first class shape for their bouts in this city next week.

Dr. McPherson will be asked to examine the contestants before entering the ring. The reserved seat plan will be opened Tuesday. The public in Toronto, at any of the clubs there, are charged $2.00 to see bouts of this calibre. On account of the large seating accomodation here the management are able to let the sport-loving people of Peterborough see these bouts at a reasonable price.

BASEBALL

Manager Kelly of the Toronto Ball Club, has received no word from Eddie Fitzpatrick, and the matter has so weighed on the mind of the manager that he has left for Atlanta, Ga., to interview Manager McGraw of the New York Nationals in regard to getting a player from the Giants or some other club to take Fitz's place till such time as the hustling little infielder is ready to report. He left his home in New Jersey and reached Philadelphia en route to join the Leafs at Washington, when he was taken ill and returned home. It was Kelley's intention to use Fitz in utility roles, but now he is left without a sub. should one of the regulars become disabled. The infielder has signed his contract, which called for an increase over last season's pay, and there is no suggestion of trouble with the management.

SPORT TALK

At the meeting of All Saints' football club on Tuesday night, Messrs. Abbott, Downs and Moffatt were appointed delegates to attend the league meeting on Saturday night. The club decided that their colors be black and white. All those wishing to become members are asked to send in their names to the secretary-treasurer Mr. T. B. Moffatt, 139 Rubidge street.

An attendance of one thousand was present at the first program of the new sporting association of Toronto, last night. Hilliard Lang, who will be seen here next week, had the best of a ten-round bout with Cy Flynn, of Buffalo.

HOW THE WHITE HOPE SHAPES UP

Morris Ahead of Jeffries or Johnson in Measurements

Carl Morris, Oklahoma's favorite son, must have made a tremendous hit with his native State friends on Tuesday when he sent over the sleeper that put Mike Shreck away.

Morris came into prominence by beating an Indian named Euchre Joe, who had terrorized the police force, and the victor was at once heralded as the man to put the snuffer on Johnson. Morris followed his defeat of Euchre Joe by beating several puglists well and favorably known.

If looks count for anything in the squared circle, Morris' blows would already be decorated with the bays of victory. Physically he is an inspiring spectacle. Johnson and Jeffries are pygmies in comparison, as is shown by the following measurements;—

	Johnson	Morris	Jeffries
Age	33	26	35
Weight	205	235	225
Height	6.1	6.4	6.1 1-4
Chest inches	40	49	46
Reach, inches	72	81	75

Morris' record in the ring to date is as follows;—Tim Hurley, knocked out, third round; Ed. Anderson, knocked out, third round; Battling Britt, knocked out, one round; Jim Harper, knocked out, third round; Marvin Hart, knocked out, fourth round; Spike Kennedy, knocked out, second round.

Morris has every incentive to develop himself. He has a millionaire backer, and also one Con Riley, as trainer, who is reported to have swum the Ohio River once with a pair of boxing gloves on his hands. This unique natatorial feat is said to have been performed after Riley had finished 3 1-2 unsatisfactory rounds with a rough and ungentlemanly opponent.

Y.M.C.A. SPORT

MUNRO TO STAND TRIAL

True Bill Against Former President of Farmers' Bank

Toronto, March 30.—A true bill was brought down by the grand jury in the General Sessions Court yesterday afternoon against Col. Munro, of Embro, president of the defunct Farmers Bank, on the indictment charging him with wilfully making false returns to the Minister of Finance and Receiver-General

A motion to traverse the case till the May Sessions was made by Mr. Hodgson, representing Mr. Hartley Dewart, counsel for the accused, who is abroad in England, and will not return before the end of the present [illegible] The application will be discussed on Friday, when Judge Denton will give his decision. It is understood that the Crown has consented to the case going over to the May sessions.

POLICE MADE QUICK MOVE

Purse Containing $23 Stolen From Station—Arrest Made

The local police made the arrest this afternoon of a man who will be charged with the theft of a sum of money. The amount which is $23, was lost by a lady at the G.T.R. station this afternoon, she having left her purse on a seat at the waiting room when she left to board the 1.40 train which goes to Belleville.

Becoming aware of her loss she returned to the waiting room, but the money was gone. The police department was called up and the arrest followed, but the money was not found on the prisoner.

REGULATIONS TO BE ENFORCED

Pollution of Waters About Summer Resorts Must be Stopped

Toronto, March 30.—Stringent sanitary regulations to prevent the pollution of lake waters and outbreaks of disease at summer resorts will be put into force by the Provincial Board of Health this summer. The necessity for action has been felt for some years, particularly with regard to summer and health resorts situated on inland waters, and at the next meeting of the board the matter will be taken up and regulations considered.

This action will be taken under the power conferred upon the board during the session just closed. Previous to that local boards of health had power to make sanitary regulations, but as very few of the summer resorts in Ontario are within the municipalities no machinery was provided for enforcing sanitary precautions in these places. They were not compelled to treat sewage before dumping it into the lakes. The amendment to the public health act, introduced by Hon. W. J. Hanna, gives the Provincial Board of Health power to step in and which to carry on the work may be purchased, including the right dyes and stains, as well as whitewood articles already designed. Copies, too, are provided, and a guidebook giving explicit directions for the work.

Besides proving a fascinating pastime, batik painting may be made a profitable employment, as well executed specimens bring good prices. To create a demand for the work and to secure high prices, each piece made must represent an individual treatment; the very irregularities caused by the vagaries of the melted wax (not strictly under the artist's control) tend toward freedom from conventionality, and by no other method could like results be obtained.

The illustrations show designs that are exceptionally free from convention. The crepe de chine scarf, for instance, of silvery gray crape has a bizarre design in dots and interlacing circles in white. This effect was secured by simply tracing the pattern by the aid of the batik pencil in the melted wax on white cotton crepe de chine and sending it to the dyers with the instructions to clean off the wax after gum—not, however, the gum known to America, but the army explosive cordite, which contains 60 per cent of nitroglycerin, a sweet concoction of agreeable taste. Chewers of cordite assert that when taken in little doses it gently stimulates the nervous system and causes a slight exhilaration. Chewed in larger quantities, it produces an effect like that of hasheesh and causes ecstatic visions. The habit of chewing cordite has become so common in the British army that the military authorities have taken measures to prevent the misuse of the explosive. Cordite so used does not explode, because nitroglycerin is exploded only by a formidable shock or by an electric spark, but it is not impossible that under certain conditions it might be exploded—by the impact of two exceptionally hard teeth, for instance.—Harper's Weekly.

Where Does the Gold Go?

During the twelve last months the world produced upward of $450,000,000 new gold. Yet in that same period the gold holdings of the world's great banking institutions decreased about $40,000,000. Most of the changes from a year ago were small, but the Bank of France lost $55,000,000 and the Imperial Bank of Russia gained $21,000,000. The United States treasury balance of unpledged gold increased $8,000,000 and the Argentine gold reserve against the currency $13,000,000. Yet even this leaves the problem open, where the rest of the world's new gold has been distributed.—Exchange.

Expensive Furs.

Actresses who wish to assert victorious power in their toilets have a mania for rich furs. The supply grows scarcer, and the demand rapidly rises. The skin of the Andes rat now costs, first hand, 90 francs. It is this little animal that gives us the beautiful Chile fur now so prized for motor wraps, stoles, muffs and garnitures. A further rise is expected, the Bolivian government having forbidden the export of the pelts of the Andes rats. Furriers have fallen back on the skin of the possum, which costs but 8 francs.—Paris Letter to London Truth.

Rare Painting Reproduced.

Quebec, March 30.—The rare painting of Blessed Thomas More, discovered in the possession of an old English family in Ontario, and shown at the Eucharistic Congress in Montreal, will be reproduced in colors, giving the original and authentic portrait of the Chancellor of Henry Eighth, taken from the living person by the great German master, Albert Durer. The painting has been etched by R. J. Wickenden, and is to be taken to Rome to be consecrated, and later taken to England for exhibition.

Approve Arbitration Scheme.

New York, March 30.—The board of directors of the American Peace and Arbitration League, which is holding its annual meeting in this city, yesterday sent to President Taft a letter of congratulation on the marked progress of the world peace movement. "We heartily commend," the message reads, "the Government's views, and those of Great Britain for definite action and all-inclusive arbitration between our kindred countries. We pledge our support in this great work."

Suspect Foul Play.

Selkirk, Man., March 30.—The discovery of the body of an unidentified woman near the Village of Parkdale, ten miles north of Winnipeg, was reported to the police here last night. A constable was despatched to the scene, and Coroner Ross will hold an inquest to-day. Foul play is suspected, but details of the affair are not known. The body was accidentally discovered in a field of scrub timber

Catarrh and Bronchitis

The Bane of Thousands, and has Hitherto Baffled the Skill of Medical Science.

Catarrhozone

Dry air treatment is the one treatment that will cure these diseases.

What stomach medicine has ever been known to cure Catarrh or Bronchitis?

Catarrhozone is not a stomach medicine, but an air medicine, that carries to the remotest parts of the throat, lungs, and air cells little drops of healing so curative that whenever it touches germ life it kills and eradicates them from the system.

Thousands of doctors and patients have been disappointed by using stomach medicines for coughs and colds. Have you not found it a rather roundabout way to reach the diseased portion of the throat and lungs?

Why not use Catarrhozone, which is breathed to the very root of the disease and heals so quickly and perfectly that every spot is rebuilt with new healthy tissue?

Catarrhozone is the only medicine that will cure. Thousands have testified.

Think for a moment. Is it not sense? Little drops of healing—the air carries them just where disease exists. That is why

Miss Jean Boyle was the guest of Mr. Harry Howson last Sunday.

We are glad to see Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith, who have been visiting friends in Garden Hill, back to our village.

Mr. Dixon, the assessor, was calling on the farmers in this vicinity the beginning of this week.

We hear that Miss Jennie Renwick and Mr. Harry Short were up this way Sunday evening. We are glad they like driving on our good roads.

George Mather, who is attending Peterborough Collegiate, spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Mrs. and Mr. John Mather.

A number of our local young people attended League in Keene on Tuesday evening.

Samuel Wheeler spent a few days with his parents here.

Mr. Wright, of the Bank of Toronto, Keene, is becoming quite a noted walker. He has been seen pass through ou village quite often of late.

Charlie Mather spent Saturday Saturday evening in Keene.

Mrs. and Mr. Gainer, Misses Lila and Dorothy were the guests of Mrs. Hore in Keene on Sunday.

Mrs. A. E. Wood entertained a few friends last Wednesday afternoon.

Charles Foster, who for the past eleven years has been residing here, moved to Alnwick last week.

FIRE AT JERMYN SHINGLE MILL

Men Discovered Blaze at Noon and Had to Work Hard to Save Building

Jermyn, March 29.—Mrs. Fred Kidd, of Peterborough, spent Sunday at Jermyn.

The shingle mill at Whitewood camp was discovered to be on fire when the men came back from dinner on Friday. It took half an hour's hard work to get control of the fire which fortunately did not reach any of the machinery. Fire was caused by carelessness of an employee who had charge of the burning of the refuse.

Mr. J. Pallin, who has been postmaster here ever since the postoffice was started, has resigned. The office will from now on be conducted by Mrs. P. Carter.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the friends of Bethel who assisted with the program and also to the ladies who had charge of the refreshments.

Andrew Shearer, a lifelong and very much respected resident of this community, passed away Sunday morning, March 26th. Deceased was 76 years of age.

Dialogue, "United at Last."
Solo, Stan Wood.
God Save the King.

GOLDEN WEDDING WAS CELEBRATED

By Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mahood of Otonabee—Gift From the Family

On Tuesday evening, March 28th, a very interesting event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mahood, it being the 50th anniversary of their wedding. All their children and grandchildren who could possibly do so were present, and also the groomsman of 50 years ago, Mr. Robt. Mahood, of Otonabee. A very enjoyable evening was spent. After all the guests had arrived Mr. and Mrs. Mahood were called forward and a beautiful address read, after which the family presented them with two beautiful chairs. Although taken by surprise, Mr. Mahood made a very suitable reply, thanking the family for their kindness. All adjourned to the dining room, where they sat down to a sumptuous supper, after which the evening was spent in music, singing and pleasant conversation in the drawing room.

Mr. Mahood was able to relate many different tales, telling his family of the many changes in the present time to that of 50 years ago. Congratulations were received from many friends by Mr. and Mrs. Mahood.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahood—

Dear Parents,—We, your children and friends, have met this day to show in some way our appreciation of the love and care manifested to us during the years we have been together. We have always found you true and faithful, ever willing to help us when our efforts were for the good. Words cannot express our thanks, and we trust that God will spare you to us for years to come. We ask you to accept these chairs as a slight token of our kind regards.

Signed on behalf of Family.

PAGEANT OF A CORONATION

All Britain Astir With Preparations for Event

The Kaiser and Kaiserin to Visit on May 17th

London, March 29—With the coronation less than three months distant all England is astir with preparations for the celebration. Brilliant pageants are being organized to emphasize the loyal love of the subjects of a great empire for the sovereign who on June 22 will be enthroned and crowned in Westminster Abbey as King George V.

Leading up to the climax of coronation day there will be many imperial and royal ceremonies. On May 12 King George and Queen Mary drive to the Crystal palace to open the festival of empire, which is to be an imposing exhibition of the greatness of Britain's imperial resources and a demonstration of the wonderful progress made in commerce, art and craftsmanship.

A few days later the Kaiser and Kaiserin will visit England to participate in the ceremony of the unveiling, on May 17, by King George and Queen Mary of the Victoria memorial in the Mall. This will be followed by the assembling of the imperial conference on May 22, a gathering which is expected to be epoch-making as its personnel will embrace not only the statesmen of Great Britain but the leading men of Greater Britain in the nations and colonies overseas, who are being called together to develop a policy that will make for closer imperial unity and greater imperial prosperity.

In addition to the coronation ceremony on June 22, the royal progress through the streets of London on June 23, the naval review off Spithead the next day, the gala performance at the opera on June 27, and the service at St. Paul's on June 29, the King and Queen will welcome 100,000 children as their guests at the Crystal Palace on June 30. Then will come the visits to Ireland and Scotland, to be followed by a journey to Carnarvon for the investiture of the Prince of Wales on July 13.

It is expected that more than thirty miles of London streets will be traversed by the King and Queen during the splendid festivities of May and June, and it is estimated that the coronation and its attendant spectacles will be witnessed by ten million spectators.

In all the colossal work of organization for the coronation celebration the reception of royal guests and of the delegates from the overseas dominions there is one supreme arbiter, the King, to whom are referred all intricate questions and precedent, and his swift and sure decisions clarify and dispose of numerous problems every day.

As an evidence of the great influx from overseas it is announced by the most important stemship lines that every steamship that arrives in an English port on any date from the end of March until the third week in June will be filled to her passenger carrying capacity with visitors anxious to see or take part in the festivities of the coronation. More than twenty great ships will, it is reported leave each week from Canadian and American ports when the great rush commences in May, each crowded with passengers bound for this country. Every week thereafter until the coronation celebration is ended some eight thousand visitors from the other side of the Atlantic will land in this country. It is believed there will be at least one hundred and fifty thousand visitors from the United States this season, and that one hundred thousand more will come from Canada and the British colonies.

Friend of Kings.

Lord Farquhar, who, as chairman of the League of Mercy, has received a letter from King George expressing his interest in the good work which the League is doing, was for many years King Edward's adviser on all matters relating to His Majesty's private, financial, and business affairs. It was Lord Farquhar who, when King Edward ascended the throne, discovered that many abuses had crept into the working of the royal household, and these he promptly brought to an end. Lord Farquhar is, in every way, a man of the world, and, say his friends, has been so from boyhood. At least, they tell a story of his walking into a village school near Cromer on his tenth birthday and in a lordly way demanding to inspect the children's writing. The copybooks were laid out and inspected, and then the youthful critic said, "Well, boys, I can't say much for your work, but as it's my birthday you may all take a holiday from now." In one minute the school had cleared.

Long-Service Members of Parliament.

The fact that just before the end of the session, Hon. Mr. Haldane celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his Parliamentary connection with East Lothian is a reminder of the few member of the British House of Commons whose career at Westminster dates back to the 'eighties. The present "Father" of the House, Mr. Burt, has represented Morpeth since the general election in 1874, when Mr. Balfour likewise entered the assembly, but the defeat of the leader of the Opposition at Manchester in 1906 deprived him of the position of "Father," though a very few weeks later he was elected for the City of London. Both Sir Charles Dilke and Mr. Chaplin entered Parliament as far back as 1868, but they have not sat continuously; so that Mr. Chamberlain, who first appeared at St. Stephen's in the summer of 1876 for the then undivided constituency of Birmingham, is the "Father-elect."

BATIK ART WORK.

A New Old Craft That Is Being Revived Nowadays.

Batik work is a simple process of tracing designs in melted wax upon textile fabrics, wood, leather or paper and then dyeing or staining all other portions of the work. When the coloring process is complete the wax is either removed with benzine or by applying a heated iron over blotting paper or a soft piece of cloth. All surfaces covered with batik are impervious to dyes or stain, thus a design in white will be found on a colored ground.

Effective color combinations are obtained by applying further designs in wax on the already colored portions and repeating the staining process until the desired depth of color is obtained. There are many methods of batik suited to a wide range of materials, and a fine batik outfit with which to carry on the work may be purchased, including the right dyes and stains, as well as whitewood articles already designed. Copies, too, are provided, and a guidebook giving explicit directions for the work.

Besides proving a fascinating pastime, batik painting may be made a profitable employment, as well executed specimens bring good prices. To create a demand for the work and to secure high prices, each piece made must represent an individual treatment; the very irregularities caused by the vagaries of the melted wax (not strictly under the artist's control) tend toward freedom from conventionality, and by no other method could like results be obtained.

The illustrations show designs that are exceptionally free from convention. The crepe de chine scarf, for instance, of silvery gray crape has a bizarre design in dots and interlacing circles in white. This effect was secured by simply tracing the pattern by the aid of the batik pencil in the melted wax on white cotton crepe de chine and sending it to the dyers with the instructions to clean off the wax after dyeing the material. In the center there is a little darker color introduced to give relief to the design. This was added afterward with pure white water color stain.

The design for blotter cover in which the windmill figures is carried out in blue tones and is most artistic.

Useful Card Prizes.

A recent hostess gave as prizes to a bridge party a book that had proved a household friend to her. It was a manual containing recipes for all sorts of repairs and stain removing, with other useful household information.

As the binding of these books was anything but handsome she covered each one herself with glazed English chintz in gay patterns. This could be wiped off with a damp cloth when soiled.

She had the title of the book printed on a decorative label and pasted on the outside cover.

The cost of these prizes was small, and they will prove of lasting use to the women who receive them.

Almost every housekeeper has one such book by which she goes, and the idea of making it artistic and giving it to her friends should prove enticing.

Chicken a la King.

Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter in a chafing dish. Add half a green pepper, chopped fine, and cook three or four minutes without allowing the butter to brown. Add two level tablespoonfuls of flour and half a teaspoonful of salt and cook until frothy. Then add one pint of cream and stir until the sauce thickens. Set over hot water and add half a cup of button mushrooms, cut in halves, and two and one-half cupfuls of cooked chicken, cut in cubes, also paprika if desired. Serve on toast.

THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH AND ATTITUDE ON MARRIAGE DECREE

(Toronto Globe.)

Rev. Father Minehan, one of the most prominent priests of the Roman Catholic Church in Toronto, and a man beloved by many non-Catholics because of his labors in the cause of good citizenship, has been discussing in a letter to the press the position of the Roman Catholic Church in reference to marriage law. In the course of that letter he says:

"Do not hold that the Catholic Church must accept every marriage as valid declared to be so by the law of the land? If you do, you make marriage merely a civil contract, and go directly counter to the fundamental principles of Christianity. The civil government in Asia Minor (that of the Turks) regards polygamy as perfectly right and valid. And no doubt some Turkish Bashi-bazouk looks on the refusal of the Catholic Church to allow her sons a multiplicity of wives as an unwarrantable interference with the statutes of Asia Minor.

"The Catholic Church wishes to comply with the civil law as far as she can. None is more careful in the matter of marriage licenses, registration, etc., than she is to comply with civic enactments. But when the State steps in and says, 'You must regard every person I pronounce married as married in the sight of God,' then she is asked to deny the sacramental character of marriage, to regard it as a purely civil contract, which the State can untie as well as tie, to prove false to what she holds to be the fundamental principles of Christianity."

In these extracts there is a statement of Catholic doctrine that we believe goes a good deal farther than Father Minehan intended, and certainly farther than non-Catholics care to follow him. It is beyond all peradventure that the Catholic Church in the Province of Ontario must accept as valid every marriage declared to be so by the civil law. The Catholic Church must comply with the civil law not merely "as far as she can," but her priests and people must comply absolutely with the law as all other good citizens do. The State has provided, in pursuance of the power to regulate and define civil rights conferred upon the Provinces by the British North America Act, that marriage in this Province shall be a civil contract, and that "the ministers and clergymen of every church and religious denomination, duly ordained or appointed according to the rites and ceremonies of the churches or denominations to which they respectively belong," being men and resident in Canada, "may solemnize the ceremony of marriage between any two persons not under a legal disqualification to contract such marriage."

There is absolutely nothing in the civil law requiring Catholics to be married by their own clergy. That is Church law only, and of no legal effect. Two Catholics or a Catholic and a Protestant, married by any properly ordained clergyman whatsoever, are husband and wife, and the civil law will see to it that they discharge the legal obligations assumed by them under that contract.

With the sacramental nature of marriage the State has nothing to do. The Catholic Church or any other church is quite within its rights in expelling from its membership any person who refuses to accept its dogma that marriage is a sacrament, and that only priests of the Church can officiate at that sacrament. But it must be clearly understood that the power of the Church ends there, and that any attempt by spiritual intimidation to enforce the view of the Church in such a fashion as to prevent any man or woman from fulfilling the legal obligations attaching to the state of matrimony under the civil law will be the signal for the intervention of the State and the enforcement of the law.

The Tablet, the recognized organ of English Roman Catholicism, had its attention called officially to the serious danger of misapprehension on the part of its readers as to the validity of civil and religious marriages, respectively, and published the following statement—

"Our attention has been kindly called by the Registrar-General to our Rome correspondent's letter in our issue of August 31, in which, concerning the recent important decree of marriage, he said that the decree 'renders for the future after next Easter absolutely null and void all marriages between Catholics which are not celebrated before a properly qualified priest.' That as exception to this rule (a) 'in case of danger of death, for the relief of conscience, and the legitimation of offspring, any priest is qualified to assist validly at a marriage,' and (b) 'when the contracting parties have during the space of a whole month have been unable to secure the services of a properly qualified priest or of the ordinary of the place . . . the marriage is valid, if the parties express their consent in the presence of two witnesses.' As this declaration of our correspondent seems to have been to some extent misunderstood, to avert the possibility of any further misconception we think it well to state as follows: Our correspondent, as above quoted, was speaking only of the canonical nullity of validity of marriages; that is, of the nullity or validity in the judgment of the Catholic Church and in the sight of God. The Catholic Church, though she does not acknowledge that the State has any right to determine what marriages shall be null or valid, has no power to change the civil law of marriage. Therefore, notwithstanding the recent decree, if two persons, of any religion whatever, against whose marrying there is no legal impediment (that is, no civil impediment according to the law of England), marry each other in England according to the requirements of English law, their marriage is (and such marriage will continue to be), in English law, valid and binding, whether a priest or other minister of religion be present or not. Lastly, as to the exception (a and b) mentioned by our correspondent, the marriages there described, though they would be canonically valid—that is, valid in the judgment of the Church and in the sight of God—would, according to the law of England, be civilly null."

That states the situation precisely. The Catholic Church in Ontario, as in England, "has no power to change the civil law of marriage." She can expel from her communion persons who do not in their marriage conform with her requirements that her own clergy shall marry her own people, and that betrothal shall follow a prescribed form. But the law of the land remains the law of the land, and any man who counsels another to break it by refusing to support his lawful wife and his legitimate children because some unofficial and extra-judicial power declares the marriage to have been no marriage in the sight of God does so at his peril. That Father Minehan had no intention in suggesting that the Catholic Church wishes to comply with the civil law "as far as she can" of defying the marriage laws of Ontario we have no doubt at all. But to the uninstructed the ambiguity of the phrase may be very confusing. The Tablet's way of putting the case is better. Marriage in Ontario in the eyes of the law is a civil contract, and so it must remain.

WEST DOES'T WANT DARKIES

Strong Objection to the Coming Of Oklahoma Negroes

Winnipeg, March 29.—The arrival of a party of two hundred negroes from Oklahoma last week, bound for free homestead land in Athabasca Landing last week, northwest of Edmonton, is raising a good deal of protest throughout the West, and the opinion is freely offered that steps should be taken by the Dominion Government to put a stop to immigration which the experience of the Southern States would indicate is hardly to be classed as desirable.

The party, which came into Canada by way of Emerson last week, was subjected to the most rigorous examination by the immigration officials, who found themselves unable to stop a single member of the party. All had plenty of money, were in perfect health, and apparently of good moral standing. They talked freely, and stated they feared neither cold nor privation, and that all they were seeking was free land and a chance to make homes for their families. Three hundred dollars was the smallest amount found on any head of a family, and all brought household effects, and farm implements with them.

SECOND PARTY.

This is the second big party to come from Oklahoma, about two hundred having gone into the same district over a year ago, where they have prospered wonderfully and proved quite adaptable to the demands of the country.

Dr. Ely Synge has written a letter, which appears in the Edmonton papers to-day, declaring Canada might have profited by Gladstone's "foolishness in South Africa," and that he sees the "finger of hate pointing to lynch law." He says: "Now is the time to prevent; later on it will be too late." A similar letter appeared in the Winnipeg papers yesterday.

Secretary Fisher, of the Edmonton Board of Trade says the Dominion Government could settle the trouble in a moment by refusing homesteads to the negroes.

A HEAD TAX.

A Minister of the Alberta Provincial Cabinet, who refuses to have his name used, declared last night that the Government should impose a head tax on the negroes just as it does on the Chinese. He admitted it was a difficult matter, as the negroes are American citizens. As leaders of the last party have freely stated that this is but the beginning of a big movement of negroes from all over the Southern States to the free land of Western Canada, the question looms large, and promises to become decidedly interesting.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

On Biblical Matters

To the Editor of the Review,

Sir,—When Christ was on earth many of the religious preachers and teachers of that day had departed far from the faith. He warned the people to beware of their teaching. He said: "Beware of the doctrine of the pharisees." He accused them of teaching for doctrine the commandments of men. He said to the teachers of the law, "Ye have taken away the key of knowledge; ye enter not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered." We see much of the same thing today. Thank God for the faithful and fearless preachers and teachers that He has given us. We have constructive, but we have also the destructive critics of Holy Writ. The trouble is the destructive sort have crept in so privately and unawares that the unsuspecting unwittingly have taken them for constructural. Our Lord Jesus Christ was the most constructive critic of the Divine Word that ever trod this earth. A constructive critic builds the people up in their faith, a destructive critic destroys the people's faith. A critic is a person skilled in the judging of the merit of literary work. Christ is called "the wisdom of God. It is written of Him." It pleased the Father that in Him should all fullness dwell," and again in Him are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. He said Himself, "He that is of the truth heareth my voice." It well becomes us to listen to such an one as this great Master teaches when He speaks. "God hath in these last days spoken unto us by His son."—Heb. 1, 2. We do well to listen to and believe Him instead of believing the orators and writers of the destructive schools who deny Christ and degrade His authority, and with great swelling words and high sounding praises laud one another up to the third heavens. Christ set His seal on the Book of Genesis, remember that, reader. If you do not believe that, read His words as we have them recorded by the very men who heard Him and looked into His eyes as He spake them. We all know that Christ taught that the Genesis story of the creation of man is true, for in Mark 10, 6-7, He said from the beginning of the creation God made them male and female, for this cause shall a man leave his father and mother and cleave to his wife," a quotation in part from Gen. 2, 24. He taught the people that the story of the flood was true—not a myth—as Prof. Jackson and his confederates teach. Hear Him, "For as the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and given in marriage—this looks like real live people—until the day that Noah entered the ark, and knew not until the flood came and took them all away. So shall also the coming of the Son of Man be."—Mat. 24, 37-38. Now, listen, reader, to what the so-called constructive critics have to say about this Genesis account of the flood. Speaking of the story of the flood, Prof. Jackson, on page 112 of his book, "Studies in the Old Testament," which book is now used as a text book in Victoria University, Toronto, he says: "Suffice it to say that the account of the flood also belongs to the world of Hebrew legend rather than history. . . . Probably no intelligent person (was our Lord an intelligent person?) now believes in a universal deluge which submerged the tops of the highest mountains over the whole earth. But even the substitution of a partial for a universal flood does not carry us far along the road to credibility." Say, reader, is not that a stunner? What about God speaking to us in these last days by His Son now? It is an incredible thing to believe even in a partial flood. Peter foretold long ago that these false teachers would come and "deny the Lord that brought them." They are on the spot to-day with their false teaching, and the apostle adds: "Many shall follow their pernicious teaching by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of."—2nd Peter, 2, 1-2. Yes, they will be popular for a while, but soon they will be swept away, "like the chaff from the summer threshing floor." Who or where is the preacher in this city that dare tell his flock, from his pulpit, that the books of Daniel and Esther are "religious romance?" Who among our evangelical preachers bold enough to say that? Not one. Yet we read in Mr. Geo. Jackson's book, page 21, line 2: "Esther and Daniel are not so much history as rather what to-day we call historical romance." On page 74, line 8, he adds: "Again as was mentioned in the last leasture it seems probable that the books of Daniel and Esther belong rather to the realm of religious romance than to history." Romance means fiction and fiction means an invented story, a novel, a falsehood,—see your dictionary.

Our old fathers and mothers did not tell us Daniel and Esther were romance. Our old pastors, Sabbath school teachers and superintendents did not tell us that the books of Daniel and Esther were not history but rather religious romance. Old Robinson Rutherford, of hallowed memory, did not believe that the book of Daniel was a romance when he gathered us when little boys and girls around him in the long ago and taught us to sing—

Dare to be a Daniel,
Dare to stand alone,
Dare to have a purpose firm;
Dare to make it known.

No, no, that faithful man sowed different seed from that, which seed is bearing good fruit in many hearts and lives to-day.

Thank heaven, we know these critics are astray (and may the God have mercy on their souls if they repent) for best of all "God hath spoken unto us in these last days by His Son," and He tells us that Daniel was a prophet, and that his book was a prophecy. (See Mark 13, 14; Matt. 24, 15.)

Now, in conclusion, let me say that if my critic writing in Saturday evening's Examiner, who signs himself "Believer" can swallow this theology of Mr. Jackson, he signed the wrong name to his epistle, for if "Believer" can down that stuff, he is a worthy candidate for canonization in the calendar of unbelief, and there is no mistake about that. What do you say, reader?

It is not the amount a man knows, as it is the use he makes of what little he does know, that counts. David the stripling did not know much, but he knew how to play the harp, and became the King's armor-bearer. He knew how to use a sling, and downed Goliath of Gath, and became King of Israel.

It is written somewhere in a very old and most reliable book "God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise, and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty, and base things of the world, and things that are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and things which are not, to bring nought things that are; that no flesh should glory in His presence." (Cor. 1, 27-29.)

JNO. CARLISLE.

P.S.—If "Believer" has anything more to say to the writer on this question will he please sign his name to his letter.—J.C.

Peterborough, March 29, 1911.

The End and Means

To The Editor of The Review.

Sir—The Witness of March 26 contains the following—

"A jury has declared a man not guilty of the charge against him of highway robbery, although he himself acknowledged it. The judge told the jurymen that if they acquitted the accused they would be the laughing stock of the whole country and the whole world. He declared that the reputation of Canada and French Canada in particular, was concerned but, in spite of that the jury acquitted the accused, and an audience in court loudly applauded the deed. Why? Oh, so-called religion was imported into the case, and a villainous assault and robbery was glorified into an act of faith. The accused A. J. Lemieux admitted that he had in company with three or four other young men, waylaid a fellow citizen named Larose and had held him up at the point of a pistol, stealing from him theatre tickets, a letter and other articles. This crime was committed because Mr. Larose was a member of the famous Emancipation Lodge, and it was designed to steal from him papers in connection with that lodge. Mr. Larose was a "Freemason" and on that account a jury of his compatriots has declared that it is no crime to rob and threaten him. If the jury thinks that it has aided the cause of religion in doing this, it must have as odd ideas about religion as it has about the rights of liberty and law and order. Religion indeed!

A "SHOPPING WEEK" FOR PETERBOROUGH! WHY NOT?

Special Bargains, Attractions, Reduced Fares, Excursions From Surrounding Places: Much Business.

Why should not the merchants of Peterborough hold a special shopping week some time in April? It means extra business, the advertisement of Peterborough, and a general stimulation of business activity. Other cities have organized "shopping weeks," when special rates are secured from railways for shopping excursions from nearby towns, when each store is en fete with special attractions. A combined, energetic effort by the business men of Peterborough to get everyone in the county into Peterborough some time during this week, would make such an affair a grand success. All that is needed is unity, and a driving force behind the scheme to make it a big success.

Ottawa has decided to hold a big shopping week from May 1st to May 6th. The Ottawa horse show is on then, and other attractions will be added to assist the business men. It will be a week of special bargains in the retail stores of Ottawa. It is suggested that people coming into the city and purchasing a certain amount will have their fares refunded. In any event, there will be reduced fares on all lines of railway. The week will be thoroughly advertised in all towns and villages and the countryside within 100 miles of Ottawa. The Ottawa people intend by combined effort to get them into the city, and then demonstrate that Ottawa can give them goods just as good and just as economically as any place in the Dominion. The theatres are putting on special attractions, and the city will be in a semi-carnival state.

A strong committee of business men of Peterborough to handle such a matter would get the hearty co-operation of the city publicity department, doubtless, and would handle all details. Being the centre of such a large farmers' district, with many good sized towns surrounding, why should not Peterborough take advantage of this opening? It means MORE BUSINESS and GOOD BUSINESS at the cost only of a little organized effort.

MR. SEXSMITH ON MARRIAGES

Asks Question in Commons as to Mixed Marriages

In the House of Commons Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Sexsmith, of East Peterborough, asked whether marriages were valid when contracted between people of different religious beliefs. If so, he asked whether anyone had a right to persuade persons who had made such valid marriages to disregard them on the grounds that they were invalid.

Mr. Sexsmith was answered that there was no Dominion legislation on the matter, as under the British North America act the administration of marriages was a matter of provincial jurisdiction.

Must Pay the Tax.

London, March 31.—M. Bayard Brown, partner in the banking house of Brown, Shipley & Co., who lives in retirement on his yacht at Brightlingsea, was yesterday ordered by the courts to pay a $50,000 income tax. Brown claimed exemption from the operation of the law on the ground that his income came from the United States, but the court held that, although he was an American citizen, he was a resident of the United Kingdom.

Works Nearing Completion.

Byng Inlet, March 31.—The new C.P.R. coal landing at this place, regarded as one of the most important in their system, is nearing completion. The towers, trestles and offices are already finished and the power plant for lighting the works is expected to be ready for operation in a couple of weeks.

Alleged Chinese Blackmail.

Smith's Falls, March 31.—A Montreal Chinaman named King Tung Soon was arrested Wednesday night, charged with attempting to blackmail a couple of local Chinamen. He is said to be wanted in other places on the same charge.

Freeman, Eglington; Ethel Mary Howell, Toronto; Pauline Verena Meyer, Toronto; and Maggie F. Sadler, Toronto.

LONG ARM OF THE CAMORRA; WITNESS TELLS OF SYSTEM

Leader's Power Greater Than That of the Police.

Viterbo, Italy, March 31.—According to the revelations of Abbatemaggio, who is appearing as a witness against his former associates in their trial for murder, Naples is divided into fourteen Camorrist regions, each having its Camorrist hierarchy. In every one of these regions a member of the organization is daily entrusted with the maintenance of order among those affiliated with the Camorra. His powers and influence are greater than those of the police or Carabineers, as he is expected to denounce those who commit disorders, and thus compromise the existence of the association, which is destined for more important enterprises.

The entire afternoon was taken up with the evidence submitted by Abbatemaggio at the various investigations, the counsel for the defence endeavoring to trap him into contradictions, but the witness maintained his composure and gave a good account of himself, energetically refuting their remarks.

Abbatemaggio said that shortly after the murder of Cuoccolo, when he was in the company of Giovanni Rapi, he met the priest, Vitozzi, who suggested that Erricone, so that he might not be suspected, should go frequently to the Mimi-a-Mare Cafe in order to give the police the impression that he was a frequenter of the place. It was in this inn that the report of the murder of Cuoccolo is alleged to have been communicated to Erricone.

Vitozzi, on hearing this statement by the witness, raised his hands and eyes, and with horrified expression exclaimed, turning towards the prisoners' cage:

"If I had ever suspected that Erricone was stained with such a monstrous crime I would have delivered him myself to justice, saying to him, 'Bear the burden of your sins'."

The tone of his voice was so melodramatic that all burst into laughter, Rapi appearing even more amused than the others. Abbatemaggio swore that Vitozzi was an active member of the Camorra, that he frequented the meetings of the organization, dressed as a layman, and was particularly aggressive in helping to carry out the Camorrist schemes.

TO ENLARGE THE SCOPE

Hydro-Electric Will Send Lines East, West and North.

At Momentous Session, Hon. Adam Beck and Members of Power Commission Decide to Take In Windsor and Kingston and Also to Supply Power to Midland and Other Northern Towns.

Toronto, March 31.—Hon. Adam Beck and the members of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission had an epoch making day at the Parliament buildings yesterday. Two great industrial projects of vast provincial, if not of national proportions, were adopted, and concurred in by the Ontario Government after a conference with the commission.

One of the two big projects was the extension of the Hydro-Electric power transmission line from St. Thomas to Windsor.

The other was the adoption of a plan to supply the Napanee-Kingston group of cities and towns with Hydro-Electric power.

Provision was also made to supply Midland, Penetang and Waubashene with electricity to the extent of 1,600 horse-power.

The transmission line from St. Thomas to Windsor as previously announced, was contemplated when the Legislature was asked to authorize a new provincial loan, but was made dependent on a reasonable demand for power at Windsor and on the route of the extension westward being assured. This is now regarded as available, and the commission was authorized to proceed with the undertaking, provided conditions satisfactory to the members of the board were made for the operation of the Michigan Central Railway tunnel with Hydro-Electric power.

Jubilation will be likely to manifest itself in the southeastern portion of the province at the announcement of an optional contract by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission with the New York & Ontario Power Co. for a supply of 15,000 horse-power for Napanee, Kingston, Lansdowne, Brockville, Lynn, Prescott, Cardinal, Morrisburg and Athens.

LIBERAL MEMBER LOSES HIS SEAT

Illegal Practices Made by His Agent in Campaign.

London, March 31.—Richard Matthias, the shipowner of Cardiff, who was elected to the House of Commons from Cheltenham, has been unseated by the courts, upon the strength of a petition alleging illegal practices upon the part of his agent during the recent campaign.

Matthias is a Liberal, and on his second try ousted Viscount Duncannon, Liberal Unionist, by a majority of 93. He is a member of the firm of J. Matthias & Sons, shipowners and managing directors of the Cambrian Steamship Co.

Zeppelin's Latest.

Friedrichshaven, Germany, March 31.—Count Zeppelin's newest airship made a successful maiden flight yesterday.

The craft replaces the passenger airship Deutschland, the highest developed of all the famous aeronaut's models, which, after a few thrilling exhibitions, came to grief amid the fir trees of the Teutoburgian forest on June 28 last. The motors and the vertical steering plane of the Deutschland were saved from the wreck and utilized in the construction of her successor.

Draw Closer to Dominions.

London, March 31.—Three hundred M.P.'s have now signed a petition to the Premier urging a close association with the dominions in the conduct of imperial affairs. Amongst the signatories are Max Aiken, Hon. Austen Chamberlain, Pagecroft, Hamar Greenwood, Norton Griffiths, Sir G. Parker, F. E. Smith, Marshall Hall, Will Crooks, Arthur Henderson, Hon. Alfred Lyttleton, George Lansbury and Thomas Burt.

Australia's Naval Defence.

Adelaide, March 31.—Vice-Admiral King-Hall strongly endorses Admiral Henderson's naval defence in Australia, and urges the necessity of the Dominion coming under the white ensign. The public feel the speech greatly furthers the movement for the coordination of the naval policy within the Empire.

A Hydro Aeroplane.

Stratford, March 31.—A Stratford inventor of what he calls a hydro-aeroplane, has made a public request to have someone—a lady preferred—take a ride at 80 miles an hour around the city. He also asks that this person supply $350 as half payment toward securing the patent rights of the machine in six countries.

NEW AEROPLANE SPEED RECORD

Long Flight in Fast Time To-day at Paris.

Special to the Review.

Paris, France, March 31.—All speed records for an aeroplane were broken here to-day in a trip by aviator Vedrine. He made a successful journey of two hundred and six miles in his machine, at an average speed of ninety-one miles an hour.

GERMANY WOULD KNOW WHAT RECIPROCITY SHE IS TO GET

Disarmament Comes Up In Reichstag and Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg Says It Is Not Practical—It Is a Utopian Idea, He Declares—War Situation Is an Insoluble Problem.

Berlin, March 31.—In the course of the debate in the Reichstag on the questions of universal disarmament and universal arbitration, Count Von Kanitiz, Conservative, devoted the greater part of his speech to the American affairs, contrasting the speech of Commander W. S. Simms of the American navy at the Guildhall, London, which called forth a reprimand from President Taft, with the utterances of Congressman Champ Clark concerning the annexation of Canada, saying: "While an American naval officer is assuring England of the friendship of the United States, a future President of that nation is talking of the absorption of Canada."

"Canadian reciprocity," he said, "raised the point of what compensatory favors were to be had by Germany."

Of the proposed Anglo-American complete arbitration treaty, the speaker said that the plan promised little if questions like that of the Monroe doctrine were excluded.

Discussing the proposed extension of international arbitration in the Reichstag yesterday, Chancellor Von Bethman-Hollweg classed universal arbitration and universal disarmament as ideals impossible of realization.

The imperial chancellor saw the chief difficulty in a disarmament agreement in the impossibility of supervision of individual states. "Control over these," he said, "I regard as absolutely impracticable. The mere attempt to control would have no other result than continual distrust and universal turmoil. General disarmament is an unsoluable problem so long as men are men.

"It will remain through," continued the chancellor, "that the weak will be the prey of the strong. If any nation feels that it is unable longer to spend certain sums for defensive purposes it will inevitably drop to the second rank. There will always be a stronger one ready to take its place. We Germans, in our exposed situations, cannot shut our eyes to this dire reality, only so far as we can maintain peace.

"The nations, including Germany," said the chancellor, "have been talking disarmament since the first Hague conference, but neither in Germany nor elsewhere has a practical plan been proposed. Great Britain wishes the limitation of armaments, but simultaneously wants a superior or equal fleet. Any conference on this subject is bound to be fruitless. No standard for a limitation can be found, and any conceivable proposal will be shattered on the question of control."

Von Bethmann-Hollweg instanced Napoleon's limitation of the Prussian army, when Prussia, adhering to the letter of her treaty, trained a fourfold army by shortening the period of training. Germany was willing, he said, to accept the English proposal for an exchange of information regarding navy building programs. He accepted the idea of arbitration in principle, but universal arbitration was as impossible of accomplishment as universal disarmament. By this principle, two nations, like the United States and Great Britain, could seal the de facto status, but if new questions arose arbitration might prove inadequate.

A Pretty Hard Case.

Welland, March 31.—After giving birth to a child and living for sixty hours absolutely alone in a tumble-down shack, without food or fire, a Roumanian woman was found along the railway track near the village of Port Colborne. The child was born on Friday night about eleven o'clock. Though almost dead from cold and hunger when found, the mother and child are now both well on the road to recovery.

Mission Worker a Wife Murderer?

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 31.—A charge of second degree murder was contained in an indictment returned yesterday against Oliver P. Smith, based upon the death of his wife, found murdered in their home. Smith and his wife were widely known mission workers.

Fire at Laval.

Quebec, March 31.—About 11 o'clock last night two gentlemen walking down the Ramparts, noticed smoke issuing from the lower flat of Laval University, near the gate facing the river. They immediately sounded an alarm, and in a few minutes a detachment from No. 1 station, closely followed by Nos. 4, 5 and 9 stations were soon on the scene. The fire had originated in the extreme eastern room of the building on the corner flat, which had been occupied for some time past by workingmen employed in making the improvements on the building. An overhearted stove was the cause of the fire, as there was lots of paper and dry timber in the room, and was very fortunate that the two men, who gave the alam, were passing there at the time, as otherwise a more serious fire would have had to be reported.

FOSTER URGES THE PROMOTION OF TRADE WITH WEST INDIES

Member of Opposition Expresses Hope That Agreement With the United States Will Not Prejudice the Projected Agreement With British Islands—Mr. Lewis Wants to Prorogue House Because of Smallpox.

Ottawa, March 31.—In the House of Commons yesterday, Hon. Geo. E. Foster urged upon the Government the advantage of promoting trade with the West Indies. These islands presented a most promising field for mutual preferential trade, and he hoped that the proposed arrangement with the United States would not prejudice Canada in widening the scope of trade within the Empire.

He did not advocate a perference of twenty per cent. to such places as British Guiana, Barbados and Trinidad, as nothing was to be gained by that course. Jamaica was on a different basis. That island enjoyed a trade with the United States, and he did not want to place it in a position of suffering from reprisals by the United States. There were grounds for an inference in the report that this would not be done, but he thought it should be made clear with the United States that reprisals would not follow on any trade arrangements made between colonies of the Empire or between any colony and the Mother Country. The conclusion of the commission was that conditions were most favorable for a reciprocal trade arrangement.

Hon. Mr. Fielding did not think that the trade pact with the republic would affect relations with the West Indies. Tropical fruits were already free, and were excepted in the free schedule of the United States agreement. While Jamaica had rejected the proposal, the Government was in full sympathy with the movement suggested by Mr. Foster. Canada had done everything to improve steamship service, but the attitude of the islands in demanding a direct service prevented a subsidy, being applied.

Mr. Fielding stated that when he was in England he had spoken of an arrangement whereby the West Indian mail would come to Canada and would be forwarded from Canada to its destination by fast steamers. But the islands desired the direct mail, as had had been the custom in the past, and only a few days ago he had received word that the British Government could not enter into the contemplated arrangement on account of the desire of the islands for the direct route. This was rather a disappointment, as it took away the British assistance in the matter of a fast steamship communication. What the Government would do ultimately would be announced later.

In reply to Mr. Borden, the Minister of Labor gave a long explanation regarding the situation at Springhill, N.S., which was to the effect that the position taken by the parties did not admit of any settlement by the Government.

Mr. King could give no further information concerning the threatened strike in Alberta. Telegrams had been despatched to the union leaders, and an official of the Department was on the spot.

E. N. Lewis (W. Huron) asked the Government to prorogue the House after voting supply, and complete business next autumn, in view of the present epidemic of typhoid fever in Ottawa and an outbreak of smallpox.

Mr. Lewis' motion was without a seconder. The Speaker appealed in vain to several members. Dr. Daniel declined the honor, as did others.

While the House was in committee of supply last night, there was a little discussion over the proposed Welland Canal. Mr. Graham said the intention of the Government was to construct locks for a 30-feet canal, but the canal itself would be built for the present to accommodate boats with a 25-feet craft. The locks were the most expensive part of the canal, and as the cost of excavation was the same, 30-foot locks would be provided. The width of the canal would be 200 feet.

A. McCall (Norfolk) thought there was no need for a canal of more than 20-foot depth. Vessels on the great lakes did not draw more than 18 feet.

The Minister told Dr. Sproule that he could not tell when the work would commence, or what the cost would be.

The House adjourned, after passing a few other votes, at midnight.

SHELDON SAYS NEWSPAPERS BLACKMAILED HIM $25,000

Paid $20,000 to One and $5,000 to the Other—Will Implicate Citizens.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 30—Charles D. Sheldon has not yet made any admission which can be accepted as a confession, but he has plainly indicated that he will tell all he knows when he is placed on trial.

He has stated that he was blackmailed by two Montreal newspapers. To one he says he paid $20,000, and to the second, only $5,000. He did not name the papers.

He apparently expects when he gets to Montreal that a number of friends will rally to his defence.

Quebec City Loan.

Quebec, March 31.—At a meeting of the civic finance committee last night the tender of the Bank of Montreal for the new city loan of $1,050,000 at 100 1-2 for 100, payable in London, was accepted. Interest will be at 4 per cent., payable semi-annually, and a sinking fund is to be created to be deposited semi-annually so that the entire loan will be paid when due, fifty years hence.

TUNNEL THROUGH ALPS COMPLETED

Three Hours Will be Clipped Off Trip to Italy

Special to The Review.

Geneva, Switzerland, March 31.—The long and laborious operations of boring a passageway in connection with the Lotscheburg tunnel, which will be nine miles in length, was completed to-day. The tunnel passes through the Alps and will shorten the trip to Italy by three hours.

A FATAL KISS

Schenectady, N.Y., March 30.—Albert Adams, aged 44 years, an expert varnish maker, died last night of pneumonia, after three days' illness, following the kissing of the lips of his dead wife, who died last week of the same disease.

FIRE FIEND STILL BUSY

Three Hundred Room Hotel, a Bank and Two Stores Destroyed

North Bay, March 31.—A bad fire swept the town of Kelso this morning at an early hour, and caused an estimated loss of one hundred thousand dollars. The Miller hotel, which was a large structure, of three stories, and contained two hundred rooms, was destroyed. The premises of the Bank of Ottawa and two stores were also burned.

BLACK HAND AGAIN ACTIVE

New York Officials Threatened With Death by Society

Special to The Review.

Chicago, Ill., March 31.—Judge Landis and Government Detective Danneberg have received threats of death, which are signed by members of the Black Hand society. A bomb was also found at the door of the residence occupied by Judge Landis.

Epidermis Society Grows.

Montreal, March 31.—The membership of the Epidemis Supply Society has now reached the number of 63. All these members will not be called upon to serve in the individual case at present in the general hospital which has been the immediate cause of the formation of the organization. It is expected that only about 35 of the volunteers will be required and these will then become honorary members and will not be asked to donate any more of their skin for a year at least. Men and youths are still coming forward and expressing their willingness to join this unique club, and with the care that is being taken in the choice of members, an established source of healthy skin will be at the command of the hospitals in the city.

FRIDAY, MARCH 31, 1911.

A RECIPROCITY MISSIONER

Hon. Walter Scott, the Liberal Premier of Saskatchewan, is visiting British Columbia primarily in search of health. For the past five years Mr. Scott has had an arduous task as head of the administration of that new province, and he is suffering from the effects of overwork. He has shown good judgment in coming to British Columbia to recuperate. If there is any climate in which he can do so effectually it is that of the Coast. We hope that Mr. Scott will succeed to the fullest extent of his expectations in this respect and that when he returns to Regina his health will have been completely restored, says the Vancouver Province.

But Mr. Scott apparently has another object in view than mere personal benefit. As a Liberal and staunch supporter of the present Federal government, and also as first minister of the province in which the loudest clamor for entry to the American markets has been raised, Mr. Scott is by persuasion if not by conviction, an ardent advocate of the present reciprocity proposal, and as he finds no call to make converts in his own province he has decided to perform some missionary work during his sojourn in British Columbia. It is not his intention, it seems, to start a public campaign, but he has decided to pursue another and an even better course, perhaps. He tells us himself that when he reaches Victoria he will have "a very serious talk" with Hon. Richard McBride.

No doubt Mr. Scott's controversial powers have been highly developed, and backed up as they are by a supreme confidence in himself, he is a redoubtable champion of any cause which he espouses. But in this matter of reciprocity Premier McBride has stated in his views with a clearness and emphasis which left nothing to be surmised. And his attitude is one of intense hostility to any measure of reciprocity, not only because he believes it would be inimical to the interests of this province but because he believes it would be disastrous to the best interests of the whole of Canada Mr. Scott, then, has his work cut out for him in making a convert of British Columbia's Premier. Indeed he will do well if he gets away without having his own faith in the advantages of reciprocity dangerously disturbed.

Mr. Scott tells us that if the reciprocity treaty is ratified we shall have twenty-five million of population in Canada within twelve years. We expect to have twenty-five million in Canada within that time without reciprocity. For the next ten years or so we do not believe that reciprocity will affect the entry to Canada one way or another. Those who are coming in in large numbers are doing so because they realize that the soil is rich, the climate good and that they can make homes for themselves in the country. They know nothing about trade treaties. It is true that if our great natural resources are made accessible to the Americans we shall have a certain large temporary population as a consequence. The exploiters of our timber forests and our mines will bring labor from the other side of the line to do their work in the Dominion, but with the gradual exhaustion of those resources, we shall not only lose that temporary population which was of no use to us, but we shall begin also to lose what should be our permanent population by reason of the falling off of our prosperity. Mr. Scott takes the 160 acre farmers' view of this national question, and does not seem able to realize that there is any other point of view possible than that from a quarter section of prairie farmland.

THE LEMIEUX VERDICT

The Lemieux verdict in Montreal has caused a great sensation throughout the country, as a piece of contempt for the law and its operation that has seldom been equalled in Canada. The prisoner Lemieux and some helpers set upon a Protestant compatriot, who was carrying some papers belonging to Emancipation lodge, and robbed him, giving their reason as the good of the Roman Catholic Church, which had need of the information contained in those papers. In court Lemieux acknowledged his guilt, and the judge in charging the jury carefully warned them that they should not take into account any motive, or religious consideration.

In spite of the confession of the prisoner as to his guilt, the jury brought in a verdict of "not guilty"—evidently holding that any crime committed in the name of the church was not a crime against the law, and therefore not punishable.

This action coming at a time when the religious feelings of the country are being stirred by inflammatory and injudicious speeches and sermons, is but fat on the fire. The action in itself, aside from being a rank miscarriage of justice, will be its own reward. It will do infinitely more harm to the cause of the church than a proper verdict.

No cause gains through the fanaticism of adherents, especially when it leads to excesses such as this. The jury was composed of only ordinary mechanics and workers, and their views carry no weight whatever, the verdict being simply an illustration of the effect of intent prejudice on the mind, blinding it to all sense of right and justice.

There should be one result of an action such as this, however, and that is the removal from the hands of Quebec juries all cases involving any question of religious differences, or a change of venue to some place where a fair and impartial verdict will be rendered, if such a place could be found in the province.

AN ELECTION COMING?

Are we to have a Dominion election this fall? Some of the signs seem to point that way. It will not be possible to hold the election until after the census and redistribution of the western constituencies takes place this summer, but it rests with Sir Wilfrid Laurier to say whether he prefers the spring or rushing on the elections in November.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is reported by government organs to wish an appeal to the people on the question of reciprocity. That this will be the big issue in the next Dominion election, there can be no doubt whatever. It is to be regretted that the many other issues, questions on which the people should express their utter disapproval of the Laurier administration will be relegated to the backwoods. The cost of the National Transcontinental, the bungling in the handling of the internal affairs of the country, the extravagance, and the graft and corruption that have prevailed, all call for notice by the electorate. It seems too much to expect that these will be taken seriously into account, however, with the reciprocity issue overshadowing everything else.

When a country of 8,000,000 people like Canada proposes to throw herself on the mercies of 90,000,000, who would like to gobble her up, it is time to think long and seriously. We doubt very much, regarded from purely an economic standpoint, if the free entrance of Canadian natural products into the United States will bring about the rosy results which are prophesied. Some of the early American fruits will be cheaper to the consumer, but this is what the Canadian fruit-growers say means the loss of the most profitable part of their business. The farmers of Canada will continue to find their great market at home, in spite of the allurements of a market across the border, but if they have to bear the brunt of an unexpected competition for the home market, as seems likely, reciprocity will not help the farmer, but rather the American shippers. But the economic phase of the matter, the market and price question has been well canvassed. There is the national question to be considered. Does Canada open her door only to find that the wedge is driven into Confederation, a wedge that will ultimately tie her to the financial and commercial chariot of the United States? There is danger to Canada in the reciprocal trade relations. It is putting Canada into the maws of the American food trusts, and possibly the manufacturing trusts, because if they can control the markets of 90,000,000 people, the addition of 8,000,000 will be nothing more than a delectable morsel to swallow.

This question will be debated most thoroughly during the next campaign. The people of Canada will be asked to express an opinion as to Canada retaining her national entity separate and distinct from the United States, or of fusing and amalgamating her commercial life, and in the years to come, her political life, with the United States.

The fate of the reciprocity bill at Washington will determine much as to the date of the Dominion election. Canada is to take no action, apparently, pending the finish of the fight in the American houses. Politically, all roads lead to Washington for the next few weeks.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The fashions say that ladies' waists will button down the front this summer. That ought to give some hubbies a chance for a vacation.

Theodore Roosevelt, he of big stick fame, intends to spend the summer in Scandinavia and Iceland. This summer will be a rather cooler one for Theodore than last summer, at this rate.

It is reported that a movement is on foot in Montreal to give A. J. Lemieux, the man recently acquitted in the Emancipation lodge case, a purse of gold, and to hold a celebration.

The Brantford City Council has made the tax rate 23 1-2 mills. Peterborough is managing to get along on 22 mills. Kingston this year had advanced its rate to 22 mills. The cost of municipal management, with heavy demands for various purposes, seems to be like the cost of living—going up, going up.

The death of Bishop DuMoulin at Hamilton brings to a close a career of great brilliancy and worth. Bishop DuMoulin was one of the foremost preachers of the Anglican Church in Canada; a most gifted speaker, who did not hesitate to condemn the evils of the day in language that left nothing to be misunderstood. His death removes a great power in the church for good.

The Georges of the city are now invited to hunt their pockets for a contribution toward the coronation gift to the King. It seems hardly necessary to say that the King and the Queen never accept gifts of money, but some suitable remembrance from their many loyal Georges and Marys ought to be doubly welcome. The lists will be found in the banks, in shops in various wards, the Y.M.C.A. Let Peterborough have many names to her credit.

We would call the attention of the merchants of Peterborough to the suggestion on the front page with regard to the holding of an shopping-week in Peterborough. This city has some live and enterprising merchants, and it has a fine surrounding country on which to draw for visitors for such a week. There does not seem to be any real obstacle in the way of the accomplishment of such a movement, and if successful it could be made an annual affair. The board of trade, and the retail merchants' association should both be interested in a project like this.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"I have no knowledge of machinery," said O'Grady. "But the existence here of so common a contrivance does not at all prove the absence of Mr. Wylie, and Mr. Wylie is accounted for by no personality except your own, sir. The Slattery institute loses no patients. You are Mr. Wylie or Mr. Wylie is lost; hence, sir, you are Mr. Wylie."

Mr. Evans ushered young Mr. Carson into room 34 as if conferring a great favor in thus naming him Wylie and arresting him instanter under the new cognomen.

"I am not Mr. Wylie," reiterated Carson. "I am Theodore Carson, as I said, and I"—

"This matter of names is so complicated," quavered Mr. Evans, pushing up his cuffs as if about to attempt some feat of physical prowess. "No man drawin' my pay c'n be expected to work it out. I git awful small wages, Mr. Wylie. My duties is simple. You git your tonic an' treatments reg'lar an' keep hours. A whole lot of gentlemen comes here under special names."

Mr. Craighead rapped and entered.

"I quite agree with the remarks of my querulous friend, Mr. Evans," said Mr. Craighead. "Your position, Mr. Carson, is an equivocal one. The question is, what's your field?"

"It is aeronautics," replied Theodore. "I have devised the first effective aeronef. I"—

"Very interesting," returned Craighead. "I have made that a specialty. I know the defects of the present day aeronefs, and I understand the failure of the gas supported aerostats, except as toys for us parasitic capitalists. But to the point in controversy. Are you the Fulton of the empyrean or the Edison of the hot air? Mr. Evans' porcine tonality has expressed the only conclusion open to him—to accept the Wylie theory as a working hypothesis and to work it at the regular per diem. Dost foller me?"

"I suppose that this Wylie must turn up sooner or later," mused Theodore. "But why should I take treatment? What do they do to you?" persisted Theodore.

"They give you dope; they feed you for a few days on bran mash; they shoot you twice a day; they give you a little bottle to assuage what they call your thirst the first night or so, though why they call that a thirst which is only a cerebrospinal tendency entirely unconnected with irrigation deponeth saith not. Let's to breakfast."

Breakfast! Here was something to be "understanded of the people." Carson was famishing. And before he returned to his room he learned that he was an inmate of the Slattery Institute For Drunkards.

CHAPTER VI.

THE MYSTERY OF THE EMPORIUM.

YOUNG Mr. Carson, detained at the Slattery institute to balance the books on account of the evanishment of Mr. Wylie, thought often of Shayne's charming niece, but, manlike, gave scarcely a thought of the situation on board the Roc as she bore northward in the night sky after dropping him as a hawk might let fall a too belligerent weasel.

The warfare and insurrection which he left behind would have interested him had he known. Mr. Silberberg, hurt in amour propre as well as proboscis, was deeply disturbed in his sultanic regard for Virginia. He was too angry to follow her to the deck as she swept out of the cabin to take leave of her bandit of the dunes. For some minutes the girl lay, half fainting, wholly terrified, by the rail, where she had fallen as Theodore dropped over the side into the cloud and the night.

"Where is Virginia?" queried Aunt Marie at last. "Has she eloped with that creature? Look for her! She's my niece, after all!"

Mr. Shayne called Mrs. Shayne's maid and gave orders that Virginia be sought on deck. The maid looked about hastily and, failing to observe the little heap in which Virginia sat huddled up by the rail, ran in agitatedly and said that Miss Suarez was not on deck "in the least."

"I told you!" gasped Mrs. Shayne. "She's thrown herself away!"

Silberberg walked glumly in from the cabin.

"This assassin," said he, "must be aft with the crew. There's only one place where Miss Suarez can be."

Shayne ran aft and astonished the crew by bursting into their midst and staring wildly about, as if demented.

"What is it, sir?" Willett asked calmly.

"Where is Miss Suarez?" panted Mr. Shayne.

"I don't know, sir."

"Where's that fellow we picked up?"

"I don't know," responded Willett.

"They're gone!" Shayne exclaimed, rushing into the cabin. "Max, they've gone over the side!"

"That parachute," said Max, "could not save two from death, even if they made a good drop. And in this darkness"—

Virginia, having recovered her self possession and the control of her knees, rose and, entering her cabin, threw herself on her bed. She felt a horror of Silberberg, a sense of disgust with the Shaynes. To think that they could so insult this young man who had saved her life and treated her so beautifully, no matter what he was—to offer him money, to send him aft like a servant! No wonder he had struck Silberberg's odious nose. Later she rose, preened like a bird before the mirror and sat down to think. The voices of her uncle and aunt and Mr. Silberberg came to her ears from the main salon. Opening her window for air, she noted that the roar of the wind from the earth had ceased and knew that they had reached the calm area of which Willett had spoken, in the middle of the "low." They would probably have an easy landing in Chicago. And then?

One thing was certain—she would not live longer with the Shaynes. They were too sordid, too hard, too cruel. And she would—not—stay—with—them—any longer!

Oh, if she only had just one relative in the world save Aunt Marie!

Stay! The thought struck her of her mother's father's people, somewhere in the south. Her mother had been disowned by her family for a perversely contracted marriage, but they were southerners, and they would not see an orphan girl of their kin go homeless. She would leave Aunt Marie a note of thanks for all her many kindnesses, take her really, truly own belongings and fly south. So there!

So resolving, she became quite calm and walked into the main salon in a very matter of fact way. Aunt Marie gave a shrill scream and fainted. Silberberg said that he would be—tormented. Mr. Shayne stared blankly.

"Well," said Virginia, "do you think I am a ghost?"

"Oh, child," gasped Aunt Marie, "where have you been with him?"

Virginia stood still, her eyes ablaze, her cheeks burning. The Roc was coming into the Chicago garage on the roof of the Aerostatic Power building in a most beautiful landing, but none of the party knew it. Silberberg was gazing at the enraged Virginia in unbounded admiration. Her splendid anger had won him back. Shayne spoke in foolish agreement with his wife, half believing for the moment that there was something questionable in Virginia's absence.

"With a beggar!" said he.

"A bandit," said Aunt Marie, "an assassin!"

"A beggar!" repeated Virginia in lofty scorn. "Why, even if he were one, in rags and a hovel, he'd be worth a million like you! An assassin, a bandit! And, if he is, what are you? You rob by syndicate, assassinate by general managers and superintendents and make beggars by votes of shares! I loathe you, and I I— I admire him as much as I loathe you. As between bandits like you and bandits like him give me the brave man rather than the coward!"

Willett interrupted the scene by announcing their successful landing. They passed constrainedly into the tower and went down to the street and to Shayne's Chicago hotel in a motor-car, all in silence.

In the morning a letter was taken to the Shayne apartments. It was a short, tear stained missive of gratitude, penitence and farewell from Virginia to her aunt. It ran:

You have been as kind to me as any woman can be to a person she cannot love. You have never loved me, Aunt Marie, and you will never see me again. I blush to be obliged by your unjust suspicions to say one thing more. I am not going to any one. You have misjudged me terribly. I don't even know where he is. I shall never know!

* * * * * * *

Craighead and Carson walked through a stately peristyle to a low building called the laboratory, but termed by the patients the "shot tower." Theodore was astonished at the throng assembled for the "shot" treatment, of which he had as yet no conception—men of all sorts anxiously watching the clock like schoolboys fearful of being tardy. They formed in two columns, resting on two aisles, across the farther ends of which stood two desks exactly alike. All slung their coats over their right arms, disclosing slits in their shirts at the left shoulder.

Craighead, with Carson following, sent back ripples of disorder along the line by offering bets as to whether Carson was himself or Wylie. Two young men easily classified as new hatched physicians stationed themselves like sentinels at the desks. The clock struck. There was a jostling at the rear caused by late comers, at which the serious young doctors frowned fiercely. The lines moved forward, and the men as they passed the physicians seemed to undergo some sort of operation performed by means of glittering instruments, of which Theodore caught glimpses like lightning playing about those slitted shirt sleeves.

"I ADMIRE HIM AS MUCH AS I LOATHE YOU."

Theodore found himself in the human current and drifted with it. On closer view he saw that the doctors pricked the patients with little glittering weapons, but he reasoned that it could be nothing very severe.

Craighead passed on, and Carson took his place. The doctor looked searchingly in his face, seemed puzzled and reached to another region of the tray for a syringe.

"You should have rolled up your sleeve or cut it," said he sternly. "Roll it up."

If racing comes to an end in New York State it is estimated that the eleven million dollars worth of idle racing property will be thrown upon the market.

THE NEW SENATOR.

He Found Fashionable Washington Life Too Rich For His Blood.

A newly elected senator came on early to Washington to arrange for rooms and had an object lesson furnished him on "the high cost of living." He wanted to start in "with the swim" and be at the center of things, so he priced the "focusal" hotel.

"We make it $650 per month, two rooms and bath, to you, senator—without meals," said the clerk dreamily. When the senator caught his breath he was two blocks up the avenue.

He tried another hotel, a moderately exclusive house, whose lobbies were a sort of eddying pool of statesmen and "influential" lobbyists. To him the attendant flamen of this gilded shrine remarked: "Now, we have a choice of two rooms with bath at $350 per month"—

"Without eating—just for a sleeping place!" broke in the senator. "Why, I'd burn up with fever if I had to sleep at that price!"

The salary of a senator is $7,500, and it is figured on the high level of "simple" living in Washington that he ought to part with that much for assured rest at a good hotel. But the new senator didn't feel that way about it. Finally it was suggested that he might take a room at the simple hotel of the old days, at $1 per twenty-four hours, and save money, using the parcel room for baggage when away over Sunday. Then he could take a peep at Peacock alley and meet friends in the "lobby" which the more wealthy statesmen and tourists support.—Joe Mitchell Chapple in National Magazine.

Miners Are Determined.

Fernie, B.C., March 31.—The mass meeting of miners held at Michel took the same decided stand against continuing work after the termination of the present agreement, which expires to-day, as did the Fernie and Hosmer locals.

The hall at Michel was crowded to overflowing yesterday afternoon, and there were no dissenting voices to stand behind the action of the district officers in their efforts to arrange a new agreement with the operators at the Calgary convention. Three thousand men have now declared in favor of their officers, and there is scarcely a doubt about the remainder of the local unions taking the same action.

Drastic Proposals.

Halifax, March 31.—Dr. Wendall (Liberal) often takes the House of Assembly by surprise with more or less drastic resolutions. Yesterday he gave notice that he would move for a redistribution of representatives in the House, so that industrial centres may have a greater representation at the expense of the rural communities. Coupled with this was a clause calling for the abolition of the legislative council, if necessary, by pension of the members, which, he said, would be the cheapest and only way of getting clear of that body.

Insurgents Dominate Scutari.

Rome, March 31.—A special despatch from Constantinople to The Tribuna says that the insurgents now occupy all positions dominating Scutari, which is practically in the hands of the rebels. The latter are in great force, are well armed, well directed and determined by five battalions of Redifs. The first proves the Turkish forces, whose condition is desperate unless reinforcements arrive soon.

H. Capewell Wants $200.

Ottawa, March 31.—H. Capewell of Toronto has put in a claim for $200 damages against the city of Ottawa.

The visitor sustained a fracture of the arm while crossing Sappers' bridge, and holds the city responsible for allowing ice to accumulate.

Miners' Strike Collapsing.

Wheeling, W. Va., March 31.—It is reported that the miners' strike, affecting 10,000 men in this district and throughout eastern Ohio, is collapsing.

Lighting a Tunnel.

An ingenious way of illuminating a tunnel has been devised by a Parisian inventor. Reflectors throw the light from many electric lamps sixteen feet above the rails to the sides of the tunnel, where it is again reflected by burnished tin, giving a soft and agreeable light. The trains automatically turn the current on and off when entering and leaving the tunnel.

Prof. Dyde Banqueted.

Kingston, March 31.—At Grant Hall last night, university men and prominent citizens numbering two hundred, tendered a farewell banquet to Rev. Dr. Dyde of Queen's, who has been appointed principal of the Presbyterian Theological College at Strathcona, Alta. W. F. Nickle, M.P.P., was chairman, and Prof. Dyde's old teacher, Prof. John Watson, proposed the toast to "Our Guest."

Dr. Dyde was presented with a handsome cabinet of silver and an address, which was read by J. G. Elliott. Following the presentation, which was made by D. G. Laidlaw, addresses were delivered by Mayor Graham, Dr. E. Ryan, vice-president of the Board of Trade; W. J. Renton, chairman of the school board; Principal Gordon, Rev. Dr. MacGillivray and J. B. Walkem. Prof. Dyde's mother, who is over 80 years of age, was present at the banquet. Prof. Dyde leaves next month to take up his new work.

CONCERNING INSURANCE

To the Editor of Saturday Night.

Dear Sir,—We have placed a lot of our insurance with companies in the United States and Europe, on a contract guaranteed by a Montreal brokerage company. Some Canadian agents and inspectors say this is no good. What is your opinion?

Manufacturer.

It is quite impossible for us to give an opinion of the insurance without a list of the companies. The guarantee, as you probably know, is practically valueless; in fact, it is a question if it is not illegal, being a class of fire insurance conducted without a license. The "guaranteed contract" is only one of the thousand fakes being offered the insuring public, whose ignorance and gullibility in insurance is almost equalled by the same in regards to mining. Anything in the bargain line goes.

Contracts of insurance made with companies not licensed are not enforceable in Ontario. The public here have nothing regarding these companies but the word of the interested broker, who receives his commission on the premiums placed through him. The expense of collection in foreign countries and the delay which resulted in making collections under some policies issued by these foreign insurers are such as would result in ruin to a large manufacturer. In one case, where the loss occurred nearly a year ago, it has been found impossible to get even a reply, and the amount being small, it will not pay to sue.

In the insurance business, as in every other business, if you deal with reliable, established houses, you get what you pay for.

The object of Saturday Night in this department will be to advise, so that you shall get insurance worth one hundred cents on the dollar. There is no other insurance that eventually insures.

Would Life be Worth Living

IF YOUR SIGHT WAS GONE?

I come to you with a few words about eye-sight. I have been helping people SEE BETTER for many years, and I am sure many have held me in grateful remembrance for it. I have fitted thousands in this city of Peterborough and surrounding country, who are comfortably wearing the glasses that I fitted them with. I meet them every day wherever I go. I want to help more; I want to help you. You need help for your eyes if you don't see well, or if you have eye-strain. I make no charge for examination. If you come to me you can come with the full assurance that you will be told whether glasses are needed or not. We are not in business simply to SELL GLASSES. The retention of your patronage and of your commendation are far more valuable to us. Our qualifications for eye-sight testing are of the highest standard, and our method of testing is most up-to-date. Our instruments include the Retinoscope, Ophthalometer and "Phoroptometer," this last instrument being the only one of its kind in Peterborough.

SHORT MEETING OF THE FINANCE COMMITTEE

$25 Granted to National Sanatarium Association

The Finance Committee met yesterday afternoon at five o'clock with the following present:—Mayor Morrow, Ald. Anderson (chairman), Ald. Metheral, Ald. Duncan.

There were very few communications, the most important being one from the National Sanitarium Association asking for a contribution.

The usual grant of $25 was given to them.

A large number of accounts were presented, nearly all certified to by the chairman of the Property Committee.

A bill which was presented by Dr. Amys for the examination of the sanity of Mrs. Oliver, was disputed. It was claimed that she lived out of the city, and it was therefore referred to the city solicitor.

Shadow of the Cross

Large crowds still contnue to viisit the most wonderful of all paintings, "The Shadow of the Cross," on exhibition at the Y.M.C.A. Question, comment and conjecture as to its strange weird significance is unanimous. What is its origin, to what natural laws can this strange manifestation of light giving properties be attributed to? To those who have not seen it a visit will awaken a mysticle interest, irrespective of its universal admitted value as a most beautiful ideal of The Christ.

MONEY STOLEN FROM SATCHEL HIDDEN IN BABY'S CLOTHES

Six Months Sentence Meted Out to Father of Child

GOES TO CENTRAL

$23 Taken From Waiting Room at G. T. R. Station

Bert and Laura Sells who make their living by practicing pa'mistry, were found guilty of stealing $23 from a Campbellford lady who, under the circumstances, wishes her name to be withheld, at the G.T.R. station yesterday at 1.40, just prior to the departure of the Belleville train.

While the husband did not actually take the money yet he allowed his wife to do so, and the Magistrate in sentencing them said that he must take the blame and ordered him to be confined at Central Prison for a period of six months. The wife, with an infant child, was discharged.

The trio all occupied the prisoner's box, and the child evidently realized the undesirable environment in which it was placed, by the constant cries it kept up, and which threatened to interfere with the order of the court.

Both prisoners elected to be tried summarily, and pleaded not guilty.

MISSED HER SATCHEL.

The complainant was the first witness. She said that she was at the Grand Trunk station yesterday with the intention of leaving for her home at Campbellford.

After entering her train she discovered that she had left her satchel and purse on the window sill of the ladies' waiting room and immediately went back after it. She rushed out of the train and back to the waiting room and found the satchel in the same place, but on hastily opening it found it to be empty and the purse which was in it also gone.

The prisoners, whom she identified as being the same as had sat to her right on the same seat in the waiting-room, were with three other parties in the room before the train pulled in. The latter three, however, were gone when she came back for her purse and only the prisoners were to be seen.

DENIED TAKING MONEY.

She found the woman in the toilet room, and asked her if she had seen any money. The woman replied "No. I have trouble enough of my own without taking money," and commenced to cry. She then asked the husband, who also replied, "No, lady."

When witness found that she could not find her money she went into the ticket office and had the operator telephone for the police and P. C. Meharry was soon on the spot and made a hasty search of the man, whom witness suspected of having the money.

CONDUCTOR'S EVIDENCE.

Conductor Adams, of the Belleville train, was the next witness. He was in the ticket office at the time and had seen the female prisoner leave the window where the purse and satchel were supposed to have been and go in the direction of the toilet room. The complainant soon after came into the office and asked him if he would hold the train until she found her money and he said he would. When the police officer appeared after being phoned for, Conductor Adams boarded his train which was about to leave, being then four minutes late.

While on the train he saw the male prisoner standing on the platform and who, the minute he saw the policeman, stepped out of sight behind a ledge, and while holding the baby in one arm, with the other hand place something on the brickwork ledge of the wall. Witness immediately got off the train and came back to the spot expecting to find the purse, but found only some money in bills squeezed up and lying on the place previously mentioned. He called Meharry's attention to it and then went on to the train again.

After the trio had been brought to the police station by P. C. Meharry, they were searched, the man by Chief Thompson and the woman by another lady.

There was nothing found on the male prisoner. The woman also had none of the amount said to have been stolen.

A NEW ONE.

In the baby's clothes, however, was found one five dollar bill and two $2 bills. Each of the prisoners accused the other of having placed the money there.

In a purse which the male prisoner had, was found some silver, which he afterwards admitted was part of the money in silver, which was taken from the purse out of the satchel belonging to the complainant.

He also admitted putting the money on the ledge "to save his wife," as he remarked. Altogether $18.35 was found on the man and his wife.

The male prisoner formerly lived in Peterborough and was a laborer. His wife is a palmist. They have been married three years. Her people live near Detroit, to whom she intends to return.

When the sentence was pronounced upon her husband the wife broke down and her pleadings could be heard all over the court. The baby also added it series vigorously and the scene was pathetic in the extreme.

PLUCKY TRIO RACED A TRAIN

A Woman and Two Men Had a Run for Their Money

While pUctuality is a desirable feature in train service, still a woman and a couple of men perhaps did not quite appreciate the fact one day this week. While they were in the Snowden Hotel bus on Charlotte Street, proceeding in the direction of the G. T.R. station they saw their train, on which they expected to leave the city just pulling out. The driver hustled his horses and the trio determined to to get the train at any costs, jumped out and commenced to run after it.

The conductor and a couple of brakesmen saw them, but by taking out their watches and putting them back intimated to the hurrying would be passengers, that it would be impossible for them to stop as they were leaving on time.

The three however, kept right on and were finally close enough to board the train. The woman was pretty nearly all in by this time, and had to be helped up being in an exhausted condition.

The will of the late Sir Chas. Dilke disposes of $650,000, and hopes his heirs will be as generous to charities as he was in his lifetime. Rare MSS. of the poet Keats are included in the estate.

Why it Will Pay You to Buy Invictus Shoes

You'll know the difference between good and bad leather only after you've worn it.

It's then that the inferior leather shows its defects, both in looks and wearing qualities.

When you buy a pair of shoes you are at the mercy of the maker.

If he puts inferior leather into them he's going to lose your future trade.

But if he uses good, high grade, selected leather, it means that your purchases won't stop with the one pair—you'll become a permanent buyer.

Men who buy one pair of Invictus Shoes keep on using them from year to year.

Because Invictus Shoes are made of the best selected leathers, by skilled workmen, on modern machinery, over stylish, up-to-date lasts.

They're made with the object of giving the maximum of wear, style and comfort that any shoes can give.

MULLIN DOESN'T BELIEVE BIG LEAGUERS CAN PLACE BALL

Rube Marquard May Land With the Newark Indians

Pitcher George Mullin, crack pitcher of the Detroit Tigers, does not believe that there is a batsman in the big league to-day who can place a ball where he wants it.

"There are a number of players who claim they can place a ball, but there was only one that I ever thought could do it," said Mullin. "That was Willie Keeler, of Torontos. I think he was one of the greatest hitters the game ever produced. He seemed to know exactly where every ball he hit was going to land. I saw him bunt perfectly with two or three on in the ninth inning. No batsman would have attempted to do a thing like that unless he had perfect confidence in his ability to lay the ball down just where he wanted it. Keeler rolled the ball between the pitcher's box and third base so accurately that the man on the base scored easily."

"Rube" Marquard, the $11,000 lemon of the New York Giants, may replace "Iron Man" Joe McGinnity with the Newark team. McGinnity, out of commission for a couple of months and perhaps longer, as a pitcher, realizes that he must have a first class man to take his place on the Newark twirling staff, and he looks to John McGraw of the Giants to help him out by turning over the famous Marquard.

"Ty" Cobb is missing from the Detroit American team. He has gone to French Lick Springs, Ind., for medical treatment, having failed to respond to the treatment given by Trainer Tuthill.

The trainer thinks Cobb's health was broken by too strenuous efforts to get into condition after joining the squad two weeks ago.

ORGANIZATION OF FIVE-TEAM MIDLAND BASEBALL LEAGUE

Local Promoters on the Hunt for Clubs to Take a Hand

Representatives of the T.A.S. Athletic are endeavoring to bring about the re-organization of the Midland League, which would be composed of teams from Port Hope, Trenton, Belleville, Peterboro and Lindsay.

J. J. Dorris was in Belleville recently and met some of the moguls of that place, but they were inclined to sidetrack the proposition as their city League, which has been very successful would suffer. The best players would naturally be picked from the league and compose the Midland League team. Officials of Lindsay have also been approached, and are somewhat in favor of the scheme.

At this end of the deal there would be no difficulty in getting together a strong nine, and if the organization with a good solid set of rules, local faces would patronize the games.

Its a case of starting all over again with this league. And the promoters should look over all the ground carefully. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure and thus this maxim may well be taken into consideration.

HEXATHLON EVENT WINNERS

Y.M.C.A. Juniors Put up Some New Records

The Junior Hexathlon was run off last night at the Y.M.C.A. A most creditable showing was made by the juniors. In the 50 yard potato race, R. Laing and H. Hill are tied for first place. Many other ties occurred which will be run off later. Among the record smashers were;—C. Bartlett's high jump of 4 ft. 9 in.; S. Cresswell's standing broad jump of 8 ft. 5 in.; H. Hill's shot put of 38 ft. 2 in.; and R. Howden's fence vault of 5 ft. 7 3-4 in.

The first, second and third of each event will be sent to the International Committee and the Y.M.C.A. scoring the most points will receive a handsome shield.

Following is the standing:

60 Yard Potato Race—
R. Laing, 15.1 seconds.
H. Hill, 15.1.
A. Darling, 15.3.
R. Howden, 15.4

High Jump—

LAWN BOWLS

(Millbrook Mirror.)

A meeting of the Bowling Club was held in the town hall on Tuesday, with Mr. John Deyell in the chair. Millbrook Club decided to join the Northern League, to consist of Port Perry, Lindsay, Peterborough and Millbrook.

The Front or Southern League will be composed of Bowmanville, Oshawa, Port Hope and Cobourg. There may be other clubs enter from the north and south.

Messrs. J. Dawson and Walter M. Gillott were appointed delegates to attend the district meeting in Peterborough.

Other business of interest to the members was transacted.

Millbrook club ought to make a good showing in the series of games to be played and the Mirror wishes them success. Last season Millbrook had a club membership of nearly 75. It will reach 100 this season as there are many more anxious to get into this interesting and healthful game.

BASEBALL

No play in baseball is made a mess of more than what is known as the "hit and run." The originator of this system of this system of play had in mind an action which would ordinarily assure the runner from advancing, and at the same time increase the chances of the batsman of getting the ball into safe territory. It was played with this in view by the old Baltimore team but nowadays the only time it is successful is when the batsman makes a clean base hit.

When playing the hit and run the batsman is not supposed to swing hard to the ball. He should shove it through the place which either one of the infields has just left in an effort to cover the bag for which the base runner has started yet nowadays one seldom sees a batsman trying to make this play, for he swings with all his might.

JOHNSON ON THE WHITEWASH GANG

Rises at 5 a. m. and Trains on Porridge.

San Francisco, March 30.—Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, this morning began his duties on the whitewash squad of Sheriff Finn's county jail at Ingleside. According to pugilistic records, the colored champion's reach is something like 72 inches. According to Sheriff Finn's figures, there are that many inches, multiplied by 35, to be done at the county jail.

Jack was aroused via the "eight-bell" system at 5 o'clock. After the scullery work in his cell, he was given a banquet consisting of porridge. Then, armed with a whitewash brush, he started in.

The only oasis in Johnson's desert of woe is probably the fact that Policeman Ceiner, who was his Nemesis in the racing game, was arrested for grafting. Ceiner is charged with letting speeders off on the presentation of a $5 note.

SPORT TALK

The C.G.E. football team will practice at the Exhibition Grounds tomorrow afternoon.

The meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Tennis Club, called for last night, had to be postponed, and it will take place next Tuesday evening before the banquet of the City Tennis Association.

Harry Wieler, who comes from Oshawa to reside here, will make a valuable addition to the junior hockey team next year, he having played wing on the Oshawa team this season. Harry is also a baseball player and will no doubt be secured by some town league team if such a league is organized this summer.—Lindsay Warder.

Marmora hockey team has won the Trent Valley League for the past two years, and last week the members were presented with beautiful gold watches engraved with their monogram; the gift of Marmora citizens. Manager Wiggins also presented each one with a neat watch fob and gold clasp and medal as a personal gift, and he in turn, was presented with a gold locket beautifully engraved. This reminds one of the handsome presents received by the members of the Havelock Football Club in 1909, when they won the championship of Peterboro County, the Midland League and the Provincial honors — Havelock Standard.

THE PSALM OF THE SUFFRAGETTE.

Show me not with scornful numbers
You've too many voters now.
Woman, wakened from her slumbers,
Wants the ballot anyhow.

Life with Bill or life with Ernest
Is no more our destined goal.
Man thou art, to man thou turnest,
But we, too, demand the poll.

Not enjoyment, naught but sorrow,
Is the legislator's way,
For we'll get to him tomorrow
If he should escape today.

Art's expensive; styles are fleeting.
Let our lace edged banners wave,
Thus inscribed, o'er every meeting,
"Give us suffrage or the grave!"

Heroines, prepare for battle!
Lend your efforts to the strife!
Drive all husbands forth like cattle!
Be a woman, not a wife!

Trust no man, however pleasant.
He'll agree to all you say.
Send you candy as a present—
Go and vote the other way.

Wives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime
And, preceding, leave behind us
All the rest at dinner time.

Let us then be up and doing,
Don the trousers and the coat,
For our candidate pursuing
The elusive, nimble vote.
—Smart Set.

It Often Happens.

When Alfred Pool first went to school
He stood no chance whatever,
But he grew up and "played the fool,"
And people called him clever.

What She Could Do.

A correspondent recalls a pointed but discourteous and yet not wholly undeserved interjection made at a local political meeting.

A lady, whose husband had temporarily lost his voice, loyally appeared to make a speech on his behalf. She said a good deal at the outset about the state of his larynx and then plunged into politics. Having speedily exhausted that theme, she returned to her husband's health and described not only his disappointment at being unable to address them, but her own efforts to patch him up for the fray. She had tried hot fomentations, she had tried poultices, she had made him gargle his throat, she had steamed his throat for him, she had sprayed his throat and made him try every kind of lozenge. Was there anything else she could do for his throat? And a voice said, "Aye, mem, cut it."—Tit-Bits.

China Playing For Time.

St. Petersburg, March 31.—The Novoe Vremya and Retch yesterday editorially call attention to the provocative attitude of the German press, which is urging China to resist the Russian demands in Mongolia.

The opinion is widely entertained here that China's reply to the Russian ultimatum was merely intended to gain time until she is ready for hostilities.

Scepticism as to the finality of the Russo-Chinese settlement is growing, and the newspapers are full of reports of Chinese military preparations.

Expulsion of Chinese.

St. Petersburg, March 31.—An official telegram received by the Foreign Office from Harbin yesterday explains that Wednesday night's rumor of a Chinese attack upon Blagovieshtchensk, the capital of the Amur province, arose from the expulsion from the Russian bank of the Amur river of many Chinese, who had fled thither from plague centres.

They are now returning in a starving condition, and frequently attack Russian travelers.

Alaska Railway Completed.

Cordova, Alaska, March 31.—The last spike completing the Copper River & Northwestern Railway, between Cordova, on tidewater, and Kennecott, where the Bonanza Copper mountain is situated, was driven yesterday. Trains will be in operation over the entire line within two days.

Work on the railroad, which is 197 miles long, and cost $20,000,000, was begun Nov. 15, 1907. The railroad is owned by the Guggenheim-Morgan syndicate, which also owns the Alaska Steamship Co. and copper mines.

Construction of the road was one of the most remarkable engineering feats of modern times.

Fire Awakened Children.

Montreal, March 31.—Twenty-two people were driven out of their homes by fire early yesterday morning and Ernest, aged five, and Florette, aged four, children of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lacoste, were seriously affected by the smoke. The bed on which the children slept was burned.

Little Florette awoke first, as she slept near the wall, and the flames, by eating through the wall, scorched her hand. Her screams brought the parents from the front of the house. The interior of the room was [illegible] flames.

Big Bark Was Abandoned.

London, March 31.—A shipping report from Lisbon states that the captain and crew of the four-masted steel bark Buteshire, which was abandoned in the Bay of Biscay, were landed there yesterday.

Meanwhile the Buteshire was sighted on Wednesday with sails set, but pilotless, careering Englandwards, 70 miles [illegible] of the Scilly Islands. Later, she was taken in tow by the steamer Raphael, which, however, was obliged to cast off the bark 45 miles off the Lizard.

Dead Now 144.

New York, March 31.—The death yesterday of Sarah Kupla, a sixteen-year-old girl, who jumped from the eighth floor during Saturday's fire horror, brought the list of victims up to 144. The girl's back was broken, and she had been, unconscious ever since the fatal leap.

The identification of another girl's body, by a strange arrangement of buttons on her shoe, brought the list of unnamed down to 12. There seems little chance of further identification, and the charities' board has made arrangements to bury them in the cemetery of Evergreens in a plot donated by the city.

Fire Marshal Beers, who is conducting an investigation into the disaster, besides visiting the Asch building yesterday, further examined survivors.

Contributions to the relief fund yesterday totaled more than $58,000.

An English syndicate will erect a 16-storey building on Main street, Winnipeg.

STORMY AND CHANGEABLE WEATHER FOR NEXT MONTH

BY HICKS

A reactionary storm period is in progress as we pass from March into April. Storms of rain, wind and thunder will culminate on and touching Sunday the 2nd, winding up with possible snow in the northern extremes. Rising barometer, fair weather and frosty nights will visit most parts of the country between the 2nd and 4th. A seismic period which is central on March 30th, will reach three or four days later in April.

A regular storm period covers the 4th to the 8th, having its centre on the 6th Falling barometer, change to much warmer, with growing cloudiness and storms will begin in the west by the 4th and 5th. During the 6th to 8th, storms of rain, wind and thunder will make their transit from west to east, touching most parts of the country. These storms will be in the form of heavy April showers breaking into severe thunder squalls and hail storms in many localities. Fair weather and cool nights with possible frosts northward, will follow these storms.

A reactionary storm period marks the closing days of earths' vernal equinoctial, central on the 11th, 12th and 13th. Low barometer and very high temperature on and touching the 11th and 12th will bring severe thunder, rain and hail to many sections. Hot, muggy conditions, with very low barometer and angry, electrical clouds, should be admonitions of tornadoes at this period. This also is a period in which seismic disturbances will be heard from, say within three days of Thursday, the 13th.

A regular storm period extends from the 16th to the 21st. We will designate the 18th, 19th and 20th as the crisis of this period. On and touching these dates, expect many active April storms and squalls, attended by hail and followed by a change to much cooler.

A reactionary storm period has its centre on the 24th and 25th. This period will, most likely, not react into high barometer and general antistorm conditions, but run into a series of daily April showers.

A regular storm period is central on the 29th, extending from the 26th to May 3rd. On the 28th, new moon or moon's conjunction with earth and sun it at total solar eclipse ode. From the date of this eclipse of the sun, the 28th, to the end of April, there is a combination of astronomical causes which is certain to excite phenomenal disturbances in the atmosphere and in the terrestial globe. From the 25th of April to the 4th of May is one of the most positive seismic periods of the year.

THE BIGGEST CRIMINAL

Remarkable Career of Felix Ogilvie in Defrauding People —Given Ten Years in Jail

London, March 30.—"I have in my time tried a good many people, but never anybody of your type," said Mr. Justice Darling at the Old Bailey yesterday in sentencing Felix Franz Alfred Ogilvie, the man who committed bigamy, drugged one of his brides and stole her valuables, and obtained money by fraud from his other "wives."

Ogilvie was sentenced to Eighteen months, with hard labor, for obtaining money by false pretences from Mr. Coleman, an accountant of York Place, Baker street west.

Eighteen months' hard labor for stealing rings and other valuables from Maud Ogilvie (Miss Jeeves).

Eighteen months' hard labor for converting to his own use money with which he was entrusted.

Eighteen months' hard labor for feloniously marrying Miss Jeeves.

Five years' penal servitude for feloniously administering a stupefying drug to Miss Jeeves.

Ten years' penal servitude for feloniously administering a stupefying drug to Miss Jeeves.

The judge stated that the sentences would run concurrently.

He told Ogilvie that he was a man very well instructed, having a good knowledge of many languages.

WELL EDUCATED.

"It is because you are so well instructed," he added, "that you have been able to swindle people in the most ingenious fashion, people of every country of which you can speak the language.

"You have pleaded guilty to certain offences, and have written in explanation of your conduct a most remarkable manifesto, which I have read nothing like except in the romances of the elder Dumas, but I am told it is perfectly true, so far as the police have been able to investigate.

"You were born in Germany, of a Scottish-Irish family; you enlisted in the Royal Artillery; and then you somehow got into the Black Watch You deserted from the Black Watch, and you enlisted in another Scottish regiment You ingeniously misconducted yourself in such a fashion that you were brought before the colonel and dismissed from the regiment with ignominy.

TOO NUMEROUS.

"You then entered on a career of crime, which never stopped until you were taken into custody on this offence. I can hardly give a catalogue of the offences in all parts of Europe and South Africa of which you confess yourself guilty—frauds of the most audacious and ingenious character, and frauds committed with an absolute disregard for the man or woman you might ruin, in order to procure yourself even one night's debauch."

Mr. Justice Darling added that he had read Ogilvie's appeal for consideration—"a most plausible one."

"But I am convinced," he added "that a man who has lived so many years in crime does not suddenly become honest, decent and respectable. There is only one way of dealing with a man like this, who has adopted crime as a profession, and that is to show him that in the long run it does not pay."

REPORT TO THE GAZETTE

Local Correspondent on the Labor Conditions About City

The following is the report for February of Arthur J. Sharp to the Labor Gazette;

GENERAL CONDITOIN OF THE LABOR MARKET.

The general conditions of the labor market remained unchanged from last month, all the large manufacturing industries being steadily employed. The outdoor, trades, owing to weather conditions, have been quiet and the supply of labor equal to the demand. Canadian General Electric Company will construct a new building for the lamp department. Work will be started as soon as weather conditions will permit. The building will be 60x 250 feet. The cost will be $2??,??. The building will be five stories high counting the basement. The company will also put up a new office building. The Murray street Baptist congregation is advertising for tenders for a new church to be built this year; the estimated cost of church, including site, is $55,900. The annual financial statement of the water commissioners showed a surplus of $2,630.13. They expended $12,565.36 on ordinary construction work, and on the construction of the new dam, pumping station and pumping machinery, $42,827.51. The water works are owned by the city. The city firemen asked for an advance of 10 cents per day and it was refused by the council The present scale is $1.37 per day. The tax rate will be the same as last year, 22 mills for Protestant and 24 for Roman Catholic supporters.

CONDITION OF LOCAL INDUSTRIES.

Agriculture.—Farmers were generally busy marketing produce, the prices for which remained high. Some inquiries were being made for farm help for the coming season. Peterborough is to be a dairy record centre. The work will be started as soon as the details can be arranged.

Manufacturing.—Activity prevailed at all the manufacturing plants, with plenty of orders ahead.

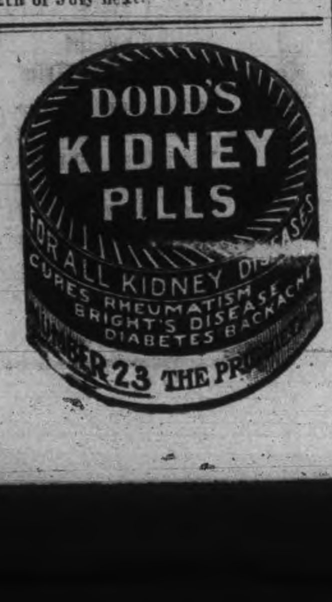
Railroad construction.—Work on the Canadian Northern Railway is being pushed as rapidly as the weather will permit.

CONDITION OF PARTICULAR TRADES.

The building trades had a quiet month. The metal and engineering trades were active. Wood workers, upholsters and varnishers were busy. All branches of the printing trades were active. Journeymen tailors and garment workers were quiet. Bakers and confectioners were busy. Butchers and meat cutters were active. Leather workers were busy. Textile workers and carpet factory workers were quiet. Broom makers were busy Railroad and street railway employes had an active month. Freight handlers, teamsters and expressmen had a busy month. Unskilled labor was quiet.

12th at Havelock

The Orangemen of East Peterborough, under the auspices of the District of Blairton and L.O.L. No. 326, Havelock, will hold a grand county demonstration in Havelock on the 12th of July next.



CENTRAL BANK TO CONTROL ALL

Morgan's Great Scheme to Concentrate Money Power

New York, March 30—Wall street and the financial districts in cities throughout the country are aroused at the report that J. Pierpont Morgan is planning the establishment of a central bank—a money power which shall control the money markets of every city in the nation.

The United States government is now considering the establishment of a Central Reserve association, which would be practically a central bank. This association is designed to remove from the money kings a heavy share of their power over the finances of the country, and to place the power in the hands of the officers of the reserve association, who will be government officers, business men and bankers.

This is Senator William Nelson Aldrich's currency reform plan—all the national banks in the country are to be members of the association—the association through its officers, not all bankers, are to regulate and control the money of the United States. But before the Government has opportunity to put its plan into effect —J. Pierpont Morgan, according to the fear will have the banks of the country so centralized that their power will be equal to that of the entire Reserve association.

P. P. Morgan and his allies now concontrol national bank trust companies and insurance companies whose total assets amount to $1,400,000,000 or 15 per cent. of the assets of all the national banks in the country. Morgan it is feared will so enlarge his power in the months to come that the Government move to keep the money power from the control of any one man or group of men will be nullified or at least periously hampered.

J. Pierpont Morgan and a syndicate including Kuhn, Loeb & Co., who are Rockefeller bankers, the National City bank, a New York institution popularly known as a Standard Oil bank, and the First National Bank of New York, also allied to those interests Friday completed purchase of control of the National Bank of Commerce of New York.

It is reported in Wall Street that Morgan's arm, extending through a [illegible] every city of the country, would in the months to come be shown in a closer co-operation of the important institutions in every money centre.

BRAVE WOMAN IS WORKING FOR HOME

Wife of Burned Man Grateful for Relief for Husband

Montreal, March 30.—Now that the recovery of her husband is made practically certain by the gallentry of a number of young men who have offered to give up portions of their skin to save his life, Mrs. William Thomas, of 216 Fifth Avenue, Viauville, once more goes to her work with a light heart in anticipation of her unfortunate husband's early return to his little home.

"Young man," she said yesterday with tears in her eyes, as she stood by the stove in a tiny kitchen, "I can't tell you how much I would like to thank those young gentlemen who have promised to help to save my husband's life."

"I had never expected to see him home again. He is not very young and he has been ill for over a year with asthma.

WAS VERY LONELY.

"It has been very lonely here for the last two months and sometimes night I have been very frightened to stay here alone. I have only been able to stand it for my husband's sake. I wanted him to be able to come back to a home of his own when he left the hospital.

"My little dog is a brave little fellow," Mrs. Thomas continued, patting the tiny little animal's white head, "but although he has a big bark he is very small. He would not be of very much protection to a person in a lonely district like this."

"Now, I am so glad to hear that there is hope of my husband's recovery, thanks to those brave young men.

"Every night after work I have been at the hospital to see him and as the weeks went by and he got no better, I began to give up hope.

"You don't know what a terrible thing a serious burn is. I wonder that William managed to live through his terrible accident.

"Tell those young men for me that I cannot say enough to express my gratitude. I only hope that I may have an opportunity of thanking them personally."

Immigration Increase

Ottawa, March 31—For the eleven months, April to February of the current year, the number of immigrants who arrived in Canada was 271,392, as compared with 175,729 during the corresponding months of the last fiscal year. The gain, therefore, is fifty-four per cent. The gain in settlers from the United States increased 24 per cent.

Germany is willing to sanction the naval "declaration of London."

CHURCH'S COLD WATER Alabastine

When you decorate your walls with Alabastine you'll agree that the soft, velvety Alabastine tints outclass wall paper and oil paint in beauty and effectiveness. Their beauty is permanent, too. Alabastine colors will not fade—will not rub off. Alabastine is a dry powder made from Alabaster rock. It mixes easily with cold water and forms a rock cement which hardens on the wall, and can be recoated without removing the old coats. Alabastine is the most durable, economical and sanitary wall coating in the world to-day. It is indorsed by leading authorities on interior decoration. 21 tints and white. Anyone can easily apply it.

CITY CAN MAKE $5,000 GRANT TO AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

Act Was Amended by Legislature, But Not to Extent Asked For.

F. J. A. Hall, secretary of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society received this morning the following communication from the Deputy Minister of Agriculture;

Toronto, March 30th, 1911.

Dear Sir,—The Agricultural Societies Act was amended by the Legislature increasing the amount that a city can grant to an agricultural society for the purchase of land from $3,000 to $5,000. Chapter 19, 1910, section 40, in the line next to the last, $3,000 was struck out and $5,000 inserted. We had considerable difficulty in getting this small change as the request did not come to us until after the statue law amendment act had passed through committee after its second reading. If we had been informed in time I have no doubt that amendments would have been introduced that would have more fully met your requirements. This is all however, that can be accomplished this year.

Yours very truly,
C. C. JAMES,
Deputy Minister.

F. J. A. HALL, Esq.,
Secretary Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, Peterborough, Ont.

It will be remembered that at a recent banquet of the local society a resolution was made to the effect that the government be asked to amend the act so that cities could give a grant of $10,000.

INCREASE IN OUTPUT OF THE PETERBORO' LOCK COMPANY

Amalgamation With Lock Works of Orillia Under Discussion

The Orillia News Letter says: Will the Lock Works leave Orillia? That is the question which will be decided within the next week or so.

A deputation from the Peterboro Lock Works, composed of Mayor Morrow, J. R. Stratton, M.P., Wm. Irwin and Manager Cayley, were in town on Monday and discussed with the National Hardware Co., directors a proposal to amalgamate the Peterboro and Orillia factories. In case of amalgamation the Orillia factory will be closed.

Last year the Peterboro company spent $30,000 in the erection of a large factory, in fact they say large enough for their own business and the Orillia combined.

It is understood that the Peterboro delegation also made an offer to purchase the stock of the Orillia Company and that the offer is a liberal one. Some action, the directors say, will be taken within a week.

It would be a matter of the keenest regret if the works were to leave Orillia. It is owned entirely by local men and is a flourishing concern. It is stated that it earned 20 per cent. last year. An industry of this kind is worth keeping. About 45 hands are employed. Industrial Orillia can hardly afford to see such a factory closed.—Orillia News Letter.

"THE BOY IN THE GODS IS FAST DISAPPEARING"---FAVERSHAM

Famous Actor Misses the Leather-Lunged Gallery Rooter, Who Was Such a Theatrical Feature

William Faversham, who will present "The Faun" at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday evening next, asks, "What has become of the American Gallery God?" "It is a matter of deep concern," says Mr. Faversham, "for the American manager to discover the whereabouts of the gallery boy, so long a feature of our playhouses Some think he has found more congenial entertainment in the moving picture houses while others are of the opinion that as a fugg-blown American citizen, he is too proud to go heavenward, with the result that if he can't sit down front, he remains at home. Anyway, the working girl—who might be called the goddess aloft—has taken his place. In almost every city, you will find ten young girls, or grown women in the gallery to one leather-lunged god of former times. The gallery boy was an institution that the theatre should not have lost. He was a delight to play to—the most appreciative auditor of the plays and players. He is still extant in London, only there he is found in the pit. It will be a lucky and wise manager who will find some way of luring him back to the American playhouse. The old gallery boy was the keenest of critics,—nature's critic,—never prejudiced. He liked or disliked as his instinct taught him. Ever a loyal friend to his favorite actor, his blunt and quaint expression,—so freely spoken,—in regard to plays and players, left no room to doubt his sincerity. I recall a stage door incident, when playing at the Lyceum Theatre, New York, some few years ago. One night, when leaving the stage door, I heard a boy say of our heavy villain: "That fat guy is a good actor. He kills two men every night.'"

ESTURION TO WORK AGAIN

Fenelon Falls Men Purchase It for Use as Excursion Boat

It is understood a number of gentlemen at Fenelon Falls have purchased steamer "Esturion," which used to ply the waters between Lindsay and Bobcaygeon, but was taken off the service soon after the branch line of the C.P.R. between the two points was operated at the wharf of Bobcaygeon for the past two years. It will be overhauled and placed in commission as an excursion boat.

No Worry for Evers

Chicago, March 31—Johnny Evers, second baseman for the Chicago Nationals, has sold his Chicago shoe store and has decided to devote all his time in the future to aiding his team to win championships. "No player can put up the article of ball that he is capable of when he has business worries on his mind," says Evers.

SOUTH ON ANNEXATION

Quite Satisfied Canada is Ready For It

Montreal, March 29—Ald. James Robinson who has just returned from a 25 days visit to the southern states to-day said:

"The south is perfectly satisfied that Canada to-day wishes to be annexed to the United States."

"For years the idea has been prevalent, but the reciprocity agreement makes them positive that we are anxious to be taken into the union. I do not speak of the unthinking classes, but rather of the leading business men. I had occasion to come home by way of Washington, where I called upon my daughters, who are at college there. One of the professors upon being introduced, at once asked me: "What about annexation of Canada to the United States?"

"I asked him if he was serious, and he replied in the affirmative, and then I made it very plain that neither he nor his descendants would ever see the Stars and Stripes floating over Canada."

Asked for his opinion, as a business man, regarding reciprocity, Mr. Robinson said:

"It is all rot. There is not a single proposition in the whole treaty that could do the Dominion as a whole, any good. It is all very well to quote Sir John A. Macdonald, 30 years ago, as being in favor of reciprocity, and then using this as an argument for the present proosition. There is not a Canadian output that has not a market without giving away anything to the United States. As far as my business is concerned, it would not be affected in the least, but I can see many instances in which it would be disastrous to the business interests of Canada."

A. J. LEMIEUX TO BE GIVEN PURSE

Montreal, Que., March 30— It was learned to-day that a movement is on foot to organize a big demonstration among the most zealous Roman Catholics of the city in honor of A.J. Lemieux, who was acquitted on Tuesday of the charge of highway robbery. Lemieux was the leader of a band of young Roman Catholics who brought publicity to bear on the famous Emancipation Lodge of French Freemasons and caused its disbandment. Lemieux and his friends, it was admitted at the trial, held up Luger Larose, secretary of the lodge and stole the list of members from him. This was published in pamphlet form, and with an alleged scandal which was raked up at the time of the Eucharistic Congress, served to discredit the lodge.

The Association de la Jeunesse Catolique Francaise, an organization of young French-Canadians, is behind the movement to accord Lemieux a popular demonstration. Their plans are being kept secret, but it is likely that a procession through the principal streets will be held on Sunday next and a purse of gold will be paid to Lemieux for his "zeal in the cause of religion." It is known that a private collection has been taken up among the members of the society for this purpose, and that a substantial sum has been secured.

None of the officials of the society would make any statement regarding the projected demonstration.

ARBITRATION TREATY BEING PREPARED AT WASHINGTON

Ambassador Bryce and Secretary of State Knox Getting One Ready.

Washington, April 1.—Hon. James Bryce, the British ambassador at Washington, yesterday held a lengthy conference with Secretary of State Knox in regard to the proposed comprehensive treaty between the United States and Great Britain. It is said in official quarters that no hitch has yet been encountered in the negotiations, but on the other hand reasonable progress is being made in the preliminary discussions.

The administration will endeavor to have the treaty in completed form for the Senate before adjournment of the approaching extra session.

As far as the negotiations have proceeded it has developed that the treaty will provide for arbitration for practically all disputes that may arise, including matters relating to questions of honor. It will not provide the machinery for the arbitration of each separate controversy. This will be arranged by special agreements under the treaty in each instance.

It can be stated with authority that the question of alliance between Great Britain and Japan causing any obstacles to the success of the treaty has never been mentioned in the conferences between Secretary Knox and Ambassador Bryce. Reports that this alliance has halted the negotiations were denied yesterday by the negotiators.

An Extensive Propaganda.

New York, April 1.—A meeting which its sponsors hope will result in the inauguration of a nation-wide movement to arouse public sentiment in favor of the proposed arbitartion between this country and Great Britain, was held last night at the New York Press Club. It was attended by the representatives of peace societies, commercial, religious and other interests. Resolutions approving Taft's peace plan and providing for the appointment of a committee of 300 to further the movement.

The resolutions as adopted provide for a request to the mayor of every city and the sheriff of every county in the country to call public meetings for the passage of resolutions supporting the arbitration plan. These resolutions are to be forwarded to U. S. Senators and Congressmen.

It is intended to fix a date for the public meetings proposed identical with one selected by the leaders of the peace movement in England, so that the meetings in advocacy of Anglo-American treaty here and in Great Britain shall be held simultaneously.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW.

GERMAN LEGISLATORS FAVOR LIMITATION OF ARMAMENTS

They Think the Building Pace is too Fast—Resolution Passed on the Subject—Chancellor Condemned.

Berlin, April 1.—The Reichstag has adopted a resolution to request the chancellor to declare his willingness to enter mutual negotiations with the other great powers as soon as propositions concerning a simultaneous and equal limitation of armaments are made by any one power."

This resolution received the support of the Socialists and Radicals, a majority of the members of the Centre party and a portion of the Imperialistic and Conservative parties.

The Reichstag also adopted a resolution calling on the Government to make treaties of arbitration with other nations modelled on the lines of the Anglo-German treaty.

The Liberal press expresses in the decided disappointment at Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg's speech in the Reichstag on Thursday, declaring that a conference on limitation of armaments would be fruitless. The Tageblatt regrets the chancellor's blunt tone in response to the speech of the British Foreign Secretary, Sir Edward Grey, but thinks this is due to his lack of diplomatic skill rather than to conscious opposition. Referring to the Anglo-American arbitration project, the same newspaper says that it is not too late for Germany to [illegible] the third member of the Anglo-[illegible] league.

The Frankfurter Zeitung also [illegible] Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg's address, saying that it presents an unfavorable contrast with Sir Edward Grey's utterances. It says the speech will be used abroad to throw doubt on Germany's love for peace, and to make it appear that Germany is the one power offering the stoutest resistance to the peace idea. The newspaper adds, however, that the time will come when the German Government cannot resist its force.

GENERAL SIR JOHN FRENCH.
His recommendations to reorganize the Canadian Militia are being accepted.

Canada May Break Away.

London, April 1.—The Tariff Reform Commission further considered reciprocity, and emphasize the complaint that no information is yet available regarding the instructions given to Mr. James Bryce. The only mention in the published papers of any item specified for reciprocity refers to fish. It reiterates its contention that reciprocity makes any extension of the Canadian preference extremely difficult and marks a departure from Britain.

Through Britain's refusal to countenance proposals of separatism in Empire trade, it fears Canada will be compelled to seek release from the most favored nation obligations through the pressure of the U.S.A. The British Government has not given information re. the Canada-U.S.A. International Joint Commission.

Will Investigate Differences.

Montreal, April 1.—The Board of Control decided yesterday to hold an investigation into the disagreement between the chief of the fire brigade, Mr. Tremblay, and Mr. Chausse, building inspector, as to the manner buildings are equipped in the city with fire escapes.

Chief Tremblay holds that scores of buildings are most poorly equipped, while the building inspector is quite sure that factories and other structures have complied with the law as to fire protection.

Letting Out the Water.

Cornwall, April 1.—The water will be let out of the Cornwall Canal; beginning to-day, and the lower levels will be empty by Monday. This will enable Fallon Bros. to complete their contract of building a new weir and a long wall running west from Lock 17. The letting out of the water will cause the closing down of the Toronto Paper Manufacturing Co.'s mill and the Express Roller Mill for a month.

Grevola Will Hang.

Montreal, April 1.—It is not likely that any decided effort will be made to have the death sentence which was pronounced on Francisco Grevola, found guilty of the murder of Gueseppi Chine, and sentenced to be hanged on the 26th of May, commuted to life imprisonment.

Grevola has few friends in the local Italian colony. He was always looked upon as a bad character.

GIRLS' DORMITORY WAS RAIDED

Spokane, Washington, April 1.—Instruction is suspended at the Washington State College to-day as the result of a strike of students. At a meeting it was decided that all the 1,200 students should remain away from classes until the culprits who participated in a raid on the girls' dormitory early Tuesday were apprehended and expelled.

During the raid on the dormitory the beds of more than a dozen young women were overturned and the girls were then hauled around the floors in their bed clothing. As a result of the affair several young women have left college.

Evidence is strong against a half dozen who are prominent in athletics.

TORONTO MAN A MURDERER

Charge Has Been Laid Against Norman Henry.

Dead Man Struck for Following Italian Woman.

Toronto, April 1.—Norman Henry, single, 24 years, a laborer, living at 227 West Richmond street, was arrested last night by Detectives Tipton, Twigg and Archibald, charged with the murder of Joseph Andrews, the Italian, who died in St. Michael's Hospital from a fracture of the skull on Tuesday after being arrested Monday night as a drunk.

Three companions, two women and a man, were also taken at the above address, and are held as material witnesses. The arrests were made at 11 o'clock. The others taken are James Sheehan, a laborer, 20 years, who gives 205 Simcoe street as his address; Bessie Maxwell, single, 21 years, Scotch, 205 Simcoe street, and Ethel Taylor, single, 21 years, English, 227 West Richmond street.

Henry admits that it was he who struck the dead man on Monday night. He says that he and the others were walking along the north side of Queen street when they noticed, about York street, that Andrews and another Italian were following them. He says that the Taylor woman turned round and told the Italians to go away, whereupon the man who was with Andrews struck her. This was about midway between York street and University avenue. He says that Andrews then struck at him, and he struck Andrews and knocked him down. The other man then made as if to draw a knife and he pretended to draw a revolver, which he did not have, and he and his party left, leaving Andrews lying upon the ground. He says he did not kick the prostrate man as has been said by one man who saw the struggle, and that no revolver was drawn as has also been stated.

JAP SCHOONER'S TOUGH TRIP

Five Men Died of Scurvy on the Voyage.

Seattle, April 1.—The Japanese schooner Chofu Maru, sent from Yokohama to the South Sea Islands, had a terrible voyage, during which five men died of scurvy. Twenty others were greatly emaciated when the schooner put into Yokohama just before the sailing of the Awa Maru for Seattle, according to reports brought by that steamship, which has just arrived.

After a call in the Carolines, the schooner left Parao Island on Jan. 9 for Japan, and soon encountered a hurricane. She drifted aimlessly about the Southern Seas for a month, the crew of 25 being short of rations, but one cup of water a day for each man.

On Feb. 11 the water was exhausted, and the unfortunates used salt water. One after another, five of the crew succumbed to the scurvy, the captain and one other dying within sight of home. The survivors were literally skin and bone, and doctors were sent on board to carry them from the vessel.

To Go to Germany.

London, Ont., April .1—Addressing the County Council last night, Hon. Adam Beck announced that the power commission would send two or three engineers to Europe at the end of April to study the electrical situation there. Accompanying them would be one of the O.A.C. experts who would make a special study of electricity as applied to the farms. Mr. Beck himself will join them some time in May.

Vice-Regal Visit to Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, April 1.—Earl Grey, accompanied by the Countess and family, and the vice-regal suite, will spend two weeks on an official visit to this city next month. They will reside at Government House. The primary object of the visit was to attend the annual competition for the Earl Grey musical and dramatic trophies which take place here during the week of April 24. The visit may also include the musical Festival of Empire, in which the Sheffield Choir will take part.

JARDINE IS IN FAILING HEALTH

Self-Confessed Murderer of Lizzie Anderson Losing Flesh.

Special to the Review.

Goderich, Ont., April 1.—Since making the confession of the murder of young Lizzie Anderson, a fortnight ago, Edward Jardine has lost all his former buoyancy, and is failing in health. He has lost the thirty pounds he gained in his jail life, and seems now to realize the enormity of the crime with which he is charged.

CAMORRISTS NO MURDERERS

Head of Italian Society Makes Great Appeal.

Denies Savagery Which the Informer Says Prevailed.

Viterbo, April 1.—Dressed in deep mourning for his brother, who died in prison, Enrico Alfano, alias Erricone, head of the Neapolitan Camorra, the greatest criminal organization in the world, took the witness stand in the Camorrist trials yesterday for interrogation at the hands of President Bianchi of the Assize Court.

He stoutly maintained his innocence of the murder of Gennaro Cuoccolo and his wife.

Erricone said that Abbatemaggio's tale of secrets confided to him by other Camorrists was absurd. "Abbatemaggio," he said, "was considered a spy of the police. He went into the game having nothing to fear. When I was arrested he took possession of and sold the harnesses in my stables."

In emphasizing what he called the absurdities of Abbatemaggio's accusations, Erricone instanced the gay return from Torre del Grace of the alleged assassins, after the murder of Cuoccolo. He told of the gathering of friends at the railway station to say farewell to Ibello and of their drinking together. "Even," said he, "if we were wild animals, was it possible for us to act like this after murdering a man and while preparing to murder his wife. This is savagery which only a criminal mind like that of Abbatemaggio could conceive."

Erricone then described how Abbatemaggio tried to blackmail him by threatening to make revelations against him. Erricone consulted a lawyer, who said that if he were accused, his acquittal would be certain, but that if he was arrested he would have to remain in prison for several years before his case came on trial. Therefore, the witness said, he decided to escape and told of his flight to America via Marseilles, Paris and Havre, and of his identification by Lieut. Petrosino, and of his extradition to Italy.

Erricone ended his testimony with a vigorous appeal to the jury, saying that the jurors must consider that the accused men are sons of Vesuvius, are as God made them—quick-tempered and ready for recourse to violence when provoked, but incapable of committing a terrible murder like that of Cuoccolo and his wife.

DEW GETS $2,000 FROM NEWSPAPER

Sequel to Publication of Fake Crippen Confession.

London, April 1.—A libel action is proceeding to-day, brought by ex-Inspector Dew against The London Daily Chronicle regarding the latter's statements concerning the inspector's professional conduct at Quebec when sent there to arrest Crippen. The defendants admit publication, the question to determine being the amount of damages.

Dew's case is based on an issue of The Chronicle Aug. 4, in which appeared an alleged confession by Dr. Crippen. The correspondent of The Chronicle stated that Inspector Dew had admitted that Crippen confessed to him. The inspector absolutely denied this.

The Chronicle's message further said that Dew had told the Canadian police he was firmly of the opinion that Leneve knew nothing of the murder.

Dew's counsel said all this was absolutely a lie.

The jury ordered £400 damages.

Over $1,500,000,000 Revenue.

London, April 1.—The revenue returns for the year ending March 31, which were issued last night, show an enormous total of $1,019,252,940, or over $20,000,000 more than David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, estimated in the past budget.

This is the first time that the nation's revenue has exceeded $1,500,000,000. Owing to the delay in the collection of taxes through the House of Lords' rejection of the first Lloyd-George budget, the two years will have to be reckoned together. The surplus revenue over expenditures amounts to $28,033,830.

Crowd Was Disappointed.

St. Catharines, April 1.—Omar Johnson, a former councillor of Thorold, was yesterday fined $250 on charges of illegal sales of liquor, opium and cocaine, and dispensing drugs without a permit from the Ontario College of Pharmacy. In the morning Johnson was assessed $200 at a private hearing in the office of F. W. Casey, Thorold's only lawyer. In the meantime a couple of hundred men had assembled in the Town Hall to be present at the trial. There was great wrath when, after waiting a couple of hours, the crowd dispersed with the knowledge that the hearing had been held privately. In the afternoon Johnson again appeared before the magistrate and admitted an additional charge, and was fined $50 more, several other charges not being proceeded with.

BANK ACT REVISION WILL BE LEFT OVER TO NEXT SESSION

LADY GREY.
She has been the guest of Ambassador Bryce, of Washington.

Hon. Mr. Fielding Intimates This in House—Opposition Votes Partial Supply For the Government to Carry on Business.

Ottawa, April 1.—This being the last day of the fiscal year the Minister of Finance asked for a vote on account, and moved that with respect to the estimates not dealt with, they should appropriate one-sixth of the whole. This was agreed to, the supply so far passed by the Commons having been previously concurred in.

The interim supply bill to which the Opposition took no objection, included $2,460,549 supplementary estimates, for the current year, and $45,115,912 for the fiscal year now commenced. The latter sum includes $13,113,283 to cover the expenses of Government for the next two months on items not yet voted, or one-sixth of the estimates for the year, beginning to-day.

Haughton Lennox (South Simcoe) brought up the question of the revision of the Bank Act. He said he could not understand why there had been such unprecedented delay. Having regard to recent disasters the people were feeling keenly upon this question. It was necessary that the matter should be referred to the banking and commerce committee, where a great many people would desire to be heard from. There would have to be a closer enquiry into the issue of certificates, and the question discussed of giving power for the recall or cancellation of certificates. Another debatable point was the double liability of subscribers.

Mr. Fielding replied that it was the intention of the Government that the Bank Act revision should be referred to the banking and commerce committee. He still hoped that they would be able to proceed with it this session, but much would depend upon the progress made with the general business of the House. No great harm would be done if it stood for another year.

Mr. Lennox contended that the Bank Act could have been referred to the committee without interfering with the progress of the House.

Mr. Fielding said that such an important matter required the close attention of the Minister as well as the committee.

Mr. Foster pointed out that not much business had been done by the House for the last three weeks, and said that this might have been utilized for a discussion of the banking bill in committee. Revision of the act was never more necessary than at the present time, and he regretted that Mr. Fielding had practically intimated that the Government was not likely to proceed with it at the present session.

During the discussion in supply, Mr. Graham announced a ten per cent. increase for the employes of the Department of Railways and Canals, particularly for the lockmen, the increase in the estimates for this purpose amounting to $100,000.

Mr. Brodeur stated that the men engaged in the lighthouse service would receive increases of from 15 to 35 per cent., or a total of $50,000.

Dr. Reid of Grenville introduced a discussion on the purchase of the Government steamer Earl Grey. He practically charged that J. O. Lewis, of Lewis Bros., Montreal, got a middleman's profit on every vessel purchased by the Government. He pointed out that Mr. Lewis was the agent for Vickers, Sons & Maxim, while Mr. Duguid, Canadian naval architect, was formerly an employe of that company. He said that the size of the Earl Grey had been changed so that it would not come through the canals, and that everything had been worked so that the contract would be given to the British firm.

Mr. Brodeur characterized the statement as ridiculous, the change in the size of the Earl Grey, he said, had been made on the advice of the British admiral. As for the naval architect, he was obtained by Lord Strathcona, likewise on the advice of the British naval authorities.

A Nine-Mile Bore.

Berne, Switzerland, April 1.—The final obstruction to the Leatschburg Tunnel through the Bernese Alps was pierced by the laborers at 3.50 o'clock yesterday morning, after a five and a half years' work, and the expenditure of $20,000,000.

The tunnel, which is the third longest in Europe, measures 14,500 metres, or approximately nine miles.

New Cruiser for Australia.

Sydney, N.S.W., April 1.—The Commonwealth has decided to increase its fleet by one cruiser and three destroyers. Messrs. Pearce and Fisher are expected at the Imperial Conference to make a strenuous plea for a comprehensive Imperial scheme of naval defence.

COL. TISDALE IS DEAD AT SIMCOE

Was a Former Cabinet Minister in the Tupper Cabinet.

Simcoe, April 1.—Col. David Tisdale of this town died here last night at nine o'clock in his 76th year.

Hon. Lt.-Col. David Tisdale, K.C., was a native of Ontario, having been born in Norfolk County on Sept. 8, 1835. His father was a U. E. Loyalist, and took part in the battles of Queenston Heights and Lundy's Lane. Col. Tisdale, who was educated at the Simcoe Grammar School, married in 1838 Sarah Walker. He was called to the Bar in 1858 and appointed a Q.C. in 1872. He was reeve and councillor of Simcoe for several years, and also served on the Norfolk County Council. He entered the militia in 1861, and was in command of the 39th Norfolk Rifles, retiring in 1876.

Col. Tisdale's first attempt in politics was an unsuccessful run for the constituency of North Norfolk in the Commons in 1874. He was elected for the same riding at the next election in 1887, and at the elections of 1891, 1896 and 1900. At the general election of 1904 he was returned for the combined County of Norfolk, retiring from Parliament in 1908.

Col. Tisdale was appointed Minister of Militia in the Tupper Cabinet in 1896, going out of office on the defeat of the Government. He was a member of the Privy Council.

TO FLY ACROSS THE CONTINENT

San Fransisco Aviator Wants to $50,000 Prize.

Special to the Review.

San Francisco, April 1.—It is announced by aviator Bud Mars that he will within a short time try a flight across the continent in an endeavor to win the Hearst prize of fifty thousand dollars.

Laymen Want Changes.

New York, April 1.—The Laymen's Association of the Methodist Church of New York meeting simultaneously for the New York conference, voted by a large majority yesterday to petition the general council to establish diocessan bishops, abolish district superintendents and presiding elders, rearrange conference boundaries throughout the United States, give lay members representation in annual and general conferences, and extend the terms of the pastorates from two to five years.

This program, it is understood, embraces the most radical changes confronting Methodism since the days of John Wesley, and marks, it is said, the beginning of a far-reaching campaign in which the association will enlist the support of every similar organization and annual conference in the country to be held during 1911-12, or prior to the convention of the general convention in Minneapolis in May of next year.

Lawyer Is Arrested.

Toronto, April 1.—William D. Earngey, K.C., of the firm of Eyre and Earngey, with offices in the Confederation Life Building, and who lives at 615 Spadina avenue, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Wallace upon four charges of forgery and one of perjury, while Charles Black, a law student in his office, was taken by Detective Sockett upon a charge of perjury which may be later changed to that of making a false document.

HORSE'S LEG SWELLED

Animal Was Too Sore and Lame to Work—Quickly Cured by "Nerviline."

"I have had a long experience in treating horses, and I can safely say that I know of no liniment for strains, sprains, and swelling that is so useful around the stable as Nerviline." Thus writes Mr. Joshua E. Murchison, from his home, Crofts Hill P. O. I had a fine young mare that wrenched her right fore leg, and from the shoulder down she was stiff, sore, and swollen. I applied Nerviline, and it worked like a charm; in fact, that mare was in shape to work a day after I used Nerviline.

Nerviline Is a Trusty Liniment

"We have used Nerviline on our farm for twenty-five years and never found it wanting. For man or beast it is a wonderful liniment."

We have received nearly five thousand letters, recommending Nerviline as a general household liniment, as an all-round cure for aches and pains. One million bottles used each year. Try it yourself. Large bottles of Nerviline 50c; trial size, 25c. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABEL

GERMANY SAYS NO

The debate in the German Reichstag shows conclusively where Germany stands in the matter of international disarmament, or arbitration of international diplomatic difficulties. Germany officially announces that so long as Britain resolves to adhere to the two-power navy standard, and to maintain her supremacy on the sea, just so long will she have to fight to get to the top. Germany practically takes the stand that her national welfare demands that she be not content with her present standing in the world powers, but must seek aggrandisements. She proclaims that Britain must not be allowed to continue as mistress of the seas, and thus takes on herself the job of keeping Europe to the "armed camp" status.

The German Chancellor has done the world a service in making clear the position of his country. As long as Germany adheres to the attitude which he enunciates, just so long will the race toward the great crash that must come, continue. It might be said that Britain's position, geographically and commercially, demands the maintenance of her supremacy; but Germany, in refusing to accept this condition as permanent, although it has lasted since the battle of Trafalgar, seems to expect that some day she may gain through her own efforts or the efforts of the alliances she has contracted with continental nations, an equality in this matter.

An arbitration treaty between Britain and the United States would be a great step toward the guarantee of peace in the world. If the United States were to submit all diplomatic differences arising from the enforcement of the Munroe doctrine to this method of settlement, there is no reason why a treaty should not be consummated with all nations willing to enter into it. That this, in itself, would lessen the need for heavy, back-breaking armaments is not clear, since a decision to keep up the pace by an already powerful nation makes disarmament impossible. Only the existence of a sea force greatly superior to that of Germany will keep the latter from efforts at extending either her territorial influence or seeking commercial concessions at the point of the cannon mouth.

RAISING OF BOYS

The charges made by Mrs. Thornley, one of the Y.W.C.A. officials of London, that boys' clubs there are ruining hundreds of boys, that immorality is widespread even among lads of tender years, because of the facilities which these clubs offer, leads the chief of police of the same city to discourse about the best methods of training boys for the ministry. He defends boys' clubs, in fact, and says that they are better for the average boy than sitting at home reading a book.

"What are the boys going to do?" the chief enquires. "Some of them don't like the Y.M.C.A. Some of them are not ready to stay home every night and read. Are they to be on the streets? They must either go there or to the clubs, which they form themselves. It is only one boy in a dozen who is content to stay at home and read every night. The ones that do will not amount to much in after life either. They might make ministers, but nothing else. And they would be the kind of ministers who read nice, little sermons, dealing with problems of which they know little or nothing."

An official who has more or less to do with the supervision of police affairs sees a good deal of boy life, but he sometimes adopts the cynical attitude, perhaps justified in the case of the lower strata of humanity, to cases requiring a distinctly different method of reasoning. The method of raising boys advocated by Chief Williams may be a police-court method—letting them sow their wild oats without hindrance in order that they may early drink of the cup of life, even to the dregs, but it cannot be claimed it will raise a class of boys in any way superior to the sordid surroundings in which they get their practical education, at a time when they are most easily impressed and influenced.

If a young man passes through adolescence unharmed and unshaken, the chances are against a total breaking away from principles of morality or honesty. No boy who is a boy, who has the virility of future manhood in him, will need the stimulation of questionable resorts to rouse his energies. The great question which faces the educator and the parent is not how to get the boy educated in the idle, thriftless ways of the world as early as possible, that he may know life, but to so direct his youthful energies that he may arrive at the age of discretion with his mind and body trained for better things. The boy who is not a milksop, will learn the ways of the world in any event, and hot-house stimulation in these matters is not only, not necessary, but a positive evil to many boys. The whole tendency of modern life is to induce precocity in children, much to their material harm, in the long run. It is better to keep the boys within safe and proper limits in any event, that as many of them may escape dissolute habits as possible.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Judging by the way the snow stayed with us, March was suffering from the white plague.

The Toronto News says that "Toronto is proud of its lights." Yes. Toronto always did have great wind capacity.

Wilfy, Wilfy, I've been thinking,
What a fine thing it would be,
If the Yankees would refuse it—
This blamed reciprocity.

John E. Redmond discusses what Ireland would be like under Home Rule. A big Ulster ought to keep it pretty warm, anyway.

Germany will have to make and spend a good many million marks before it will get to the place occupied by old Britain on the seas.

One thousand have been killed in a Mexican battle. Who is trying to wade through slaughter to a presidency?

Hon. W. S. Fielding will address the people of Toronto. Not that there is any hope, but just to show them that he is willing to be another martyr Stephen, if necessary.

The Levee which the Toronto City Council has been holding over patent medicine stock, brought out at least one Starr performer.

The cause of reciprocity will have the valiant right arm of A. G. MacKay raised in its support. Being the leader of twelve Liberal braves, the honorable Alexander could almost afford to carry his company with him and give nightly performances.

A ten million dollar navigation merger is the latest. This mergeritis bug that is biting Canadian financiers will soon cause the public physician to examine them as a menace to public health. The mergeritis bug leaves a disease known as water in the stock.

The extension of the hydro-electric power system to supply the eastern Ontario municipalities such as Kingston, Belleville and Brockville, will be a popular move. The Whitney government is making itself solid with the people by legislation directed everywhere towards the best interests of the people. Having almost a solid province behind him, Sir James Whitney is not compelled to play for votes, but, to concentrate his attention on doing the best for the people of every section of the province that can be done.

The settlement of the bi-lingual school question by the premier seems to have upset the calculations of all the big type agitators who were getting ready to make a whole meal of someone. Second thoughts show that Sir James' solution is the practical, sensible way, leading to no friction or unpleasantness. As there are no bi-lingual schools constitutionally, there can be no formal abolition. The Department of Education promises to stop the teaching of French where English can be practically used, and all abuses under the law will be remedied.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" WILL CURE RHEUMATISM

McMillan's Corner, Ont., Sept. 30th, 1910.

"Your remedy, "Fruit-a-tives" is a perfect panacea for Rheumatism. For years, I suffered distressing pain from Sciatic Rheumatism, being laid up several times a year, and not being able to work at anything. I went to different doctors who told me there was no use doing anything, it would pass away.

Fortunately, about two years ago, I got "Fruit-a-tives" and they cured me.

"Since then, I take them occasionally and keep free from pain. I am satisfied that "Fruit-a-tives" cured me of Rheumatism and they will cure anyone who takes them". JOHN B. McDONALD.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest cure for Rheumatism, Sciatica and Lumbago in the world.

"Fruit-a-tives" cures, because like fruit juice it purifies the blood—regulates kidneys, bowels and skin—and thus keeps the whole system free of uric acid. Take "Fruit-a-tives" and you will find instant relief and a prompt cure.

50c. a box—6 for $2.50—trial size, 25c. At dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS SAY

HEREE'S ANOTHER.
(Orillia Packet.)

The Peterborough Review takes a lesson from the Ottawa Free Press as to the origin of the expression, "tinker's dam," and passes it on to its Breaders. Both are wrong. The dam of the travelling tinker of two or three generations ago was not made from "the mud on the roadside," but from a piece of bread, begged from the housewife, and chewed in the not over-clean mouth of the mender of tins till it formed a dough. Thus when one said a thing was "not worth a tinker's dam," it might fairly be felt that the resources of comparison had been about exhausted. It is not the forcefulness of the expression, however, so much as its suggestion of profanity, probably, which commends it to many.

INVENTION FOR THE FARMERS

Machine Rakes Hay and Places It in Cocks by One Operation

Mr. G. W. Latta of Corbyville, has secured a patent for a machine which will rake hay and put it in cocks at one operation. The machine can be driven over the hay just as it is left in the swath by the mower. The hay is elevated to an oval-shaped basket that continually rotates while the hay is filling and forming the hay-cock, the weight being about 150 lbs. of hay. The hay is delivered on the ground in such a shape that it will shed both rain and dew. It is said that the machine will do as much work as five men in cocking hay.—Belleville Ontario.

6 YEAR OLD GIRL

Cured of Kidney Trouble

Mrs. Alex. Moore, of James street, Oxford, N.S., says: "Booth's Kidney Pills cured our little daughter, Christian, aged six years, of many symptoms of kidney weakness. She complained of a sore back, the kidney secretions were frequent and uncontrollable especially at night. Her stomach was weak and her appetite poor. This caused her to have frequent headaches, and the least exertion would tire her. We had tried many remedies, but she did not improve. Finally we learned of Booth's Kidney Pills and procured a box. In a short time she was well and does not now complain about her back, the kidney secretions have become normal, and she plays around the house with no apparent fatigue. We always recommend Booth's Kidney Pills."

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

Theodore rolled up his sleeve, whereupon with an expertness quite startling the man of medicine pinched up a bit of the brown flesh, shoved in the needle, pressed down the piston, and Theodore was "shot." With a stinging in his arm and wondering as to the why of it all, though he knew by this time that he had dropped out of the night sky into full membership in a drink cure establishment, he passed on.

Dr. Witherspoon met each patient with a standardized smile, clasped each hand with a grip of absolute uniformity and said, "Good morning, Mr. Bascom," or whatever the name might be. "And how is the appetite this morning? And the tongue, please. Pulse regular, I observe. Have you had your constitutional this morning? Improving nicely, Mr. Bascom. Good morning."

They returned to Theodore's room. Soon entered Mr. O'Grady, Mr. Evans and a slender person of about Carson's size, who at once began the coursing of imaginary game on the wall paper, slapping his thigh and laughing at every failure.

"This," said Mr. O'Grady, introducing the indoor huntsman, "is Mr. Wylie, Mr. Carson."

"My worst fears confirmed!" hissed Craighead. "The one man I ever loved turns out to be—oh, ye gods, both a teller of truth and a victim of regular habits! The last straw and no julep!"

Carson looked at Wylie, awaiting Mr. O'Grady's development of his case.

"We are, of cawse," said O'Grady, "sorry to have interfered with your plans, Mr. Carson, but"—

Mr. O'Grady's grave discourse, in which Carson could feel himself being placed irrevocably in the wrong, was interrupted by Mr. Wylie's making a swoop upon an imaginary animal on Mr. O'Grady's nose.

"I most caught him," he cried. "A bumblebee! A bumblebee! Sunday, gnats; mosquitoes, Monday; Tuesday, flies; bees, Wednesday; hornets yesterday and bumblebees today. Big game soon! Ha, ha, ha, ha! Whoop!"

"Long lost brother evidently," remarked Craighead. "I note the Craighead strawberry mark. Well, when he gets to elephants I may claim relationship."

"Of cawse," went on Mr. O'Grady, paying no attention to the Wylie incident except to use and examine for blood stains a neatly folded handkerchief, "your being found in the greenhouse has been partially explained, sir, and we are not disposed to make you trouble. In fact, with our customary liberality we shall leave to you both that and your board and lodgings since you so strangely came into our—into our midst."

"Hear, hear!" ejaculated Craighead. "Hooroar for the emporium!"

"And if you will kindly sign these mutual receipts in full for all claims on both sides we will give Mr. Wylie his room, and—here's the pen, Mr. Carson, sir."

Theodore had already made the first stroke of the "T" when Craighead rushed upon him like a whirlwind, snatched the pen, hurled it into the door like a javelin, where it stood quivering, and interposed between Carson and O'Grady.

"Caitiff, avaunt!" he roared. "Wilt deprive the widows and orphans this youth may accumulate of their cause of action against this dope shotten emporium? Back, slave! You reach him only over my dead body! Receipts in full? Not on your life—to coin an expression. You have shot his patrician blood full of dishwater and bug juice. You have filled his innocent and unworldly stomach with dope. You have amputated his appetite for light wines and may as well pass him the darker drink first as last. He has suffered and must ever suffer most excruciating pain and agony and both mental and physical anguish. He's a gone gosling! And I, the greatest personal injury specialist in the legal world, as his attorney demand ten—thousand—plunks as damages, failing the receipt of which, well and truly to be paid in lawful money of the realm, we'll take the emporium in execution and make Witherspoon a stable boy, with you as assistant swipe, both of you to sleep with Tige! We don't sign nothin', see?"

CHAPTER VII.

A TALK WITH MR. WADDY.

THEODORE resolved that he must hie to the shed in the gulf dunes, complete the flying machine and bring it to the notice of the world in spite of the enmity of Mr. Shayne, upon which he now confidently counted. He must—

"I know," broke in Mr. Craighead, gazing at the ceiling through wreaths of smoke, "the yearnings of your subtropical Alabanian system. But be practical. You come to this emporium, of which, alas, neither of us is fated to be an alumnus, and you find me in fine fettle save that I am unrelated to the world. I am an Antaeus, with no immediate prospects of getting my tootsies to mother earth; a storage battery as big as Pike's peak, but insulated from the mass of demagnetized humanity; a great force for a number of things, with no way of proving it. What do you do? You make a profession for me, I was naught, not to mention naughty. What am I now? A great personal injury lawyer, developing into a prosperous ambulance chaser. I was out of touch with the world of finance. I have now laid the foundation for the organization of the great Carson-Craighead Aeronef corporation!"

"What do you mean?" ejaculated Carson.

"What I say! What I say! Through a long, colonnaded, peristyled vista of marble and onyx I can see nailed to the back fence the hide of Mr. Finley Shayne."

"But I have no clothes," Carson urged.

"Clothes!" scornfully repeated Craighead. "What are they? Merely woven fabrics to fill bags to secure credit withal at hotels. And you need no credit, for this room is mine for the whole term of the treatments paid for by some one into whose company I dropped or rose during my last shore leave from the good ship Lithia, but by whom I have no idea. Clothes, indeed! Scat!"

"But it's cold here," persisted Carson, feeling helpless in the toils of this serpentine logic. "I'm not prepared for this climate."

"Look abroad!" commanded Craighead, with a gesture toward the window. "The sun beats down upon the last remnants of the snow, and the little brooks give the glad ha-ha to the river and send down the silky billet doux of the catkin to remind him that they've busted loose and are hurling themselves into his arms. Why, darn you, it's spring! And you can stay right here—steam heat, bath, hot and cold water, padded cell in connection—oh, fair youth, I love thee! Let me finish bunkoing Mr. O'Grady and start the Aeronef company. Don't be a clam!"

NEVER BE WITHOUT BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mothers, if you wish to guard the health of your little ones against the sudden outbreaks of those ailments peculiar to childhood, always keep a supply of Baby's Own Tablets on hand. These Tablets never fail to relieve baby of distressing stomach aches, pains caused by difficult teething and the many other little troubles that make baby's life miserable. The Tablets are sold under the guarantee of a government analyst to contain not one particle of opiate or other injurious drug and they may be given to the youngest baby with perfect safety. Concerning them Mrs. Hypolite Chiasson, Eastern Harbor, N.S., writes: "We have used Baby's Own Tablets for our baby, and they have done her much good. Please send us two more boxes, as I find them the only medicine that helps our little one." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

OTONABEE FOR LAKE SIMCOE

To Take Place of the Steamer Geneva

Mr. R. Finchin, Manager of the Peterborough and Lake Simcoe Navigation Co., writes to Barrie Saturday Morning as follows:—

Under the heading "Buy in Barrie," in your issue of March 4th, mention is made of an improved boat service as essential to the uplift of conditions helpful to the merchants of Barrie. Permit me to say that our company have an option on the steamer Geneva, which if accepted will mean the withdrawal of the vessel from Lake Simcoe, and placing on these waters the steamer Otonabee, which some of the merchants had an opportunity of inspecting for a few days last season. If the writer was assured of practical assistance in the form of purchasers for a few thousand dollars of 7 per cent. guarantee stock in our company, he could undoubtedly secure the consent of our directors to having our best equipped steamer ply on Lake Simcoe during a part of the coming season, and if profitable, guarantee regular service during the greater part of the tourist season. Our steamer the Otonabee is licensed to carry 444 passengers and crew, is lighted throughout with electricity and provided with a powerful searchlight, has twin screws, and is the largest vessel plying between Lake Simcoe through the Trent Valley system to Hastings. As Lake Simcoe navigation to us would be a new venture, we would prefer before promising service to have a few substantial interests represented in Barrie and Orillia show their confidence in the proposition by purchasing a block of stock that offers good interest on the investment and insures our Company active co-operation in a service that must in the end be of great importance in bringing to your town the tourists and others that have no idea of the beauties of your magnificent water privileges.

Killed While Felling Tree.

Arthur, April 1.—A very sad accident occurred a few miles from here about eleven o'clock yesterday morning. Stephen Burns, a prosperous farmer, living on the 16th concession of Peel, was struck by a piece of wood weighing about fifty or sixty pounds, and instantly killed. He was engaged in cutting down a maple tree a short distance from the base of which a stump was projecting from the ground. The tree fell over the stump, sending the large block hurling through the air, striking Mr. Burns in the forehead and crushing his skull.

Mr. Burns was about forty-five years of age. He is survived by a wife and family of five, the eldest being about twenty-one.

A Human Bomb.

Brockville, April 1.—Clapping his hands on his side to keep warm, John Miller, living a few miles from Brockville, forgot about seven dynamite caps he had in his pocket. The caps exploded, fearfully lacerating and burning his thigh and hand and embedding portions of his clothing in the flesh. The end of a pocket knife was blown off and several nails also in the pocket were driven into the wall. Miller was alone in his kitchen at the time of the accident, and his escape from death is considered nothing short of miraculous. He had been using dynamite to blast a foundation, which accounted for the explosives on his person.

O'Gorman Elected.

Albany, N.Y., April 1.—Supreme Court Justice James O'Gorman of New York, a Democrat, was elected United States Senator by the Legislature last night on the sixty-fourth joint ballot after a deadlock lasting since Jan. 17. Justice O'Gorman received 112 votes out of 192 cast. Necessary to choice, 97.

A few minutes before his election Justice O'Gorman filed his resignation as a justice of the Supreme Court at the office of Secretary of State Lashinsky. Following the election the Legislature adopted a concurrent resolution adjourning until April 17.

Loan to Chinese Government.

Tokio, April 1.—The Yokohama Specie Bank yesterday settled the terms for a loan of $5,000,000 to the Chinese Government. The issue price of the bonds is 97 1-2 and the interest 5 per cent. Brokerage fees of 2 1-2 per cent. are to be charged. The money, which will be used to meet a deficit of the railway board, will be paid to China on June 1.

PLEURO-PNEUMONIA AND BRONCHITIS

Brought Mrs. Baker to Death's Door. Father Morriscy's No. 10 Saved Her.

Of the many hundreds of cures wrought by Father Morriscy's No. 10 (Lung Tonic) few are more remarkable than the saving of the life of Mrs. John S. Baker, of 164 Rockland Road (North End), St. John, N.B. She wrote on Oct. 16, 1909:

"I wish to express my gratitude that I am living to-day, saved from the grave by Father Morriscy's No. 10 (Lung Tonic). This time last year I had pleuro-pneumonia and bronchitis, and had been given up to die, and had my lungs tapped in the City Hospital, and never expected to walk again; I was continually getting worse every day. I came home from the hospital, and everyone was watching fo me to die. I tried everything but there seemed to be no cure for me.

"I began taking Father Morriscy's No. 10, and the second day I could eat without pain. I used 22 bottles of No. 10, as I was run down right into consumption, and for six months was just a shadow until I began to use it, and now I am in good health, and surprised most of my neighbors by gaining so quickly. I feel it my duty to publish it everywhere I can, as with all I can say I cannot recommend it too highly—it was a life saver to me, and I am very thankful to recommend it, as it is worth all it is said."

Father Morriscy's No. 10 is very different from the many preparations that simply relieve a cough. No. 10 relieves the cause of the cough, restores the membranes of throat and lungs to a healthy condition, and tones up the whole system; giving strength to resist future attacks.

For Three Generations.

Halifax, April 1.—Samuel C. Campbell, inspector of life-saving stations, died last evening, aged 75 years. Mr. Campbell was at one time somewhat prominent in political matters on the Liberal side. In 1896 he contested Victoria County for the Federal Parliament, but was defeated by Dr. Bethune.

His father was keeper of St. Paul's Island, a lone rock on the Cape Breton coast. Deceased was appointed to the position on the death of his father, and now his son is the keeper. The light has thus been in charge of three generations of the family. The burial will be at Baddeck.

AFTER SUFFERING YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fox Creek, N.B.—"I have always had pains in the loins and a weakness there, and often after my meals my food would distress me and cause soreness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me much good. I am stronger, digestion is better, and I can walk with ambition. I have encouraged many mothers of families to take it, as it is the best remedy in the world. You can publish this in the papers." — Mrs. WILLIAM BOURQUE, Fox Creek, N.B., Canada.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

CONCERNING INSURANCE

To the Editor of Saturday Night.

Dear Sir,—We have placed a lot of our insurance with companies in the United States and Europe, on a contract guaranteed by a Montreal brokerage company. Some Canadian agents and inspectors say this is no good. What is your opinion? Manufacturer.

It is quite impossible for us to give an opinion of the insurance without a list of the companies. The guarantee, as you probably know, is practically valueless; in fact, it is a question if it is not illegal, being a class of fire insurance conducted without a license. The "guaranteed contract" is only one of the thousand fakes being offered the insuring public, whose ignorance and gullibility in insurance is almost equalled by the same in regards to mining. Anything at the bargain line goes.

Contracts of insurance made with companies not licensed are not enforceable in Ontario. The public here have nothing regarding these companies but the word of the interested broker, who receives his commission on the premiums placed through him. The expense of collection in foreign countries and the delay which resulted in making collections under some policies issued by these foreign insurers are such as would result in ruin to a large manufacturer. In one case, where the loss occurred nearly a year ago, it has been found impossible to get even a reply, and the amount being small, it will not pay to sue.

In the insurance business, as in every other business, if you deal with reliable, established houses, you get what you pay for.

The object of Saturday Night in this department will be to advise, so that you shall get insurance worth one hundred cents on the dollar. There is no other insurance that eventually insures

Would Life be Worth Living IF YOUR SIGHT WAS GONE?

I come to you with a few words about eye-sight. I have been helping people SEE BETTER for many years, and I am sure many have held me in grateful remembrance for it. I have fitted thousands in this city of Peterborough and surrounding country, who are comfortably wearing the glasses that I fitted them with. I meet them every day wherever I go. I want to help more; I want to help you. You need help for your eyes if you don't see well, or if you have eye-strain. I make no charge for examination. If you come to me you can come with the full assurance that you will be told whether glasses are needed or not. We are not in business simply to SELL GLASSES. The retention of your patronage and of your commendation are far more valuable to us. Our qualifications for eye-sight testing are of the highest standard, and our method of testing is most up-to-date. Our instruments include the Retinoscope, Ophthalmometer and "Phoroptometer," this last instrument being the only one of its kind in Peterborough.

Gospel Truth About Zutoo

We tell you truthfully and concientiously that one of our little tablets called ZUTOO, harmless as soda, will cure your headache sick, nervous or neuralgic in twenty minutes and always leave you feeling good.

We tell you further that these tablets will break up a cold, will relieve indigestion and the monthly pains of women.

Every user of ZUTOO will tell you the same thing. So will every druggist and dealer who sells them.

Generally you accept what every body says as being so, but we don't ask you to take anybody's word about ZUTOO tablets. Try them. Know for yourself what these remarkable little tablets will do. 25c at dealers or by mail postpaid. B.N. Robinson & Co., Reg'd Coaticook, Q.

NEW TEACHER AT THE COLLEGIATE

G. F. Colling B.A. of Seaforth Accepts Appointment Here

The Huron Expositor of Seaforth says: Mr. G. F. Colling, B.A., who has been mathematical master in Seaforth Collegiate Institute for a number of years, has resigned his position here to accept a situation in the Peterboro Collegiate, at a considerably higher salary. It will be a matter of general regret to those interested in our Collegiate that Mr. Colling has decided to leave Seaforth, as he is recognized as one of the leading mathematical specialists in the province and it was due in no small degree to his teaching that so many scholarships have come to the pupils of the Seaforth Collegiate. He has previously had several tempting offers to go to Toronto and other large centres, but has hitherto preferred to remain in Seaforth. Mr. Colling assumes his new duties on the 1st of May.

ODORLESS OIL FOR THE STREETS

Brand to be Used Should Cause no Complaints

After all citizens may have no cause to complain against oil being used on the streets of the city this year instead of water. City Engineer Hay had a sample at the Board of Works meeting last night that is practically odorless, and this brand will be used.

The cost varies but little, and it is more durable than the other quality, which doesn't altogether send out the fragrance of white lilacs.

ANNIVERSARY OF KNOX CHURCH

And Induction of Pastor on Sunday April 9

The anniversary of Knox Presbyterian Church and the induction of the pastor, Rev. D. J. Keith, is to be observed on Sunday, April 9, and Rev. E. W. Mackay of Smith Falls, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, a former charge of Rev. Mr. Keith, will conduct the morning and evening service, and remain for an entertainment the following Monday night.

The congregation of Knox Church commenced its work, apart from St. Paul's in January, 1907, and the induction of its present pastor followed on April 11, and a joint anniversary will be held. The occasion will be of great interest to the congregation of Knox Church. Rapid strides have been made in the church life and for the betterment of the community.

MARKET TO-DAY

Large Offering in Maple Syrup With No Change in Price

There was a rattling good market this morning. Plenty of produce, and the much sought after maple syrup was a little more plentiful than last Saturday. It will not be nearly so abundant as past years, however, remarked one man who had some. The inclement weather has had much to do with the scarcity. The price has not decreased, and the prevailing price this morning was $1.50 a gallon.

Other lines of market articles were fairly abundant. Potatoes were numerous, selling at 90 cents a bag.

The bovine and pork end of the market was as usual well represented. The small live pigs brought about $8 a pair.

The inner market was crowded. Chickens were in great demand, but they were scarce. Eggs and butter remain about the same in price.

The prevailing prices were:
Eggs—17 and 18 cents.
Butter—25 cents.
Potatoes—90 cents.
Chickens—50 and 75 cents a piece.
Beef—8 and 9 cents.
Pork—9 and 10 cents.
Live piglets—$8 a pair.
Maple Syrup—$1.50 a gallon.

ATTRACTIONS FOR THIS YEAR'S FAIR

J. J. Turner Sr., was in Toronto yesterday and met the manager of "The Park Booking Circuit of New York," and made arrangements for the attractions for the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, Sept. 14, 15 and 16th. The attractions will be of the very highest order and far superior to anything ever seen at the exhibition here before. There will be six big acts, consisting of "Carl Damman Troupe," the "World's greatest equilibrists," "Prof. Schiltz and his great trick mule," "The Bollini Troupe," in their great aerial sensational return acts.

Everyone should attend the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition this year and see these great acts and help to swell the receipts of the exhibition and encourage the President and Directors in their efforts.

The Correct Styles for Spring and Summer

THE chief designer of the Semi-ready Tailoring, who is a world-wide authority on men's dress, has sent the above sketches of four of the leading models for the current season. The Semi-ready shops, with their great wholesale organization and splendid system, occupy a commanding position in Canada such as is held by no other concern in its own country.

Not only do they get the choicer and more exclusive weaves and patterns from the English mills, but they are able to secure and to hold the most expert and talented skill in design and craftsmanship. Their garments this season are far in advance of their previous best.

GIN PILLS SAVED HIM

513 JAMES ST., HAMILTON, ONT.
"Five years ago, I was taken down with what the doctors called Inflammation of The Bladder—intense pains in back and loins, and difficulty in urinating, and the attacks, which became more frequent, amounted to unbearable agony. I became so weak that I could not walk across the floor.

My wife read in the papers about GIN PILLS and sent for a box. From the very first, I felt that GIN PILLS were doing me good. The pain was relieved at once and the attacks were less frequent.

In six weeks, the Stone in the Bladder came away. When I recall how I suffered and how now I am healthy and able to work, I cannot express myself strongly enough when I speak of what GIN PILLS have done for me." JOHN HERMAN. 48

RE-ENGAGEMENT OF PUBLICITY COMMISSIONER COMES UP

Committee to Go Over Agreement With C.P.R. Regarding Waterfront Property

At a meeting of the committee of the whole council last night, Mayor Morrow brought forward a request from the Board of Trade that a committee be appointed from the council to act with one from the Board of Trade, in the matter of the re-engagement of the Publicity Commissioner H. V. Duggan. His present term of office expires on May 15.

The Board of Trade committee is W. H. Denham and G. A. Gillespie, and the suggestion was that three members of the council be appointed for the committee of that body.

It was decided to refer the matter to the Manufacturers' Committee, who will report back to the Council.

The commissioner was appointed by the Board of Trade, who contributed $2,000 towards the expenses of the department, and called upon the council for the other $2,000.

If another term is given the commissioner, the council, so far as can be seen at present, have to pay the full amount of the $4,000. Some of the members feel that the council, and it alone should deal with the matter.

THE RAILWAY AGREEMENT.

The city solicitor read the proposed agreement between the city and the Canadian Pacific Railway by which the company secures the property on the water front, west of the present siding to the Quaker Oats Company, and between Simcoe and Sherbrooke streets, for the purpose of building of freight sheds and sidings in connection with the Georgian Bay and Seaboard line to Victoria Harbor, and which will pass through Peterborough. It was decided that a committee composed of Mayor Morrow, Aldermen Anderson, Morgan and Buller, go over the agreement and report back to the council.

FORMER LOCAL CITIZENS DISPLAY INTEREST IN CHIMES

Short Letters and Handsome Cheque From Lt.-Col. Edwards of Edmonton

A pleasant surprise awaited Rev. Canon Davidson this morning, when a letter from Lt. Col. E.B. Edward, of Edmonton, was received in which were a number of short letters accompanied with a handsome cheque, from former Peterboro citizens, who are now in Edmonton. The Chimes Committee had no idea of such a movement, and much gratification is expressed at the interests which is represented by the communication and its contents. The cash receipts for the fund now total $5,40 and there are absent $200 in subscriptions yet to be paid in.

An out of town subscription from Mr and Mrs. W. E. Davidson, of Toronto has also been received.

The letters enclosed in the letter from Lt. Col. Edwards are as follows:

My Dear Mr. Davidson —Half a dozen of us here, in Edmonton, who have watched with interest, the movement to provide chimes for St. John's ask you to accept the enclosed small contribution to this good cause.

It is only a mite but it may serve to prove to you and to your other friends in Peterborough that the hearts of her children are still true to the old home town. We want to have even this small part in the great movement to add to her beauty and attractiveness. Each adds his word.

With kind regards and best wishes
Yours sincerely,
E. B. EDWARDS
Edmonton, March 27, 1911.

C. S. WALLIS

My father and mother took a deep interest in St. John's in the days gone by, and had a share in the erection and completion of the building and in furnishing its first bell.

My own early associations still bind me to the old church.

The placing of chimes in its tower shows that the spirit of the Peterborough people of to-day are not unworthy of their beautiful city, and that they are ready to follow in the footsteps of the pioneers who built the church so many years ago.

I am glad to have a small share in providing the chimes.

HAROLD B. BURNHAM

My grandfather was at one time Rector of St. John's. This should be enough to give me an interest in the Chimes movement.

Added to this, as one of Peterborough's "Old Boys" I am proud of the old town and in spite of the distance that separates us, I am interested, on my own account, in everything that tends to bring her fresh distinction. The Chimes will mean much for the city as a whole as well as for the Church. I count it a privilege to be a sharer even to a small extent, in the good movement.

C. B. BECK.

My father's long connection with St. John's, my own early associations with it, cause me to take great interest in the movement to provide Chimes for the beautiful old church.

As one of her "Old Boys" I wish to remember Peterborough and St. John's church, particularly.

Every success to the Chimes—

E. W. COX

I can never forget the way that old bell of St. John's rang out every Sunday morning and evening, calling everyone to Church, whether they went to St. John's or wherever they went.

I will give my little contribution for the Chimes with great pleasure.

W. C. BRADBURN

Peterborough is doing the right thing to have a grand set of Chimes in old St. John's. We may be far away off here in Edmonton, but we think a good deal of the old town yet. I am glad to have the opportunity of giving something towards the Chimes.

E. B. EDWARDS

No bells that I have ever heard have sounded quite as sweet in my ears as the faithful old bells of St. John's and St. Peter's. It may be that the recollections of early boyhood deepening as the years have passed by, may sufficiently account for this preference. There is something more, however. When I was a boy I heard it said that people of all churches helped to buy the bell for St. John's and the Protestants and Catholics alike contributed to the purchase of the bell of St. Peter's.

Certain it is that they have faithfully served all alike for many a long year.

And now the Chimes will create fresh memories for the boys who shall grow up within sound of them in the years to come, and will serve through their beautiful harmony to bind still closer together the people of all classes and creeds, in loyalty to the one Lord and Master whom they proclaim, and in loyalty to the beautiful "Home Town."

(Extract from letter of Mrs. Stewart, grandmother of Mrs. Edwards, to Miss Wilson, dated March 1st, 1836, as contained in "Our Forest Home.")

"Our new church will be ready for service in May or June. I believe the Managers have some intention of applying at home for help, as we have seen in the papers accounts of some subscriptions towards churches in Canada, and I think as several years ago there were 75 pounds collected for us by our own near family and friends, there might be some addition made for the same purpose by the public."

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

Rev. C. H. Coon and Rev. Isaac Couch exchange pulpits to-morrow morning.

The Epworth League meeting of Charlotte St. Church young people of Monday night is withdrawn.

Miss Carrie Reesor, of Markham, will sing at the morning and evening service at George St. Methodist Church to-morrow.

It was found necessary to postpone the debate announced to be held at St. John's church last night. The subject will be treated at a later date.

Mr. James Girven, the new market clerk entered upon his duties to-day. He is a jovial, capable man, and no doubt will fill the position with entire satisfaction to all.

The Bugle Band and No. 3 Company of the 57th Regiment held a successful smoker in the recreation rooms at the Armouries last evening. The attendance was large and the fine program given was enjoyed by all.

The debate between the Ennismore T.A.S. and the local T.A.S. which was to have been held last night, was postponed. It will take place on Tuesday, April 4th, instead.

At the W.C.T.U. meeting at the public library yesterday afternoon Sheriff Hall gave a lecture on "Juvenile Crime."

The office of the immigration officer has been besieged to-day by farmers and others in quest of help. Owing, however, to the non-arrival of immigrants off the steamship "Corsican" and another vessel which docked yesterday, he has been unable to supply all the men who applied. They will, however, be here by Monday, and farmers can then be supplied.

An Unfortunate Condition

Covered with mud from head to foot from having fallen in the mud, a young man with a club foot presented a very sad sight at noon to-day. It appears that he is endeavoring to raise enough money to secure a rest for his foot, the one which he now has being pretty well worn out.

He had yielded to drink, however, and was in a badly intoxicated condition.

SPECIAL NOTICE

The UPPER GALLERY entrance for the entertainment of The Sheffield Choir at "The Grand" Monday, April 3, will open at 7.30 p.m. for the sale of $1.00 seats in the front rows of the gallery. At 8.00 p.m. the remaining seats will be put on sale at 50c.

The performance will commence at 8.15 sharp.

Why it Will Pay You to Buy
Invictus Shoes

You'll know the difference between good and bad leather only after you've worn it.

It's then that the inferior leather [illegible]its defects, both in looks and wearing qualities.

When you buy a pair of shoes you are at the mercy of the maker.

If he puts inferior leather into them he's going to lose your future trade.

But if he uses good, high grade, selected leather, it means that your purchases won't stop with the one pair—you'll become a permanent buyer.

Men who buy one pair of Invictus Shoes keep on using them from year to year.

Because Invictus Shoes are made of the best selected leathers, by skilled workmen, on modern machinery, over stylish, up-to-date lasts.

They're made with the object of giving the maximum of wear, style and comfort that any shoes can give.

Big Reductions on Prayer and Hymn Books — King George Edition

TORONTO 262 Queen W. | Routley's | PETERBORO 379 George-st.

Yes, I wear a BUCKLEY, the hat with a real guarantee!

Every man who recognizes the importance of being well-dressed will surely welcome the announcement of the Buckley Hat guarantee. By reason of this guarantee, you may figure safely on the life of your hat as four months at least—provided you wear the "Buckley." No chance of additional hat outlay—the guarantee treats you to a new hat if the Buckley you buy to-day isn't perfectly good four months hence.

Even accident is provided for in this all-embracing Buckley guarantee. No matter how badly a Buckley hat is damaged—if nothing remains but the label and the guarantee slip—these alone will entitle you to a new hat, provided the date on the guarantee shows the hat to have been less than four months in use.

But it's not the guarantee feature alone that should induce you to select the Buckley. There's another vital feature in hat selection—style is just about as important as quality.

There again the Buckley claims your serious consideration. Although English in make, these hats are built on American lines—and more graceful, more becoming lines, you never yet saw in a hat.

In both material and workmanship, the Buckley excels all others. UNION MADE, and with highest grade felt, they have the wear in them to warrant the remarkable guarantee of their makers. Sold at all leading hat shops at $2.50.

Other hats may give satisfaction—the Buckley simply must.

OXFORD CREW WON ANNUAL BOAT RACE BY THREE LENGTHS

Over Quarter Million People Watched Big Event—New Record of 18.29

Special to The Review.

Putney, Eng., April 1.—The Oxford University crew won the sixty-seventh annual boat race held here to-day by defeating the Cambridge eight by three lengths. With the win, the victorious crew established a new record of eighteen minutes and twenty-nine seconds for the course, which is four and a quarter miles, and between Putney and Mortlake.

The previous record was eighteen minutes and forty-seven seconds. Spectators to the number of two hundred and fifty thousand watched the race at different points and the young Prince of Wales was amongst those present.

WADDELL THE STRIKEOUT KING

The Rube Holds the Record and Not Walter Johnson

Chicago, April 1.—Contrary to the general belief Walter Johnson doesn't hold strike-out record of the American league. True, he surpassed Waddell's record of 301 strike-outs in 1903, but the fact was overlooked that in 1904 Waddell followed up his wonderful performance of the preceding year by striking out 343 men in 46 games, in which he worked an average of nearly eight whiff victims per game.

Last year Walter Johnson caused 313 men to strike out in 42 games, and this performance was widely advertised as the best major league performance. Such was not the case, as Waddell's record was considerably better. The mistake was due to an oversight, as all the record books credited Waddell as holding the record of 301. So Rube Waddell still rules supreme, although his star as a major leaguer has set. Not only does Rube ho.d the season strike-out record, but the single game as well with 16. Fred Glade when a member of the St. Louis Browns equalled the fact.

When one thinks of the many marvelous performances of Waddell, it certainly seems a shame that a man endowed with so much natural ability wasn't blessed with more gray matter. It is questioned if Waddell's strikout record will ever be surpass-ed, now that Johnson's great performance was for naught. Despite his greatness, Waddell never got real big money. It is doubtful if he ever received over $4,500 for his services, and quite a few pitchers lacking the ability and drawing power of Waddell have received more than that.

FLANAGAN MAY REFEREE BOUTS

There is a great possibility of Tom Flanagan refereeing bouts here, as Manager Breen expects to come to terms with the greatest sport promoter in all Canada. Too much cannot be said of the same and original Tom, and it would be a treat to see him the third man in the ring here Friday night.

A large consignment of seats have been asked for.

Clubs who wish to attend the bouts will find it better if they get their seats en bloc.

A bumper house is assured. Lang's next bout after Peterborough will in all probability be for the world's welterweight championship, and there will be a lot of bidding for the bout, and don't think Peterborough will not be in the running.

LECTURE TO THE BOY SCOUTS

G. C. Wainwright Spoke on Canadian Currency

The first, second and third troops of Peterborough Baden-Powell scouts held a joint meeting in the armories last night and were addressed by Mr. G. C. Wainwright, manager of the local branch of the Ottawa bank.

About one hundred scouts heard the lecture, and every one gained some interesting and useful knowledge of Canadian currency, which the speaker had chosen for his subject.

Referring to the period of the French tenure of Canada, Mr. Wainwright said that beaver skins were used for money, though later French, English and Mexican money was used to some extent. Then a curious thing happened, which has had some significance on the history of Canadian currency.

The French Governor, finding that he had not the money to pay his troops, took a pack of ordinary playing cards, cut each card into four pieces, marked each piece good for a certain amount and affixed his signature. This was the first paper money ever used in Canada. It was in circulation for over 30 years, when after the capture of Canada the British government called it in, paying full value for each "bill."

Gradually developing his subject, he brought his hearers up to the present time, when there are 27 banks in Canada, and each bank's bills being guaranteed by the other twenty-six banks. He said that Canada owed much of her progress and development to its reliable banking system. As one writer had said, if a country needs anything besides a firm, unprejudiced system of justice, it is a stable currency. This the banks of Canada are giving to the Canadian people. The speaker said that as bank notes and government notes had replaced the silver an gold coinage in large transactions, so were bank cheques replacing the notes. Every bank is anxious to get its notes or bills into circulation, for the same reason that an individual would like to pay his debts with his notes, which would not come back to him for payment for a long time, perhaps never.

At the conclusion of the address Scoutmaster Hughes (No. 1 troop), congratulated the speaker on the manner in which, by his choice of material and easy but impressive style, he had made what was usually such a dry subject, so interesting. Personally he thanked Mr. Wainwright for the information he had received from the address, and moved a vote of thanks to him.

This motion was seconded and carried. Headscoutmaster Neil accorded Mr. Wainwright a hearty vote of thanks.

Mr. Wainwright replied that he considered it a privilege to address the scouts, regretting only that he had taken such a dry subject.

The meeting then broke up and the different troops formed up by themselves to transact their individual business.

There are now 1,500 emigrants waiting at Antwerp for transportation to Canada, the traffic being diverted from the United States.

An unconfirmed rumor says that the Chinese had surrounded and were attacking Blagovestchensk, capital of the Amur Province, in Asiatic Russia.

BRUTE PASSION.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Mrs. A. A. R., St. Thomas, an R.C., asks in the World yesterday how it is that mixed marriages are only matters of "brute passion" when not performed by a priest. When performed by a reverend father they are all right. How is that, Mr. Ed.tor! Is the church trying to wipe up out altogether?

Yours truly,
INQUIRER,

CUT AND DRIED.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—The Times this morning gives out the news of the fate of the local Liberals. "The leaders of the Liberal party in Peterborough county;" the Times says, "have decided that Mr. Hall will again represent the West and Mr. Stratton the East." The Liberal party in Peterborough has everything decided for it without asking their leave, like a lot of pumpkin-headed sheep. They have got that party by the neck and are just throwing it on their backs like a bag of potatoes. Hurray for the Farmers' Bank and Shovel Works!

Yours truly,
UNCLE JOSH,

Peterborough, April 1, 1911.

THE SHEFFIELD CHOIR.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Allow me to draw the attention of your readers to an event of great importance in the musical life of our city. I refer to the visit on Monday next of the Sheffield Choir.

This magnificent organization will number 225 strong, and will give a program of considerable diversity. The members have been required to sign a contract to attend 100 rehearsals before leaving on their world tour. Such a fact should alone show the possibilities of their work, especially when it is under the guidance of one of the greatest choral conductors of the day. I have taken the liberty of suggesting as numbers on their program two choruses from Handel's "Messiah," namely "And the Glory of the Lord" and "The Hallelujah Chorus." These numbers call for a treatment not to be expected from a small organization, and from such as the Sheffield Choir will be a revelation to many.

It is commendable on the part of those having the local concert in charge that they should trust an engagement involving the largest guarantee ever made to any visiting organization, and I hope for the good name of our city the Sheffield Choir will have a capacity house.

I understand they only visit Peterborough between Kingston and Toronto, having originally intended visiting Belleville.

An outstanding feature of their visit is that Dr. Elgar, the greatest English composer, will conduct some of the concerts, and it may be assumed the choir is an aggregation of good merit when Dr. Elgar consents to become identified with it in the position of conductor.

Every choir member should hear hear them, and I would predict a revolution in the work of choirs in this city if the lessons learned at the concert are taken to heart.

Yours truly,
JOHN CRANE.

Ford Model T Runabout
For $875.00 Fully Equipped

FOR THREE YEARS the MODEL T FORD CAR has been making a record for sales and well merited popularity never before even approached by any other make of car. But the MODEL T has not previously been supplied with a RUNABOUT body and prospective buyers have been clamoring for it; one of the results is shown in the style of car illustrated above: the classiest, most practical Runabouts ever produced.

PRODUCTION HAS BEEN UNDER WAY for several months and deliveries can now be fairly promptly made.

IT IS THE SAME CAR, the same Ford engine, the same Ford transmission, and throughout are the same FORD features that have won for this MODEL T FORD 30,000 sales and the foremost place in the rank of successful cars.

ONLY SUCH CHANGES HAVE BEEN MADE as were necessary to give this model the long rakish appearance and the PLEASING "SURE-TO-BE-POPULAR" lines which the illustration shows the car possesses.

The price includes the following equipment: Top, Brass Frame Glass Wind Shield, Speedometer, Gas Lamps, Generator, 3 Oil Lamps, Tubular Horn, and Kit of Tools.

Catarrhal Deafness

Successfully Treated By

Catarrhozone

Deafness is not so common as blindness, yet thousands are more o less afflicted by it, and their comfort seriously interfered with.

Catarrhal deafness manifests itself but slowly, yet it must be acknowledged that the great majority of those who become totally deaf might have averted this unfortunate condition if they had treated the catarrhal inflammation at its beginning.

The only remedy that can be safely employed for all forms of catarrhal deafness is Catarrhozone. You simply charge the air you breathe with this healing, soothing agent, and by forcing it gently through the ears destroy the germ life which keeps up the inflammation, and at the same time by the soothing, healing action it heals the inflamed surfaces of the middle ear.

CATARRHOZONE, to those who are just a little deaf, and are growing increasingly deaf, is an agent capable of affording the utmost satisfaction, and its use is attended without danger, and as the treatment can be carried on at home no person threatened with the affliction of deafness should postpone one moment in beginning its use.

From every part of the Dominion glowing accounts of the beneficial action it exerts upon catarrhal conditions of the middle ear have been sent in, and you will be resorting to the only method of cure, and the simplest method too, if you try Catarrhozone. Dealers everywhere sell it, 25c, 50c, and $1.00. By mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes, and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost if the eye brows are thin and scanty; and the lashes are short and lifeless. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a [illegible] preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. A two weeks' treatment will bring beauty to your eyes that you have never before possessed. By mail, prepaid, in opal boxes, on receipt of price, fifty cents. B. V. A BLAZED TRIAL OF THIRTY MILES

A Story of a Trip From Peterboro by Pioneers

Recently the Farmer's Advocate offered prizes for the best pioneer stories, the competitors being very numerous. Despite the life of Mrs. Annie Bartlett Robinson, Mrs. J. H. Taylor, of Bobcaygeon, in her story gives this description of a trip through the woods:—

"Mrs. Robinson and her two brothers, boys of sixteen and ten, respectively, came to Verulam to prepare for the coming of the rest. They walked the whole way from Peterborough by a route which must have been thirty miles, much of the way a mere blazed trail through the bush. In one place they waded water for nearly a mile, and, be it remembered, each carried a load of clothes, or provisions. Night overtook them in a big swamp, which they crossed on fallen logs, guided by a little dog. The writer knows that swamp and would not care to cross it even by daylight on fallen logs, and she does not wonder at Mrs. Robinson's statement, "I was wet to the waist, my dear, from slipping off the logs, and when we came to an old log shanty where you turn up to go home, we were so thankful to get shelter. There we were, the two boys and I, without fire or light, but glad of the shelter. I was too tired to feel. I just laid down and slept, but we never would have found our way without the little dog. He scented human footsteps ahead of us, and would run on and whine until we came up and then we would go on again."

WATERY BLOOD IN THE SPRING

How to Get New Health and New Strenth at This Season

Even the most robust find the winter months trying to their health. Confinement indoors, often in overheated and nearly always badly ventilated rooms—in the house, the office, the shops and the schools—taxes the vitality of even the strongest. The blood becomes thin and watery or clogged with impurities. Some people have headaches and a feeling of langour; others are low spirited and nervous; still others have pimples and skin eruptions; while some get up in the morning feeling just as tired as when they went to bed. These are all spring symptoms that the blood is out of order, and that a medicine is needed. Many people rush to purgative medicines in the spring. This is a mistake. You cannot cure these troubles with a medicine that gallops through your system and leaves you weaker still. What you need to give you health and strength in the spring is a tonic medicine that will enrich the blood and sooth the jangled nerves, and the one always reliable tonic and blood-builder is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills not only banish spring weaknesses and ills but guard you against the more serious ailments that follow, such as anaemia, nervous debility, indigestion, rheumatism and other diseases due to bad blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new, rich, red blood, which strengthens every nerve, every organ, and every part of the body, and makes weak, ailing people bright, happy and strong. Mrs. Jas. McDonald, Harcourt, N.B., says: "In my opinion Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do all that is claimed for them. My system was run down, and I was so weak I could hardly do my work, and taking care of my baby added to my difficulties. I used a few boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they made me feel like my own self. I very cheerfully recommend the Pills to all who are weak and ailing."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LITTLE PILGRIMS OF THE BOOK BELOVED

Presentation of Play by Children of All Saints'

The children of All Saints' Sunday school have been trying for some time to present the above religious play, which will be held in the parish hall next Thursday night. The play is really a presentation of the work and worship of the English Church. Two pilgrims from afar having heard of the gospel, come to seek it, and are directed to Mother Church. Mother Church calls and presents to them the various parts of the Book of Common Prayer, Morning Prayer, Evening Prayer, Litany, Catechism, Holy Communion, Psalter, Ordinal, Holy Baptism, the Articles, etc., etc., who each teach the pilgrims a phase of the Christian religion. These are all bound together into one book by King Edward VI., and being acceptable to the Pilgrims, are taken back to the heather lands, Mother Church accompanying them to signify that missionary zeal is the work of the church. It is a beautiful little allegorical play, and all, especially Anglicans, should see it.

DEATH RATE IS BECOMING LESS

In Eastern Provinces of Plague Stricken China

Toronto, April 1—With special care and medical attention the daily death rate in the cities in the two eastern provinces of China is decreasing, but in the villages the terrible plague is daily blotting out lives by the hundred.

"The death rate is falling off in the cities," stated Dr. W. J. Scott, of Montreal, who is in China under the Presbyterian Foreign Mission Board. The letter was received at the head office here this morning from Changte. "At Harbin the death rate has fallen from 200 a day to 40, and at Murkden, 20 or 30 per day, but it it spreading in the villages where the quarantine and sanitary regulations are more difficult to enforce.

CONCERT OF PARK STREET CHURCH MISSION BAND

Good Program and Presentation of Annual Reports

The Mission Band of Park Street Baptist church held its annual meeting last night, and the reports, interspersed with a very interesting program, were received with great interest by all. The Mission Band has had a successful year, and much good work has been done.

Several of the numbers on the program were particularly well given, and altogether the evening was one of great enjoyment for all. The pastor, Rev. W. C. Riddiford, was chairman, and the program as follows—

Opening Hymn—"From Greenland's Icy Mountains."
Chairman's Address—Mr. Riddiford.
Piano Solo—Norma Moore.
Recitation—"Pa's Housecleaning," G. Moore.
Dialogue—Miss Canada's "At Home."
Secretary's Report—Miss M. Smith.
Bo-Peep Drill—Six boys and six girls.
Piano solo—Tommy Tayler.
Dialogue—Turn About is Fair Play.

The part of Miss Canada was taken by Miss Hill and her visitors at her home were representative of different countries. She was assisted by Misses Follis, Eagleson, Ida Eagleson and Hazel Gillespie.

Throughout the presentation the missionary duty of all toward the necessary missions was clearly brought out. The other characters were Mr. Moore, A Poland; Mr. Harold Follis, Western Cowboy; Harry Hill, Japanese; Harry Evans, Western Farmer; Gregory Smith, Jew; Miss N. Smith, Chinese Woman.

NONE TOO SLIGHT NONE TOO SEVERE

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure All Cases of Kidney Disease

Scores will tell you as Philip Viberl does, "I feel a lot better since taking Dodd's Kidney Pills"—The best Spring Medicine.

Miscou Light House, Gloucester Co., N.B., March 31.—(Special.)—So many remarkable cures of serious diseases by Dodd's Kidney Pills are recorded in the newspapers that one sometimes wonders if they are equally good for those slight Kidney troubles, which take the joy of living out of the lives of so many plain, every-day people. And investigation in this neighborhood shows that no case of Kidney Disease is too slight or too severe for Dodd's Kidney Pills to cure. Take one example. Mrs. Philip Vibert says—

"I am pleased to tell you I am feeling a lot better since taking Dodd's Kidney Pills. I recommend them to all who suffer from Kidney Trouble."

Scores of others tell you the same thing. Dodd's Kidney Pills are a splendid tonic because they strain all impurities out of the blood and help circulation. For the same reason they are the very best spring medicine.

HINTS ON READING BOOKS

Lyman Abbott in an essay written many years ago, entitled "Hints for people that do not read" laid down the following rules in regard to the study of books—(1) Begin with what is congenial. Choose not what you ought to know, but what you want to know. Therefore let no one else choose for you. It is a rare mind that can keep itself to a course of distasteful study. It is not safe for anyone to assume, without proof, that he has a rare mind. (2) Begin with a short course. Do not lay out for history Hume, Macauley and Miss Martineau, with the idea that when you have finished these fifteen volumes you will be well versed in English history. That is very true; but you will never finish them. Read one thing at a time, and that short and simple. (3) Buy a dictionary, an atlas and if possible an encyclopedia, if you have got the money, make over an old bonnet. No harm will be done if it cultivates a habit of making over old bonnets. Equipped with dictionary, atlas and encyclopedia never pass a word you do not know nor a geographical situation that you do not comprehend.

It perhaps strikes few people that the romance of reality, is far more strange and far more interesting than the romance of fiction. Even in what some people would call the dry-as-dust study of books there is a wonderful wealth of enchanting facts that are capable of raising the most intense interest and of turning the most soulless creature of clay to a being of alert mind and spirituality. Think of it. Elihu Burritt in the few pauses of his work at the blacksmith's forge, learned his first languages. Mary Somerville, author of the "Mechanism of the Heavens" wrought out her great work in the bustle of a nursery. Dr. Schliemann, whose splendid work some thirty years ago as a Greek explorer made him world-famous started life as an errand boy in Amsterdam, and whilst waiting in the line for his turn to be called studied his first books. Sir Alexander Ball made it a rule always to have a book on his dressing table so that he might even there snatch a few sentences from whatever work he chanced to be reading.

Boys of Peterborough, if you need something to hearten you for the battle of life read Smiles' Self Help. It is a wonderfully interesting book, full of anecdotes of men and women, who, starting from the humblest beginnings made themselves famous in every branch of human endeavor. Read everything that Dr. Smiles wrote, that deals with the activities of life. He was a busy man, Secretary of one of the great railway lines of England, yet he found time to pen the Lives of the Engineers, as well as those other splendid works with forbidding titles, "Duty," "Character" and "Thrift." Gladstone once said that he had found the greatest help from reading Smiles' works and if such a famous man as he could find it helpful, how much more can those of us who are still at the foot of the ladder.

LIST OF WALKS AND SEWERS TO BE BUILT THIS YEAR

Attention of Board is Again Called to the Concession Street Drain—Other Matters

Ed. Courtney, Concession street, Ashburnham, appeared before the Board of Works at the meeting held last night, with the request that the creek or ditch on the west side of Concession street, and in front of his property, receive the attention of the Board.

Ald. Anderson first brought the matter before the Board.

Mr. Courtney stated that if the Board would put in a drain pipe nearby residents would do the filling in with ashes and other material. There was no sidewalk on the west side of the street at his property, and he had trouble both summer and winter. He pointed out that the roadway at this point was 20 feet wide, the creek was 26 feet, and on the other side of the road was another smaller ditch. The conditions were such that accidents had occurred.

The chairman, Ald. Metheral, promised that the matter would receive the serious consideration of the Board. The engineer will report.

SEWER CONNECTIONS.

John Irwin, stewart street, asked for a sewer from the corner of Bethune and Murray streets, and up Stewart. It was impossible, he said, to secure all the signatures, as two houses on Murray street, near the creek, would not sign.

The engineer was asked to report.

The tender of R. Hicks and Co., for supplying the cement to the city for the year, was accepted. The Peterborough Hardware Co. also sent in a tender and both were the same price of $1.65 per barrel, in paper bags $1.75 per barrel, or ten cents extra for sacks, the same to be redeemable.

Mayor Morrow suggested that it might be as well to divide the contract between the two firms, but nothing further was said by the members.

The motion that R. Hicks be given the contract was moved by Ald. Duncan, seconded by Ald. Graham.

THOSE STONES AGAIN.

D. W. Dumble, K.C., wrote asking that payment be made to him to the extent of $36 for six cords of building stone taken by the city's employees, and used by them in the interests of the city.

Street Commissioner Evans was asked to explain, but he stated that at the time the stone was taken, he did not know for sure whether the city's employees or other parties had taken them.

It was decided to take no action in the matter, on motion of Ald. Brown and Ald. Graham.

Andrew Brotherson, Concession street, asked for a crossing at Hazlitt and Cady streets.

The city engineer noted that this crossing, although not just in the exact position asked for, was included in the list to be constructed this year.

A sewer connection in front of A. E. Micks', on Hunter street, and at the creek, has become obstructed, and on motion of Ald. Graham and Duncan the Board will have it relaid. The city engineer is to report.

SEPTIC TANK.

Dr. McCullough, of the Provincial Board of Health, wrote to the effect that no trouble had been experienced with septic tanks, when they had been properly constructed. If, however, the tank did not give satisfaction, the city would have to remedy the trouble.

Engineer Hay had written and submitted the plans for a tank to be placed at the river bank on Waterford street.

WALK AND LIGHT.

Ald. Duncan asked for an arc lamp between Higgins' corner, at Water street north and the Isolation Hospital, and it was granted. Ald. Duncan suggested that a gravel walk or board sidewalk be laid from the corner to the hospital. This matter was referred to the engineer and chairman.

There were present at the meeting Ald. Metheral, chairman; Mayor Morrow, Ald. Brown, Ald. Kernaghan, Ald. Graham, Ald. Butler and Ald. Anderson.

"Marvelous Recovery"

Montreal Man So Ill With Dyspepsia Thought He Would Die.

No more convincing evidence was ever put on paper than the following letter from one of Montreal's well-known citizens, Mr. D. R. Larose, of 338 Joliette street.

"Permit me to write you a few words concerning Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I suffered from dyspepsia and indigestion for five years. I suffered so much that I could hardly attend to my work. I was weak and lost all courage. I enjoyed no rest until I decided to follow your treatment, after having read your advertisement in the paper. To my great surprise I immediately began to feel better. I am now using the second box and I feel so well that I want to tell you that I owe this great change to your famous pills. I recommend them to every person who is suffering from dyspepsia. Your grateful servant, D. R. Larose, 338 Joliette st., Montreal, P.Q.

OBITUARY

Death of Miss Kelly

Death of Miss Kelly—

Miss Mary Kelly, aged 82, died at her home, 142 Maria street, last night after a lingering illness. She was a life-long resident of Peterborough, and had no near relatives.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon to St. Peter's Cathedral at 3 o'clock, and thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

Mrs. Dawson's Death

Miriam Hodgson, relict of the late William Dawson, of South Monaghan, peacefully passed away at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. P. E. Rutherford, 541 Aylmer street on Thursday evening, March 30th, aged seventy-nine years and eleven months.

Deceased was born at Whitby, Yorkshire Co., England, April 27th, 1831, and, at the age of eighteen came to Canada with her sister, who was the late Mrs. Hancock of Bethany.

Her husband predeceased her thirty one years ago, leaving seven step-children, five of whom are living, viz., William, Nichol, Peter, George and Thomas, all of South Monaghan, and Cavan townships. She also leaves to mourn her loss seven children, Mrs. J. J. Kerr, of Souris, Man.; Mrs. Dr. Marshall and Mrs. P. E. Rutherford, of Peterborough and Henry Weiford, Clarence and William Fell, of South Monaghan.

During the last fifty years she has been a constant resident of South Monaghan, where she always took an active part in charity and church work, being a faithful worker in Bailieboro Methodist church, where her presence will be missed.

Up till the very last she retained great physical and mental vigour. Her hospitality was proverbial even in the hospitable community in which she lived. Especially did she assist the needy, and never turned a deaf ear to a tale of distress.

"Her house was known to all the vagrant train
She chid their wanderings, but relieved their pain."

The funeral will leave the residence of her daughter, Mrs. P. E. Rutherford, 541 Aylmer street on Sunday morning, April 2nd, at 10 am., and proceed to South Monaghan cemetery for interment.

Optical Institute Creed

We believe in the glasses we are supplying that in quality, style and accuracy, they are unsurpassed. We believe that honest glasses can be supplied to honest people by honest methods. We believe in working, not waiting, laughing not weeping, in boosting not knocking and the pleasure of the practice of optometry. We believe we are getting the optical practice that we are after, and that there is plenty to get for men who are ready. We believe in to-day, and the work we are doing, in tomorrow and the work we hope to do, and in the rewards of both. We believe in courtesy, in kindness, in generosity, in good cheer, and in honest competition. We believe this is an order for a pair of glasses ready for every man who is ready to take it. WILL MR. STRATTON FORSAKE WEST RIDING NEXT ELECTION

Many Indications Point to This Course—Mr. Stratton To-day Says it is Not Improbable But Says He Knows Nothing.

The rumor that Hon. J. R. Stratton would contest the east riding in the coming Dominion election, and that R. R. Hall, ex-M.P., would undertake to carry the west, came as rather a surprise to many local people, but it was regarded as having many earmarks of truth.

That Mr. Stratton would find it very difficult to get elected again in West Peterborough is generally admitted. Several things have cropped up since the last contest which would certainly militate against him. The reciprocity business is decidedly unpopular in the west riding, composed of a partly rural and partly urban constituency, the latter strongly objecting to him supporting the reciprocity business. Mr. Stratton has undertaken to line up with his party on the question and it is apparently figured out that it would be safer to trust to a purely rural constituency for re-election, after such a course.

Whether East Peterborough would choose an outsider for a member against a farmer, and a popular home man, isn't very hard to decide, but apparently the Liberal party managers are figuring out that it is the lesser of two evils.

The strength of religious feeling in the west riding may also be carrying weight in the apparent decision of the party managers to let someone else tackle this riding—someone who has neither placed himself on record as against reciprocity, or who would not carry other political disabilities.

Mr. Stratton was asked by a Review reporter to-day if he would make a statement on the subject. He said that it was not at all improbable, but that if such was to be the case he would have been consulted with regard to the matter, and that no one had conferred with him in this matter. If there had been any prolonged negotiations between the local party leaders upon this subject it was not at all unlikely that he would have been consulted before this. No such negotiations were going on.

NINE HUNDRED MEETINGS IN CAUSE OF PEACE ARE HELD

Entire United Kingdom Is Enthusiastic Over Prospects For Treaty With the States and a Disarmament Agreement Among the Powers—Hope In Chancellor's Attitude—Municipal Bodies Co-operating.

London, April 3.—The attitude of the Imperial German Chancellor, Dr. von Bethman-Hollweg-, has not damped British zeal for arbitration. The projected demonstration to be held in Albert Hall has been abandoned in favor of a wider national movement. It took the form of 900 meetings on Saturday and Sunday in all the cities of the kingdom.

Councils representing 10,00 evangelical free churches adopted a resolution in support of the proposed treaty and welcoming the idea of American churches observing April 2 as Arbitration Sunday. Copies of this resolution were forwarded to President Taft and Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign Secretary.

News that the negotiations had actually been begun was received at these meetings with great enthusiasm. Arbitration was the theme of most of the churches, and a great peace demonstrtion was held at the Whitefields Tabernacle, where Lord Coleridge presided. Augustin Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, was the principal speaker. After quoting:

"There is a tide in the affairs of men," he said:

"To-day there is a great tide and peace wave rolling across the Atlantic. It ought to be taken at the flood."

Referring at length to Dr. von Bethman-Hollweg's speech, he said that, though, in his opinion, it was below the grandeur of the theme, yet it contained passages of hope.

Municipal Bodies Co-operating.

London, April 3.—(New York Tribune Cable.)—There is much activity outside of religious bodies in the direction of Anglo-American arbitration. London and the great municipal bodies of England and Scotland are cooperating heartily in the organization of the national movement, and a Parliamentary committee recruited from both sides of the House of Commons has been formed for promoting an agreement between the two countries in favor of absolute arbitration. High Church Tories like Lord Hugh Cecil, are committed to it as strongly as the Scotch Presbyterians or the Welsh Nonconformists, and a series of nonpartisan public meetings already has been opened in many English towns.

The advocates of this movement for arbitration with the United States are not discouraged by the German Chancellor's lack of faith in universal arbitration and the limitation of armaments. They perceive that the German Emperor wants to break up the Anglo-American concord. They admit that England and Germany must continue their wasteful competition in battleships and guns without being affected by the logic of the situation.

The chancellor's willingness to come to an agreement with England respecting an exchange of naval information isonly a meagre gain which will not alter materially the existing condition of rivalry. The arbitration advocates reject the idea that Berlin can veto the concordat between London and Washington.

A BIG NUGGET

Melbourne, April 3.—A large nugget of gold has just been found under remarkable circumstances in a mine at Ballarat. The manager had decided to cease driving in consequence of poor returns, when one of the miners turned up a nugget, which was found to attain 300 ounces.

SHELDON COMES BEFORE COURT

Will Be Held in Pittsburg to Face Charge

Pittsburg, April 3.—C. W. Ross, alias Charles D. Sheldon, who is wanted in Montreal on allegations that he knows where the $200,000 belonging to trusting clients has gone, was arraigned Saturday upon complaint of his landlady here. It was charged that Ross, or Sheldon, had failed to account for the stock and money she had entrusted to him. About $1,185 is involved. The prisoner was held for court on this charge, and his case will be presented to the grand jury Monday morning. In default of bail, he was remanded to jail.

Dismissed the Appeal.

Edmonton, Alta., April 2.—The Supreme Court sitting en banc Saturday delivered judgment dismissing the appeal in the case of the Provincial Government against the Royal Bank to recover six million dollars of Alberta and Great Waterways bonds held by them. Some weeks ago Justice Beck made an order joining Canada West Construction Co., and the Alberta & Great Waterways Co. with the defendant bank in the suit begun by the province. To this the Government took an appeal. The chief justice was in favor of allowing the appeal, but the other three judges sustained the order of Justice Beck. The two new parties joined as defendants were given six days to file their defence. The appeal will be carried to the higher courts.

WASHINGTON'S SWORD FOUND

Was Not Destroyed in Recent Fire at Albany

Special to the Review.

Albany, N.Y., April 3.—A sword that was used by George Washington, and which was kept in the Capitol Library, and could not be found after the recent fire, has been discovered amongst the ruins. It was feared that the relic had been destroyed, but such was not the case, as it is practically intact and not damaged to any great extent.

Victim of an Accident.

Buckingham, Que., April 3.—The body of James Belter, aged 15 years, a farmer's son, was found on the St. Malachi road, nine miles from here, with a bullet hole in the breast on Saturday. He left home on Tuesday in company with another lad named Edward Kelly and had a shotgun. They were going into the bush to cut wood.

The deceased did not return at night, and it was thought he had gone to the Kelly farm, but on Thursday night young Kelly visited Belter's and said they had separated to go to their respective homes on Tuesday. Search parties started out then and located the body. The lad was shot from close quarters, and the gun was found in the snow near him.

The Hull coroner and sheriff consulted yesterday, and decided the affair was accidental.

Flags Are Flying

The flags on St. John's church and at J. J. Turner & Son's are flying in honor of the presence of the Sheffield choir in the city.

ARMED NEGROES POUR SHOT INTO A CROWD IN DELAWARE

Fierce Racial Riot Lasted For Hours—Many Casualties.

Laurel, Del., April 3—About 10 o'clock Saturday night a mob of armed negroes swooped down upon a crowd of spectators in the main thorofare of the town and fired a volley of bullets and buckshot into the crowd. Orem Stockley, 18 years old, son of a farmer living near Laurel, fell to the ground, shot through the head. He was taken to a hospital in Salisbury, Md., where he died yesterday.

Geo. Hudson, 50 years old, a white man of Bethel, was shot in the leg, necessitating amputation, and John Thompson, a white barber, was shot in both legs while shaving a patron. Other white men received minor injuries. It is known that several negroes were injured, but they cannot be located.

Officers were unable to come with the mob, and there was a fierce struggle between the two races until three o'clock yesterday morning. Windows were shattered and the exterior of buildings were greatly damaged.

BOY RETURNED

Las Vegas, April 3.—The son of A. T. Rogers, a wealthy attorney, was returned to his home early to-day by kidnappers after they had been paid $12,000 at midnight by Mr. Rogers. The kidnappers escaped.

OPERATIONS ON WELLAND CANAL

Government Engineers Commence Work — Quick Sand is Encountered

Special to the Review.

St. Catharines, April 3.—Government engineers commenced testing operations this morning on the Greenville route for the new Welland Canal. Considerable quicksand has been encountered on the Georgian Bay route.

WHY CARUSO DOESN'T SING

New York, April 3.—Superstition and not tonsilitis is keeping Caruso, the greatest of tenors, away from the Metropolitan opera stage.

It developed to-day that Caruso, a patron of fortune-tellers, has been warned that he is to meet with some injury, possibly fatal, of he appears in any opera in which shooting or stabbing occur.

Caruso has the characteristic superstition of the Italian race developed to an unusual degree, and as nearly all of the operas in which he sings have either a shooting or stabbing episode, he is heeding the warning of the fortune-teller even though it is costing him something over $2,000 for every time he refuses to sing.

6,000 MINERS OUT ON STRIKE

Coal Mines in Crow's Nest Are Tied Up

A Bitter Struggle in Prospect for Supremacy

Lethbridge, Alta., April 3.—The mines are all idle in District No. 18, U.M.W. of A., and 6,000 men along the Crow's Nest Pass line are out of work at the mines. It will not be long before a large number of railroad crews will be moved or laid off. The only mine in the Western Canada Coal Operators' Association working is the McGillivray Creek Coal & Coke Co. at Carbondale, near Coleman. The mine was idle all winter, and both the men and the company went to work under a special agreement by which all the output is contracted for in Spokane, so that it cannot supply the shortage for other companies. Should it do so, or should the Canadian Pacific Railway exercise the privilege of taking coal en route, the men will be called out immediately.

The miners blame the Canadian Pacific Railway and Lewis Stockett more than the mine managers for the whole trouble. The company has steam coal stored for five months' use, and therefore is not dependent on the operation of the mines. The other companies followed Stockett's dictation. The miners say that Jim Hill will not allow his mines to be used as a tool by the Canadian Pacific Railway to strike unionism. They expect the companies to sign up individually and thus break up the association.

Threaten General Strike.

Montreal, April 3.—The news of the great coal strike in the Canadian west has aroused intense interest among labor leaders in Montreal, but it did not come as a surprise.

It was authoritatively announced that the western miners are well supplied with funds, since they have at their back the United Mine Workers of America, whose coffers are declared to be heavy with coin.

Asked as to the likelihood of the strike spreading, a high labor authority declared that unless the demands of the men were granted, there was every chance of a long and bitter struggle, which would involve, not only every miner in the west, but also bring in every railway man and every worker in the mechanical and industrial linas.

If the officers of the Western Canada Mine Workers are arrested for having violated the Lemieux Trades and Disputes Act, a general strike may be declared all over the Dominion.

Ottawa's Epidemic.

Ottawa, April 2.—Up to noon Saturday, there were twelve cases of smallpox at Porter's Island, and another is under suspicion in the east end of the city.

So serious has the situation become, that it has been decided not to await the erection of a new wing to the smallpox hospital, and a large tent will be in readiness to-night to receive new cases.

The disease is fortunately not of a very serious type.

An Honorary Member.

Montreal, April 3—Sir Lomer Gouin, Prime Minister of Quebec, Saturday accepted honorary membership in the Canadian division of the Institute of Journalists.

It is expected that a large number of Canadian delegates will attend the annual moveable conference of the institute, which will be held in Dundee, Scotland, this year.

ASYLUM INMATE TRIED TO ESCAPE

Jumped From Window and May Die From Injuries

Special to the Review.

Kingston, April 3.—Frank Empery, an inmate of the Rockwood asylum, broke the bones in one of his ankles when he jumped from a window of the institution, in an attempt to escape. Empery ran some distance, despite the broken limb, and he may die as a result.

Moves to Windsor.

London, April 3.—Major Lamb, who is in charge of the Dominion Public Works Department here, announced yesterday that the Department is to be moved to Windsor.

The Department was opened here two years ago, and has charge of all the work between Windsor and Toronto.

Canadians Released.

El Paso, Texas, April 3.—B. W. and K. S. Langley of Winnipeg, who were arrested last night in Jaurez, were released yesterday. Both signed statements that they had set out to join the insurrectos, but were turning back to the United States when arrested.

ROSEBERY IS QUITE WROTH

Pours Hot Shot Into Ranks of the Liberals

Former Premier Says It Is Party and Not Country

London, April 3.—The partisan jockeying which has been the chief characteristic of British domestic politics since the general election was carried last week to an extreme which lends further justification to the charge made by Hilaire Belloc, A. E. W. Mason, and others, who have retired from the political arena in disgust, that the interests of the nation nowadays are being made largely subservient to the interests of party.

Lord Rosebery, who made a dramatic appearance in the debate in the House of Lords on Thursday, spoke in accents of scorn of the tactics pursued by his noble colleagues. The introducing a reform bill which could never pass. It was only an air balloon floating through the upper House, and certain to come to the usual aeronautical calamity in the lower.

After this chastening of the Unionists, Lord Rosebery lashed the Liberals with whips and scorpions, and appealed for a national, not a partisan, settlement of the question, in which the interests of the whole nation were at stake.

"The general election, after all," he said, "is nothing but a confused clamor of voices.

"You," he cried to the Government leader, "cannot achieve a settlement on these lines. You can achieve a party triumph. You can take revenge upon this House for wrongs—real in many cases, and in some cases fancied—and having done that you will have attained by party what can be undone by party. Will not the Unionists make it their first task to uproot that which you have rashly planted in the rocks by the wayside?"

Lord Rosebery pointed a finger toward Lord Morley, saying:

"He bears an honored name, a famous name. Does he wish it to go down to posterity allied with a one-sided fanatical partisan settlement? I appeal to the head of the Government, who has to settle with history and posterity the great claims which his intellect gives him to be a conspicuous power in the history of this country. How will they stand when their names are at least produced before that dread tribune from whose verdict there can be no appeal, if they conspire to law hands on this immemorial constitution rashly and recklessly, without having done anything to build, but only to destroy?"

ITALIANS RISE WITH PROTESTS

Black Hand Society in Bad Graces of Colony

Chicago, April 3.—With the confession of one Black Hand agent, the announcement of another threat against a Government official, Jas. E. Stuart, postoffice inspector, and spurred on by the long list of recent Black Hand crimes, the Italian people themselves threaten to put a stop to the lawlessness.

A reflection of the view of many Chicago Italians is seen in an article which appeared yesterday in L'Italia, an Italian newspaper in Chicago.

The article says: "An epoch of blood, of cruel slaughtering, of ferocious vendettas is what the Chicago Italian colony is going through just now. Until a short time ago, crimes committed were almost in all cases those due to passion. It is necessary that the Italians themselves for their own self-respect, and for their own protection, organize themselves to liberate the colony here from the criminals staining its name."

Return to Work.

Springhill, N.S., April 3.—Six workmen among the ranks of the strikers returned to work in the mines Saturday. This makes a total of twelve for the week. Major Thompson, commissioner of the provincial police, arrived to-day with a force of thirty men who are fully equipped for efficient service. Two of the town police were arrested on Saturday on a charge of interfering with the company's police.

JOHNSON TIRED OF JAIL LIFE

Promises to Sell All His Autos if Given His Liberty

Special to the Review.

San Francisco, April 3.—It is announced that Jack Johnson, the champion pugilist, who is serving a twenty-five days' sentence in jail, for speeding in his automobile, has promised to sell all his machines if released on parole. Johnson's request is not likely to be granted.

CANALEJAS WILL STAY AT HEAD OF SPANISH CABINET

Crisis That Arose Over Efforts of Some Members of the Cabinet to Suppress the Ferrer Debate Is Past—Rome Is Not Pleased With the Retention of the Liberal Premier—Clericals Beaten.

Madrid, April 3.—The Ministerial crisis, which appeared fraught with the greatest possibilities, seemed to have ended as abruptly as it began. It has resolved itself, seemingly to the general relief, into a second reconstruction of the Canalejas Ministry.

King Alfonso on his arrivel from Seville yesterday afternoon, immediately received Senor Canalejas and requested him to continue in power. The Premier agreed, on condition that he be permitted to make such changes in the Cabinet as he deemed necessary. To this the King readily assented.

The Premier hopes the work of reconstruction may be completed to-day and that the Ministry will appear in the Cortes without delay. The retiring Ministers probably will be Gen. Asnar, Minister of War, who was mainly responsible for the crisis by his attitude in demanding that the Ferrer debate be suspended immediately by a vote of the majority, and Senor Cobian, Minister of Finance, who appears never to have been wholly in agreement with the religious policy of the Premier.

It is understood that one of the first steps of the Premier will be to relieve the captain-general of Madrid of his command. The continuation of Senor Canalejas in power is universally regarded as the only possible solution of a crisis of exceptional gravity. Canalejas is supported both by public opinion in Madrid and the provinces, and all sections of the Liberals, as well as by many Conservatives. It is generlly believed that he alone is capable of preventing the Ferrer case from developing into a Spanish Dreyfus affair, thus adding a serious element to the present difficulties.

The Socialist feeling seems to be passing, and the army, which has been so bitter in the Ferrer case, now seems to have changed its attitude. It is understood Canalejas, with a view a complete conciliation, intends to make a vigorous speech when the chamber resumes, eulogizing the army and defending it from recent attacks.

Vatican Talks of Difficulties.

Rome, April 3.—The report that Senor Canalejas has been summoned to form a new Cabinet is not welcomed by the Vatican, but at the same time the opinion is held that his new lease of power will not be for long. The Vatican officials base their belief on the fact that there are three questions of grave import which will confront the new Cabinet. These are: First, the Moroccan situation; second, the associations bill, which, it is said here, is opposed even by those outside the religious congregations.

Seized Twenty-Three Deer.

Sherbrooke, Que., April 3.—The carcasses of twenty-three deer were seized here on Saturday morning by Customs Officer C. L. Deseve. Seven others were seized earlier in the week. It is stated that the deer are killed in Maine and smuggled into Beauce County, and from there shipped to Montreal. The animals seized Saturdayq morning were accompanied by a man named Sansan, from St. Prospere, who came along for the purpose of seeing what had happened to his previous shipment. Many of the deer seized were fawns.

Succeeds Dr. Saunders.

Ottawa, April 3.—Joseph Grisdale, agriculturist of the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa, has been appointed director of experimental farms, in succession to Dr. William Saunders, who has just resigned on account of ill-health. Mr. Grisdale entered the Government service in 1899. He is 41 years of age.

Change In Russian Cabinet.

St. Petersburg, April 3.—Admiral Voevodsky, Minister of Marine, has resigned and has been given an appointment in the Council of Empire. Rear-Admiral Grigorovitch, the vice-Minister, is the new Minister of Marine, his appointment being gazetted Saturday night.

A FUR FARM

Winnipeg, April 3.—A number of Spokane business men have leased 2,000 acres of land north of Edmonton, for the purpose of starting a fur farm. Mink and skunk will be raised, and arrangements are now being made for stocking the farm.

DIAZ READY FOR REFORMS

Decides to Bow to the Popular Will at Last

Judiciary Will Be Improved in Personnel

Mexico City, April 3.—Committing himself to the advocacy of many of the reforms demanded by the revolutionists, although professedly bowing only to the influence of public opinion, Gen. Diaz answered his critics through his semi-annual message at the opening Saturday of the Congress. The principles of no re-election of the chief executive and incumbents of other elective offices and the reform of the electoral laws so that the privilege of the ballot may be enjoyed by those citizens "who are considered capable of voting" were advocated.

The message refers specifically to the application of the no-election principle to the naming of governors, one of the chief contentions of the discontented element throughout the republic, the president stating if a bill providing for "the periodical renovation" of the officials in question should come before Congress it would have his earnest support.

Abuse of power by Jefes Politico, another of the evils complained of by residents in the rural districts, is to be abated, according to the plan outlined by the president.

The president proposes to improve the efficiency of the judiciary through a more careful selection of its personnel and lengthening of the tenure of office. Efficacious punishment of judicial functionaries for malfeasance is to be brought about through the enactment of more stringent measures.

On the subject of the division of the great private estates, first broached by Minister Limantour is his Paris interview, the executive declared his determination to find efficient means for bringing about the innovation.

A Limited Session!

Washington, April 3.—At the Democratic caucus held Saturday night, a legislative program was adopted, which is expected to confine the activities of the coming extra session to a popular election of Senators, Canadian reciprocity, tariff revision investigation of Governmental Departments, Congressional reappointments, statehood of Arizona and New Mexico, general deficiency appropriations, District of Columbia legislation, and publicity of campaign contributions.

The membership of the various committees and the appointment of officials will also be decided upon.

Honored a Compatriot.

New York, April 3.—Two hundred guests attended the banquet given on Saturday night at the Fifth avenue restaurant by a Canadian-French Democratic club to celebrate the appointment of Henri S. Renaud, a young lawyer of French-Canadians parentage to the position of deputy attorney-general of the State of New York. J. C. Hogue, a former Montrealer, who was president of the club, which is composed largely of French-Canadians, presided, and the principal speaker of the evening was Lieut.Governor Thomas F. Conway.

WHITBY HOCKEY PLAYER IS DEAD

Harry L. Smith Was Seized With Coughing Spell

Special to the Review.

Whitby, April 3.—Harry L. Smith, a local hockey player, is dead at his home here, as the result of a fit of coughing, with which he was seized when he apparently had every chance of recovering, from an operation which was made on his neck. Smith was only nineteen years of age.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills Cured

"I think it should be the duty of the schools to teach children how to keep well," writes Miss Nannie E. Naydon, a well-known and highly esteemed resident of Bristol. "Ignorance of the laws of health and the use of improper remedies destroyed my vigor, and left me to the verge of invalidism. I was a girl ruddy and strong. Nothing seemed to affect me until I was about thirty. Then gas began to form in the stomach. I suffered with bloating and a general failure in strength set in. If I went upstairs my breath hurt. My system was very irregular, and until I grew pretty bad I didn't pay much heed to my condition. Then I got blue, worried all the time, wakened in the night and couldn't get to sleep again. None of the medicine I took helped me. One day I was reading of a very interesting case like mine cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I took the same treatment. It was just right—didn't physic me to death, but took hold of the weak, sick parts of my system, and set things right. It seems as if Dr. Hamilton's Pills have made me young again, and all my color, spirits, vigor, and health of former days have returned to stay."

Every girl and woman should use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly. They help a woman in many ways. Beware of the dealer who asks you to take an inferior pill on which his profit is larger than on Dr. Hamilton's. Sold in yellow boxes, 25c per box, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone, Co., Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABEL

CHANGING BASE

The intimation given to the public a couple of days ago that the plans of the Liberal party managers as to candidates for East and West Peterborough had been formulated, and which was not directly denied by Mr. Stratton, brings the question of an approaching election close home. In the view of most Conservatives in the riding, it is time that some organization for the election should be under way.

That the Conservatives should redeem West Peterborough for Mr. Borden this time is apparent to all who have made a study of the changing influences since the last election. Mr. Stratton is reported to be rather anxious to hie himself to East Peterborough. If that is true, he has not a great deal of confidence in his ability to be re-elected in West Peterborough, for it is a truism to say that Mr. Stratton will run wherever he thinks he could be elected.

In conceding West Peterborough to be a doubtful seat, and leaving it to someone else—Mr. Hall perhaps—Mr. Stratton will admit by his action that he is not able this time to carry the constituency, even by his most potent influences. The result of the protest at the last election is remembered well by the people. It is needless to use words to make its story more eloquent. Mr. Stratton's connection with the Farmers' Bank affair which is under way in the courts yet, has not contributed any towards his political popularity, nor has his stand on the reciprocity question been satisfactory to many of the people of his own party, who are opposed to the pact tooth and nail.

Mr. Stratton said some time ago that he was going to say something in the House of Commons about reciprocity. He has not availed himself yet of the opportunity to air his views, but it is likely (we speak subject to correction) that he will do so some time before Christmas.

EAST AND WEST

There has been a noticeable tendency lately on the part of the reciprocity advocates to warn the manufacturers and the business people of eastern Canada that they must not antagonize the western farmer, that to oppose reciprocity is to alienate the west, and must eventually lead to more trouble over the maintenance of a protective wall.

Hon. Mr. Fielding in a speech recently at Montreal spoke of this, and his remarks have been featured in the Liberal newspapers out to Vancouver. That is quite in line with the Liberal policy of fomenting a spirit of class hatred that can only end in the protest of the east against western aggression. No one, even in the east, will contend that the business interests—which are the interests that have made Canada—should be allowed to run the country. But neither should the free trade leaven which has been assiduously worked through the west be the determining factor in the making of Canadian trade arrangements. One way in which to split the Dominion in two—to disunite east and west—is to pursue the policy adopted by the Liberal party for political purposes.

The future of Canadian nationalism depends on the maintenance of cordial relations as between east and west. Yet what evidence is coming to hand of the creation in the prairie provinces of much undeserved and unjustifiable enmity toward the business people of the east—the men and women who make their living through manufacturing for the needs of the west. The west never will be a good manufacturing country. Geographical and climatic conditions are against it. The lack of the proximity of raw material is against it. The east must continue to be the workshop of the Dominion, as the eastern States are the workshop of the United States.

This problem of the relations of east and west is going to be the great political question of the next decade. Both political parties will have to face it, and for the sake of Canadian national unity, which is more important than any trade treaty, it is to be hoped that those in office will endeavor to minimise the efforts of trouble-makers or extremists of either side. The western people are assuming a very questionable attitude with regard to eastern enterprises. They are no more oppressed than are the eastern farmers who buy the same goods at the same prices, and the eastern farmer does not spend half of his time growling about his inability to buy American manufactures in preference to Canadian.

HELPING BUFFALO

"The Live Wire," published by the Chamber of Commerce and the Manufacturers' Club, of Buffalo, devotes its April issue to telling what reciprocity will do for Buffalo. Among other things, it says reciprocity will add 100,000 to the population of Buffalo within ten years, and that it will make that city the milling centre for much Canadian wheat, and the shipping point for much that now goes via Montreal.

"If wheat from the West is to take advantage of lake transportation rates, it must come to Buffalo," says the Live Wire. "Since it must be elevated here, why not mill it at the same time? That is the theory. Low cost of production is the result. This advantage of Buffalo as a milling centre will be greatly enhanced when reciprocity is adopted.

"Fifteen or twenty years ago, this point would not have played so vital a part in milling affairs. Then the United States produced a quality of grain suitable for fine blending, but the American hard wheats are rare now and expensive. Canadian-grown first-quality grain can be purchased for 95c., whereas the best quality of American wheat, lower in gluten and general quality than the Canadian, costs well over a dollar.

"Canada raises over 130,000,000 bushels of Spring wheat and 16,000,000 of Winter wheat a year. Of course most of this gravitates to Liverpool. Free duty would not necessarily mean a ruinous competition, America with Canada, in the growing of wheat, for the reason that the price is really determined abroad, except in years of very short crop, when the consumer should be given first consideration anyway.

"Buffalo is the logical distributing point for Canadian grain and foreign products. Reciprocity would make it an ideal centre for milling, even greater than Minneapolis. Cheapness of freight from the great elevating systems of Duluth, Port Arthur and Fort William, and cheap lake rates should make Buffalo the milling centre of the continent.

"In addition to the advantage in the congregation of materials for milling in distribution Buffalo's advantages will continue to increase. Wheat can be reshipped from Buffalo in the form of flour more cheaply than from any other port. Unusual advantages for exportation are the result."

EDITORIAL NOTES

Always put off to-night what you are going to put on in the morning.

Mr. Stratton evidently hopes to draw some cheques on the farmers' bank of good-will in East Peterborough.

Having had the annual rumor about trouble in the Conservative ranks at Ottawa, we can now settle down to welcome spring.

Ten million dollars worth of farm implements will be sold in Alberta this year, according to reliable estimates. Even the Alberta politicians are great on machine work.

Sheldon, the Montreal stock swindler, says that a newspaper in Montreal got $60,000 out of him, practically as blackmail. The people of Montreal will be doubly anxious to secure his return to Montreal to get a few details.

Champion Jack Johnson may be able to get to the solar plexus of his opponents in the ring, but he finds the law's reach a trifle too long and too strong for him.

Speaking, or rather writing of spring, puts us in mind of the fact that a Kentucky editor who wanted notify his readers that winter was going and spring was coming, wrote: "The bobolink is on the link, the periwinkle's on the wink; the sheep-bell's tinkle's on the tink, and spring has come, oh I don't think."

In Athens, they are having a big dispute as to whether the Bible should be printed in the ancient Greek, or pure language, or the modern Greek which has "evoluted" into a slangy medium. The chief objection to the old language is that it is Greek to most of the Greeks themselves.

Lansdowne's motion in the House of Lords to ask the King to permit the limitation of his prerogative for the creation of new peers, to a certain number is clever politics. It is a subject on which the Asquith ministry cannot touch without hurting itself, and the King is in a tight box. If the motion passes, it is likely to tie up the situation for some time to come.

Senator Roche said in the Senate last week that the remarks of Senators should be recorded verbatim, as in the Commons Hansard, and not left to the penny-a-liners of the press. He objected to being dismissed with a few lines, when a whole page was given to a hockey game. The obvious conclusion is that Senator Roche thinks he is as good as a hockey game, as a public attraction.

The disappearance of J. Y. Murdoch, the Jarvis lawyer, after having run through thousands of dollars of clients' money, and the arrest of Lawyer Earngey, K.C., in Toronto, for forging signatures to fake registrations of mortgages, indicate that the public needs some protection against dishonest legal men, as well as against bank presidents, managers and financial manipulators. The Law Society should undertake to make examples of men like these, not merely ungown them. That is no punishment.

That the people of Germany are not in sympathy with the belligerent Kaiseristic attitude of the government over the peace proposals, is made manifest by the newspaper comments on the chancellor's recent speech in the reichstag. They want an agreement for the elimitation of armaments with Great Britain and the United States and want it decidedly. A strong expression of German public opinion on this subject would do considerable to allay the general feeling that Germany doesn't want peace, even if it can be attained.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"You know how I feel about those damages, but if I could get the capital for the aeronef"—

"Why, you don't doubt my practical genius, do you," queried Craighead in astonishment—"in other people's affairs, I mean, of course? Why, sir, if in view of my failure with my own I can't handle other people's business then what becomes of my ability? I tell you, haughty southron, I'm good for something! I have found a billionaire, and you shall meet him."

All that day Carson watched Craighead. From a trunk covered with the labels of foreign travel Craighead took a sheet of cardboard and painted upon it an elaborate sign which bore the legend, "Craighead, Attorney and Counselor at Law." This he fastened outside the door, chuckling from time to time as the passersby paused as if to read it. After awhile he added to it, "Personal Injury Cases a Specialty."

Craighead went out late and brought back several legal looking books, which he ranged upon the dresser in dusty formidability—an old set of Illinois statutes and a tattered Broom's "Legal Maxims," from which he read unctuously such Latin aphorisms as "De minimis non curat lex," "Falsus in uno, falsus in omnibus," and the like, and lectured upon them very informatively. The remainder of the library consisted of a ten years' file of Martindale's Legal Directory, containing nothing more authoritative than lists of the world's lawyers.

"Where did you get them?" asked Theodore.

"Secondhand man," replied Craighead, "on approval. We must keep up appearances even if we have to buy 'em."

They went out for a walk to give O'Grady a chance, as Craighead expressed it, to see what he was up against, a statement that mystified Theodore greatly.

On their return Mr. O'Grady seemed to have been wrought upon by what he was "up against," for he asked Mr. Craighead if he would be so good as to give him a few minutes. Mr. Craighead looked at his watch, pleaded lack of time and asked Theodore if their business could wait. When Carson admitted that it could O'Grady said "Thank you, sir," in the tone of a porter accepting a tip.

What under heaven had suddenly raised the expelled Craighead from his despised position in the institute to a thing to inspire terror and panic Theodore could not imagine nor guess the reason for Craighead's sardonic laughter as he sat in their room drawing indictments against O'Grady and Witherspoon. He saw, however, that these were awesome documents, which set forth in a large, round hand that these gentlemen had been guilty of obtaining money under false pretenses, false imprisonment, malicious assault and the like, all done "feloniously, of malice prepense and aforethought, not having the fear of God before their eyes, but instigated thereunto by the devil," and "against the peace and dignity of the state of Illinois and contrary to the statutes in such cases made and provided."

"Theodore, when we return," said Craighead, "this room will be full of corpses knocked stiff by these impeachments of O'Grady and Witherspoon. Take the spoor of the billionaire. Hike—oh, hike—with me!" They crossed a dim field, followed a farm road and came back into the village from the opposite side. Craighead hurried Carson to a broad porch under tall elms and maples knobby with swelling buds. He pushed a button, and they waited.

At slow steps in the hall Craighead squeezed Carson's arm spasmodically. The door opened, and a low figure stood before them in which Theodore noted something familiar, and a voice not altogether strange, he thought, invited them into the "other room."

"Mr. Carson," said Mr. Craighead, "does not recognize in our host the erstwhile guide of my wandering and wabbly feet. Mr. Carson, in your new and fully established capacity as a respectable citizen let me present you to Mr. Waddy, to whose counsel, precept and example while acting as my attendant I feel myself indebted for my complete restoration to Philistinehood. Mr. Carson, Mr. Waddy!"

Mr. Waddy, ignoring this reintroduction, led them silently down the hall, past a door, which gave forth scuffling sounds, female voices and the peeping of young chickens, and took them into a snug den, the shelves of which were covered with books—tall, imposing, learned looking tomes in time darkened bindings—where they sat down in leather covered chairs gray with dust.

"So you did reely drop into the garden?" their host finally asked.

"Yes," answered Carson. "I think it was foolish to take the risk, but I did."

"Why?" queried Waddy, and Carson explained.

"Boy foolishness," said Mr. Waddy, and silence fell again, broken at last by Theodore's inquiry as to whether Mr. Waddy was active in eight banks and if he did not find his duties irksome.

"No," replied Waddy. "The things growed up on me. I never wanted to be a banker, but my rents kep' loadin' me up with deposits, an' I sort of got one bank after another—darn it!—country banks—the boys run 'em. I came here to have a quiet time in my own way, an' see how I make out. They wanted me to put on style. They reckoned I was going to when I bought this place. I could slick up an' go to stockholders' meetin's, an' the boys never knowed. An' jest as I got things right Caroline's man dies, an' here she comes to 'take care' of me! I shan't be allowed to earn a cent by workin' for Witherspoon, an' it brought me into such society. Them jags is mighty nice fellers, some of 'em."

"I thank you," said Craighead, with an excess of manner. "And as for your being condemned by family pride to sterile uselessness, it is truly a shame. But is Caroline a relative?"

"Only daughter," answered Mr. Waddy. "Come to live with me. Settin' things to rights."

"Mr. Waddy," said Craighead, "bear up under this. It may be for the best. And let us take up Mr. Carson's great project for monopolizing aviation. I have long believed that some one would turn up with the machine to subordinate all others, but since the time of Santos-Dumont, Farman and the Wrights aerial navigation has made no real progress. Mr. Carson is the genius. We offer you the unique chance to be with us comaster of the world. Mr. Carson will be glad to explain his aeronef."

"I wun't put a cent in it!" said Mr. Waddy.

Carson's heart sank.

"Certainly not," replied Craighead, as if Mr. Waddy's refusal were the most natural thing in the world, "until you have ciphered the thing down to brass nails. And then— But tell Mr. Waddy about it, Mr. Carson. You need not enter into the offers of millions we have had and spurned. Just describe the machine."

Carson switched on the lights, and they gathered about the table.

STANDARD BREAD

A London, England, paper has the following—

We are making wonderful progress along the line of safeguarding the public health through the regulation of foods and conditions under which men and women work. This progress is more marked, however, in the many efforts that are being put forth to educate the public on the nutritive value of foods.

The good educational work has been going on, however, until it has finally resulted in the public recognition of the right of health officers and food inspectors to actually set a standard for the nutritive value of foods.

Eight English physicians and surgeons, including Dr. Sir Alfred Fripp, surgeon in ordinary to the King, have issued a jointly signed statement expressing the opinion that there is a national necessity that a standard be fixed for nutritive value of what is sold for bread, the same as is already done for milk. We quote one sentence from this statement, as follows—

In view of the inferior nourishing qualities of the white bread commonly sold, we urge legislation making it compulsory that all bread sold as such should be made of unadulterated wheat flour, containing at least 80 per cent. of whole wheat, including the germ and semolian (bran coat).

There is no doubt about the drift of public intelligence toward bread that contains a larger percentage of the whole wheat than is ordinarily found in fine white flour. There is, however, much controversy regarding the digestibility of much of our whole wheat flour when made into bread. Much of the whole wheat flour bread found upon the market in this country is improperly made and not wholly digestible.

WHY THEY PARTED

A contemporary has this in a recent issue. A few days ago a young man in a nearby town, accompanied by his sister, visited a store to purchase a gift for his sweetheart as a birthday present. Thinking a book or a box of bonbons too common he decided to give her a pair of gloves and made his purchase accordingly, while his sister bought a pair of fancy stockings for herself. Both gloves and stockings were wrapped in similar packages. In some way the bundles became mixed, and the young man not knowing the mistake, sent his sweetheart the stockings accompanied by the following note:

"Dearest ———, I hope you will enjoy this little present instead of something foolish. Oh, how I wish no other hands than mine would ever touch them after you put them on, but I know, dear, that such a wish is vain. A score of fellows may touch them when I am not by your side, and other eyes than mine may see them on the street and at parties. I bought the largest pair I could get, and if they are too long you can let them wrinkle down. A great many of the girls wear them slipped down a little. Always wear them at parties. I want to see how they fit. Some fellows have dirty hands and they are likely to soil them, but you can clean them with benzine, if you leave them on till dry. I hope they are not too small. Blow in them before you put them on.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

The suffrage demonstration in London against the census was not a success.

The funeral of the late Bishop DuMoulin at Hamilton was very largely attended.

The Provincial Treasurer received $50,000 from the estate of the late Goldwin Smith.

Mr. J. H. Grisdale has been appointed Superintendent of Experimental Farms to succeed Dr. William Saunders.

The Alberta Central Railway has begun to build bridges across the Medicine and Saskatchewan Rivers west of Red Deer.

Eight foreigners were arrested at Windsor for smuggling themselves into Canada. It is said a favorite route is through the Michigan Central tunnel.

The mayor of London, Ont., has made a demand that Mrs. Thornley either retract or prove her statements reflecting on the morals of the school children. Mrs. Thornley replies, adding details to her former statement.

New Dutch Tariff.

The Hague, April 3.—The new tariff law which was introduced by the Government in the first Chamber Saturday is a moderately protective one in in character. Its sponsors claim that while it will bring in an additional 10,000,000 guldens of revenue annually, the new duties will not be so onerous as to keep out foreign imports. A gulden is the equivalent of 40 cents in Canadian money.

It is also asserted that the tariff will not be high enough to induce the formation of Dutch trusts to put up the price of raw materials. The general idea is that half manufactured goods shall be subject to an import duty to from three to six per cent., and valorem, and articles nearly finished, to 10 per cent. Wholly finished goods will be assessed 12 per cent. Wheat, coal, minerals, yarn, petroleum and meal for cattle would remain on the free list. Fine flour would pay a duty 40 cents per Dutch hundred kilograms; cigars, 125 guldens per hundred kilos and 20 per cent. ad valorem; cigarettes, 250 guldens per 100 kilos and 40 per cent. ad valorem.

The Government reserves the power to use retaliatory measures against other nations whenever it is thought necessary. It is estimated that 9,000,000 guldens desired from the new revenue will be used as a fund for the payment of old age pensions to working men.

Attacked Missionary.

Shanghai, April 3.—Rev. John Murray of the American Presbyterian Mission at Tsinanfu, was attacked by Chinese on March 27, 17 miles north of that place. He was badly injured about the head and body and was brought back to the mission by a Government escort. He is now considered out of danger.

An absurd report has been circulating among the Chinese that Mr. Murray had stolen a child, and some of them set upon him while he was engaged in making his regular pastoral visits. His assailants are under arrest and the Chinese officials are displaying the utmost solicitude for his recovery.

Crisis In Austria.

Vienna, March 31—The Lower House of the Reichstag was dissolved yesterday and a new election ordered.

A recent despatch from Vienna said that Czech obstruction to the passage of the estimates had brought another Parliamentary crisis. The total extra credits asked for the army and navy during the next four years amount to $105,000,000, and the Ministers intimated before the delegations that the estimates would be increased later. It was pointed out at the time that the creation of a large fleet of battleships was necessary so that Austria could keep her place with the other powers. None of the Ministers, however, have been able to state how the money was to be found, except by incurring a new debt. Stormy debates were expected when the Reichstag met.

The Careful Brother.

He sees the providential will
In every flowering clod.
He trusts in Providence, but still
Puts up the lightning rod.

He says "all happens for the best,"
But when the day is done
His treasures 'neath his pillow rest.
He guards them with a gun.

The hill of glory still he climbs
Where higher things have birth.
His faith in heaven is fifty times
More t[illegible]n his faith in earth.
—Atlanta Constitution.

Clerk Fatally Injured.

Kingston, April 3.—George Carruthers night clerk at the British American Hotel, fell down the stairway at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, and now lies at Hotel Dieu in a serious condition and with small chance of recovery. Shortly after the accident happened, Dr. Robt. Hanley was called, and later Corbett's ambulance removed the unconscious man to Hotel Dieu. It was found he was suffering from a blood clot on the brain. He has been unconscious from the time he fell, and it is not likely he will recover.

Another Remarkable Flight.

Paris, April 3.—Pierre Vedrine, who recently flew from Poictiers to Issy les Moulineaux, 208 miles in 2 hours and 12 minutes, made another remarkable flight yesterday. He left Issy early yesterday for Pau and landed near Moulin, covering the distance, 212 miles, at the rate of 77 miles an hour. Unfavorable weather compelled him to rise to a height of more than 6,000 feet, where he was out of sight of earth. He tried to keep his course by the sun and compass, but finding that he was losing his way, descended.

CONCERNING INSURANCE

To the Editor of Saturday Night.

Dear Sir,—We have placed a lot of our insurance with companies in the United States and Europe, on a contract guaranteed by a Montreal brokerage company. Some Canadian agents and inspectors say this is no good. What is your opinion?

Manufacturer.

It is quite impossible for us to give an opinion of the insurance without a list of the companies. The guarantee, as you probably know, is practically valueless; in fact, it is a question if it is not illegal, being a class of fire insurance conducted without a license. The "guaranteed contract" is only one of the thousand fakes being offered the insuring public, whose ignorance and gullibility in insurance is almost equalled by the same in regards to mining. Anything in the bargain line goes.

Contracts of insurance made with companies not licensed are not enforceable in Ontario. The public here have nothing regarding these companies but the word of the interested broker, who receives his commission on the premiums placed through him. The expense of collection in foreign countries and the delay which resulted in making collections under some policies issued by these foreign insurers are such as would result in ruin to a large manufacturer. In one case, where the loss occurred nearly a year ago, it has been found impossible to get even a reply, and the amount being small, it will not pay to sue.

In the insurance business, as in every other business, if you deal with reliable, established houses, you get what you pay for.

The object of Saturday Night in this department will be to advise, so that you shall get insurance worth one hundred cents on the dollar. There is no other insurance that eventually insures.

A Combined Treatment That Really Cures Catarrh.

Canadian weather, with its extreme cold and sudden changes, gives almost every one Catarrh, and makes it hard to cure. Some recommend internal remedies—some external applications.

Father Morriscy used both—tablets to be taken three or four times a day to invigorate the system, purify the blood, and help it throw off the disease, and a soothing, healing, antiseptic salve to be applied inside the nostrils. This combined treatment known as attacking the disease from within and without, soon cures.

"Father Morriscy's No. 26"

Mr. A. C. Thibodeau, General Merchant in Rogersville, N.B., writes on Jan. 22nd last:

"A few words as to the merits of your Catarrh Cure. For the last 10 years I have been troubled with Catarrh of the head and stomach and during that time have tried all kinds of other Remedies with no results, until I tried your Catarrh Cure which I am glad to say has cured me. I highly recommend it to those who are suffering with this disease."

Don't trifle with Catarrh—cure it with Father Morriscy's No. 26.

GIVEN ONE YEAR TERM

Peterboro Man Sentenced to Central at Belleville

Belleville Daily Ontario—Wilbur A. Deremo was yesterday afternoon sentenced by His Honor Judge Deroche to one year in the Central Prison of Ontario for obtaining goods under false pretence from Mr. A. Wallace, of this city. The charge preferred by Mr. S. R. Artis was dismissed, fraudulent intent not being proven.

Deremo, a native of Peterborough, according to his evidence, came to this city during the latter part of December last as an employee of the Grand Trunk Railway. He had abandoned his wife and family in June, 1910, in Oil City, Penn., when he first met Miss Blanche Showers, who accompanied him to this city. From Oil City he went to Franklin, Penn., where his headquarters were while he was railroading in and out of Oil City.

In sentencing the prisoner, his Honor said from his moral conduct not much mercy could be expected. Perhaps it had been his breaking away in debts and morals. Likely he did not think it a crime, but a smart trick. Sufficient punishment must be given as a corrective to him and a warning to others.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME TO VISITING SHEFFIELD CHOIR

Choir is Going to Develop Imperial Spirit in Their Songs Says Dr. Coward

The Sheffield Choir is here again on its second visit to Peterboro and this world-famous organization will be heard at the Grand Opera House to-night.

The special train arrived in the city, yesterday morning from Kingston, having given a program at that place in the evening, following a concert at Brockville in the afternoon, on Saturday, and the visitors are remaining in their coaches for meals and sleep. They go on to Toronto to-morrow morning at six o'clock.

Citizens of Peterborough are promised a great musical treat to-night. On the occasion of the first visit, the stay of the choir, in the city had to be somewhat shortened, but the circumstances are different on this trip and to-night's audience is assured of every consideration. At Kingston, where the choir received a most enthusiastic reception by the citizens, twenty-nine numbers were given. Miss Lonsdale, contralto, one of the soloists of the choir, will by special request contribute a solo, and if possible the famous number "Daddy." Miss Lonsdale is to do solo work in the 'Dream of Gerontius" at Toronto to-morrow night.

This morning at the Grand Opera House, and at the conclusion of a rehearsal, His Worship Mayor Morrow, read an address of welcome on behalf of the city, to the visitors and Hon. J. R. Stratton and J. H. Burnham, M. A. also addressed the visitors.

The address

To Dr. Charles Harris, Dr. Henry Coward and the Members of the "Sheffield Choir."

Ladies and Gentlemen:—On behalf of the Citizens of Peterborough, Canada, I desire to give you a most Cordial Welcome to your City. We have most pleasant recollections of your previous visit and were highly gratified when we learned that arrangements had been made by which we would again have the great privilege of a visit from you and of hearing you.

Your enterprising musical pilgrimage of the British Empire, cannot fail to have far-reaching and lasting results. Its effect upon choral singing and music generally in the "British Dominions over the seas" will be most beneficial, and this will influence the whole life of the people. We appreciate this, and also recognize that your tour of the Empire will assist materially in a better understanding of the different parts of the Empire with each other.

We wish to express our appreciation of the enterprise, courage and imperial spirit which has made possible this pilgrimage upon which you have started, and we hope that, while promusical enjoyment for those who will have the privilege of attending the concerts, you will thoroughly enjoy your world-encircling tour of the British Dominions.

Permit me to again bid you welcome to Peterborough, and to express the hope that not the least pleasant part of your tour will be your stay in this city.

Signed. W. G. MORROW, Mayor.

April 3, 1911.

Dr. Henry Coward replied and returned the grateful thanks of the choir, for the welcome extended to them.

"We do not come here to show you that we can beat or surpass you," said Dr. Coward, "but we want to show you what is our best. We are anxious that the British Empire shall be the best in everything."

He spoke of the uplifting influence of music and referring to the imperial spirit, remarked on by the previous speakers, said that the choir was going to develop that spirit in their songs.

SPECIAL NOTICE

The UPPER GALLERY entrance for the entertainment of The Sheffield Choir at "The Grand" To-night, April 3, will open at 7.30 p.m. for the sale of $1.00 seats in the front rows of the gallery. At 8.00 p.m. the remaining seats will be put on sale at 50c.

The performance will commence at 8.15 sharp.

ROOF OF FACTORY OF LUNDY SHOVEL COMPANY BURNED

Blaze, it is Thought, Started From Spark of Passing Engine

The Lundy Shovel Co. factory caught fire this morning at 9.25 o'clock, supposedly from a spark from a shunting engine on the G.T.R.

Employees saw the fire and were prompt in turning in the alarm from box 16, which is situated directly opposite the factory on Perry street.

By the time the fire department arrived the south-east portion of the roof was in flames, which were spreading rapidly over the building. The employees of the factory did very effectual work in holding the fire in check by the use of the factory hose.

The firemen, on their arrival, laid a line of hose from a hydrant at the corner of Perry and Bethune streets, and in a very short time the fire was under control.

Fire Chief Howard estimates the damage to the building in the neighborhood of $200. There will be an additional loss by water damaging the machinery and belts. This will probably amount to another $100.

J. J. Lundy, manager of the Lundy Shovel Co., put a staff of men to work at once to dry the machinery and belts.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

A homeseekers' excursion leaves Toronto to-morrow at two o'clock. Many prospective homeseekers to the west from this vicinity go up on the local to-morrow morning.

Losing his equilibrium in tacking at the south end of the roller rink Saturday evening, a joyful skater went down for a few new ones, and a bottle that didn't have a cough mixture label on it went flying like the last pin in a bowling alley.

The boys' department annual banquet will take place Thursday night of this week at seven o'clock. Every member of the department is requested to be on hand. Mr. Taylor Stratton, boys' secretary of Central Y.M.C.A, will give an interesting talk. Subject, "The House That Jack Built." A good program has been arranged for.

Taking St. Matthew as his subject Rev. H. R. Trumpour held the close attention of a large congregation at All Saints' church last evening. The series of sermons on the Apostles are of particular interest.

The officers of the 57th Regiment met at the Armouries Saturday night for the annual meeting. Considerable business was transacted and adjournment was made to next Saturday, when officers for the year will be elected. The first drill of the 57th Regiment for the season is called to take place to-night.

Members of the Sheffield Choir sang in several of the city churches last evening, despite notice to the effect that such would not be permitted.

At Murray Street church last night, there was not a vacant seat to be seen and the congregation was one of the largest that the church has accomodated for a considerable time. Quite a number of the members of the Sheffield choir were present, and seventeen of them were in the choir of the church. They rendered an anthem in fine manner and which was greatly appreciated. A duet by two male members of the choir was splendidly given as was also a baritone solo.

Rev. Mr. Webb's sermon was deeply thoughtful and ably delivered and was intently heard by the large congregation.

The regular meeting of Charlotte Street Epworth League was held at the conclusion of the Sunday evening service yesterday.

It was well attended and was addressed by F. G. Hassard, of the "Farm and Dairy" staff, who drew a very graphic and helpful mental picture of Christ's attitude when on trial before Pilate.

The picture has been painted by some famous artist and is entitled "Ecce Homo" or "Behold the Man."

There was bright hearty singing. R. F. Downey, the president, presided.

Senator Baird of Hanover, N.B. spent Sunday in the city with his friend, J. O'Connor, who is now identified with the operation of the Peterborough Cordage Company. Senator Baird enjoyed a drive about the city with Mr. O'Connor, and the visitor from the east expressed his delight at the progressive and up-to-date appearance of the city. He was greatly impressed at the number and the variety of the industries located here. Senator Baird promised to return and make a more extended visit in the near future.

Special Evangelistic services are being held this week, each night at 8 o'clock except Saturday in the Assembly Hall, George Street, 4 doors north of Market Hall by J. Pearson of Deseronto, and J. Lyon of Toronto. All welcome. No collection.

Another well known Peterborough boy left for the west on the 4.38 C.P.R. train this afternoon in the person of Wesley Dartnell. Wes. has been associated with the George street choir for some time and will be missed very much by that organization as well as by the many warm friends he has made during his sojourn here. All will join in wishing him every success in the great west. He is taking the trip with a view to benefitting his health, but will probably accept a lucrative position in Calgary, which has been offered him.

Why it Will Pay You to Buy Invictus Shoes

You'll know the difference between good and bad leather only after you've worn it.

It's then that the inferior leather shows its defects, both in looks and wearing qualities.

When you buy a pair of shoes you are at the mercy of the maker.

If he puts inferior leather into them he's going to lose your future trade.

But if he uses good, high grade, selected leather, it means that your purchases won't stop with the one pair—you'll become a permanent buyer.

Men who buy one pair of Invictus Shoes keep on using them from year to year.

Because Invictus Shoes are made of the best selected leathers, by skilled workmen, on modern machinery, over stylish, up-to-date lasts.

They're made with the object of giving the maximum of wear, style and comfort that any shoes can give.

WELCOMED THE VISITING CHOIR

Pleasing Event at St. John's Church School House

The Sheffield Choir was given a hearty welcome last evening at St. John's school house, where, after several short, loyal speeches had been made by Rev. Canon Davidson, Dr. Coward, Judge Huycke, R. J. Devey, John Crane and others, refreshments were served and a most enjoyable time spent.

The welcome was indicative of the warm place which the Sheffield Choir occupied in the hearts of the local music lovers.

Dr. Coward remarked that when the choir arrived in Peterborough they had no idea that they would be singled out for such a warm welcome as had been extended to them. He stated that the dominating spirit of the whole enterprise was the carrying out of the injunction, "Peace on Earth and good will towards all men." The idea of the tour of the Sheffield Choir was to closer confederate the nations of the British Empire. At the concert they would endeavor to do their very best to merit the kind words which had been spoken of them.

The affair last evening was a distinct success considering the fact that it was arranged during the afternoon. It filled in an interval of the day which might have proved tiresome except for it and great credit is due Mr. W. F. Johnston and A. E. Coulthard the wardens and the rector, Canon Davidson.

GAMING RESORT RAID BY POLICE

Officers Got Five Men, Who Pleaded Guilty to Charge---Judgment Reserved Till Thursday---Police Court News.

A successful and carefully planned raid by Chief Thompson, Detective Newhall and P. C. Meagher on Saturday evening at eleven o'clock on a gaming house at 371 George street, resulted in the appearance of six well known local men in police court this morning. Five of them were engaged in an unlawful game when caught and the other assisted by a man who did not appear, were accused of being keepers of the house.

G. W. Hatton appeared for the accused and entered a plea of guilty. Judgment was reserved till Thursday.

It appears the police have had the room where the raid occurred under close surveillance for some time. On Saturday night becoming aware that an unlawful game was in progress, the previously mentioned police officers quietly ascended the stairs leading to the room.

Leaving P. C. Meagher on guard at the top of the steps, the Chief and Detective Newhall entered the room and surprised the occupants right in the midst of their game. The stakes which were not of a very high denomination, were gathered in as evidence by the Chief and the players and the keepers of the house ordered to appear to-day.

A MISTAKE.

"It must have been a mistake," said Alexander Clarke in police court today, when charged with being drunk and disorderly, "I was looking for a bottle," he wailed. He was put out of his boarding-house yesterday.

Clarke is a Scotchman who has been here only a fortnight.

"We're fond of Scotchmen," remarked his Worship, "but not your kind."

Alexander was allowed his freedom on his promise to reform.

HAD A SKATE ON.

John Johnston created a disturbance in front of the Brock street roller rink on Saturday.

He pleaded guilty this morning and paid over $2.

PAID UP.

The two hotel employees who, while speeding their horse last Sunday evening upset Mr. and Mrs. Howden, who were also driving on George street, have paid the amount of the damages, $2.25.

They did not appear in court today.

LOST $108.

Joseph Sheridan, who came into the city from the shanties with $108 and lost it at the hands of sharpers, so it is said, faced his Worship with a very dejected air.

The week's remand had given him a chance to get the whiskey out of his system. He has no money now and has been forced to raise funds on his watch and ring.

"I'll let you go," said the Magistrate. "You can go out and make a fool of yourself again, if you want to."

AN UNBALANCED MIND.

George Finley, a mentally deficient man, who resides in East City, staggered around in the court room. He was arrested while creating a row at the home of his parents yesterday. It was seen at a glance that he was irresponsible and the Magistrate ordered him to be taken to the home of his parents again where he will be looked after.

DISCHARGED.

Henry Wright, the young Englishman, who claimed that he was afflicted with temporary attacks of insanity when he appeared before Magistrate Edmison a week ago, was discharged to-day.

He has been examined by an osteopathic physician, who reported that there is a deformity of a couple of bones in his back, and an abnormal lump on the back of his neck, which give rise to the periodical attacks of insanity, generally occurring in dull weather and the winter time.

He was feeling much better to-day and was accordingly allowed his liberty.

Good prizes are offered in the competitions this week.

GOLF

Lindsay Warder.—A very enthusiastic meeting of the Lindsay golf club was held in the council chamber last night, about twenty-five members being present, his Honor Judge Harding in the chair. For the first time in the history of the club an honorary president was elected, Mr. J. G. Edwards being elected unanimously. The regular officers were elected as follows:

President—His Honor Judge Harding.
Vice-President—R. Kylie.
Treasurer—Robt. Ross.
Secretary—L. V. O'Connor.
Captain—J. D. Flavelle.
Green Committee—His Honor Judge McMillan, R. Kylie and Geo. H. Mathie.

This year is expected to be one of the best in the history of the club and as the grounds are being put in excellent condition some interesting games will likely be played.

THE CURLERS PRAYER

I'm but a puir and dolted earle,
Wi' siller nane to spare,
The auld broon cot is patched an' thin,
The shoon are bursten sair,
There's none ower muckle coal an' wood,
The shelf is unco bare,
But I'm aye prayin' for the days
When the frost is i' the air.

The wife misca's me tae the folk,
The bairnies say I'm daft,
But there's nae curlin'
When the weather's warm an' saft,
Of a' the sounds that God has gi'en,
There's nane sae sweet tae me,
As when the bonny channel-stane
Gangs roarin' tae the tee.

Wi' withered airm, an' crookit back,
That ance was streight an' strang,
An' tremblin' limbs, an' blighted een,
I canna bide for lang.
But set me feet upo' the ice,
My han' upo' the stane,
An' pairted youth an' I shall meet
For ane short 'oor again.

Then gie me bit anither day,
Anither 'oor tae stan'
Ance mair a blythesome callant
Wi' the besom in my han';
An' when the partin' shot is played,
I'll lay me doon an' dee,
An' through the narrow port my soul
Shall rest upo' the tea.

SPORT TALK

The Winnipeg Free Press says: The fans do not need to worry as far as securing a capable manager, as the club has under its wings many good men, but the present outlook points towards Eddie Herr, the person who gave Winnipeg one pennant, as being the man to lead the Maroons this season. However, should anything happen by which the big German failed to come here, as he is demanding a big price, there is still a better trump to play, as Jiggs Donahue, former star first sacker of the Chicago White Sox, and who starred in the world's series a few years ago when the Sox won the championship by defeating the Cubs in a memorable series, is after the management of the club, but is asking a big price to come here, and if his figures are lowered there is a chance of the famous player wearing a Maroon uniform.

KNOWS HIS MILITARY

CAPT. CHAMBERS IS A PROLIFIC WRITER ON THE SUBJECT.

The Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod Has Written the Histories of Nine Canadian Regiments, a Complete History of the Dominion Militia, Many Books on the Far West, and Edits the Parliamentary Guide.

On a question who is the most uncommonly interesting man in Ottawa, it might be said—Capt. Chambers, Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod. A mere glimpse of the captain in his official togs is enough to confirm that—as per picture on this page. But it never required mere clothes to make Capt. Chambers a figure of interest. In a tweed suit he would still be the man who knows more about the military history of Canada than any other man that ever lived. Even Capt. Fred. Hamilton, of Ottawa, will admit that. Capt. Chambers has written nine military histories of Canadian regiments, including the Prince of Wales Montreal, Third Montreal Field Battery, Queen's Own Rifles, Montreal Highland Cadets, Governor-General's Bodyguard, Duke of Cornwall's Own Rifles, 90th Winnipeg Rifles, Royal Scots of Canada in Montreal, the 65th Carabiniers Montreal, a history of the Northwest Mounted Police, and a complete history of the Canadian Militia. Gentle as a book worm he bristles with points of war. The tariff may be a big subject; but the captain is better posted on the machinery that

CAPTAIN CHAMBERS.

Canada has for looking after herself in a time of war. He also knows a good deal about the remote worthwhileness of the country that our regiments exist for. He has written a number of books on the far north and the Northwest, and he knows a great deal more about the subject than most of the profound personages in the Senate where he is himself the most impressive and circumstantial figure. Of course, his intimate knowledge of the far country is not nearly a match for that of Senator Prince from Battleford; but it must not be forgotten that the Gentleman Usher of the Senate Black Rod was for two years editor of the first daily newspaper west of Winnipeg — The Calgary Herald. For two years he was both editor and proprietor of The Military Gazette.

But when all this has been said about Capt. Chambers, when you remember that he is the Captain of the Corps of Guides, that he is the direct descendant of Rear-Admiral Thomas Chambers, under Saunders on Lake Champlain, in 1759—the one most important fact about him is that for three years past he has been the author of one of the most remarkable periodical books in the world—The Parliamentary Guide.—Canadian Courier.

Rossetti's Elephant.

Dante Gabriel Rossetti, the poet painter, once told Browning that if he gave him anything for Christmas it should be a young elephant.

"But what on earth," said Browning, "will you do with an elephant if I give him to you?"

"I will teach him to clean the windows," Rossetti answered. "Then when some one passes the house he will see the elephant cleaning the windows and will say, 'Who lives in that house?' And people will tell him, 'Oh, that's the painter called Rossetti.' And he will say, 'I think I should like to buy one of that man's pictures.' So he will ring to come in, and I shall sell him a picture."

It Was Rather Unpleasant.

A constable in the municipal police had a very unpleasant experience quite recently at the hands of a couple of Austrian sailors. He was called upon to settle a dispute between the sailors and some ricksha coolies, and while executing his duty as a policeman he was stabbed in no less than ten different parts of the body. Further police assistance was summoned, but before it arrived the injured constable displayed considerable bravery and pluckily held on to his assailants until the arrival of a foreign policeman.—Shanghai National Review.

Ellen Terry's Toe.

When Ellen Terry was a little girl about ten years old she played Puck in "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and had to make her appearance through the stage floor on a trapdoor. The trapdoor was shut too soon, and one of the child's feet was caught. She screamed with pain, and Mrs. Charles Keen whispered to her: "Be a brave girl, Nellie. Finish your part, and you shall play Arthur in 'King John'." The trapdoor by this time was open, but the child's toe was broken. She, however, pluckily pulled herself together and finished her speech.

THE MARKETS

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock Etc.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

LIVERPOOL, April 1.—Wheat opened easy and about 1-8d lower, being influenced by the heavy American shipments, as indicated by Bradstreet's and smaller decrease in the monthly stocks than expected. Following the opening the general market steadied, with better support than has been in evidence for some days. Shorts were inclined to cover on the former cargoes offering and fact that liquidation is sussiding. World's shipments are expected to be much under last week and Australian offers are firmer. At the close the market was steady and 1-8d to 1-4d higher than yesterday.

CHICAGO, April 1.—In downright earnest the wheat pit was well fooled to-day. After a deceptive buying flurry, the market, contrary to general expectation, slid to the bottom price for the year. Lack of support had left an opening for a selling drive, which proved the hardest of the week. Closing figures showed but little recovery, and were ⅜c to ⅞c under last night. In corn there was a final loss of ½c to ⅝c, and on oats ½c. Provisions at the end of the day had become less expensive by a shade to 15c.

Got Big Money From Westerners.

Winnipeg, April 3.—The Railway Educational Bureau, raided in New York Friday, has secured thousands of dollars from railway men in Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Calgary and Edmonton.

For three months advertisements of this association have been appearing in local papers for engineers, brakemen, etc., at large salaries.

Complaints from Winnipeg post office started the investigation in New York. Each man was asked to deposit a fee to guarantee his fare to New York. They never heard of their money afterwards.

Native Outbreak In French Guinea.

Konakry, French Guinea, Africa, April 3.—Two officers and twelve privates were killed and two non-commissioned officers and fourteen privates were wounded during an engagement Thursday between two companies of a French expedition and natives led by the Sultan of Goumbra.

The French forces were entering the village capital of the Sultan to arrest him, as he has been active in instigating hostilities against the French authorities, because of their endeavors to suppress slavery, when they were ambushed and fired upon. The natives were armed with repeating rifles.

After a brisk skirmish, the French occupied the village. The Sultan was wounded, but escaped. A price has been placed on his head. Lieutenant-Governor Guy of the French colony accompanied the expedition.

Rev. A. T. Kingold, of Brockton, Mass., was called on to conduct the funeral of a bride, whose marriage he had officiated at six hours before.

Doctors Condemn Oily Liniments

The Public are Warned to Be Careful of These Strong-Smelling Oily Liniments Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can't penetrate, can't sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment such as "Nerviline," to be superior to any of the white, ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica, and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment—but Nerviline cured them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache, and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.

ETHEL LeNEVE'S FAREWELL LETTER TO BRITISH PUBLIC

Says She is Going to Carve Out a Destiny Anew in Another Land and Bury Her Tragedy—Wants to Have to Work Hard.

Before leaving England Ethel Le Neve sent the following letter to Lloyd's News, with a request that it should be published.

I hope that you will permit me to address a last word to the British public before I embark upon a new start in life. Not that I wish to see my name again in print.

I am weary of publicity. I want now to get away to work for my own living and try to forget the past in a land, which though not far away from my own, and among a race that is quite strange to me, may prove at least that a woman, who has endured much trial, may regain a place in the confidence of her fellows.

How can I thank the friends that have, with thoughtful delicacy, and good feeling, stood by me? If I needed an inspiration to carry me through the hours of loneliness that will come over me, the memory of their care and confidence would supply it.

They did not preach at me, or hold up before me the obstacles that would confront me when I began to plan another start in life. They led me on till I really began to believe what they said might be true; that there WAS a bright day ahead for me.

They kept me from brooding over past failures and disappointments.

My confidence in myself and the chances in this big world began to blow, and as I leave these shores, all alone, so terribly different from another journey that I undertook, and as I try to think of what the new life will be, something like my old self comes back to me. I am reconciled to the change.

I do not expect to live, of course, as if I had not gone through what I have. That would be impossible, but there is a sense in which I do not wish to forget the past. It has shown me what one can go through and still live. It has given me experiences of this world that are valuable lessons to me now, and may be more useful when I settle down to work under a brighter and warmer sun.

THE SUN WILL SHINE.

They say that the people where I am going live very much in the open. That will be a pleasure to me, I do not expect to find it all honey and mirth there, but there will be plenty to do and the sun will shine.

The world has a short memory. What a mercy for some that it has! They forget the sensations of stirring events and of trials that occupy, it would seem, nearly the best part of their time and thought. I have learned that among other things. But I can never forget a duty that I owe to a departed friend.

When it was not possible for him to say "Yes" or "No" to statements that were made about him, some stooped low enough to paint him as black as possible.

I have made it my business to make fresh and repeated inquiries as to the creditibility of certain published statements, and I unhesitatingly and deliberately repeat what I have again and again sworn to, that they are without foundation. Crippen made no confession.

As for my part in the circumstances that were investigated in the full blaze of a public court, I say again that I withheld nothing from my advisers, and always was willing to submit myself to the closest cross-examination as to ALL I knew.

It was against my judgment that I was not allowed this privilege, for I feel sure that, if I had had the opportunity, the result would at least have modified the harshness of some of the comments that were passed on the man who is now in the presence of his Maker.

I have done all I can to testify to my faith in his word. I believed in him to the last. I believe in him now. And although that is only my own personal opinion, and one that I know most people would dissent from, yet do I deserve to be reproached for thinking so?

When I am again on the water and sailing in a different direction from that which I did when last at sea, the contrast will, I daresay, take hold of my innermost feelings. Then I was dreaming dreams that looked like being realized soon. Now I shall journey alone and rely upon my own poor resources to fight the battle of life.

I have resolved upon doing three things in my new home if spared to reach it. I intend to make it my home as long as I live. The desire to settle down in London died out the moment that I became convinced that the best thing for me to do was to leave England. And to me it is quite wonderful how, with printed particulars concerning a country that one knows nothing about, the liking for it springs up within one. I seem to see myself at work there already, although it must take weeks before that is possible.

"I KNOW HOW TO ROUGH IT."

Then I mean to adapt myself to my surroundings. I have had to shift for myself for many years, and those who have uncharitably hinted that I do not know how to "rough it" are very much mistaken. I DO know. And I have not the slightest hope that I shall have an easy time in the place to which I am going. I want to work. Oh, how glad I shall be to get back to it.

Then I intend to make the best of my opportunities. I have heard some say that the publicity I received—not that I have craved for—must have ruined me. The fact is that it has made me long for the life that begins the day with labor, and ends tired out at night. So no one need imagine that all this footlight glare has created within me a morbid desire for more and more notoriety. As I have said, I feel that I shall only be myself when I have got to work. I am told by my friends that the difference between what I shall have to do in a warm climate, and what I have been doing will try me. Perhaps it will. But I can stand the heat, and I love the sun and revel in work.

And now I must close with a "Thank you" to Lloyd's Weekly News for the fair way in which it gave to the world the last words of Dr. Crippen and for the hospitality of its columns to myself.

This is written just before I step on board the ship that is to take me far, far away from London and the scenes of my girlhood and my early tragedy. I hope I may live to tell of happy days spent in my new home, and to show that my sad ones have helped to make a better and wiser woman of me.

Good-bye, England!

ABOUT THE HAREM SKIRT

A few daring women in Paris, it appears, have burst on the sight of an excited world in trousers—modified trousers, no doubt, but trousers none the less, writes Cicely Hamilton in the Daily Mail. And it is safe to say that there is a goodly number of women on this side of the Channel who wish them luck in their venture, and would gladly follow their example. Not because the so-called "harem skirt" is a thing essentially beautiful or unusually convenient in itself; but because even the most voluminous of bifurcated garments is a tacit admission of the truth so carefully denied for centuries, that woman is the possessor of legs—two in number.

So far as we know she has always had them; nor, in the earlier stages of her development, does she appear to have been in any way ashamed of the fact. I am not antiquary enough to hazard so much as a guess at the precise period in the history of the western world when woman decided to pretend that she was not a two-legged animal; but I am none the less convinced that, whenever, and however the decision was made, it was disastrous for herself and for her daughters. It is one thing to resign possession of your birthright; it is quite another to get your birthright restored to you. Woman born of woman still plods through the mire with wet cloth slapping at her ankles; still rides bicycles in a head-wind with a skirt that swells out like a sail. And the extra muscular energy the weaker vessel has to put into that plodding and that wheeling. If the chivalrous male did but realize it would he not fall on his knees and implore her to go knickerbockered!

HE DOES IT.

But the chivalrous made does nothing of the kind; and, at the risk of being uncharitable, I cannot help having a suspicion that it was he who was the real mover and instigator of the change in woman's anatomy. She by herself, would never have been such a fool as to dispense with the proper use of her lower limbs; it was h[illegible] the skirt and made up his mind she should wear it. He probably found it convenient—for himself. A garment that tied itself into knots and made it difficult to walk with any freedom would prevent his wife from running round after him when he had much rather be without her; further, it would assist to keep her in her proper sphere, the home, by making rather a nuisance of the process of stepping outside it. When she put her objections before him I have not a doubt that he kissed her diplomatically and told her how much he liked watching her feet like little mice at play, run in and out beneath her gown—whereat she, good-natured, if weak-minded, decided to indulge his simple pleasures. After this manner the skirt became an institution, and in time there was produced a Queen of Spain whom her loyal subjects were bound to consider legless.

Here and there, of course, and now and again, women of exceptional character or intellect successfully asserted their right to the lost members. Among others, Joan of Arc, George Sand, Rosa Bonheur and Lady Hester Stanhope insisted on classing themselves as bipeds. The reproach of aping man was doubtless flung at them, but seems to have been borne with an equanimity founded on logic. To ape a sensible custom, so far from being a reproach, implies sound sense on the part of the apes; nor should woman be above taking a hint—even from man. As for man, if he really dislikes being imitated, let him cease to appropriate the most comfortable and practical fashions for his own use. I do not imagine that there will ever be a real run on his four-inch collars or his hats that fly off in a gale.

NOT LASTING

From time to time women not cast in the heroic mould—women of just the ordinary type—have made a more or less dangerous effort to free themselves, for out-of-door purposes from the tyrannous embrace of the skirt; but so far, alas, they have succeeded in creating only a short-lived sensation. Will the present attempt be more fortunate and lasting? One hopes—in the interests of health and freedom, one hopes. But remembering that the fashion has originated exactly where such a fashion should not—in Paris—one also fears. For if there is one person who does not know what divided garments should be like if there is one person who ought never to be seen in divided garments, it is the average Frenchwoman. Unfortunately, no one will start to wear divided garments until the Frenchwoman has led the way—and equally, unfortunately, her appearance in the new departure is usually so distressing as to send the self-respecting females of other nationalities shuddering back to their skirts.

NOT RIGHT FIGURE

It is her ideal of feminine beauty that is the stumbling-block where legs are concerned. A straight-shouldered, straight-hipped woman of the type that is common in England, could wear even ordinary masculine get-up without a suggestion of offence but the outline of the average Frenchwoman is an impossibility in anything but garments especially designed for its encouraged and obvious femininity. It was because the costume which some years ago, the Frenchwoman adopted for cycling was built on these lines—and therefore hideous—that it went the way of other fashions in a remarkably short space of time. There are places where it is still to be seen as a horrible example of all that a knickerbocker suit should not be; for though it has vanished from the back of the bicyclist, it lingers on at some seaside resorts, where it is considered a suitable garment to shrimp in.

So, though I have hopes for the "harem" skirt, they are hopes less confident than fervent and sincere. My heart misgives me that it has got into the wrong hands, or rather, on to the wrong legs. As Paris, in the interests of the Parisian figure, distorted the defunct knickerbocker, so Paris, in all probability, will distort the new-born trouser with the same fatal result. A new costume in order to "catch on" must be worn by women who look well in it, and those whose working ideal and aim of feminine beauty are a success of curves and circles can by no manner of means be induced to look well in trousers. So until we cease to take our fashions from Paris, or until Paris can be brought to see that there is beauty in straightness and spareness, as well as in circles and curves, I fear me, I very much fear me, that we shall continue to cling to the skirt and the skirt cling to us.

PROSPERITY FOR WESTERN CANADA

Grand Trunk Pacific to Spend Seventeen Million Dollars This Year

Seventeen million dollars will be spent by the Grand Trunk Pacific during 1911, in constructing new lines and erecting station buildings throughout the West. There will be 619 miles of work undertaken on the branch lines and completed during the present season. This will include the Calgary branch, Battleford branch, Melville-Regina branch, Alberta Coal branch, Regina-Boundary branch, Moose Jaw branch, Prince Albert branch and Biggar to Calgary. There will also be 265 miles of main line track laid, as well as 200 miles further grading on the branch lines.

Arrangements are also being made for the erection of 140 station buildings. This is the largest and most expensive year's work that the Grand Trunk Pacific has undertaken. The majority of new branch lines to be constructed will be laid in districts hitherto totally untouched by railroad development. Rapid strides have already been made towards completing the main line between Edmonton and the Coast, and up to the present 365 miles of steel has been laid. From Edmonton, going west, the line is completed as far as Prairie Creek, which is the entrance to the foot-hills of the Rockies, and from the Coast working towards the Rockies 165 miles of track has already been laid.

This year the work will be pushed ahead as rapidly as possible, and from Prairie Creek fully another 165 miles will be completed, while from the west end 100 miles are to be constructed.

The Alberta Coal branch will tap an entirely new country by running a line from Bickerdike on the main line through the Pacific Pass Coal fields, as well as those of the Yellowhead, and provision has been made for 69 miles of it to be constructed this year.

Another entirely new branch will be constructed between Regina and Moose Jaw, a distance of 49 miles.

Besides all this construction work a vast mileage of grading is to be accounted for, and this will be carried on to the extent of two hundred miles on the Regina boundary branch, and those others which will be completed.

In addition to the above, the company is erecting some of the largest bridges in the west. Over the Red Deer River on the Tofield-Calgary branch, an enormous bridge, 200 feet high, is now under construction. Another huge bridge has just been completed at Prairie Creek, on the main line. A third is to be constructed further west over the Athabaska River. Another over the Skeena River, which is to be the largest on the Transcontinental.

CHURCH'S COLD WATER Alabastine

WHEN you decorate your walls with Alabastine you'll agree that the soft, velvety Alabastine tints outclass wall paper and oil paint in beauty and effectiveness. Their beauty is permanent, too. Alabastine colors will not fade—will not rub off. Alabastine is a dry powder made from Alabaster rock. It mixes easily with cold water and forms a rock cement which hardens on the wall, and can be recoated without removing the old coats. Alabastine is the most durable, economical and sanitary wall coating in the world to-day. It is indorsed by leading authorities on interior decoration. 21 tints and white. Anyone can easily apply it.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Steers and daughter, Mabel of Bashaw, Alberta are visiting at the home of Mrs. Steer's sister Mrs. H. Adamson, North Monaghan.

Mrs. T. J. Wilson, 429 Stewart street, will receive on Wednesday for the last time this season; Miss Laishley, of Toronto, will receive with her.

Mr. Charlie Adamson of Chicago, Ill., has been called home through the illness of his mother, Mrs. H. Adamson North Monaghan. Mrs. Adamson's many friends will be pleased to hear she is improving.

A late issue of the Dresden, Germany, Journal, gives an account of a musical event that was held in the city, and which was attended by an audience at once critical and cultured in music. A paragraph is devoted to commendation of the work of pupils of Mr. Field, the noted Canadian teacher of the piano, and it says:—"In the Saal of the Hotel du Nord yesterday afternoon Mr. Field, the gifted pianist and teacher, had his pupils' recital, which which was very well attended by members of German and English colonies. Among the performers was a gifted pupil, Miss Gladys Seward, who made herself conspicuous by her finished techinque, tone culture and expression."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

STAND FOR O CANADA.

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—All our people stand when "God Save the King" is being played or us." Most of us (not all) remain standing until its completion. Why cannot all be educated or persuaded to do so? But we are Canadians as well as Britons. The song "O Canada" is now recognized as our Canadian national song, and a splendid one it is, reverent and pathetic, inspiring and dignified. We do not usually stand when it is being rendered. Why not? This appealed to me most strongly at a recent mass meeting in St. Paul's church and called forth a suggestive letter of protest from Rev. Canon Davidson, a letter whose sentiments I most cordially approve.

I am informed the Sheffield choir concert to-night will begin with "O Canada," and ends, of course, with "God Save the King."

May I suggest to the audience that they stand, and all stand, and stand with respect and attention till the completion of the National Anthem and also pay the same tribute to our national song of "O Canada." It is worth standing up for, both the country and the song, the latter especially as I am told when given by Dr. Coward and his splendid choir.

Yours truly,

E. C. S. HUYCKE.

Jumped Overboard.

Halifax, April 3.—The White Star-Dominion steamer Southwark arrived Saturday from Liverpool with 671 passengers, the great bulk of whom went by special trains. They are from the British Isles. About 30 are coal miners, who leave for Cape Breton to-day. The Southwark proceeded to Portland, here she will discharge a large cargo.

On the second day out from Liverpool, a man on the Southwark, who was in the third-class, but who was said t ohave had no ticket jumped overboard, and, though the steamer hove to for five hours, he was never seen again. A card was found on which he had written these words:

"I am no good either to God, man or my wife." His identity was revealed by a valise. He has a family in England.

Rolled to Death.

Ottawa, April 3.—Edward Miner, an employe at Booth's Cardboard Mill, was drawn into the rollers of the mill on Saturday and crushed to death in the calendaring machine. All but his head was taken in before the power could be cut off. A inquest will be held. Thet deceased was 35 years of age, and leaves a wife and four young children.

TRENT CANAL IMPROVMENTS THIS YEAR WILL TOTAL $74,000

Details of Proposed Expenditure on River, Lakes and Locks —Col. Hughes Asks About Lindsay Matters.

The following is the report of a discussion in the House of Commons on Trent Canal improvements, which this year will cost $74,500.

Trent Canal—improvements. $74,500.

Mr. Graham—This is for the usual improvements which we make year by year with our own staff. Last year we spent to the 30th of September $35,000.

Mr. Sexsmith—What are the repairs this year?

Mr. Graham—They are as follows:

Dredging—
Between Kirkfield lift lock and Lake Simcoe...	$ 5,000
Lake Simcoe at Gemmo-bridge entrance to canal.....	2,500
Otonabee river, between Peterborough and Rice Lake...	5,000

LINDSAY MATTERS.

Mr. Hughes.—Some time ago I drew attention to the fact that in the early years the waters of Hollow Lake flowed down Gull river into the Trent waters and so onwards. But, years ago, the lumberers changed the flow of many of the waters in that locality. The first change was to divert them down the Black river. Later on, about 1850, when lumbering became brisk about Bracebridge, the waters were blockaded into both the Gull river systems, and scores of which are dam-

Mr. Graham.—We are considering a regulation for the Trent canal, by which we will take these logs out and charge the owners 50 cents each. If the owner does not want to pay, he does not get the logs.

Mr. Hughes.—At Ancora, where the Canadian Pacific railway touches Sturgeon Lake, the minister's officers are planning to build a little wharf. I presume that is included in this or some other vote?

Mr. Graham—The Public Works Department make the grant, but they allow us to spend the money for them.

Mr. Hughes—There is an item for the repair of Fenelon Falls bridge. What is that?

Mr. Graham.—It is proposed to move the present wooden bridge a sufficient distance away from the lock to prevent the operating of the lock interfering with traffic on the bridge.

Mr. Hughes.—That will not meet the difficulty. The bridge now is opposite the main street running north and south, and unless you had a high protection wall there would be danger of accidents. It would be better to leave the present bridge where it is and construct another higher up; then traffic could use either bridge and there would never be a blockade.

Mr. Graham.—That is worth looking into and we will look into it.

Mr. Hughes—The Scugog river above Lindsay is badly in need of dredging. That district is largely used as a summer resort by Toronto people, and and there are many pleasure yachts on the river. There has not been much heavy traffic there, and there are a lot of weeds in the channel, and some logs. I understand that the minister's officers have a plan for cleaning out the logs and the weeds below Lindsay, and I would like to have them at the same time look into the conditions above Lindsay.

STIGMA OF RESPECTABILITY.

People Who Continuously Prate About Being Extra Superfine.

Can anything worse be said about any people in these days than that they are respectable? Nothing that we can think of, except to say that they are eminently respectable.

To be respectable implies so much that is utterly undesirable and alien to our ideals that it almost always produces a shudder.

When a man has tried everything else and failed he then becomes respectable.

Respectability is in itself a badge of the commonplace, which, from the standpoint of society, is the unpardonable sin.

To be respectable implies that you may be honest, not necessarily that you are honest, because you may possibly be using your respectability as a cloak. The probability is that you are not doing this, however, as most people would rather be caught dishonest than to have the name of being respectable.

A respectable man is almost always hopeless. He is blind to his own condition.

The chances are that you cannot educate him out of it.

But there is always hope for every human soul.

For example, if, unconsciously, without realizing his danger, he has drifted into being respectable and is thoroughly ashamed of it he may be saved. Helping hands should immediately be extended to him. Life preservers and poker chips and rum bottles should be thrown at him. And the probability is that he will swim ashore.

But if he once admits that he is respectable he is lost.

Jails ought to be used exclusively to harbor respectable people, where they wouldn't be constantly boring us to death.

One reason why so much wickedness is perpetrated is because there are so many respectable people around, maddening others with their presence.—Life.

At a Pinch.

There's a certain minister whose duties sometimes call him out of the city. He has always arranged for some one of his parishioners to keep company with his wife and little daughter during these absences. Recently, however, he was called away so suddenly that he had no opportunity of providing a guardian.

The wife was very brave during the early evening. But after dark had fallen her courage began to fail. She stayed up with her little girl till there was no excuse for staying any longer and then took her upstairs to bed.

"Now, go to sleep, dearie," she said. "Don't be afraid. God will protect you."

"Yes, mother," answered the little girl, "that'll be all right tonight, but the next time let's make better arrangements."—Human Life.

MINISTERS "SHUT THEIR EYES AND OPENED THEIR MOUTHS"

Had no Statistical Information Back of Them at Washington—Made a Jump in the Dark.

Fielding and Patterson Didn't Know What Effect of Reciprocity Would be.

Ottawa, April 4.—Since January the House has waited patiently for the statistical information necessary for an adequate discussion and understanding of the reciprocity agreement, but nothing has been forthcoming. This inexplicable delay was the cause of a sharp debate yesterday. The opinion was vouchsafed that the reason is simply that Messrs. Fielding and Paterson committed themselves to a bargain concerning the effect of which they knew nothing, and of which they are now too ashamed to let the public know the facts.

It was pointed out that when the pamphlet published by the United States showing the comparative prices of the articles mentioned in the agreement arrived at Ottawa, it was a staggering blow to the Government to discover that the average prices of the products of the farm in the United States were lower than in Canada. Mr. Fielding announced with great pride when he returned from Washington that he had made an agreement which would mean better prices for the farmers. It would appear that instead the prices in Canada will drop to those of the United States.

It was discovered during the debate that Messrs. Fielding and Paterson went into the conference at Washington without the statistical information necessary for a proper handling of the case for Canada.

Richard Blain of Peel asked the Minister of Customs if margarine had been placed on the free list.

Mr. Paterson replied that he did not know. He had not the information beside him.

George H. Perley (Argenteuil) referred to the reply which Major Sharpe had received from the Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce regarding an order of the House calling for information with respect to trade prices in various countries. Mr. O'Hara's reply was in effect that the information could be got from trade papers all over the world. Mr. Perley said this was a very extraordinary answer for the Government to make. It meant that every member should go out and dig up the information for himself. If the Government did not have this information then it was evident that Messrs. Fielding and Paterson did not have the information when they entered into the agreement at Washington, and could not know what they were doing. If the Government had not the information, why could they not get it? Without it the House could not discuss the agreement adequately.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he would submit the matter to Mr. Fielding, who was absent, and an answer would be given later on.

Mr. Foster argued that it was a reasonable request that they should have the trade figures in the principle centres of the world before consenting to this agreement.

Dr. Reid (Grenville) pointed out that the United States pamphlet showed prices of farm products to be higher in Canada than in the United States. He affirmed that Mr. Fielding was selling the Canadian farmers, body and bones, to the U. S. Mr. Fielding knew that he had been goldbricked, and was ashamed or afraid to get a statement out to Parliament which would convict him at once. Messrs. Fielding and Paterson knew that they could not face the farmers with it.

Mr. Blain declared that they were afraid to tell the people that cattle went in free to the U. S. now under certain regulations, and the same obtained as regards wheat. Under cer-

GUELPH CLERK MAKES MILLION

Guelph, April 3.—Five years ago a clerk, who had saved something like $3,000, is to-day rated as a millionaire. This sums up the spectacular career on the Chicago Board of Trade of Mr. Arthur Cutten the latest Napoleon of the wheat pit, who has cleared about $750,000 by his deals in May wheat.

Mr. Cutten is a Canadian. He was born and raised in Guelph, being a son of Mr. W. H. Cutten, barrister, and went to Chicago to seek the fortune that is now his, about a dozen years ago.

$55,000 WORTH OF DOPE BURNT

Had Been Seized by Customs Officials in Few Months.

Ottawa, April 4.—Fifty-five thousand dollars' worth of opium has just been destroyed in the furnace of the west block on Parliament hill. The opium had been seized during the last few months at Canadian custom ports, principally in British Columbia.

It took two days to burn the whole amount. For the most part it was done up in $25 cans of sheet copper, and the conflagration was carried out under the charge of two customs detectives.

As showing the power of the opium, one of the officers, while throwing some of it into the furnace, broke a tin with his shovel. The fumes of the burning opium rose from his shovel and almost overcame him. Indeed he only got rid of the shovel in time, and had to be taken into the open air to recover.

Bold Burglars at London.

London, Ont., April 4.—This city seems to be in the hands of a gang of bold burglars who have been operating in all parts of the city. During Sunday night the home of John Grayson on York street was entered by a man who ransacked the boarding-house from top to bottom. He was alarmed and escaped through the front door where a buggy was waiting, and he was driven rapidly away. The police are working hard to get these desperadoes, who they believe are the same "key workers" who visited several English street homes last Saturday.

In a Common Grave.

New York, April 4.—The eight unidentified victims of the Washington place fire of March 25, which cost 144 lives, will be buried Wednesday afternoon, and a big labor parade in their memory will wind through the streets. A ninth coffin containing fragments of incinerated bodies impossible of identification will also be interred. The city has purchased a lot in a non-sectarian cemetery in Brooklyn for burying the bodies. Funeral services of the Roman Catholic, Hebrew and Protestant faiths will be held at the graves.

In connection with the investigation of the disaster Borough President McAneny of Manhattan, made public last night the findings of the commissioner of accounts, giving half a dozen alleged instances of petty grafting by building inspectors. The practice of paying inspectors for "favors" Commissioner Fosdick quotes several builders as saying, "is widespread among contractors."

A GREAT GREAT GRAND DAUGHTER

Of King George the Third, is Claim of Woman Charged With Fraud.

Special to the Review.

London, April 4.—Helena Hasted a refined and middle aged woman, who claims to be the great great granddaughter of King George III, by a morganatic marriage of Princess Agusta, the King's granddaughter, is under arrest and will face a charge of obtaining money by fraud.

Disloyal Dublin.

Dublin, April 4.—The corporation of Dublin voted 42 to 9 to "proceed with the next business," when a resolution proposing a loyal address on the occasion of King George's proposed visit was introduced yesterday.

Painters Got Increase.

Kingston, April 4.—The bosses have agreed to give the painters an increase of 25 cents a day. They will get $2.50 for nine hours. A strike was threatened yesterday if the increase was not forthcoming.

Bound to Have It.

Goderich, April 4.—The authorities here are confident that the Western Ontario military camp will be held here this year and not in London. They are keeping up a correspondence with Ottawa.

ASSAULT ON YOUNG GIRL

Chatham Man is in an Awkward Position.

Chatham, April 4.—A married man of this city attempted a criminal assault on a well-known fourteen-year-old girl Friday night on the Fifth street bridge. When the girl was rescued she was unconscious. Attempts have been made to keep the matter secret, but the facts have come to light.

CHANGES MADE IN THE MILITIA

Ottawa, April 4.—Further plans to reorganize the militia are announced in general orders.

The 56th Grenville Regiment, "Lisgar Rifles," and No. 5 company of the Army Service Corps are to be disbanded with a view to reorganization.

The Lisgar Rifles were formed April 12, 1867. There are eight companies, with headquarters at Prescott. Lieut.-Col. D. W. Beckett is commanding officer.

No. 5 Company, A.S.C., is at Ottawa, commanded by Major S. E. de la Ronde.

Only a few weeks ago the disbandment of the Prince of Wales Fusiliers, Montreal, the oldest regiment in the militia, was announced.

Increased establishment is announced for the 24th Regiment, "Grey's Horse," headquarters at Woodstock from three to four squadrons, and the 17th Duke of York's Hussars (Montreal) from two to three squadrons.

BIG WAVE BARED OLD SAXON COINS

London, April 3.—An abnormally high tide to-day washed out a big chunk of the county of Suffolk, laying bare interesting relics of the long ago. Included among the things uncovered by the caprice of the sea were hundreds of gold, silver and copper coins, some of them dating as far back as the Saxon era, bronze earrings and other ornaments for personal adornment.

The disappearance of the land was near the village of Thorpness, which so narrowly escaped that some of the cottages which were destroyed a hundred yards distant from the sea are now but a few feet from high water mark.

This part of the British coast has been continuously eroded. Many big engulfments have been recorded during the past centuries.

SHOTS FIRED AT PRIESTS AT MASS

Australian Workman Arrested—Bullets Went Wide.

Special to the Review.

Rome, Italy, April 4.—An Australian workman fired four shots at the officiating priests in St. Peter's during mass to-day. None of the priests were injured and the man was arrested.

On the Canadian Trip.

Halifax, April 4.—Steamship people were agreeably surprised yesterday morning when they saw in port the Scotian of the Allan Line, formerly the Statendam of the Holland-American Line.

The Scotian arrived from Liverpool. She takes the place of the Pretorian on the Glasgow service. She was built by Holland and Wolff of Belfast. Her gross tonnage is 10,491 tons. She is 515 feet long, 60 feet in breadth, 24 feet deep, 1,126 horsepower, twin screw.

The Scotian will not sail from Glasgow to Montreal direct owing to her size. She will call at Liverpool and Moville for passengers. She goes from Halifax to Portland, and on her return will leave Glasgow for Quebec May 6.

To Discuss Power.

Brockville, April 4.—The Board of Trade has arranged with Hon. Adam Beck for a meeting of the United Eastern Ontario Municipalities in Brockville on Friday next, to discuss hydro-electric power. Mr. Beck will discuss the power situation fully, and it is understood will make a definite proposition to the municipalities east of Kingston.

The Town Council at its meeting last night struck the rate of taxation for 1911 at 29 mills, which is an increase of three mills over last year. This action was rendered necessary to meet a deficit of $10,000 from 1910.

May Introduce Bill.

London, April 4.—Lord Chesterfield, Lord Steward of the King's Household, stated in the House of Lords last evening that the King's reply to the address moved by Lord Lansdowne, asking permission for the introduction of a bill limiting the prerogatives of the crown so far as they relate to the creation of peerages, had been received, and that it granted his lordship's wishes.

HYDRO COMMISSION WILL FURNISH POWER FOR FARMS

Will Build Outside City.

Kingston, April 4.—As the result of a storm of opposition from the business men and citizens, the board of governors have decided they will not erect the new tuberculosis hospital on the present site of the general hospital. Funds for the new hospital have been donated by the citizens as a Mowat memorial. Those having the collection of the funds, wanted the hospital on the general hospital site, but a site will now be secured outside the city.

A Bigamous Clergyman.

Kansas City, Mo., April 4.—Eugene Housemann, alias Hansmann, formerly a Methodist Episcopal clergyman, yesterday pleaded guilty to bigamy and was sentenced to three years in prison. Housemann's first wife, who lives in Dixon, Mo., divorced him. Then he married wife No. 2. A few days later he met a pretty organist in a local mission. Twenty days later they were married.

Crossed Three Frontiers.

Aix La Chapelle, Rhenish Prussia, April 4.—The Aviator Lescartes and passenger, who left Hasselt, Belgium, in an aeroplane on Saturday, has landed here. The aviators crossed three frontiers, the Belgian, Dutch and German, in a single flight, although the distance traveled was only 44 miles.

Ottawa and the G.T.P.

Ottawa, April 4.—Definite assurance that Ottawa will have direct connection with the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific was given by Mr. E. J. Chamberlain, general manager of the railway, in an interview yesterday.

DUPES ENGAGE LAWYERS FOR HIM

Sheldon Will Have no Lack of Counsel.

Montreal, April 4.—"Get Rich Quick" Sheldon will have lots of counsel when he gets here.

Already Pelletier & Pelletier have wired him that they have been instructed to take up his defence, and a dozen other firms have been asked the same thing.

It is not extreme love for Sheldon that prompt his dupes to engage lawyers, but the fact that they are in no way craving for publicity and do not want their names to appear, and have engaged lawyers to keep the names of clients out of the case as irrelevant.

Toronto Woman Injured.

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 4.—Spreading rails caused the wreck of the Wabash passenger train No. 9 at Eddy, Ind., yesterday, in which three passengers and two trainmen were injured.

The injured, none of whom were hurt fatally, included Miss Margaret Cowen, Toronto, Ont., badly bruised and suffering from shock.

Must Not Enforce Decree.

Washington, D.C., April 4.—The Supreme Court of the United States yesterday declined to enjoin the Federal judges in Oklahoma from enforcing decrees they had issued in liquor cases, involving questions of jurisdiction over liquor in interstate commerce.

There were no corporation decisions.

Multitude of Uses to Which Electric Power Can be Economically Put.

Toronto, April 4.—As the plans for extending hydro-electric power by the Ontario Commission to the farms are becoming developed they are attracting increasing interest.

It was pointed out yesterday at the Parliament buildings by a representative of the Department of Agriculture that cheap hydro-electric power for the farms would be an important factor in solving the labor problem, which threatens to intensify unless the tide westward is by some bold colonization scheme stemmed. The officials of the Ontario Department of Agriculture point out that hydro-electric power would enable the farmers of the province to employ it for the irrigation of land, operation of cream separators, churns, water pumps, milking machines, machines for cleaning horses and cattle, saws, grindstones, plows and threshing outfits. The farmers' wives will be equally benefitted, as it will be available for heating, lighting, cooking, ironing, and to run the washing machine.

A the offices of the Hydro-Electric Commission it is stated that the average amount required for ordinary farm purposes is three horse-power. The uses to which cheap hydro-electric power may be profitably made will be placed before the agriculturalists of the province by the district instructors sent out by Hon. J. S. Duff, the coming season.

The commission favor a liberal policy on the part of the Whitney Government in establishing the projected provincial public power system, for the farmers. It is the opinion of the commissioners that the Government should defray the cost of the construction of the main transmission lines along the highways. This would only place the cost of the connections from the roadways to the farm houses and buildings upon the townships.

A further unlooked for fruit of the Government's electric power policy is the fact that the extension of the system into the rural districts has brought into view plans for village and roading hydro-electric lighting by the townships. The commission propose providing the main transmission lines, the townships to supply the necessary lamps. Within a comparatively short period every district in Ontario within scope of the transmission lines will be transformed by the splendor of the hydro-electric lights.

Ran With Broken Ankle.

Kingston, April 4.—Being under the impression that he had a big contract to fulfill in the west, Frank Empey, aged 40, a patient at Rockwood Asylum, purloined a screw-driver which a workman had used in making repairs, and when no person was watching, forced the screen off a window on the second storey and jumped to the ground. His leg was broken at the ankle, but in this condition, he ran several yards before he was captured by a guard. The broken bone had torn the sinews and nearly penetrated the skin and the foot was turned around when he was captured. He will likely lose his leg.

Petrolea In Darkness.

Petrolea, April 4.—The town has been in darkness the last few nights because of friction between the electric light company—a private corporation, and the Town Council. The council has not met the terms of the company, pending a report from the Hydro-Electric Commission as to prices for Niagara power, and the time when it can be installed. The company declined to wait—hence the darkness. In the meantime, arrangements like will be made for temporary lighting with a local manufacturing concern.

BAHAMAS ARE WORTH WHILE TAKING INTO THE DOMINION

T. B. Macauley Dwells on the Advantages of the Proposed Confederation.

Montreal, April 4.—Speaking before the Canadian Club yesterday afternoon of the Bahamas and their desire to became a Canadian province, T. B. Macaulay, one of the Canadian promoters of the proposed confederation, declared that the imperial aspect of the question was the most important of all.

"In making the Bahamas a part of Canada," said Mr. Macaulay, we would be taking a long step forward in working out the destiny of Canada and the empire. I see a vision of the future in which the British Empire is a great federation of partnership of five great nations, Great Britain, Canada, Australia, South Africa and India, all of them independent in regard to their own affairs and yet all united in bonds of common loyalty and common interests. The union of detached and helpless colonies into the one or the other of these five great parts would be a move towards the consolidation of the Empire. Everything that adds to the strength of one part adds to the strength of all the others.

"The acquisition of the Bahamas would help us to think imperially. The need of a substantial fleet to protect routes which our growing trade would follow would be self-evident. That navy would be worthy of Canada, worthy of us as one of the five partners in a great federation.

"The opening up of the Panama Canal," said Mr. Macaulay, will revolutionize the trade routes of the world. The strategic importance of the Bahamas as a half-way coaling station and a winter port for the vessels of the Canadian navy would be a powerful argument in favor of their acquisition."

Public Employment Office.

Montreal, April 4.—The Province of Quebec free employment office was opened yesterday and Louis Guyon, chief inspector of factories and public buildings, was present to see the work started in the commodious quarters.

Mounted Police Not In Charge.

Winnipeg, April 4.—There is no truth in the report of the Mounted Police being ordered to the area affected by the coal miners' strike.

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS

Washington, April 4.—The extra session of the United States Congress opened to-day with immense crowds of people present at the Capitol. Unfavorable weather is prevailing and rain is falling.

LETTER LOST FOR 73 YEARS IN POST

Got Lost in Archives, But Was Delivered.

Danbury, Conn., April 4.—A letter mailed in Geneva, N.Y., 73 years ago, by Peter Bithy to O. S. Paddock of Yonkers, N.Y., was delivered yesterday to the latter's sister, Mrs. Mary L. Mead, of this city. The letter, which was written before envelopes came into use, was folded and sealed with wax, and had been mislaid in the archives of the Geneva office until a short time ago, when it was discovered and mailed to Yonkers, where no trace of Paddock being found, it was sent to the dead letter office at Washington, from which it was mailed to Mrs. Mead.

The writer and Paddock both died some years ago, and Mrs. Mead is Paddock's only surviving relative. The letter was in reference to timber land owned by Paddock in the northern part of New York State, and by its means Mrs. Mead hopes to establish a claim to lands which she has vainly tried to get in the past.

LORD ROBERTS SAYS ARMY IS BADLY IN NEED OF TRAINING

Territorial System Against Efficiency—Peace Movement is a Mockery.

London, April 4.—In the House of Lord's yesterday Lord Roberts moved: "That in view of the altered strategic conditions in Europe this House views with grave and growing concern the inadequate military arrangements made in defence of the country and overseas dominions."

If, said Lord Roberts, our trust is placed in untrained troops in time of war disasters will be inflicted, probably irreparable, and that might cause the loss of the Empire and our downfall as a people. It would be impossible to keep an absurdly small expeditionary force in six months' service if any serious trouble arose in any of the overseas dominions. We would require a million men over and above the regular army.

Viscount Haldane defended his Territorial system. England was the centre of an Empire, the parts of which were separated by great stretches of sea, and the command of the sea was the first requisite.

The debate stood adjourned.

Steamer Burned.

Yarmouth, N.S., April 4.—Fire destroyed the steamer Hugh D. of the Hugh Cann & Sons' fleet. The interior of the boat, with the engine and machinery, is ruined. She was loaded with supplies for the lobster fishermen, and was to sail in the morning for Tucket Island. There was no insurance.

Opposed Reciprocity.

Kingston, April 4.—Dr. Edward, M.P. for Frontenac County, opposed reciprocity at a farmers' meeting held at Joyceville. This was the first public stand Dr. Edwards has taken on the matter, and the farmers attended in large numbers.

CREW DROWNED

Dutch Bark Wrecked and Crew of Eight Lost.

Special to The Review.

Lowestoft, England, April 4.—A Dutch barque was wrecked off the coast to-day and the crew of eight persons was drowned.

NEED OF BIG CHINESE ARMY

Pekin, April 3.—An Imperial edict issued to-day in the name of the infant Emperor assumes for him supreme command of the army and appoints the Prince Regent Generalissimo until the Emperor attains his majority.

The proclamation is the most important of a series of edicts, by which the throne has gradually raised the military standard until the army which was once the most despised profession, is now considered of the highest type. It reviews at length the valorous history of the ancestors of the present dynasty, and intimates that dangers are lurking about the frontiers. It declares the necessity of a great army, and demands that the families discontinue selfishly seeking their own interests, and unite, as every family will suffer if conquered. It announces a new military program. If fulfilled the proclamation will prove historical.

A Discovery of Vast Importance

It Is Now Admitted That Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Coughs, and Colds Can Only Be Quickly Cured By Mixing a New Medicine With the Air You Breathe.

Scientists acknowledge that medicated air treatment is the only treatment that will cure these diseases, and that stomach medicines are worse than useless.

Catarrhozone air treatment has been found to be the most effective way to cure all diseases of the throat, lungs, and nasal passages. Its action is so prompt that in less than an hour an ordinary cold is cured, and after a more thorough use of Catarrhozone, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all diseases of the throat and lungs are completely cured.

Catarrhozone is a very simple and powerful method of treatment. You simply breathe it through the inhaler and it immediately passes over every air cell of the throat, lungs, and bronchial tubes, curing and healing as it goes.

Catarrhozone treatment affords little drops of healing for sore places in the lungs, throat, and nasal passages.

THE COUNCIL'S VOTE

On the deciding vote of Mayor Morrow the city council last night turned down a resolution moved by Ald. Edgar against the reciprocity pact being concluded without the consent of the people directly expressed.

After two amendments had been side-tracked, the vote on the main motion showed five in favor of it and four against, and Mayor Morrow exercised his prerogative and voted, making the vote a tie, voting again to dissolve the tie thus created. Mayor Morrow, of course, adopted this course for political reasons, and had the full council been present even his negative vote would not have availed to block the resolution.

It seems rather strange that Mayor Morrow, Ald. Anderson, Duncan, Brown and Metheral should vote against a resolution putting Peterborough's welfare before a question of party. Reciprocity is intensely unpopular in Peterborough; the Review tests of some of the factories showing what the workingmen think of it. That these five pro-reciprocists do not represent the people in their voting may be taken as granted. They did, as the Liberal members of parliament are doing: putting party before nationality and the good of Canada.

If these aldermen honestly think that reciprocity is a good thing, their opinions are entitled to every consideration, but it will generally be recognized, we think, that their vote on the subject does not represent anything more than an unwillingness to embarrass the party bosses.

That these aldermen do not appreciate the strength of anti-reciprocity feeling is evident, or they have a callous disregard of the consequences on their municipal career. It is probable that there will be a large public meeting of protest on the subject in order that the proper expression of the opinion of the people may be given.

CIVIL LAW AND CHURCH

The Montreal Witness, published in a province largely Roman Catholic, is certainly entitled to the warmest admiration and commendation for its strong stand on the question of mixed marriages. The Witness editorially points out many phases of the Quebec situation, which, while not new to Ontario people, would seem to be in absolutely unequivocal perversion of the principles of right and justice.

Article 127 of the Quebec Civil Code says, "All marriages in this province . . . are governed by the religious beliefs of the contracting parties, and subject to the rules established by such churches and the religious rules of the religion of the said contracting parties."

While this civil law puts into the hands of the Roman Catholic Church the power to regulate the marriage of its adherents—its rules being enforced by the law of the state—one might think that if any adherent did not agree with such rules, he might leave the church and be free from its bondage. And not being a member of such a church, he would then be legally qualified to marry without reference to its rules. But no! The Archbishop of Montreal in expounding the Ne Temere decree two years ago, said in his mandate:—"But it must be noted that all the regulations of this decree bind those who at any time of their life, have belonged to the Catholic church, even though they may have later on left her, and renounced her teachings."

Such a curtailment of personal liberty, validated by law, is strikingly illustrative of the iron hold the Church of Rome has secured in Quebec. The effect of this ruling is that the Roman Catholic layman disagreeing with his ecclesiastical advisers, must leave the province to escape the civil law's declaration that whatever the church does is necessarily legal and valid.

RECIPROCITY OUTLOOK

The political prophets at Washington are telling us that the session of Congress just opened will last until next September and that before the Canadian reciprocity bill is put through, the lower house will tackle other matters, such as the woollen and cotton schedules of the Aldrich-Payne tariff. With the complexion of the senate still Republican, the session will prove to be productive of much political jockeying for the campaign of 1912.

It is evident that the Democrats do not intend to let the Canadian reciprocity business go through until they have accomplished much desired legislation along other lines, and that the anxiety of the President to secure the passage of the Canadian agreement will be used as a lever to force this legislation through the Republican Upper House.

The Democratic caucus has outlined its legislative program for the session, and reciprocity is slated for a back-seat for some time. The effect of such delay in Canada is problematical. Until the Senate passes the agreement and it receives the presidential sanction it cannot go into effect, and if the Canadian government waits for the conclusion of action by Congress, before passing the pact in Canada, another session of Parliament in the autumn is within the bonds of probability.

It is assured that the Laurier administration will not go to the country until the reciprocity business goes into effect, if it ever does, and such delay at the Capitol means a Dominion election in 1912 for Canada.

The jockeying for position by the American politicians, the division of each party into faction on reciprocity lends a most unique uncertainty to the whole situation.

This element of uncertainty may force the Laurier government to abandon its waiting attitude and force the agreement through Parliament—regardless of protests. As a game of political chess, the situation is certainly decidedly interesting.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The coronation will not be permitted to monopolize public attention. Wait until nine Canadian provincial premiers get into line!

Good evening, George, or Georgina, is your name on the list of subscribers to the coronation gift fund? There is a great privilege in a name when it is George.

Canada would probably regret taking the Bahamas into confederation. The Dominion has enough troubles, without adding a little tar baby.

The Toronto Globe interviews with farmers on reciprocity are so frequently repudiated by the farmers that one is lead to wonder if the Globe intends to give us a story called Reciprocity Fables.

Public ownership is a failure in Brandon. The waterworks revenue has been sufficient to provide for operating changes and interest on bonds, but no sinking fund. The city's liability of $115,000 comes due in ten years, and so far the sinking fund amounts to $3,000. Brandon's experience doesn't seem very encouraging.

The western city of Lethbridge finds the real estate boom lagging, and is paying Thomas Richardson, the $10,000 publicity commissioner of Baltimore, $500 to spend a week in Lethbridge, and warm things up. According to the eastern notions of such high jinks, Lethbridge needs $500 worth of attention from an alienist.

The bank revision will be postponed until next session, according to present prospects. The danger of delay is the fact that the public mind will probably have forgotten the lessons of the Farmers' Bank, and the Canadian Bankers' Association will be able to secure a modified revision that does not at all meet the needs of the case.

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock Etc.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, April 3.—Wide spread rain and snow acted like magic today in sending down the price of wheat. Crop prospects were believed to have been vastly improved by the timely moisture on fields, millions of acres in extent. Weakness prevailed at the close, which was 3-4c to 1c under Saturday's latest figures. The finish on corn varied from 1-8c to 1-4c net gain to a shade loss; oats were 1-16c to 1-8c to 1-4c up, and provisions 12 1-2c to 27 1-2c down.

The European market to-day closed unchanged to ½d lower on wheat, and unchanged to ¼d higher on corn, compared with Saturday. Antwerp and Berlin closed unchanged on wheat, Buda Pest was ⅝c lower.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, April 3.—Business in Manitoba spring wheat over the cable was again quiet, owing to the fact that cables came weak with bids 4½d lower than Saturday, which only brought back 88½c per bushel for the May option in Winnipeg. In sympathy with the break in prices of over 1c per bushel for oats in Winnipeg, a weaker feeling prevailed in this market, but in the absence of any business of importance prices were nominally unchanged. There was some demand from foreign buyers for winter wheat flour, but the bids received were 20c per barrel below the price millers were disposed to sell at. Local trade in all grades is quiet.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 38½c; extra No. 1 feed, 38c; No. 3 C.W., 37½c; No. 2 local white, 36½c; No. 3 local white, 35c to 35½c; No. 4 local white, 34c to 34½c. Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $5.60; seconds, $5.10; winter wheat patents, $4.50; strong bakers' $4.90; straight rollers, $4 to $4.25; in bags, $1.75 to $1.85. Rolled oats—Per barrel, $3.90, bag of 90 lbs., $1.95. Corn, American No. 3 yellow, 56c to 56½c. Millfeed—Bran, Ontario, $22 to $23; Manitoba, $21 to $23; middlings, Ontario, $24 to $25; shorts, Manitoba, $23 to $25; mouillie, $25 to $30.

Eggs—Fresh, 19c to 21c.

Cheese—Westerns, 12¼c to 12½c; easterns, 11⅞c to 12⅛c.

Butter—Choicest, 25c to 25½c; seconds 24c to 25c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, April 3.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 122 cars, consisting of 2669 cattle, 227 sheep and lambs, 89 calves and 27 horses.

Exporters.

E. L. Woodward bought 118 export steers for London, 1260 lbs. each, at an average of $5.83, or a range of $5.70 to $6; 89 steers for Liverpool, 1159 lbs. each, at $5.75 average, or a range of $5.65 to $5.85.

Butchers.

Prime picked cattle, $5.80 to $6; but there were few at latter price; loads of good, $5.50 to $5.75; medium, $5.15 to $5.40; common, $4.90 to $5.10. Cows were firmer, selling at $3 to $5.25; bulls, $4 to $5.15.

Veal Calves.

Prices steady at $3.50 to $8 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Ewes, $4.75 to $5.25; rams, $4 to $4.50; yearling lambs, $6.75 to $7.50; spring lambs, $4 to $7 each.

Hogs.

Hogs are quoted lower. Selects, fed and watered at the market, $6.70, and $6.40 to drovers for hogs f.o.b. cars at country points. Hogs, 220 lbs. and over, 50c per cwt. less.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, April 3.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending April 1 were 1700 cattle, 1175 sheep and lambs, 2100 hogs and 2325 calves. The offerings on the market this morning amounted to 800 cattle, 50 sheep and lambs, 1300 hogs and 500 calves.

The undertone to the market for cattle was stronger on account of the continued limited supplies coming forward, and sales in a few odd cases were made at an advance of ¼c per lb., but this was not general. The gathering of buyers was fairly large, but the demand from butchers was chiefly for small lots to fill actual wants, consequently trade was rather slow. A feature of the trade was the offerings of some extra choice heavy bulls, suitable for the coming Easter requirements and several of them weighing from 2100 to 2300 pounds were sold at 6¼c per lb. and $10 per head over. A few extra choice steers sold at 6⅜c, while choice brought 6¼c; good, 6c to 6¼c; fairly good, 5½c to 5¾c; fair, 5c to 5¼c, and common, 4½c to 4¾c per lb.

There was no important change in the condition of the market for hogs, prices being steady on account of the fact that offerings were ample to fill all requirements. The demand from packers was good and sales of selected lots were made at $7.40 to $7.50 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

A feature of the small meat trade was the scarcity of really choice calves, for which there was a good enquiry, but buyers found it difficult to fill their wants. The lower grades were fairly plentiful, which sold at prices ranging from $2 to $8 each. Old sheep were scarce and firm at 5c to 5½c, and yearling lambs, at 6½c per lb. Spring lambs sold at from $5 to $8 each.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, April 3.—Cattle—Receipts, 3500 head; market, active, higher; prime steers, $6.60 to $6.80; shipping steers, $5.80 to $6.25; heifers, $4 to $6; cows, $3.50 to $5.35; bulls, $3.50 to $5.50; milch cows and springers, $30 to $80.

Calves—Receipts, 2000 head; market, active, steady; cull to choice, $5.25 to $8.25.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 20,000 head; market, lambs active, 15c higher; sheep, slow and steady; choice lambs, $7 to $7.15; cull to fair, $5.25 to $6.90; yearlings, $5.75 to $6.25; sheep, $3 to $5.35.

Hogs—Receipts, 12,750 head; market slow, 5c lower; Yorkers, $7.15 to $7.25; pigs, $7.40 to $7.50; mixed, $7 to $7.05; heavy, $6.75 to $6.80; rough, $5.75 to $6; stags, $4.75 to $5.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Beeves—Receipts, 3200 head; steers steady to strong; bulls and cows slow to a shade higher; steers, $5.35 to $6.80; bulls, $4 to $5.60; cows, $2 to $4.75.

Calves—Receipts, 6450; market 25c to 50c lower; veals, $5.50 to $8.25; culls, $4 to $5.50.

The Nova Scotia Legislature has prorogued after a very short session and an early election is expected.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

CHAPTER VIII.

MR. WADDY INVESTS.

THE young man talked slowly. Once in awhile Mr. Waddy interjected a question which evinced intelligent comprehension of the heart of Carson's explanation. Carson explained that his aeronef differed from all others in having wings like a bird's, which did not flap, like those of the absurd orthopters and yet used half their surface in beating the air with a straight thrust like that of an oar in water.

"Don't yeh use screws?" asked Waddy.

"Not at all," answered Carson. "The screw can never be effective, because it strikes with a slant. It will do in water, but air requires a more effective thrust. When your propeller blade moves at a hundred miles an hour, say, you have a lift of thirty pounds to the square foot of surface with the direct stroke. But the surface of the screw"—

"Now, how d'ye figger that?"

Carson repeated laboriously.

"Why," said Carson, "I can lift weights that none of the other airships can stir and fly off like an eagle with a fish!"

The farmer-banker and the inventor were so absorbed that they scarcely noticed the entrance of a messenger from the institute with a message from Mr. O'Grady asking if Mr. Craighead would step outside for a moment nor Craighead's withdrawal and return.

"The direction of the blow of the propeller," said Carson, "is under perfect control. A bird's wing isn't. This is a better wing than an eagle's."

"Kin you raise right straight up," asked Waddy, "without running along like a buzzard?"

"I sure can," replied Carson, falling into dialect. "No bird can do that—no big bird. It's a better, stronger flier than any bird. The best any other machine can do is to support four pounds to the square foot of surface. With my new motors I can fly off with five times that, and I've got four times their bearing surface. I can carry mail and express at a profit or passengers that can afford it. I can hover over a ship with good heavy torpedoes and sink her and overtake any vessel that floats. I can"—

"What kind of motors you got?" interrupted Waddy.

Carson went into details. The old man looked through his eyebrows, whiskers and mustaches at Carson and the drawings.

"What if your engines stop," he asked, "when you're a mile high and over water mebbe?"

"I can soar," answered Carson. "I can make headway and gain height with no power if there's a wind, and I can stay up for hours with the propellers set for aeroplanes. But the best thing I haven't mentioned—the gyroscopic balancing device."

"What's that?" asked Mr. Waddy.

"Why, it's the successful application of the gyroscope to aviation."

"They used to talk about that," observed Mr. Waddy, "long ago—the Brennan single rail roads. I thought it turned out that the gyroscopes was too heavy f'r air work."

"They are too heavy," cried Theodore, "if you use them to do the balancing. That's sure. And so we have had to balance by feeling, just as we do a bicycle. Thought isn't quick enough, so you have to rely on feeling, as a bird does. But I use little gyroscopes not to control by their weight and stress, but to distribute power to the wings and rudders—positive, automatic distribution of power. Why, if the engineer of my machine should fall dead it would fly on just as he set it until the fuel was exhausted. It feels and thinks."

They did not notice the opening of the door nor see the woman who entered.

"Papa," she said.

Mr. Waddy rose hastily and faced her. She looked like Mr. Waddy, but was undeniably pretty. He was blocky and short; she, round and plump, with small hands and feet. The turned up pug nose of Mr. Waddy was modified to a delightful little retrousse effect in her.

"Papa," said she, "this is hardly a place in which to entertain these gentlemen. We have cleared out the east parlor."

"Oh, yes!" assented Mr. Waddy, with feverish haste. "To be sure, Caroline! Take 'em in, won't you? I've got to see the hired man. My daughter, Mrs. Graybill, Mr. Craighead; Caroline, a—a friend of mine, Mr. Carson of Alabama. Excuse me for a minute, gentlemen."

"Supper," said she, smiling, "will be served very soon."

The long dining room was gloomy with decayed gentility—black beams, dark wainscoting and a broad plate rail bearing wrenches, clevises, oil cans and baskets of eggs labeled as to breeds and dates. During the meal Craighead came out amazingly in his encounters with Mrs. Graybill, to whom, as it seemed to Theodore, he was making violent love. Mr. Waddy sat buried in thought, save when he questioned Carson concerning the aeronef.

"There's no cinch in it," said Mr. Waddy, "no monopoly, an' as soon as it's public everybody'll build 'em. I do business on cinches."

"Oh, but the patents, Mr. Waddy!" cried Craighead. "You forget the patents."

"They expire in a few years," said Mr. Waddy, "an' then where are yeh? Land, now—that I made my money in—land's an eternal cinch."

"Mr. Waddy," said Craighead, "this matter of securing exclusive control of the air is a part of our plans. It is one of my specialties."

Carson was amazed. Mr. Waddy grunted as if lightly impressed, as no doubt he was.

PEERS DAUGHTERS DISAPPOINTED

Coronation Regulations Won't Let Them Into Abbey

London, April 3—Some new regulations which have been issued with regard to the Coronation ceremony in the case of peer' daughters have given rise to much discussion and not a little heartburning, and the definite announcement that no places in the Abbey on June 22 can be allotted for their use has caused bitter disappointment. Although this may at first sight seem rather an unkind departure from the precedent and order of similar ceremonies in other reigns, the authorities had really very little choice.

MORE PEERS THAN FORMERLY

To begin with the number of peers for whom accommodation must be found in the Abbey, is considerably larger than it was ten years ago, and, further, room will have to be found for a far larger contingent of representatives from over-seas. Last, but not least, some of the structures which were erected at the last Coronation and afforded seats for a large number were thought to be unsafe, and consequently will not be available on this occasion. This is one of the points on which the King and Queen satisfied themselves personally on the occasion of their visit to the Abbey a week or two ago.

THEY FEEL AGGRIEVED

Several of the aggrieved young ladies, had, however, already provided themselves with dresses for the great occasion, and now find themselves with festal garment son their hands the very sight of which only serves to embitter their disappointment. But the powers that be are doing everything in their power to soften the blow as far as may be, and probably a certain number of peers' daughters will, by ballot, be able to obtain privilege seats in the Abbey. Still there is no help for it that the majority of them will be dissappointed.

BERNARD SHAW ON SCHOOLS

Famous Cynic Tells What His Idea of Education Is

Likening schools to prisons and deploring provision for the old while children went without pocket money, George Bernard Shaw, told an educational meeting at London recently what he thought of current educational methods.

He expressed the belief that the fact of religion being made one of the subjects to be taught in schools was one of the causes of the intense detestation for religion which now characterized the English people. Prison never changed, and the schools to-day were exactly as they were when he was a boy—namely, places in which to keep children out of the way of their parents.

The school of the future, he predicted, would be schools in the sense that theatres were schools. No child would be compelled, and every child would be free to quit the moment the teacher bored him. Children would then have recognized rights. There could be no greater instance of topsy-turvydom than the giving of pensions to aged people while the majority of children were without pocket money. They should have an allowance granted them as soon as they had learned the multiplication table. They should also be taught to make change.

The drama he regarded as one of the best things for the training of little minds. It gave to children an artistic education and enlarged their souls. He pictured a child growing up to manhood under the influence of worthy dramatic representations, which would keep its senses healthy and occupied and prevent its yielding to unworthy and destructive courses. He would like to see a play submitted as a test to see if it would make young men go home and stay after they had seen it. He was sure that Mrs. Warren's Profession would send a young man home for a fortnight.

A Brutal Husband.

Montreal, April 4.—In the recorder's court yesterday morning Mr. Perras, clerk of the court, deplored the fact that the municipal bylaws did not allow him to request the application of the lash for women beaters.

The comment was brounght about in the hearing against Joseph Caron, 407 Plessis street, who was arrested on Saturday night in the very act of beating hiswife. Even in the presence of the police, the man tried to strike the woman and was prevented only by the superior strength of the officers.

A Warning to Britain.

London, April 4.—Father Bernard Vaughan on Sunday uttered a warning on England's falling birth rate. Preaching in the Farm street church, he said: "In half a lifetime England has slid down, the birth rate declining more rapidly than any other European nation."

He hoped there might be no longer a concerted policy for "dodging nature, cheating God, and robbing the nation of its truest wealth—human life."

Catalogued.

Two women on a train, seated together, held each a covered basket. From one a faint shuffling noise proceeded, while from the other came now and then an indignant pur.

The conductor came by.

"Dogs ain't allowed on this train," said he.

"This is a cat," protested the owner of the purring basket.

"Makes no difference; dogs ain't allowed," repeated this stolid logician.

"Must I get off, too?" inquired the other woman. "I have a turtle in this basket."

"No, ma'am; turtles is insects, but cats is dogs," he told her.—Short Stories.

DON'T FOOL WITH YOUR LIVER

MAKE IT ACTIVE AND HEALTHY WITH "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Don't treat the Liver with common purgatives. Salts, senna, calomel and the host of "liver pills" do not act on the liver at all. They merely irritate the bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives" will cure Biliousness and Torpid Liver because this famous fruit medicine acts directly on the liver.

"Fruit-a-tives" corrects Indigestion and Constipation—not by inflaming the bowels like common purgatives, but by making the liver active and healthy.

tain regulations it was duty free.

Mr. Paterson explained that in the agreement there was an arrangement for conferences on such questions, and if they had to be dealt with, this legislation afterwards that would be done by agreement.

Mr. Perley put a question: "Did he or did he not have the statistics of comparative prices when he was in Washington?"

Mr. Paterson: "We had all the information that we thought was necessary.

Wm. Thorn (North Lanark) brought up the question of admission into Western Canada of negroes from the southern States. He stated that hundreds had already been admitted, and thousands would follow when they learned that they could secure free homesteads. He was of the opinion that these lands should be reserved for Canadians.

Mr. Oliver said that his Department was carrying into effect the law as it was framed by Parliament. Under the existing laws negroes could not be prevented from coming into Canada, provided they were morally and physically fit and free from disease. The Department, he said, had no choice but to continue to administer the present laws until Parliament decided to enact a substitute. While it was true that there was some negro settlements in the west, the present was the first large, and apparently, well organized movement Canadawards. As a consequence the matter had not up till the present time been seriously considered. Mr. Oliver said that strong objections had been taken to a continuance of present policy of admitting negroes on the same terms as white people.

The major part of the day was taken up in a discussion of the Marine Department supply votes. The first vote under this head was one of $900,000 for the St. Lawrence channel, an increase of $100,000 over the past year. Mr. Brodeur pointed out that it was necessary to keep the channel at 30 feet depth from Montreal to the ocean, and it was also an ambition of Canada's that the channel be ultimately made a 35-foot one along its entire length.

Mr. Blain thought that the item should not now be taken up, and should remain over till the conclusion of Sorel shipyard investigation, in which Mr. Lanctot is involved.

After some further discussion Mr. Brodeur consented to lay over the big vote, and the smaller lighthouse and magnetic observatory votes were taken up.

To Investigate Appeals.

Montreal, April 4.—As a result of the attack made upon L. W. Sicotte, joint clerk of the crown and of the peace of Montreal by Recorder Dupuis some months ago, Adolphe Bazin, police magistrate, has been appointed royal commissioner to make an enquiry and to report to the Government at Quebec no later than May first.

Recorder Dupuis stated from the bench that it was little use condemning proprietors of disorderly houses to prison sentence in view of the fact that on appeal before Sicote the sentence was always commuted, and suggested that a commission be appointed by the Government to investigate the manner in which appeals were granted.

Hugh Chark, M.P.P. addressed the Clinton Club on prison reform.

The dirigible balloon Parseval V. made a perilous descent at Halberstadt, Prussian Saxony, Sunday during a storm. The crew were compelled to rip the envelope, and the airship landed in a state of collapse.

Patrolman McGuire was shot and probably fatally wounded yesterday while attempting to stop a fight between union labor factions over work on a new Chicago office building. A score of shots were fired before the police dispersed the rioters.

Raising Funds for Charities.

London, April 4.—Society is devoting itself to charity functions during the closing fortnight of Lent.

The most original of these is an exhibition of coronation tiaras by New Bond street jewelers, with guinea admission tickets. Less pretentious has been a "Saloon Fragrant," with 1,000 guineas raised by the sale of perfumery by handsome actresses. There are also royal dance matinees and numberless devices for reducing "cadging" for the hospitals to a fine art.

Cardinal In Collision.

Waterloo, Belgium, April 4.—Cardinal Desideratus Mercier, Archbishop of Malines, had a narrow escape from death yesterday in an automobile collision. The chauffeur, in seeking to avoid a woman, swerved the machine, which dashed into a tree and was wrecked. The cardinal was badly cut about the face and several of his teeth were knocked out. The chauffeur was seriously injured.

CONCERNING INSURANCE

To the Editor of Saturday Night.

Dear Sir,—We have placed a lot of our insurance with companies in the United States and Europe, on a contract guaranteed by a Montreal brokerage company. Some Canadian agents and inspectors say this is no good. What is your opinion?

Manufacturer.

It is quite impossible for us to give an opinion of the insurance without a list of the companies. The guarantee, as you probably know, is practically value less; in fact, it is a question if if it is not illegal, being a class of fire insurance conducted without a license. The "guaranteed contract" is only one of the thousand fakes being offered the insuring public, whose ignorance and gullibility in insurance is almost equalled by the same in regards to mining. Anything in the bargain line goes.

Contracts of insurance made with companies not licensed are not enforceable in Ontario. The public here have nothing regarding these companies but the word of the interested broker, who receives his commission on the premiums placed through him. The expense of collection in foreign countries and the delay which resulted in making collections under some policies issued by these foreign insurers are such as would result in ruin to a large manufacturer. In one case, where the loss occurred nearly a year ago, it has been found impossible to get even a reply, and the amount being small, it will not pay to sue.

In the insurance business, as in every other business, if you deal with reliable, established houses, you get what you pay for.

The object of Saturday Night in this department will be to advise, so that you shall get insurance worth one hundred cents on the dollar. There is no other insurance that eventually insures.

MILITARY MARCHES FAMOUS REGIMENTS

To be Played by the 57th Band This Evening

Bandmaster Gliddon has been for some time getting together the regimental marches of the famous regiments of the British service. He has secured eight of these, and they will be played at regimental drill at the armories to-night.

These include the "Cock o' the North," "British Empire," "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush," "New Tipperary," and others. Those who hear these will recognize familiar airs, including "Garryowen," "Patrick's Day," "Hyland Laddie," "The Girl I Left Behind Me," "British Grenadiers," "Irish Washerwoman," "Campbells are Coming," which are woven into the melodies.

If time will permit, before drill, beginning at 7.50, the band will play the above selections.

WHAT'S ON TO-NIGHT

Lecture at Murray street church.

Board of Education.

CLOSE SEASON IS APPROACHING

Inspector Watt Will Have Larger Territory to Watch

The close season for lunge and bass, viz., the 15th of April, will soon be here, and as weather conditions apparently are not favorable for securing fish before that date, the ardent disciples of Isaak Walton will have to be content and await the opening of the season, on the 16th of June. Inspector John Watt, it is understood, will have a larger portion of the river to patrol this year, and that speaks well for the preservation of game fish under a larger jurisdiction. Some queer charges are brought from time to time against offenders in connection with the close season regulations, but it is hardly possible that Inspector Watt will be so severe as was a game warden in Cockermouth, who charged a collier with disturbing salmon on their spawning beds by walking up and down the river bank. In this case it was stated in evidence that the fish were so numerous that some of them had been driven right into the side to spawn, and that they ceased if anybody stood on the bank and looked at them. This sounds rather like a scientific fairy tale, but the magistrates believed it and fined the collier 15s. for prying into the domestic affairs of the Salmonidae.

INCREASES FOR LOCAL C.P.R. MEN

Yardmen and Foremen Receive Raise in Wages

The local foremen and yard-men of the C.P.R. are delighted with the manner in which the Grievance Committee, which went to Montreal to interview the Canadian Pacific Railway officials a few days ago in regard to an increase in wages, was received.

The officials granted all the concessions asked by the committee and as a result the yard-men and foremen all along the line get an increase of 15 p.c., in their wages, also the foremen in the cities and towns are allowed $7 a month for house-rent, and those in the outside districts $4 per month. For all overtime they are allowed wages for time and one half. This includes work on Sundays and all national holidays.

The foremen will get $2.90 per day without the allowance for rent, and the yardmen $1.90 per day.

The increase is to date from Dec. 1, 1910, and the men are to receive the back-pay to date, which will amount to quite a large sum in some cases.

W. H. Noyes, an old Peterborough boy, was chairman of the committee and much of the credit of victory is due him.

The schedule of the Canada Northern railway has been the same as the C.P.R. and it is expected the men there will apply for a raise also.

THE CONVERSION OF ROMANISTS

Lecture With Views at Murray Street Church To-night

To-night at Murray Street Baptist Church, Rev. E. Bosworth, of Montreal, will show one hundred stereopticon views in connection with his lecture on "The Evangelization of Quebec." There will be no charge for admission the occasion being the anniversary of the Ladies' Mission Circle of the church. The story of the Baptist church, in putting the Bible into the hands of those who are denied the privilege of reading it, and the persecution to which the workers have been subjected is an intensely interesting one. To-day one hundred and forty thousand dollars worth of buildings stand on the roadside at Grande Ligne, where thousands of French Canadians have been educated and where some of the ablest Frenchmen of Canada and the United States have been converted.

The history and progress of the work will be traced by one who has been identified with the work for many years and doubtless the church will be filled.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company's floral department is sending out over 100,000 packages of seeds this spring to the agents, sectionmen, and employes living on the company's property and who are cultivating flowers around their buildings.

Mr. Wesley Dartnell, who left yesterday afternoon, was pleasantly surprised at the station by being presented with a handsome gold signet ring with his initials monogrammed upon it.

The presentation which was accompanied by a eulogistic address, was from the members of George Street Methodist choir, of which body Mr. Dartnell has been a much valued and popular member for some years.

The Lindsay Warder announced for to-night that the band will be at the rink and that the ice is in splendid condition.

Navigation is late in opening this season. The Monarch made her first trip last year, coming up the river on April 2.

A practice of all Saints' choir is called for to-night at eight o'clock.

Judge Huycke's "In Memoriam" class will meet at the Y.W.C.A. this evening.

It is not improbable that the 57th regimental band will again take up quarters at the armories.

The regular monthly meeting of the Peterborough Poultry Association will be held April 6th, in the Hall, Simcoe street. Every member of the Association is requested to be present. Rhode Island Reds, Houdans and all varieties of bantams will be on exhibition. Breeders of these varieties are requested to bring specimens.

THE LURE OF THE WEST

A Thrilling Play With Western Spirit That is Sure to Please —At the Grand on Saturday. Matinee and Evening

"Montana" will be presented at the Grand next Saturday, April 8th, matinee and evening, and as the author of that interesting play, Harry D. Carey, is now starring in it, this will be the best production that has ever been given of this interesting and melodrama of the west. Full of powerful situations and with many thrilling climaxes, this play has met with success, because it is true and natural. Nothing is exaggerated or overdrawn, but life in that part of the country is so full of stirring events that the average theatre-goer is delighted and enchanted when he sees it reproduced on the stage. As a contrast to the rough life on the ranch and in the mining camp, there is a dainty and sweet love story in the play, while the comedy is of a refined order and will be appreciated by everyone. The author of the play is starring in the play this season and is presenting it with all of the scenery used during the New York run and with the original cast.

Miss Fern Foster, who supports Mr. Carey in "Montana" will be remembered by local theatre-goers for her splendid work in "Two Women and That Man," last season.

DON'T MISS IT

William Faversham at the Grand To-morrow Night in the Most Unique Play of the Season — A Great Success in New York

The title of William Faversham's new play "The Faun" by Edward Knoblauch which he will present here on Wednesday, April 5, at the Grand Opera House, will prove somewhat curious to the average theatre-goer. Were it not for the fact that Barrie had used the name Peter-Pan, this play would very likely been called the Son of Pan. There is no likeness between the two plays, however, only this—a faun is supposed to be the son of Pan, one of the deities of the woods and herds. In this new play Mr. Faversham impersonates the faun.

Mr. Knoblauch has devised a most curious and unique story—a distinct dramatic novelty. He has taken a faun, a half human creature with horns, pointed ears and goat feet, and transported it from the woods and herds of the countryside to modern life. The faun, of course, is unacquainted with the conventions of modern society with the result that many curious situations are involved. Mr. Knoblauch's achievements as a dramatist are of such a character to lead one to expect a play of very unusual quality, full of humor and chuckles. It is a play that grows on you and you cannot help but be thoroughly interested and amused.

ANTI-RECIPROCITY RESOLUTION BEFORE CITY COUNCIL FAILED TO GO THROUGH

Amendments to Ald. Edgar's Original Motion Calling for Future Discussion Defeated---Mayor Morrow Made Vote a Tie---Other Business Before Meeting.

An anti-reciprocity resolution brought in by Ald. Edgar, at the meeting of the City Council, last evening, went to the shelf, Mayor Morrow giving the tying and deciding vote. There were present His Worship, Mayor Morrow, Ald. Morgan, Anderson, Graham, Kerneghan, Brown, Edgar, Metheral, Buller and Duncan. It was the last item of business of the evening, and the resolution read:

That in the opinion of this Council the proposed Reciprocity Pact between Canada and the United States would not be conductive to the best interests of Canada as a whole, and should not be imposed without the people's consent. And that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the member for West Peterborough the Hon. J. R. Stratton.

In Ald. Graham, the west ward alderman, found a seconder. Ald. Morgan followed quickly with the statement that he was not sufficiently conversant with the subject to vote on it, as he would like. "I would like to have a few days to think it over," said the fifth ward Alderman.

Ald. Brown was in favor of letting the matter stand over till the next meeting. "If you're going to do anything do it now" said Ald. Duncan.

Ald. Anderson moved an amendment that no action be taken. He didn't think anything the Council would do would have any effect on Parliament or the U. S. Senate. Ald. Metheral seconded the motion. Ald. Buller moved an amendment to the amendment, that the matter be referred to the committee of the whole council and Ald. Brown seconded this motion.

Mayor Morrow called for a show of hands on the amendment to the amendment, yeas and nays, and it went down to defeat. Similar treatment was accorded Ald. Anderson's amendment, by 6-4, whereupon he stated that it was absurd to pass a resolution by a vote of 6-4 and send it to Dominion Parliament.

The original motion was then put before the meeting and it was 5 to 4 in favor of the [illegible]. Mayor Morrow then promptly voted making the count a tie and it was all over.

The vote for the original motion was:—

Yeas—Ald. Edgar, Graham, Kerneghan, Buller, Morgan. Nays—Ald. Anderson, Metheral, Brown, Duncan, Mayor Morrow.

COMMUNICATIONS

Ed. Conroy who took the contract for the work in connection with the new pumping station, and who has his contract half completed, asked that he be allowed to turn the remainder of the work over to James Bogue, owing to his, Mr. Conroy's ill-health. The matter was referred to the Board of Works, but later the request was granted by the Council, Mr. Conroy appearing at the meeting, and stating his reason, that of ill-health and his desire to leave the city and also that he would give full security for the work being done as specified in his contract.

The Auburn Power Co. asked permission to build a concrete wall on the east side of Water street, north, and in connection with operations at their new dam. Referred to Board of Works.

AN INVITATION

Ensign Merritt, on behalf of the Salvation Army invited the Council to attend and take part in a welcome to Commissioner Rees, at the Temple, next Sunday afternoon. Accepted.

The Dickson Co. wanted arrangements with the city concluded, regarding the septic tank at the river bank at Waterford street. The company wants to dispose of property and the assurance of sewer connections. Referred to Board of Works.

BAND CONCERTS, $250

Ensign Merritt, wrote with the request that $250 be granted the Salvation Army Band for which the organization would give the ten concerts in the park during the summer. Referred to the Finance Committee.

From Helen Denison, secretary of the Peterboro Protestant Home advising the Council that the Board of Management ask that the city donate a site, for the proposed new building, the property to consist of at least five acres.

The secretary was notified to write Miss Denison, and state that the Council will meet the Board of Management and inspect property.

PETITIONS

From H.E. Hawley and others asking that the Romaine Street drain be continued on Romaine Street west to Park Street. Referred to Board of Works.

From Isidore and Goselin, sr., and others asking for four incandescent lamps on Romaine Street, west of Park Street. Referred to Fire, Water and Light Committee.

In regard to the drainage from the Gas Works, the Peterborough Light and Power Company wrote that the matter was in the hands of an expert, and that the most approved method as a remedy would be secured. This has to do with the complained pollution of the Otonabee by oil and grease.

THE DOG BY-LAW

Amongst a large number of by-laws passed was the dog by-law, which caused so much discussion last year and which passed the council, but on account of a new law had to be re-enacted. This year it will be $1 for one dog, and $2 for each additional one. For females, the license is $3 and $5 for each additional. Every canine will have to wear a tag, or meet his Waterloo. The Bonner-Worth by-law received its third reading.

HORSE FEED.

Ald. Duncan and Ald. Morgan discussed oats, or rather the price of them. The former wanted to know why 40 cents was being paid for oats for the fire station horses, when they could be purchased for 36c. and 37c.

Ald. Morgan explained that the Manitoba oats were being fed the animals, and they were recommended by the fire chief as the best.

ACCOUNTS.

The account of F. & R. J. MacPherson of $114.42 was passed at $100. This was for work done at the Isolation Hospital, and the architect certified to the amount at $100.

Mr MacPherson was present and stated that the $14.42 was for extra fittings.

The chairman of the Property Committee and the architect will go over the account and investigate.

Ald. Morgan moved that Mr. Blackwell, who was the architect at the Isolation Hospital, be paid $100 on his account of $150, that amount being his total remuneration. This was carried.

Ald. Duncan was given authority to certify to accounts for salaries and supplies at the hospital until the Board of Management take over this duty. The matter of building two porches at the hospital was also left in his hands for action. The insurance policy on the instruments of the 57th band having expired, it was decided to order a three months' renewal.

Ald. Bradburn, who is absent from the city, was granted a further leave of absence for six weeks. The Finance committee was authorized to sell debentures for the payment of local improvements and waterworks extensions.

MORE ACCOUNTS.

The recommendations of all the reports read at the meeting have been published with the exception of the following accounts from the Fin-

NEWS AND VIEWS OF SPORT

RENFREW AND MONTREAL GET PLAYERS OF OTTAWA CLUB

Kerr, Walsh, Ridpath and Darragh for Renfrew

Ottawa Free Press—The most sensational announcement that has ever hit athletic circles in the Capital came just before noon to-day when the Renfrew Hockey Club stated authoritatively and the Ottawa Club gave confirmation, the Creamery town club had purchased the whole forward line of the Stanley Cup holders and Kerr, Walsh, Ridpath, and Darragh would play up the line next winter. The Renfrew club gave $4,000 cash for the quartette and in addition gives Ottawa the option of any two men from the Creamery town seven. The local club has decided to accept Odie Cleghorn and Don. Smith.

The sale of players by the Ottawa Club however did not stop with the Renfrew deal. President Sam Lichtenhein owner of the Montreal Wanderers asked the Ottawa club to name a price on Le Sueur, Lake and Shore. Dave Mulligan placed their value at $1,000 each if Lichtenhein threw in Ernie Johnston. The Wanderer officer accepted and the deal was consummated shortly after negotiations with Renfrew was closed.

The sale and purchase of players is permissible under N.H.A. rules and nets the Ottawa club $7,000 cold cash. This money will be sunk into a mammoth new arena which will be erected on the south side of Sparks Street adjacent to the Cecil Hotel.

The wholesale disposition of this year's team means the recruiting of a new seven. Mr. Mulligan has no fears but what with Johnson Cleghorn and Smith as a nucleus he can build up another winner next season. Eddie Gerard, Harry Broadbent and a couple other local boys will be signed up.

FISTIC BOUTS AT HAMILTON

Sturch Had a Little on Turley—Lang and Lavin Broke Even

Hamilton, April 3.—Two of the best boxing bouts Hamilton fight fans have had the privilege of witnessing at home in some time were put on under the auspices of the Hamilton Bowling and Athletic Club at Britannia Rink to-night, and were witnessed by a crowd of between 1,000 and 1,200 followers of the fistic game, many of whom came up from Toronto.

The preliminary brought together Billy Turley and Tommy Sturch, two clever Toronto boys, while Hilliard Lang, of Toronto, and Paddy Lavin, of Buffalo, furnished the feature event. Both of the bouts were hammer-and-tong affairs, and the crowd got a good run for its money. The preliminary was scheduled to go eight rounds, and both boys were on their pins and battering away at each other when the final bell was sounded. Had a decision been given it would probably have gone to Sturch, he having a shade the better of the argument in the last couple of rounds. In the early rounds Turley was the aggressor, and landed many stinging swings and jabs which damaged Sturch's countenance, but he was not in condition to go the route, and when Sturch caught him tiring in the final round he more than evened matters up. A left swing completely closed one of Turley's eyes, and Sturch had him stalling at the end. In another round he would have put him into dreamland. It was a fast mill from start to finish, and the crowd applauded both boys enthusiastically as they left the ring.

The main bout was a ten-round affair, and it also went the limit, with little to choose between the Toronto and Buffalo boy. Lavin and Lang had previously fought a draw in Buffalo, and both went into the ring determined to settle the question of superiority. Lang put up one of the best fights of his career, and had he not been in a condition to do so it is doubtful if he would have earned a draw, as Lavin was in the pink of condition and went after the Canadian from the start. Throughout the ten rounds the men mixed it freely, and a draw was the only fair decision that could have been given had a decision been allowed.

Flanagan to Handle Contests at the Grand Friday

To make the first attempt of the Peterboro A. C. Boxing contests more attractive and to ensure of everything being clean, Tom Flanagan has been secured to referee.

The man who went across the continent to attend to the welfare of champion Jack Johnson in his fight with Jim Jeffries at Reno, for the championship, will, surely see that everything will be manly and clean and nothing pertaining towards brutality will be allowed. Manager J. Breen received word that he will be here sure. The contestants have all been keeping in touch with the manager and declare themselves to be in the pink of condition. The reserved seat plan opens at the Opera House to-morrow morning, Wednesday, April 5, at 10 a.m. Rush seats will only last from 7.30 Friday evening till 8 o'clock.

MAPLE LEAFS COULDN'T SCORE

Kelly's Big Leaguers Defeated by a 10-0 Score

Montgomery, Alta., April 3—By a score of 10 to 0 the Billikens played the Toronto people off their feet in the second game of the series. Both in hitting and fielding, base-running and all-round work, Dobb's people were the superiors of the Eastern Leaguers, the two ex-St. Louis pitchers working for Kelley being punished severely. Ralph Savidge and Frank Sparks both showed mid-season form, and they, together with the gingery backing that was given them, kept the Canadians away from the plate. During the five innings that he pitched four hits were made off Savidge. He had splendid control, not walking or hitting a man, while the speed that he was using struck out three batters.

Y.M.C.A. SPORT

In these games points will count, and as there is great rivalry between the two teams, each game will be keenly contested.

The first game will be played Thursday evening.

THE RING

Los Angeles, Cal., April 3.—Justice Reeves to-day held the two principals and two accessories of the alleged prize fight held at Vernon, on March 17, for trial in the superior court, for a violation of the state law against prize fighting.

Ad. Wolgast, lightweight champion, and George Memsic, the principals; Charles Eyton, referee, and Thos. J. McCarey, promoter, all appeared in court and were held in $1,000 bail each.

This was given by three of them, but McCarey refused to provide bail and was held in custody. Habeas corpus proceedings in his behalf will be instituted.

CHARLOTTE STREET DUMP.

To the Editor of The Review.

Sir,—Allow me a few lines in your paper in regards to the dump at the east end of Charlotte street. I see there is a notice there forbidding any person or persons dumping rubbish on the extension of Charlotte street, but nobody pays any heed to it at all, and that is the only place they do dump it now, and in fact almost ever since the public was allowed to dump rubbish at this point. That rubbish lying around like that, so near the main street, and beside a principal hotel, is a disgrace to the city. There is almost every kind of stuff to be found there, from rotten lemons to dead rabbits. Now, seeing that the police force is strengthened a little, perhaps they could keep the law a little better in that quarter of the city. They won't have far to walk.

Yours truly,
A PASSERBY

AGAINST RECIPROCITY.

To the Editor of the Review.

Hastings, Ont.

Sir,—I think reciprocity would not be what some seem to think that it would be—a boom to the country. It did not prove to be at the time that it was in vogue back in the early sixties, before the N. P. came into force; and I must say I think it would be a great drawback to the Canadian industries and manufacturers.

I am sir, yours in the fight against it.

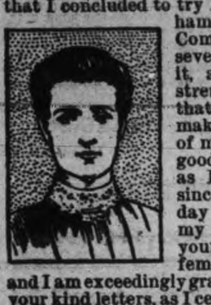
THE BEST REMEDY

For Women—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Belleville, Ont.—"I was so weak and worn out from a female weakness that I concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took several bottles of it, and I gained strength so rapidly that it seemed to make a new woman of me. I can do as good a day's work as I ever did. I sincerely bless the day that I made up my mind to take your medicine for female weakness, and I am exceedingly grateful to you for your kind letters, as I certainly profited by them. I give you permission to publish this any time you wish."—Mrs. ALBERT WICKETT, Belleville, Ontario, Canada.



Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will cure female weakness and so successfully carry women through the Change of Life as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

For 30 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female ills—inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST

Was Visited by Members of the Sheffield Choir

Members of First Church of Christ Scientist, were much pleased with the visitors from the Sheffield Choir who added so much to the singing Sunday night, and through whom such good greetings came from the mother land.

One gentleman reported his presence due to having been redeemed from the clutches of death through Christian Science treatment. Another gentleman said his brother a solicitor in London, had been marvelously healed after all material means had failed. One lady was present looking for help. Since coming to Canada she had lost her voice, and had not been able to take her place for a week. She reported Monday afternoon that she had taken her place in the rehearsal that morning and felt ready for her work that night. She thanked God that the redeeming and healing truth is to be found everywhere, and was glad she came to Peterborough, and would retain sweet recollections of the visit. Altogether the church found in them helpful, congenial visitors, and wishes them a very pleasant trip through Canada.

PETERBORO OLD BOY TALKS OF WESTERN FRUIT GROWING

A Review representative had an interesting little chat to-day with Cephas Abbott, son of E. J. Abbott, with whom he is engaged in the fruit growing business at Mission Junction, British Columbia.

Mr. Abbott, jr., has been in the city visiting relatives at 635 Union street, and left on the 1.40 train to-day for Toronto to attend college for a short time.

Fifteen years ago Mr. Abbott left Peterborough and entered upon the work of fruit raising on his father's fruit farm at Mission Junction, B.C. Since then he has only visited the city once, and he notices a vast difference in conditions during his absence.

Mission Junction is a little village of about five hundred population, situated about 43 miles from Vancouver, on the Fraser River. The fruit farm is about half a mile from the village, and a mile and a half from the station. It covers an area of over thirty acres, and on it are grown raspberries, gooseberries, plums, peaches, crabapples, apples, in fact nearly every variety of fruit.

"What is your opinion of the West?" Mr. Abbott was asked

"Well, as far as I know," said he, "the people who go out there do not want to come back to the east, after they have settled in the west. There are not, at least in our vicinity, the extremes of heat and cold, such as are experienced in the east. I cannot remember of any real cold weather during my stay there, nor any excessive heat. The coldest we ever had was 5 1-2 below zero. There is plenty of rainfall, which makes irrigation unnecessary."

There are forty-five men employed on Mr. Abbott's farm. This number varies, however, according to the success of the season's crop.

The only fruit which perhaps does not flourish as much as could be wished for is apples. "There is not the intense heat and sunshine in our vicinity which are so necessary to give that healthy, ruddy tinge to good apples," said Mr. Abbott.

"We ship all our fruit to the east," he remarked, "anywhere between Banff and Winnipeg. At Winnipeg we have to stop, as there it encounters the eastern trade."

"Have you any trouble with your hired help?" Mr. Abbott was asked.

"No, none at all," was the reply. "Our help are all Hindoos and Chinamen, and after a person has become familiar with their ways and actions, and really understands them, not the slightest difficulty is experienced in managing them."

"Is your place growing?" was the next question by the reporter.

"Yes," was the reply. "The main industries there are fruit raising and saw-mill work. The wages, however, are going up for fruit farm employees, and threatens to cause some trouble. The price of fruit is now as high as can possibly be asked. The average wage of Oriental laborers is $2 a day. When I went there the wage was 35 cents.

"A peculiar thing about the Chinamen," said Mr. Abbott, "is that you never see them drunk. They drink, but it is in a temperate manner. They know when to quit."

Mr. Abbott was born in Lakefield and has crossed the Rockies four times. He is only a young man, and is healthily bronzed by the exposure of his out-door life.

His father has three brothers also engaged in fruit farming in the same vicinity.

THE NE TEMERE DECREE

CANADIAN BAPTIST.

The Papal decree "Ne Temere," is now attracting considerable attention. The purpose of this decree is to prevent the marriage of Roman Catholics by a Protestant minister, and it has been making itself felt recently in three places that are of interest to us—in Ireland, in Montreal, and in Toronto. Of the first case we have nothing to say, although it is eliciting a great deal of discussion in the British press. The case in Montreal is that of two Roman Catholics who, in 1908, were married by a Protestant minister. The official decision has not been handed out that this marriage is illegal not only in the eyes of the Roman Catholic Church, but also in the eyes of the Quebec law. As the law in Quebec is somewhat complicated, and differs from that in our other Provinces, we do not feel disposed at present to do more than record the fact that the courts have taken this view of the case.

The Toronto case, however, stands in a light where the issue is quite clear. Here is a man who was properly married according to the statutes of Ontario. As a result of the decree "Ne Temere," he is encouraged in the view that he was not legally married, because his wife is a Protestant, and he was married by a Protestant, and he acts accordingly.

No one will question the right of the Roman Catholic Church or of any other church to exercise ecclesiastical discipline over its own members, or to apply the pains and penalties of ecclesiastical transgressions. But when it comes to the sphere of civil law, that is another matter, and to defy it, is to defy our constitution, and that is a rather serious attitude. The issue [illegible] The law says that such people are legally married, the Roman Catholic Church says that they are not. If our law is not clear enough it can be made clearer, for the body of Ontario opinion will not tolerate anything else. The Roman Catholic minority in this Province have no ground to complain about their treatment, and they may rest assured that public opinion will continue to give them their full rights. But for an institution like the Roman Catholic Church that has in the past made so many blunders, to seek to press the matter through, is only laughable, and the penalty of their folly will not be the crown of martyrdom, but the reputation for utter foolishness. The temper of the people of Ontario, even of those who are not Orange in their sentiments, is quite decided in this matter.

A statement published in the Toronto Globe does not improve matters: "Speaking of the Ne Temere edict to the Globe recently, Father A. E. Burke said:—'It has been stated that the Ne Temere law is retroactive. I say that it is not. It affects only those who have been married after its promulgation in 1908. All marriages previous to that date are valid, and the Church casts no aspersions whatever on the legitimacy of the offspring of such marriages.'"

If Father Burke, who is a very pleasant and capable man, thinks that the people of this Province will permit a violation of their laws even after the issue of the "Ne Temere" edict, he and others like him will find that the just and fair element in Ontario is also very determined when once aroused.

MADE THREE TRIPS AROUND WORLD

Toronto, April 4.—Julius Rath, a globe trotter, who has thrice girdled this sphere, walked into town yesterday from Windsor, and obtained signatures from Mayor Geary, Sir James Whitney, Postmaster Rogers and other notables. He started in 1897 from St. Louis to walk five hundred thousand miles, and he is to finish at the Panama Exposition at San Francisco in 1915. He was 14 when he started, and is now 28. Whether Rath has done what he claims there is no positive way of knowing, but his book of signatures seems genuine, and he has newspaper clippings to bear out his story. A club in St. Louis started him on his way, and if he completes the 500,000 miles he wins a prize of $30,000. He reports daily to the club enclosing the proofs required.

KIPLING WRITES ANIMAL PLAY

Kiplingesque Humor Said to be a Feature of It

London, April 2.—Rudyard Kipling has written his first play, but for some reason the matter is being kept a profound secret. Neither the title nor the plot is revealed, but the fact that all the characters are animals is known to Kipling's most intimate friends.

The characters are taken from the "Jungle Book," but the play cannot be called a dramatization of that work, as the stories are not followed, and only animals are being selected.

The play is declared by those who have read it to be replete with Kipling humor and virility. It is in no sense an imitation of "Chantecler," although Kipling's animal characters, like Rostand's, talk, understand and are endowed with human emotions. The play is being considered by one London and one New York management.

FOUR YEAR OLD CHILD MET DEATH

Daughter of Rev. H. T. Lewis Instantly Killed by Street Car

Oshawa, April 3—Little Alice Lewis, the four-year old daughter of Rev. H. T. Lewis, late pastor of the Simcoe Street Methodist Church, of this town, was run over by a street car about 11 o'clock this morning and instantly killed. In attempting to cross the street, she stumbled and fell on the car track on Simcoe Street south, and an approaching car was unable to stop before passing over the child.

Only five weeks ago Rev. Mr. Lewis resigned the pastorate of the Simcoe Street Methodist Church here to accept charge of the Metropolitan Church in Regina, and he is now in that city, Mrs. Lewis and children having not yet left Oshawa to join him in their new Western home.

Rev. H. T. Lewis was a brother of Rev. J. G. Lewis, a former pastor at Mark Street Methodist Church.

The funeral will take place in this city from the Grand Trunk station, Thursday, on arrival of the 5.30 train from Port Hope.

LISTEN TO US

"We are only little ones, but we know Zam-Buk eased our pain and cured our sores. Perhaps it would cure you, too, if you tried it?"

Isn't this sound advice from "babes and sucklings?" Take it! The speakers are the children of Mrs. L. Webster, of Seymour St., Montreal, and the mother adds weight to their appeal. She says: "My little girl contracted scalp disease at school. Bad gatherings formed all over her head, and not only caused the child acute pain but made her very ill. The sores discharged, and occurring on the scalp we feared she would lose all her hair. She was in a pitiable plight when we tried Zam-Buk, but a few days' treatment with this balm gave her ease. Then the sores began to heal, and we continued the Zam-Buk treatment. In a short time she was quite healed.

"My little boy sustained a serious scald on the neck. It set up a bad sore, and quite a few things we tried failed to heal it or give him ease. Once more we turned to Zam-Buk, and we were not disappointed. It acted like a charm in drawing away the pain, and soon healed the wound."

Zam-Buk is "something different" in the way of balms. It contains powerful healing herbal essences, which, as soon as applied to skin diseases, kill off the germs and end the painful smarting. Other essences contained there so stimulate the cells that new healthy tissue is speedily formed. Eczema, itch, ulcers, cold sores, abscesses, festering sores, blood poisoning, chronic wounds, cold cracks, etc., are healed and cured in this way. Use it for all skin injuries and diseases. It is also of great service for piles. All druggists and stores at 50 cents box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

THE SHEFFIELD CHOIR

The reception given by Peterborough people to the Sheffield Choir was surely an evidence of the warm appreciation which greeted the magnificent effort of the singers at the opera house last night. The spirit of camaraderie, of goodfellowship, of sympathy between choir and audience was instantly made manifest, and at the close not the least sign was the three hearty cheers given by both audience and the visitors.

The program as given was very representative of the ordinary repertoire of the choir. About thirty numbers were given, counting program and encores, and every chorus was but added evidence of the minute care with which voices were selected and then welded into one machine-like whole. Peterborough people had no reason to lament missing any number, although there were some who would have liked to have heard "It Comes from the Misty Ages," by Sir Edward Elgar, and Kipling's Recessional to Dyke's setting.

The choir is, perhaps, without exception as fine a body of trained singers as ever travelled Canada. Some there may be who will claim superiority for the Mendelssohn, but with such a body of tone, such phrasing and attack, such beautiful modulation, it may well be questioned if the Sheffield Choir isn't at a point where even Dr. Vogt's protettes could not improve on it. However the comparison may suggest itself, it isn't really material, as both choirs are exceptional bodies of singers, and their work thorough to the point of minuteness.

The Sheffield Choir is composed of 225 voices, all trained and selected with the greatest care from British musical circles. All of those in the chorus are soloists, having to pass a stiff standard, and each one appreciates the necessity of careful attention to the baton that Dr. Coward waves with such effect. The balance of the choir, as might be expected from such a body of singers, is without flaw. The basses are deep and mellow, the tenors clear and flexible, while the alto section was particularly noticeable for soft roundness of tone.

One hundred rehearsals of such singers, welding the volume of tone into a solid unit, obtaining a perfect balance, drilling into the chorus the light and shade that conveys subtle expression, accomplished such results that one might look in vain for something to criticize. The exquisite tone and shading obtained by Dr. Coward were never more noticeable than in the old Mendelssohn favorite "The Bells of St. Michael's Tower." The imitation of the big bell, with its resonance dying away with a hum, was magnificently rendered.

It was a true treat to have two Messiah choruses sung, the opening being "And the Glory of the Lord," while the program ended with the Hallelujah chorus. Both of these familiar masterpieces were rendered with exceptional strength and vigor, the ensemble being inspiring. The two madrigals in the first part of the program "In Going to My Lonely Bed," and "Fire, Fire My Heart," were delicate bits of expression, and the phrasing was superb. As an encore to "There Rolls the Deep" the ladies sang "The Night Hymn at Sea," by Thompson, perhaps one of the finest of the less pretentious numbers of the program, in penetrative power.

In the second part the male part songs were exceptionally well rendered, the encore being "The Nightingale," a madrigal for ladies only. The Harriss number, "Empire of the Sea," had a swing and a go, a dash and a vigor that made it rank high in patriotic music. It has a rhythm and a power that should make it popular wherever a Briton hears it.

The choir, of course, has some very fine soloists, although in the it does not present the talent that one sometimes hears in high-class concert work. Wilfrid Virgo, tenor soloist, in addition to possessing a fine voice, free and bell-like at the highest pitch, has power of dramatic expression and a natural ease that makes his work most enjoyable. He appeared in two duets, and encores, besides his solo "O Vision Entrancing." Miss Alice Heeley is a deep, full-voiced contralto. Her voice has an exceptionally low register. She sang "Land of Hope and Glory," by Elgar, as an encore.

Robert Chignell's rendering of Wagner's "O Star of Eve" from Tannhauser, was a faithfully executed interpretation of this difficult item.

Lady Norah Noel did not have much chance in her duet with Mr. Virgo, "How Sweet the Moonlight Sleeps," by Sir Arthur Sullivan, to demonstrate her voice. The song by Miss Jennie Taggart, was so popular that she was called back twice, singing as an encore "Comin' Thro' the Rye." Miss Lonsdale, contralto, was the last soloist, singing "Down in the Forest," and "The Little Silver Ring." It was a most enjoyable performance in every way, and, barring accidents, the choir ought to have a most triumphal tour of the Empire. It will accomplish a great deal to bind together the distant parts of the British Dominions, just as the sections of the choir blend their voices for the production of a great harmony. The program was—

NOT IN FAVOR OF A UNION

Unsuccessful Attempt to Unite Port Hope Presbyterian Churches

An effort was made at the Mill street Presbyterian church, Port Hope, last night, to formulate a basis of union between that church and St. Paul's Presbyterian church.

Rev. James Rollins, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, and Rev. Dr. Marsh, of Springville Presbyterian church, were the committee appointed to bring the union about, but utterly failed. The entire vote, with two exceptions, was against the union.

SHADOW OF THE CROSS

The wonderful picture, "The Shadow of the Cross," will finish its engagement at the Y.M.C.A. at the end of this week and will go from here to Port Hope. After it has gone there will be the usual regrets expressed by those who miss seeing it. A great many of our citizens seldom have the opportunity of seeing the great art treasures; and this privilege is one they should take advantage of. For aside altogether from the mystery bound up in it the picture is really an art treasure.

Rev. Dr. Marsh made an examination of the picture with his spectroscope and he has pronounced it absolutely mystifying. There have been, of course, those who have visited the picture and without the formality of even a superficial examination have pronounced it a "fake." The picture is open to all and sundry to make a minute and careful examination. There is no pretense at supernatural intervention. It is simply entertaining and instructive. It will be at the Y.M.C.A. all this week.

OLD BOYS' REUNION

In Connection With Inauguration Ceremony of the Chimes

The suggestion has been made that an Old Boys re-union be announced for Peterboro to take place at the inauguration of the People's Chimes at St. John's Church, which may be held either on the King's birthday, or Coronation Day.

Letters have been received in the city from faraway points, in which the writers have expressed their approval of a re-union being announced. Many subscribers to the Chimes fund are former citizens of Peterboro

The inauguration ceremony promises to be a big event and the extending of a welcome to the Old Boys, would not be out of place.

LOCAL OUTLOOK IN REAL ESTATE

Not Very Bright Just at Present —Fine Weather Wanted

The Vancouver Province of March 30th, contains an article giving an estimate on building permits which have been taken out at Vancouver this month. It states that so far permits have been issued amounting to $250,000, and before the end of the month they will amount to $2,000,000.

"Just at present the real estate outlook is not extremely bright," remarked a local real estate man to-day. "People are waiting for the weather to open up before committing themselves. Within a month, however, if the weather is favorable, it is almost a certainty that the real-estate business will be in full swing."

ONE YEAR FOR MEAKINS

Sentenced to Central by Judge Huycke This Afternoon

Alfred Meakins, who was committed for trial before Judge Huycke by Magistrate Dumble, for assaulting and robbing Wesley Westcott on Simcoe street last week, was sentenced to a term of twelve months in Central Prison.

The trial commenced at 2.30, and sentence was pronounced shortly after three o'clock.

The evidence was all against the prisoner. When taken into custody, it will be remembered, he accused the police officers of having placed the stolen money on his person.

G. N. Gordon defended the prisoner, while R. E. Wood prosecuted.

TRAVELED ALL ALONE IN AFRICA

Experiences of White Woman Were Quite Unique

London, April 3—Mrs. Roby, wife of an American brain specialist now residing in Japan, is the first white woman who ever has traveled the wilds of Central Africa without a white escort.

Mrs. Roby, who has just returned to London, went to Australia in October 1909, then to New Zealand, the South Sea Islands, and thence to South Africa, arriving at Durban last May.

She followed the route taken by the Duke of Connaught in her tour of South Africa, but continued right up to Equatorial Africa, making an especial study of native conditions in the Congo.

"For hundreds of miles," says Mrs. Roby, "I was alone except for black bearers. When the bearers became mutinous I would deal with them unaided.

"I had one very good boy of the name of Thomas, who saved my life when I had a bad attack of fever. My temperature rose up to 107 degrees. The boy persistently kept pouring cold water over my head after letting down my hair. I was quite unconscious and slept for five days."

FARMER SHOT IN MISTAKE

Explanation of Man Who Admits Shooting and Gives Himself Up.

North Bay, April 5.—As a result of a quarrel yesterday morning between neighboring farmers in Widdifield Township, about fifteen miles north of North Bay, Lawrence Morin lies dead and John McDougal, a man of 52 years of age, is locked up in the police station, the admitted slayer of Morin.

McDougal and Morin lived on farms about two miles apart, and McDougal was working for Morin taking out poles on contract. Yesterday morning McDougal went to see Morin to get some money on his wages. He found Morin in the bush alone with his dog. McDougal claims that the dog was vicious and he took his shotgun along to protect himself against the canine.

Morin became angry when asked about the money due his neighbor, and, according to McDougal's story, set the dog on him. The latter states that he warned Morin that he would shoot the dog if he attacked him. Morin persisted, and McDougal fired at the dog, but the charge entered the head of Morin. Then McDougal states he fired the other barrel and killed the dog. He left Morin lying dead in his tracks and went home, afterwards going to the township magistrate to give himself up. McDougal was brought to North Bay and locked up. An inquest will be held Wednesday in North Bay.

According to McDougal's story, there were no witnesses to the quarrel, although some men were working in a bush nearby, and must have heard the shots. Morin was a man about fifty years of age, and had a wife and large family. McDougal is also married, with a grown-up family, and seems to feel his position keenly.

SUCCESSOR OF BISHOP DuMOULIN

May be Friction in Matter of an Appointment

Hamilton, April 5.—Trouble is already brewing in connection with the appointment of a successor to the late Bishop DuMoulin.

To avoid any friction between the high and low church factions Canon Howitt and Canon Sutherland, representing the high and low clergy of the church, sent out a circular calling a meeting, at which it was hoped to agree on a candidate.

Rev. Robert Ker, of St. Catharines, has written an open letter denouncing this action as lacking decency and good taste.

Now there promises to be friction between the laity and clergy in the matter of appointment.

Champion Woman Suffrage.

London, April 5.—The corporation of London has entered the lists as a champion of woman's suffrage. At a special meeting it passed by a vote of 22 to 9 a resolution which is to be sealed with the city's official seal, petitioning Parliament to pass at the present session the woman's suffrage bill now before it, and that the lord mayor, together with the other civic officers, go to present the petition at the Bar of the House.

Government Steamer Launched.

Kingston, April 5.—Before three thousand people, the new Government quarantine steamer Polana was launched yesterday afternoon. Miss Helen Hale, daughter of Capt. Hale, christened the vessel, and Mayor Graham and W. F. Nickle, M.P.P., delivered addresses.

PROSPEROUS YEAR ANNOUNCED BY FIELDING IN BRIEF SPEECH

Finance Minister Lacks Enthusiasm and is Heard by Few Members—Foster Says its the Same Old Trick.

Ottawa, April 5.—For the first time since Confederation, a Minister of Finance presented a budget to the House of Commons yesterday that did not contemplate any tariff changes. Not only that, but Hon. W. S. Fielding's budget for 1910-11 was the shortest on record and the debate likewise will be noted for its brevity. There were but two speakers, the Minister of Finance and Hon. George E. Foster.

There were no changes of policy announced, there was no demonstration and little applause. There was a fair attendance of the members, with but a sprinkling of spectators in the galleries. The want of enthusiasm was remarkable. Mr. Fielding was evidently under considerable strain. His delivery was labored and his gestures without animation.

Mr. Fielding pointed to the prosperous condition of Canada. Dealing with the public accounts, he said that the estimated revenue for 1909-10 had been 97 1-2 millions. The revenue had totalled $101,500,000, or 16 millions in excess of the previous year, and five millions over the total of the record year, 1907-8.

The other side of the sheet was equally satisfactory. In 1908-9 there had been a reduction of 11 millions in revenue. The brakes had been applied. The expenditure had been $79,440,000, or a million and a half less than the estimate. There had been an estimated surplus of 16 1-2 million and an actual surplus of $22,091,963, a record for Canada.

"Over sinking fund?" asked Mr. Foster.

"Yes."

The capital account expenditure had been $35,971,911, of which two-thirds had been paid out of revenue, leaving some twelve millions to be added to the debt.

Nearly twenty millions had been spent on the Transcontinental.

"The year," said Mr. Fielding, "was a very prosperous one."

Turning to 1910-11 Mr. Fielding gave these figures: Customs revenue, $72,704,010; excise, $16,651,118; postoffice revenue, $8,642,090; Dominion lands revenue, $3,023,872; railways revenue, $10,368,590; miscellaneous revenues, $2,276,558; actual revenue 1909-10, $101,583,710.

For the last year up to March 31, $114,666,225, an increase of $16,000,000.

The estimated total revenue for 1910-11 was 117 1-2 millions. For 1910-11 the consolidated expenditure was $75,590,195.

There were circumstances, explained the Finance Minister, where a large surplus of such a character would be open to criticism. If it were the result of increased or burdensome taxation, it would be open to criticism. But in this instance the rates of taxation were lower than before, but owing to the flourishing condition of the country, the amount collected was larger. The rates of customs taxation were, he declared, lower than in previous years.

"When this surplus comes to us from a system of taxation which is no. open to the charge of being generally burdensome, I think we do well to take the surplus obtained in this way and use it in paying for some portion of our capital and specific charges, which otherwise would have to be replaced by additions to the public debt," he said amid Liberal applause.

Militia and Dominion lands and naval service were being taken from capital account so the actual expenditure had been increased really by $4,000,000 only.

For 1910-11 Mr. Fielding predicted a surplus of $30,500,000.

The speech was interrupted by a summons to the Senate for Royal assent to the supply bill.

Continuing Mr. Fielding said that the obtaining of this big surplus was not open to criticism, inasmuch as rates of taxation were really lower than in former years.

"We do well in taking this surplus to pay for part of our capital and special charges," he said.

The capital and special expenditure for the N.T.R. would be 24 millions, on railways, public works, etc., 11 1-2 millions, a total of 35 1-2 millions.

Allowing for the surplus and payment of $1,100,000 to sinking fund, only $3,900,000 would be added to the debt.

The debt, Mr. Fielding argued, was not a burden. On March 31 the net debt was $336,268,546. It would come up to $340,168,546.33. Producing a statement since 1891, the Minister showed that the debt per capita had gone from $49.09 to $43.69, the present population being estimated at 7,785,000. Twenty years ago it would have taken six years to pay the debt. To-day it could be done in less than three years.

Mr. Fielding then passed to his treatment of loans.

After reviewing the history of the policy of granting bounties, Mr. Fielding said those in existence at the present time were: Iron produced from Canadian ore by electric smelting, which would be operative until Dec. 31, 1912; rolled round wire rods, which expires July 1 next; lead extracted from Canadian ore, expiring June 30, 1913; manilla fibre used for binder twine, unlimited; crude petroleum, unlimited, since the inception of the bounty system in 1884, to March 31 last, the sum paid in bounties amounted to $21,031,700.

After quoting figures to show that the total trade of Canada had grown from $381,500,000 in 1900 to $728,431,000 in 1910, the Finance Minister commented upon the tremendous expansion of the nation's business, and gave it as his opinion that the indications were for an increasing volume of trade. For the eleven months of the year just closed the total trade was $687,376,352, an increase over the corresponding period of last year of $76,798,000.

It was impossible, he said, to make an accurate estimate for the year 1911-12, but he had no reason to fear that it would not be satisfactory. He believed the revenue would be sufficient to meet all ordinary expenditures and a share of the expenditures of a capital and special character.

Mr. Fielding concluded his address by saying: "Every prospect for Canada to-day is bright and hopeful. With peace and progress and prosperity at home, with the friendliest relations with the great republic lying along side of the great Empire of which we are so proud to form a part, the Canadian people can look forward to the future with every hope and confidence." (Liberal applause.).

Hon. George E. Foster, in arising to discuss Canada's prospects, was accorded loud Opposition applause. He remarked that fifteen months had passed by since Mr. Fielding had given a statement of the financial position of the country to the House. He hoped that this would not be a precedent for future delinquencies, and characterized it as slovenliness. With the story of increasing revenue and increasing expenditure and the hope of even a larger foreign trade, every one would be glad, he said, that Canada had had such a large measure of prosperity, but whilst they on the Opposition side also rejoiced, they were careful not to become idolators and worship the gods-that-are-to-be as the authors of all this.

Since Sir Wilfrid Laurier had come into power there had been an increase of taxation of 195 per cent. The total revenue in 1896 was thirty-six millions last year it was one hundred and one millions, and next year it was estimated that one hundred and seventeen millions. He dissented altogether from the statement that the burden and the rate of taxation had not been raised by the present Government. Taxation per capita to-day, he declared, was higher than in 1896.

As the surplus, Mr. Foster, said that it was to a considerable degree fictitious. For instance, several millions of dollars which during the past two or three years had been realized through the sale of land to create a fund to cover the cost of the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway had been put in with the revenue, in order to swell it and increase the size of the surplus. The Government was selling the capital of the country and crediting it to revenue. This is not the way in which a business man

POLITICIAN CHLOROFORMING CANADA

London, April 4.—The World to-day says—

"There appears to be a considerable number of individuals who imagine that arbitration between Great Britain and the United States will safeguard Canada's interests and put an end to the dream of the American annexationists, which Mr. Champ Clark translated in his bombastic language.

"While we support the general idea of settling the differences of the two Anglo-American nations without the arbitrament of Dreadnoughts," the World continues, "we do not believe for one moment that arbitration will have one iota of effect in saving Canada from the peril of annexation which will beset her if reciprocity is carried.

"For every American who supports reciprocity for commercial reasons, a dozen support it for political reasons. The United States' politicians are watching with silent ecstasy the spectacle of Canada's politicians chloroforming her."

DIAZ MUST RESIGN BEFORE PEACE IS FULLY RESTORED

Leader Madero of Insurrectos Confident of Final Success.

Madero's Camp, near Chihuahua, April 5.—A declaration that all talk of peace is futile so long as President Diaz refuses to resign and that the Cabinet changes at Mexico City have served only to convince the insurrectos of their ultimate success, was made by Francisco Madero, jr., the provisional President, in an interview yesterday. Madero declared he was confident of "the final triumph of arms in the overthrow of Diaz."

"The change of the Ministry is a concession to an armed revolution," said Madero, "but it comes too late, and is not sufficient."

"No, we don't want promises; the Government has always made promises and kept none. The only condition we will accept peace terms is that Diaz shall step aside and declare null the election of last year. We must be certain of a free ballot, the protection of the constitution of 1907 and a guarantee of no re-election of the President."

"Foreign money in this have nothing to fear. The country will progress more rapidly under the reforms which we will institute, and those who have capital invested here will receive greater dividends. We are respecting the property rights of foreigners. Every dollars' worth of property damages will be refunded by our Government.

"We hope the U. S. troops will never come across our border. It would be a calamity. We could not do otherwise than regard intervention as a hostile act. We are able to settle our own family troubles."

For a Fifth Term.

Chicago, April 5.—Carter H. Harrison, Democrat, was elected mayor of Chicago yesterday. It was the fifth time he had been given the office, and his plurality was in the neighborhood of 18,000. Charles E. Merriam, his republican opponent, conceded the election two and one-half hours after the polls closed.

Annexation propositions failed to get majorities in Oak Park and the Town of Cicero, but the Village of Morgan Park decided to join the city.

The Socialists polled nearly 24,000, a gain of 11,000 over four years ago, while the prohibition vote fell from 5,875 to about 3,000.

FIENDISH ACT OF EX-CONVICT

Locked Boy in Freight Car in Revenge

Special to the Review.

Philadelphia, April 5.—Bernard Rogers, twelve years of age, who has been missing for the past ten days, is believed to be dead in a Lehigh Valley freight car, the whereabouts of which cannot be ascertained. The young lad was locked in the car by an ex-convict as a revenge on the uncle of the boy, who was instrumental in having the man imprisoned. A card was received from the ex-convict to-day, in which he told of his act. It is impossible to get trace of the car in which the boy probably perished from hunger.

BIG ROBBERY AT TORONTO STORE

Several Trays of Jewelry Taken From Ellis Bros.

Toronto, April 5.—The jewelry store of Ellis Bros., 108 Yonge street, was burglarized last night. The exact amount of booty secured by the burglars is not known, but the appearance of the showcases indicated that several trays of jewelry had been removed. That the burglars had gained an entrance to the place during the early part of the evening was quite apparent from the moist condition of the shavings sprinkled around the back door, through which an entrance was gained by sawing out one of the panels. Near the door was found a brace and bit, a hammer and a large jackknife. The door was found open by Constable Hollis shortly before two o'clock this morning.

THE INDEPENDENT TIRE CO. BY-LAW WORTHY OF SUPPORT

Details of the Terms of the Agreement to be Voted on April 25—It Looks Like a Good Deal

Arrangements are being made thorough and carefully by the citizens' committee to get the full vote out for the passage of the by-law covering the establishment of the Independent Tire Company in Peterborough. That this industry will be a most desirable one is nowhere disputed, and the terms agreed to by the representatives of the company are, in the opinion of the business men who handled the matter, not at all excessive.

The terms of the by-law briefly are that Peterborough shall make a loan to the company of $40,000 toward the cost of a site and a three storey factory, such loan to be repaid at the rate of $2,000 a year, with interest at 4 1-2 per cent. (the same as paid by the city) the security being the site and building, and machinery, which must be free from encumbrance, to the value of $75,000. The building must be complete, ready for operation, before half of the loan is made, and by the time the last instalment is paid, the factory must be employing sixty hands—that is, within three months of the starting of operations. At the end of the first year 100 hands must be employed, and continuously thereafter.

The company must, before it gets any loan from the city, have $150,000 capital fully paid up, and after the machinery is paid for, all surplus must be retained as working capital. The company agrees to have building ready for operation by July 1, 1912. The city's security are land and buildings worth at least $40,000, and machinery which must at all times be worth $75,000 and kept free from encumbrance.

The only question for the citizens to consider is consider is: Is the security for the loan adequate? The fact that the company will have nearly $190,000 assets with this $40,000 liability, would seem a good margin for safety.

ALL VISITORS TO BE SEARCHED

Before Being Allowed to Enter St. Peter's at Rome

Special to the Review.

Rome, Italy, April 5.—Following the attack on the lives of the priests during the celebration of Mass at St. Peter's yesterday, an order has gone into effect which calls for a search being made of all visitors, so that no person can enter the cathedral with concealed weapons. Pesanti, the man who fired shots at the priests yesterday, declares that he hoped to kill Mgr. Merry del Val and Cardinal Rampolla.

CONTRACT FOR QUEBEC BRIDGE INVOLVES SUM OF $9,000,000

Expenditure of One Million Before Big Job Can be Commenced.

Montreal, April 5.—The contract for the superstructure of the Quebec bridge was signed yesterday at Ottawa, the amount involved being $9,000,000, and it is also understood that a check for a large sum of money was put up as a guarantee for the carrying out of the contract. The signatures to the contract are Hon. George Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, representing the Government; Phelps Johnston, as president, and F. Webber, secretary of the St. Lawrence Bridge Co., while Mr. Johnston again signed as vice-president of the Dominion Bridge Co., with M. Davy as secretary; the Canadian Bridge Co. of Walkerville being represented on the signed document by F. C. McMath, president, and Mr. Miller, secretary.

As previously announced the Dominion Bridge Co. and the Canadian Bridge Co. unite to form a construction company to do the work, this company being known as the St. Lawrence Bridge Co.

The contractors of the new structure at Quebec agree to have the work completed by the 31st of December, 1911. The first thing to do is to purchase the land and erect new shops, the whole to cost $1,000,000, as no existing plant in the Dominion is sufficient to carry on such an extensive contract. The shops will be in, or near, Montreal, and not in the neighborhood of the bridge site, as has been suggested. The contract for the steel has already been given to the United States Steel Co. of Pittsburg, as the material will be too long for ocean steamers.

A campaign to raise $50,000 for a new Y.M.C.A. building in Guelph has been started.

London, Eng., April 5.—Chas Moverly Bell, managing director of the London Times, died suddenly while at work in his office.

London, Eng., April 5.—Dowager Queen Alexandra left England to-day for a cruise on the Mediterranean.

London, Eng., April 5.—A severe blizzard is sweeping over England and Wales to-day. All traffic is interrupted.

REAL STRUGGLE ON TARIFF BILL WHEN IT GETS TO SENATE

Pact Will go Through House of Representatives.

Democrats Have Measure Different From McCall Bill.

Washington, April 5.—The plan of tariff revision to be recommended to the House by the ways and means committee will be the subject of a conference to-day among the Democratic members. Also the revision and reciprocity have been thoroughly considered by Chairman Underwood and his associates, though no definite method of procedure has been determined upon up to this time.

There is a division of opinion in the committee as to whether the Canadian reciprocity measure should be presented as a separate bill or should have attached to it revised schedules embracing parts of the existing tariff law, such as the woollen or cotton schedules. A decision may be reached to-day, and the committee will be ready, if desired, to report some legislation to the House by Thursday.

It is understood that the Democratic members of the committee have a reciprocity measure in slightly different terms than the McCall administration bill and that it may be presented by Chairman Underwood.

CHAMP CLARK,
The New Speaker In the House of Representatives.

Bills on almost every conceivable subject, both public and private, were introduced last night. They provide for changes in tariff pensions, improvements in the postal service, an income tax, making the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, Feb. 12, a legal holiday, for memorial to Robert Fulton, inventor of the steamboat, in the county in Pennsylvania where he was born, and many other matters.

Representative Hull of Tennessee is the author of a bill for an income tax on all salaries or incomes of $5,000 or more, derived from any source whatever, unless otherwise taxed, to be assessed at the rate of one per cent. a year. He expects to press the bill without regard to the proposed constitutional amendment on the subject.

President Taft's message, dealing with Canadian reciprocity alone, will be read in the two Houses of Congress to-day.

Government Steamer Launched.

Standard Oil and Mexico.

New York, April 5.—The Standard Oil Co. yesterday issued a formal statement, denying reports that it has been financing the revolt in Mexico. The statement says:

"All these and similar reports are absolutely untrue. The Standard Oil Co., in its character as a citizen of the United States, has strictly held itself apart from all interference in the affairs of the Mexican republic, with which it has no connection, moral or material."

Special to the Review.

TORONTO, APRIL 5.—FREDERICK CROMPTON WAS TO-DAY FINED FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS ON THE CHARGE OF TAKING IN PLEDGE NOTES OF THE FARMERS BANK TO THE AMOUNT OF FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS. CROMPTIN MUST PAY THE FINE OR GO TO JAIL FOR ONE MONTH.

FIRE DRILL FOR FACTORY MEN

Government Will be Asked to Give Its Approval

Hamilton, April 5.—The city will likely appeal to the Ontario Government for power to compel factories to have fire drills for their employes.

Building Inspector Anderson made the suggestion to the controllers yesterday. He related how recently there was a panic on the top floor of a big factory here when fire started.

Only two girls ran to the fire escape. The rest rushed to the stairs, choking the exit and several fainted.

VOTE AGAINST RECIPROCITY

New Brunswick Legislature Show Majority of Fourteen

Fredericton, N.B., April 5.—A vote taken at the New Brunswick Legislature to-day resulted in a majority against the endorsement of the reciprocity agreement. The vote stood twenty-nine to fifteen.

SCIATICA

EXPECTED DEATH ANY DAY

Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Health Restored by "Nerviline."

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith in Nerviline that Victor P. Hires makes the following declaration: "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service, and in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Dampness, cold, and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made me powerless to work. I was so nearly a complete cripple that I had to give up my job. I was in despair, completely cast down because the money I spent on trying to get well was wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended "Nerviline." I had this good liniment rubbed on several times a day, and got relief. In order to build up my general health and improve my blood I used Ferrozone, one tablet with each meal. I continued this treatment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments, and can truthfully say that Nerviline is far stronger, more penetrating, and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urge everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism, or sciatica to use Nerviline. I know it will cure them."

CURED SIX YEARS

There isn't a more highly-esteemed citizen in Westchester than Mr. Hires. What he says can be relied upon. For six years since being cured he hasn't had a single relapse. Don't accept anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." 50 cents per bottle, trial size, 25c; sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABEL

THE "FIRE" COMMITTEE

Some of the members of the Fire, Water and Light Committee seem to be rather intent on taking over some of the duties of Chief Howard. At the meeting of the committee last night a recommendation was passed that the deputy chief and Capt. Thomas be released, on grounds that practically amounts to a charge of sedition. The members of the committee are responsible to the people for the proper regulation of the fire department; for the handling of its business affairs, its equipment. With its internal regulation, the committee should not undertake to interfere, that being in the province of the chief. If the chief cannot govern his department efficiently, someone should be obtained who can, but while the department has a chief, there should be no interference over his head, as that tends to destroy his control over subordinates. When the members of the committee have a complaint, or if they think some discipline is necessary, let the chief be brought up on the carpet, or even the offending members of the department, and an inquiry instituted. Then action may be taken.

But when members of a committee undertake to discharge members of the department themselves, without reference to the head of the department, through whom such action should materialize, and on evidence gathered privately by members who might possibly be wrongly informed, or prejudiced, or not in a position to deal judicially with such matters, they are exceeding the proper functions of such a committee. The members of the Fire, Water and Light Committee should recognize the fact that even a committee should maintain some sense of decorum and formality in its conduct of committee affairs, and conduct them as a committee, demanding proper observance of its rules and regulations, if it has any.

FRUITLESS RESOLUTIONS

The Examiner says, in reference to the City Council dealing with the question of reciprocity:

"They have no earthly business to fruitlessly meddle with a subject they have no more right to deal with than they have with the lord's veto bill in the Imperial House of Commons."

Aside from this being a handsome specimen of tautology, if the City Council of Peterborough has no right to touch this question, neither have the Grit Legislatures of Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan, which passed resolutions in favor of reciprocity, and which the Examiner doubtless upholds. The fact that the action of the City Council of Peterborough, one way or the other, will have no effect on the agreement, is quite apparent, since Laurier has seen fit to say that the protests of not a soul in the Dominion can change the terms of the agreement. Much bigger, and more important bodies than the Peterborough Council have passed resolutions—"fruitless" resolutions, but if they happen to record a favorable opinion, with what joy are they paraded by the government. If such resolutions are "fruitless," why should the government agents have stereotyped resolutions favoring reciprocity, engineered through all the western farmers' organizations? Why should anyone protest against Canada being delivered into the solicitous care of Uncle Sam, such protests being "fruitless"?

There may be honest difference of opinion as to whether a city council or even a provincial legislature should officially pronounce on reciprocity, but many public bodies have had something to say on it, and Peterborough, being directly injured, certainly is entitled to an expression of opinion, even though it is "fruitless." The citizens' opinions are not "fruitless," however, on ballot day. Perhaps that is why Mr. Stratton would like a change of venue.

SOME OPINIONS

The Montreal Witness has been conducting a Reciprocity vote. Many of its readers strongly object to Reciprocity, and here are some of them:

"No—The Nineteenth Century was the United States Century. The Twentieth Century is Canada's.

"No—To the majority of the people of North Gower, Ont., farmers or others, the proposed Reciprocity agreement holds out no inducements. Those with broader views than their own pockets consider it a stepping stone to annexation."

"No—I am opposed to Reciprocity. Canada at present is in state of prosperity. Why not leave her as she is? Free Trade would be a still greater benefit to both nations concerned. For one thing it would reduce the present 'high cost of living.'"

"No—And while I do not agree with the 'Witness' as to reciprocity, I have no patience with people who impute selfish motives to it. Freedom of speech is a sacred thing, and an honest difference of opinion is worthy the serious consideration of honest men."

"No—My principal reason for voting against reciprocity is that I am fully convinced that such a measure of reciprocity as proposed by our present government would, in my humble opinion, be detrimental to the best interests of our country. The 'Witness' is all right, but no reciprocity for me."

"No—I have been a constant reader of your valuable paper for this last 30 years, and always upheld it to be the best paper printed and still am of that opinion. But I do not agree with you in the question of reciprocity. Canada has been a prosperous country for this number of years, and I think it is going to be for a term of years to come. Let well enough alone. Every man has a right to his opinion."

LONG LIFE TO YOU

The science of how to live to a great age has attracted a great deal of attention from the savants, but there seems to be a great deal of uncertainty as to the methods for achieving this boon. Every week we read of some old man or old woman dying around the century mark, or perhaps beyond it, and the news item concerning the death almost invariably states what the rules guiding the life of the ancient were.

It was accepted years ago that the natural span of life was the Psalmists three score and ten. But mortality tables upset this idea, because so many people number their years in the eighties that each of us should rightfully look for a life beyond the Biblical term. Dr. Farr, a noted English authority, tells us that nearly one-tenth of the Anglo-Saxon race reach eighty years or over, one out of thirty live to be eighty-five years of age or over, one out of fifty to be 95.

Dr. Hartshorn, author of a household work on medicine, thinks that the alloted span of life for man should be 100 years, and he says that "good reasons exist for believing that at its early best the longevity of man should have been at least 200 years." Dr. Alexander Bryce, author of the Laws of Life and Health, thinks that man should live to be 150.

The medical scientists are agreed on some salient facts as to habits or treatment conducive to the lengthening of life. One is to drink two or three pints of water daily, for water destroys the waste in the body, and nothing can take its place as a cell and organism renewer. Dr. Bryce regards work as the secret of longevity. He considers that a life of pleasure is fatal, and a life of rest will make the individual rusty. The body and the mind must be used, or it will rust, as all unused machinery rusts.

Dr. Hartshorn goes more into details in his rules, which it may be possible or not, for the average person to observe. He would have no person breathe more than three breaths of foul air. Yet it should be noted that people will spend a whole evening in the close reeking air of a moving picture show. Dr. Hartshorn would have man drink water and milk, a cup of tea perhaps, coffee only occasionally, and alcoholic beverages never. And never use tobacco; although this latter injunction does not seem to have applied successfully to some of the centenarians, who have been steady users of tobacco all their lives.

Dr. Hartshorn would have everyone do some work each day, but no overwork. There should be rest one day a week, absolute rest. In effect, the only way to produce long life is to observe the general laws of Nature, to endeavor to retain good health through the passing years, and to be natural.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Lord Roberts' attack on the inefficiency of the British army as a defensive force comes with peculiar force at a time when the British nation is howling itself hoarse over the prospect of eternal peace. Until the peace movement gains much farther headway, Britain cannot afford to relax any of her vigilance.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy says that war is a good thing, as it relieves the world of surplus population. At that rate, railway disasters, with which Sir Thomas is sometimes indirectly connected as president of a railway corporation, are also a good thing. That view isn't likely to be popular among the victims.

The problem of negro immigration in Alberta is a perplexing one. To exclude the negroes from Canada is to proclaim Canada as opposed to the freedom and brotherhood of man; but to admit them in colonies is to create a serious evil. If this is one of the promised rewards of reciprocity—the advertisement of Canada among the southern negroes—the pact is "off to" a good start.

Mr Borden is going to adhere to his program to make a tour of the west this summer. This will mean a lot to the fortunes of the Conservative party in the west. That Mr Borden will be able to make a much stronger impression on the west than did Sir Wilfrid last summer is a foregone conclusion. Sir Wilfrid's circus last year developed a verbal assault every place he stopped.

The inertness of the government in supplying statistics of comparative prices of natural prices in the United States and Canada leads one to the suspicion that the ministers know that on the whole American prices are lower than Canadian, and that the Canadian farmer will not benefit by the free access to the American market at all. Such statistics would soon pull the wool off the eyes of the reciprocity faddists. Messrs. Fielding and Paterson apparently concluded the agreement without having figures at hand showing what the effect would be. They took a jump in the dark, and now they shiver at the prospect.

THE POSTMASTER TELLS HIS FRIENDS

That They Should Use Dodd's Kidney Pills For Kidney Ills

He had Backache for a Long Time But Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured It Tha is Why He Recommends them.

Dyment, Ont., April 4.—(Special).—John Olberg, postmaster here, and well known throughout this entire neighborhood, is telling his friends that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the cure for all forms of Kidney Disease. And when they ask how he knows, this is the answer he gives—

"I was troubled with Backache for a long time and Dodd's Kidney Pills cured it. That's why I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from Kidney Disease."

And the postmaster is not the only one in this neighborhood who has found relief from their Kidney ills in the old reliable remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills. Others there are whose Rheumatism has been relieved, whose Dropsy has vanished, and whose Urinary Troubles have been cured. For if the disease is of the Kidneys, or caused by the Kidneys being out of order, Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to cure it.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"How long will it take you," said he, "to kind of draw out your plan for clinchin' the control of the air legally?"

"Oh, a very brief time," said Craighead. "I have installed a fine law library in my apartments so the consultation of authorities will be easy, but"—

"Well," interrupted Mr. Waddy, "if you can have that done by the time Mr. Carson can go where his machine is, put it in shape an' fly back it'll do. When he lights in the front yard an' you bring me a good law proof monopoly I'll go in with you, but he's got to fetch a letter from Mobile within twenty-four hours o' the time it's stamped there. I'm from Missouri! What say?"

"Done!" cried Craighead.

Theodore was trembling.

"Before we call it a bargain," said Theodore, "I should like a word with Mr. Craighead if you will excuse me."

"Certainly," said Mrs. Graybill.

Craighead faced Carson inquiringly as they found themselves alone in the hall.

"I wish to explain," said Theodore, "that I—I can't pay the charges on the motors; I can't get them down to the beach. So how can we acept Mr. Waddy's offer?"

"I'VE SETTLED THE CASE OF CARSON VERSUS THE SLATTERY INSTITUTE."

"Gad, cunnel," exclaimed Craighead, "I'm glad you told me in private instead of disclosing our impecuniousness to his Waddiness. But have no fear. You carry Caesar and his fortunes. I have the fund for the motors."

Craighead drew from his pocket a roll of bills, the outer one of rather startling magnitude.

"Fees," said Craighead—"damages, actual and exemplary. I've settled the case of Carson versus the Slattery institute. Fair sir, we have a swollen fortune."

"What do you mean?" asked Carson.

"I mean," said Craighead, "that this roll of tainted money is our loot of the emporium. Wit well that I soaked 'em plenty."

"But I can't allow this!" cried Theodore.

"It's already allowed," answered Craighead, with an air of perfect innocence. "Come, callow sir, we can't begin now the ruinous policy of scrutinizing the sources of our supplies. We can endow a college later, and that—What you doing?"

Carson was cramming the bills into his pocket.

"Going back to Mr. Waddy," said he. "Come on."

"Aye, aye, sir," said Craighead, his hand to his forelock. "But I warns you, capting, that there's breakers dead ahead and on both bows and that Craighead's the only pilot as knows these waters. But here's with you, if it's to Davy Jones!"

"Mr. Waddy," said Theodore, walking up to him and looking him in the face, "before accepting your offer I must make sure that I can fulfill my part of it. I must install the motors in the aeronef. There are some financial arrangements to be made. It may be some weeks"—

"I'll let you have what money you need," said Mr. Waddy. "I know how it gen'ly is with these here geniuses."

Theodore grasped the old man's hands, his face flushed with joy.

"I accept your advances with pleasure," said he, "and within sixty days I shall be here with the aeronef."

"As certain," said Craighead, "as the world turns over sixty times on its shafting. Got your order, Mr. Waddy!"

They took their departure.

After retiring they lay awake, exchanging remarks and suggestions across the dark room.

"Oh, about that money!" said Carson. "I must return it to Dr. Witherspoon, Craighead. You won't misunderstand me, will you?"

"Not in the least," replied Craighead sleepily. "Ingrowing conscience and all that rot. Get over it as you get richer, you know. I would fain dream of Caroline."

CHAPTER IX.

THE INCEPTION OF "UNCLE THEODORE."

THEODORE'S mind, habituated to the airy ease of an unfettered faith in his mastership of the air, felt the galling of reality as he walked westward from the station toward dilapidated Carson's Landing.

Seated on a stump, he sought mental adjustment before entering his house. He had had his chance with Shayne. "the prince of the powers of the air," and had thrown it away in hot words to Shayne, in a blow to Silberberg and by leaping from the Roc into the unknown abyss of night. These were actualities. The broken deflector of the parachute he carried proved that, as did the memory of his foolishness over Shayne's niece, now happily forever past.

Mr. Waddy's money and Mr. Craighead's telegrams saved the day.

The first three yellow dispatches had come in one delivery at Nashville, addressed to "Theodore Carson, the Illustrious Inventor and Thaumaturge, Care Conductor, Train 75." Theodore, the illustrious, could not accumulate the courage to ask for them, but the wise conductor had pounced suddenly upon him and said, "I reckon you're Mr. Carson."

"Yield not to temptation, fear or cold feet," the first read. "Your Uncle Fuller is at the helm." This was signed "The Great Uncalled," with the first two words run together as "Thegreat" in a telegraph operator's effort to reduce to the semblance of a name Mr. Craighead's nom de guerre. The second ran: "Have no fear. Monopoly is as clear in the air as on the land. Apologies to Sir Humphrey Gilbert. None to any one else by a dern sight. Conspuez Shayne." This was signed "Craighead, the Legal Bloodhound." "An old Broom," ran the more mysterious next, "albeit minus one cover and dog's eared, nevertheless sweeps clean. He yokes the whirligig to our car and sweeps the howling skies!" (Signed) "Dandy Jim of Caroline Graybill." The fourth, delivered at Birmingham, was addressed to General Theodore Carson, M. A. ("Monopolist of the Air"), and consisted of ten repetitions of "Eureka," signed "D. J. of C."

The last came at Bay Minette and was too astonishing to be explained on any theory consistent with Craighead's sobriety and sanity. "Caroline's dad," it read, "falls dead at unveiling of Broom idea. Sees absolute cinch and rises to it as per lifelong custom. Formed today Universal Nitrates and Air Products company. Laws of West Virginia. You come in for 25 per cent. Caroline impressed. Either universal genius or rodents in campanile. Greatly encouraged, not to say titivated. Almost converted to belief in my own schemes and self, but am cautiously suspending judgment. Will have Chicago surrounded by time you return. Go east to Wheeling (or is Charleston capital?) tonight and will incidentally run up and construct first line of circumvallation (see cyclopedia) about Greater New York. Monopoly end of deal absolutely nailed down; brass nails, with Waddy doubloons coming copious. Up to you to produce flier. Getting wabbly in head. Losing faith in you as concrete entity. Have you any aeronef? Answer 'Yes' or 'No' at once." This also was signed "D. J. of Caroline."

FALLING HAIR

Stop it in Two Weeks, Ask Wm. Madill About Parisian Sage

Hair falls out because the dandruff germs dig into the hair roots and sap them of their vitality. They appropriate the natural nourishment that supplies life and luster to the hair.

To stop falling hair you must kill the germs. Parisian Sage is guaranteed by Wm Madill to kill dandruff germs, banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp or money back. If your hair is thinning our Parisian Sage will promote a new growth. Clever women use it because it makes the hair brilliant and beautiful, and is not sticky or greasy. Large bottle 50 cents.

Fire at Seaforth.

Seaforth, April 5.—Fire yesterday practically wiped out a number of firms doing business in the Scott Block, a three-storey brick building on Main street. It originated in the top storey and was discovered about five o'clock. The cause is unknown. The heaviest losses are: F. Holmstead, lawyer; Dr. Fisher, dentitst; Edge & Gutteridge, contractors; W. R. Smith, grocer, and Alex. Wilson, druggist and stationer. The total insurance on building and stocks was about $14,000, but that will not cover the loss.

Another Independent Line.

Ottawa, April 5.—Dr. Lafortune of Gatineau Point, and a number of local businessmen have organized a rural telephone service, which will operate from Quinville postoffice, taking in the rural districts surrounding the Village of Gatineau Point and the Townships of East Hull and West Templeton. The company is capitalized at $15,000, and the building of the line has been commenced. The officers expect to have the service in working order by July 1.

A $30,000 Blaze.

Langenburg, Sask., April 5.—Fire, which broke out early yesterday in the hardware store of Denmark & Burton, caused a total loss of $30,000. The Bank of Toronto building and the Imperial Hotel were both badly scorched.

Money Under False Pretences.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 5.—Norman Wilson was sentenced to six months in the Central yesterday for obtaining money under false pretences from Lieut.-Col. F. W. Hill.

Standard Oil and Mexico.

New York, April 5.—The Standard Oil Co. yesterday issued a formal statement, denying reports that it has been financing the revolt in Mexico. The statement says:

"All these and similar reports are absolutely untrue. The Standard Oil Co., in its character as a citizen of the United States, has strictly held itself apart from all interference in the affairs of the Mexican republic, with which it has no connection, moral or material."

COMMISSION TO HELP OLD MAIDS

Spinsters to be Assisted in Finding Husbands

A bill to promote matrimony by levying a tax of $5 annually on spinsters over 25 years of age, and by establishing a state bureau to help old maids find husbands was recently introduced in the lower house by Assemblyman Carl Hansen, of Manitowoc.

"The bill is no joke," said Mr. Hansen. "The alarming decrease of marriages in Wisconsin demands intervention by the legislature. Wisconsin women are the prettiest in the world, but still Hymen's harvest in this state annually decreases.

"Beautiful buds of Bagerdom bloom and blossom to bless mankind, but bashful Badger boys balk at becoming benedicts. It is time for the state to take a hand and help the bridal business."

The bill provides for a state matrimonial commission to consist of Governor McGovern, C. E. Shaffer, chief clerk of the assembly, and State Superintendent of Public Property William L. Essman. The committee is to superintendent the collection of the $5 tax and apply the receips in advertising the charms and accomplishments of sprinters who are looking for husbands.

The commission is to publish pamphlets containing pictures and descriptions of marriageable women and seek to introduce them to marriageable men. Maidens under 25 years of age and widows fo any age are to be exempt from the tax on the theory that they don't need the help of a matrimonial bureau.

THE WEIGHING OF PRECIOUS STONES

An important change was made in the system of weighing preciou stones by the agreement of European jewellers and lapidist which is now in effect. France, Switzerland, Norway, Roumania, Bulgaria, and Spain entered into the agreement to establish a metrical karat which would fit into the metrical system, now so generally used abroad. The old karat of 8,167 grains troy weighed 205.3 milligrammes, while the new karat will will weigh an even 200 milligrammes, or 3,086 grains troy, according to the old system. The change is being considered in every country where precious stones are articles of commerce, and various European States in addition to those mentioned above which have already acknowledged the the reform are about to adopt the metrical karat.

Of course, if any of the larger and wealthier nations—England, for instance—were to object to any alteration the confusion would tend to hamper trade, but the change is more than welcomed on the continent, where the metrical system has been in use for so many years that the old arbitrary weights are almost forgotten, and all measurements have been simplified into a decimal system.

A Household Necessity

Father Morriscy's Liniment Should be in Every Home

How seldom a week passes without some member of the family suffering from a sore throat, chest or back, a burn or a cut, a sprain, strain or ache!

Such troubles will come, but there is no need of suffering much from them. Keep a bottle of Father Morriscy's Liniment in the house, use it freely, and the pain has little chance.

During his lifetime Father Morriscy prescribed this Liniment regularly, and it proved very effective in relieving all sorts of pains and aches. In Rheumatism it is valuable as a "rub", when "Father Morriscy's No. 7" Tablets are taken internally. Similarly, applied freely to throat and chest it helps "Father Morriscy's No. 10" (Lung Tonic) to quickly break up and drive away a sore throat, cold in the chest, or cough.

Taken all around it is one of the best family liniments in existence. Price 25c per bottle. At your dealer's, or from Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Ltd., Montreal, Que. 22

Ottawa's Entrance Problem.

Ottawa, April 5.—Hon. Geo. P. Graham was asked yesterday for a statement of the Government's position in regard to the gigantic scheme of Engineers Kerr and Tye for a solution of Ottawa's railway entrance problem, which embodies diverting the Rideau Canal outlet here and the construction of a tunnel under the city.

The Minister of Railways and Canals, said, however, that pending a report by Government engineers, he could not speak authoritatively. One thing certain, though, was that the Government, while it might agree to the proposition if feasible, would not agree to stand the cost of building a new canal outlet. That would have to be done by the parties directly interested—the city and the railways.

An exhaustive enquiry will precede the Government's decision.

CONCERNING INSURANCE

To the Editor of Saturday Night.

Dear Sir,—We have placed a lot of our insurance with companies in the United States and Europe, on a contract guaranteed by a Montreal brokerage company. Some Canadian agents and inspectors say this is no good. What is your opinion?

Manufacturer.

It is quite impossible for us to give an opinion of the insurance without a list of the companies. The guarantee, as you probably know, is practically valueless; in fact, it is a question if if it is not illegal, being a class of fire insurance conducted without a license. The "guaranteed contract" is only one of the thousand fakes being offered the insuring public, whose ignorance and gullibility in insurance is almost equalled by the same in regards to mining. Anything in the bargain line goes.

Contracts of insurance made with companies not licensed are not enforceable in Ontario. The public here have nothing regarding these companies but the word of the interested broker, who receives his commission on the premiums placed through him. The expense of collection in foreign countries and the delay which resulted in making collections under some policies issued by these foreign insurers are such as would result in ruin to a large manufacturer. In one case, where the loss occurred nearly a year ago, it has been found impossible to get even a reply, and the amount being small, it will not pay to sue.

In the insurance business, as in every other business, if you deal with reliable, established houses, you get what you pay for.

The object of Saturday Night in this department will be to advise, so that you shall get insurance worth one hundred cents on the dollar. There is no other insurance that eventually insures.

FELL FROM WINDOW DISLOCATED ARM

Cecil Wolff Lost His Balance and Fell to the Pavement

Cecil Wolff, a clerk in J. T. C. Lang's clothing store had a marvellous escape from being seriously injured yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. As it was he had his elbow put out of joint on the left arm and sustained a nasty cut on his head.

He was working over the entrance to the store and fell through the glass partition alighting on the marble floor just outside the door.

He was stunned for a while. P. C. Brown, who happened to be passing at the time, carried him into Moncur's drug store and Dr. Leach was hurriedly summoned. He placed the joint back into position. The cut on the head was not very serious. He was able to walk home afterwards but will be unable to work for a week at the least.

POLLY OF THE CIRCUS

A Quaint Charming Story—One of the Most Successful Plays—At the Grand Monday April 10—Polly and tha Preacher

Slang is put to its best usage in one of the scenes in "Polly of the Circus," which comes to the Grand on Monday next, April 10. The little sick-a-bed lady of the tanbark, injured by a fall from her horse, is seen tucked away under coverlets in the home of a rural minister, who is the Good Samaritan of the occasion. She wakes up early in the morning and slowly comes to a realization of what has happened. John, the clergyman, sits beside her, and their conversation develops the most charming episode of the story.

Polly talks in the only language that she knows, the argot of showland, and the minister gives gentle, often puzzled, responses. The spirit of the girlish naivete, the delicate, impulsive realism the little circus rider puts into these words, invests the scene with subtle poetry and carries a current of pathos underneath its mild humor. As the talk goes on, people in the audience laugh, and at the same time would like to cry a little. In this epoch of slangsters, on and off the stage, the vernacular is usually forced to absurd hyperbole. Real in its outward semblance, it is only a cheap pose within. In life slang is usually merely an effort to be smartly colloquial, and when put upon the stage in its sincerity is accentuated. The Rose Stahls, the Victor Moores, and the irrepressible slang mongers of the vaudeville stage represent a strained point of view, they are off the key of reality, but Polly talks in circus mataphor, because she is a child who knows nothing beyond it. Her slang is absolutely spontaneous.

"Kinder tough, ain't it?" says Polly, when she finally understands that the show has to go on and leave her behind. "How long will it be?"

"The doctor can tell better about that when he comes," answers the young minister.

"Doctor! As bad as that, eh? It's my wheel, ain't it?"

"Yo' what?" demands Mandy, the colored nurse, in surprise.

"My wheel—my creeper. Oh, golly, that hurts. Is it punctured?"

When Polly learns that John is a clergyman she bounces up with "Great Barnum and Bailey! You a sky pilot! Well, I never thought that I would be talking to one of you guys."

"My church is right out there," says John. "You can see it from the window."

"How long have you worked there?" she asks.

"I've only been here about six months."

"Six months! Haven't they got mighty tired of your spiel?"

"I hope they haven't.

"Gee! Six months in a burg like this! They must be sick of you—or perhaps you change your act. Do you do the same stuff all the time, or have you got a rep?"

"A rep?" queries the puzzled "sky pilot."

"Sure. Repitory. Different acts—entries some call them. Why, Uncle Toby—he's our clown—has got twenty entries. Makes a heap of difference in the big cities where you have a run."

"I see. Well, I try to say something new every Sunday."

"None of your acts is like circus acts, are they? Is there any laughs in your acts?"

"Not many laughs, I'm afraid. But ministers try to tell their people things which help them and make them forget their week-day troubles for a time."

"Why, that's just like the circus business—only circuses draw more people than the churches."

The scene closes when Polly is given a peep at the pictures in the minister's Bible. Her eye is caught with the figures of Ruth and Naomi, from whose costumes she argues that "they must be circus folks." She asks to be read the story, and the minister begins with "Entreat me not to leave thee. Whither thou goest, I will go. Thy people shall be my people; thy ways my ways, and thy God my God."

The play is equally attractive for children and grown-ups, and it is to be regretted that its appearance could not have been arranged for a Saturday so that all the children could attend. Don't miss seeing this at the Grand Opera House on Monday evening next, April 10th.

LITTLE PILGRIMS AND BOOK BELOVED

The All Saints' Sunday school scholars together with the choir members, who are helping in the musical parts are getting the above-named play well in shape for to-morrow night's (Thursday) entertainment in the parish hall. It is a very pretty little allegorical play, setting forth the work and worship of the Anglican church. It depicts the binding of the various parts of the Prayer Book together, as the church's way of bringing the world to Christ. Each part is represented by a boy or girl appropriately costumed and bearing a banner with appropriate motto. These are bound together by King Edward VI, because it was in his reign in A. D. 1552, that the Anglican Prayer Book practically took its present shape. No doubt large numbers will be present to see the little play.

IMPROVEMENTS RECOMMENDED FOR KING EDWARD AND CENTRAL SCHOOLS

Estimated Cost is $16,000--Many Changes Suggested for Central School--Steam Heating Plant for Old Collegiate--Session of Board of Education.

At the meeting of the Board of Education last night, at which there were present John Crane (chairman), H. Adams, L. M. Hayes, Robert Fair, Dr. Morrison, Col. Miller, V. Eastwood and Dr. Burnham, the following report of the Property Committee was read by Robert Fair, and aroused the chief discussion of the meeting.

To the Chairman and members of the Board of Education:

Gentlemen,—Acting upon instructions received from this Board your Property Committee has had plans drawn and estimates made of the cost of permanent improvements to the King Edward and Central Public schools which will provide adequate and suitable accommodation for the children attending them.

KING EDWARD.

An extra room is needed in the King Edward school to relieve the present overcrowding. In all probability two rooms will be required on the re-opening of school after the midsummer holidays. On this account it will be necessary to complete the third story of this building.

Mr. Blackwell, the architect of this school, has furnished the Property Committee with a plan and the estimated cost of the work. According to his estimate, the carpenter work, metal ceilings, plastering, blackboards, heating, and plumbing will cost the Board the sum of $4,130.00. To this sum will have to be added the cost of the pupils' desks and other necessary furnishings. This extra amount is estimated at between $500.00 and $600.00.

THE CENTRAL SCHOOL.

Both of the buildings at the Central school are badly in need of permanent improvement.

(A). The old Collegiate building.—The heating plant of the old Collegiate building is completely worn out and a steam-heating system will have to be provided.

So bad is the present heating system of this building that the Inspector of Manual Training and Domestic Science intimated at his recent visit that the Government grant for 1911 cannot be paid the Board unless improvements are made.

Mr. Blackwell estimated the cost of a system of steam-heating, plumbing and ventilation for this building at $3,340.00.

The wooden walks about the old Collegaite building and the Central school building will have to be replaced by concrete ones, and a retaining wall will have to be built at the west side of the old Collegiate building. The estimated cost of the retaining wall and the walks is approximately $1,000.00.

(B.) The Central School.—The Central school building is badly in need of important improvements. The halls are dark and narrow; there are few cloak rooms; there is no system of ventilation other than by the windows; the floors are worn out; the boys' lavatory needs a complete overhauling; the lighting of the rooms on the north side is defective; the rooms in the basement needs improvement.

To modernize this building and put it into a sanitary condition the following improvements should be made:

(a) Two vestibules or porches should be built one at the west entrance and the other at the east entrance.

The pupils would reach both floors from these porches, and the present stairs in the halls could then be removed, and leave the halls free. By this means the halls would be lengthened, much improved in the way of lighting, and be fully twelve feet in width.

At the present time the exits are very dangerous in case of fire, but with exits through the porches at the ends of the halls all danger would practically be removed.

An entrance from the west porch into the basement would enable the boys to reach their lavatory without going outside of the building, as they have to do at present.

(b) The building requires new floors in all of the rooms and halls with the exception of one room.

(c) Before the new floors be put down a system of ventilation should be provided. There is a good ventilating flue in the centre of the building, and the different rooms should be connected with this and some means found to provide a supply of fresh air.

(d) The boys' lavatory needs an overhauling, and some improvements should be made to the basement rooms.

(e) Some way should be devised to improve the lighting of the rooms on the north side of the buliding.

These alterations, if carried out, would greatly improve the building and make it what it should be—a thoroughly modernly arranged school.

Mr. Blackwell has furnished plans for the above improvements and estimates the cost of these improvements as follows:—

1. Two porches at $1,800.00 each...	$ 3,600.00
2. Ventilating System:
(a) Connecting the rooms with the flue...	500.00
(b) Fresh air duct...	500.00
3. Flooring...	700.00
4. Improving boys' lavatory, basement and lighting.	1,000.00

A summary of the total cost of improvements is appended hereto.

Your Committee recommend that the Board wait upon the City Council for the purpose of having funds granted for carrying out the improvements as outlined to the King Edward and the Central schools, which are absolutely imperative.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

R. FAIR,
Chairman

	$16,000.00

In that part of the report which referred to the Central school, Dr. Morrison said that particular care should be emphasized in the lighting of the building. "Lighting was of great importance in schools," he said. The trouble in the past had been that children have been straining their eyes and their nerves through bad lighting arrangements. In one of the rooms at the Central school the glare and cross lights caused by the arrangements of the windows had been very disconcerting to the children's eyes. In those two rooms which have been referred to, he said many children have had great injury done to the sight.

The report was received and adopted on motion of V. Eastwood.

INSPECTOR'S REPORT

Mr. A. Mowat, Inspector of Public Schools wrote the Board the following letter, which was read. It refers to the overcrowding in the primary classes of some of the schools, and serves to show the public the pressing and immediate demand for additional space. It must be plainly apparent to all the handicap under which a teacher is working in teaching a room with more than its proper proportion of scholars. Mr Mowat favors the adoption of the half day system in the primary classes until there is more accommodation. In one school there are not five unoccupied seats in the whole building.

Mr. Fair thought this was a good sign as it proved that there existed no race suicide in Peterborough.

The letter was as follows:—

Dr. M. A. Morrison, Chairman of Supervision Committee:

Dear Sir,—I beg leave to report that at the present time there are between fifty and sixty pupils in attendance in each of the junior primary forms of the King Edward, South Central, Park street and East City schools. This leaves no room for the admission of new pupils at Easter, and the senior primary rooms are also filled. The only solution to the difficulty is the adoption of the half day system in these schools, for those pupils who may wish to enter at Easter. It is to be hoped that after the midsummer holidays that adequate accommodation will have been provided for all pupils. Hoping that this suggestion may meet with approval,

I remain,

A. MOWAT.

After some more discussion it was moved by Dr. Morrison that the matter be left in the hands of the inspector of public schools and the chairman of the board.—Carried.

SUPERVISION COMMITTEE

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Education.

Gentlemen,—Your Supervision Committee beg leave to report and recommend that in accordance with the recommendation of the high school inspector, the sum of one hundred dollars be spent this year for class room decoration in the Collegiate Institute. —Carried.

COMMITTEE ON APPOINTMENTS.

L. M. Hayes read the following report in the absence of Mr. W. H. Hill—

Gentlemen,—Your Committee on Appointments beg leave to report and recommend as follows—

1. That Miss Effie McQuarrie be appointed on the public school staff to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Mann, at the minimum salary of $450.00, and duties to start after the Easter vacation. Miss McQuarrie is the holder of a second-class professional certificate, and is highly recommended.—Carried.

2. That Mr. Geo. F. Colling, of Seaforth, be appointed on the Collegiate Institute staff to succeed Mr. R. N. Merritt, who has resigned. Minimum salary to be $1,400.00, and duties to start 1st May or after the Easter vacation, if possible. Mr. Colling also comes highly recommended, and your committee are of the opinion that both of these teachers will fill their respective positions to the entire satisfaction of your Board.—Carried.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Amongst other communications to the Board was one from John Monteith, of Stratford, Ont., enclosing a form of contract. It is a form of agreement between all high school teachers and Boards of Education. It was received.

Miss Florence J. Stuart, a teacher with four and a half years' experience, wrote to the Board, asking for a position on the public school teaching staff.—Received.

A letter of thanks was read from Miss Effie McQuarrie, thanking the Board for her appointment on the local teaching staff.

F. Bartlett, architect, submitted a report on the schools of the city, and offered his services to the Board in regard to changes in the schools. It was referred to the Property Committee.

James L. Hughes, chief inspector of schools, wrote a lengthy letter recommending the introduction into local schools of the children's savings banks.

"The concensus of opinion in Peterborough in regard to the plan is opposed to it," said Mr. Fair. "The system needs the support of teachers. Brantford, which is a place about the size of Peterborough, has the system, but they say now that unless it improves and begins to work more satisfactorily they will have to disband it altogether, as it has not proved a great success."

The matter was referred to the Supervision Committee to deal with.

The attendance at the public schools for March aggregated 1,770, with a total enrolment of 1,990.

Fire drill has been practices regularly in each of the schools, the time averaging 35 to 60 seconds.

The attendance at the Collegiate Institute for March averaged 301. Total number on roll, 319.

PRESENTATION OF TROPHIES BY PETERBORO' TENNIS CLUB

Annual Banquet Held at Coleman's—Sandford Hall the New President

In spite of the raging elements without, quite a number of tennis enthusiasts attended the annual dinner of the Peterborough Tennis Club, held at Coleman's last night. The trophies won last season were presented, and officers elected for the coming year.

Everyone seemed to be elated over the bright propects for the club and the coming season promises to be the most successful on record.

The pleasant evening was greatly enhanced by the presence of ladies for the first time at a banquet of the Association. Last year prizes were offered for the ladies and they took a great interest in the game.

"Sandy" Hall was unanimously elected president, upon the retirement of W. H. Cluxton, who has fathfully filled that office for the past two years.

Mr. Hall is a player "worthy of steel," as he has proved in bygone seasons, as well as a strong supporter of tennis in Peterborough.

Many regrets were expressed regarding the unavoidable absence of the popular secretary, H. B. Collier, who has removed to Toronto, and will not be able to be present to take any active part.

F. D. Kerr moved in a neat speech that the club express its appreciation of the work of H. B. Collier and the retiring president, W. H. Cluxton, for the past two years and that a note of regret at the departure of Mr. Collier be placed on record.

R. J. Devey on seconding the motion said that both the members before mentioned had always worked untiringly for the interests of the club.

After an appetising dinner served by Messrs. Coleman Bros. in their pleasing manner, R. U. Devey favored the company with a piano solo.

THE PRESIDENT

W. H. Cluxton in his address, said he was only expressing the sentiments of all present when welcoming the ladies to the annual banquet of the Peterborough Lawn Tennis Association.

The meeting was called to talk tennis, either to boom or bury it; whether to play it or play at it.

The speaker traced the playing of tennis back as far as the year 8B.C.

The present Association was organized because there was a great deal of talent in the city and it needed to be brought forth by a united effort.

The first year it merely undertook to supply events for the men. and such success had been met with that, last year, an event was added for the ladies.

Against the outside clubs which were secured, the Peterborough players always made a good showing. Mr. Cluxton thought the club should branch out again this season and inaugurate district championship matches

Mr. Hackidt rendered a violin solo at this point in the program, with Mr. Devey accompanist.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Burnett, retiring Vice-President was called upon to present the trophy to "Sandy Hall" for the Y.M.C.A. club which has won it two years in succession.

He said tennis was an all-round sport which developed the body, and afforded much excitement. When it was introduced into England, the ball was propelled by the hand. Even in 1874 when it was first played in the United States, the game was somewhat different from the present mode.

The speaker expressed the pleasure it gave him to present the trophy to such a splendid club at the Y.M.C.A.

Sanford Hall in reply stated that the "Y" was not going to let tennis drop in Peterborough and if necessary they would enter two teams in the City League.

F. D. Kerr in presenting the cup to the men's champion, "Bill" Landry, said he had a privilege which the King of England did not—that of crowning his successor

Mr. Landry in reply thanked the Club for the many courtesies accorded him during the season. Though a perfect stranger last year, he had been made to feel at home.

Mr. Hall was called upon to present the Consolation Medal to Holmer Myers but the latter was not present.

R. J. Devey in presenting to Mrs. Burnett, the Ladies Trophy won by Miss Marguerite Burnett, who was unable to attend said that the giving of a trophy had stimulated the interest amongst the ladies.

After the toast to the "Ladies," proposed by Mr. Greenagh and responded to by R. J. Devey, and one to the "Press" the ladies retired.

THE NEW OFFICERS

The following officers were elected for the coming year—

Hon.-President—W. H. Cluxton.
President—Sandford Hall.
Vice-President—G. A. Smith.
Secretary—Gerald Hall.
Treasurer—Fred. Cressman.
Representative at Ladies' Tournament—R. J. Devey.

Clubs wishing to enter in the city championships are requested to organize at once and have representatives appointed.

F. D. Kerr was prevailed upon to take upon himself the task of arranging matches with outside clubs.

THE VALUE OF BALL PLAYERS

A star ball player is certainly a mighty valuable commodity.

If you should ask owner Frank Navin of the Detroit club to place a price on the services of Ty Cobb about the best you would get would be a sympathetic smile.

If you should go even further and tender Mr. Nevin a check for some fancy sum, say about $20,000, he would politely thank you but would be forced to decline. It is very questionable if Cobb could be bought from the Detroit club for any monetary consideration.

It would be foolhardy for any owner or manager to try to induce Connie Mack to part with Eddie Collins. It is a certainty that no amount of money would tempt the Athletics' leader. It is hardly possible that even a trade involving a number of other stars, would cause Connie to part with the world's series hero.

Only a year or so ago "Zach" Wheat of Brooklyn was practically an unknown minor leaguer. To-day he is regarded as one of the shining lights of Tom Lynch's organization. From just an ordinary player at Mobile, Wheat has become so prominent that he is now considered just about the niftiest younster that has broken into the major leagues in years. Owner Ebbetts of Brooklyn is very fond of him.

Johnny Evers is of the brainy class He never passes up a point that will work to the detriment of the enemy. When he discovered that Merkle failed to touch second, he pulled off the most valuable play ever made in baseball for Chicago, and the most costly one for New York. It enabled the Cubs to win the National league pennant. It also gave the club a chance to win the world's series, which netted each player a couple of thousand and the club's owner about $50,000 Mr. Evers is liable to do just such a thing most any old time. It is easy to see why owner Murphy clings to him.

If you desire to get wealthy in a shorter length of time than it takes a Standard Oil magnate, just tip off some big league owner to a couple of sure-enough stars.

Ty Cobb's greatest asset is his daring. He has every confidence in his own wonderful ability, and no chance is too desperate for him to take. I have often heard people say: "Cobb is dead lucky. If anybody else tried to do that they would have been thrown out a mile."

I grant that Cobb is often lucky but not that he is dead lucky. Few men take the desperate chances he takes, and fortune is bound to smile on him a greater part of the time, because he always has the opposition off its stride. Cobb's luck is due to his willingness to take a chance. It is deserved luck. Often Cobb is made to look foolish on the bases, but more often the opposition wear the silly look. Every now and then Cobb tosses a ball game away through some foolhardy stunt. If you should average up the games won and lost by such acts, however, you would find Cobb with a percentage around the .800 mark. Cobb can hit. Cobb can run. Cobb can slide. Cobb can field. Cobb can do everything a great ball player should be able to do. Cobb has confidence in himself. Players like Cobb win pennants.

Y.M.C.A. TENNIS CLUB OFFICERS

Fred Cressman Elected President —Courts Ready in Week

At the annual meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Tennis Club last night, officers were elected and other business in connection with the interests of the club were discussed.

Work on the courts will be commenced and, weather permitting, they will be in shape within the next week. The board fence on George street is to be moved to the edge of the sidewalk to allow of more room, and a wire netting will be placed so that the tennis balls will be stopped from going out on the street.

The officers for the year are—
President—Fred Cressman.
Vice-President—C. E. Sisson.
Sec'y-Treas.—Sandford Hall.
Court Committee—R. M. Glover, W. H. Collier, J. J. Thompson.
Representatives to Peterborough Tennis Club meeting, F. Cressman and W. H. Collier.

Federenko at Large.

London, April 5.—The Privy Council yesterday granted leave to appeal against the decision of Justice Robson of Manitoba, re Federenko, whose arrest was unsuccessfully sought by the Russian Government on the charge of murder.

Federenko disappeared.

Winnipeg, April 5.—The Privy Council yesterday consented to receive the crown's appeal in the Federenko case. In the meantime Federenko has disappeared. He is the fugitive wanted by Russia for shooting a policeman while escaping arrest for a political offence. His friends assert he is hiding in the Southwestern States, and others say he has joined the Mexican revolutionists. Sympathizers in St. Paul, Chicago, New York and eastern Canadian cities raised $50,000 for his defence. He was released on a technicality, and frauds proved. If Russia had completed application per requisition, the Canadian courts would have been forced to surrender the fugitive, and that meant death.

COUNCIL AND RECIPROCITY

To the Editor of The Review.

Sir,—In your editorial of yesterday anent the vote on the anti-reciprocity pact in the City Council Monday evening, you say that, had the full Council been present even Mayor Morrow's double voting would not have availed to block the resolution. Then why, I ask you, did the mover of the resolution spring the vote on the matter, when his forces were absent and the enemy was present in full force, and he must have known that it would end in disaster, if he knew anything; or was he sincere in his opposition to the pact?

Mayor Morrow's double voting shows the length to which his political bias will carry him to support a moribund party at the expense of the city over which the people have entrusted him to preside. It would be well if the ratepayers would take a note of the five who voted to impair, if not destroy, our industrial institutions, when the next municipal election comes around.

Yours, etc.,
PETERBOROUGH,
Peterborough, April 5, 1911.

A NATIONAL SONG.

To The Editor of The Review.

Sir—I agree with Judge Huycke's letter in your Monday's issue, that we should stand when "God Save the King" is being played. One should not be reminded of so obvious a duty The King, as the Sovereign, is invested with supreme authority over the nation, and is considered as the fountain of justice, and to whom are committed the care and protection of the community; and to whom, in return, the duty and allegiance of every individual are due. The National anthem is a versified prayer on his behalf, set to music. It is therefore natural, and propriety demands it, that we should stand with uncovered heads and reverential mien while it is being sung or played.

The learned Judge, however, is under a misapprehension when he puts "O, Canada," on the same plane with "God Save The King," for it possesses none of the above attributes belonging to the latter, nor can it be said that "O, Canada" is recognized as our Canadian National Song. "The Maple Leaf Forever" takes precedence over it, both by reason of its priority and popularity.

Yours etc,
"LOYALTY."

PROSPSROUS YEAR ANNOUNCED

would treat a matter of that kind.

While admitting that the figures regarding foreign trade were satisfactory, Mr. Foster suggested that it would be highly desirable for the Minister to secure information dealing with the all-important inter-provincial trade. He said that whatever tended to discourage this trade was not for the upbuilding of the country. During the last year the balance of trade against the Dominion had been ninety million dollars. It would have been much better had this balance been in favor of Canada, and the only way to bring about better conditions was to import less and make more within the country, which could be shipped out.

"The sooner we get to the country and settle all these things the sooner we will get to settled conditions in this country," he affirmed. Before closing, Mr. Foster had some suggestions to make. He recommended a creation of a board to investigate and report upon impartially all items of public expenditure.

Mr. Foster also strongly urged upon the Government the necessity of the appointment of a tariff commission. He said when the Canadian Ministers went to Washington the American Ministers were supplied with elaborate statistics, while the Canadian Ministers had practically nothing. The result was that tariffs were made by rule of thumb, and it would continue to be so until a scientific commission was appointed.

Hamilton Board of Trade is agitating for better roads in the east end of that city.

DO YOU USE PILLS?

If In Doubt About the Right Pills to Use Read the Following Letter Carefully:

"I am one of those persons whose system requires aid," writes Mr. Young Gledhill, from Picton, "but it is so easily affected by reason of the great sensitiveness of the bowels that ordinary drastic pills inflict great injury to the delicate coating, and excite such persistent activity as to be with difficulty checked.

"I wish in the highest terms to express the great value of Dr. Hamilton's Pills in cases like mine, and I am sure also for elderly people and the very weak there is no pill like them.

"Speaking of my own experience with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I can say they have proved the most stimulating pills for the liver I have found. I have proved their tonic action upon digestion, and the same results have been secured by friends upon whom I have urged their use. The manufacturers are to be congratulated upon possessing so valuable a prescription, and the public should know that so valuable a remedy has been placed at their command."

No other pill for constipation, for liver, kidney, or stomach trouble, compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills: they are mild and sure always to restore health. Refuse substitutes. Sold by all dealers, 25c per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston Ont.

ANANIAS TO HAVE HEARING

Famous Old Gentleman's Reputation to be Decided

New York, April 4.—Ananias is at last to have his day in court. In a suit now pending the reputation of that much maligned old gentleman will be established for all time. The high courts in this state will be called upon to decide whether Ananias was as great a liar as he has been pictured by tradition and by the application of his name made by a certain former President.

The suit is brought by Jacob M. Eppstein, president of the Foster Debevoise Company, 15 West Thirty-eighth street. He demands $10,000 damages from Frank B. Pelton for being addressed as "Jacob Ananias Eppstein."

Eppstein claims that the word "Ananias" is still current and implied in common speech in and about the City of New York and used in the newspapers and other publications, so that the public in general is well acquainted with the significance and meaning of such word spoken or written.

He further alleges that the affixing of Ananias to his name has so injured his fame and credit and general reputation as to bring him into public scandal, infamy and disgrace and make him an object of ridicule and contempt among his employes, associates, friends, acquaintances and the citizens in general.

"The only point at issue is the general reputation of Ananias," said Attorney Markham. "He has been dead a long time, but will get his day in at last. We will now have a judical ruling as to whether Ananias was a liar or a truthful man.

BEAUTIFY PETERBOROUGH

Do you like flowers? Have you a lawn or garden? Are you interested in learning new ways and means for the beautifying of your home surroundings? Are you prepared to assist in making Peterborough known as the city of beautiful gardens, and most beautiful city in Ontario?

A campaign is being inaugurated to increase the membership of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society, to at least 500 members, and thereby assist it in the good work it is doing towards home and civic improvement in the city. When it is known that towns with not more than half the population of Peterborough have horticultural societies with a membership nearly double that of the Peterborough Horticultural Society, and have therefore a larger number of citizens actively interested in the beautifying of their home town, and are also drawing a grant from the government of from $50 to $100 more than is received by the Peterborough Horticultural Society, it will be seen that the citizens of Peterborough are not taking full advantage of their opportunities in this direction.

Members besides being entitled to all privileges of the society, receive a number of valuable premiums, such as plants, seeds and bulbs, and also a subscription to The Canadian Horticulturist, the well-known horticultural magazine published here in Peterborough as an inducement to increase the membership plans are under way for the offering this year of some especially attractive premiums to members.

The Peterborough Society has done much for our city in arousing our interest in civic improvement and the beautifying of our homes and public grounds. They have taken full charge of our parks and have wrought great improvement in the Queen Victoria Park during the past season. It is the duty of the citizens to support the society liberally by joining it and assisting it with the good work it is doing. The larger the membership the larger will be the government grant which is given on a pro rata basis.

A public meeting of the members of the Horticultural Society and of all interested citizens of Peterborough will be called in a short while to discuss plans for the coming season. Fuller announcements will appear in the course of a few days. Let the citizens of Peterborough work together for a membership of 500 and the making of Peterborough the most beautiful city in Ontario. Particulars may be secured from the secretary of the society, Mr. Frank Wise, of Little Lake cemetery.

GOT LIQUOR BY FALSE STATEMENT

Blacklister Failed to Appear at Police Court To-day

When Robert Sheridan's name was called at police court this morning there was no reply. Robert was placed on the black list on February 13th this year.

Last Saturday evening he could hold out no longer against the craving for the exhilarator. He walked into F. J. R. Mitchell's liquor store and asked for a bottle of whiskey.

"Are you not Robert Sheridan?" asked Mr. Mitchell.

"No," answered Robert. "But I must resemble him very much, as I am often mistaken for him."

As Mr. Mitchell was not sure it was Sheridan, he sold him the whiskey.

On the street afterwards a clerk in Mr. Mitchell's store saw the same man talking to another man. When Sheridan, whom it really was, had left, the clerk inquired of the man the name of his friend, who answered him that it was Sheridan.

The defendant was served with a summons to appear to-day, but failed to show up, and His Worship remarked that he did not like trying a man while he was absent, and adjourned the case till Monday.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes, and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost if the eye brows are thin and scanty; and the lashes are short and lifeless. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. A two weeks' treatment will bring beauty to your eyes that you have never before possessed. By mail, prepaid, in opal boxes, on receipt of price, fifty cents. B. V. SUFFRAGETTES DODGE CENSUS

London, April 4.—Except as an advertisement for their cause the opposition of the suffragists to taking of the census of London to-night was apparently a rather futile demonstration. The midnight meetings, which it was supposed to hold at Trafalgar Square and Westminster, with the object of marching in procession to a skating rink, where the women were to spend the night, proved a fiasco.

Only about a score of suffragettes appeared at either rendezvous. At the skating rink there were exciting scenes, through the enormous crowds which had gathered to watch the proceedings. They blocked the entrances and prevented the ingress of the suffragettes, some of whom fainted in the crush.

Ultimately a large force of police was called out to clear the neighborhood. Many women spent the night at the rink, but it is understood that they were counted by the census officials as they entered. A number of well-known women placed their residences in the West End at the disposal of the suffragettes, who slept on sofas, tables and chairs, their hostesses taking the risk of being fined for refusing to account for their guests.

In Edinburgh, Birmingham and other cities the suffragettes adopted similar tactics.

The police enumerated all homeless ones found wandering in the streets or sleeping outdoors. There are many thousands of such. The Salvation Army played a prominent part, having all waifs and strays to the shelter of its homes, where they were given soups and provided with census forms.

IN THREE ACCIDENTS!

It would seem that Zam-Buk, the famous healing balm we hear so highly spoken of everywhere, is particularly useful in the family circle. A report sent by Mrs. E. Davey, 786 Ellice Ave., Winnipeg, will illustrate this. She says: "My little boy, of three, while playing fell on a high verandah to the ground, cutting his forehead badly. Instead of calling a doctor who would undoubtedly have put in a number of stitches, I bathed the wound well and applied Zam-Buk. The little fellow, although suffering keenly, soon had relief from his pain. In the course of three weeks, by applying Zam-Buk daily, the wound was nicely healed.

"Since then I have also used Zam-Buk for a boil which came on my cheek, and which proved very painful and looked unsightly. Zam-Buk soon drew the boil to a head and it then quickly banished it.

"Another time my baby was scalded on her left thigh and calf of leg with boiling water. Directly it was done I thought to use Zam-Buk, and spreading some on lint I wrapped up the baby's limb. Next morning she rested much easier and I applied a fresh bandage with Zam-Buk. I kept this treatment up daily and was rewarded by seeing a great improvement each time I dressed the wound. In a very short space of time the scalds were all nicely healed.

"I cannot recommend this wonderful healing preparation too highly for family use, and I have such great faith in its healing powers that my house is never without a box."

For all skin injuries and diseases, piles, eczema, salt rheum and face sores, Zam-Buk is absolutely unequalled. 50c. box all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto for price. Try Zam-Buk Soap too! Only 25c. tablet.

WHERE WOMEN WEAR TROUSERS

Champery, Switzerland, is the Place for the Genuine

London, April 4.—There is at least one place in Europe where trousers for women are the fashion, and they are real trousers, too, made of good wearing material, not the modern jupe-culotte, with its veilings of choice cloths.

The women of Champery, the well known health resort in Switzerland, have from time immemorial worn honest masculine trousers. They wear them not to attract attention to themselves, but simply for the sake of convenience, for they have to perform tasks which need freedom of the nether limbs.

They not only perform all a woman's usual tasks, including the bringing up of very large families, but to a great extent the care of the cattle is left to them. In summer they labor in the fields and in winter they toil about the steep hillsides through deep snow, often on skiis, feeding and looking after the stabled cows and goats. Sometimes they carry huge wicker baskets on their backs filled with all manner of articles from faggots to babies. The weight of these baskets would tax the strength of a strong man unaccustomed to them.

The Champery women in spite of all their hard work are handsome. They are tall and well set up, with masses of dark and often curly hair, dark eyes and bright complexions.

Four thousand union carpenters are on strike in St. Louis, Mo., for a five cent an hour increase.

FIRE PROTECTION FOR AUBURN CO.

Water Commissioners Will Make Estimates and Report

Mr. Kendry, waited on the Fire, Water and Light Committee last-night asking that the Auburn Woollen Mills, be given fire protection. He had appeared before the Council and the matter was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Ways and means were discussed by the members, T. F. Matthews, of the Water Commissioners, Mr. Henderson and Mr. Kendrey, and it was decided that the Water Commissioners should make estimates, on the cost of making connections and report back to the Council.

As a route for the connection, Smith Street bridge, the proposed dam of the Auburn Power Co., connection by way of the river, at a suitable point were suggested. Regarding a connection across Smith Street bridge, by which Auburn would receive a water supply, Mr. Matthews said that a sufficient revenue to pay for the interest and sinking fund, would be necessary.

WATER SUPPLY

The renewal of the agreement for the supply of water for the city, came up and it was decided to offer the Commissioners $1000 for the supply this year. It was $2000 before, but the fact being that oil was used on the streets this year has to do with the change.

The Fire Chief reported on the number of lights out. The city treasurer was notified to charge them up to the Peterborough Light and Power Company.

Requests for the installation of lights, on streets, were received and these points will be inspected during the annual visit.

The tender of the Goodyear Co., for 500 feet of hose for the fire department at $1 per foot was accepted. The hose is guaranteed to stand a 4000 lbs pressure when delivered.

Ald. Edgar brought forward a complaint from Gilmour Street residents to the effect that certain lights, which are operated by a switch at the house of an employee of the Power Co., had not been burning.

The Company will be notified to have the lights operated.

The present light at the Charlotte street railway crossing will be placed in the centre of the street, with a view of giving better service.

Ald. Metheral asked about a light for Gilchrist street, and Ald. Kerneghan, one for Dunlop street, Auburn. Inquiry will be made of the Peterboro Light and Power Co., both lights having been ordered.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

A special meeting of the W. M. S. of the George street Methodist church will be held after the prayer meeting to-night.

A sewing party will be held at the Children's Shelter to-morrow afternoon. The ladies of St. Luke's have kindly consented to take charge of the work at the meeting. The regular monthly business meeting of the Children's Aid Auxiliary will be held after the sewing. A full attendance is requested.

Mr. W. A. Shepard and Joseph Brundrett, of Saskatoon, representing the Shepard Publishing Company, will be at the Snowden Hotel, Peterborough, on the 6th, for about three weeks. Mr. Shepard is a member of the Consolidated Board of Trade in Saskatoon and is an old pioneer in the west, from Belleville. He went west first with the Lord Wolsley expedition in 1870 and acted as scout in the survey parties in the early 70 and was for a time a member of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police. Mr. Shepard knows the west like a book and would be pleased to meet anyone interested during his stay in the city. Mr. Shepard is on an eastern trip on business in connection with his house.

The St. Peter's Ladies' Literary Society will hold their last meeting this season on Friday evening, April 7th, at St. Alphonsus' Lyceum. The year's work has been very successful and the meeting on Friday evening being the last, will be an exceptionally good one. Miss Margaret Ward will read a paper on "Brother Azarias" and a good musical program will be presented.

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt will be the special preacher at St. John's church, Lakefield to-night.

From January 1st to April 1st of this year, the Lindsay fire department responded to four fires, one false alarm and four chimney fires.

Rev. A. H. Earle, of Omemee, will give the sermon at the Lenten service at St. John's church to-night.

A grand rally of the Past Chief Rangers, Canadian Order of Foresters, will be held in the Forester's Hall, Simcoe Street, Friday evening, April 7th. The meeting will be officered by P. C. R'S; the work of initiation exemplified in full, a feature that should appeal, especially to younger members and prove of interest to all who may be able to attend. Refreshments will be served and a good time expected.

An explanation of the debarring of Miss Julia Choate from the Earl Grey competition at Winnipeg is held over for to-morrow's issue.

WHAT'S ON TO-NIGHT

"William Faversham in the Faun at Grand Opera House.

DOCTORS FAILED. RESTORED BY PERUNA.

Catarrh of the Lungs Threatened Her Life.

Miss Ninette Porter, Braintree, Vermont, writes: "I have been cured by Peruna.

"I had several hemorrhages of the lungs. The doctors did not help me much and would never have cured me.

"I saw a testimonial in a Peruna almanac of a case similar to mine, and I commenced using it.

"I was not able to wait on myself when I began using it. I gained very slowly at first, but I could see that it was helping me.

"After I had taken it a while I commenced to raise up a stringy, sticky substance from my lungs. This grew less and less in quantity as I continued the treatment.

"I grew more fleshy than I had been for a long time, and now I call myself well."

RESIGNATION OF DEPUTY FIRE CHIEF AND CAPTAIN THOMAS

Motion Passed by the Fire, Water and Light Committee

USED FIREMAN AS DUPE

In Regard to Letter in Which Aldermen Were Attacked

Moved by Ald. Graham, seconded by Ald. Kerneghan that the Fire Chief be requested to ask Deputy Fire Chief Grange and Captain Thomas to send in their resignations.

This motion was carried at the meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee last-night.

There were present, Mayor Morrow, Ald. Morgan, chairman; Ald. Metheral, Graham, Edgar, and Kerneghan.

When the chairman asked for hands, Ald. Graham, Kerneghan, and Metheral signified their approval of the motion.

Mayor Morrow and Ald. Edgar would not express themselves either way.

The charge against Grange and Thomas is that they got another fireman to write a letter to the local press, in which the aldermen were attacked and that they interfered with the firemen at the hall.

Discussion commenced, following the reading of a letter by the chairman from Chief Howard, who stated that he had discharged the fireman who wrote the letter.

This was not altogether what was wanted by Ald. Metheral, Graham and Kerneghan. They wanted to get the "power behind."

According to the three aldermen, who were instrumental in the passing of the above motion, this fireman, an Englishman was a dupe in the hands of Deputy Fire Chief Grange, and Captain Thomas.

It appears that notwithstanding the increase of wages at the fire hall, the men are constantly quitting, and it is felt that the city is not getting the best results.

Ald. Kerneghan charged the Chief with using abusive language towards the men, and asked regarding the number of nights he should be at the fire station. Ald. Morgan stated that he was supposed to be there every night according to rules, and regulations, which however had never been adopted by the Committee.

Ald. Morgan also explained that the Chief had asked regarding the rules and regulations, so that he would know exactly what to do. He (Ald. Morgan) further stated that he wanted the committee to adopt some course and have the whole trouble settled.

Ald. Graham brought in his motion that Grange and Thomas be asked to resign.

"Will you go any further than that?" asked the chairman of Ald. Graham, whereupon that alderman asked if Ald. Morgan would not make some suggestion.

Ald. Morgan answered he didn't think that it was "up to him" to make any suggestions.

IMMIGRANT TO SUE FOR WAGES

An English immigrant has entered a suit against a farmer for wages, and the case will be heard at Division Court on Friday morning at 10 o'clock before Judge Huycke.

The immigrant claims that an agreement existed between himself and the farmer, whereby he was to work for one year at a certain wage; he says that the farmer told him to quit at the end of six months, and refused to pay him his money when he left for the time he had worked.

THE DAILY REVIEW

REVIEW WANT ADS BRING RESULTS One Cent a Word

VOL. LXII., No. 81. PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, THURSDAY, APRIL 6, 1911 TEN CENTS PER WEEK.

President Taft in his message to the new Congress specially emphasizes this: "The (reciprocity) agreement is purely economic and commercial . . . would open up the reserve productive resources of Canada . . . . and at the same time offers a BROADER OUTLET FOR the excess products of OUR FARMS and MANY OF OUR INDUSTRIES."

RECIPROCITY WOULD GIVE U.S. FULL CONTROL OF THE MARKET

The Tariff Bill From the Viewpoint of the Farmer an Utter Folly, the Claim of Dundas Member During Debate.

Ottawa, April 6.—On the revival of the debate on the reciprocity proposals yesterday, Andrew Broder (Dundas) in characteristic style and quaint phrases spoke of the folly of the deal from the farmers' standpoint. He showed that it was ridiculous to expect higher prices for food products on the one hand, and a lowered cost of living on the other. The United States was a surplus producer to-day, and scientific farming methods would increase the product two-fold in a few years. The United States would always be the dominant factor in the market, by reason of the large volume of commodities handled.

Before the reciprocity debate was resumed yesterday, a variety of matters engaged the attention of the House of Commons. First was the formal announcement by Hon. Geo. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, confirming the report that the contract for the Quebec Bridge had been awarded to the St. Lawrence Bridge Co., which is a combination of the Canadian Bridge Co., Walkerville, and the Dominion Bridge Co., Lachine. As announced, the contract price was slightly under nine millions of dollars. The Minister promised to table all correspondence in a few days.

Mr. Foster drew the attention to the fact that the new Anglo-Japanese treaty has been signed. He asked if the Government had any information to impart as to where Canada stands in this regard.

Mr. Fielding replied that for the present Canada was not included in the terms of the treaty. The Government was now considering whether it would be advisable to adhere to the terms of the agreement between Great Britain and Japan or to make an arrangement of her own.

Haughton Lennox (Simcoe) noted that the U. S. Government had established a publicity bureau under the Presidency of Champ Clark, which was compiling statistics dealing with reciprocity. He asked the Government to get a supply of publications of this sort issued at Washington for the use of members of the House.

Mr. Fielding said the Government had not had any communication with Champ Clark, and suggested that all Mr. Lennox had to do was to ask the Parliamentary librarian to get this information for him.

Mr. R. L. Borden asked what the Government proposed to do about the bank act, a notice in reference to which had been on the order paper for four months. He saw no reason why the bill should not have been in the hands of the banking and commerce committee.

Mr. Fielding said that the same question had been put to him the other day, and that his answer was on Hansard. The effect of that statement, it might be well to note, was that it is neither probable or essential that the revision of the act should be undertaken at the present session.

E. N. Rhodes (Cumberland) read an article and editorial from a Maritime Province newspaper, to show that the I. C. R. was establishing an unenviable record in the matter of wrecks and accidents. The paper said that there must be something wrong with the management of the road, and that it was the duty of the Minister of Railways to institute an enquiry.

Mr. Graham said that he had not heard of any such difficulty. He denied emphatically that the I. C. R., considering its mileage and traffic, had any more accidents than any other railway. The trouble was that when the Government-owned railway had an accident, it got scare headlines in the newspapers, whereas the same kind of an accident on a company-owned line would be tucked away in a corner.

The House then went into committee of ways and means on the reciprocity resolutions, and Geo. Bradbury (Selkirk, Man.), continued the debate after the lapse of a month. He condemned it from the standpoint that it was calculated to destroy what had been accomplished in Canada during the last thirty or forty years. He considered as the result of the pact that the farmers would be "the worst picked people in Canada."

Ralph Smith (Nanaimo) made a speech in favor of the agreement from the standpoint of the consumer. He expressed the views at the outset that Mr. Broder did not represent the opinion of the majority of the farmers of the country, because it was the farmers who had made the strongest demands for a reduction in the duties. Mr. Broder cried out for a full measure of free trade. If the Conservative party would not give its support to a small measure, the people of the west who want more would not be likely to put their confidence in them.

Andrew Broder, following Ralph Smith (Nanaimo), attacked the agreement from the point of view of the farmer. He asked how it was that the Government was going to give the farmer higher prices for his produce and cheaper food to the consumer. He regarded the argument as foolish. He agreed with Mr. Smith that the consumer should be considered, but he contended that the man in the furrow was the man who ought to be considered first, and he was not ashamed of his position.

A NEW KIND OF RECIPROCITY

New York, April 5.—The "New York Commercial" says:—

It seems highly improbable that the negro movement into Canada will lead to some legislation by Parliament restricting immigration—or, at least to some effort at such restriction. The course of the Dominion Government in the matter will be watched with much interest for the present negro movement promises a sort of "reciprocity" that nobody on either side of the line had looked for.

GAMING HOUSE FREQUENTER PLEADS GUILTY; FINED $50

Stiff Sentence in First Case Tried — Only Ten Days Allowed to Raise the Money.

One of the young men who pleaded guilty to being a frequented of the gaming house on George street, which was raided by the police, was fined $50 this afternoon by Magistrate Dumble.

The severity of the fine was a big surprise to everybody present. The young man has no funds and was allowed only ten days to secure the money.

His counsel, G. W. Hatton, argued strongly for the magistrate to be more lenient in the case of the prisoner. The prisoner also asked his Worship to moderate the fine, claiming that as he had pleaded guilty, to being merely a frequenter of the place, and not having taken any part in the games of chance which were played there.

"You should try your hand at the game yourself, your Worship," remarked Mr. Hatton. "Many noted men do, even Van Horne himself."

His Worship had other views on the question, however.

"I am determined to wipe out the practice," he stated. "It leads to no good end."

The young man, who is in rather embarrassed financial circumstances, was finally allowed ten days in which to pay the amount of the fine.

The maximum fine for the offence is $100 and the minimum $20.

"None of the other parties will get off with less than the fine I have imposed in this case," was his Worship's final decree.

If the young man cannot raise the money within the time allowed, he must spend two months at Castle Nesbit.

SEVEN DECKS FOR NEW CUNARD BOAT

Aquitania Will be Larger than the Mauretania

Special to the Review.

Liverpool, Eng., April 6.—It is announced that a new vessel for the Cunard line will be built. The new boat will outrival the Mauretania in size and will have seven decks. She will be named the Aquitania.

BOY RAN AWAY FROM HIS HOME

Not Locked in Freight Car—Found at Atlantic City.

Special to The Review.

Philadelphia, April 6—It has been found, that Bernard Rogues, who was supposed to have been locked in a freight car by an ex-convict, in revenge upon the boy's uncle, has been located at Atlantic City. The youth ran away from his home. The origin of the card that caused the trouble is not known.

ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL MARRIED

Deserted After Three Months by Her Husband.

Ottawa, April 6.—A young girl of 11 appeared in the Hull Police Court yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct. She gave the name of Mrs. A. Beaudin, and on enquiry the magistrate discovered that she was married at 11 years and was deserted three months afterwards by her husband. The charge against the child was held over until to-morrow, and in the meantime the police will investigate the circumstances surrounding her life.

Doubled the Reward.

Berlin, April 6.—The Township Council of Wellesley yesterday added $200 to the $250 reward offered by the Provincial Government for the arrest of the slayers of Frank Lobinski, the aged Pole, who was murdered in his shanty in that township. The offer was the result of a petition signed by 200 farmers, expressing the belief that the chase for the slayers was not being prosecuted as it should be.

Quite Incidentally.

Ottawa, April 6.—Former Senator Beveridge of Indiana, who has been in Ottawa to study Canadian politics at first hand, probably to use as material for articles, while he is incidentally talking a little reciprocity quietly, leaves for the United States to-day.

Death of Mrs. Grout.

Kingston, April 6.—The death occurred during the night of Mrs. Grout, wife of Canon Grout, clerical secretary of the Diocese of Ontario, aged 65.

STANDING OF BANK CASES

Statement Showing the Record to Date.

Toronto, April 6—The second of the cases which have arisen out of the Farmers' Bank entanglement was disposed of yesterday by Judge Winchester in a few moments, when Frederick Crompton was fined $400 ,with the option of thirty days' hard labor. As previously in the case of Manager W. R. Travers, a plea of guilty was entered, leniency was asked for, and sentence was imposed by a judge without a jury.

The Farmers Bank record now shows the two convictions mentioned; one acquittal, that of Mr. J. R. Stratton, on a charge of hypothecation; four cases pending, that of conspiracy to obtain a charter, against the Provisional Directors of the bank and officials of the Trusts and Guarantee Company, that of hypothecation against J. J. Warren and W. S. Morden, that of signing false returns, against James Munro, and that of conspiracy to obtain an illegal act, against W. S. Morden, and Matthew Wilson, K.C.; also several cases which have never been heard, the defendants being regarded as fugitives from justice, including Beattie Nesbitt, W. J. Lidsay, Wishart and Smith, who are wanted on charges ranging from signing false returns to forgery.

The charge against Mr. Crompton disposed of yesterday, was that of receiving in pledge, security or hypothecation notes of the bank to the amount of $50,000 The plea of guilty was entered by his counsel, Wallace Nesbitt, K.C. who asked for clemency on the ground that defendant was unaware of the illegality of his act until after the bank's suspension ,when he returned in full the interest he had received on his loan. The penalty imposed was the minimum allowed by the statute, and Mr. Crompton paid the fine before leaving the court.

Selected Their Candidates.

Halifax, April 6.—A Liberal-Conservative convention for Halifax yesterday nominated Ald. N. B. Smith, Ald. F. P. Blight and J. C. O'Mullin as candidates for the local Legislature. The elections are expected before the first of June.

Fell From Scaffold.

Ottawa, April 6.—R. R. Chisholm, a contractor from Alexandria, fell from a six-foot scaffold on Monday and his injuries terminated fatally yesterday. He will be buried at Alexandria.

CHICAGO BALL PLAYERS INSURED

A Policy for Each Man of $5000 in Case of Death.

Chicago, April 6.—In an effort to protect himself from loss of money as well as of service when his players become ill or are injured, Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago Americans, has had each player insured.

The policies call for $5,000 in case of death. In case a player is incapacitated Comiskey will receive $25 per week.

Hotelman Fined.

Seaforth, April 6.—Inspector Avearst of Toronto, charged F. and J. Carlin of the Grip House here with selling liquor without a license, and each was fined $100 and costs.

Strangled Babe and Self.

Whiteville, Mass., April 6.—Mrs. Flora Brierly Blanchard strangled her 18-months-old son and then ended her life by the same method yesterday.

WANTS ALL HER PULPWOOD

New Brunswick Would Prevent Export by Stringent Law.

Fredericton, N. B., April 6.—In the Legislature yesterday Hon. Mr. Grimmer, Surveyor-General, introduced a bill to prevent the export of pulpwood from the crown lands of the province.

The act provides that every timber license or permit conferring authority to cut spruce or soft wood trees or timber, not being pine, suitable for manufacturing pulp or paper on the ungranted lands of the crown, shall contain and be subject to the condition that all such timber cut under the authority or permission or such license or permit, shall be manufactured in Canada, that is to say into merchantable pulp or paper or into sawn lumber, woodenware utensils, or other articles of commerce or merchandise, as distinguished from the said spruce or other timber in its raw or unmanufactured state. There are provisions for the enforcement of the regulation, and also exempting such logs as may be required for fuel or building purposes.

The regulation applies to all licenses or permits hereafter issued, whether for the first time or in the renewal of licenses or permits heretofore issued or granted, and the act comes in force when proclaimed by the Governor-in-Council.

A WOMAN FOR CHIEF OF POLICE

Kansas Woman Mayor Wants One to Keep Town Dry.

Hunnewell, Kas., April 6.—It may seem strange enough to have a woman for mayor, but what about a woman for chief of police too? Yet Mrs. Ella Wilson, the first woman ever to be elected to a mayoralty, says she proposes to make such an appointment in her effort to make the town "dry."

Her program includes prohibition of liquor traffic; prohibitive tax on pool rooms; purification of water supply; appointment of medical officer to compel proper ventilation of stores and factories and public buildings of all kinds; provision of proper places of amusement for the young and the encouragement of healthy athletics for young men.

She will name Mrs. Osborne a candidate for judgeship, for chief of police, and Mrs. S. Hilton as city treasurer.

STRIKERS MAY GET DEMANDS

Settlement Likely to Follow Action of President Hill.

Special to The Review.

Winnipeg, Man., April 6—The announcement is made by J. J. Hill, that he will break-away from the Coal Operators Association, and this step will probably be followed by other members of the association. The Great Northern Railway, of which Hill is chairman, is in urgent need of coal. The action of Hill is likely to bring about a settlement of the strike with the strikers being granted their demands.

Widow Gets $12,000.

Kingston, April 6.—The case of Albert Cottendon of Toronto against Mrs. Abbie George, wife of the late Joseph George, and the administratrix of his estate, to establish the existence of a will, was settled by the plaintiff getting $3,000 of the estate, which he valued at $30,000, while Mrs. George gets $12,000. The remainder is to be divided among the relatives. The late Mr. George was one of a family of eighteen, and $15,000 is to be divided among these or their descendants.

TREASURER OF THE CAMORRA

Denies Complicity in the Murder High Class Gambler.

Viterbo, Italy, April 6.—One of the most interesting characters in the Camorra trial, Giovanni Rapi, the supposed treasurer, yesterday made a general denial of complicity in the murder.

Rapi has the bearing of a gentleman and was dressed in stylish clothes. Speaking in a carefully modulated tone and with precision, he betrayed a desire to emphasize his social superiority over the other thirty-five defendants.

He is a high-class gambler. Surveillance of the Italian police becoming oppressive he went to Paris and, when expelled set up business in London, subsequently returning to Italy with a fat purse, only to go broke again. He founded the Unione del Mezzogiorno of Naples, to the success of which many of the aristocracy contributed their fortunes in a single night's play, and conducted gambling places at Rome and Ostend.

He claimed that he had returned from Paris of his own accord to stand trial, even announcing the hour of his arrival.

MOBILIZATION AT MEXICAN BORDER WAS TO SAVE REPUBLIC

McCurdy for Ottawa "Ex."

Ottawa, April 6.—The Central Canadian Exhibition Association has opened negotiations with McCurdy, the Canadian aviator, for a series of aeroplane flights next fall.

What's In a Name?

Chatham, April 6.—By Government order the name of Dover South post-office has been changed to Pain Court.

IRISH OPPOSE VETO BILL

Member for Cork to Create Vacancy for Timothy

London, April 6.—Moreton Frewen will soon resign his seat in Parliament for the northeast division of Cork County, as he opposes the Government's veto bill and desires to create a vacancy for Timothy Healy, who was defeated in the last election. Discussing his proposed retirement yesterday Mr. Frewen said:

"I am convinced that the veto bill includes every wrong method for winning public opinion in England to rational home rule views. A second chamber of destruction instead of construction is incompatible with the federal solution, which is the only solution. It is quite impossible to achieve such a constitutional rearrangement as is desired without the co-operation of both great parties.

"The furious passions that are being stirred up must make the generous financing of the new Irish Government and the completion of the land purchase hopeless for many years. To have coaxed the Tories, to have conciliated the classes and creeds; this would have been quite easy, indeed, thanks to the federal movement for which Lord Grey is chiefly responsible. The leaven was already at work, but now we are likely to be undone. However, it is not possible for me to advance such views. To do so in this crisis would be to weaken Mr. O'Brien and his new movement, upon which is contingent that broader settlement which I anticipate with confidence, when this present attempt is seen to have miscarried."

ANOTHER LIBERAL BOLTS FROM PARTY

New Brunswick Member Critizes the Agreement

Fredericton, N.B., April 5.—The reciprocity amendment to the motion to go into supply was lost by a straight party vote, in the Legislature this morning. Liberals supporting the Government voted against the amendment, claiming it was a vote of want of confidence in the Government in shape in which it came before the House, but Mr. MacLachlan, Liberal of Northumberland, criticized the reciprocity agreement. Mr. MacLachlan said one feature of the reciprocity agreement to which he took decided exception was that affecting the products of Canadian forests.

While the United States proposed a free exchange of pulpwood, woodpulp and manufactured paper, under four cents per pound, they barred the door against the admission to their markets of the higher grades of manufactured paper, on which skilled workmen would be employed and on the production of which skilled wages would be paid. In other words, they were quite willing to take our raw materials and the products of our cheap labor, but shut out the products of our skilled labor.

A further objectionable feature was the reservation of power to retaliate on any province that exercised the right to restrict the uncontrolled export of unmanufactured products of its Crown lands.

LINER ASHORE AT LONG ISLAND

Princess Irene with Seventeen Hundred Passengers in Trouble

Special to the Review.

New York, N.Y., April 6.—The big liner, Princess Irene from Ports in the Mediterranean, is ashore at Long Island. Besides her crew she carries passengers to the number of seventeen hundred. It is thought that there is no great danger.

United States Wanted to to Save Mexico From Japan Who Looked For Coaling Station.

El Paso, Texas, April 6.—An explanation bearing all the marks of authenticity, clearing up the American-Mexican Japanese situation was given here yesterday by one of the most prominent Mexican-Americans in the country. According to this informant, President Diaz was seeking a way to refuse a coaling station on Magdalen Island to the Japanese, even before the renewal of the American Government contract came up for discussion.

"Diaz," said the Mexican-American, "found himself between the upper and nether milestones. He was impressed with the influx of Japanese into Mexico and in particular with the knowledge that they had mapped its entire western coast. Slow, insistent pressure was brought on him to give Japan a coaling station in Magadelana Bay. On the other side was the U. S. and the Monroe doctrine."

He temporarized until, to his considerable relief, came an unmistakable intimation from Washington that Japan was not to have the station, although the same privilege for the U. S. was not insisted upon. Diaz then informed Japan that he did not care to lease any part of his country to a foreign power.

"Not knowing what might be the result of the Mexican attitude in Japan, President Taft ordered the mobilization of a division of American troops in Texas. In Mexico every citizen realizes that in the event of Japan aggression, which, however, baseless the fear may be, is still feared, Mexico must rely upon the assistance of the U. S. Japan never has attempted the colonization of large bodies of Japanese on certain tracts of land in Mexico, but the aggregate immigration figures from the land of the Rising Sun are impressive."

"Are not these immigrants mostly coolie laborers?"

"Mexico does not need to import labor; they are mostly veterans of the Russo-Japanese war. They are not brought to Mexico to make an army of protection against the Americans. They came of their own accord, and for their own ends.

"And bear in mind, they do not make maps for fun and we know that many of these immigrants have had no other visible occupation."

NEW ANGLO-JAP TRADE TREATY

Provides for Reductions on Textile and Metal Imports.

London, April 6.—The new Anglo-Japanese commercial treaty, which was ratified at Tokio on Tuesday, provides for reductions in the rates of the new Japanese tariff on the chief British textile and metal imports from Japan.

In the case of grey cotton tissues, the duties are reduced from one-third to one-fourth, and on the most important tissues, pure wool and cotton mixed and linen yarns, a reduction of one-fifth is made.

On certain classes of iron and steel plates, including galvanized sheets and tin plates, there is a concession of from two-ninths to two-fifths per cent., on pig iron one-sixth, and on paints one-third per cent.

Specialties in Japanese manufacture will continue to be admitted to the United Kingdom duty free. The treaty will remain in force twelve years.

MUST BE RATIFIED

At Present Session, Says Taft of Reciprocity Measure

Special to the Review.

Washington, April 6.—It is generally understood that the Canadian reciprocity agreement will be held in reserve for some time and that the tariff revision bill is to occupy the attention of Congress. However, President Taft declares that the reciprocity measure must be ratified at this session.

Argentine will demand equal concessions with Canada as regards meats.

Reciprocity item.—The United States exports of negroes to Canada are increasing rapidly. This great development, through enlarged markets for natural products, means cheaper whitewashing for Canadians, and thus benefits the householder.

Catarrhozone

Cures Permanently BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, CATARRH

Throw medicine to the dogs. At best they are unpleasant, often useless. You are suffering from some disease of the throat, nose, or lungs, Doctors call it Bronchitis, Asthma, or Catarrh, or it is a slight or severe cold. Germs cause these diseases—they have a common root.

Catarrhozone destroys disease germs, but it does more, it heals disease tissue.

CATARRHOZONE is little drops of healing carried by air to the exact place where Catarrh exists. Observe Catarrhozone not only destroys the cause, but immediately repairs the result of diseased condition.

Catarrhozone means little drops of healing carried by air and placed over the lungs, throat, and nasal passages. Catarrhozone is endorsed by doctors, druggists, and by thousands of Canadian people who have used it.

Catarrhozone

Yes, Sir, it is taken in air.
"Little drops of healing" carried by air to weak places in the lungs, throat and nasal passages.
Three sizes: 25c, 50c, and $1.00, at druggists, or by mail postpaid from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y. and Kingston, Ont.

THE CENTRAL SCHOOL

The decision of the Board of Education to spend at least $12,000 in trying to patch up the Central school and the old Collegiate for another generation, is to be regretted very much. This action is due to a very laudable desire to economise as much as possible, while providing school accommodation that will meet present day requirements; but it is a hand-to-mouth policy at the best, and the result cannot be permanently satisfactory.

The Central school and the old Collegiate are obsolete and utterly out of place for modern school purposes. They cannot be made satisfactory for permanent use by the installation of a ventilating system, or by remodelling the interior. The buildings were designed in days when sanitation was not regarded as an essential, when the health of children was supposed to take care of itself. No expenditure of a large sum of money will make these buildings other than a patched-up compromise on decent school buildings. It would be, in the view of most citizens, more real economy to take the money that it is proposed to spend on the patching-up process, and build a really modern school that will fill educational needs for all time to come.

The estimate of cost required to put the antiques into a semblance of sanitary shape is $12,000. It is almost a surety that when the extras are taken into account—and extras in remodelling an old fire-trap are neither few or far between—the cost will considerably exceed this amount. Why should the Board of Education spend $15,000 or $18,000 on such patch-work with buildings that will sooner or later have to be abandoned anyway, when a few more thousand would erect a school worthy of the name?

The location of the Central school is unsatisfactory. It is situated close to what might be termed a blind alley, and is accessible from only two sides. Wouldn't it be much better to use the Collegiate yard facing McDonnel street, which is never used, and build a new school; doing the job thoroughly and properly—thus adding accommodation sadly needed, and which the present scheme will not supply?

HELPING THE FARMER

Mr. Fisher, minister of agriculture, who suffers from the delusion that much legislation will make the Canadian farmer prosperous, is again to the fore with legislation amending previous laws placed by him on the statute books. Some years ago Mr. Fisher put through parliament a measure seeking to ensure that seeds should be clean and pure, but every session since then he has been tinkering with the act until to-day it is so surrounded with a mass of detail that its administration is cumbersome and ineffective. There is something about Mr. Fisher which suggests that he is a farmer in theory and not in practice. His frequent attempts to legislate farmers into a state of prosperity instead of doing something along practical lines to improve agricultural conditions have made this regime a laughing stock among the tillers of the soil. At the present time less than a million a year is being devoted by the government to agriculture, while six times as much is given to Sir Frederick Borden for the fuss and feathers of the militia department. In view of the plea of Mr. Fisher that the department of agriculture is doing all it can to improve conditions, it is worth noting that since confederation only $14,000,000 has been spent on agriculture, while since that time $18,000,000 have been given in iron and steel bounties, $83,000,000 for the militia, $607,000,000 in railway subsidies, while in a year or two the cost of Mr. Brodeur's "order in council" navy will speedily run into the millions. Is it any wonder that there is a strong feeling throughout the farming communities that the Laurier government is not giving to agriculture its proper share of the revenues? Canada is primarily an agricultural country. The men enaged in these pursuits contribute the bulk of the revenue which pours into the coffers of the government yet in return they receive inadequate consideration. This week Mr. Fisher called upon the party supporters in parliament to defeat a resolution calling for greater expenditure in the agricultural development of the country, which shows that he is satisfied that the meagre pittance doled out to him by the controllers of the purse is quite sufficient for the ever growing needs of the farmer.

It is frequently boasted that Canada is a leader among the countries of the world in the quality of her farm products, cheese and butter. That claim is generally made in support of the theory that the Laurier government is the farmer's friend. It is certain, however, that the present high standard of products is not due to any assistance rendered by Mr. Fisher's department, but to the indomitable pluck and energy of the Canadian farmer. During the past ten years this government has spent an average of $604,188 on agriculture. What have other countries done? The expenditure by France last year was $9,260,000, by the United States $10,000,000, by Russia $25,000,000 and by Austria $9,000,000. These are definite facts, and show that Canada lags behind in support given the farming industry. It is also worthy of note that, whereas Australia and New Zealand some years ago exported no dead meat at all, their exports of these products to-day are $25,000,000. The trade of the Argentine republic in chilled and frozen meats has gradually grown from $1,700,000, to $17,000,000, in ten years. In the United States the dressed meat trade from 1890 to 1907 increased from $12,000,000 to $26,000,000, not including the packing industry of that country. Compare this with the Canadian trade. Canada alone of all the meat exporting countries exports solely on the hoof. In 1889 she exported no less than 211,847 cattle; in 1908 this number had declined to 150,000. Our packing house trade, which in 1900 amounted to the sum of $13,400,000 dropped in 1907 to $9,900,000, and to-day that trade is materially less than it was in the latter year. Yet in the face of this condition of things, Mr. Fisher, immersed in his problems of chicken fattening by patent squirts, sits idly by and refuses to aid in the establishment of up-to-date equipment for the dead meat trade.

A LIBERAL RECOGNITION OF IT

The following heading was used by the Toronto Star (rabid Liberal) last night in describing the Taft message to Congress. Note how Taft's declaration that the agreement would open up Canada's resources, and give a broader outlet for U. S. farm and industrial products, is featured:

PRESIDENT TAFT AGAIN URGES THAT CONGRESS AGREE TO RECIPROCITY

A Purely Commercial and Economic Agreement—Opens Up Canada's Resources and Gives Broader Outlet for Excess Products of U.S. Farms and Industries

TAKES CREDIT FOR THE TARIFF MEASURE WHICH CHAMP CLARK TRIED TO IGNORE

Finance Minister Fielding announced in his budget speech a surplus of $30,000,000. A very fine record, if it wasn't a matter of book-keeping whereby capital account is made to suffer. The debt of the Dominion managed to increase from some $4,000,000 in the period, though the surplus is nominally $30,000,000.

The plans of the Hydro-electric Power Commission to supply power to small villages, and even for farmers direct, within a practicable distance of the main transmission lines, is a good move, and one that will redound greatly to the credit of the Whitney Government. It is a government for the people, not for any electric rings.

The decision of the government not to renew the steel bounties will meet with popular approval. The steel industries have been bounty-fed for a considerable period. They have grown and extended, and in some cases the bounty was just so much extra profit, being turned into stock to the shareholders as a bonus. Government pap should not be extended to any big industry that is able to make good profits anyway, especially when the tariff was designed to give them all the protection necessary to make progress.

Hon. Frank Oliver offers to Manitoba, as a settlement of the boundary dispute, six million acres of swamp lands, valued at about $25,000,000. On a five per cent. basis, this would yield about $1,600,000 a year. The offer looks satisfactory. Hon. Frank Oliver seems to have got tired of the Laurier method of baiting the western province with absurd proposals for settlement. Oliver belongs to the West, and he understands what Laurier would not in three years.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS SAY

INTO THE LAST DITCH.

Montreal Gazette.

According to some observers of the situation at Ottawa, the Government does not know whether to dissolve Parliament at an early date, in the hopes of getting a favorable judgment of the country before its party is further injured by its reciprocity bargain, or to wait for a year, and, on the strength of the census returns, try to gerrymander the life out of the Conservative party in a redistribution bill. The Laurier Government has got itself into about the same position as the Ross Government of Ontario was before the people threw it into the political ditch. It is afraid of the people, and, instead of trusting them, tries to trick them.

EDITORIAL NOTES

A St. Louis woman, who is suing for divorce, says that her husband signed a contract never to kiss her. Strange sort of love, this, as the Faun would say.

If the Democrats pass a reciprocity bill of their own, they will be attempting a rather hazardous proceeding. If given a loop-hole to withdraw, Laurier would probably feel delighted with the opportunity.

It should be noted that the New Brunswick Legislature, by a vote of 29 to 15, declared against reciprocity. The provincial representatives of New Brunswick, Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia have declared themselves strongly against the pact. Surely no reasonable man will say that all these public men do not represent a great section of public opinion.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

What could be mean by an "an old Broom?" The old copy of Broom's Legal Maxims in Craighead's "library" was indeed minus a cover and dog's eared, but how this "Broom" could, even in metaphor, yoke the whirligig to any car and sweep the howling skies Carson could not guess. Mr. Waddy's demand for aeronautical monopoly was being complied with, to Mr. Craighead's mind, and the last telegram seemed to imply that the bucolic financier had been convinced. His "falling dead" might mean much or little, but his "doubloons coming copious" was eloquent of faith. And what in the name of all the gods at once could a "Universal Nitrates and Air Products company" mean in an aerial navigation deal or those mysterious expressions about "surrounding" Chicago and Greater New York?

Well, Aunt Chloe was in there, shuffling about, wondering where he might be, and here he was, looking on spectrally and unsuspected. With the common human impulse to secret approach, Theodore walked on, concealed between the Spanish bayonets and a somber line of red cedars, climbed the end of the veranda, scuttled into the broad hall and up to his room, into which he stepped quickly, breathing a little harder. He opened the closet for a change of clothes and started back in wonderment quite as paralyzing as horror, for his clothes were gone. Instead there sat a huge trunk with its lid back, its open tray full of silken hosiery, corsets, laces, gloves, handkerchiefs and openwork things of mystery and terror. On the books were many, many others quite as awful, frilled and tucked and ruffled and plaited garments, silks, dimities, cashmeres, linens, cottons and soft light woolens, filling his closet and spread against the wall for occult reasons connected with keeping them in shape, and protruding from the trunk were more clothes, while in corners of the bedroom were more trunks.

A light step sounded, and he froze to a statue of panic and trance and paralysis. Some one entered. His heart bounded and then stood still, for it was Psyche of the dunes, Shayne's niece, Virginia, entering jauntily, maddeningly, like a real woman taking possession of his bedroom as her own! She had a little subjectively derived smile on her lips, held in her hands a spray of huckleberry blooms, which she put to her nostrils and then stuck in a vase by the old mirror.

"Psyche!" he stammered.

With a little scream she darted toward the door, recognized him as he emerged from the closet, noted his paleness, turned back, her hand on her breast and a quick palpitation in the "V" of her gown, like the heart of a snared robin. Yet she was the least excited of the twain. Her alarm ceased with her recognition of him.

"My robber," said she, in a half whisper. "Oh, I'm so glad!"

"Psyche," said he, "when you say you are glad"—

"Oh, I'm so glad you aren't dashed o pieces!" she cried. "I've seen you alling, falling, falling, in my dreams and never alighting! But evidently you did!"

"Yes," said he, "quite safe. But how came you here?"

"Oh, I live here," said she. "But how did you know? Or did you just happen? Shall I hide you? I'll never betray you, never, no matter what they say you've done!"

"You—belong—here?" repeated Theodore wonderingly. "Here? You—you live here?"

"Yes," said she hurriedly—"with my uncle. I couldn't endure the Shaynes and Silberbergs any longer. Why, the way they did just drives people to crime! And if you did anything it was in open war with the officers and not by stealth as the Shaynes and Silberbergs do. I told them so to their teeth—only you ought to reform and all that, you know. And I couldn't bear Aunt Marie any more," here the voice trembled, "though everybody will say I'm ungrateful and all that. And General Carson's family are all my relatives in the world, except the Shaynes. And this is their plantation—my uncle that I never saw lives here—and I came to him. I hope he won't hate me. I'd rather not have to ask him to shelter a robber the very first thing, and so I hope you aren't pursued. But if you are I'll hide you before I'll see you caught. There!"

Mr. Carson reeled back against the wall, drew his hands across his eyes and looked again. She seemed to be there still, rather nearer than before, hands clasped in adorable anxiety, divinest pity in her eyes.

"Of course it's a shock," said Miss Suarez, "to find you"—

"I am sorry," said Theodore, "to have shocked you by being visible. I"—

"Oh, now," said Miss Suarez. "Try to supply ellipses—and—and those things. I meant to find you so"—

"So incapable of—so lacking in the qualities of—of—of"—

"You're gradually getting closer to it," commented Virginia. "Our danger, where there is nobody hanging about to sort of mitigate—no, not that—to—to"—

"To absorb and diffuse the 'shock,'" suggested the engineer.

"The very word," said she. "Why, uncle, you're clever—once in awhile"—

"Thank you, Miss Virginia. I"—

"Don't interrupt, please. Our danger here in the wilderness is that of not catching the shades of expression. The nuances one has to have ground into one's system with regard to one's friends—if nuances can be ground into anything—and that we'll misunderstand and fight and pull hair needlessly—doesn't that cover the case?"

"I don't think it does quite. But you were saying I lack some quality. Please go on."

"The quality of unclehood," said she. "You don't create the role. I suppose my image of a charming young robber, for you're not bad looking, uncle, you know."

Theodore blushed.

"Piracy and yeggism and those things are so incompatible with one's only surviving live live-with-able uncle," said Virginia.

"In 'The Babes In the Wood,'" said Theodore, "the uncle was quite that sort."

"The odd thing with us—I like living with you immensely—is that you seem a babe in the woods more than an uncle, and I the other."

"MY ROBBER," SAID SHE IN A HALF WHISPER.

"What I wish you to understand is how honored I am to be your guardian, even though I don't deserve it."

"Oh, but you do!" said she. "And there's the Carson blood, isn't there?"

"There's the Carson blood," assented Theodore uneasily, "and the trust that blood alone couldn't confer."

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

Court Wants Documents.

Toronto, April 6.—In connection with the Michael Fraser case appeals, John King, K.C., has been requested to produce in court Friday morning the marriage license and certificate and bank books and checks as between August 31, 1909, and Dec. 30, 1910, while Mr. Creswicke, K.C., is to produce the letters written by Mrs. Frazer from Sept. 30, 1909, to Dec. 30, 1910.

Horse Rolled on Him.

Kingston, April 6.—Daniel McLean, a farmer of Pittsburgh, met with an accident which may prove fatal. His horse stumbled and fell. McLean got out to extricate the horse from the harness, and the animal rolled on him, breaking three ribs, and, it is feared, injured him internally.

Opulence.

"Does that calf belong to that cow?"

"Certainly."

"Gracious! With milk getting so expensive I don't see how she can afford to keep it."—Washington Star.

Their Destination.

Mr. Bung—When Ripper was married he and his bride went away in his motorcar. Miss Bing—So? Where did they spend their honeymoon?

"In a hospital."

They Are Rarities There.

I went to breezy Gotham,
And I visited the zoo.
I wished to see the nimble bok,
The zebra and the gnu.
And there I found a mighty mob
And cried, "What is it now?"
And butted through the gaping crowd—
And saw a Jersey cow!
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Champ Clark Explains.

Washington, D.C., April 6.—In an authorized statement, Speaker Clark yesterday replied to comment upon his failure to mention Canadian reciprocity in his speech to the House on Tuesday.

He said that his position in favor of reciprocity with Canada was too well known to need expansion, and that he had confined his remarks to the promises made by the Democrats before the elections last fall.

He contended that the question was of Democratic origin, and that if it were enacted into law it would be largely by Democratic votes.

Imperial Appeal Court.

London, April 6.—In the Commons yesterday Premier Asquith said the question of combining the judicial functions of the House of Lords and Privy Council into a Court of Appeal for the whole Empire, would be discussed at the Imperial Conference.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt, answering G. A. Touche, said he had received a resolution showing that the Bahamas had opened negotiations for inclusion in the Canadian federation. He was asking the governor for further particulars and till he received them would be unable to indicate the view of the Home Government.

A More Modern Jail.

Guelph, April 6.—The Wellington County Jail is to be torn down and replaced with a smaller, but more modern building, to cost about $20,000. A sub-committee of the county councillors and city aldermen met yesterday afternoon and decided that the city should pay 45 per cent. and the county 55 per cent. of the cost of the new building. A special meeting of the City Council was held yesterday afternoon when this agreement was ratified, and a special meeting of the county council will be held within a week for the same purpose.

Widespread Incendiarism.

Colon, Panama, April 6.—Three arrests were made Monday as a result of the threat of incendiaries to burn the entire City of Colon. Three thousand persons are homeless as a result of the twenty incendiary fires of the past fortnight. The police force is being increased to patrol the town. The anti-foreign element is believed to be responsible for the campaign of destruction.

How Did Other Man Know?

Springfield, Ill., April 6.—H. H. Kohlsaat, of the Chicago Record-Herald, yesterday told the Senate bribery investigating committee that Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester Co., was the man who informed Mr. Kohlsaat that a "slush" fund of $100,000 was put up to elect Lorimer.

Smallpox From Lumber Woods.

Ottawa, April 6.—Dr. Bell, of the Provincial Board of Health, arrived yesterday morning. He is not alarmed at the presence of twenty-eight mild smallpox cases here.

Owing to the great prevalence of the disease in the backwoods shanties, he says it is only to be expected that a city in the centre of a lumbering district should be afflicted.

Farmers Protest.

St. Paul, Minn., April 6.—A special to The Despatch from Grand Forks, N.D., says the farmers of North Dakota and the other border states will insist on a hearing before the national ways and means committee before action is taken on the adoption of the Canadian reciprocity treaty. This is one of the results to-day of the North Dakota anti-reciprocity meeting held in this city yesterday.

A delegation of eight convention delegates, headed by R. S. Lewis, as chairman, and accompanied by delegations from every county in the state, will make the fight against this particular feature of national legislation and declare they will have evidence to fully substantiate their claims.

Blow Killed Italian.

Toronto, April 6.—At the inquest last night into the recent death of the Italian, Joseph Andrews, who, after being arrested for drunkenness, was found to have a fractured skull, Norman Henry admitted that he had knocked the Italian down in a fight. After hearing the evidence of the two men and two women arrested, and the Italian companion of the deceased, and of several spectators, the jury brought in a verdict at midnight.

It stated that Norman Henry did kill and slay the deceased. The verdict contained a rider that "every credit is due to the police for the manner in which they have managed this case."

Child Burned.

Cornwall, April 6.—Mrs. Alexander Demartin sustained injuries which will probably result fatally, and her only child, a two-year-old boy, was burned to death yesterday afternoon, as the result of the mother mistaking a can of gasoline for coal oil. The woman and her child were alone in the house, and it is believed that she made a mistake in the cans when filling a coal oil stove, and that when she attempted to light the stove it exploded.

With her clothing all aflame she rushed into the street and her cries brought to her assistance several men who were employed in the Dundas Cotton Mill, near by. Some extinguished the flames which enveloped the woman, while others, running into the house, found the child in a similar predicament and the carpet afire. Both mother and child were taken to the General Hospital, where the child died. The doctors do not think that the mother can recover.

Sheldon Will Return.

Quebec, April 6.—There appears to be no bar to the return of Sheldon, the "famous" financier, to Canada. As a matter of fact, he will probably be on Canadian soil within the next 24 hours. According to a despatch received by C. Lanctot, assistant to the attorney-general of the province, the jury which was investigating the case against him in the courts of Pittsburg, rendered a verdict of "ignoramus," and if no other charges are made against him, he will be handed over to Chief McCaskill, who will immediately start for Canada with his prisoner.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

The militia training camp for western Ontario will be held at Goderich.

Mr. Waldorf Astor has purchased The Sunday Observer, a British Unionist journal.

The sub-committee considering the charges against Mr. Lanctot at Ottawa have disagreed.

Mr. E. G. Porter, M.P., was nominated again for the Commons by West Hastings Conservatives.

The British Columbia Government paid nearly half a million dollars in cash to the Indian owners of the reserve adjoining Victoria. The Indians are also given a new reserve.

Fifty Boy Scouts will represent Ontario at the coronation, and the contingent will be selected from the ranks of those boys who have attained the highest proficiency badges during the past year.

Robert E. Davie, the Boston "boy broker," who is charged with embezzlement, sailed from Ria Janeiro yesterday on the steamship Byron, in the custody of Boston detectives. He said he was returning voluntarily to finish the ordeal.

Frederick Crompton, brother-in-law of Dr. Beattie Nesbitt and president of the Crompton Corset Co., was fined $40 and costs by Judge Winchester yesterday, with an alternative of 30 days in jail, for accepting notes of the Farmers' Bank as a pledge.

Death Was From Heart Failure.

St. Thomas, Ont., April 6.—Mrs. J. Hill, the farmer's wife, near Vienna, who was reported to have died of accidental poisoning, was the victim of heart failure. A small dose of medicine that had been given her did no injury.

French Fishermen for Grand Banks.

St. Pierre, Miquelon, April 6.—The dwindling population of France's last colonial possession in North America has been increased temporarily by the arrival here on Tuesday of 900 fishermen from St. Malo.

They will man the St. Pierre fishing fleet of 50 vessels on the Grand Banks this spring.

Drop In Fur Prices.

Fredericton, N.B., April 6.—Word of another drop in the price of raw furs in the London markets has reached here. Muskrat is reported down 50 per cent. mink, otter, beaver and ermine 20 per cent., wildcat 70 per cent., and red fox 7 1-2 per cent.

Winnipeg Chinaman Murdered.

Winnipeg, April 6.—Soy Lang, president of the Sow Chung Lung Co., was found murdered in his room yesterday. He was the recognized head of all Winnipeg Chinese secret societies.

CRIPPLE FROM RHEUMATISM

NOW IN PERFECT HEALTH THANKS TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

VANCOUVER, B.C., Feb. 1st. 1910.

"I am well acquainted with a man, known to thousands in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, who for nearly a year was practically a cripple from Rheumatism. He was so troubled with the disease that he found it difficult to even turn over in bed. His heart appeared so weak that he could hardly walk up stairs.

Last June, he received a sample of "Fruit-a-tives". He used them and dates his recovery from that time. To-day, there is no man in Vancouver enjoying better health.

He was building a house this fall and shingled a good part of the roof in a driving rain, without suffering any bad effects". JOHN B. LACY.

Mr. E. E. Mills, (assistant postmaster at Knowlton, Que.,) also writes: "I honestly believe that "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest Rheumatism cure in the world". Try it yourself.

Tips for Fire Insurance Policyholders

1. Are the insuring companies financially responsible, and in a position to pay all just claims?

2. Are you sufficiently insured at all times?

Remember your stock is much greater at one time of the of the year than at another. Do you regulate the amount of your insurance accordingly?

3. Are your buildings and contents properly described in the policy, and if more than one policy, do they all read the same? Make your description as brief as possible.

4. If you are insured in any more than one company, it is necessary to have a "Concurrent Insurance" clause in each policy, viz., The written consent on each policy permitting you to insure in more than one company without notifying each company. This is very important. Do your policies contain this?

5. If you use gasoline, acetylene or other lighting plants on the premises, the policies should distinctly permit same. Your policy limits the amount of explosives, gasoline, coal oil, etc., to be carried on the premises. Are you exceeding this limit?

6. Have you paid your premiums and obtained a proper receipt for same?

If you have not complied with the foregoing conditions you might get little or nothing in case of fire.

After the fire your policies are unalterable, no matter how glaring their errors, which appear and how far they are from what you expected.

Examine your policies now. It may be too late to-morrow.

AFTER THE FIRE—

Can you prove the amount of your loss?

This can be done only by using the following methods—

By stock-taking at least once a year.

By keeping proper books showing—

(1) Your purchases.

(2) Your sales, both cash and credit.

By placing your books in a fireproof safe or vault before closing your premises.

Respectfully yours,

W. H. HILL Insurance Underwriter

NEW PROTESTANT HOME TO START

Board of Management Asks For Assistance From Citizens

As a definite arrangement has been concluded between the City Council and the Board of the Peterborough Protestant Home, the work on the new home will be started as soon as possible.

The plans for the building are now being drawn up by Mr. Sandford Smith, of Toronto, whose grandfather, the late Sheriff Hall, gave the present building. These plans will be submitted to the board next week.

As the board has undertaken to pay half the cost of the building, and also to supply the furnishings, they ask the citizens of Peterborough to help them in this good work. There is no doubt that this project for the care of the aged and needy will appeal to all.

Mr. Travers, of the Bank of Montreal, has kindly consented to receive all subscriptions which may be made for this object.

HONORABLY ACQUITTED

Perjury Charge Against Chief Bennett of Havelock Not Sustained

The adjourned hearing of the charge of perjury against Chief Bennett, of Havelock, was held yesterday at Havelock, and after the evidence of the Crown had been submitted, Magistrate Dumble, who presided, ruled that there was no evidence to sustain the charge, and the defendant was honorably acquitted. L. M. Hayes, K.C., acted for Chief Bennett, and County Crown Attorney Wood prosecuted.

This charge was brought forward by Mrs. Maud Innis, of Havelock, and it was alleged that Bennett made false statements in his evidence of the defendants in the Innis-Havelock action, heard at the Fall Assizes here last year.

WEDDING BELLS

PAYNE—OLD.

Toronto Star.—The marrage of Miss Grace Old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Old, to Dr. Osman A. Payne, of Minoen, only son of Mr. R. A. Payne, of Lindsay, took place very quietly at three o'clock this afternoon at the residence of the bride's father in Dunvegan road. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph Oderry, in the drawing room, which was decoated with pink roses and carnations. Miss Dorothy played the wedding marches and Miss Mabel Doherty sang "Because."

The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her father. She was wearing a travelling suit of blue cloth with large blue hat and she carried white roses.

Later in the afternoon Dr. and Mrs. Payne left for a honeymoon trip to Buffalo and New York and on their return will reside in Minden.

City or County Must Now Pay for Keep of Prisoners

Prisoners arrested in the city and county, and sent to jail on remand, must be paid for by the county or the city. Recently the jailors of the province received orders to the effect that the maintenance of all prisoners while in the jail was to be charged up to the city or county until they were sentenced. This means prisoners who are up on indictable offences, and the city or county always paid the maintenance of prisoners up for other offences. Prior to the new order if a man was given a hearingand then remanded to jail the province paid for his keep from then on. Now the city or county pay it till he has been sentenced.

MONTANA A TRUE WESTERN PLAY

Harry D. Carey, the author of that interesting and successful American drama, "Montana" is starring this season in that play, and will appera at the Grand, on Saturday, April 8, matinee and evening.

Life in mining camp and on one of the big ranches of the boundless West are the themes of this interesting play, and this admits of many startling incidents and nerve tingling climaxes. With a beautiful story, well worked out, with characters that are natural and realistic, and with scenes that are historically correct, it makes an entertainment that is far out of the ordinary. The cast of characters is a well balanced one. It is play which will please all classes of theatre goers and assuredly will meet with the same hearty welcome here that has greeted it in all of the large cities of the country.

The Best Sugar For Preserving

Homemade Preserves are best and cheapest—if you select sound fruit and absolutely pure sugar.

Now, don't order, simply "10 pounds of sugar" and trust to "housekeeper's luck" but get good sugar.

Get the sugar with a name. Get

St. Lawrence Sugar
(St. Lawrence Granulated)

Prof. Hersey, Government Analyst, reports it to be "99 99/100 to 100 per cent pure cane sugar with no impurities whatever". Your Preserves will keep better if made with St. Lawrence Sugar because of its purity.

Remember the name—
ST. LAWRENCE GRANULATED—and insist on having it for all your preserving. At grocers—in 20 lb. bags, also by the pound and barrel.

THEATRICAL

William Faversham, in his first appearance before a Peterborough audience at the Grand Opera House last night, was somewhat startling in his character of a faun, not only when he appeared before Lord Stonbury as his Lordship was about to blow out his brains, because of race track losings, and throughout the performance as he made his frank and outspoken attacks on high society.

"The Faun" was heralded as something new, and the advance notices were sustained. The success of the performance, so far as its effect on theatre-goers, depends to a considerable extent, as do many other productions which seek to impress great truths on an audience, in the manner in which it is received by that audience. The faun, when he discarded his costume of a demi-god and entered high society, found many faults in the lives of those with whom he came in contact, and his denunciations of their manner of living were right to the point, and they hit the mark every time. He sought to, and was successful in, teaching the members of the household, whom he met as the guest of Lord Stonbury, the value of love, and how they could get the most out of life—by casting aside all conventional methods and applying his great truths to themselves.

Mr. Faversham and Miss Julie Opp were given a splendid reception, and the work of the assisting company was of a very high standard.

CECIL RICHARDSON TO RECEIVE A SILVER CROSS

Award of Medals and Decorations Approved of at Ottawa

Ottawa, April 5.—The award of medals and decorations to the following boy scouts for special acts of bravery has been officially approved by the Chief Scout—George Jackson, bronze cross, highest possible award, for gallantry in saving life at extra risk; Cecil Richardson, Peterborough, silver cross for great risk to self; Alvard Lowry, a medal of merit (gilt), for a scout who does his duty exceptionally well, with grave danger to himself in saving life from drowning; Thomas Hobbs, Toronto, scroll of honor certificate.

Young Richardson was instrumental in saving the life of Cyril Hughes last summer. Hughes was playing in the water near the C.P.R. bridge to the east of the Peterborough Canoe Co.

F. D. Kerr, secretary of the local organization of Boy Scouts, has received a communication from Toronto in regard to the presentation of medals and decorations. It is suggested that the affair be held at Massey Hall, and that Cecil Richardson attend on April 21.

DEATH OF ROBERT COULTER A VETERAN OF THE CRIMEA

He Had Seen Much Active Service, in Which He Won Many Decorations

Just before midnight, last night the death occurred in this city of Mr. Robert Coulter, a veteran of the Crimea, in the 80th year of his age. Mr. Coulter has been in declining health for some years, and his death though deeply regretted was not unexpected.

Deceased was born in the parish of Mullabrack, near the town of Market Hill, county of Armagh, Ireland, and enlisted in the First Battalion Rifle Brigade, on 6th September, 1848. Under the colors of this famous battalion, he saw much of the world, and were his experiences put in narrative form, they would add many a thrilling chapter to stories of adventure. The medals in his possession, bore witness of many a stirring period in the life of the deceased, although he rarely exhibited these, and then only to his intimate acquaintances. They comprise a Cape of Good Hope medal, Turkish, and South African medals, a medal for the Crimea with clasps for Alma, Inkerman, and Sebastopol and a medal for British North America service together with four good-conduct badges. It was the privilege of the Review some years ago, to be granted an interview with the veteran of the events in history these medals represent, and these columns contained some interesting accounts of British heroism, and endurance against great odds on many a hard-fought field. Of Inkerman and Sebastopol, with the terrible experiences and hardships that followed these campaigns, a vivid description was given, and the writer at that time felt all the thrill one knows in hearing such a story told by one who had actually shared in its events.

It was in the First Battalion, that General Buller, of South African fame, served his apprenticeship as a soldier.

The wife of deceased died only a short time ago while on a visit to her son in Toronto.

Deceased was a resident of this city for a great many years, and to his daughters, Mrs. A. A. McIntyre and Miss Bessie Coulter, many will extend sincere expressions of regret.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon from the residence of A. A. McIntyre, 567 Aylmer Street.

MISS CHOATE IS DEBARRED FROM COMPETITION

A High Compliment to Her Conspicuous Ability as Violiniste

The many frineds of Miss Julia Choate, violiniste, and all interested in the musical credit of Peterborough will regret to be informed that she is to be debarred from taking part in the Earl Grey competition at Winnipeg, on April 24th, and for reasons highly complimentary to her conspicuous ability as a violin artist.

The competition committee in charge of the entries insist upon a rigidly literal interpretation of the conditions, which permit only "amateurs" to take part in the competition Miss Choate is regarded as being so decidedly distinguished as a professional as to place her far beyond the amateur class, and well in the front rank of professional violinists.

Under these circumstances Miss Choate, will not be required to go to Winnipeg, but her concert in the hall of the Conservatory, announced for April 7, though deprived of the significance of the object for which it was proposed, will still be given as an exceptionally attractive musical and elocutionary entertainment. The concert, cannot very well be deserted. Miss Beatrice Wellington, of Toronto, an elocutionist of exceptional ability, has been engaged for April 7th, cards of admission have been printed and many of them sold. Therefore, the concert will be held on the date mentioned, which the public is requested to keep in mind in the interest of the musical enjoyment the occasion assures.

OBITUARY

The Late Margaret McCarney

Margaret, Rena McCarney, aged twenty-one died yesterday at 12.30 p.m. after a lingering illness, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McCarney, 21 Bethune Street.

Surviving her, besides her parents are three sisters and two brothers, namely Catharine, Martha Anna, Geraldine, John and William Christopher.

The funeral took place to-day at 2.30 to the Church of the Sacred Heart and thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

Died Suddenly

Elizabeth Conroy, wife of John Conroy, of Otonabee, passed away Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at the age of 71 years. Death came after a lingering illness.

Surviving are five sons and five daughters, who are Messrs. Alexander and David, of Douro; Patrick, of Otonabee; James, of East City, and John, of Vancouver; and Mrs. Pat. Quinlan, Mrs. E. Flaherty, Mrs. Ed. O'Brien, of this city. Mrs. J. Collins, Otonabee, and Miss Maggie at home.

The funeral was held Monday morning from the late residence to St. Peter's cathedral, thence to St. Peter's cemetery for interment.

Death of Infant

The death occurred yesterday of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bellamy, 106 Lansdowne Avenue.

The funeral took place this afternoon to Little Lake cemetery.

George Foley Dead

The death occured at St. Joseph's Hospital last evening, at six o'clock, of George Foley, who has been suffering from blood poisoning for about four weeks. He was one of the city's well-known carters, and has lived most of his life here. He was born at Coldsprings near Cobourg, 52 years ago.

Surviving are a widow, five sons, and one daughter. The sons are Messrs. John of Hamilton, and George William, James, and Melville of this city. The daughter is Miss Mildred Foley of Carivale, Sask. The sisters are Mrs. Edward Morency of Montreal, Mrs. Robert Bell, city, and one brother, Peter F. Foley, resides at Midland.

The funeral will be on Friday from the late residence, 467 Elm Street at nine o'clock, to St. Peter's Cathedral and thence to St. Peter's, cemetery.

Dr. Scott Bereaved

Dr. Scott received a telegram Monday, informing him of the sudden death of his sister, Mrs. Wm. Truscott, Elgin, Man., aged 47 years.

The late Mrs. Truscott was born in Smith township, where a number of the members of the family still reside. After emigrating to the west she was married to William Truscott, formerly from the vicinity of Port Hope.

Mr. and Mrs. Truscott engaged in farming until a few months ago, when they rented their farm and went to live in Elgin.

Mrs. Truscott has visited in Peterborough a couple of times since going west, and though not very delicate, she had been ailing for some time.

While going about performing her household duties Saturday evening, she took suddenly ill and succumbed at an early hour Monday morning.

Deceased was well and favorably known among a large circle of friends, and her death will be learned with much regret.

The body is being brought to Peterborough for interment.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Mrs. Richardson Dead

A bright young life was brought to a close yesterday when Cora Myrtle Doxiee, aged 19 years, wife of Percy F. Richardson, passed away at the Nicholls Hospital. A more extended notice will appear to-morrow.

NEW RESIDENCE ON WATER ST.

To be Occupied in Near Future by Miss Dunlop

A handsome new residence is nearing completion at 518 Water street, and which will shortly be occupied by Miss Dunlop.

Both inside and out the house is handsomely designed, and the rooms are laid out in a most convenient and up-to-date manner.

The building is of red brick, the woodwork painted white inside and outside. All the flooring is varnished, except the kitchen and bedrooms. There are six of the latter, and a striking feature in connection with them is their uniform size. There are also both front and back stairs to the house. The woodwork on the front stairway is the very best pure oak spindles also. The doors are all oak grained, and the pannelling of them is an additional praiseworthy feature. The ceilings and walls are painted white, and the window sills of the parlor are white enamelled. A large bay window faces the street in the front upstairs bedroom and in the parlor. Another one is on the south side of the dining room. The pantry is large and conveniently situated to both kitchen and dining room.

There is a cozy little reception room with a brick fireplace just inside the front door off the hall. The hallways both upstairs and down are wide and neatly finished, and the building altogether reflects great credit on the contractor, R. S. Trew.

The basement is floored with concrete and contains a fine furnace, steam heats the house. Adam Hall had the contract for the plumbing, and G. H. Duncan for the painting.

DEPUTY FIRE CHIEF DENIES

Having Had Anything to do With Writing of Letter

When interviewed by the Review this afternoon, Deputy Fire Chief Grange was averse to making any statement relative to the charge against him, regarding the letter written by a fireman of the department, but on being further questioned, stated that he did not have anything to do with the writing of the letter.

Captain Thomas could not be approached, as he was asleep after all night duty.

C.G.E. FOOTBALL TEAM IS READY

Bill Milburn is the Secretary—First Game This Saturday

At a general meeting of the C.G.E. Football Club held in the Y.M.C.A. parlors, the following officers were elected:

Patrons and Patronesses—Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. (Dr.) Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie, Mr. R. Dobie, Mr. Gilman.

Hon. President—A. Lingard.
Hon. Vice-President—J. H. Hampton.
Sec.-Treas.—W. Milburn.

The team is to enter the Midland League.

Much enthusiasm was shown for the coming season, which opens on Saturday with a game against St. James' Football Club. Kick off 3 p.m. sharp at Brinton's meadows.

Millwaukee Manager Would Consider Matching of His Men

Manager Breen, of the Peterborough Athletic Club, is in receipt of a letter from Con O'Leary, of Milwaukee, who has several mit men under his wing and would consider a proposition to put his men in action before the local club. The Milwaukee man wants to match Gus Christie against Hilliard Lang, and would also send him against Bob Moha, the Buffalo boy, who put Lang away in rather easy fashion, but Moha refuses to accommodate Christie in the matter of weight.

Two other men on his string are Driscoll and Fitzgerald, both classy boxers, and there is a possibility of the Peterborough club arranging further programs following that called for the Grand to-morrow night.

LONGBOAT TO MEET CAMERON

Indian's First Race at Utica of Good Friday

Toronto, April 6.—Tom C. Longboat and his hustling manager, Sol Mintz, will leave next week to visit the United States on an extended tour in an effort to rake in some of the loose change that is floating around.

The Aborigine's first race will be in Utica on Good Friday, when he will run against a relay of runners in a 15-mile gallop. From there he will drop down to Boston to meet Fred L. Cameron, of Amherst, N.S., winner of last year's Boston Marathon, about April 25th, at any distance Cameron suggests. This will be the first time these two famous marathoners have met. Cameron is a crack at any distance, and will give Mr. Longboat a tussle for the money.

If the winner of this years Boston Marathon—whoever he may be—breaks Longboats world's record of 2.24.24 4-5 for the twenty-five miles, made in 1907, Sol Mintz will send Tom over the course again for a new record.

Up in Hamilton some of the sportsmen have offered a cash prize if the big Indian will break the famous Hamilton Herald around-the-Bay record of 1.48.43 made by Sammy Mellor in 1904. This is the fixture that gave Longboat his first start in 1906, when he was 100 to 1. Tom's time, which is the third best for the course, is

BASKETBALL

The Intermediate Leaders and Collegiates meet to-morrow night at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium for what promises to be a lively game of basketball, as it is the first of three games for the intermediate cup. The Intermediate Leaders won the trophy last season and hope to retain the mug on this occasion.

HOAGLAND AND DINEEN IN LEAD

Indianapolis, Ind., April 5. — The Hoagland and Dineen team in the national six-day walking and running match held their lead at the close of the second day.

Dineen, of Boston, had run 46 miles, fifteen laps, at the end of last ngiht's two and a half hour period, and his mate, Hoagland, of Auburn, N.Y., had walked 31 miles and 18 laps, making their score 78 miles, 11 laps.

THE RING

Wolgast, instead of being a poor money-maker as a champion, promises to gather in the coin faster than did Battling Nelson in his best days. Starting with the first Brown fight February 8th and including the Moran fight July 4th, Wolgast will have made $54,000 in a little less than five months. He got $6,000 for the first Brown fight, $7,000 for the second Brown go, $4,500 or more for the Memsic battle. He is guaranteed $7,500 for Lagrave, $7,000 for Hogan, $7,500 for Burns and $12,000 for Moran. The gold never clinked faster than that for any champion of the lightweights. Tom Jones probably is smiling broadly at the men who said he had stuck all these long months with a dead one. Wolgast is the liveliest dead one Jones ever picked up.

TOM LONGBOAT.

LAWN BOWLING

The meeting of the Brookside Bowling and Tennis Club will be held in the Dominion Bank chambers. Monday evening, April 10, at 8.30 o'clock, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. All members and any others who wish to join the club are requested to attend.

SUFFRAGISTS TO LEARN JIU-JITSU

London, April 5.—Some British Suffragettes not being content with securing the political equality of woman with man now aim to place women upon the same physical plane and are organizing "The Women's Development Society."

Miss Alice Chapin, the secretary of the militant organization, describes the movement as one primarily intended to induce women to pay greater attention to their physical well-being, and also to educate them for social work.

No one but sympathizers of the militant woman suffrage movement will be admitted to the new Amazonian ranks. It is given out, however, that a misfortune of sex will not exclude men from the clubs.

It is planned to have dancing and other social entertainments at the clubs. All sorts of sports will be practised, and there will be physical culture classes, which will include the manly art of self-defense and jiu-jitsu.

"We must need know something of self-defence," said Miss Chapin.

Tennis, rowing, swimming, riding are pastimes in the almost inexhaustible list of things that the Suffragettes will master.

THE FARMERS' BANK CASE.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Will you please say how the Farmers' Bank cases stand. Who have been sent up for trial, and what were they sent up for, on what charges? By answering you will oblige. When does their trial come off?

Yours truly,
WESTY.

Peterborough, April 5, 1911.

(On a charge of conspiracy by false representation, deceit and fraud, to get a treasury board certificate to enable the Farmers' Bank to do business, Magistrate Denison, on February 22, committed for trial J. R. Stratton, M.P.; J. J. Warren, and the four provisional directors, John Ferguson, Alex. Fraser, A. S. Lown, John Watson. On a charge of accepting as a pledge the currency of the Farmers' Bank, J. R. Stratton was discharged on March 8, while J. J. Warren and J. S. Morden were committed for trial. Matthew Wilson, K.C., was charged with having conspired with W. R. Travers to procure an illegal preference for the Trusts and Guarantee Co., over other creditors. It is expected that the cases will be proceeded with in the assizes in May at Toronto, before Chief Justice, Sir William Meredith.)—Ed.

OUR ELECTRIC SIGNS.

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—To the merchants of Peterborough we wish to express our thanks for the confidence placed in us, we desire to thank them for, the contracts sent us through the Peterborough Light and Power Co.

We appreciate this confidence to this extent; the writer guarantees his personal supervision over all the construction on the electric signs going to Peterborough. All the novelty features will be carefully tested and tried—leaving in no case regardless of expense anything undone that will tend to add attractiveness. We cannot refrain from right here saying our vast experience has perfected our signs, established our standard, made our reputation and proved our guarantee.

We send our congratulations to our competitors on their increase in business. May it continue to grow and be a worthy competitor of The Holman Electric Sign Co., Ltd.

To those who believe rival electric sign companies are simply armed camps of belligerence this greeting may come as a surprise. But why should we hate a fellow-labourer because he has not toiled in vain. Why should we snarl and falsify about the success of a companion manufacturer. Why should we make personal insinuations affecting the personal honor and integrity of a rival simply because we are business competitors? We should not. Anyway, feelings of envy and jealousy have no place in the mental attitude.

We hope the dice-box of fortune contains many more happy returns for our friends—our competitors.

Again thanking you we are, with our very best wishes,

Cordially yours,
The Holman Electric Sign Co., Ltd.
JAMES HOLMAN.

AS TO STENCHES.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I see an article in your paper of yesterday advocating the expenditure of money in beautifying the city. What is the use of doing so, when we permit, if we do not encourage, stenches in our midst? It is a proposal to start at the wrong end. What does it avail the city to beautify it, if these stenches are allowed to exist? Visitors to our city never find fault with its beauty, but do comment on its pestiferous odors and dusty streets. In other years the dust would be blowing in clouds by this time, and yet there is no preparation made or steps taken to cope with the dust nuisance which may be upon us in two or three days. It is well known that many diseases are traced to this cause, even the dreaded disease, consumption, to combat which needs a lavish expenditure. We have a dumping ground in the centre of the city within thirty yards of the market square; the waters of our Little Lake are polluted, and there is no proper inspection of the fruit and fish stores, to say nothing of the burning of rubbish and filth in our back yards, and the smoke nuisance arising therefrom. To make matters worse, our council seems to have a penchant for encouraging factories of a pestilential character. Once the city is made sanitary, diptheria, scarlet fever and typhoid fever will be things of the past. Such a consummation is well within our reach if we had a live Board of Health and a capable board of commissioners to transact our business instead of our present inefficient system.

Yours, etc.,
CONSISTENCY.

OPERATING THEIR SUMMER SCHEDULE

Grand Trunk Pacific Have Inaugurated Their Pacific Coast Steamship Service

The Grand Trunk Pacific Coast Steamship Company have commenced the operation of their summer schedule, giving a direct and fast service between Seattle, Victoria, Vancouver, Prince Rupert and Stewart. Northbound, the steamers leave Seattle at midnight Sunday and Wednesday, and Vancouver Monday and Thursday.

The palatial steamships "Prince Rupert" and "Prince George," already famed for their swiftness and excellence, will perform the service. During the late winter both ships underwent a thorough overhauling, and are now more handsome than ever. The "Prince Rupert" and "Prince George" have been pronounced time and again since they went into commission last summer the most magnificent and best steamships in the Pacific Coast trade.

These two ships were so popular and such a great success last season that the company decided to commence the operation of the summer schedule without delay.

The indications are that there will be not only a large tourist trade this coming summer, for which these steamers are so admirably suited, but a very heavy movement into the fertile valleys of the interior of British Columbia, especially to the large tracts of rich bench lands along the Skeena River, which are well adapted to fruit growing.

During the winter the Grand Trunk Pacific have made extensive improvements to their dock facilities at Seattle and Victoria. The dock at Seattle has been pronounced by shipping men to be the finest and best equipped dock of the whole Pacific Coast. The dock at Victoria is also of the most modern and improved type, splendidly arranged and conveniently located.

In connection with the schedule of the steamers "Prince Rupert" and "Prince George," the steamer "Prince Albert" will handle passengers to and from Queen Charlotte Island points.
